Foreword

Goods and Services Tax (GST) came into effect from 1st July 2017 through the implementation of the One Hundred and First Amendment of the Constitution of India. It is one of the most significant indirect tax reforms since independence of our country. It subsumed many existing indirect taxes levied by the Central and State Governments making the structure of indirect taxes much simpler than before. It is a comprehensive, multi-stage, destination-based tax. The tax rates, rules and regulations are decided by the GST Council which consists of the Union Finance Minister and Finance Ministers of all the State Governments and Union Territories.

The Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) has always been a forerunner in taking initiatives towards educating and supporting the various stakeholders in implementing GST in the best possible manner. As a partner in nation-building, the ICAI always strives for smooth execution of the rules, regulations and laws as introduced and amended from time to time by the Government. Through its technical expertise and other resources, ICAI tries its best to let the members keep up to date with regular amendments which are specifically found in a new law like GST.

I am happy to note that the GST & Indirect Taxes Committee of ICAI has come out with the 10th revised edition of its flagship publication viz., “Background Material on GST”. This publication contains detailed analysis of the GST law and includes various MCQs, FAQs, flowcharts, diagrams, etc. for easy comprehension. This publication is updated with the amendments made in the GST law till 31st December 2021.

I appreciate and commend the efforts put in by CA Rajendra Kumar P, Chairman, CA Sushil K. Goyal, Vice-Chairman, all members of the GST & Indirect Taxes Committee and all those who have contributed towards bringing out this publication on time for the benefit of the members and other stakeholders at large.

I am positive that this publication will help the members and stakeholders at large in proper understanding of the GST law.

President, ICAI

Preface

In contrast to the earlier indirect taxes which were collected from the point of origin, Goods and Services Tax (GST) came as a change, as the collection of this tax takes place from the point of consumption. The Centre as well as the States impose this tax on a transaction simultaneously making it a joint effort. The transaction ought to be a supply which can be a sale, transfer, barter, exchange, etc., for GST to be levied thereon. The GST law has undergone numerous amendments since its introduction four and a half years ago on July 1, 2017.

Being the largest professional accounting body of India and a partner in nation-building, the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) considers its responsibility to support the Government in implementing the GST law in letter and spirit. The GST and Indirect Taxes Committee of ICAI has been disseminating the knowledge of GST amongst members and other stakeholders as also building the capacities of members in the area of GST through technical publications, GST Newsletter, Certificate Course, Virtual CPE meetings, Webcasts, E-Learnings, etc.

The “Background Material on GST” is one such comprehensive publication which contains detailed and in-depth analysis of the entire GST law. Senior and erudite experts of the profession have contributed towards the development of this publication and have been continually involved in the regular updation of the same. It gives me immense pleasure to share with our readers the 10th revised edition of the Background Material on GST which is one of the most popular publication of our Committee. The subject matter of this publication is based on GST law updated with amendments made vide the Finance Act, 2021 and includes relevant notifications, circulars, orders etc. issued till 31st December 2021.

We are extremely thankful to CA Nihar N Jambusaria, President and CA (Dr.) Debashis Mitra, Vice-President, ICAI for their continued support and encouragement for the initiatives of the Committee. We also extend our special thanks to the team of our experts namely, of CA A Jatin Christopher, CA Bharath Kumar A Bohra, CA Gajendra Maheshwari, CA Ganesh Prabhu B, CA (Dr.) Gaurav Gupta, CA Harini Sridharan, CA P Sankaran, CA R S Balaji , CA Raghavan Ramabadran, CA Saradha H, CA Shaikh Abdul Samad Ahmad, CA Shankara Narayanan, CA. We would also like to thank the members of our Committee who have always been part of all our endeavors. Last but not the least, we also appreciate and acknowledge the technical and administrative support provided by the Secretariat of the Committee in revising this publication.

We are confident that this publication will help the readers in understanding and appreciating the finer nuances of the GST law. Though all efforts have been taken in developing and revising this Background Material, the possibilities of inadvertent errors/omissions cannot be ruled out.

We request the readers to bring such errors/omissions, if any, to our notice. We will be glad to receive your valuable feedback at gst@icai.in. We also request you to make use of the various resources available on our website <https://idtc.icai.org> and share your suggestions/inputs on the same.

Title

All Acts enacted by the Parliament since the introduction of the Indian Short Titles Act, 1897 carry a long and a short title. The long title, set out at the head of a statute, gives a fairly full description of the general purpose of the Act and broadly covers the scope of the Act.

The short title, serves simply as an ease of reference and is considered a statutory nickname to obviate the necessity of referring to the Act in its full and descriptive title. Its object is identification, and not description of the purpose of the Act.

Extent

Part I of the Constitution of India states: “Article 1 India, that is Bharat, shall be a Union of States”. It provides that the territory of India shall comprise the States and the Union Territories specified in the First Schedule of the Constitution of India. The First Schedule provides that after the reorganization of J&K and unification of UT of Dadra and Nagar Haveli and UT of Daman and Diu vide Dadra and Nagar Haveli and Daman and Diu (Merger of Union Territories) Bill, 2019, we now have twenty-eight (28) States and eight (8) Union Territories.

Part VI of the Constitution of India provides that for every State, there shall be a Legislature, while Part VIII provides that every Union Territory shall be administered by the President through an ‘Administrator’ appointed by him. However, the Union Territories of Delhi and Puducherry have been provided with Legislatures with powers and functions as required for their administration.

India is a summation of three categories of territories namely – (i) States (28); (ii) Union Territories with Legislature (3); and (iii) Union Territories without Legislature (5).

Other Relevant Articles of the Constitution

Readers who wish to have a deeper understanding of GST may examine the Articles of the Constitution as amended vide Constitution 101st Amendment Act, 2016 which received the Presidential assent on 16th Aug 2016 and are relevant to GST. A gist of each such Article is provided hereunder:

Article 245(2): Law not invalid on ground that it has extra territorial jurisdiction. Important for Place of supply – Section 11, 13 of Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017.

Article 246: Sets out that the Parliament has exclusive powers to tax activities specified in List I; State legislature has exclusive powers to tax activities specified in List II; and both have concurrent powers to tax activities specified in List III. GST is NOT levied under the legislative powers traceable to Article 246.

Article 246A(1): Provides that notwithstanding Article 246 and subject to Article 254(2), the Parliament and State legislature have power to impose tax on goods and services. Within the State, GST is levied under the law making powers traceable to Article 246A.

Article 246(2): Only the Parliament has powers to tax inter-State activities.

Article 249: Parliament has overriding power in GST.

Article 250: Parliament has overriding power in case of emergency

Article 254: Inconsistency in law- Parliament has the powers to supersede.

Article 268: Stamp duties covered in Union list- collected by State.

Article 269: Imports deemed to be inter-State activity. Inter-State taxes collected are apportioned as per GST Council's recommendations.

Article 269A (5): Parliament to have exclusive jurisdiction to determine inter-State character of any supply. Intelligible provisions need to be framed in this regard and not by any delegatee but by the Parliament itself. Although GST is understood to be a 'destination based tax', the destination of supply is not left to be decided as a 'question of fact' but a 'question of law'. Due to the exclusive jurisdiction of Parliament (and not State Legislatures) to determine the 'destination of supply' one can find 'place of supply' provisions in the IGST Act and not in the CGST Act / SGST Acts.

Article 270: Distribution of taxes on stamp duties, consignment sales, surcharge or cess, central GST and IGST used for paying CGST. This is as decided by the Finance Commission.

Article 279A: GST Council composition: Chairman- Union Finance Minister; Vice Chairman- one chosen from among the State; Union Minister of State; and one Minister of Finance or other Minister of State for each State.

Article 279A (5): GST on 5 petroleum products, tobacco and immovable property deferred to a date to be specified by GST council.

Article 286: States cannot tax import or export or supply outside the State.

Article 366(12A): "Goods and services tax" means any tax on supply of goods or services or both except alcoholic liquor.

Article 366(26A): "Service" means anything other than goods.

Article 366(29A): Defines 'tax on sale or purchase of goods' which was the guiding light under the erstwhile tax regime but has not been repealed on introduction of GST. Effect of its continuation on the operation of GST is on the careful disuse of this expression and use of the expression 'supply'.

Relevant Entries in Lists

Entry 52: List II - Entry Tax (now omitted). Some legal experts have a view that States will have inherent powers as the basic structure of the Constitution cannot be changed.

Entry 54: List II - Only 5 petroleum Products and alcoholic liquor for human consumption other than inter-State trade.

Entry 55: List II – Advertisement (omitted).

Entry 62: List II- Entertainment and amusement to local bodies- restricted

Entry 84: List I - Only 5 petroleum products and tobacco products continue.

Entry 92 and 92C: List I – omitted (read section 19 of the Constitution 101st Amendment Act)

Commencement

The CGST Act came into operation on 1st Jul 2017, the date appointed by the Central Government. However, certain provisions i.e. Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 10, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 139, 146, 164 were made effective from 22nd Jun 2017 mainly in relation to the provisions on registration and migration.

Statutory Interpretations and Legal Maxims

The legislations through which GST has been introduced in India have to be read considering the general principles of interpretation and may also need to follow legal maxims laid down over centuries. Some principles and legal maxims have been set out below:

- (a) When reading a law, the plain language is to be given effect. Meanings contrary to plain language are not permissible.
- (b) Apparent omission in law cannot be made good or rectified by the Courts. These are necessarily to be amended by making representation. (Casus Omissus)
- (c) Purposive interpretation preferable to advance the remedy and not the mischief. (Heydon's Rule)
- (d) Notifications issued to further the objective of public welfare, the law should be reasonable, just, sensible and fair. Normally not to cause hardship, inconvenience, injustice and avoid friction in the system.
- (e) If the Law is vaguely worded the entire provision can be read as a whole, harmoniously.
- (f) Act prevails over Rule.
- (g) In taxation, 'form prevails over substance' of a transaction unlike welfare legislations
- (h) Illustrations cannot modify the law.
- (i) Explanation cannot expand the scope of the provision.
- (j) Terms which are together need to be of same genus (ejusdem generis) or gathered by the company they keep (noscitur a sociis)
- (k) In multiple non obstante clauses, the last provision would prevail.
- (l) In case of doubt, the later provision prevails.
- (m) Vested rights not to be affected retrospectively.
- (n) Rights once vested are indefeasible, but until they vest, rights are 'in choate'
- (o) Non-fulfilment of 'vesting conditions' become 'divesting conditions' qua those rights
- (p) Parliament can make law retrospectively to cure defects.
- (q) Levy provisions must be interpreted to favour the tax payer, if the wordings are not clear.
- (r) Exemption provisions must be interpreted strictly and to favour the Revenue.
- (s) Exemptions in GST cannot be notified retrospectively, even if omission was erroneous.
- (t) No presence of guilt needed to be proved for penalty unless specified specifically.

(u) In GST, 'burden of proof' lies on revenue to impeach liability self-assessed by taxpayer. The above are some indicative principles and not exhaustive.

2. Definitions

In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires-

(1) "actionable claim" shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in section 3 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882;

One may refer to section 3 and then section 130 of Transfer of Property Act, 1882 regarding the manner of 'transferring' actionable claims. Transfer of actionable claim can be with consideration or without consideration as per the Transfer of Property Act, 1882.

Actionable claim represents beneficial interest in movable property that is not in possession. It is an entitlement to a debt and the holder of the actionable claim enjoys the right to demand "action" against any person. Acknowledgement of liability by a creditor to honour a claim, when made, does not constitute actionable claim in the hands of such creditor. Mere right to sue is not an actionable claim. Entry ticket to a venue is actionable but that does not render it an actionable claim. Actionable claim is one which represents the underlying interest in movable property though not yet in possession. Not every right is transferrable (refer section 6 of Transfer of Property Act). 'Assignment' of a right is not a 'transfer' because only benefits (from a contract) can be assigned and not obligations (under that contract). Novation is also not a transfer because it involves merely 'substitution' of one of the parties with another to carry on the remainder of that contract on the same terms. Actionable claim has always been 'excluded' from the definition of goods under the earlier tax regime but in GST, it is 'included'.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Assignment of actionable claim without permanently supplanting the holder of the claim would not be supply.
- Under the GST regime, actionable claim relating to lottery, betting and gambling alone will be regarded as 'goods' since the definition of goods includes actionable claim.

(2) "address of delivery" means the address of the recipient of goods or services or both indicated on the tax invoice issued by a registered person for delivery of such goods or services or both;

"Address of delivery" is relevant to in the context of determining the place of supply of goods (other than imports / exports). Care must be taken to differentiate between 'delivery' and 'location' of the addressee being the recipient. Delivery is a question of law, which establishes based on the terms of contract, whether the supplier can be said to have completed the obligations towards the buyer. Reference may be had to some additional discussion in the context of section 10 of IGST Act where key terms such as delivery, movement, transportation and journey have been discussed. Reference may also be had to Sale of Goods Act, 1930 where section 19 states that 'property is to pass when it is intended to pass' and duties of seller and buyer are discussed in sections 31 to 44 with specific reference to 'delivery' in section 33.

It is understood that the "address of delivery" would be a crucial pointer towards the location of goods at the time of delivery to the recipient. The place of supply of goods or services or both (other than imports/ exports) would primarily be the location of the goods or services or both at the time of delivery to the recipient.

(3) "address on record" means the address of the recipient as available in the records of the supplier;

'Address on record' is relevant to determine the "place of supply" in case of supplies made by a registered person to an unregistered person in relation to services. In such cases, where the place of supply has not been specifically provided for under the law, the address available in the records of the supplier would be regarded as the place of supply. It is reasonable to expect that the 'last address' as reported by the said person would estop him from claiming that, that address is no longer the correct address.

(4) "adjudicating authority" means any authority, appointed or authorised to pass any order or decision under this Act, but does not include the ¹Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs, the Revisional Authority, the Authority for Advance Ruling, the Appellate Authority for Advance Ruling, the ²National Appellate Authority for Advance Ruling, the ³Appellate Authority, the Appellate Tribunal and the Authority referred to in sub-section (2) of section 171;

The following authorities are NOT permitted to pass an order/decision under the GST laws:

- (a) The Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs
- (b) Revisional Authority (although orders passed are appealable to Tribunal)
- (c) Authority for Advance Ruling
- (d) Appellate Authority for Advance Ruling (State and National)
- (e) Appellate Authority
- (f) Appellate Tribunal
- (g) Anti-Profiteering Authority

Under the Act, the Revisional Authority, Appellate Authority and the Appellate Tribunal are empowered to pass/ issue order as they think fit, after affording the parties a reasonable opportunity of being heard and after conducting such inquiry as may be deemed necessary. However, such powers are limited to cases where an order has been passed by an authority of a lower rank, before it becomes a subject matter of revision/ appeal. It should be noted that administrative circulars issued under section 168 will ONLY apply to adjudicating authorities and authorities who are excluded from the scope of this definition will NOT be subject to those administrative circulars and are free (and expected too) to form their own opinion when matters that are already dealt with in those circulars, come up for consideration in any proceeding.

(5) “agent” means a person, including a factor, broker, commission agent, arhatia, del credere agent, an auctioneer or any other mercantile agent, by whatever name called, who carries on the business of supply or receipt of goods or services or both on behalf of another;

This definition appears to illustrate the principle of agency defined in section 182 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872. Agency is a relationship that can be formed validly even without consideration in terms of section 185 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872. Agent can work purely on commission basis. Even e-commerce companies may be covered in some fact situations. But the relevance of being an agent is more pronounced while examining whether a transaction between a principal and agent is itself a supply under para 3, schedule I. Very often, the word agent or agency is used without necessarily implying that the transaction is one of agency as understood under Indian Contract Act such as, recruitment agency, travel agency etc. Care must be taken to identify whether the parties intended to constitute an agency as understood in law and nothing less.

Agency may be actual or implied. Circular 57/31-2018-GST dated 04.09.2018 issued with the authority under section 168(1) of CGST Act states that entire jurisprudence of agency under section 183 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872 will operate to determine any question on agency under GST law. Agency is characterized by ‘delegated authority, detached from consequences’. Agents who ‘hold out’ to be acting ‘on their own account’ will themselves be liable to registration under section 24(vii) and payment of tax under paragraph 3, schedule I (discussed later under respective provisions).

Agency could be (i) actual or (ii) implied. Actions of agents brings the principal into obligations towards the third parties. Every relationship involving fiduciary duties DO NOT constitute agency. Trustee has fiduciary relationship over assets belonging to beneficiaries but actions of Trustees do not create obligation onto beneficiaries towards third parties. Trustees themselves are responsible to perform all obligations towards such third parties. Trustees are merely required to act in good faith in the discharge of their duty in application of trust-assets.

(6) “aggregate turnover” means the aggregate value of all taxable supplies (excluding the value of inward supplies on which tax is payable by a person on reverse charge basis), exempt supplies, exports of goods or services or both and inter-State supplies of persons having the same permanent account number, to be computed on all India basis but excludes Central tax, State tax, Union territory tax, integrated tax and cess;

The phrase “aggregate turnover” is widely used under the GST laws. Aggregate Turnover is an all-encompassing term covering all the supplies effected by a person having the same PAN. It specifically excludes:

- Inward supplies effected by a person which are liable to tax under reverse charge mechanism.
- Various taxes under the GST law, Compensation cess.

The different kinds of supplies covered are:

- (a) Taxable supplies;
- (b) Exempt Supplies:
 - supplies that have a 'NIL' rate of tax;
 - supplies that are wholly exempted from GST under section 11;
 - supplies that are not taxable under the Act (alcoholic liquor for human consumption and articles listed in section 9(2)).
- (c) Export of goods or services or both, including zero-rated supplies. The following aspects among others need to be noted:
 - Aggregate turnover is relevant to a person to determine:
 - Threshold limit to opt for composition scheme: ₹ 1.50 crores (or ₹ 75 Lakhs in case of supplies effected from special category States) in a financial year;
 - Threshold limit to obtain registration under the Act: ₹ 20 Lakhs (or ₹ 10 Lakhs in case of supplies effected from Special Category States, as explained in our analysis of section 22) in a financial year and 40 lakhs for persons who are exclusively engaged in intra-supply of goods.
 - Inter-State supplies between units of a person with the same PAN will also form part of the aggregate turnover.
 - For an agent, the supplies made by him on behalf of all his principals would have to be considered while analysing the threshold limits.
 - For a job-worker, the following supplies effected on completion of job work would not be included in his 'aggregate turnover' when working under section 143:
 - Goods returned to the principal
 - Goods sent to another job worker on the instruction of the principal
 - Goods directly supplied from the job worker's premises (by the principal): It would be included in the 'aggregate turnover' of the principal.
 - 'No supply' will NOT be exempt supply but still be liable to be included in 'aggregate turnover' except in cases where specifically some are considered exempt supply for purposes of section 17(2). Readers may refer the discussion under section 2(78) on non-taxable supply for a comparative study between 'exempt supply', 'non-taxable supply' and 'no supply'.
 - Activities listed in Schedule III MUST be included in the definition of 'aggregate turnover'.

The following need to be noted :

- If activities listed in Schedule III are NOT supply, then the use of the word 'supply' while listing activities in this Schedule would result in unreconcilable difference;
- Schedule III contains activities to furnish a 'fiction' to overlook specified activities which are otherwise 'transactions of supply';
- Finding an entry in Schedule III only means the fiction of 'exclusion' from being admitted as a 'transaction of supply' would only be required when 'any treatment' is required to be afforded to the transaction;
- When no 'treatment' is warranted, there is no requirement to exclude even activities listed in Schedule III from the definition of 'aggregate turnover'.

Although some experts have expressed reservation in including Schedule III activities in the definition of 'aggregate turnover', there is no other satisfactory reconciliation for inclusion of supply transactions in Schedule III, especially, Entries 1, 7 and 8.

- There is an interesting observation that when exempt supply is first a taxable supply, then for aggregate turnover to include taxable and exempt supplies appear to be a double inclusion of exempt supplies. A purposive construction leads to the understanding that no such double inclusion is required and it is to be understood as a 'specific inclusion' that aggregate turnover should not only include taxable supplies but should also include taxable supplies that are exempted.

(7) "agriculturist" means an individual or a Hindu Undivided Family who undertakes cultivation of land—

(a) by own labour, or

(b) by the labour of family, or

(c) by servants on wages payable in cash or kind or by hired labour under personal supervision or the personal supervision of any member of the family;

An individual or HUF undertaking cultivation of land, whether own or not, would be regarded as an agriculturist. The cultivation should be undertaken by own labour / family labour/ servants on wages or hired labour.

It may be noted that the scope of the definition is restricted to an individual or a Hindu Undivided Family. Any other "person" as defined in section 2(84), carrying on the activity of agriculture will not be considered as an agriculturist and hence will not be exempted from registration provisions as provided in section 23(1)(b), of the Act.

An agriculturist providing taxable supplies need to confirm that the aggregate turnover is not exceeded when taking a decision not to get registered. Everyone who owns agricultural property will not ipso facto be eligible for exemption from registration because other taxable supplies may necessitate registration. It is possible that a person, while being an agriculturist may also be a trader or manufacturer of taxable goods.

It needs to be noted that an agriculturist is not immune from GST under all circumstances and not all agricultural products are exempt from GST or liable to payment of tax on reverse charge basis. Care must be taken to ensure that any person claiming to be an agriculturist and claiming favourable treatment available must ensure that there are no other transactions that may deprive the treatment otherwise available to those who are purely or entirely agriculturists. The only favourable treatment allowed to 'agriculturist' is exemption from registration under section 23(1)(b) and not exemption from tax under section 11. If for any reason, a person who is otherwise an agriculturist, has already obtained registration, experts caution that such person cannot partially avail exemption qua supplies as an agriculturist and remain registered qua all other taxable supplies, although views are divided on this point due to the words 'to the extent of' appearing in section 23(1)(b) in view of the substantive requirements in section 25(3) and agricultural products that are NOT covered under Notification No. 4/2017-CT(R) dated 28.06.2017 will still be liable to tax on 'forward charge basis' even in the hands of such registered-agriculturist, notwithstanding the (now ineffective) exemption from registration.

(8) "Appellate Authority" means an authority appointed or authorised to hear appeals as referred to in section 107;

It refers to an authority before whom a person aggrieved by a decision/ order under the CGST/ SGST/ UTGST Act may appeal. An order passed by the Appellate Authority would be final and binding on all the parties. If a person is still aggrieved by the order passed by the Appellate Authority, he may prefer an appeal before the Appellate Tribunal or Court.

It may be noted that vide Notification No. 4/2019-CT dated 29 Jan, 2019, the posts of 'Joint Commissioner Central Tax (Appeals)' and 'Additional Commissioner Central Tax (Appeals)' have been created which are new posts under the Central laws. Corresponding to this, no post of 'Commissioner of State Tax (Appeals)' has been created. It would therefore be interesting to see how the division of appeals between JC-CT (A), ADC-CT (A) and C-CT (A) would be handled by JC-ST (A) without the post of C-ST (A) in the States.. Reference may be had to rule 109A also.

(9) "Appellate Tribunal" means the Goods and Services Tax Appellate Tribunal constituted under section 109;

It refers to an authority before whom a person aggrieved by a decision/ order under the CGST/ SGST/ UTGST Act passed by the Appellate Authority/ Revision Authority may appeal. An order passed by the Appellate Tribunal would be final and binding on all the parties. If a person is further aggrieved by the order passed by the Appellate Tribunal, he may prefer an appeal before the High Court.

(10) "appointed day" means the date on which the provisions of this Act shall come into force;

Most of the provisions of the CGST Act have been implemented with effect from 1st July 2017 with powers vested to notify different dates for effective date of commencement of different provisions of the Act.

Registration provisions were made effective before the appointed date to enable easy transition.

(11) "assessment" means determination of tax liability under this Act and includes self-assessment, re-assessment, provisional assessment, summary assessment and best judgment assessment;

The types of assessment covered under the Act are:

- (a) Self-assessment (Section 59)
- (b) Provisional assessment (Section 60)
- (c) Summary assessment (Section 62) including best judgement assessment

The CGST Act also provides for determination of tax liability by:

- (a) Scrutiny of returns filed by registered persons (Section 61)
- (b) Assessment of non-filers of returns (Section 62)
- (c) Assessment of un-registered persons (Section 63)

It may, however, be noted that there is no provision permitting a Proper Officer to re-assess the tax liability of a taxable person. Hence, reference to such re-assessment in the definition may have to be suitably read down. As per section 59, GST follows self-assessment approach. As such, returns filed will be admitted as assessed. Tax administration is free to scrutinize returns (section 61) or conduct inspection (section 67) and issue notice (section 73-74) but there is no provision for conducting assessment except where the taxable person seeks provisional assessment (section 60) in specified circumstances. The authority to pass orders in case of non-filers (section 62) or in case of unregistered persons (section 63) or in certain special cases (section 64) does not dilute the 'self-assessment' approach in GST.

It needs to be noted that 'self-assessment' is not an 'unsupervised authority' to the taxpayers. Section 59 does not override section 54. So, any excess payment of tax cannot be suo moto recovered by adjustment with other tax liability simply because of the self-assessment authority under section 59. Care must be taken to identify the extent and limits to this authority of self-assessment.

At the same time, re-assessment is NOT provided in any specific section on assessment. Hence, the Proper Officer must take care NOT to carry out roving exercise to re-determine liability except as provided in the law. Reference may be made to this aspect as discussed in the context of sections 61 to 64.

(12) "associated enterprises" shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in section 92A of the Income-tax Act, 1961;

'Associated enterprise' is referred only in the context of time of supply of services where the supplier is an associated enterprise (located outside India) of the recipient (reverse charge attracted under section 9(3)).

- In such cases, the time of supply will be the date of entry in the books of account of the recipient of supply or the date of payment, whichever is earlier.
- This in turn means that provisional entries made at the time of closure of books of account for a year (on accrual basis) may trigger GST liability in the hands of the recipient, under section 7(1)(b).

It may be noted that in addition to associated enterprise, the Act also defines 'related person', the reference to which is made in the context of 'deemed supply' (Schedule I) and valuation.

(13) "audit" means the examination of records, returns and other documents maintained or furnished by the registered person under this Act or the rules made thereunder or under any other law for the time being in force to verify the correctness of turnover declared, taxes paid, refund claimed and input tax credit availed, and to assess his compliance with the provisions of this Act or the rules made thereunder;

The definition of 'audit' under the Act is a wide term covering the examination of records, returns and documents maintained/ furnished under this Act or Rules and under any other law in force. Any document, record maintained by a registered person under any law can thus be called upon and audited. It becomes critical for the person to maintain true documents/ records to ensure correctness and smooth conduct of audit.

However, it may be important to note that this is neither an investigation nor an exercise to prevent leakage of revenue and may lead to verification of benefits claimed as well as payment of taxes. Audit is NOT investigation but is certainly an 'inquiry' for the purposes of section 70. . In other words, unlike section 66 or 67, there are no 'pre-conditions' to be shown to exist in order for selection of any taxpayer to be audited under section 65.

(14) "authorised bank" shall mean a bank or a branch of a bank authorised by the Government to collect the tax or any other amount payable under this Act;

The date of credit to the account of the Government (i.e., the Central Government in respect of CGST, IGST, UTGST and CESS or the relevant State Government in respect of SGST) in the authorized bank will be considered as the date of deposit in the electronic cash ledger.

(15) "authorised representative" means the representative as referred to in section 116;

An authorized representative is a person authorized on one's behalf to appear before an Officer of the Act, Appellate Authority or Appellate Tribunal in connection with the proceedings under the Act. Any of the following persons can act as authorized representatives:

- (a) His relative/regular employee;
- (b) Practicing advocate who is not debarred;
- (c) Practicing Chartered Accountant, Cost Accountant or Company Secretary who is not debarred;

- (d) Retired Officer of the Commercial Tax Department of any State/ Union Territory not below the post of Group-B Gazetted Officer with 2 years' service;
- (e) GST practitioner.

The following persons cannot act as authorized representatives:

- (a) Who is dismissed/ removed from Government service;
- (b) Who is convicted of an offence under any law dealing with imposition of taxes;
- (c) Who is guilty of misconduct by the prescribed authority;
- (d) Who is adjudged as an insolvent.

(16) "Board" means the ⁴[Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs] constituted under the Central Boards of Revenue Act, 1963

(17) "business" includes—

- (a) any trade, commerce, manufacture, profession, vocation, adventure, wager or any other similar activity, whether or not it is for a pecuniary benefit;
- (b) any activity or transaction in connection with or incidental or ancillary to sub-clause (a);
- (c) any activity or transaction sub-clause (a), whether or not there is volume, frequency, continuity or regularity of such transaction;
- (d) supply or acquisition of goods including capital goods and services in connection with commencement or closure of business;
- (e) provision by a club, association, society, or any such body (for a subscription or any other consideration) of the facilities or benefits to its members;
- (f) admission, for a consideration, of persons to any premises;
- (g) services supplied by a person as the holder of an office which has been accepted by him in the course or furtherance of his trade, profession or vocation;
- (h) ⁵activities of a race club including by way of totalizator of a license to book maker or activities of a licensed book maker in such club; and
- (i) any activity or transaction undertaken by the Central Government, a State Government or any local authority in which they are engaged as public authorities;

Excise / Service tax laws do not define the term 'business'. However, it is defined under the CST Act / State VAT laws. The definition in the GST law is a modified version of the definition under CST / VAT laws, in as much as the scope is substantially expanded to include among others wager, profession and vocation. This definition is very wide and covers all the transactions that were subjected to various taxes that are being subsumed in the GST Laws.

This definition assumes significance as the proposed levy is on supplies undertaken in the course or furtherance of business. The definition may be understood in two parts, namely:

- (a) General activity - Trade, commerce, etc., including incidental activities whether or not there is volume, frequency, continuity or regularity of such transactions. The principle of ejusdem generis provides that similar activity would be determined by the previous enumerated ones. It needs to be noted that the issue as to whether charitable activity would be includible in the definition of business depends on whether the 'source' of income is charitable or 'application' of income is charitable. If business-like sources are used to raise funds, such institutions may be liable to GST although these funds are not distributed to promoters but are expended for the purposes of the beneficiaries.
- (b) Specific activity – Acquisition of goods including capital goods, supply by association/club, admission of persons to a premises and services by a race club.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Business is a 'business' only when it has achieved 'income generating capacity' and until then, business is a mere enterprise that is 'innovating or exploring' the possibilities. The concept of 'setting-up' of a business has been contested since 1952 in Income-tax with decisions like Western India Vegetable Products and Tuticorin Alkali and contrasted in the cases of Bongaigaon Railway and Karnal Co-operatives. [discussed later under section 16(1)].
- 'Wager' is also included in the definition of business to impose GST on 'organizing' betting transactions. Refer section 30 of Indian Contract Act to understand some of the peculiarities involved in the jurisprudence on 'wager'.
- Clause (d) is also interesting as the words used are 'commencement of business' is also included in the definition of business. This expression would be of great interest while examining the 'start date' from when input tax credit may be claimed – whether from the date of formation of the entity or from the date of commencement of business by the entity. There is considerable judicial authority in the context of sections 3 and 28 of the Income-tax Act, 1961 where this aspect has been examined. Refer the discussion under section 16(1) about the relevance of 'commencement' of business'.
- Educational services would be covered under profession or business and even though exemption is granted in respect of education, other non-composite transactions such as sale of uniforms, note books or mess facilities could be covered.
- Charitable or religious activities are not specifically covered; however fund raising activities from commercial activities like letting out of hoardings, sale of books could be considered as business. Exemptions to 'charitable activity' in Income-tax law attends to end-use of funds whereas GST enquires into 'source of funds' in the scope of 'charitable activities';

- Clause (e) may pose some difficulty as associations and its members enjoy immunity from taxation on transactions amongst themselves by the 'principle of mutuality'. Hon'ble Supreme Court in Calcutta Club & Ors v. State of WB has upheld this principle of mutuality although that decision was delivered under the earlier laws; being a principle, it would continue to apply in respect of GST also. However, this express inclusion in the definition appears to deviate from the said principle for the limited purposes of GST. In other words, contribution by members to their association is not taxable under Income-tax Act (where the said principle prevails) but would still be taxable under GST and in view of Calcutta Club's decision, is open for examination before a final view emerges. It remains to be seen whether the deliberate wordings in clause (e) can operate as a fiction to eclipse the principle of mutuality, for purposes of GST, or is rendered otiose in view of the said principle;
- Clause (g) may require understanding of 'employment' as differentiated from 'profession'. For instance, if a CA in practice provides services as Independent Director, the service provided by him may be treated as 'business' and not 'employment'.
- Clause (i) is also very important as 'any' activity or transaction by Government is included in the definition of business; this will have far-reaching implications as the responsibility to pay tax in respect of services by Government is covered under reverse charge mechanism. Due to the expansive words used here, there is no room to differentiate payments made to any Government department on the ground that it is not 'business' activity.
- Section 2(17)(h) has expanded definitions of business of a race club; this change ensures that all activities related to a race club are included in the definition of business. Amendments are being made to ensure that all activities related to a race club are covered. Activities of a licensed book maker have been specifically included. (As per CGST Amendment Act, 2018). It is of great interest that Hon'ble SC in the case of Calcutta Club & Ors v. State of WB & Ors has held that the principle of 'mutuality' has not been done away with by the 46th Amendment to our Constitution. Although this decision was rendered in the context of Sales Tax (Calcutta Club appeal) and Service Tax (Ranchi Club appeal), experts opine that the jurisprudence in this decision would apply to GST as well. With the insertion of section 7(1)(aa) read with clause 2(17)(e) and deletion of Para 7 in Schedule II, the concept of 'mutuality' appears to be overcome for GST purposes, that too, with retrospective effect from 1st Jul 2017
- The concept and effect of 'principal supply' in a 'composite supply' overriding the 'incidental supply' cannot be extended to the definition of 'business'. That is, the argument that 'if the principal activity is NOT business, then all incidental activities (even if akin to business) will NOT be business', appears to be left behind by GST law. But Courts will still have a say in the matter and some experts cite Sai Publication Trust [CA 9445 of 1996 (SC)] as an authority in support of the view that this jurisprudence will not be held back and will have its day in Court even under GST. Other experts express doubts over its relevance in GST as (i) amendment to definition of 'business' in Bombay Sales Tax Act, 1959 made in 1985 was taken up for consideration by the SC and (ii) definition in 2(17) of CGST Act has been sufficiently covered keeping the intent to overcome such authorities, is their anxious counter response.

- Once taxable person has obtained registration (after examining the applicability of definition of 'business') it does not avail for this distinct person to reapply the 'test of business' qua every new stream of income. As a result all (streams of income) of them will be exposed to GST 'as if' each individual (and new streams of income) were also business activities of this distinct person even if it would not be so had this been the sole source of income and the other taxable activity were not in existence.
- Sovereign functions are also included within this definition not so much with a plan to impose tax on Government services but to show that the bar is set so high that all other functionaries would NOT be allowed to claim exclusion from this definition when sovereign functions are also not excludable. The expanded scope of 'business' is unmistakable and if sovereign functions are admitted to fit the definition of 'business' all other business like transactions cannot claim exclusion from the coverage, at least not unequivocally. State is permitted to engage in commerce under Article 298.
- An overall examination of all the clauses in this section, throws up some perspective as to what is the 'definition' that is being canvassed by GST law. And this insight may be kept in mind while examining all other business-like activities of organizations that may not be organized as 'for-profit' and the intent may be towards taxing transactions based on their 'business characteristics' and not the 'non business characteristics' of the form of any organization.

~~⁶ [(18) "business vertical" means a distinguishable component of an enterprise that is engaged in the supply of individual goods or services or a group of related goods or services which is subject to risks and returns that are different from those of the other business verticals.]~~

~~Explanation—For the purposes of this clause, factors that should be considered in determining whether goods or services are related include—~~

~~(a) the nature of the goods or services;~~

~~(b) the nature of the production processes;~~

~~(c) the type or class of customers for the goods or services;~~

~~(d) the methods used to distribute the goods or supply of services; and~~

~~(e) the nature of regulatory environment (wherever applicable), including banking, insurance, or public utilities;]~~

Note: This concept has been diluted now with any number of registrations being permitted within a State. The need for it to be a business vertical has been done away with by the Central Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018, with effect from 1st February, 2019. Upon obtaining additional registration in the same State, credit reallocation is permitted vide rule 41A of CGST Rules.

(19) "capital goods" means goods, the value of which is capitalised in the books of account of the person claiming the input tax credit and which are used or intended to be used in the course or furtherance of business;

An attempt has been made to align the meaning of capital goods to the generally accepted standards of accounting of what is considered as revenue and what as capital

Goods will be regarded as capital goods if the following conditions are satisfied:

- (a) The value of such goods is capitalised in the books of account of the person claiming input tax credit;
- (b) Such goods are used or intended to be used in the course or furtherance of business.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- (a) Assuming that the value of capital goods was not capitalised in the books of account, the person purchasing such capital goods would still be eligible to claim input tax credit on them since the definition of 'input tax' applies to goods that are not capitalized;
- (b) Capital goods lying at the job-workers premises would also be considered as 'capital goods' in the hands of the purchaser as long as the said capital goods are capitalized in his books of account.

Capitalized value of capital goods may include services as an incidental component of a composite supply. The expression 'capital goods' is the identity of what is capitalized although it may come into existence along with services. There is no basis to carve out service value embedded in the capitalized value if they principally comprise only of capital goods. In case of turnkey works contract (necessarily an immovable property) it would be deemed to be a service. It needs to be noted that CWIP may involve credits which are available immediately on their receipt (of the goods and their invoice). Therefore, one may not have to defer credit until actual capitalization in the books in view of the time restriction for taking of credit being reckoned from 'date of invoice' and not from the 'date of capitalization'.

GST law does not introduce these fine distinctions between 'yet to be' capitalized goods and 'already' capitalized goods. Any delay in capitalization can prove costly due to the time limit for taking of credit. This may be true for long term contracts involving setting up of plants. Further, the expression 'capital goods' gives rise to some questions about 'capitalized services'. Here, it may be of help to note that 'input services' is not restricted to services that are revenue in nature. Capitalized services do not fail to satisfy the definition of input services. Care must be taken while claiming credit in respect of capitalized services in case of use commonly for making taxable and exempt outward supplies.

(20) "casual taxable person" means a person who occasionally undertakes transactions involving supply of goods or services or both in the course or furtherance of business, whether as principal, agent or in any other capacity, in a State or a Union territory where he has no fixed place of business;

A person would be regarded as a casual taxable person if he undertakes supply of goods or services or both:

- (a) Occasionally and not on a regular basis;
- (b) In the course or furtherance of a 'business' that exists;
- (c) Either as principal or agent or in any other capacity;
- (d) In a State/ Union Territory where he has no fixed place of business.

A trader, businessman, service provider, etc. in one State undertaking occasional transactions like supplies made in trade fairs in another State would be treated as a 'casual taxable person' in that other State and will have to obtain registration in that capacity and pay tax.

Example: A jeweller carrying on a business in Mumbai, who conducts an exhibition-cum-sale in Delhi where he has no fixed place of business, would be treated as a 'casual taxable person' in Delhi.

A question that comes up for consideration is whether a person who does not undertake business activity (assume this test is satisfied), would be a CTP in the home-State when business-like transactions are occasionally undertaken? This is not an easy question but proceeding on the basis that 'business' test is conducted and found that activity is not a business, then there is no question of registration and compliance as CTP. The next question is, in case business transactions are regularly undertaken but below threshold limit, would such a person be a CTP and if so, whether in the home-State or another State or both? The answer would be that due to threshold benefit, the person would not be TP or CTP in the home-State. And due to business activities in another State, CTP would be triggered in the other State subject due to the fiction under section 24 leading to requirement of registration being attracted in the home-State due to inter-State supplies. This leads us to a view that in order to be CTP in any State, the person must already be in business in the home-State, even if within threshold limit for registration, which may go away due to inter-State supplies being involved between the two branches.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- The threshold limits for registration would not apply and he would be required to obtain registration irrespective of his turnover;
- He is required to apply for registration at least 5 days prior to commencement of business;
- The registration would be valid for 90 days or such period as specified in the application, whichever is shorter;

- An advance deposit of the estimated tax liability is required to be made along with the application for registration. Although the wordings are 'estimated tax liability', it was clarified vide Circular No. 71/45/2018-GST dated 26 October, 2018 that deposit must be made of estimated 'net' tax liability after reducing estimate of available input tax credit.

(21) "Central tax" means the central goods and services tax levied under section 9;

It refers to the tax charged under this Act on intra-State supply of goods or services or both (other than supply of alcoholic liquor for human consumption). The rate of tax is capped at 20% and thereafter, the rates for goods and services have been notified by the Central Government based on the recommendation of the Council.

(22) "cess" shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in the Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act;

It refers to the 'cess' levied on certain supplies (inter-State or intra-State) as notified, for the purposes of providing compensation to the States for loss of revenue arising on account of implementation of GST, for a period of five years (or extended period, as may be prescribed).

(23) "chartered accountant" means a chartered accountant as defined in clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 2 of the Chartered Accountants Act, 1949;

(24) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of central tax and includes the Principal Commissioner of central tax appointed under section 3 and the Commissioner of integrated tax appointed under the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act;

(25) "Commissioner in the Board" means the Commissioner referred to in section 168;

It refers to the Commissioner or Joint Secretary posted in the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs. Such a Commissioner or Joint Secretary is empowered to exercise the function of the Commissioner with the approval of the Board.

(26) "common portal" means the common goods and services tax electronic portal referred to in section 146;

The Common Goods and Services Tax Electronic Portal ("GST portal") is a common electronic portal set up by the Goods and Services Tax Network (GSTN) that facilitates among others registration, payment of tax, filing of returns, computation and settlement of IGST, electronic way-bill and other functions under the Act.

(27) "common working days" in respect of a State or Union territory shall mean such days in succession which are not declared as gazetted holidays by the Central Government or the concerned State or Union territory Government;

Common working days refer to such days in succession which are not a declared holiday for the Centre as well as State/ Union Territory.

The relevance of working days primarily arises in relation to registration provisions. Every person obtaining a registration under the Act is required to make an online application in the GST portal. The application for registration, along with the accompanying documents will be examined by the Proper Officer and if found in order, the registration will be granted within 3 working days. If the proper officer fails to take any action within 3 working days, the application is deemed to be approved.

Since the reference to 'common workings days' has been replaced by 'working days' as per Rule 9(1) of the CGST Rules, 2017, it remains to be seen whether the applicant will be granted a deemed registration after 3 working days in case of inaction by the Proper Officer even if the third day was a holiday for a State.

(28) "company secretary" means a company secretary as defined in clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 2 of the Company Secretaries Act, 1980;

(29) "competent authority" means such authority as may be notified by the Government;

In terms of Explanation to entry 5(b) of the Schedule II to the Act, "Competent Authority" in relation to construction of a complex, building, civil structure covers:

- (a) Authority authorised to issue completion certificate (local Municipal authorities like BDA/BBMP in Bangalore, PMC in Pune)
- (b) Architect
- (c) Chartered Engineer
- (d) Licensed Surveyor

(30) "composite supply" means a supply made by a taxable person to a recipient consisting of two or more taxable supplies of goods or services or both, or any combination thereof, which are naturally bundled and supplied in conjunction with each other in the ordinary course of business, one of which is a principal supply;

Illustration– Where goods are packed and transported with insurance, the supply of goods, packing materials, transport and insurance is a composite supply and supply of goods is a principal supply.

A supply will be regarded as a 'composite supply' if the following elements are present:

- (a) The supply should consist of two or more taxable supplies.;
- (b) The supplies may be of goods or services or both;
- (c) The supplies should be naturally bundled;
- (d) They should be supplied in conjunction (event, time or contract) with each other in the ordinary course of business;
- (e) One of the supplies is a principal supply (Principal supply means the predominant supply of goods or services of a composite supply and to which any other supply is ancillary).

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Note that reference to two or more 'taxable supplies' found in the definition appears as two or more 'supplies' in section 8(a). As section 8 guides the determination of tax liability based on that supply which enjoys the higher rate of tax, the definition must be read to main harmony with section 8.

- The way the supplies are bundled must be examined. Determining natural bundling must be done with caution such that two supplies occurring simultaneously ought not to be presented as naturally bundled. And any artificial bundling must be sought out with equal care as they could fall within mixed supply and not composite supply.
- Mere conjoint supply of two or more goods or services does not ipso facto constitute composite supply. Habitually supplied together by one firm in the industry may not be adequate to make the two supplies conjoint. The test is less about what one (or few) firms do but what is accepted in trade / expected by customers to be presently conjointly .
- The two (or more) supplies must appear natural when bundled and presented to the recipient. That is, one is the primary object of buyer but the others are for better enjoyment of that primary object and buyer never approaches supplier exclusively for this incidental supply. For example, no one goes to a super market to buy a carry bag nor will a carry bag be put up for sale but carry bag will be supplied (at extra charge or not) 'if and only if' some other articles are purchased which will be delivered in this carry bag .
- The ancillary supply becomes necessary only because of the acceptance of the predominant supply. Such predominance is neither guided by the predominant component in the total price of the supply nor guided by the predominant material involved. The test of predominance must be gathered from the 'predominant object' for which the recipient approached the supplier.
- The method of billing, assignment of separate prices etc. may not be relevant. In other words, whether separate prices are charged for each of the components of supply or a single consolidated price charged, the identity of each of the components of supply must be unmistakably distinct in the arrangement.
- The tax treatment of a composite supply would be as applicable to the principal supply .
- It is not necessary that two (or more) supplies occurring simultaneously must be forcibly categorized as composite (or mixed) supplies. There may each be an independent supply.

Illustrations of composite supply are as follows:

- (a) Accommodation with breakfast;
- (b) Cocktail drink being a mixture of alcohol with a non-alcoholic pre-mix;
- (c) Supply of laptop and carry case of the same company;
- (d) Supply of equipment and installation of the same;
- (e) Supply of repair services on computer along with requisite parts comprehensive AMC;
- (f) Supply of health care services along with in-patient medicaments.

It may be noted that 'buffet with alcohol' for a couple on New Year's eve for a single price could well be composite supply;

Not all supplies which are given together are composite supply merely because there are more than one taxable supplies simultaneously supplied. Unrelated, unconnected and independent taxable supplies that are supplied simultaneously for individual prices where each of them are intended to be the predominant object for which the recipient approached the supplier and may, to contrast with composite supply, be referred as non-composite supply. This is other than the mixed supply examined later.

Illustrations of non-composite supplies that are agreed under a single contract are:

- (a) Construction of road or structure and maintenance of said road or structure;
- (b) Sale of air-conditioner and installation;
- (c) Sale of automobile parts and labour for repair/replacement;
- (d) Sale of equipment of crane and operator training sessions;
- (e) Sale of fruits and chocolates to same customer;

(31) "consideration" in relation to the supply of goods or services or both includes—

- (a) any payment made or to be made, whether in money or otherwise, in respect of, in response to, or for the inducement of, the supply of goods or services or both, whether by the recipient or by any other person but shall not include any subsidy given by the Central Government or a State Government;
- (b) the monetary value of any act or forbearance, in respect of, in response to, or for the inducement of, the supply of goods or services or both, whether by the recipient or by any other person but shall not include any subsidy given by the Central Government or a State Government:

Provided that a deposit given in respect of the supply of goods or services or both shall not be considered as payment made for such supply unless the supplier applies such deposit as consideration for the said supply;

The following aspects need to be noted:

- It refers to the payment received by the supplier in relation to the supply, whether from the recipient or any other person. Therefore, a third party to a contract can also contribute towards the consideration;
- Consideration, therefore, is not the amount that the recipient pays but the total amount that the supplier collects (from all sources) whether from the recipient or any third party. This would be particularly relevant in dealing with complex arrangements in digital economy and new-age business. It is permissible under the Indian Contract Act, for a 'stranger' (to the contract) to contribute towards consideration;

- Consideration can be in the form of money or otherwise. 'Otherwise' may refer to consideration that is not 'money' as defined in section 2(75). E.g.: Under a JDA model, the flats handed by the developer to the landowner would be considered as 'consideration' for the development rights given to the developer by the landowner;
- Clause (b) appears to cast the net so wide as to leave nothing to escape its grasp. Reference may be had to the discussion under section 15 on valuation for the far-reaching implications of the expansive language used in this clause. Sufficient to state here that every act or abstinence that is a motivation to induce a person is already consideration and there is no requirement for it to be in monetary form. The hindi expression for consideration is "pratiphal" and inspiring in meaning. Further, the word 'uthprerna' used conveys remarkable meaning to 'inducement to supply' found in this definition;
- Unmotivated unilateral actions or gratuitous acts would not be consideration. Transactions that involve negative consideration or abstinence from doing anything are all examples of consideration due to the language in this clause. Consideration can therefore be – increase in cash or other assets, increase in debt or other liabilities or abstinence/ tolerance of any act;
- Payment of extra amount to carry out the same scope of work (already agreed for a price) is not valid and enforceable. It is well settled that there is no consideration to pay extra amount for doing what was already required to be performed. The situation would be different if the original contract were repudiated and replaced with a new contract for same scope of work but for (comparatively more) consideration.
- 'No consideration, no contract; no contract, no supply' (except if specified in Schedule I). Existence of consideration (whether in monetary or non-monetary form) is sine qua non of that contract. Lord Pollock is believed to have said that 'consideration is the price at which the promise is purchased'.
- Nominal consideration (like Re.1/- or ₹ 10/-) is no consideration at all because consideration must be 'valuable', that is, what a reasonable person would consider reasonable 'by way of' consideration for the given transaction. This should not be confused with 'adequacy' of consideration because parties are free to decide if the consideration is adequate in the contract. Once consideration is found to be valuable by a Court then the rest is left to the parties to agree upon.
- Unenforceable contract is no contract at all. Enforceability does not refer to right to sue under tort but right to sue under Contract law. If a mere promise is made to pay extra amount for same work or to pay after completion of work, these are examples of unenforceable arrangements. Once it is established under general laws that such arrangements are unenforceable, they will not attract the levy of GST. If GST were to apply on every transaction of flow of money, it would be a 'turnover based tax' and not a 'supply based tax'.

- Deposits, as such, are not liable to tax. However, where such deposits have been applied as consideration for the supply it would tantamount to making of advances and in such cases, will be liable to tax. Merely altering the nomenclature of the payment as 'deposit' would not change the nature of the receipt. However, trade practices and the terms, used play an important role in identifying whether an amount is a 'deposit' or an 'advance' or any payment as consideration for the supply;
- Deposits would be considered to be consideration when the "supplier applies the deposit 'as' consideration". Had the Proviso used the words "supplier applies the deposit 'towards' consideration", the meaning may have been limited to cases where consideration due is appropriated out of the amount held in deposit. But the usage of 'as' seems to enjoy intrinsic value in the 'eyes' of supplier in accepting the deposit. Comparative examination of transactions with / without deposit could throw some light on the 'effect' that the deposit has in the 'eyes' of supplier;
- The suppliers may have to place the deposits in a separate bank account in case of refundable deposits, to comply with this provision. However, whether the amount is refundable or not is not a criterion to determine whether such amount is a 'deposit';
- This is an inclusive definition. Readers may refer to any good commentary on Indian Contract Act and Special Relief Act to appreciate the scope of the words used in this definition.

(32) "continuous supply of goods" means a supply of goods which is provided, or agreed to be provided, continuously or on recurrent basis, under a contract, whether or not by means of a wire, cable, pipeline or other conduit, and for which the supplier invoices the recipient on a regular or periodic basis and includes supply of such goods as the Government may, subject to such conditions, as it may, by notification, specify;

In the definition "provided" may be read as supplied.

It refers to supply of goods continuously or on recurrent basis under a contract, with periodic payment obligations.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- It should be a contract for supply on a recurrent basis and cannot be a one-time supply contract. Mere case of regular or repeated supply with deferment of billing will not make it a continuous supply. Something more is required for the supply to be 'continuously or on recurrent basis' that renders time of supply indeterminate. Eg., supply of water cans every day for use in office, but billing specified to be fortnightly may not be a case of continuous supply as there is nothing more to be done after delivering water cans except to issue invoice. Once the water cans are supplied for the day, there is no justification to delay the billing by fifteen days unless there is something more that is required to be done, either by the supplier or by the recipient, to establish its completion. In such cases, the terms of contract are permitted to guide the determination of time of supply;

- The contract should be a case of periodic billing and periodic payments - viz., the billing and receipts thereto should be on a periodic basis (e.g.: every fortnight; every Monday etc.) and not one-time. Further, the contract should specify this periodicity/ frequency of billing/ payment;
- The mode of supply would not be relevant - viz., such supply may be through a wire, cable, pipeline or other conduit or any other mode;
- The Government is empowered to notify certain supplies as continuous supply of goods.

Some examples of continuous supply of goods :

- (a) Open purchase orders with daily delivery schedule (Just In Time- JIT) subject to acceptance tests only at the time of issue-for-production and understanding of fortnightly billing;
- (b) VMI (vendor managed inventory) where the agreed periodicity for billing is, say, monthly/ fortnightly etc.;
- (c) Supply of gas through pipeline where the burn rate or heat generation is a matter of contingency necessitating a deferred billing schedule.

(33) "continuous supply of services" means a supply of services which is provided, or agreed to be provided, continuously or on recurrent basis, under a contract, for a period exceeding three months with periodic payment obligations and includes supply of such services as the Government may, subject to such conditions, as it may, by notification, specify;

It refers to supply of services continuously or on recurrent basis under a contract for a period exceeding 3 months, with periodic payment obligations.

The determination of stage of completion of services is an abstract one, unless specifically defined by contract, unlike in the case of goods where the volume of goods supplied can be easily tracked/ identified. Hence, a contract for supply of service spanning over a definite period has been treated as a continuous supply, so that the tax dues are collected periodically.

The law categorically provides for time limit to issue invoices as under:

- (a) where due date of payment is ascertainable: On or before the due date of payment;
- (b) where the due date of payment is not ascertainable: Before or at the time of receipt of payment;
- (c) where the payment is linked to the completion of an event (milestones): On or before the date of completion of that event.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- It should be a contract for supply on a recurrent basis and cannot be a one-time supply contract. Similar to goods, supply of services where there exists some facts that renders time of supply indeterminate. For eg., Construction services where work completion is subject to re-measurement and certification by Architect and hence time of supply on actual events like pouring concrete or laying tiles is not sufficient to establish completion of supply ;

- The period of contract of supply should be more than 3 months - viz., services should be supplied on a recurring basis for at least 3 months;
- The contract should be a case of periodic billing and periodic payments - viz., the billing and receipts thereto should be on a periodic basis (say for e.g.: every fortnight; every Monday etc.) and not one-time. Further, the contract should specify this periodicity/frequency of billing/ payment;
- The Government is empowered to notify certain supplies as continuous supply of services.

Examples of continuous supply of services:

- (a) Annual maintenance contracts because they comprise of supply of assurance of regular upkeep, supply of parts for repairs and supply of labour for such repairs. However, where the invoice is issued at the start of this contract period, time of supply get determined based on the billing and does not get deferred based on the mile-stones in the contract;
- (b) Licensing of software or brand names;
- (c) Renting of immovable property except month-to-month lease/rent;
- (d) Software as a service (SAAS) with monthly billing based on usage.

Annual asset insurance contract will NOT be a case of continuous supply of services as the sole supply here is 'assurance' which is supplied at the start of this contract. Payment of compensation in the event of any claim-incident would not be another supply (actually not possible as insurance company pays compensation and does not collect compensation) but merely a continuing obligation attendant to the original supply of assurance.

It may be noted that at times the Accounting Standard on revenue recognition may be at variance with the time of supply.

(34) "conveyance" includes a vessel, an aircraft and a vehicle;

It can be understood as a means of transportation.

(35) "cost accountant" means a cost accountant as defined in ~~clause (c)~~⁷ clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 2 of the Cost and Works Accountants Act, 1959;

(36) "Council" means the Goods and Services Tax Council established under Article 279A of the Constitution;

GST Council is an authority constituted under the Constitution of India and will be the governing body responsible for the administration of the GST across India. The administrative powers will be vested with this authority for taxing goods and services.

The Council consists of the Union Finance Minister (as Chairman), the Union Minister of State in charge of Revenue or Finance, and the Minister in charge of Finance or Taxation, or any other person nominated by each State Government, thereby ensuring a proper blend of the Central and State Ministries..

The GST Council is the body responsible for the following (primarily):

- (a) Administration of the GST laws
- (b) Specify the taxes to be levied and collected by the Centre, States and Union Territories under the GST regime
- (c) Specify the goods or services or both that will be subjected/ exempted under the GST regime
- (d) Specify the GST rates
- (e) Specify the threshold limits for registrations and payment of taxes
- (f) Apportionment of IGST between Centre and States/ Union Territories
- (g) Approval of compensation to be paid to the States (for loss on account of implementation of GST)
- (h) Levy of any special rate or rates of tax for a specified period, to raise additional resources during any natural calamity or disaster.
- (i) Resolution of disputes arising out of its recommendations
- (j) Imposition of additional taxes in times of calamities and disasters

(37) "credit note" means a document issued by a registered person under sub-section (1) of section 34;

A credit note can be issued by a supplier only in the following circumstances:

- (a) The taxable value shown in the invoice exceeds the taxable value of the supply
- (b) The tax charged in the invoice exceeds the tax payable on the supply
- (c) The goods supplied are returned by the recipient
- (d) The goods/ services are found to be deficient.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Where there is no change in the taxable value/ tax amount, a credit note must not be issued unlike normal existing business practices.
- A credit note has to be issued by the supplier only and not by any other person.
- A credit note issued by a recipient, say for accounting purposes, is not a relevant document for GST purposes. In business, at times the supplier may only issue a financial credit note i.e., only for the basic value without including the GST component. Such financial credit notes are recognized vide Circular 72/46/2018-GST dated 26 October, 2018 where it is stated that such credit notes 'need not' be uploaded on the portal. As such, the GST paid on the original supply will be not be available to be adjusted.

- Once a credit note is issued, the details of the credit note should be declared by the supplier in the return of the month of the issue of credit note. However, if not declared in that month, it can be declared in any return prior to September of the year following the year in which the original tax invoice was issued (or filing of annual return, whichever is earlier);
- The supplier would not be permitted to claim reduction in the output tax liability if the incidence of tax and interest has been passed on to any person, or if the recipient fails to declare the details of the credit note in his returns;
- The issuance of credit note would not be relevant if the recipient treats the return of goods as an outward supply and raises a tax invoice in this regard;
- Issuance of credit note implies that the original invoice was in error and begs a detailed inquiry. Of all things that may be done carelessly, it is least likely that invoice will be issued without due care. But after issuing invoice carefully, if a credit note (for base value of supply and not for error in tax charged) is necessitated, it casts a cloud of suspicion over the value of invoice. Reference may be had to the principle that after one person has performed contracted obligations and supplied goods or services, other party who is required to pay for the supplies cannot pay less than what was agreed. It gives rise to remedy of specific performance plus damages for attempting to pay less (as per Indian Contract Act read with Specific Relief Act). Also note that under section 63 of the Indian Contract Act, partial performance may be accepted. But, GST does not entertain such overriding reduction because partial performance was after and not at the time of supply;
- Credit note that is issued in any other circumstance (not permitted by section 34) would not be permissible and may itself indicate a cross-supply in the opposite direction (requiring an invoice under section 31). Care should be taken while examining any practice of issuing financial or accounting credit note that is not in accordance with section 34. Also note that as per Table 5J in GSTR 9C, such credit notes (not permitted by section 34) are to be separately reflected in the reconciliation and output tax must be shown to be paid on the original supply value.
- Financial or accounting credit note is an invention of accountants who need a document to give credit in the ledger account, when the amount billed will not be received and balance cannot be carried forward. A credit note that is NOT in conformity with section 34 is considered as 'financial or accounting credit note'. GST acknowledges no such document and references in circulars is only to state that such documents exist but are non-existent for purposes of section 34 and for treatment thereunder.

(38) "debit note" means a document issued by a registered person under sub-section (3) of section 34;

A debit note should be issued by a supplier in either of the following circumstances:

- (a) The taxable value shown in the invoice is lesser than the taxable value of the supply; or
- (b) The tax charged in the invoice is less than the tax payable on the supply.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Where there is no change in the taxable value/ tax amount, a debit note must not be issued;
- A debit note has to be issued by the supplier. A debit note issued by a recipient, say for accounting purposes, is not a relevant document for GST purposes;
- The details of the debit note have to be declared by the supplier in the return of the month of the issue of debit note;
- Debit note includes a supplementary invoice.
- Debit note does not have its own 'time of supply' or 'HSN' classification.

(39) "deemed exports" means such supplies of goods as may be notified under section 147;

Deemed exports are those supplies of goods that are notified as 'deemed exports' where:

- (a) the goods supplied do not leave India;
- (b) payment for such supplies is received in Indian Rupees/ Convertible Foreign Exchange; and
- (c) such goods are manufactured in India.

The definition of 'deemed exports' under this Act is in line with the definition of 'deemed exports' under Chapter 07.01 of the Foreign Trade Policy 2015-20. 'Deemed export' under the FTP 2015-20 covers supply of goods to EOU/STP/EHTP/BTP, supply of goods under advance authorisation etc. and hence provides for refund, drawback and advance authorisation to the supplier of goods. On the other hand, the relevance of 'deemed export' under the GST laws is limited to the grant of refund of taxes on supply of goods as 'deemed export'.

Therefore, a provision has been made under the Act to notify certain transactions as 'deemed export' to avoid situations where the persons might claim refund of taxes on 'deemed export' defined in the FTP 2015-20. While deemed exports may be notified under section 147, the nature of benefit available in respect of deemed exports requires a provision in the Act conferring such entitlement. Section 54 would be the machinery provision for disposal of refund applications. Deemed exports will not come within the scope of section 54(3).

(40) "designated authority" means such authority as may be notified by the Board;

Currently, the term does not find a reference in the Act and will be notified by the Board from time to time.

(41) "document" includes written or printed record of any sort and electronic record as defined in clause (t) of section 2 of the Information Technology Act, 2000;

An electronic record, in terms of section 2(t) of the Information Technology Act, 2000 means data, record or data generated, image or sound stored, received or sent in an electronic form or micro film or computer generated micro fiche. A document includes both manual and electronic forms of records. This is an important provision that can play a significant role going forward bringing various electronic communications within the scope of admissible documentary proof of the underlying transaction. Digitally signed documents are also admissible but using words such as 'the season electronically generated document and does not require signature' do not enjoy the status of being an admissible document. Reference may also be had to section 145 of CGST Act which talks about admissibility of micro films, facsimile copies of documents and computer printouts as documents and as evidence.

(42) "drawback" in relation to any goods manufactured in India and exported, means the rebate of duty, tax or cess chargeable on any imported inputs or on any domestic inputs or input services used in the manufacture of such goods;

This is relevant to understand the contours of refund under the GST laws. Refund of unutilized input tax credit is allowed in case of zero-rated supplies (including exports) and inverted tax rate structure. The law provides that refund of unutilized input tax credit will not be allowed if the supplier has availed drawback of such tax.

(43) "electronic cash ledger" means the electronic cash ledger referred to in sub-section (1) of section 49;

Electronic cash ledger means a cash ledger maintained in electronic form by each registered person. The amount deposited through various modes of payment (viz., internet banking, debit/ credit cards, NEFT/ RTGS or by any other mode), shall be credited to the electronic cash ledger. The amount available in this ledger can be used for the payment of:

- (a) Tax
- (b) Interest
- (c) Penalty
- (d) Fees or
- (e) Any other amount payable.

(44) "electronic commerce" means the supply of goods or services or both, including digital products over digital or electronic network;

Physical stores/ outlets that supply goods or services or both with the help of a digital network which is facilitated by a third party will fall within the scope of this definition. Electronic commerce is not to be understood as the activity of the operator of the digital network alone. Some experts believe that there is a certain amount of ambiguity as to whether a platform run by a person to supply own goods or services would also be covered in this definition.

Digital or electronic network does not always mean website on mobile app. A telephone network or a call centre using the fancy/easy number can also constitute digital or electronic network.

(45) “electronic commerce operator” means any person who owns, operates or manages digital or electronic facility or platform for electronic commerce;

It includes every person who, directly or indirectly, owns, operates or manages a digital/ electronic facility or platform for supply of goods or services or both. There is a certain ambiguity as to whether persons engaged in supply of such goods or services on their own behalf would also be covered in this definition.

While an aggregator only connects the customer with the supplier/ service provider, an e-commerce operator facilitates the entire process of the supply of goods/ provision of services. Under the GST law, even aggregators would be covered under the definition of ‘electronic commerce operator’. Where such operators fall within the operation of ‘agent’ under Schedule I, then the fiction under section 7(1)(c) would prevail and operate. Care must be taken to identify which activities of the enterprise fall within section 9(5) or section 52 and which ones under the said fiction of Schedule I.

Setting up a website by a supplier for ‘own use’ also comes within the scope of this definition, however the compliances that are triggered by being such an electronic commerce operator under section 52 cannot be attracted unless there are three distinct persons – customer, supplier and electronic commerce operator. A supplier creating an online channel for sale of product in addition to his off-line retail chain of stores is included in the definition of electronic commerce operator. The implications of being an electronic commerce operator will apply in such cases only if the distinct person who owns or manages the electronic or digital network and the distinct person who stores and distributes the product are independent of each other. Also, every internet-linked transaction would not be e-commerce as the website may merely be an information portal without concluding any specific transaction of supply.

It may be noted that the threshold limits for registration would not apply and he would be required to obtain registration irrespective of his turnover;

(46) “electronic credit ledger” means the electronic credit ledger referred to in sub-section (2) of section 49;

Electronic credit ledger means the input tax credit register required to be maintained in an electronic form by each registered person. As a process, based on details of outward supplies filed by the suppliers, the electronic credit ledger of the recipient of goods/ services would be auto populated in the GSTN under the categories matched, un-matched and provisional. The tax payer claiming input tax credits should review the same and accept the relevant ones for claiming input tax credit.

The electronic credit ledger will be debited with the amount of tax liability so adjusted against the input tax credit lying in the ledger and will stand reduced to the extent of the claim of refund of unutilised input tax credit, if any.

The amount of CGST credit available in this ledger can be used only towards discharging the liability on account of output tax under CGST/ IGST/ UTGST law only. Similarly, the amount of credit of other GST taxes can be used only towards discharging the liability of taxes under the GST laws, and not towards payment of interest, penalty or other sums due.

It is relevant to note that since 'output tax' excludes tax payable under reverse charge basis, some experts are of the view that the tax payable under reverse charge basis must be discharged by cash only and credit cannot be utilized for discharging such a liability.

(47) "exempt supply" means supply of any goods or services or both which attracts nil rate of tax or which may be wholly exempt from tax under section 11, or under section 6 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, and includes non-taxable supply;

The meaning of exempt supply is like the meaning assigned to it under the UTGST law with the exception that supplies that are partly exempted from tax under this Act will not be considered as 'exempt supply'. On the contrary, partially exempted supplies would be considered as 'exempt supplies' under the UTGST Act.

Exempt supplies comprise of the following three types of supplies:

- (a) Supplies taxable at a 'NIL' rate of tax;
- (b) Supplies that are wholly exempted from CGST or IGST, by way of a notification. Note that supplies are liable to concessional rate of tax under Notification No. 11/2017-CT(R) dated 28.06.2017 wherein explanation 4(iv)(b) states that such supplies are to be treated 'as if' exempt supplies but only for purposes of credit reversal under section 17(2) of CGST Act. Therefore, care must be taken to include only those supplies that are wholly exempt from tax and not partly exempt as discussed ibid;
- (c) Non-taxable supplies as defined under section 2(78) are supplies that are not taxable under the Act (viz. alcoholic liquor for human consumption).

The activities covered under Schedule III which are neither a supply of goods nor a supply of services would NOT be included in 'exempt supply'. When they are NOT SUPPLY then they cannot be 'exempt supply' except when they are specifically listed for purposes of treatment under section 17(2), namely, sale of land and sale of completed building but not in other cases such as high-sea sales, in-bond sales and merchanting trade transactions.

However, note the usage of the word 'supply' while stating they are 'not supply' means that the said transactions are firstly a 'supply' but when some 'treatment' is required to be given to those transactions, the fact that they are otherwise a supply is required to be ignored. For example, sale of land or high-sea sales would be included in aggregate turnover for purposes of examining registration or audit threshold but, excluded when giving 'treatment' under, say, section 17(2).

Reference may be had to the explanation (inserted by CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018) to section 17(3). 'Pure agent' transactions are NOT exempt supply (they are given the name 'no supply' in GSTR 9 in Table 5). Subsidy received from Government is not includible in the transaction value as per section 15(2)(e) and is also NOT an exempt supply as it is merely a valuation adjustment for computation of tax payable and not a supply on its own to be even taken for consideration whether it is an exempt supply or not. Also, the one third abatement towards value of land allowed vide Notification No. 11/2017-CT(R) dated 28.06.2017 was NOT part of exempt supply as this was also a valuation adjustment until Entry 16(ii) was inserted in Notification No. 11/2017-CT(R) to make this one third abatement of value to be a 'nil' rated supply. Also note Entry 24 is the only other 'nil' rated supply notified under section 9(1) and not under section 11(1) of CGST Act.

Note: The definition of exempt supply for the purpose of reversal of input tax credit is different. Refer detailed discussion under section 17(3), rule 42 and rule 45. The following aspects need to be noted:

- Zero-rated supplies such as exports would not be treated as supplies taxable at 'NIL' rate of tax;
- Input tax credit attributable to exempt supplies will not be available for utilisation/ set-off. But input tax credit attributable to Schedule III transactions will not be barred as those transaction are not supply at all except those specified in Paragraph 5 of the said Schedule.
- Also, note that 'sale of business as going concern' is treated as a supply of services (even though it involves goods like inventory or assets). This is an exempt supply under Sl.no.2 to Notification No. 12/2017-CT(R) dated 28.06.2017 but Para 4(c) of Schedule II eclipses this specific transaction from being treated as one or other form of supply. With the credit being permitted to be transferred by section 18(3), it appears that this is one example of a supply, although expressly exempt, would 'not' require reversal of credit under section 17(2).

(48) "existing law" means any law, notification, order, rule or regulation relating to levy and collection of duty or tax on goods or services or both passed or made before the commencement of this Act by Parliament or any Authority or person having the power to make such law, notification, order, rule or regulation;

This covers all the erstwhile Central and State laws (along with the relevant notifications, orders, and regulations), relating to levy of tax on goods or services like Service Tax law, Central Excise law, State VAT laws, etc. Therefore, laws that do not levy tax or duty on goods or services, such as the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, would not be covered here.

(49) "family" means, —

(i) the spouse and children of the person, and

(ii) the parents, grand-parents, brothers and sisters of the person if they are wholly or mainly dependent on the said person;

The relevance of the term 'family' is to:

- understand whether two persons are related persons under the Act and the consequential valuation provisions are applicable in case of related persons;
- examine whether a person is an agriculturalist as defined under section 2(7) of the Act.

(50) "fixed establishment" means a place (other than the registered place of business) which is characterised by a sufficient degree of permanence and suitable structure in terms of human and technical resources to supply services, or to receive and use services for its own needs;

The following three elements are critical to determine whether a place is a 'fixed establishment':

- (a) Having a sufficient degree of permanence;
- (b) Having a structure of human and technical resources; and
- (c) Other than a registered place of business.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- A fixed establishment refers to a place of business which is not registered;
- It is one where the person undertakes supply of services or receives and uses services for own needs in such place;
- Care must be taken to ensure that fixed establishment is NOT be registered as ISD location.
- Not every temporary or interim location of a project site or transit-warehouse will become a fixed establishment of the taxable person. Such project site or warehouse will not automatically become Fixed Establishment(FE). Factors such as premises in occupation, staff locally employed for sufficient duration, administrative establishment to make nearly independent decisions to 'supply and receive' services and limited or specific extent of involvement from registered place of business are all relevant to make such determination;
- Temporary presence of staff in a place by way of a short visit to a place or so does not make that place a fixed establishment. Even extended duration of site camp may not meet the requirements to constitute FE by itself;
- Example 1: A service provider in the business of renting of immovable property has his registered office at Bangalore (place of business) and the property for rent is located in Chennai (place of supply). In this case, the registered office will be the principal place of business but the property in Chennai will NOT be regarded as a fixed establishment of the service provider as the degree of permanence required in representing the interests of the supplier does not exist in Chennai.
- Example 2: A contract is for supply and installation of equipment where the duration of installation work at the site is (say) 15 days at Indore and the fabrication of equipment undertaken at the factory at Jaipur. After the fabrication is completed, the material is transported to the site along with installation team. For the limited duration that the installation team will be present at the site (Indore), surely the supplier will not put in place all the resources – technical and human – so as to create at the site an establishment with sufficient degree of permanence 'to supply' or 'to receive' services. In this case also, the factory will be the principal place of business (Jaipur) but the site (Indore) will NOT be regarded as a fixed establishment of the supplier.

- Example 3: A project undertaken for construction of a highway (expansion, strengthening and resurfacing of two-lane carriageway into four-lane carriageway) is expected to be undertaken over a three-year duration in Gandhidham. As such, the supplier cannot practically manage to undertake the activities that the project site (entire length of the alignment) remotely from the registered office in Delhi. Although all decisions are authorized by the central team in Delhi, these decisions are effectively delegated to be carried out by its competent team located at the site with all necessary resources – technical and human – so as to create the site and establishment with sufficient degree of permanence ‘to supply’ or ‘to receive’ services. In this case, the site (Gandhidham) would be a fixed establishment of the supplier.

(51) “Fund” means the Consumer Welfare Fund established under section 57;

This refers to the Consumer Welfare Fund constituted by the Government where the unutilized input tax credits of a person will be credited if an application to that effect has been made. The amount will be credited to the Fund only upon an order being passed by the Proper Officer after being satisfied that the amount claimed as refund is refundable.

(52) “goods” means every kind of movable property other than money and securities but includes actionable claim, growing crops, grass and things attached to or forming part of the land which are agreed to be severed before supply or under a contract of supply;

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Although various courts have held that the term ‘goods’ include actionable claim under the VAT laws, as trade practice, actionable claims were kept outside the taxation net under the earlier laws. Now, the GST law seeks to change this understanding by including actionable claim in the definition of goods. Thus, under GST laws, actionable claims would be goods;
- The words ‘but includes’ is an exception to the “exclusion” of money and securities. In other words, if the actionable claim represents property that is money or securities, it can be held that such forms of actionable claims continue to be excluded;
- Actionable claim, other than lottery, betting and gambling will not be treated as supply of goods or services by virtue of Schedule III (Activities or transactions which shall be treated neither as a supply of goods nor a supply of services);
- Intangibles like MEIS/SEIS scrips, copyright and carbon credit would continue to be covered under ‘goods’.
- An actionable claim which is excluded from definition of goods under Sale of Goods Act is specifically included in the definition of goods in CGST Act.
- Standing crop is goods but growing crops is not goods (and hence services). As to whether a contract for lease of forest land is one for sale of standing crop (goods) or for exploitation of benefits arising from that land (crops yet to grow), depends on the terms of contract especially the tenure of contract. But, contract similar in all respects except tenure and consideration may tilt from goods to services.

- The words “which are agreed to be severed before supply or under a contract of supply” will qualify. The rule of last antecedent (a rule of interpretation of statutes) states that the words of qualification (WoQ) will apply to the last precedent unit (out of the entire population). If it is interpretation that these WoQ will apply (i) only to “things attached to or forming part of the land”, then growing crops and grass will also be goods even though they are attached to the earth or (ii) to all the words in the definition, then there is no indication that these WoQ should exclude ‘actionable claims’. it appears that interpretation based on the rule of last antecedent seems to be a reliable interpretation. Reference may be had to the use of ‘Oxford comma’ in English grammar for forming sentences.
- Refer also to the comparative discussion on ‘services’ under section 2(102)..

(53) “Government” means the Central Government;

While this definition does not seem to say much, it must be noted that Government includes all ‘instrumentalities’ of the Government in the form of Boards, Authorities and Departments. Entities formed by an Act of Parliament or under Companies Act will NOT be Government by themselves itself under GST although the jurisprudence under Article 12 of our Constitution goes a long way in guiding our application of this definition in the context of understanding exclusions in Schedule III or exemptions for Government services or identifying which supplies come within the scope of entries in Schedule XI and XII in our Constitution. Refer discussion under section 2(9) of IGST Act also defining ‘Government’. A reasonable test to apply is to inquire into the following four categories of criteria (also see discussion under section 2(69)):

Financial dependence on State: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Entire capital owned by State ➤ Losses are a charge to Consolidate Fund ➤ Employees, servants of State 	Entity is instrumentality of State: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Functions previously vested in Ministry ➤ Public welfare is object of the enterprise ➤ Activities akin to Schedules XI and XII
State enjoys plenary control over management: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Board appointed by State not by contract ➤ Board compensation dictated by State ➤ Veto power traceable to State-functionary 	State monopoly over occupied field: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Custodian and user of public resources ➤ Liquidation estate vests with State ➤ Participation by private enterprise barred

(54) "Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act" means the Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act, 2017;

The Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act (for brevity "Compensation Act") provides for compensation to the States for the loss of revenue arising due to implementation of GST for a period of 5 years from the said date of implementation. The cess paid on the supply of goods or services will be available as credit for utilization towards payment of the said cess on outward supply of goods and services on which such cess is leviable.

The GST Council in its 45th meeting held on 17.09.2021 decided that collections from Compensation Cess during the period beyond June 2022 till April 2026 would be exhausted in repayment of borrowings and debt servicing to bridge the gap made in 2020-21 and 2021-22 and its applicability for other purposes has been deferred till April 2026.

(55) "goods and services tax practitioner" means any person who has been approved under section 48 to act as such practitioner;

A goods and services tax practitioner (GST practitioner) is a person who can undertake the following activities on behalf of a registered person (if so authorized):

- (a) Furnish details of outward and inward supplies;
- (b) Furnish monthly, quarterly, annual or final return;
- (c) Make deposits in the Electronic Credit Ledger;
- (d) File claims for refund;
- (e) File applications for amendment/ cancellation of registration.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- A person desirous of being enrolled as a GST Practitioner should make an application in Form GST PCT-1 and satisfy the conditions required.
- The GST practitioner is required to affix his digital signature on the statements prepared by him/ electronically verify using his credentials.
- The responsibility of correctness of the details furnished will lie on the registered person only.

(56) "India" means the territory of India as referred to in Article 1 of the Constitution, its territorial waters, seabed and sub-soil underlying such waters, continental shelf, exclusive economic zone or any other maritime zone as referred to in the Territorial Waters, Continental Shelf, Exclusive Economic Zone and other Maritime Zones Act, 1976, and the air space above its territory and territorial waters;

The definition of 'India' extends not only to the landmass, but also to the territorial waters and the air space above the Indian territory and territorial waters. Hence, all the supplies made in such areas will be treated as supplies made in India. Unlike earlier laws, GST redraws the map of India as commonly understood to a map that extends beyond the land mass well into the sea all the way to the end of the maritime zone (200 nautical miles from baseline on the shore at high-tide) going down under the sea bed and sub soil under such waters and up in the air up to the air space (sovereign air space) above.

Therefore, 'India' is not a two dimensional space but a three-dimensional space extending to the territorial waters and beyond, going down below to the sea bed and extend above to the airspace above the horizontal expanse. But, 'India' excludes all areas such as special economic zone (see section 53A of SEZ Act) and Customs Areas (see section 2(11) of Customs Act) including bonded warehouses (see sections 57, 58 and 58A of Customs Act). Refer detailed discussion under IGST Act.

Sovereign air space is based on the jurisdiction of a nation's laws and there are 11 nations that have such laws. India is in the process of putting together its own air space legislation. The area/ space beyond the maritime zone or above sovereign air space is called 'high seas' in maritime law. Hence, we need to adjust our view of 'India' from what we see in a two-dimensional map to a three-dimensional area spreading beyond the land into the sea and the sub-soil and extending to the air-space above. And yet, this idea of India will exclude all those areas that are demarcated as 'lying beyond the customs boundaries' such as SEZ areas, Customs Area, Bonded areas, etc, which are not included here. GST treatment must then be applied keeping this new and adjusted view of 'India'.

E.g.: Musical performance by an artist on board a ship sailing from Chennai to Vishakhapatnam, food supplied on an aircraft flying from Delhi to Trivandrum, etc.

(57) "Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act" means the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017;

It refers to the Act which provides for principles to determine what is an inter-State or intra-State supply, and levy of tax on inter-State supply of goods or services or both (other than supply of alcoholic liquor for human consumption).

(58) "integrated tax" means the integrated goods and services tax levied under the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act;

Tax levied under the IGST Act is referred to as "Integrated tax". It refers to the tax charged under the IGST Act on inter-State supply of goods or services or both (other than supply of alcoholic liquor for human consumption). The rate of tax is capped at 40% and will be notified by the Central Government based on the recommendation of the GST Council.

It may be noted that 'integrated tax' is not the same as 'integrated goods and services tax'. Former is tax levied under IGST Act and later is tax that is levied under the Customs Tariff Act. Refer detailed discussion about the 'two' kinds of IGST in the context of section 5 of IGST Act.

(59) "input" means any goods other than capital goods used or intended to be used by a supplier in the course or furtherance of business;

The term "input" is NOT to be equated with 'goods' on a plain and simple observation. The contrast can be explained that 'input' are 'goods supplied as goods' and not 'goods (treated to be) supplied as services'. Goods supplied as services will be 'input services' (discussed later). Input, therefore, refers to goods (defined to include actionable claims, growing crops, grass and things attached to the earth but agreed to be severed) and excludes capital goods (goods received that are capitalized by recipient). Unlike the definition of "capital goods" in the erstwhile laws such as Central Excise, VAT, etc., it is given a very simple meaning in the GST law.

It is sufficient for any goods which are used or intended for use in the course or furtherance of business to be capitalised in the books of account, to be treated as capital goods under GST. Accordingly, if a person who is engaged in the sale of laptops capitalises one laptop in the books of account and such laptop is used for business, it will be treated as capital goods under GST law as well. As to 'how' capitalization be done is left to the prudence of accounting and the standards of ICAI on accounting for 'property, plant and equipment'.

The second condition for goods to be treated as inputs, is that they must be used or intended to be used by the person who has received those goods 'in the course or furtherance of business'. This phrase encompasses a wide range of functions within the business.

- The term "business" as defined under the GST law includes any activity or transaction which may be connected, or incidental or ancillary to the trade, commerce, manufacture, profession, vocation, adventure, wager or any other similar activity.
- There is neither a requirement of continuity nor frequency of such activities or transactions for them to be regarded as 'business'.
- The law poses no restriction that the goods must be used on the shop floor, or that they must be supplied as such/ as part of other goods/ services. It would be sufficient if the goods are used in the course of business, or for furthering the business.
- The term 'course of business' is one that can be stretched beyond the boundaries consolidating activities that have direct nexus to outward supply. What is usually done in the ordinary routine of a business by its management is said to be done in the "course of business". Moreover, the term "ordinary" is missing before "course" in the phrase.
- From the above, it can be inferred that the purchase/ inward supply of goods need not be a regular activity and may even be a one-time procurement. This is further clarified with the other phrase "furtherance of business", which has not been of use in the indirect taxes thus far.
- "Furtherance of business" is a new term and an entirely new concept, that has been introduced in GST. Reference may be had to the detailed discussion about 'commencement of business' in the context of section 2(17) and again in section 16(1) to contrast with 'commencement of business'.

Additionally, there is no other condition attached to the term "input", especially in relation to the outward supply. Consequently, a person engaged in supplying services would also be entitled to treat the goods inwarded as "inputs", where the conditions of not being capital goods, and the usage in the course or furtherance of business are satisfied. Thus, laptops procured by a supplier of pure services which are meant for use of the employees for business making reports, will be eligible to be treated as “inputs” for such a person and consequently, taxes paid on such goods will be available as credit to the service provider, on meeting other conditions mandated for claiming credit.

Further, the law provides a flexibility for this purpose by inserting the words “or intended to be used” before “in the course...”. By this, the law secures the meaning of the term “input” even for cases where goods have been purchased but, are yet to be used in the business. Thus, the conditions of ready-to-use and put-to-use would not be relevant for considering goods as “inputs”, unless the condition takes route through rules/ other sections. However, no such conditions appear even for claiming input tax credit.

(60) “input service” means any service used or intended to be used by a supplier in the course or furtherance of business;

Any service that is used or intended to be used by a supplier of goods or services, or both, in the course or furtherance of business would be treated as “input service”.

The meaning of the term “service” under the GST law is very vast to include everything that is not goods, barring securities, and monies that do not amount to activity relating to the use of money or conversion of money. Therefore, anything received by a person who is a supplier, which is not goods, and is neither securities nor money as such, would be treated as ‘input service’, so long as it is used or meant to be used in the course or furtherance of business.

Unlike the erstwhile law, there is no requirement for it to have direct nexus with the outward supply. In other words, the service received may not be directly linked to the outward supply of the supplier receiving the service, and the outward supply may be goods or services. Regardless of the outward supply, the service received would qualify as “input service” to him, when the same is used in the course or furtherance of business. Therefore, a retailer who receives housekeeping services of the business premises will be eligible to treat the services as ‘input services’ given that such services are received in the course of business.

Further, while the erstwhile law required that the services must be received only up to the place of removal for them to qualify as “input services”, there is no such condition attached to the term under GST, where such services are received in the course or furtherance of business. This means that goods transportation services availed by the supplier, would qualify as input services to him, even if the transportation is up to the place of delivery to the recipient, say the factory of the recipient, although the transportation does not add value to the goods, but adds value to the supply made by him.

Contrasting with the definition of capital goods (capitalized in books) and inputs (not capitalized in books or revenue expense), input service does not appear to be restricted to revenue expenditure only, but may also be capitalized in the books and still be ‘input services’.

(61) "Input Service Distributor" means an office of the supplier of goods or services or both which receives tax invoices issued under section 31 towards the receipt of input services and issues a prescribed document for the purposes of distributing the credit of central tax, State tax, integrated tax or Union territory tax paid on the said services to a supplier of taxable goods or services or both having the same Permanent Account Number as that of the said office;

The concept of input service distributor existed even under the earlier service tax law. This has been borrowed into GST, entitling a person who is registered as an Input Service Distributor (ISD) to distribute the credit in respect of input services (and not inputs) received in its name. Given that services are intangible, it is not practicable to trace every service to the ultimate recipient of the service, as is distinguishable in case of goods, justifying the need for a distributor to render the services.

It needs to be noted that this definition does not refer to 'office of taxable person', it refers to 'office of the supplier'. This indicates that a supplier who is considered taxable person for purposes of section 9(1) obtains registration, then that supplier will remain a registered person and not an ISD. If a person is a registered person, then in respect of every office location of that person (in that State), he will remain a registered person. To obtain ISD registration, the person must have an 'office' that is NOT a registered location from where taxable supplies are effected. Care must be taken not to have overlapping registration as both taxable person and ISD. This deliberate use of words 'office of supplier' indicates that there is no 'taxable supply' from that office.

The definition appears to indicate that the ISD-office cannot simultaneously be a place of business from where taxable supplies are made. In other words, if there is a place of business of a taxable person, that office cannot also be an office that 'receives tax invoices and issues document to distribute credit). Although some experts do not find any apparent objection for co-existence of place of business and ISD, in view of the inter-branch supply of management and supervisory services by an office that has such capabilities, treating such an office as ISD would be misapplication of the facility of ISD to distribute credit.

Generally, the head office of the person, or the corporate office, by whatever name called, would be the location to which the services would be billed. However, there is no implication by law that an ISD must be the head office. It may be ensured that the office registered as ISD does not itself undertake any activity in the nature of outward supply, not receive inward supplies of its own or not attract RCM liability. Therefore, a single company may choose to have multiple regional offices based on its business requirements.

To distribute the credit of input services, the ISD would be required to follow the manner prescribed by the rules, including:

- Issue of an ISD invoice to each recipient of credit on every distribution.
- Recipients of credit are those taxable persons to whom it is attributable (whether or not they are registered), being persons having the same PAN (as issued under the Income Tax Law) as that of the ISD.

- The credit of integrated tax should be distributed as integrated tax irrespective of the location of the ISD, and so also:
 - where the ISD is located in a State other than that of the recipient of credit, the aggregate of Central tax, State tax and Union territory tax, as integrated tax.
 - where the ISD is located in the same State as that of the recipient, the Central tax and State tax (or Union territory tax) should be distributed as the Central tax and State tax (or Union territory tax), respectively.
- Each type of tax must be distributed through a separate ISD invoice. However, there is no requirement to issue ISD invoices at an invoice-level (received from the supplier of the service).

Note: The liability to cross charge for services provided between distinct persons (branches/ HO etc.) is independent from the function of the ISD.

Care must be taken not to substitute 'fixed establishment' with 'ISD'. If a location is a fixed establishment, then that location is liable to be registered as a 'place of business' and not as ISD. When there is 'sufficient degree of human and technical resources', it is inexcusable to register such location as ISD and seek to distribute credit. Reference may be had to the discussion under section 19 about FAQs issued for BFSI sector where HO of banks (even if registered as ISD under earlier laws) are stated to be a 'taxable person' for supplying 'management and oversight services' to various other distinct persons (branches) and liable to regular registration.

(62) "input tax" in relation to a registered person, means the central tax, State tax, integrated tax or Union territory tax charged on any supply of goods or services or both made to him and includes—

- (a) the integrated goods and services tax charged on import of goods;*
- (b) the tax payable under the provisions of sub-sections (3) and (4) of section 9;*
- (c) the tax payable under the provisions of sub-sections (3) and (4) of section 5 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act;*
- (d) the tax payable under the provisions of sub-sections (3) and (4) of section 9 of the respective State Goods and Services Tax Act; or*
- (e) the tax payable under the provisions of sub-sections (3) and (4) of section 7 of the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act,* but does not include the tax paid under the composition levy;

From the opening part of the definition, it can be understood that input tax can arise only in respect of registered persons and the tax is only available on supplies made to him. Therefore, no tax paid on outward supplies can ever qualify as input tax to the person making the supply (who may or may not be registered), and shall only be treated as 'input tax' by the person receiving the supplies.

The law also makes it amply clear that input tax is linked to a specific registration, and cannot be loosely associated with various GST registrations of a single legal person.

Further, for 'input tax', the law makes no distinction between Central tax, State tax, Union territory tax and integrated tax. Integrated tax is tax charged under IGST Act but integrated tax on goods and services on import of goods is charged under section 3(7) of Customs Tariff Act. This difference should not be missed while reading the law. IGST paid on import of goods is in the nature of customs duty and not GST. Still, credit is admissible on such Customs duty (paid as IGST on import of goods). Similarly, cess paid on import of goods is not a cess under Cess Act but under section 3(9) of Customs Tariff Act. Refer again to the discussion under section 5 of IGST Act of 'two' types of IGST that can be seen in clause (a) of this definition to be specifically included after the body of this definition covers 'integrated tax'.

The law specifically provides certain inclusions and an exclusion to clarify the scope of the term:

- The specific inclusions are of two types, i.e., the integrated tax applicable on import of goods (in lieu of the previously applicable CVD and SAD) and the taxes payable on reverse charge basis on account of supplies being those supplies that are notified in this regard, or on account of being inward supplies from unregistered persons. From the language used, it must be understood that these inclusions are not limited to those that have been discharged, on the premise that the law uses the words "charged" or "taxable" and not "paid".
- While it is clear from this definition that composition suppliers will not be entitled to collect taxes, , it can be inferred that the amounts paid by composition taxpayers in lieu of tax, cannot, in turn, be treated as input tax either for the composition supplier or for the recipient of the supplies.

Further, the GST Compensation law reserves the right to levy cess on certain supplies. However, this cannot be treated as input tax for the purposes of GST. Although the GST Compensation law provides that the provisions of input tax would apply mutatis mutandis to cess, it categorically specifies that the input credit of cess can only be utilised for discharging the liability on such cess.

(63) "input tax credit" means the credit of input tax;

For a tax to qualify as "input tax credit", it must first be "input tax". The law creates a separate terminology for this purpose as all input tax would not qualify as credit. Credit of input tax would be available subject to specific conditions and restrictions and to persons being registered persons.

(64) "intra-State supply of goods" shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in section 8 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act;

The principles for determining a supply as an intra-State supply are provided in the IGST law in terms of the exclusive power of the Parliament under Article 269A(5) of our Constitution. Drawing reference to the relevant section, every supply of goods, where the location of the supplier of the goods and the place of supply as determined under section 10 of the IGST Act, are in the same State (or same Union Territory), would be an intra-State supply of such goods. Accordingly, an import or export of goods can never be an intra-State supply.

Every taxable supply that is an intra-State supply shall be liable to both Central tax and the respective State tax (or Union territory tax), unless otherwise exempted.

The 'place of supply' referred to in this regard is a legal terminology and should not be understood for its usage in English language. Section 10 of the IGST Act provides situation-specific conditions for determining the 'place of supply'. Refer detailed discussion under section 10 of IGST Act to determine whether 'place of supply' is a question of fact or question of law.

(65) "intra-State supply of services" shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in section 8 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act;

Determination of 'place of supply' is based on the applicability of the criteria laid down in section 10, in case of supply of goods and section 12 in cases of supply of services. Intra-State supplies is very specific in section 8 of IGST Act. All supplies that are NOT intra-State supplies will fall within the scope of inter-State supplies i.e., supplies to SEZ located in the same State as the local supplier or supplies whose place of supply is in the territorial waters, etc. Care must be taken to identify intra-State supplies based on (i) location of supplier and (ii) place of supply.

Now, 'place of supply' is a question of law as dictated in section 10 or 12 of IGST Act, as the case may be, whereas 'location of supplier' is a question of fact. In case of supply of services, 'location of supplier of services' is defined in section 2(71) but 'location of supplier of goods' is NOT defined. Experts advise that this is NOT a legislative error of omission but a deliberate and thoughtful silence since 'location of supplier of goods' will be the 'location of goods' themselves. The definition of 'place of business' in section 2(85) brings this out that ".....place where taxable person stores his goods.....".

As in case of goods, where the location of the supplier of the service and the place of supply as determined under section 12 of the IGST Act, are NOT in the same State (or same Union Territory), the supply would be an inter-State supply of such services. Import of goods under a cross-border lease arrangement attracts levy of customs duty (for the physical article brought into India) and also attracts levy of GST (for the treatment of lease as a supply of service under Para 1(b) or 5(f) of Schedule II). When IGST is being paid on the lease rentals as 'import of services' (availing the corresponding exemption for IGST on imports), care must be taken NOT to assume all overseas payments of lease rentals to be inter-State supplies. For example, a leasing company in Mumbai financing aircraft engine on lease from UK to an Indian Airline company, which is also in Mumbai, will be an intra-State supply for payment of tax on lease rentals.

(66) "invoice" or "tax invoice" means the tax invoice referred to in section 31;

On a plain reading of the law, it appears that the terms "invoice" and "tax invoice" have been used inter-changeably to refer to that document that is prescribed by law, as a document that shall be issued by the registered person on making taxable supplies. The tax invoice should contain all the prescribed details such as the description of the goods, quantity, value and tax charged on the supply. The possibility of denial of credit due to prescribed details not being available even if not important is real unless the law provided for condonation which was there in the earlier laws.

- In respect of goods: A tax invoice can be issued at or before the time of removal of the goods for making the supply, where the supply involves movement of the goods (either by the supplier or by the recipient, or any other person).
 - However, where the supply to the recipient does not involve movement of the goods, the tax invoice would be due at the time of delivery or making the goods available to the recipient. It is not necessary that every supply requires movement of goods on the basis that all goods are movable in nature.
 - The time of removal would matter only in cases where the removal of goods and the movement of goods are by virtue of the supply.
 - Consider the case of sale on approval basis. Goods would be removed at a certain time and may be delivered to the location of the recipient. However, it is not known at the time of removal, whether the transaction results in a supply. Therefore, the time of confirmation by the recipient that he wishes to retain the goods would be the due date for issuing the tax invoice.
 - The Government is also empowered to notify certain categories of supplies in respect of which it can prescribe a separate time limit for issuance of tax invoice.
- In respect of services: A tax invoice for supplying services should be issued within 30 days from the date of supply of the taxable service.
 - However, the Government is empowered to notify certain categories of services wherein any other document relating to the supply would be treated as the tax invoice, or for which no tax invoice is required to be issued at all.

The provisions of Section 31 of the CGST Act also provides for invoices or other documents such as bill of supply, payment voucher, receipt voucher, etc. for specific situations.

(67) "inward supply" in relation to a person, shall mean receipt of goods or services or both whether by purchase, acquisition or any other means with or without consideration;

Inward supplies may be of goods or of services, or of both. The key in this definition is that 'inward supply' is to be understood as the way supply will be looked at in the hands of the 'recipient' who represents 'receipt' of goods or services in any of the forms of supply stated here. Note that reference to 'furtherance of business' is missing in this definition and is in harmony with the fact that import of service is included in definition of supply even without being in furtherance of business.

It may be questioned as to whether an inward supply is not particular to a registration, or whether an inward supply can be associated with any of the registered persons having the same PAN, on the premise that it is in relation to "a person". However, that would not be the intent of the law; it is to enable correlation with a person, whether or not he is a taxable person. In other words, reference to inward supply may be in relation to any person, whether he is registered, or unregistered taxable person, or person not liable to tax. Some drafting refinement seems to be necessary in this definition.

(68) “job work” means any treatment or process undertaken by a person on goods belonging to another registered person and the expression “job worker” shall be construed accordingly;

To start with, the expression “job work” refers to a “treatment” or “process”, which is undertaken by one person, who may or may not be registered, to another registered person. The key aspect to consider is that job-work is the super-set of this ‘treatment or process’ which may or may not amount to manufacture. Only when the principal for whom the ‘treatment or process’ is carried out is a ‘registered person’, it would amount to ‘job work’. But even to an unregistered principal, treatment or process may be carried out and that may still amount to manufacture. Now, ‘repair’ seems to be a ‘treatment or process’ but will NOT be ‘job work’. The principal component must be provided in order for the remainder of the components including conversion to amount to ‘job work’. If nothing is provided except instructions to produce, it does not amount of job work.

While treatment and processing are commonly understood as services, there is no implication that job work is purely services, or that goods would not be used for such treatment or processing. However, Schedule II of the CGST Act which specifies activities to be treated as supply of goods or supply of services, inter alia provides that any treatment or process which is applied to another person's goods is a supply of services. Such a deeming fiction in respect of job work is given effect to, based on the primary objective of any job work, which is to provide a service.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Capital goods may be sent for job work, or for the purpose of carrying out some treatment or process.
- A job worker is free to effect inward supplies on his own account for carrying out the job work. The law does not require that goods applied for the treatment or process must also be sent by the registered person on whose goods the job work is undertaken.
- As regards the job worker per se, the law makes no insistence that such person must be a registered person.
- The law requires that the treatment or process undertaken by the job worker must be on goods belonging to “another” registered person.

- From the usage of the term “another” before “registered person”, it is clear that the law intends to segregate the units being of different persons, or different registrations.
- The reference to the principal is made by using “another registered person” and not “another person”.
- It may safely be understood that, if one unit of a company supplies goods for further processing to another unit of the same company, having a different registration from that of the supplying unit, the unit undertaking the processing activity can be treated as a job worker.
- If the Principal is an unregistered person, then the person doing such processes or treatment is not a job worker. Classification of the work undertaken may need to be examined whether it is manufacture or not to attract the appropriate rate of tax applicable to the goods so manufactured and not rate of tax applicable to services of job-work;
- Job work should not be interchanged with repair activity as both appear to involve ‘treatment or process’ on goods belonging to another. Job work brings into existence a functionality that was not in existence whereas repair restores functionality that was already in existence before the article became faulty (and needed repairs).
- It is important to note that the job worker is not an Agent of the Principal and the relationship inter se is that of Principal to Principal.
- Job work need not result in the emergence of a distinct new article. Manufacture is a subset of job work which is very wide covering ‘treatment of process’.
- Also important to note is that reference to ‘another registered person’ is missing in Para 3 to Schedule II where treatment or process on goods belonging to ‘another person’ is treated as a supply of services.

(69) “local authority” means—

- (a) a “Panchayat” as defined in clause (d) of Article 243 of the Constitution;
- (b) a “Municipality” as defined in clause (e) of Article 243P of the Constitution;
- (c) a Municipal Committee, a Zilla Parishad, a District Board, and any other authority legally entitled to, or entrusted by the Central Government or any State Government with the control or management of a municipal or local fund;
- (d) a Cantonment Board as defined in section 3 of the Cantonments Act, 2006;
- (e) a Regional Council or a District Council constituted under the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution;
- (f) a Development Board constituted under Article 371 and ⁸Article 371J of the Constitution;
or
- (g) a Regional Council constituted under Article 371A of the Constitution;

⁸ Inserted vide The Central Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018 w.e.f. 01.02.2019

A 'local authority' is also a 'person' for the purposes of the GST law. A local authority would enjoy the same treatment as is received by a 'Government' such as in the case of supplies that shall be treated as neither a supply of goods nor a supply of services, requirement to deduct tax at source on supplies made to it, etc. Reference may be had to the principles laid down in Ajay Hasia v. Khalid Mujib Sehravardi & Ors 1981 AIR 487, SC in the context of Article. 12 of our Constitution where the following ingredients were laid down while determining if any authority was 'a State' (also see discussion under section 2(53)):

Entire share capital is held by the Government or it's agencies or nominees	Financial assistance is accessible from the Government	Monopoly status is afforded to the authority in the area of activity or domain
Deep and pervasive State control exists over the functioning of the authority	Functioning of the authority is determined or subject to approval or override of State	Functions of any department of Government is now vested in the authority
Additional considerations not laid down in SC decision:
Employees of the authorities are servants of the President of India / Governor of State and their salary and emoluments are a charge against the consolidated fund of India / State	In the event of liquation of the authority, the entire 'liquidation estate' (discharge all liabilities) vests with the State and flows into the consolidated fund of India / State

Understanding Government, Government agency, Government entity and Local Authority assumes significance considering TDS obligations under section 51 (on payments by such entities) and RCM obligations (on recipient of services from such entities). Some considerations may be to examine Schedules XI and XII of our Constitution about functions of the Sovereign. All functions 'by' the Sovereign are not functions 'of' the Sovereign.

(70) "location of the recipient of services" means, — (a) where a supply is received at a place of business for which the registration has been obtained, the location of such place of business; (b) where a supply is received at a place other than the place of business for which registration has been obtained (a fixed establishment elsewhere), the location of such fixed establishment; (c) where a supply is received at more than one establishment, whether the place of business or fixed establishment, the location of the establishment most directly concerned with the receipt of the supply; and (d) in absence of such places, the location of the usual place of residence of the recipient;

Given that services need not be tangible, the determination of the location of the recipient of service could result in complications. For this reason, there is a statutory definition of 'location of the recipient of services' which is essential to determine whether the supply is an inter-State or an intra-State supply, as such location is the residuary clause for determining the place of supply of services.

Broadly, the meaning given to the phrase “location of the recipient of services” is oriented towards determining the place of supply of the services. The most relatable location of the recipient can be determined in the following order – if the place of supply of the service happens to be:

- (a) a ‘place of business’ which is a registered place of business, such place;
- (b) a ‘place’ which is a fixed establishment (i.e., a place of business not registered, but having a sufficient degree of permanence involving human and technical resources), such fixed establishment;
- (c) at multiple ‘places’ which may include places of business or fixed establishments, that one place to which the supply is most directly attributable;
- (d) a place that cannot be identified from the above three clause, the usual location of the recipient (address where the person is legally registered/ constituted in case of recipients other than individuals).

(71) “location of the supplier of services” means, —

- (a) where a supply is made from a place of business for which the registration has been obtained, the location of such place of business;*
- (b) where a supply is made from a place other than the place of business for which registration has been obtained (a fixed establishment elsewhere), the location of such fixed establishment;*
- (c) where a supply is made from more than one establishment, whether the place of business or fixed establishment, the location of the establishment most directly concerned with the provisions of the supply; and*
- (d) in absence of such places, the location of the usual place of residence of the supplier;*

The determination of the location of the supplier of services is equally complicated, as is in case of the recipient. The ‘location of the supplier of services’ is principally essential to determine whether the supply is an inter-State or an intra-State supply (i.e., where location of supplier and place of supply are in the same State or Union Territory, the supply would be an intra-State supply, and will be an inter-State supply in any other case).

Location of supplier ‘of goods’ is not defined in the CGST Act and does not seem to be a drafting oversight but a deliberate omission. Refer to the discussion in this regard in the context of section 7 and section 10 of IGST Act.

(72) “manufacture” means processing of raw material or inputs in any manner that results in emergence of a new product having a distinct name, character and use and the term “manufacturer” shall be construed accordingly;

The meaning of the term “manufacture” comes with a great deal of significance in the erstwhile indirect tax regime, given that chargeability of excise duty relies solely on whether an activity results in manufacture. However, in the GST regime, the taxable event is a “supply” and tax is leviable whether or not the supply followed 'manufacture' of goods. Hence, the term loses its significance in the GST regime. However, a definition has been provided as references to this term are inadvertently essential even in the GST law, listed below:

- Composition levy: The composition tax rate in case of manufacturers and other suppliers not being manufacturers is 1%, (being the aggregate of central and State tax/ Union Territory tax). Further, manufacturers of certain notified goods would not be eligible to exercise the option to avail the benefit of composition scheme. Such a restriction is however, not placed on other classes of persons, say traders of the same notified goods.
- Concept of deemed exports: One of the pre-conditions for any such supply to qualify as deemed export is that the goods in question must be manufactured in India. Therefore, even where the goods are of the nature that are notified by the Government as goods that qualify as "deemed exports" on meeting certain conditions, if such goods are not manufactured in India (or, any processing performed on any imported goods does not result in manufacture), they cannot enjoy the benefit of the deeming fiction.
- Maintenance of accounts: A manufacturer shall be required to maintain a record of production/ manufacture of goods, in addition to recording the details of inward and outward supplies.

(73) "market value" shall mean the full amount which a recipient of a supply is required to pay in order to obtain the goods or services or both of like kind and quality at or about the same time and at the same commercial level where the recipient and the supplier are not related;

This term finds reference only in the provisions in relation to confiscation of goods or conveyance arising on account of contravention of the provisions of the law (say supplies made by a taxable person who has failed to obtain registration, etc.). The law provides that the owner of the goods will be given an option to pay a fine, not exceeding the market value of the goods in question, to safeguard his goods or conveyance from being confiscated.

"Goods or services of like kind and quality" means any other goods or services (comparables) made under similar circumstances that, in respect of the characteristics, quality, quantity, functional components, materials, and reputation of the goods or services in question, is the same as, or closely or substantially resembles, that of the comparable.

The meaning of the term 'related', must be understood from the definition provided in respect of 'related persons' under section 15.

This definition should not be confused with open market value as this definition appears to be restricted to cases of confiscation where the value is from the recipients perspective.

(74) "mixed supply" means two or more individual supplies of goods or services, or any combination thereof, made in conjunction with each other by a taxable person for a single price where such supply does not constitute a composite supply.

Illustration: – A supply of a package consisting of canned foods, sweets, chocolates, cakes, dry fruits, aerated drinks and fruit juices when supplied for a single price is a mixed supply. Each of these items can be supplied separately and is not dependent on any other. It shall not be a mixed supply if these items are supplied separately;

When two (or more) goods, or two or more services (need not be taxable), or a combination of goods and services, that each have individual identity and can be supplied separately, are deliberately supplied for a single consolidated price, the supply would be treated as a mixed supply.

Most importantly, such a supply should not qualify as a composite supply, for it to be treated as a mixed supply, i.e., in case of a mixed supply:

- The two or more supplies are not naturally bundled and supplied conjointly in the ordinary course of business. In other words, unnaturally supplied inseparably and for a single price is a hallmark of mixed supply.
- The principal supply cannot be identified – more than one of the supplies form the “predominant element” of the supply. In other words, individually present but inseparably presented for supply would also yield tax being applied as mixed supply.

Where the conjoint supply is neither a composite supply, nor supplied for a single price, the two or more supplies would be treated as individual supplies or non-composite supplies and not as a ‘mixed supply’.

Illustrations for consideration:

- (a) Supply of toothpaste, brush, plastic container for the two: The three goods can be said to be naturally bundled and supplied in the ordinary course of business. While the plastic container is ancillary to the supply, both toothbrush and toothpaste could be the predominant elements of the supply. In a composite supply, there can be only one principal supply and therefore, this supply would be a mixed supply.
- (b) Supply of laptop and printer: Although a printer is used for the purpose of printing, the commands can be given only through the laptop and hence, the two goods are not naturally bundled and supplied conjointly in the ordinary course of business. Therefore, this supply is a mixed supply.
- (c) Supply of lectures in a coaching centre and monthly excursions such as trekking, etc.: The two services are not naturally bundled in the ordinary course of business. Therefore, this supply is a mixed supply as it is for a single price.
- (d) Supply of car, modular kitchen or whitegoods by a builder to some apartment buyers is a mixed supply.

The tax rates applicable in case of mixed supply would be the rate of tax attributable to that one supply (goods, or services) which attracts the highest rate of tax from amongst the supplies forming part of the mixed supply. Therefore, a mechanism for separating the supplies could be examined, in case of mixed supplies where the tax rates are differing.

It is important to ensure that there is a single price assigned in respect of the various supplies that are involved. And the supplies so involved are unnaturally bundled together for such single price. If the price were not one single amount but the visible aggregation of individual prices then, even if supplied together, each of them may be regarded as an individual non-composite supply.

(75) "money" means the Indian legal tender or any foreign currency, cheque, promissory note, bill of exchange, letter of credit, draft, pay order, traveller cheque, money order, postal or electronic remittance or any other instrument recognised by the Reserve Bank of India when used as a consideration to settle an obligation or exchange with Indian legal tender of another denomination but shall not include any currency that is held for its numismatic value;

The meaning attributed to this term in the GST law is a polished adoption of the definition provided under the Service Tax law. Additionally, money as defined in the GST law includes any foreign currency as well. The significance of this term is that it is out of the scope of taxation under GST. Money would neither be goods nor services under the GST law. However, there is no exemption given to activities relating to the use of money or its conversion. So also, sale of money, say a coin collection set of 100 coins, would be chargeable to tax, as such coins are held for their numismatic value.

It is also interesting to note that this term is no longer relevant for understanding as to whether a transaction is for consideration, as the meaning assigned to the term 'consideration' under the GST law may be in money or in another form. Cryptocurrency is not money as per RBI.

The words "...or any other instrument recognised by the Reserve Bank of India..." demands a mention of the Payments and Settlement Systems Act, 2007 which allows RBI to authorize the development and distribution of a system of settlement of payments in the form of prepaid instruments (PPIs) that are not Indian legal tender but are yet used as a consideration to settle an obligation because they are 'recognized' by RBI such as e-wallets. Such PPIs are often confused with voucher (defined in section 2(119) below). This form of interchangeable usage would be an error. Since the PPI is included in the definition of money it cannot also be included in the definition of voucher. PPIs are not vouchers but money. Tax treatment applicable on the receipt of money must be applied even when the receipt is through PPI's.

(76) "motor vehicle" shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in clause (28) of section 2 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988;

Section 2(28) of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 reads as under:

"motor vehicle" or "vehicle" means any mechanically propelled vehicle adapted for use upon roads whether the power of propulsion is transmitted thereto from an external or internal source and includes a chassis to which a body has not been attached and a trailer; but does not include a vehicle running upon fixed rails or a vehicle of a special type adapted for use only in a factory or in any other enclosed premises or a vehicle having less than four wheels fitted with engine capacity of not exceeding twenty-five cubic centimetres.

From this, it can be understood that all vehicles such as cars, trucks, buses, tempo-travellers, etc., that are meant for usage on roads will be covered within the meaning of 'motor vehicles'. The implication of this definition is that input tax credit is not available in respect of inward supply of motor vehicles, unless they are used for specific purposes (being transportation of goods, or for making taxable supplies of further supply of such vehicles, or supplying passenger transportation services or for imparting training in relation to such vehicles). The denial of rent a cab (less than 12 persons) credit means that there is a need to examine the applicability of permits and its harmonious understanding with the Motor Vehicles Act.

When the term 'motor vehicle' has been defined by reference to another Act, all interpretation that is allowed under that Act would equally apply under GST. Motor vehicles such as its excavators, wheel loaders, back hoe, road rollers, etc. will also come within the same restrictions applicable to motor vehicles under GST law. Merely because these articles are used more in the nature of plant and machinery and less in the form of motor vehicles is of no avail. Refer the detailed discussion under section 17(5) for 'what is and what is not' a motor vehicle.

(77) "non-resident taxable person" means any person who occasionally undertakes transactions involving supply of goods or services or both, whether as principal or agent or in any other capacity, but who has no fixed place of business or residence in India;

The meaning of the term 'non-resident taxable person' covers all person who undertake transactions involving supply of goods or services or both, whether or not such supplies are taxable, so long as such person neither has a fixed place of business nor residence in India.

Every such person who intends to effect any taxable supplies under the GST law, should compulsorily obtain registration under the GST law before commencing business, irrespective of the turnover during the year. The application for registration shall be made at least 5 days prior to the commencement of business.

However, a person who does not undertake transactions involving any supplies "occasionally", would not be treated as a non-resident taxable person. The law does not define the frequency implied by the expression "occasionally". Therefore, where there is a reasonable frequency of occurrence of supplies in India, it must be construed as transactions occurring occasionally.

Due to applicability of higher rate of withholding under Income-tax Act on remittances made from India, non-residents who have no active business presence in India are also found to have secured PAN numbers and for this purpose have designated a representative with an address being either admitted premises of operations or simply for correspondence. Care must be taken to determine whether such designated representative and address would constitute 'fixed place of business' (and not to be equated with fixed establishment).

(78) "non-taxable supply" means a supply of goods or services or both which is not leviable to tax under this Act or under the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act;

A transaction must be a 'supply' as defined under the GST law, to qualify as a non-taxable supply under the GST law.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Stock transfers to unit within the State for which no separate registration is obtained, which does not qualify as a 'supply' as defined under section 7 of the CGST Act, cannot be said to be a non-taxable supply.

- Receipts that satisfy exclusion from valuation as 'pure agent' (rule 33) would also be no supply and not to be treated as non-taxable supply. GSTR 9 terms such amounts received as 'no supply' (which is an expression that is not found in the law).
- Supplies that enjoy the benefit of being wholly exempted from taxes, nil-rated supplies and zero-rated supplies are also not covered under the umbrella of 'non-taxable supplies' given that the goods or services are in fact liable to tax, and such tax is exempted by virtue of an exemption notification, or the tax rate is nil (refer discussion under section 2(47) for some interesting examples of 'nil' rated supplies).
- Only those supplies that are excluded from the scope of taxation under GST are covered by this definition – i.e., alcoholic liquor for human consumption, articles listed in section 9(2) or in Schedule III.
- It needs to be noted that supplies listed in Schedule III will NOT be included as non-taxable supplies (or exempt supplies) as they are, by express legislation, declared to be neither a supply of goods nor a supply of services. However, for the limited purposes of section 17(2), by a fiction, certain transactions appearing in Schedule III are 'treated' as exempt supplies which will be so only to that limited extent.
- Other instances are of 'merchanted trade' and 'in-bond' sales. Merchant trade transactions are those transactions where the trader in one country A, purchases goods from country B and supplies the goods to a second buyer in country C, directly, without goods entering country A. Since, goods never cross the Customs frontier of the country of trader. In case country A is India then, GST law cannot apply when supply takes place 'outside taxable territory' even though the said person (trader) is located in India. GST is a tax on supply and not on supplier. It will form part of revenue (turnover) of the person (legal entity) but as a 'no supply' transaction. Experts have indicated that since it is not 'exempt supply', such transactions will NOT attract credit reversal. To this end, the explanation inserted in section 17(3) vide CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018 may be referred. Similarly, in-bond sales are actually made not only by the person (legal entity) but also by one or other distinct person (belonging to the same person). In such cases, turnover will be includible in the returns of such distinct person (although there is no space for such transactions in GSTR 3B) who has initiated these transactions. It is not advisable to exclude these totally from reporting (at least in GSTR 9 until suitable tables are available for monthly reporting) and these are not to appear for the first time as a reconciliation item in GSTR 9C.

(79) "non-taxable territory" means the territory which is outside the taxable territory;

A taxable territory means the territory to which the provision of the GST law applies. Accordingly, in case of CGST law, the taxable territory would cover all locations covered under the extent of the law – i.e., whole of India.

- Accordingly, locations outside India would be considered as non-taxable territory, being the territory outside the taxable territory.

- Similarly, for the State GST law, non-taxable territory would cover all those locations where the provisions of the particular State GST law would not apply. For instance, for the purpose of the State GST law of Maharashtra, all other States and Union Territories of India, and locations outside India, would be non-taxable territory.

In this regard, it would be relevant to understand the geographical extent covered within the meaning of the term 'India' and readers may refer the analysis of Section 2(56).

Supply taking place in a 'non-taxable territory' would be outside the jurisdiction for imposing any GST. High sea sales (first supply) are not liable to GST because goods that involve movement are located outside the taxable territory even though the recipient may be inside. Another example is merchandising trade (eg., Buying from Singapore and shipping to Germany, directly by an Indian entity). GST is a tax on supply and not a tax on supplier. Supply that does not occur within taxable territory would be a non-taxable supply in the returns of this Indian entity.

(80) "notification" means a notification published in the Official Gazette and the expressions "notify" and "notified" shall be construed accordingly;

The Central Government and the State Governments are empowered to issue notifications to give effect to certain provisions such as goods and services that would be liable to tax on reverse charge basis, supplies that are exempt from tax, supply of goods that shall be treated as supply of services, etc. For a notification to be valid under GST, it must be published in the Official Gazette of India, as published by the Government of India's Department of Publication, Ministry of Urban Development.

Every notification published in the Official Gazette will come into force from the date of such publication, unless a different date is specified for this purpose, in the notification.

(81) "other territory" includes territories other than those comprising in a State and those referred to in sub-clauses (a) to (e) of clause (114);

By definition, the expression 'other territory' is inclusive of all territories that do not form part of any State (including the two Union Territories with Legislature being Delhi and Puducherry), and excludes the Union Territories (i.e., the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, Lakshadweep, Dadra and Nagar Haveli, Daman and Diu, and Chandigarh).

All territories that fall into the ambit of 'other territory' as defined above would also form part of the meaning of the term 'Union territory' as defined under section 2(114), to leave no territory that is claimed by any of the States or Union Territories, outside the scope of taxation under GST, so long as such territory is in India. Although there is no specific explanation that the extent of the term should be limited to the territory of India, we should not consider locations outside India to also fall into the scope of 'other territory' defined above, as it would defeat the purpose of law.

(82) "output tax" in relation to a taxable person, means the tax chargeable under this Act on taxable supply of goods or services or both made by him or by his agent but excludes tax payable by him on reverse charge basis;

The output tax chargeable on intra-State taxable supply of goods or services can be summarised as under:

Type of Supply	Output tax	Reference
Supplies within a State (or UT with Legislature)	CGST + Specific SGST (intra-State supply)	Sections 8(1) and 8(2) of the IGST Act
Supplies within a UT without Legislature	CGST + UTGST (intra-State supply)	Sections 8(1) and 8(2) of the IGST Act

The following aspects need to be noted:

- While input tax is in relation to a registered person, output tax is in relation to a taxable person. Evidently, the law excludes persons who are not registered under the law from being associated with any input tax. However, where there is a liability due to the Government, the law paves the way to cover those persons who are liable to tax, but who have failed to obtain registration.
- The amount covered under this term is the amount of tax that is 'chargeable', and not the amount that is 'charged'. Therefore, in case a person wrongly charges tax, or charges an excess rate of tax, as compared to the applicable tax rate, such excess would not qualify as output tax.
- Some experts are of the view that taxes payable by recipient of supply, on account of making inward supplies of such categories of supply as are notified for the purpose of reverse chargeability of tax, or making inward supplies from unregistered persons, would also be out of the scope of 'output tax'.
- The implication of the exclusions mentioned above is that the input tax credit cannot be utilised for making payment of any amount that does not qualify as output tax. Discharge of liability in such cases has to be by way of cash payments (i.e., through the electronic cash ledger, on depositing money by means of cash, cheque, etc.).
- The law makes a specific inclusion in respect of supplies made by an agent on behalf of the supplier, to treat the tax paid on such supplies as output tax in the hands of the supplier.
- 'Tax under this Act' referred in section 32 clearly refers to output tax, based on this definition. Accordingly, any person collecting output tax will be liable to deposit it with the Government under section 76. Collecting output tax (or tax under this Act) higher than the prescribed, such person will be liable to deposit the entire amount collected with the Government. However, in case outward supplies are exempt (goods or services are themselves exempt or recipient is allowed some exemption), supplier is free to collect 'input tax credit reversed' on account of this exemption on the outward supply. Such amounts collected NOT being in the nature of 'tax under this Act' or 'output tax', will not be affected by the bar in section 32 or their obligation imposed by section 76. Tribunal has examined in Unison Metals Ltd. v. CCE-Ahd-I (2006) 204 ELT 323 (LB-Tri.). a similar question in the context of section 11D of Central Excise Act and the Larger Bench has held that collecting 'input tax credit reversed' is not prohibited in law There is no direct decision on this aspect under GST as it has been in operation just for four years.

(83) "outward supply" in relation to a taxable person, means supply of goods or services or both, whether by sale, transfer, barter, exchange, licence, rental, lease or disposal or any other mode, made or agreed to be made by such person in the course or furtherance of business;

For any transaction or activity to qualify as an outward supply, it must first be a 'supply' in terms of the GST law, unlike inward supplies, which could merely be receipts, not amounting to supply. Further, an outward supply is closely associated with a 'taxable person' being, a unit of a person that has, or is required to have, a separate registration.

The phrase 'outward supply' can be applied to a supply only when such supply is made in the course or furtherance of business. For instance, where the business assets are put to personal use. In such a case, even if the transaction is deemed to be a supply (made without consideration), it cannot be treated as an 'outward supply', since the application of the business asset for personal use was neither in the course nor in furtherance of business.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Supplies not qualifying as outward supplies would also be included for the purpose of computing the 'aggregate turnover';
- In the case of a composition supplier, where he engages with a recipient outside the State, and if the transaction does not result in an 'outward supply', (say, sending goods for job work outside the State), the conditions imposed on him as a composition supplier would not be violated (i.e., making inter-State outward supplies);
- Details of supplies on which tax is payable, but which do not amount to 'outward supplies' would also have to be declared in the return for outward supplies (GSTR-1);
- By treating goods or services "agreed" to be supplied as 'outward supply', the law authorises imposition of GST on advance payments;
- Reimbursement against goods or services purchased by employees of a taxable person would not be in furtherance of business of such employees to attract any tax.

(84) "person" includes—

- (a) an individual;*
- (b) a Hindu undivided family;*
- (c) a company;*
- (d) a firm;*
- (e) a Limited Liability Partnership;*

- (f) an association of persons or a body of individuals, whether incorporated or not, in India or outside India;
- (g) any corporation established by or under any Central Act, State Act or Provincial Act or a Government company as defined in clause (45) of section 2 of the Companies Act, 2013;
- (h) any body corporate incorporated by or under the laws of a country outside India;
- (i) a co-operative society registered under any law relating to co-operative societies;
- (j) a local authority;
- (k) Central Government or a State Government;
- (l) society as defined under the Societies Registration Act, 1860;
- (m) trust; and
- (n) every artificial juridical person, not falling within any of the above;

This definition is to be read along with the fiction in section 2(107) where a 'taxable person' is understood to be sub-units of a person such that the transactions between two taxable persons are also taxable supplies. Every 'person' is understood to have a separate identity, under the GST law.

For instance, a trust set up by a company will be treated as a separate person from the company, or a limited liability partnership holding all the shares of a company will be treated as a separate person from the company.

It is common to see entities which contribute assets and have a basket of different interests which are in the nature of partnerships. The sharing of risks could indicate such associates or joint venture. On the other hand, one sided contract of revenue sharing maybe considered different. It has been held in the case of CIT v. RM Chidambaram Pillai (1977) 106 ITR 292 (SC) that the term 'firm' is a collective noun of the partners and not a legal person. Therefore, a contract with a firm is legally, multiple-simultaneous-identical contracts with each partner. Again in CIT, Bihar v. Ramniklal Kothari (1969) 74 ITR 57 (SC), it has been held that business of the firm is the business of the partner. Therefore, from GST perspective, there is no supply between the partners and their firm or vice versa and the flow of remuneration (in all the various forms that is permitted by Income-tax law) would not be taxable in the absence of any supply inter se.

(85) "place of business" includes—

- (a) a place from where the business is ordinarily carried on and includes a warehouse, a godown or any other place where a taxable person stores his goods, supplies or receives goods or services or both; or
- (b) a place where a taxable person maintains his books of account; or
- (c) a place where a taxable person is engaged in business through an agent, by whatever name called;

The inclusive nature of the definition indicates that the places or locations listed in the definition are illustrative and not exhaustive. From the three clauses of such illustrative locations, each clause makes a reference to 'taxable person'. Therefore, place of business should be understood as a term that is specific to each taxable person, having (or requiring) distinct registrations. Say, in the case of a company having operations across 10 cities in two States, the set of cities being the places of business for one State would be mutually exclusive from that of the other.

Place of business therefore is not only any place where business is ordinarily carried on but it would also be a place where goods are located and kept ready for supply. Ex-works supplies, to a registered person from another State, without the goods immediately being transported out to that State, would also come within the definition of 'place of business'. Therefore, there is no need to be concerned that location of supplier of goods is not defined in the law because unlike services, there is sufficient trail available in transactions involving supply of goods.

Following are other implications in relation to place of business:

- Registration of such places as additional place of business – although there is no explicit requirement under law to declare all places of business as additional places of business. This would facilitate transportation of goods between places of business, or from the job worker's premises to any of the places of business, which can be supported with the delivery challan, the details of which would form part of e-way bill;
- Maintenance of separate accounts in relation to each place of business such as details of production or manufacture of goods, inward and outward supply, stock records of goods, input tax credit availed, output tax payable and paid;
- Departmental audit can be conducted in respect of registered persons at any of its places of business; this apart, authorised officers can demand access to any such places to inspect books, documents, computers, etc.;
- Place of Business is not the same as place of supply and registration is required at the POB and not at POS. Eg., Renting service is business which is 'ordinarily carried out' from the POB of the landlord and not from the POS where the property is situated. Installation activity is carried out at the project site which is not POB of the supplier and the site may or may not be its POS. Construction activity carried out at the site could be the LOS (location of supplier of service) because it satisfies the definition of FE (fixed establishment) but both these would not be POB of the contractor.

(86) "place of supply" means the place of supply as referred to in Chapter V of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act;

Chapter V of the IGST Act provides for determination of the 'place of supply' in respect of any supply of goods or supply of services. This expression has the utmost significance in determining the nature of tax payable on a supply. Simply put, a supply shall be intra-State (liable to CGST, SGST/UTGST) where the location of the supplier and place of supply as determined under the said Chapter are in the same State (or Union Territory), and neither the supplier nor the recipient are SEZ units/ developers. In any other case, the supply would be treated as an inter-State supply, liable to IGST.

There is no provision in the law that declares that GST is a 'destination based tax'. Place of supply is therefore the destination of supply attracting tax under this law. Place of supply is not left out as a question of fact that each supplier has to determine but is a question of law that is left to only be discovered by an application of the law. Refer earlier discussion on the exclusive power of Parliament to determine the destination of consumption in terms of Article 269A(5).

Chapter V deals with determination of 'place of supply' under the following brackets:

- (a) Goods, other than supply of goods imported into, or exported from India.
- (b) Goods imported into, or exported from India.
- (c) Services where location of the supplier and recipient are in India.
- (d) Services where location of supplier or location of recipient is outside India.
- (e) Online information and database access or retrieval services (OIDAR) provided by a person located in a non-taxable territory to a non-taxable online recipient (i.e., Government, governmental or local authorities, individuals, other persons receiving such services for purpose other than commerce, industry, business, profession, but located in the taxable territory).

(87) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act on the recommendations of the Council;

The law empowers the Government to issue rules to facilitate the implementation of the provisions of the Act, or to carry out the objects of the law. Whenever the term 'prescribed' is used in the Act, one must draw reference to the relevant rules that may be issued in respect thereof. Although various provisions state that something will be 'prescribed', there is no requirement that without being prescribed it will not be operational. That is, the requirement that enabling provisions should 'prescribe' may not be required to be acted upon as the general understanding of procedure may suffice. And in case something specific is to be done, then specific rule is to be 'prescribed. For eg., section 50(2) states that the manner of computing interest will be prescribed; it does not mean that there 'must' be a rule as to 'how to multiply' the rate of interest with the amount of unpaid tax to arrive at the amount of interest.

Further, 'prescribed' does not mean all rules must be prescribed 'all at one place'. It may well be 'prescribed' in any one or more of the rules to further the object of the section. For eg., restrictions and conditions of credit 'to be' prescribed stated in section 16(1) does not mean that all the 'prescriptions' must reside in one rule. As can be seen, 'prescriptions' are in several rules like return under rule 61(5), payment under rule 37 and reversal under rule 42, etc. Experts caution that finding fault with the rules for 'failing to prescribe' may not be very meritorious approach to the interpretation of every section that states that something 'may be' prescribed.

(88) “principal” means a person on whose behalf an agent carries on the business of supply or receipt of goods or services or both;

The law uses the term ‘principal’ in the context of two relationships – one in case of the principal and job worker and the other in case of principal and agent. However, in the provisions relating to job work, the term has a separate meaning, the reference of which is separately provided for. Therefore, one must understand the meaning of the term ‘principal’ wherever the term finds a mention, as a reference to the principal-agent relationship.

Agent of the principal is one who carries on the business of supply or receipt of goods or services or both on behalf of another person, being the principal. The agent functions as an extended arm of the principal and therefore, supplies (inward and outward) effected by an agent on behalf of the principal will be treated as supplies effected by the principal. Reference may be had to Circular no. 57/31/2018-GST dated 04.09.2018 where illustrations have been provided as to when a supply through an agent would be a supply by agent and when it would remain a supply by principal. Entire jurisprudence from Indian Contract Act is borrowed by this circular by making reference to section 182 of Indian Contract Act while referencing ‘agent’. Refer detailed discussion in relation to ‘intermediary’ under section 2(13) of IGST Act.

(89) “principal place of business” means the place of business specified as the principal place of business in the certificate of registration;

The principal place of business could be any of the places of business of a person, which is located in the same State in which the registration is intended to be obtained. Generally, this location would be the head office or the corporate office or the billing address of the person, or the address registered under a statute such as the Companies Act, or as specified in the partnership deed. Once a location is chosen, it would be used for correspondence by the GST officers, and should therefore be mentioned on the certificate of registration. For multi- locational tax payers they would have one principal place per State.

The law requires that the books of account shall be maintained at the principal place of business, or may be maintained electronically, on fulfilling the conditions prescribed by the rules.

(90) “principal supply” means the supply of goods or services which constitutes the predominant element of a composite supply and to which any other supply forming part of that composite supply is ancillary;

The concept of ‘a principal supply’ emerges only for determining whether a supply is a composite supply or not and where it is a composite supply, the rate of tax applicable to the composite supply.

Principal supply recognises two or more supplies and arranges them in a two-step hierarchy – a single predominant supply and the ancillary supply(ies).

- (a) Supply of laptop and a carry case – In this case, the carry case only adds value to the supply of laptop and therefore, the case would be ancillary while the laptop constitutes the predominant element of the supply. Even where the brand of the case is not the same as that of the laptop and the supplier can establish that the case is naturally bundled with the laptop in the ordinary course of his business, the supply can be treated as a composite supply.

- (b) Supply of equipment and installation/ commissioning of the same – While the recipient actually purchases the equipment, making the equipment the principal supply, the installation makes the equipment usable by the recipient. Even if there is a separate charge for the installation of the equipment, since the service is naturally bundled and provided in the ordinary course of business, the supply would be a composite supply.
- (c) Supply of repair services of laptop with parts – As such, it is the skill and expertise of the supplier that makes the laptop function as desired. Whether replacement is necessary or a mere resetting of the existing parts restores the functionality of the laptop is not known to the customer. Where the object of the contract is unknown to the customer, that object cannot be the purpose of the contract. The only object that is known to the customer is the ‘repair service’ which makes it the predominant object of supply. This would be the position even if the cost of the parts replaced is higher than the cost of service. However, this theory can apply only where such a replacement is done in the ordinary course of the business of repairing laptops, and such a replacement is naturally bundled with the repair service.

Neither the cost of each component nor the importance of each component is relevant to determine the ‘principal’ supply. It is the object that is primary in the opinion and knowledge of the recipient that helps make this determination. That is, a recipient cannot buy that about which he has no knowledge of and whatever it is that recipient has knowledge of, is the principal supply even if that does not comprise substantial part of the total value. Principal supply is that for which the recipient approached the supplier.

(91) “proper officer” in relation to any function to be performed under this Act, means the Commissioner or the officer of the central tax who is assigned that function by the Commissioner in the Board;

The Government would appoint persons to act as officers of specified classes. However, all such officers would not be ‘proper officers’ under the GST law. It may be understood that the term ‘proper officer’ is with reference to a case or a category of cases. Therefore, a Commissioner having jurisdiction in respect of a taxable person, may authorise certain officers of the GST law to act as proper officer in respect of such taxable person.

Further, the officers appointed under the SGST and UTGST laws are authorised to be the proper officers for the purposes of the CGST law. One should examine carefully ‘who’ is the Proper Officer authorized to take steps under each section. For example, the authority to whom a registered person is assigned or linked (State or Central) is the Proper Officer for section 61. No other officer can take steps to scrutinize the returns of the registered person. Similarly, audit under section 65 can be conducted by officers specifically authorized and hence, Proper Officer to whom registered person is assigned or linked cannot carry out audit under section 65. But where a taxpayer is assigned or linked to State jurisdiction, only the State audit officers can undertake audit under section 65 and vice versa whereas, State Enforcement or Central Intelligence officers can conduct inspection under section 67 regardless of the assignment or linking of GSTIN of each taxpayer.

(92) “quarter” shall mean a period comprising three consecutive calendar months, ending on the last day of March, June, September and December of a calendar year;

In terms of the above definition, the following would be the four quarters for the purposes of GST:

- (a) January, February and March;
- (b) April, May and June;
- (c) July, August and September; and
- (d) October, November and December.

For any reason, whatsoever, the term ‘quarter’ cannot be associated with three consecutive months other than those mentioned above. For instance, a composition supplier is required to furnish returns on a quarterly basis – this does not entitle him to furnish a return for the periods June, July and August, even if he obtained registration only on 29th June.

(93) “recipient” of supply of goods or services or both, means—

- (a) where a consideration is payable for the supply of goods or services or both, the person who is liable to pay that consideration;
- (b) where no consideration is payable for the supply of goods, the person to whom the goods are delivered or made available, or to whom possession or use of the goods is given or made available; and
- (c) where no consideration is payable for the supply of a service, the person to whom the service is rendered, and any reference to a person to whom a supply is made shall be construed as a reference to the recipient of the supply and shall include an agent acting as such on behalf of the recipient in relation to the goods or services or both supplied;

In transactions involving more than two persons, it could result in an ambiguity as to who should be treated as the ‘recipient’ for filing the return of inward supplies, paying tax on reverse charge basis, determining whether the relationship with the supplier will impact the valuation, etc. In this regard, the definition specifies the following:

- Where consideration is payable: The recipient of supply and place of supply do not affect one another where a consideration is payable for the supply. Irrespective of the place of supply, the person who is liable for payment of consideration would be the recipient. This would hold good even in the case where the supply is made to the person on the instruction of another – i.e., even if the goods are received by a person, if the person on whose instruction the goods are delivered is the person liable to pay consideration, such person giving the instruction would be the recipient.

- Where no consideration is payable:
 - Goods: The actual receiver of the goods would be the recipient. Say, for instance, a supplier keeps a counter in the premises of another company for issuing free samples to the employees of the company. The recipients would be the employees, and not the company permitting the use of its premises.
 - Services: The actual receiver of the services would be the recipient.
- The definition of 'consideration' in section 2(31) clearly provides that the consideration can be from the recipient or by any other person. However, the law provides that the person paying the consideration shall be treated as the 'recipient'. It appears that the term 'recipient' referred to in section 2(31) should be read as 'receiver of the supply', and not 'recipient' as defined above.
- In case an agent is appointed by the principal, such agent may also be treated as the recipient of the goods or services or both.
- Recipient is NOT the same as the beneficiary of the supply. Care must be taken to differentiate between these two expressions as understood in commerce. For eg., education is provided to the student but educational services are supplied to the parent (who pays the consideration for supply of education to the student).

(94) "registered person" means a person who is registered under section 25 but does not include a person having a Unique Identity Number;

The law makes several references to this term. The most significant implication of this reference is that it is confined to the registration of a person, who may have (or is required to have) more than one registration. Person liable to register is 'taxable person' but not 'registered person'. Refer discussion under section 2(107) for comparative study.

Every person/ unit of a person requiring registration, i.e., every taxable person, will be treated as a registered person the moment registration is granted to it, excluding cases where a Unique Identity Number (UIN) is granted.

A specialised agency of the United Nations Organisation or any Multilateral Financial Institution and Organisation notified under the United Nations (Privileges and Immunities) Act, 1947, Consulate or Embassy of foreign countries and any other person notified by the Commissioner shall be granted a UIN for certain purposes – such as for refund of taxes on the notified supplies of goods or services or both received by them.

(95) "regulations" means the regulations made by the Board under this Act on the recommendations of the Council;

The Central Board of Indirect Tax and Customs* constituted under the Central Boards of Revenue Act, 1963 (Board) is empowered to make regulations consistent with the Act and the rules made under the Act, to carry out the provisions of the Act.

Every regulation made by the Board under the Act would be laid, after it is made or issued, before each House of Parliament, while it is in session, at the earliest. Where both Houses agree in making any modification, or that the regulation should not be made, the regulation shall have effect only in such modified form or be of no effect from such date (i.e., no retrospective effect of the modifications/ rejection by the Houses of the Parliament).

(96) “removal” in relation to goods, means—

(a) despatch of the goods for delivery by the supplier thereof or by any other person acting on behalf of such supplier; or

(b) collection of the goods by the recipient thereof or by any other person acting on behalf of such recipient;

The term “removal” is relevant in the case of supply of goods. Under the Central Excise Rules, 2002, the term 'removal' also included the act of issue of the goods for captive consumption. However, under the GST law, there must be a supplier, and a recipient who is distinct person. Therefore, removal of goods used within the factory would not constitute an outward supply (while input tax credit restriction implications could arise).

Under the GST law, the significance of this term arises for raising invoice, which in turn, is an element essential to determine the time of supply. The law clearly specifies that the removal need not be effected by the supplier himself, but could also be a result of collection of the goods by the recipient or a person acting on his behalf like job worker/ agent. Further, this term would be relevant only to the extent of supplies requiring movement of goods.

Note that in GST, ‘removal’, ‘movement’ and ‘delivery’ have been used and each has its independent meaning and are not to be understood to be synonyms. General understanding of these terms and their differences are that removal is handling over or collecting of goods to be taken away or carried away, by the supplier or recipient, even without commencement of actual transportation of the goods to the destination. Movement is the physical transportation by the person taking the responsibility of transportation which may be supplier, recipient or other carrier. Delivery is a legal concept of completion of appropriation in favour of the recipient so as to complete supplier’s obligations in respect of the supply. Removal is a decisive first step towards commencement of supply. Delivery is the decisive last step towards completion of supply. Movement is all the observable activities occurring in between.

(97) “return” means any return prescribed or otherwise required to be furnished by or under this Act or the rules made thereunder;

The term ‘return’ used in this law, as under other taxation laws, refers to a document by which details of transactions are furnished to the relevant tax department. This term is also used under the GST law, to refer to returning-back goods after they have been delivered to customers (commonly known as purchase returns, sale returns). However, the term does not refer to any ‘one’ specific document that is filed. It includes ‘any’ document titled ‘return’ which may be prescribed or required to be furnished by CGST Act or CGST Rules. Reference may be had to sections 61 and 62 to understand which ‘returns’ attract those provisions and then compare with what may be understood as ‘return’ in each context.

(98) "reverse charge" means the liability to pay tax by the recipient of supply of goods or services or both instead of the supplier of such goods or services or both under sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) of section 9, or under sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) of section 5 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act;

The scheme of payment of tax under reverse charge mechanism would prevail under the GST Law, as is existent in specific cases of services and in case of purchases from unregistered dealers under the VAT law. However, in the GST law, the scope of reverse charge is expanded to include:

- (a) Goods (in addition to services) that may be notified, even if the supplier is registered;
- (b) Services (in addition to goods), for taxation on reverse charge basis where the supplier is unregistered and supplied to specified classes of recipients who are registered.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- The scheme of partial reverse charge or joint charge that existed under the Service tax laws has not been continued under the GST law;
- Persons required to pay tax under reverse charge are required to obtain registration under the GST whether or not they make any outward supplies and without having regard to the threshold limits for registration – in case of notified goods and services;
- Composition suppliers being recipients of supplies on which tax is payable on reverse charge basis, will have to remit tax at the applicable rates, and not the concessional composition tax rates;
- The recipient paying tax on reverse charge basis, should issue a 'payment voucher' at the time of making payment to the supplier;
- The recipient paying tax on reverse charge basis on account of effecting inward supplies from unregistered persons, should issue an invoice in respect of the goods or services inwarded, at the time of receipt of such goods or services.

(99) "Revisional Authority" means an authority appointed or authorised for revision of decision or orders as referred to in section 108;

The Revisional Authority is empowered to pass an order to enhance or modify or annul a decision/ order under CGST/ SGST/ UTGST Acts as passed by an officer sub-ordinate to him, where he finds it to be prejudicial to the interest of Revenue if it is erroneous, illegal, improper or has not considered material facts (whether or not available at the time of the original decision/ order). However, such powers are not available to him in case of non-appealable orders.

Refer section 108 and the discussion ensuing to understand the overstretched authority of an administrative authority being permitted to interfere with an order of the First Appellate Authority which is, for all practical purposes, a judicial function being discharged. Notification No. 5/2020-CT dated 13.01.2020 has notified 'Revisionary Authorities' under Central Tax.

(100) "Schedule" means a Schedule appended to this Act;

The following three Schedules are provided under the CGST Act to describe the extent/ limitation of the meaning of the term 'supply':

(a) Schedule I: Activities to be treated as supply even if made without consideration

- Permanent transfer or disposal of business assets on which input tax credit is availed. The question as to whether the condition 'on which input tax credit is availed' applies only to disposal of business assets or also to the previous expression of permanent transfer is an interesting one to analyse due to the presence of the disjunctive 'or' separating the two transactions. Also, when credit is reversed on business assets disposed [under section 17(5)(h)], those transactions of disposal of business assets will not come within the fiction of Schedule I. But, a permanent transfer (not being the same as disposal) of any business asset attracts the fiction of Schedule I.
- Supplies between related persons or persons having the same PAN. Note that the transaction must be a supply except for their relationship requiring a re-examination (between related persons) or when transaction is missing an ingredient of two-persons to the transaction (distinct persons by fiction in section 25)
- Supply of goods by a principal to his agent and vice versa. Note that the transaction must already be a 'supply' and Schedule I only makes a remarkably different treatment by this fiction.
- Import of services for business purpose, by a person from a related person.

(b) Schedule II: Activities or Transactions (as per CGST Amendment Act) to be treated as supply of goods or supply of services

1. Transfer

- (a) Any transfer of the title in goods is a supply of goods. Refer to the difference between 'transfer' and 'sale' in the discussion under section 7 and note that all cases where title 'gets' transferred, are required to be treated by the fiction in Schedule II as a supply of goods and not as services. Also note that transfer is not the same as extinguishment or consumption. Extinguished means that the goods are consumed in the course of performance of a contract and this, not being transfer, may be open to treatment as supply of services. For eg., Job-work involving consumption of catalyst or welding rods, etc;
- (b) Any transfer of right in goods or of undivided share in goods without the transfer of title thereof, is a supply of services. Although goods are involved in such a transaction and their movement requires use of e-way bill, the transaction will continue to be treated as supply of services and not as supply of goods;
- (c) Any transfer of title in goods under an agreement which stipulates that property in goods shall pass at a future date upon payment of full consideration as agreed, is a supply of goods. Here, the title may pass after all instalments are paid like hire purchase, but the treatment required due to Schedule II is that it will be supply of goods and not services. Differentiate 1(b) and 1(c). There is enough guidance in ICAI material on AS/ IndAS to make this differentiation by examining the contract terms of each of these arrangements.

2. Land and Building

- (a) Any lease, tenancy, easement, licence to occupy land is a supply of services. Note that these four expressions are not synonyms but need careful study based on the definition and authorities under Transfer of Property Act, 1882, Indian Easement Act, 1882, Limitation Act, 1963 and Indian Contract Act, 1872. There is much to be discussed but better understood by reference to any good material under each of these laws to be able to correctly identify the nature of the transaction for GST purposes. For eg., if a CA owned rubber trees and gave a contract for extraction of latex, would it be a contract for services of extraction of benefits arising from land or a contract for sale of goods (latex)?;
- (b) Any lease or letting out of the building including a commercial, industrial or residential complex for business or commerce, either wholly or partly, is a supply of services. Use of words like 'letting out' requires identification of the presence of underlying arrangement.

3. Treatment or process

Any treatment or process which is applied to another person's goods is a supply of services. The reference to the expression 'treatment or process' is deliberate use of words more expansive than 'manufacture'. In other words, even if the said treatment or process does not amount to manufacture, that is, emergence of a new and distinct commodity, it would remain an activity that will be treated as supply of services. And this would apply even when the person carrying out the treatment or process adds or incorporates goods of his own to the output brought out from the treatment or process. And the person for whom this treatment or process is carried out may or may not be registered; yet it will be treated as supply of services. Compare the scope of this para with the definition of job work in section 2(68). Treatment or process includes repair activity (as it is not limited to job-work) and all repair activities will be constitute service.

4. Transfer of business assets

- (a) Where goods forming part of the assets of a business are transferred or disposed of by or under the directions of the person carrying on the business so as no longer to form part of those assets, whether or not for a consideration, such transfer or disposal is a supply of goods by the person. This clause deals with goods (inventory and assets) that exit the business without being retained for continued use in any transferred business will be treated as a supply of goods. Para 4(a) may be related to Para 1 in Schedule I referring to 'permanent transfer or disposal of business assets'. The treatment of such supply will now be liable to 'treatment' prescribed in Para 4(a). It is important to note that such transfer of disposal must be 'by or under' directions of the person carrying on the business. This Para applies to (i) 'taking assets out of use in business' and (ii) 'by way of a transfer or disposal', that would first be a supply under Schedule I and then suffer the treatment under Schedule II;

- (b) Where, by or under the direction of a person carrying on a business, goods held or used for the purposes of the business are put to any private use or are used, or made available to any person for use, for any purpose other than a purpose of the business, whether or not for a consideration, the usage or making available of such goods is a supply of services. This treatment may also be examined along with Para 1 of Schedule I. Special care is needed when there is 'change of use' of assets that once entered into business at the time of their receipt. This Para applies to (i) 'taking assets out of use in business' and (ii) 'not by way of a transfer or disposal' but merely 'change of use', that would first be a supply under Schedule I and then suffer the treatment under Schedule II;
- (c) Where any person ceases to be a taxable person, any goods forming part of the assets of any business carried on by him shall be deemed to be supplied by him in the course or furtherance of his business immediately before he ceases to be a taxable person, unless— (i) the business is transferred as a going concern to another person; or (ii) the business is carried on by a personal representative who is deemed to be a taxable person. It should be noted that this clause does not provide the 'treatment' (as supply of goods or supply of services) but merely declares that deregistration will occasion a supply by fiction in Schedule II. Also, reference may be had to the discussions under sections 2(17)(d), 18(6) and 29(5) of CGST Act. Also note that 'assets of a business' must be understood not merely as capital goods or inputs in stock but all assets in the business – tangible and intangible – that will be treated as supply of goods in all these cases when the transfer occurs in any arrangement for 'transfer of business'. Transfer of business is evidenced not by itemized sale but sale as going concern. It is to be recognized that transfer of business may be by way of demerger, slump sale or other recognized modes under other substantive laws. Also, 'deemed to be supplied' appearing in this para does not attempt to usurp the authority to define what is supply but merely to state that the factum of supply having been established will be saved in the circumstances listed in the sub-paras.

5. Supply of services

- (a) Renting of immovable property. 'Renting' is an expression that is popular but not explicit either as lease or license as understood under Transfer of Property Act. Care is needed to identify the nature of arrangements involving immovable property. Also note that immovable property includes land, building and intangible interests in such land or building as well as benefits arising from land and building.
- (b) Construction of a complex, building, civil structure or a part thereof, including a complex or building intended for sale to a buyer, wholly or partly, except where the entire consideration has been received after issuance of completion certificate, where required, by the competent authority or after its first occupation, whichever is earlier. This clause is explicit, even though it is overlapping with other paras in this Schedule II. But the remarkable aspect here is that incomplete building is expressly made taxable even though Courts have held that construction for self ought not to be taxed in the absence of a contract to sell (or supply in GST).

- (c) Temporary transfer or permitting the use or enjoyment of any intellectual property right. It may be noted that permanent transfers are excluded as IP are also goods. IP may form part of an overall arrangement and suitable treatment may be given in such comprehensive arrangements based on the principle of composite or mixed supply.
- (d) Development, design, programming, customisation, adaptation, upgradation, enhancement, implementation of information technology software. Software is goods (4907 or 8523) but where supply involves software services that are not goods (which are like shrink wrapped software), only those transactions are treated as supply of services (falling under 9973 or any other suitable entry).
- (e) Agreeing to the obligation to refrain from an act, or to tolerate an act or a situation, or to do an act. Note that supply is not only a 'positive' transaction but also 'negative' transaction or 'inaction'. For this reason, CGST (Amendment) Act has even amended the title of Schedule II; it is very interesting to note the placement of 'commas' in this Para. Not every occasion where there is a deduction of payment can be attributed to a supply under this Para. There must be an agreement to perform an obligation that involves (a) refraining from an act or (b) tolerate an act or a situation or (c) to do an act. It is very important to satisfy these ingredients and not assume these ingredients are present before liability can arise under this Para. There is no necessity that to be liable to tax as 'agreeing to obligation' there must be a separate and distinct agreement for the same. Such an agreement can be collateral aspect within an agreement for supply for something else. As long as the payment of consideration is on account of 'agreement' to either (i) perform an obligation to refrain from an act or (ii) tolerate an act or situation or (iii) to do an act, the same will be treated as a 'service'.
- (f) Transfer of the right to use any goods for any purpose (whether or not for a specified period) for cash, deferred payment or other valuable consideration. Refer also para 1(b) to identify consistency in treatment whether goods are leased or licensed.

6. Composite supply

- (a) works contract as defined in clause (119) of section 2; and
- (b) supply, by way of or as part of any service or in any other manner whatsoever, of goods, being food or any other article for human consumption or any drink (other than alcoholic liquor for human consumption), where such supply or service is for cash, deferred payment or other valuable consideration. Note that this fiction requires goods to be in packed condition. As service is not a verb but a noun, once the supply comes within the mischief of this Para, it will always be treated as a supply of services. There is no occasion to search for goods within this supply and vivisect them contrary to the fiction in this Para.

~~7. Supply of Goods~~

~~Supply of goods by any unincorporated association or body of persons to a member thereof for cash, deferred payment or other valuable consideration. Please note that supply of goods 'to' members will be treated as supply of goods. Reference may be had to the section 2(17) (e) above.~~

7. Supply of goods :Deleted in view of retrospective amendment to section 7(1) by insertion of clause (aa) with effect from 1st Jul 2017⁹.

(c) Schedule III: Activities or transactions which shall be treated neither as a supply of goods nor a supply of services

1. Services by employee to employer in the course/ relation to employment . Note that the phrase 'in relation to employment' does not grant immunity from all matters listed in the terms and conditions in the employment letter. Only those emoluments flowing from employer to employee for the services performed by employee are not treated as supply. Service by employer to employee are however not free from this incidence. Assertion made under income-tax in respect of payment 'as' salary will hold sway with regard to this exclusion from supply.
2. Services by any Court or Tribunal
3. Functions performed by the Members of Parliament, etc., duties by persons holding Constitutional office or duties performed in a body of the Government
4. Services of funeral, burial, crematorium or mortuary, etc.
5. Sale of land and sale of completed buildings. Care must be taken NOT to assume every transaction involving immovable property is without this exclusion. Also 'sale' means 'absolute sale' and not sales via GPA or other instrument.
6. Actionable claims (other than lottery, betting and gambling)
7. Supply of goods from a place in the non-taxable territory to another place in the non-taxable territory without such goods entering into India.
8. (a) Supply of warehoused goods to any person before clearance for home consumption;
- (b) Supply of goods by the consignee to any other person, by endorsement of documents of title to the goods, after the goods have been dispatched from the port of origin located outside India but before clearance for home consumption.

⁹ Deleted vide Finance Act, 2021 from 1st Jan., 2022.

It needs to be noted that while laying down that certain 'activities or transactions' will be treated neither as supply of goods nor supply of services, the word 'supply' is used. If these activities or transactions WILL NOT amount to supply, it is wondered why the word supply is used in listing them. This drafting approach would imply that (a) these transactions would be a supply in the normal course of the definition of supply but for this exclusion and (b) while any TREATMENT is to be given under section 9 or 17 or other provision, value of these activities or transactions will be EXCLUDED from such TREATMENT.

When it is so understood, the transactions listed in Schedule III would also be liable for disclosure and reporting in GST returns. For eg., Table 5 in GSTR-9 clearly requires disclosure of activities or transactions that are 'no supply' for scrutiny of compliance by tax administration.

(101) "securities" shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in clause (h) of section 2 of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956;

Section 2(h) of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956 provides an inclusive definition to the term "securities", listing the following—

- (i) shares, scrips, stocks, bonds, debentures, debenture stock or other marketable securities of a like nature in or of any incorporated company or other body corporate;
 - (ia) derivative;
 - (ib) units or any other instrument issued by any collective investment scheme to the investors in such schemes;
 - (ic) security receipt as defined in clause (zg) of section 2 of the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002;
 - (id) units or any other such instrument issued to the investors under any mutual fund scheme;
- (ii) Government securities;
 - (iia) such other instruments as may be declared by the Central Government to be securities; and
 - (iib) rights or interest in securities.

Securities have a very expansive definition and must be differentiated from financial contractual arrangements. [Examples are commodity futures, interest swaps, etc.] Securities are neither treated as goods nor as services, by way of a specific exclusion in the respective definitions. Contracts where there is 'no intention to deliver' may also come within the definition of securities but not when they are private arrangements where the question of 'intention to deliver' is not reliably documented, may be liable to GST on the advances and on settlement, as applicable.

For this reason, 'securities' would not be included within the meaning of 'non-taxable supplies' which are in turn included within the meaning of 'exempt supplies'. Therefore, for the limited purpose of restricting input tax credits, the meaning of exempt supplies would include 'securities', and therefore, input tax credit attributable to transactions in securities would be liable for reversal.

The term 'securities' is dynamic as can be seen from the definition borrowed from SCRA where any instrument is recognized by SEBI would become securities if the intention is not to supply the underlying article. For example Forward contract in commodities.

(102) "services" means anything other than goods, money and securities but includes activities relating to the use of money or its conversion by cash or by any other mode, from one form, currency or denomination, to another form, currency or denomination for which a separate consideration is charged;

The express 'exclusion of goods' implies its inclusion within the definition of services. Therefore, understanding the exact scope and boundaries of the definition of goods is required to recognize all those transactions or activities that would fall under the meaning of 'services', on being left out of the definition of 'goods'. Transactions in money (other than its conversion) are excluded both from the definition of goods and from the definition of services. 'Anything' includes everything and leaves nothing – services includes goods and for this reason 'other than goods' appears in the definition. But for such exclusion it would have been included. And services include immovable property as well. Transactions involving immovable property to the extent excluded by Paragraph 5, Schedule III only. All other transactions involving immovable property comes squarely within the scope of the expression 'services'.

Service charges such as processing fees, documentation fees, broking charges or any other fees or charges are charged in relation to transactions in securities; the same would be a consideration for provision of service and hence chargeable to GST. Services is therefore not a verb but a noun. As such, there is no need to search for the activity performed in a transaction involving services but sufficient to note that if it is not goods then it will be services. This manner of drafting the definition that allows tax to be imposed on transactions of tolerating an act or abstaining from an act is found in Paragraph 5(e), Schedule II.

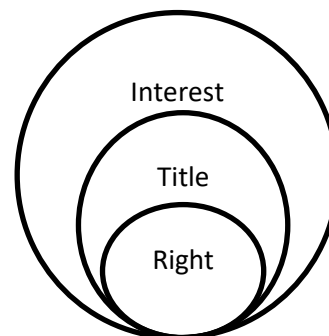

The following aspects need to be noted:

- The word "anything" appears to convey something very vast like "everything", i.e., services means everything that is not goods and is not specifically excluded (such as money, securities, transactions specified in Schedule III, etc.)
- Schedule II of the CGST Act lists the matters which shall be regarded as a supply of goods, or supply of services.
- The GST law empowers the Government to require treatment of supply of notified goods as supply of services, and vice versa.

¹⁰ Inserted vide The Central Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018 w.e.f. 01.02.2019

It would be appropriate to briefly discuss certain concepts of 'immovable property' as application of these concepts is relied upon in various other places:

- Immovable property is not defined in the Transfer of Property Act, 1882. Reference must be had to section 3(26) of General Clauses Act, 1897 and to section 2(6) of Indian Registration Act, 1908 to understand the definition. Hon'ble Madras High Court held in Mohammed Ibrahim v. Northern Circars Fibre Trading (AIR 1944 Mad 492) that these two statutes are in pari materia with TP Act and ignoring the definitions in these statutes will be wrong in the absence of a clear bar in doing so.

- Immovable property may seem to be well understood, but consider this – do we understand what 'intangible immovable properties' are. Land and building is a common image that comes to mind when we think about immovable properties but that is not all. Rights, title and interests 'in' immovable properties are also immovable properties themselves. Consider the following table where (i) 'right' is a sub-set of 'title' and title holder will definitely have all the rights but one who has one or other right need not have title over the property (ii) interest lies outside these spheres where it traverses 'title' and 'rights' and still not both such that one who has 'interest' in immovable property may still not have 'title' and therefore his 'rights' may be limited and not identifiable with specific rights and (iii) understanding rights is important due to the implication that a contract conferring rights such as easement rights or mining rights or forest lease or excavation rights or rights to take forest produce or right to draw water or development rights or agency coupled with interest or other such rights that are created by contract and taxable as supply of goods or as services. But all these may still be inferior to 'absolute sale' (of land or of completed building) and not be saved by Schedule III.
- It is important to understand the nature of 'rights'. There are 'rights' and 'rights to rights'. Rights comprise of four components (i) one who has the right (ii) one against whom those rights exist (one person or world at large) (iii) object over which those rights exist and (iv) the title giving the extent or limits of those rights.
- Rights are (a) acquired (b) derived and (c) extinguished. It is important to trace back every right to the point when it came to be vested. Rights may exist but only when they come to irrevocably reside as a 'right' (with all four components listed above) will they be indefeasible rights as discussed in Eicher Motors Ltd. v. Union of India (1999) 106 ELT 3 (SC). Rights 'not yet vested' can be taken away by (i) operation of law or (ii) lapse of time being inaction during the time prescribed. Perfection of rights is called 'vesting of rights'. Vesting conditions may be (a) actions by party or (b) events specified in law. Failure of these vesting conditions vitiates those rights and the benefit underlying those rights that do not flow to the party will flow back to the Government, which was allowing this benefit.

- Not all time limits are to be understood as 'limitation'; some time limits operate as 'prescription'. Limitation is where the right to enforce something (say, claim of export refund within 2 years) will be lost although the right itself will remain (input tax credit on exports will remain and be available for utilization). The prescription is whether the right itself will be lost. When a valuable right is lost, it is called 'extinctive prescription' and it results in the underlying value flowing to the person against whom such right would be exercisable, that is, the Government. And when the right is lost, the Government acquires the right; it is called 'acquisitive prescription'. These are two sides to one event that operates as a prescription.
- The definition of 'immovable property' examined from various statutes are arranged in a tabular manner hereunder for a better understanding of the different groups of properties in each definition:

- Now examine the extent of change brought about in these definitions by the inclusion of "...growing crops, grass and things attached to or forming part of the land..." in the definition of 'goods' in CGST Act. There will be some realignment required (shown by arrow marks) in the way we apply the definitions from these time-tested statutes in the context of GST law. In the light of these 'realigned definitions' from substantive laws, consider the discussion below with regard to various forms that 'immovable property' takes.

- Land is one of the examples of immovable property. There are many other examples that comprise the entire universe that makes up immovable property. Land is not the same as immovable property.
- When land is sold along with fruit bearing trees on it, it is to be seen if the trees are to be severed from the land or not. If not, the land will include the trees and the sale deed will be made for the land along with all things attached to it. But if the trees have to be severed and sold, then it is not a deed for sale of land but sale of timber from those trees. And this would be supply of goods and not sale of land (covered by Schedule III).
- Land and benefits arising from land are not one and the same because while retaining the land, benefits arising from land can be transferred and conveyed. So, it is important to understand land and these 'benefits arising' from land as two different species of immovable property. For eg., fruit bearing tree is immovable property and fruits from that tree are 'benefits arising' from that immovable property..
- 'Benefits arising' can be past or future. That is, benefits 'to' arise out of land is different from benefits which have 'already' arisen on the land. If the benefits have 'already' arisen on the land, then they are goods due to the specific definition in section 2(52) of CSGT Act. And if they are benefit 'to' arise out of land, then they are not goods and hence, they are services in terms of the definition in section 2(102) of CGST Act. In respect of crops, the definition in CGST will prevail over the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act due to the express inclusion.
- The 'benefits arising' can be other than crops also. Any benefit that is 'inextricably' due to land will be such kind of 'benefits arising' from land. For eg., iron ore, sand, diamonds, etc. Reserves in mother Earth are also 'benefits arising' from land because they have to be 'extracted'. It is also called 'winning/extracting of minerals'. Though mineral deposits must already be existing in the earth, it is still referred in future tense because it cannot be known until they are actually mined. Such 'benefits arising' from land are 'to' arise and hence immovable property (or services) not 'already' arisen to be called movable property (or goods). This interpretation flows from the decision rendered in State of Orissa v. Titagarh Paper Mills Co. Ltd AIR 1985 SC 1293.
- Equipment installed and erected at site may or may not be immovable property. Under Central Excise law, the test has been 'purpose of affixation' and under Sales tax, the test has been 'dismantling without substantial damage'. Based on the three limbs to the definition of 'attached to the earth' in section 3 of TP Act, it appears that if the attachment (of equipment) is for beneficial enjoyment of the land (or building), then the equipment becomes immovable property itself. But, if the attachment is for the beneficial enjoyment of the equipment then, the equipment remains movable property. These principles were expounded in Subramaniam Chettiar v. Chidambaram Servai AIR 1940 Mad 527 and reiterated in CCE v. Solid and Correct Engineering Works 2010 (252) ELT 481 (SC).

- All immovable properties are not tangible. There are intangible immovable properties too. A certain immovable property may itself be tangible but certain rights or interest 'in' such immovable property may be intangible. For eg., where a tenant has right to let-out the property to a sub-tenant, that right or interest that the tenant has 'in' the property is an intangible immovable property.
- Standing timber, growing crops or grass are EXCLUDED from the interpretation clause in Transfer of Property Act from the scope of 'immovable property'. But, section 2(52) of CGST Act includes 'growing crops, grass and things attached to or forming part of the land which are agreed to be severed before supply or under a contract of supply' within the definition of 'goods'. This needs to be reconciled as follows:
 - Landowner selling fruits grown in his own land. Landowner allowing a fruit-seller to enter and pluck fruits grown by the landowner is also a case of sale of 'benefits arising' from land which is goods (fruits) in this case. Landowner who allows this fruit-seller for the next 5 years to enter and harvest fruits that would be grown is a case of sale of 'rights to BAOL' which is service (fruits-in-future) in this case.
 - Fruit-seller can retain the 5 year contract and make annual payments towards supply of services by the landowner or he may sub-license or transfer the 'rights to those benefits' that have not yet arisen from land and are agreed (by parties) to arise in future years (refer earlier discussion about 'rights' and 'rights to rights'). Note that goods (fruits being 'benefits to arise') are exempt from GST but services (fruits-in-future being "rights to BAOL") are not exempt from GST.
 - Growing crops is included in the definition of 'goods' but the key phrase in this definition is "which are agreed to be severed". Where there is an agreement to 'sever' the benefits that have arisen in the process, fully from land, then even though it is still growing, it is goods that are 'agreed to be supplied' which is taxable (Shantabai v. State of Bombay AIR 1958 SC 532).
 - Standing crop is crop that is no longer growing and is now fit for harvesting. Therefore, growing crop is clearly goods if it is included in any transaction. For eg., where a 100 acre land with silver oak trees is given on 5-year lease, it will be a case of lease of land if the condition is to return that land 'in original condition' with all those trees. But, if that lease is given for 6-months with the condition to return the land only, then obviously it is a case of sale of trees and the consideration is paid for felling those trees and taking them away (Mahabir Prasad v. Enayat Elahi AIR 1951 All 608).
- Given that 'benefits that have already arisen' from land may be movable property (taxable as goods) or immovable property (taxable as services), 'rights to benefits arising out of land' will always be immovable property (taxable as services). Sufficient to mention concept of 'profit a prendre' that is understood under Indian Easements Act, 1882 which is also called 'right of taking' something from the land. It may be noted that fruits are 'benefits arising' from land but the 'right to future benefits' (yet to arise from land) with the permission to continuously take away fruits-in-future (Anand Behara v. State of Orissa AIR 1956 SC 17).

- Hereditary allowances, rights to ways, lights, ferries and fisheries are also listed in section 2(6) of the Indian Registration Act, 1908 which requires more careful study of these immovable properties and contrast all of them with the limited exclusion in Para 5 of Schedule III of CGST Act for a better appreciation of the scope of 'services' in CGST Act.

(103) "State" includes a Union territory with Legislature;

Each State derives its respective meaning provided in the First Schedule to the Constitution of India. There are 28 States and 8 Union Territories in India. Of the 8 Union Territories, Delhi and Puducherry have Legislatures of their own. Therefore, for the GST law, by the expression 'State', Delhi and Puducherry, though Union Territories, will be included.

(104) "State tax" means the tax levied under any State Goods and Services Tax Act;

Tax levied under the State GST laws is referred to as "State tax". State tax is that component of GST that is levied on intra-State supplies by the State Governments (or the Legislatures of Delhi and Puducherry), under the respective State-specific GST laws.

(105) "supplier" in relation to any goods or services or both, shall mean the person supplying the said goods or services or both and shall include an agent acting as such on behalf of such supplier in relation to the goods or services or both supplied;

The reference to whom the meaning of the term 'supplier' is applied is a 'person', as against 'taxable person' or 'registered person'. This is because the law does not keep persons who are not liable to tax under GST, outside the scope of this term. For instance, in case of purchases from unregistered persons, who are not liable for registration, they would also be treated as suppliers, while the recipient of the supply is liable to pay tax on reverse charge basis if such recipient is registered.

Agents supplying on behalf of the supplier are also included within the meaning of 'supplier'. This is to ensure that invoices raised by the agent on behalf of the supplier for effecting sales on his behalf qualify as valid invoices, as if they were issued by the supplier himself.

(106) "tax period" means the period for which the return is required to be furnished;

Given that the term 'return' is not limited to any particular return, the term tax period can also vary for each return prescribed under the law. A 'tax period' would ordinarily be the calendar months (or quarters ending on the last dates of March, June, September and December in case of composition suppliers).

This definition assumes great significance in the context of tax compliance. Consider if tax arrears of a certain month can be paid out of credits in a future month by delaying the reporting of outward supply until the time when credits become available. Tax compliance cannot be viewed on an annualized basis but for each tax period.

Taxpayers assume that taxes need to be collected and paid for the 'financial year' such that set-on and set-off adjustment is carried out within the months in the given financial year. But GST law is very clear as section 59 provides that for 'each' tax period the liability must be discharged.

Further, when appeals are to be filed, appeal in respect of each 'tax period' would be required. Clue can be taken from the adjudication order numbering which will clearly indicate that each 'tax period' is adjudicated individually.

(107) "taxable person" means a person who is registered or liable to be registered under section 22 or section 24;

Every 'supplier' shall be liable to be registered under the GST law in the State (or Union territory) from where he makes any taxable supply of goods or services or both, if his aggregate turnover in a financial year exceeds the specified limit (₹ 20 Lacs or ₹ 10 Lacs / ₹ 40 lacs in case of persons dealing only in goods – refer section 22 for details). A person will become a taxable person if he attracts section 9(1) or 9(5). But a non-taxable person will become liable to registration even if he attracts section 9(3) or 9(4) and on default under section 79(1)(vi).

The following persons (amongst others) are also compulsorily required to obtain registration, whether or not their turnover exceeds the threshold limit:

- Non-resident taxable persons, casual taxable persons making any taxable supply
- Persons making any inter-State taxable supply;
- Recipients of supplies of goods or services that are notified for tax on reverse charge basis;
- Persons such as agents who make taxable supplies on behalf of other taxable persons;
- Electronic commerce operator and persons effecting supplies through them;
- Person supplying OIDAR services from a place outside India to an unregistered person in India.

Care must be taken not to interchange 'taxable person' with 'business entity'. Business entity is an expression that is very commonly found in GST notifications, especially, in Notification No.13/2017-CT(R) dated 28.06.2017 on RCM. Here, it must be noted that any inquiry must be limited to whether or not the person (legal entity) is engaged in 'business' as defined in section 2(17) with all its expansions and fictions. There is a definition that we can find in clause 2(n) but under Notification 12/2017-CT(R) dated 28.06.2017 "(n) "business entity" means any person carrying out business;" which throws some light. It is not to be examined whether or not the person is registered but the activities must come within the definition of business even if the person is not registered which may be due to threshold limit in section 22. A person who is not engaged in business but registered for payment of GST under section 9(3) may hardly be able to stay out of being considered to be a 'business entity'. And tax payment under 9(3) is itself required when the specified inward supplies are to the 'business entity'. The fact that a person is registered for discharging tax under section 9(3) itself operates as a presumption about being a business entity. Registration for purposes of section 9(4) is required by a person who is registered and therefore, the question of examining whether such a person is a business entity or not may be only of academic interest.

Attention must be paid to the fact that 'taxable person' is not same as 'registered person' [section 2(94)] as every taxable person is made liable to pay tax under section 9(1) but only a registered person is eligible to claim input tax credit under section 16(1). Unless the taxable person obtains registration, output tax liability will remain but without benefit of input tax credit.

(108) "taxable supply" means a supply of goods or services or both which is leviable to tax under this Act;

For a transaction to qualify as a taxable supply, the following components are compulsory:

- The transaction must involve either goods or services, or both of them;
- Such goods or services should not be specified under Schedule III (neither a supply of goods nor a supply of services);
- The transaction should fall within the meaning of 'supply' in terms of section 7 of the CGST Act;
- The supply should be leviable to GST i.e., it should not be covered within the meaning of 'non-taxable supply' as defined under section 2(78) i.e., alcoholic liquor for human consumption. This implies that supplies enjoying a full exemption from tax by way of an exemption notification would also be treated as taxable supplies.

The expression 'taxable supply' must be distinguished from 'taxable goods or services'. One may refer to its usage in section 51 versus section 52. When the expression used is 'taxable supply', then even when exempt, it would come within the said definition. But not so, when the expression used is 'taxable goods or services'. Care must be taken not to view these seemingly similar expressions as synonymous. Section 51 uses the expression 'taxable goods or services or both' whereas section 52 uses the expression 'taxable supplies'.

(109) "taxable territory" means the territory to which the provisions of this Act apply;

The scope of taxable territory extends to the whole of India. As such, high sea sales and merchanting trade transactions (eg., buy from China and directly ship to Germany) are transactions of any one 'taxable person' (of the same legal entity) but occurring outside taxable territory. As the words appearing in section 7(5)(a) are 'supplier located in India' and not 'location of supplier is in India', such transactions occurring beyond the taxable territory of India would also be inter-State supplies but non-taxable as the levy is not attracted. Any taxable person would fit in the expression 'supplier located in India' meaning the 'person who supplies' and not the consignor (in China). One will have to note this subtle difference in the wordings in section 7 of IGST Act

(110) “telecommunication service” means service of any description (including electronic mail, voice mail, data services, audio text services, video text services, radio paging and cellular mobile telephone services) which is made available to users by means of any transmission or reception of signs, signals, writing, images and sounds or intelligence of any nature, by wire, radio, visual or other electromagnetic means;

The scope of the term ‘telecommunication service’ is so vast that it covers services starting from the landline facility for making calls, text messages, voice messages, communication through media such as WhatsApp, Skype, etc., to services provided by Gmail, yahoo, etc.

(111) “the State Goods and Services Tax Act” means the respective State Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017;

The SGST Act means that SGST Act of the relevant State (or Delhi or Puducherry or Jammu & Kashmir), as the case may be, which provides for levy and collection of tax on all intra-State supplies of goods or services or both (except alcoholic liquor for human consumption), i.e., the supply of goods or services or both where the location of the supplier and the place of supply as determined under Chapter V of the IGST Act are located within the same State. Upon passing of the GST law in each of the “States”, there would be 28 SGST Acts in India and 3 Union Territories with Legislature acting as a State.

(112) “turnover in State” or “turnover in Union territory” means the aggregate value of all taxable supplies (excluding the value of inward supplies on which tax is payable by a person on reverse charge basis) and exempt supplies made within a State or Union territory by a taxable person, exports of goods or services or both and inter-State supplies of goods or services or both made from the State or Union territory by the said taxable person but excludes central tax, State tax, Union territory tax, integrated tax and cess;

The expression ‘turnover in State’ (or UT) is a replica of the expression ‘aggregate turnover’, but for the fact that ‘turnover in State’ is restricted to the turnover of a taxable person, as opposed to aggregate turnover which is PAN-based (i.e., all taxable persons having the same PAN, across States). The following aspects may be taken note of :

- Payment of tax under composition scheme: The tax rate will be applicable on the ‘turnover in State’ particular to a taxable person, which should be paid by him in the State in which he has obtained registration;
- Distribution of input tax credit by an ISD: In case of the distribution of credit that is attributable to two or more units of the person, the credit shall be distributed amongst such units on a pro rata basis (i.e., ratio of their respective ‘turnover in State’ to the aggregate of the ‘turnover in State’ of all such units).
- Turnover in State includes ‘all’ taxable supplies which include exempt supplies. When tax is being paid under section 10 on ‘turnover in State’, the composition rate will have to be applied not on the supplies in respect of which composition is allowed but also other supplies included as ‘all taxable supplies’ in the State of the each distinct person.

(113) “usual place of residence” means—

- (a) in case of an individual, the place where he ordinarily resides;
- (b) in other cases, the place where the person is incorporated or otherwise legally constituted;

The expression ‘usual place of residence’ comes of use to determine the location of supplier/ recipient of services where no other location is relatable to the supply/ receipt of service.

(114) “Union territory” means the territory of—

- (a) the Andaman and Nicobar Islands;
- (b) Lakshadweep;
- ¹¹[(c) Dadra and Nagar Haveli and Daman and Diu];
- (d) [Ladakh]¹¹;
- (e) Chandigarh; and
- (f) Other territory.

Explanation. —For the purposes of this Act, each of the territories specified in sub-clauses (a) to (f) shall be considered to be a separate Union territory;

All the Union Territories and “other territory” (as defined in section 2(81) supra) in India will be governed under the UTGST Act, except Delhi and Puducherry. Given that the said two UTs have a Legislature, they will be regarded as ‘States’ for the purpose of GST, and will be governed by their respective SGST laws, instead of the UTGST law. Note that the UT of Ladakh after the J&K Reorganization Act, 2019 has come into force from 31st Oct 2019. UT of Jammu will have its own Legislature and therefore, UTGST Act would not apply to the UT of Jammu but will apply to UT of Ladakh. However, Jammu and Ladakh will both be UTs and not a State for the purposes of this clause.

(115) “Union territory tax” means the Union territory goods and services tax levied under the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act;

It refers to the tax charged under the UTGST Act on intra-State supply of goods or services or both (i.e., supplies effected within a Union Territory not having a Legislature), in addition to the tax levied under the CGST law. The rate of UT tax is capped at 20%, and will be notified by the Central Government based on the recommendation of the GST Council.

(116) “Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act” means the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017;

The UTGST Act provides for levy and collection of tax on all intra-State supplies of goods or services or both (except alcoholic liquor for human consumption), i.e., the supply of goods or services or both where the location of the supplier and the place of supply as determined under Chapter V of the IGST Act are located within the same UT.

(117) “valid return” means a return furnished under sub-section (1) of section 39 on which self-assessed tax has been paid in full;

The term ‘valid return’ is attributable only to the monthly return in Form GSTR-3B or quarterly return in case of QRMP scheme, to be filed by every registered person (except a composition supplier, non-resident taxable person, ISD, person liable to deduct tax at source and person liable to collect tax at source). The return will be treated as a valid return only where the tax liability determined in the return is fully remitted. Refer to the discussion under section 61 regarding ‘elements’ of a valid return.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- The law mandates that the liability determined in the returns of previous months’ must be discharged prior to discharging the liability determined in the returns of current month;
- Input tax credit will become available to the recipient only if the return furnished by the supplier is a ‘valid return’.

(118) “voucher” means an instrument where there is an obligation to accept it as consideration or part consideration for a supply of goods or services or both and where the goods or services or both to be supplied or the identities of their potential suppliers are either indicated on the instrument itself or in related documentation, including the terms and conditions of use of such instrument;

‘Voucher’, for the purposes of GST, necessarily means that instrument which should be accepted as consideration (wholly or partly) for a supply. Therefore, a voucher is an asset (money’s worth) for the recipient, and without a recipient, a ‘voucher’ would lose its meaning. Therefore, in a case of a supplier issuing a voucher to a recipient of goods, on his making a purchase from the supplier, the voucher is not being viewed as an additional outcome of the supply made to the recipient. Rather, it is an instrument that can be used in place of money (or other consideration) which can be used on effecting yet another inward supply. E.g., coupons, tokens, promo-codes, etc.

However, where the supply is identifiable at the time of issue of voucher, the tax should be remitted for the month in which the voucher is issued, as if it were an advance received for a supply to be made at a future date.

Reference may be had to the discussion in the context of money under section 2(75) about Payments and Settlement Systems Act, 2007 where RBI is authorized to issue pre-paid instruments (PPIs) apart from Indian legal tender to be used to settle obligations to pay consideration. All vouchers are not money if they are not so recognized by the RBI and if the vouchers are recognized by RBI then they will take the character of money.

Reference may be had to the discussion in the context of time of supply under section 12(4)/13(4) for a detailed discussion on the types of vouchers and implications in GST.

(119) "works contract" means a contract for building, construction, fabrication, completion, erection, installation, fitting out, improvement, modification, repair, maintenance, renovation, alteration or commissioning of any immovable property wherein transfer of property in goods (whether as goods or in some other form) is involved in the execution of such contract;

The expression 'works contract' is limited to contracts in relation to immoveable properties, unlike the understanding of the phrase under the erstwhile law which also extended to moveable property. A contract will amount to a 'works contract' only where the resultant is immovable properties. Transactions resulting in movable property, however, would be treated as a 'composite supply' of goods or services depending on the principal supply. Refer analysis under section 8.

The 14 adjectives used in the definition of works contract are neither exhaustive nor limiting the scope of works contract. Conspicuous by their absence are adjectives like manufacture, assembly, printing and so on. As stated earlier the presence of certain objectives of the absence of certain others limit the scope of what works contract is under GST. If the result is bringing into existence of immovable property, then the supply is a works contract. Obviously, pre-existing immovable property being involved in a transaction will be saved to the extent of Para 5, Schedule III. Refer the detailed discussion about the concept of immovable property along with services under section 2(102).

For GST law, works contract as defined above will be treated as a supply of service, thereby bringing the debate to a close on the methodology of segregating the works contract between goods and services. Due to treatment as a supply of services, transactions such as sales returns, cancellation, non-approval of work done, carrying forward of work-in-progress, etc. are faced with restrictions in GST as no provision appears to be made to accommodate such transactions which are akin to goods even when works contracts are treated as supply of services.

(120) words and expressions used and not defined in this Act but defined in the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act and the Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act shall have the same meaning as assigned to them in those Acts;

Certain words and expressions like exports, import, etc. defined in the IGST/ UTGST/ Compensation laws as are used under the CGST law will have the same meaning as assigned in such laws.

(121) any reference in this Act to a law which is not in force in the State of Jammu and Kashmir, shall, in relation to that State be construed as a reference to the corresponding law, if any, in force in that State.

From the extant-clause provided in Section 1 of the CGST Act, the CGST Act is now applicable in the State of Jammu and Kashmir. Wherever a reference to another law is drawn in the CGST Act, (say reference to the Service tax laws), for the State of Jammu and Kashmir, such a reference should be understood as a reference to the corresponding operational law in the State (i.e., the Jammu and Kashmir General Sales Tax Act, 1962).

3. OFFICERS UNDER THIS ACT

The Government shall, by notification, appoint the following classes of officers for the purposes of this Act, namely: —

- (a) Principal Chief Commissioners of Central Tax or Principal Directors General of Central Tax,
- (b) Chief Commissioners of Central Tax or Directors General of Central Tax,
- (c) Principal Commissioners of Central Tax or Principal Additional Directors General of Central Tax,
- (d) Commissioners of Central Tax or Additional Directors General of Central Tax
- (e) Additional Commissioners of Central Tax or Additional Directors of Central Tax
- (f) Joint Commissioners of Central Tax or Joint Directors of Central Tax
- (g) Deputy Commissioners of Central Tax or Deputy Directors of Central Tax
- (h) Assistant Commissioners of Central Tax or Assistant Directors of Central Tax and
- (i) Any other class of officers as it may deem fit:

PROVIDED that the officers appointed under the Central Excise Act, 1944 shall be deemed to be the officers appointed under the provisions of this Act.

3.1 Introduction

The CGST Act confers powers for performing various statutory functions on various officers. Officers who are to discharge these functions derive their power and authority from section 3. It is therefore necessary for the efficient administration of the law that often authority be conferred on designated persons who will be the incumbents occupying positions identified in the law as being the authorized persons to discharge the said functions.

3.2 Analysis

Specific categories of officers have been named in this section whose appointment requires notification by the Government. Notifications issued under this section are not required to be laid before the Parliament as 'laying before Parliament' is a requirement limited only to exemption notifications and not designating officers under section 3. Only recently, the Central Excise Act has been amended perhaps to align itself in the administrative framework in view of the introduction of GST. Accordingly, Officers under the Central Excise Act are deemed to be officers appointed under this Act.

Also, the Government has notified a post of Joint Commissioner (Appeals). This is significant because there are three ranks of officers of Central Tax who will operate as First Appellate Authority and pecuniary limits may be prescribed for each. The Second Appellate Authority will continue to be the Tribunal.

Statutory Provision

4. APPOINTMENT OF OFFICERS

- (1) The Board may, in addition to the officers as may be notified by the Government under section 3, appoint such persons as it may think fit to be the officers under this Act.
- (2) Without prejudice to the provisions of sub-section (1), the Board may, by order, authorise any officer referred to in clauses (a) to (h) of section 3 to appoint officers of central tax below the rank of Assistant Commissioner of central tax for the administration of this Act.

4.1 Introduction

All statutory functions cannot be performed by the executive officers. There is a necessity to appoint administrative staff to assist the executive officers.

4.2 Analysis

The power to appoint executive officers remains with the Government but the authority to appoint administrative staff is left to the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs constituted under the Central Boards of Revenue Act, 1963 (Board in brief). The administrative staff make up the entire working team also called as 'field formations'. While the authority to appoint administrative staff is vested with the Board, express provision is made to permit officers under section 3 to appoint, certain administrative staff for the purposes of Central Tax.

This provision enables an executive order issued by (say) Principal Chief Commissioner or Principal Director-General or any subordinate officer to immediately confer the status of administrative staff on the erstwhile field formations for purposes of Central Tax.

Statutory Provision5. POWERS OF OFFICERS

- (1) Subject to such conditions and limitations as the Board may impose, an officer of central tax may exercise the powers and discharge the duties conferred or imposed on him under this Act.
- (2) An officer of central tax may exercise the powers and discharge the duties conferred or imposed under this Act on any other officer of central tax who is subordinate to him.
- (3) The Commissioner may, subject to such conditions and limitations as may be specified in this behalf by him, delegate his powers to any other officer who is subordinate to him.
- (4) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, an Appellate Authority shall not exercise the powers and discharge the duties conferred or imposed on any other officer of central tax.

5.1 Introduction

Delgatus potest non delegare : The delegate must himself exercise the powers conferred on him and cannot sub-delegate the same. While this is true on the principles of construction of statutes, the very law that creates the power also empowers creation of exception to this principle.

5.2 Analysis

An officer duly appointed under this Act needs to be provided with guidance as regards the manner of exercise of his authority including the boundaries for the same.

Apart from the boundaries laid down, very interestingly, power of sub-delegation is conferred on officers of Central Tax. It may be noted that in the event of sub-delegation, the duty to provide superintendence is implicit. While sub-delegation appears to subvert the course of administrative power, in the wisdom of the lawmaker the liberty to sub-delegate can, at least be enabled in such a historical and hard-to-amend legislation. It would be interesting to see how this power would be exercised without causing too much dilution and subversion. All the administrative flexibility provided or at least enabled have been wisely limited to the executive officers and not the appellate authorities.

Statutory Provision6. AUTHORISATION OF OFFICERS OF STATE TAX OR UNION TERRITORY TAX AS PROPER OFFICER IN CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES

- (1) Without prejudice to the provisions of this Act, the officers appointed under the State Goods and Services Tax Act or the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act are authorised to be the proper officers for the purposes of this Act, subject to such conditions as the Government shall, on the recommendations of the Council, by notification, specify.

- (2) Subject to the conditions specified in the notification issued under sub-section (1), —
- (a) where any proper officer issues an order under this Act, he shall also issue an order under the State Goods and Services Tax Act or the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act, as authorised by the State Goods and Services Tax Act or the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act, as the case may be, under intimation to the jurisdictional officer of State tax or Union territory tax;
- (b) where a proper officer under the State Goods and Services Tax Act or the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act has initiated any proceedings on a subject matter, no proceedings shall be initiated by the proper officer under this Act on the same subject matter.
- (3) Any proceedings for rectification, appeal and revision, wherever applicable, of any order passed by an officer appointed under this Act shall not lie before an officer appointed under the State Goods and Services Tax Act or the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act.

6.1 Introduction

With similarities in the taxing base, it is necessary to develop a mechanism to avoid duplication of tax administration by officers of Central Tax and by officers of State /UT Tax.

6.2 Analysis

For the purposes of administration of this Act, it is permitted to authorise officers of State/UT Tax to be the officer of Central Tax too simultaneously . It is interesting to note that officers of State/UT Tax do not relinquish their authority but accept additional authority as officers of Central Tax. However, to do so requires the recommendations of the Council and adherence to the conditions that the Government may impose in this regard.

In order to avoid overlapping of administrative power, it is provided that an officer in respect of central tax is required to duly exercise his authority even in respect of State/UT Tax where the executive action is in respect of the same taxing base. In so doing, the officer of central tax is required to intimate the officer of State/UT Tax in respect of all his actions. Further administrative power has been invoked by the officer of the State/UT Tax in any proceeding; such action will preclude the officer of central tax from exercising any administrative power in respect of transactions covered by the said proceedings.

The officer who has exercised administrative power in any proceeding will continue to be the forum to entertain appeals, rectification or revision applications in respect of that matter until it is concluded. This will not result in competition for tax administration but enable clear and unambiguous jurisdiction in respect of each proceeding. Industry will closely examine who will exercise administrative power without causing duplication in appearing before tax administration for GST compliance.

It may be noted that this provision enabling mutual allocation of administrative power between officers of central tax and officers of State/UT Tax opens with the words “Without prejudice”.

As such the provisions conferring power to officers of central tax will not be in derogation of the provisions enabling its mutual allocation. In other words, there may be duplication of powers in respect of same taxable persons or same issues involving said taxable persons but no simultaneous exercise of these powers over the same matter so as to cause parallel proceedings. The role of the Council in guiding such mutual allocation is paramount as also the conditions that the Government is authorised to impose in such an exercise.

It is important to examine in every GST proceeding whether the officer initiating the said proceedings is vested with the authority so to do. It is not uncommon that officers are conferred the authority after they have initiated any proceedings. In such a situation, the entire proceedings become illegal and in certain cases cannot be restarted due to supervening circumstances or actions taken.

Acquiescence is an important topic to familiarize ourselves, where a person who is unaware of the lack of authority submits to the proceedings initiated is treated to have acquiesced. Such acquiescence robs the person of the right to subsequently question the lack of authority. A hot contest is on the question as to whether acquiescence can provide legality to a patently illegal action. Tax administration will, however, claim it to be so. This itself requires a careful consideration of the scope of authority being exercised and it does good to raise objections on this issue, if it exists, at the earliest opportunity.

The notifications and circulars referred earlier must be carefully studied to understand the scope and extent as well as limits on the powers conferred. The general rule in section 5(2) that a superior office is empowered to exercise authority vested with the subordinate – does not hold good in all instances. The notification granting the said power must be examined if the powers are conferred on 'an officer of certain rank' or 'officers below the rank'.

The notifications under sections 3 and 5 of CGST Act listed earlier are further detailed in the circulars specifying internal allocation of powers. There are yet other sections where the officers are not notified such as Revisional Authority, Appellate Authority, etc. Care should be taken in considering the limits of authority vested under the Act so as not to contaminate proceedings undertaken in the absence of lawful authority.

Reference may also be had to Circular 1053/2/2017-CX dated 10.03.2017 issued under the earlier law which lays down the entire jurisprudence on administrative discipline to be followed under carrying out administrative functions. Part of this administrative guidance is available in Circular 31/5/2018-GST dated 09.02.2018.

Administrative law states that no person is to be vested with unsupervised authority. All authority (for executive action) flows from our Constitution. Parliament makes laws on subjects permitted in the Constitution. No law can be contrary to our Constitution (ultra vires). Making laws is the exclusive domain of Parliament (and Legislative Assembly of States/UTs as permitted in our Constitution). Administering or carrying out those laws is in the exclusive domain of Executive or Government of the day. Interpreting those laws is the exclusive domain of the Judiciary.

Law includes substantive law as well as procedural law. Both need not be contained in the same statute. Delegation is permitted only if permitted in the Act itself. Delegation cannot be abdication of role of law-making. Delegation must only be to carry out the purposes of the Act.

Delegate (person to whom some authority is delegated) cannot exercise authority beyond the extent it is delegated. Delegation cannot be absolute and unguided. Delegation cannot also be unsupervised. Delegation itself must be 'with limits'. There is a path that the delegate must travel and carry out duties and any deviation will come in for censure.

Exercise of authority excessively as well as failure to exercise authority conferred are both illegal and they come under judicial review. Courts will interfere (not to interpret law but) to call public authority to answer for such excess or failure. Appealing before departmental authorities may not provide relief when the remedy itself lies outside the law (to quash the proceedings or question the authority exercised or failed to exercise) under which administrative departmental authorities are constituted. Refer the discussion on 'judicial review' under section 63 on the remedies available.

GST law knows no such thing as 'spot recovery', that is, recovery on the spot where the (alleged) deviation is noted. India follows the concept of 'rule of law' enshrined in our Constitution. No person can be judge, jury and executioner all by himself. It is for this reason that 'notice' is to be given to the taxable person clearly stating the 'charges'. There can be no "I feel you are liable to pay tax, so pay immediately" approach and especially not in GST. All demands must follow the due process of issuing notice under section 73 or 74 or 76. Only in exceptional cases, order of demand can be passed and that too has some remedy (see sections 63 and 64).

Another remarkable provision is section 108 where orders passed by officer lower in rank than the Revisional Authority, in the 'interests of revenue' can be overturned. This appears to be unwarranted interference by Executive Authorities to upset orders of a quasi-judicial Authority. The remedy of departmental appeal is anyway available under sections 107 and 112.

An interesting provision is section 151¹ (newly substituted) which permits Commissioner or any officer authorized to (i) direct any person (ii) to furnish information relating to 'any' matter (iii) within a certain time and (iv) in a certain form and (v) in certain manner. Experts opine that this is a good example of 'unguided authority' delegated by Legislature that is potentially capable of being exercised with unlimited authority and this makes the delegation 'arbitrary'. It is not necessary that there must be some action taken by the delegate for it to be 'arbitrary' when the provision stands without any guidance or limits or methods or structure. That is sufficient for the provision to be violative of the requirements of valid delegation by Legislature to the Executive. Also it is important to note that such sweeping power is left in the hands of the Commissioner to ensure it is exercised with discretion. It was held in Matajog Dobby v. HC Bhari AIR 1856 SC 44 that "A discretionary power is not necessarily a discriminatory power and abuse of power is not easily to be assumed where the discretion is vested in the Government and not in a minor official".

Reference to any good publication on 'administrative law' can provide much needed insight into the nature of authority given under sections 3 to 6 of CGST Act, manner prescribed in each section for its exercise and limits on such authority.

7.1 Introduction

While the definition of the word 'supply' is inclusive, the Legislature has carefully chosen not to use the word(s) such as “means”, or “means and includes”, “shall mean”, or “shall include”, etc.

¹⁵ Inserted vide The Central Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018 w.e.f. 01st February, 2019

A careful consideration of the above explanation would indicate that the draftsmen were cautious about any transaction of supply that might escape the levy. It is for this reason that despite being exhaustive, the Legislature has used the word “includes”.

A plain reading of the definition of the word ‘supply’ contained in section 7(1) would invite anybody’s attention to the eight words – sale, transfer, barter, exchange, license, rental, lease or disposal. Look at these eight words – they are arranged in descending order. Words two to eight were the subject matter of challenge under the erstwhile State-level VAT laws. This ambiguity has been done away with in the GST laws. These eight words together form a ‘continuum’. The last seven words taper-off in their absoluteness starting from the first of the forms of supply, that is, ‘sale’.

The Model GST law released in June, 2016 had included the meaning of the term ‘supply’ within the clauses of the definition section. However, in GST law, the term ‘supply’ is defined by way of a separate and distinct section. One understands that the meaning attributed to the term “Supply” is of very wide amplitude, but yet, an inclusive one. It must be noted that this term is ordinarily attributable to an ‘outward supply’, unless the context so requires that the term refers to an inward supply – say, in the case of importation of services or in respect of transactions without consideration etc. Many things come within the scope of ‘supply’ but not everything is ‘supply’. Supply too has boundaries and many transactions are excluded from its grasp. This points to a clear understanding that the expression ‘supply’, although inclusively defined, does have a recipe or a set of ingredients that each transaction must be tested against to see if it is or is not a ‘supply’.

The word ‘supply’ could be understood as actual or implied. Implied supplies are governed by the relevant Schedule. The three pillars of a supply would be:

- (a) subject–viz. goods, services or goods treated as services. One cannot find an instance in the GST statute where a supply of services is treated as a supply of goods.
- (b) place of supply–to identify whether the transaction is an inter-State supply or an intra-State supply
- (c) time of supply–where the Legislature specifies ‘when’ the incidence of tax is attracted.

7.2 Analysis

Supply:

(a) Generic meaning of ‘supply’

Supply includes all forms of supply (goods and/ or services) and includes agreeing to supply when the supply is for a consideration and in the course or furtherance of business (as defined under section 7 of the Act). It specifically provides for the inclusion of the following eight classes of transactions:

- (i) Sale
- (ii) Transfer

- (iii) Barter
- (iv) Exchange
- (v) License
- (vi) Rental
- (vii) Lease
- (viii) Disposal

The word 'supply' is all-encompassing, subject to exceptions carved out in the relevant provisions. There are various ingredients that differentiate each of these eight forms of supply. On a careful consideration of the purposeful usage of these eight adjectives to enlist them as 'forms' of supply, it becomes clear that the legislature makes its intention known by the choice of words that are deliberate and unambiguous. However, the definition starts off with the phrase—"For the purpose of this Act", which means that wherever the term supply has been used anywhere in the Act, the meaning should always be derived from section 7 and cannot be substituted by any other understanding of the term 'supply'.

Barter means a "thing or commodity" given "in return of" another. In other words, no value is fixed-viz., barter of wrist watch with a wall clock.

Disposal means distribution, transferring to new hands, extinguishment of control over, forfeit or pass over control to another but in respect of goods that are 'unfit for sale'. Discounted sale cannot be termed as disposal if the articles are still 'fit for sale'.

Transfer means to pass over, convey, relinquish a right, abandon a claim, alienate; each or any of the above acts, lawfully.

An attempt is made hereunder at identifying the characteristics of each of these forms of supply:

Forms of Supply	Two Capable Persons	Consideration in Money (Price)	Willingness to Contract		Delivery of Possession	Permanent alienation	Object of Supply
			Seller	Buyer			Consensus	Identity of Object
								Services	Movable	Immovable
Sale	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	x	✓	NA
Transfer	✓	✓	x	✓	✓	✓	x	✓	✓
Barter	✓	x	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	x
Exchange	✓	x	✓	✓	✓	✓	x	x	✓
License	✓	✓/x	✓	✓	x	x	✓	✓	✓
Rental	✓	✓/x	✓	✓	✓	x	x	✓	x
Lease	✓	✓/x	✓	✓	✓	x	✓	x	✓/x
Disposal	✓	✓	✓	x/✓	✓	✓	x	x/✓	✓	x

On a perusal of the above chart, one may infer that 'supply' is not a boundless word of uncertain meaning. The inclusive part of the opening words in this clause may be understood to include everything that supply is generally understood to be plus the ones that are enlisted. It must be admitted that the general understanding of the word 'supply' is an amalgam of these eight forms of supply.

A brief discussion of the eight forms of supply can be found in the ensuing paragraphs:

- Sale is a lawful, permanent and absolute transfer of ownership of property in goods for money consideration under a valid contract such that no rights are left behind with the transferor;

- Transfer is to lawfully convey property from one person to another. Here, consent of the transferor and capacity of transferee need not be present although all other ingredients of a lawful contract are incumbent;
- Barter is where the consideration is in the form of goods or services (and not in money) for a sale or transfer. So in general, barter in itself is not a supply but the form that consideration takes. But, when barter is called one of the forms of supply, it covers other forms of supply whose consideration is non-monetary. Therefore, barter will involve two supplies and not one. Each of these supplies would need to be examined for its respective taxability;
- Exchange is where consideration is still not in money but in the form of immovable property (CIT v. Motors and General Stores (P) Ltd. AIR 1968 SC 200). Similar to barter, exchange also involves two supplies. Given that land and (completed) building is excluded from supply, exchange would be the supply whose consideration is immovable property. The object of supply itself may be of goods or of services;
- Lease is where possession is transferred along with the right to use immovable property with a duty to care, protect and return subject to normal wear and tear along with consideration in the form of non-recurring premium only or along with recurring rent. Essence of lease is delivery of possession along with user rights; that is the reason why lease is also used in the context of movable property (under the earlier laws). The Supplier of a lease does not have possession and hence does not enjoy the right to use but retains the right to repossess after the term of the lease. Lease is discussed first to contrast it with rental and license;
- License is similar to lease except that possession is not transferred but mere permission to enter and use the property (movable or immovable) is granted along with all other ingredients of a lease. The supplier of a license retains possession of the property during the term of license without the right to use (if license precludes joint use). After expiry of the term of license or on termination of license, the licensee will be a trespasser;
- Rental is a lease in respect of movable property. Since recurring payment in lease (of immovable property) is called rental, transfer of possession with user rights for recurring payment of consideration is interchangeably applied for movable and immovable property;
- Disposal is sale or transfer of property that does not possess merchantable warranty. Articles that are not merchantable are not 'fit for sale' but trade does take place for the reason that the supplier disposes the article without ascribing any worth but the recipient accepts the article for some intrinsic worth that he is able to extract or obtain. Article that does not answer to its description cannot normally bring a valid contract into existence but due to respective motivation of each party, such articles are lawfully disposed off. In other words, although there is no consensus as to the object of the supply, the parties are consenting to enter into such a contract for the respective reasons and considerations.

Any attempt at expanding this list of eight forms of supply, in case of goods, must be attempted with great caution. Attempting to find other forms of supply in the normal course did not yield the desired results. However, transactions that do not amount to supply have been discovered viz., transactions in the nature of an assignment where one person steps into the shoes of another, appears to slip away from the scope of supply, as well as transactions where goods are destroyed without a transfer of any kind taking place. Perhaps, the case of destruction of goods is not included within the meaning of 'supply' considering that the input tax credit in respect of destroyed goods is a blocked credit. However, the contradiction may continue until a clarification is issued to state whether the blocked credits is in respect of goods that have been destroyed before taking such credits, or is applicable even in case where goods are destroyed after the credits have been availed in respect of such goods.

Now looking at 'services', we find that the adjectives used to list the eight forms of supply in this clause are akin to transactions involving goods and not services. Services other than licensing, rental and leasing services have not been specifically included in the meaning of the term 'supply'. However, transactions involving services are also required to be passed through the same criteria for determination of supply. In doing so, a slight adjustment in the way of looking at transactions involving services is necessary so as to substitute the object of supply from goods to services while administering the tests for determining the forms of supply involving services. In other words, the same eight forms of supply must be applied in relation to services but with adjustment that is understood by the expression mutatis mutandis.

The law has provided an inclusive meaning to the word 'supply' which implies that the specific transactions which are listed in the said section are only illustrative.

It is essential that such supplies should be by the supplier who is engaged in business [refer discussion under section 2(17)]. However, in case of import of services for a consideration, even if, such services are imported otherwise than in the course or furtherance of business, it would still be a supply. Refer discussion on inward supply under section 2(67) and compare it with outward supply under section 2(83).

The word 'supply' should be understood as follows:

- It should involve delivery of goods and/ or services to another person; the word 'delivery' must be understood from allied laws such as Sale of Goods Act, 1930 or Indian Contract Act, 1872; delivery could be actual, physical, constructive, deemed, etc.
- Supply will be treated as 'wholly one supply'—if the goods and/ or services supplied are listed in Schedule II or could be classified as a composite supply or mixed supply;
- It should involve quid-pro-quo—viz., the supply transaction requires something in return, which the person supplying will obtain, which may be in money/ monetary terms/ in any other form (except in cases of activities specified in Schedule I which are deemed to be supplies, even when made without consideration). What is received in return need not be always in 'money'; it can partly/ wholly be in money's worth too (non-monetary in nature);

- Transfer of property in goods from the supplier to recipient is not necessary viz., lease or hiring of goods;

It is essential that all the above forms of transactions including the extended and generic meaning given to the word 'supply' should be made for a 'consideration'. The only exception for this rule of construction will be cases specified in Schedule I. Absence of consideration [as defined in section 2(31)] will take away the character from the word 'supply' under this clause and accordingly, the transaction will not attract tax. It is important to note that supplies listed in Schedule I, would nevertheless attract the wrath of tax, even when made without consideration. Therefore, one has to be very careful, while analysing the tax implications in respect of supplies listed in Schedule I.

(b) Supply should be in the course or furtherance of business

For a transaction to qualify as 'supply', it is essential that the same is 'in the course' or 'furtherance of business'. This implies that only such supplies of goods and/ or services by a business entity would be liable to tax, which are 'in the course' or in 'furtherance of business'. Supplies that are not in the course of business or in furtherance of business will not qualify as 'supply' for the purpose of levy of tax, except in case of import of service for consideration, where the service is treated as a supply, even if, it is not made in the course or furtherance of business.

The expression 'in the course of' must be construed differently from 'in the course or'. The GST laws uses the expression 'in the course or' and a careful analysis is, therefore, essential. The expression 'in the course' appearing in section 7(1)(a) does not appear in section 7(1)(b). However, one cannot lose sight of the fact that the expression 'in the course' is used selectively in respect of transactions listed in Schedules I, II or III. The import of this would mean that the meaning attributable to the expression 'in the course' would apply only in respect of those transactions, so listed, in the relevant Schedules.

Let us now try to understand the meaning of the phrase 'in the course'. The expression 'in the course' implies not only a period of time during which the movement or transaction is in progress but postulates a connected relationship. Therefore, the class of transactions need to be analysed and cannot be randomly applied to the provisions of section 7 or section 8. So construed, the word 'or' appearing in the phrase or expression 'in the course or furtherance of business' assumes importance. When read in a proper perspective, the preposition 'or' actually bisects the entire phrase into two limbs. Therefore, the eight forms of supply would tantamount to transaction of supply when such supplies are in the course of business, or in the furtherance of business. Therefore, the Legislature has supplied considerable elasticity in understanding the meaning of the term 'supply'.

The term 'business' has been defined under the GST laws to include the following :

- (i) a wide range of activities (being "trade, commerce, manufacture, profession, vocation, adventure, wager or any similar activity"),
- (ii) "whether or not it is for a pecuniary benefit",
- (iii) regardless of the "volume, frequency, continuity or regularity" of the activity.
- (iv) and those "in connection with or incidental or ancillary to" such activities.

A recent order of the Authority for Advance Ruling–Kerala has ruled, in a matter involving recovery of food expenses from employees for the canteen facility provided by a company, that such recovery falls within the definition of 'outward supply' and are, therefore, taxable outward supplies under the GST law. In paragraph 9 of the order, the AAR-Kerala has concluded that the supply of food by the applicant (company) to its employees would definitely come under clause (b) of section 2(17) as a transaction incidental or ancillary to the main business and thereby the test of 'in the course or furtherance of business' is met by the applicant. [Order No. CT /531/ 18-C3, dated 26.03.2018].

Also, a question came up before Authority for Advance Ruling – Karnataka in the matter of Columbia Asia, whether allocation of expenses to other registered units by corporate office tant amounts to supply of services between related or distinct persons as per Para-2 of Schedule I to CGST Act and accordingly liable to tax. The Authority ruled that the activities performed by the employees at the corporate office in the course of or in relation to employment such as accounting, other administrative and IT system maintenance for the units located in the other States as well i.e. distinct persons as per section 25(4) of the CGST Act shall be treated as supply as per Para-2 of Schedule I of the CGST Act.

Drawing similarities from the erstwhile State VAT laws, it follows that the said transaction should be with a commercial motive, whether or not there is a profit motive in it or its frequency/ regularity. E.g.: sale of goods in an exhibition, participation in a trade fair, warranty supplies, sale of used assets/ scrap sales, etc. would be activities in the course of business.

(c) Import of service will be taxable in the hands of the recipient (importer)

The word 'supply' includes import of a service, made for a consideration [as defined in section 2(31)] and whether or not in the course or in furtherance of business. This implies that import of services even for personal consumption would qualify as 'supply' and, therefore, would be liable to tax. This would not be subject to the threshold limit for registration, as tax would be payable in case of import of services on reverse charge basis, requiring the importer of service to compulsorily obtain registration in terms of section 24(iii) of the Act. Although, import for personal purposes is included in the definition of supply, Entry 10(a) to Notification No. 9/2017-Integrated Tax (Rate), dated 28.6.2017, exempts import of services under entire Chapter 99 from payment of GST. However, the GST law has ensured that persons who are not engaged in any business activities will not be required to obtain registration and pay tax under reverse charge mechanism and in turn, requires the supplier of services located outside India, to obtain registration for the OIDAR (online information and database access and retrieval) services only.

Note: Import of services is included within the meaning of 'supply' under the CGST/ SGST Acts. However, it would be liable to IGST since it would not be an intra-State supply. In fact, section 2(21) of IGST Act has adopted the meaning of 'supply' from CGST/ SGST Act.

(d) Transactions without consideration

The law lists down, exhaustively, cases where a transaction shall be treated as a 'supply' even though there is no consideration. Such transactions are listed in Schedule I. Once an activity is deemed to be a 'supply' under Schedule I, the value of taxable supply shall be determined in terms of the provisions of section 15(4) of the Act read with Chapter IV (Determination of Value of Supply) of CGST Rules.

In this regard, it may be noted that on a careful consideration of the essential ingredients of a valid contract, it cannot be disputed that a contract without consideration is not a contract at all. The reference made to 'transactions without consideration' in Schedule I does not imply that a void contract is being made valid, by GST laws. It can be argued that transactions listed in Schedule I are not contracts at all owing to lack of consideration in terms of the contract laws. Even though they are not contracts, by legal fiction, flowing from section 7(1)(c) read with Schedule I, they will, nevertheless be regarded as a 'supply' and made taxable. As can be seen from the above, in all other clauses of section 7(1), supply exists within a valid contract, but in selected circumstances, supply is imputed by legal fiction in the absence of a contract. It is, therefore, important not to extrapolate this legal fiction beyond the specific cases to which the law imputes this fiction.

The activities specified in Schedule I are analysed in the ensuing paragraphs:

1. Permanent transfer or disposal of business assets where input tax credit has been availed on such assets.
 - (a) Of the eight forms of supply, the only forms that qualify as a supply, under this category are 'transfer' and 'disposal'. Other six forms of supply listed in section 7(1)(a) would not stand categorised in this paragraph, given that there is (a) an element of a consideration that is intrinsic to the form, such as the case of a sale or barter or exchange, or (b) there is no business asset that is permanently transferred such as in the case of a licence or rental or lease, or any other service for that matter.
 - (b) Ordinarily, there can be no permanent transfer in case of goods sent for job work. The aspect of sending goods on job work is not a supply, as clarified vide Circular No. 38/12/2018, dated 26.03.2018. However, where a registered person has purchased any moulds, tools, etc. and has sent the same to the job worker, there is a good chance that the goods are never returned, given that the time limits specified in section 143 for goods sent for job work do not apply to moulds, tools and other specified goods.
 - (c) In the above context, business asset need not always be goods; it can as well be service that could be permanently transferred which could attract the above provisions, E.g., unexpired right in a business franchise permanently transferred to another person.

- (d) While the word 'transfer' in this entry suggests that there should be another person who would receive the business assets, there is no requirement of another person in the case of 'disposal'. Therefore, if a business asset on which credit is claimed has been discarded, the transaction shall be regarded as a supply.
- (e) Business assets procured for the purpose of serving the requirements of 'corporate social responsibility', being a statutorily imposed obligation may be contended to be a procurement made in the course or furtherance of business, and an attempt can be made to avail input tax credit. The issue would, however, remain contentious and there are no precedents. However, there would be no escape from the levy of tax on the transaction, if the asset is permanently transferred. The treatment would be no different even in the case of a donation.

2. Supply of goods or services or both between related persons or between distinct persons as specified in section 25, when made in the course or furtherance of business:

Provided that gifts not exceeding fifty thousand rupees in value in a financial year by an employer to an employee shall not be treated as supply of goods or services or both

- (a) The deemed supplies covered in this paragraph are based on a relationship between the supplier and recipient. The relationship covered under this paragraph as related persons defined by way of an explanation to section 15 and distinct persons in terms of section 25(4) and 25(5) of the Act.
- (b) Transactions with distinct persons are normally without consideration since they are part of the same entity located in different geographies, unless the accounting system is so sophisticated or so devised, that it treats the locations in each State as a separate/ independent entity, even for book-keeping purposes and effects payments in monetary terms. Let us take instances of transactions between distinct persons that are not traceable in the books of account, but requires attention from the perspective of this paragraph in the Schedule:
 - (i) Stock transfers e.g., transfer of sub-assemblies, semi-finished goods or finished goods.
 - (ii) Transfer of new or used capital goods/ fixed assets—including movement of laptops when employees are transferred from one location to another.
 - (iii) Bill-to ship-to transactions wherein the vendor issues the invoice to the corporate office and ships the goods to the branch office.
 - (iv) Centralised management function like Board of Directors, Finance, Accounts, HR, Legal, Procurement Functions and other corporate functions at one location say corporate office and the entity having multiple

- registrations in various States results in supply of management services by the corporate office to distinct persons.
- (v) A transaction of sale of goods from one registration and providing after sales support or warranty services/ replacement services by another registration of the same entity.
 - (vi) Contract awarded by a customer to an entity at the corporate office from where the centralized billing to the customer is made but the execution of the contract is carried out through various registrations of the same entity located in other/ multiple States.
 - (vii) Permitting employees to make use of the office assets for personal use – say usage of motor vehicles, laptops, printers, scanners, etc.
- (c) It appears that this paragraph, has an overriding effect on the first paragraph of the Schedule relating to transfer or disposal. In other words, in case a business asset is permanently transferred to a distinct person, the transaction although out of scope of paragraph 1, would still be treated as a supply in terms of this paragraph, considering that this paragraph does not impose any such condition on the transaction. The provisions would equally apply even in the case of assets procured in the pre-GST regime. Note that a transaction that is already a 'supply' is now accorded a special treatment by the fiction in Schedule I in this paragraph and in the next unlike paragraph 1 (which was not a supply but is deemed to be one by this fiction).
- (d) The explanation appended to section 15 of the CGST Act provides that an employer and employee will be deemed to be "related persons". Accordingly, supplies by employer to employees would be liable to tax, if made in the course or furtherance of business, even though these supplies are made without consideration, except:
- (i) Gifts by an employer to an employee of value up to Rs 50,000 (to be understood as inclusive of taxes, as read with rule 35 of the CGST Rules) in a financial year (whether this value needs to be pro-rated in the first year of implementation of GST/ first year of commencement of business is a moot question; however, the presumption is that a part of the financial year would be construed as a whole year);
 - (ii) Cash gifts of any value, given that the 'transaction in money' is not a subject matter of supply as the same receives treatment as a taxable salary in the hands of the employee;
 - (iii) Services by employee to the employer in the course of or in relation to his employment—treated neither as supply of goods nor as supply of services.

- (e) The question as to what constitutes a gift is discussed in the following paras:
- (i) Gift has not been defined in the GST laws.
 - (ii) In common parlance, gift when made without consideration is voluntary in nature and is made occasionally.
 - (iii) It cannot be demanded as a matter of right by the employee and the employee cannot move to a Court of law for obtaining a gift. However, if any gift, by whatever name called, is a right of the employee in terms of the employment contract/ employee policy of the entity, then such gift shall be treated as emoluments arising out of the employment (including perquisites) and cannot be treated as a supply.
 - (iv) As a corollary, one can argue that the scope and ambit of the word 'supply' also includes a transaction of a barter/ exchange, in which case, the transaction may be regarded a taxable supply. In such a case, the question that would arise is whether a salary paid in non-monetary terms will attract GST. However, the CGST Act contains a specific valuation rule (rule 27) which provides the modus operandi to arrive at the value of the supply the consideration of which is made either wholly or partly in non-monetary terms.
 - (v) The credit restriction on membership of a club, health and fitness centre [under section 17(5)(b)(ii)] would not apply where the employer provides the facilities to its employees, whether or not for a consideration, given that such a supply without consideration, would also be deemed to be an outward supply under this paragraph of the Schedule.
 - (vi) Where gifts are liable to tax under this Schedule, it would be fair and proper to treat such gifts as taxable outward supplies, and therefore, credit thereon may not be required to be restricted under section 17(5)(h).
 - (vii) It may also be noted that a gift need not always be in terms of goods. A service can also constitute a gift, such as gift vouchers for a beauty treatment.
 - (viii) Another question which arises is on what value will the GST liability be calculated in case the gift amount exceeds ₹ 50,000/-. Although it is not expressly mentioned in the GST Act, but a reasonable construction can be drawn that GST shall be levied on the whole amount in case the gift amount exceeds ₹ 50,000/-.

3. Supply of goods—

- (a) by a principal to his agent where the agent undertakes to supply such goods on behalf of the principal; or

- (b) by an agent to his principal where the agent undertakes to receive such goods on behalf of the principal.
- (a) The definition of the terms 'agent' and 'principal' have to be understood contextually and have been reproduced below:
- Section 2(5) – “Agent means a person, including a factor, broker, commission agent, arhatia, del credere agent, an auctioneer or any other mercantile agent, by whatever name called, who carries on the business of supply or receipt of goods or services or both on behalf of another”.
 - Section 2(88) – “Principal means a person on whose behalf an agent carries on the business of supply or receipt of goods or services or both”.
- (b) Where an Agent receives goods directly from the Principal, or if the Principal's vendor directly dispatches goods to the location of the agent, the principal shall be required to treat the movement as an outward supply of goods by virtue of this clause. If understood in its proper perspective, when an agent receives goods on behalf of the Principal and thereafter issues the goods to the Principal, the transaction will be regarded as a supply by the Agent to the Principal.
- (c) An important question that may arise here is - as to how the transaction would appear to the ultimate recipient of a supply, when effected by the Principal through the Agent, or to the supplier who effects the supply to the Principal through an Agent.
- (d) There are two recent Circulars issued clarifying the scope of transactions between Principal and Agent which clarifies the above aspects:
- (i) Circular No. 57 /31/ 2018-GST, dated 4th September, 2018 (in the context of the scope of principal-agent relationship). The entire jurisprudence under Indian Contract Act has been brought to bear in GST by making reference to section 182 . It states :
- “Thus, the key ingredient for determining relationship under GST would be whether the invoice for the further supply of goods on behalf of the principal is being issued by the agent or not. Where the invoice for further supply is being issued by the agent in his name then, any provision of goods from the principal to the agent would fall within the fold of the said paragraph. However, it may be noted that in cases where the invoice is issued by the agent to the customer in the name of the principal, such agent shall not fall within the ambit of Schedule I of the CGST Act. Similarly, where the goods being procured by the agent on behalf of the principal are invoiced in the name of the agent then further provision of the said goods by the agent to the principal would be covered by the said paragraph. In other words, the crucial point is whether or not the agent has the authority to pass or receive the title of the goods on behalf of the principal”.

There are various scenarios which are discussed to analyse and conclude the scope of this paragraph in Schedule I. One interesting aspect to highlight in this Circular is that ‘whether the agent is required to issue invoice to customer in his own name or in the name of the Principal’ is a question that must be determined by the flow of transactions and not left flexible in the hands of the agent. But this Circular appears to require the Agent to confirm who will issue the invoice. This aspect can cause great concern because a C&F agent who handles the goods—receive, store and dispatch—on the Principal, may pay GST on commission and later it might be imposed on this agent to pay tax ‘as if’ this entire arrangement were a ‘trading transaction’ by fiction in Para 3 of Schedule I. At that time, things would have already concluded and become irreversible.

Experts hold the view that ‘if agent handles the goods belonging to Principal’, this fiction applies and even though commission earned would be income for income-tax purposes, GST requires total turnover to be treated as outward supply with credit for inward supplies from Principal. If the agent does not handle the goods but merely introduces the buyer and seller, this fiction would not apply. Yet another category would be the case of Customs Broker who handles the goods not for making further supplies of such goods but to clear them with customs for import or export.

- (ii) Circular No.73/ 47/ 2018-GST, dated November 5, 2018 (in the context of del-credere agent) states as:

Sl. No.	Issue	Clarification
1	Whether a DCA falls under the ambit of ‘agent’ under Para 3 of Schedule I of the CGST Act?	As already clarified vide Circular No. 57/ 31/ 2018-GST dated 4th September, 2018 , whether or not the DCA will fall under the ambit of agent under Para 3 of Schedule I of the CGST Act depends on the following possible scenarios: □ In case where the invoice for supply of goods is issued by the supplier to

		the customer, either himself or through DCA, the DCA does not fall under the ambit of agent. □ In case where the invoice for supply of goods is issued by the DCA in his own name, the DCA would fall under the ambit of agent.
2	Whether the temporary short-term transaction-based loan extended by the DCA to the recipient (buyer), for which interest is charged by the DCA, is to be included in the value of goods being supplied by the supplier (principal) where DCA is not an agent under Para 3 of Schedule I of the CGST Act?	In such a scenario following activities are taking place: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Supply of goods from supplier (principal) to recipient; 2. Supply of agency services from DCA to the supplier or the recipient or both; 3. Supply of extension of loan services by the DCA to the recipient. It is clarified that in cases where the DCA is not an agent under Para 3 of Schedule I of the CGST Act, the temporary short-term transaction-based loan being provided by DCA to the buyer is a supply of service by the DCA to the recipient on principal to principal basis and is an independent supply. Therefore, the interest being charged by the DCA would not form part of the value of supply of goods supplied (to the buyer) by the supplier. It may be noted that vide NN-12/ 2017-Central Tax(Rate,) dated 28th June, 2017 (S. No. 27), services by way of extending deposits, loans or advances in so far as the consideration is represented by way of interest or discount (other than interest involved in credit card services) has been exempted.

3	Where DCA is an agent under Para 3 of Schedule I of the CGST Act and makes payment to the principal on behalf of the buyer and charges interest to the buyer for delayed payment along with the value of goods being supplied, whether the interest will form a part of the value of supply of goods also or not?	In such a scenario following activities are taking place: 1. Supply of goods by the supplier (principal) to the DCA; 2. Further supply of goods by the DCA to the recipient; 3. Supply of agency services by the DCA to the supplier or the recipient or both; 4. Extension of credit by the DCA to the recipient. It is clarified that in cases where the DCA is an agent under Para 3 of Schedule I of the CGST Act, the temporary short-term transaction-based credit being provided by DCA to the buyer no longer retains its character of an independent supply and is subsumed in the supply of the goods by the DCA to the recipient. It is emphasised that the activity of extension of credit by the DCA to the recipient would not be considered as a separate supply as it is in the context of the supply of goods made by the DCA to the recipient. It is further clarified that the value of the interest charged for such credit would be required to be included in the value of supply of goods by DCA to the recipient as per clause (d) of sub-section (2) of section 15 of the CGST Act.

(iii) Statutory Update: As per NN- 15/ 2018-Central Tax (Rate), dated 26th-Jul-2018, the services supplied by direct selling agents (other than body corporate, partnership or LLP) to Bank or NBFC shall be covered under reverse charge.

4. Import of services by a person from a related person or from any of his other establishments outside India, in the course or furtherance of business.
- (a) The expression 'import of service' has been defined to bear an innate requirement of an outflow of foreign convertible currency, and, therefore, excludes any form of importation of services without consideration. Therefore, this clause was inserted to encompass such of those services, which are received from related persons/their establishments outside India. It is important for one to refer Explanation 1 to section 8 of the IGST Act, 2017 which deems any establishment outside India as an establishment of a distinct person. By virtue of this treatment, all services received by a person in India from its branches/ establishments located outside India would be considered to be a supply, even when made without consideration.

- (b) For instance, say A Ltd. is a holding company in USA and B Ltd., a subsidiary in India. Many business operations are centralized in the USA such as accounting, ERP and other software, servers for the backup, legal function, etc. For the purpose of this clause, the back-end support provided by the holding company to the subsidiary company in India shall be regarded as a supply, whether or not there is a cross-charge, even if, the same is not recognised in the books, or any contracts, since it is categorized as an import of service by a person from a related person without consideration, in the course of business.

(e) Activities or Transactions to be treated as supply of goods or supply of services

It is important to understand as to what constitutes a transaction of supply of goods or a transaction of supply of services. Section 7(1A) creates a fiction under the statute and specifies 'what is' and 'what is not' to be treated as a transaction of supply of goods or a transaction of supply of services. So understood, one can note seventeen classes of transactions listed in Schedule II of which four classes of transactions are listed as supply of goods while thirteen others would tantamount to supply of services. On a careful consideration of the relevant clauses, it can be noticed that all the six classes of transactions listed in Article 366(29A) of the Constitution of India are covered within the scope and ambit of Schedule II, except Para-7 which is omitted¹⁶ by the Finance Act, 2021, w.r.e.f. 1-Jul-2017. As such, one transaction, out of the five, is treated as supply of goods, the other four are deemed to be supply of services.

Importantly, paragraph 6 (a) relating to works contracts [as defined in section 2(119)] is treated as a composite supply, of services. However, section 2(119) has fourteen distinct words, all of which are required to be read in conjunction with the words "immovable property". Contracts relating to construction of immovable property are specifically covered in paragraph 5(b) of Schedule II. Therefore, all works contracts other than those relating to construction of immovable property would amount to composite supply in terms of section 2(30) read with section 8.

It is important for one to understand that what is specified/ listed in Schedule II not only provides clarity but also what has to be treated as supply of goods or supply of services.

Transactions listed in Schedule II do not enlarge the scope of supply as defined under section 7(1) of the Act. By shifting the 'placement' of Schedule II from clause (d) of section 7(1) to a separate section, namely section 7(1A), it is made clear that firstly, a transaction must already be determined to be 'supply' and then, for the limited purposes of 'treatment' by fiction, entries in Schedule II must be referred. This amendment was introduced with retrospective effect from 1.7.2017 vide CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018.

It is not that Schedule II is exhaustive but where it is listed, then those transactions will receive the 'treatment' as specified. Transactions involving 'goods' if specified in Schedule II to be treated as supply of 'services' then, all provisions of GST law that are applicable to supply of services must be extended (without exception) to this transaction even though it involves goods.

It is important to understand the intent of the Legislature. For example, Para 5(a) of Schedule II reads "renting of immovable property". In this situation, how does one understand the taxability of the transaction where consideration is not involved? The only way to understand this lacuna is that, such transactions that lack consideration would be relegated to valuation principles, but, importantly, the transaction would be treated as a supply.

Another instance to consider is para-1(c) of Schedule II to CGST Act which deals with 'hire purchase' transactions. Although the Hire Purchase Act, 1972 has been repealed in 2005, the trade understands hire-purchase versus lease (even though lease is divided into operating and finance lease). In GST law, all kinds of leases are treated the same— as supply of services. Lease without possession is (legally) a license and license too is treated as a supply of services, but not hire-purchase. While Paras-1(b) and 5(f) deal with lease and license, Para-1(c) treats hire-purchase as a supply of goods. Invoice for goods delivered under a hire-purchase will follow time and place of supply provisions applicable to goods and not to services.

This presents an anomaly which is explained in the illustration below:

- Let's start with a simple operating lease arrangement where goods, say, electricity generator whose normal sale price is ₹ 1,00,000 lying in stock at Puri, Orissa is sent to a customer's site situated in Bhilai, Chattisgarh;
- The supplier is registered in Orissa and recipient-customer is registered in Chattisgarh;
- The supplier makes an inter-State supply and issues invoice for ₹ 12,000. This is the lease rental invoice of first month of a 10-month lease including interest built into this lease rental amount;
- Goods travel from Puri to Bhilai and is clearly an inter-State movement of goods and IGST has been charged on the invoice;
- At the end of the first month, the recipient-customer does not return the generator by transporting it from Bhilai back to Puri. It is retained in Bhilai to be used in the second month;
- Therefore, the question to consider is, whether the ten month lease agreement, is one agreement with ten instalments to pay or is it ten monthly agreements contained in one document;
- Quick answer that comes to the mind is that it is 'one agreement with ten instalments to pay'. But it is well understood that time of supply does not get deferred simply because payment is collected in instalments. And if it is one agreement to supply, then it is one supply and, therefore, has one time supply which is the first day of the first month. By this reasoning, entire GST at, say, 18 per cent on ₹ 1,20,000 (₹ 12,000 x 10 instalments) will be payable in the first month (within due date permitted);

- On a more careful consideration of the question, it becomes clear that this lease (exceptions to be examined) is a 'month-to-month' agreement. And as all monthly agreements are identical, it is executed in a single document. Now, there are ten supplies and will have ten times of supply and hence, GST is payable on ₹ 12,000 at 18 per cent each month;
- Now, that it is clear that lease is a month-to-month arrangement, the next question to consider is whether the lease rental invoice for the second month, will be inter-State (as the first month) or will it become an intra-State supply;
- Recollect that the generator was lying with the recipient-customer at Bhilai at the end of first month and will be continued to be used in second month without actually being returned to Puri and then received back to Bhilai;
- Now, location of supplier of services is defined in IGST Act (and also in CGST Act) but location of supplier of goods is not defined. To examine location of supplier of goods, reference must be made to 'place of business' as defined in section 2(85) of CGST Act which provides that it will be (i) place where business is ordinarily carried on, in this case (it would be Puri) or (ii) place where goods are stored (in this case, it would be Bhilai) or (iii) place from where supplies are made or supplies are received or (iv) place where books are maintained or (v) place of an agent appointed to carry on business. Applying the above five tests, it appears that (ii) above would be the appropriate test and hence location of goods in second month would be the place of business;
- Business of lease is not concluded every month. It has already been concluded at the start of first month. Hence, the first limb in the definition is non-operative in the present case and second limb in the definition comes into operation to decide the 'location of supplier of goods';
- As a result, location of supplier of goods will be the location of the goods for the supply by way of lease in the second month. Goods being located in Bhilai, it will be an intra-State supply by the supplier who is located in Puri;
- It is for this reason, that Schedule II contains Para-1(b) (and even 5(f) in case of license) stating that the supply of goods by way of lease will be 'treated' as supply of services;
- When the transaction is treated as supply of services, then location of goods becomes irrelevant and location of supplier of services (as defined in section 2(15) of IGST Act and section 2(71) of CGST Act) will determine all months to be inter-State supplies; and
- Supplier situated in Puri, Orissa will not be required to take registration in every State where customers' sites are located in lease or license supplies.

Now, the above concept does not apply to hire-purchase because Para-1(c) states that hire-purchase will be treated as supply of goods. The new question that arises here is whether the supplier under hire-purchase arrangements will be liable to take registration in all States where customers' sites are located.

Experts opine that in hire-purchase, it is not a month-to-month hire-purchase but a single agreement for the entire duration and each periodic payment is only an instalment and therefore, there is only one supply with one time of supply and tax is payable at the rate applicable to those goods and on the entire hire-purchase price. There is a pressing need for a Circular on this aspect of difference between HP and Lease. The FAQs dated 27.12.2018 on Banking, Financial Services, and Insurance (BFSI) released by Government only refers to the aspect that exemption from tax on interest is not available to finance lease (which can be extended to HP also) even though each periodic payment clearly contains an element of 'interest' (FAQ 47).

The reason for the divergent treatment of HP compared to Lease provided by experts is stated to be in the definition of 'hire-purchase agreement' in AS 19 (which carries the essence from the definition in section 2(c) of the (now repealed) HP Act). It states that HP is a single agreement for the entire duration where (i) possession is already passed (ii) option to purchase (actually, option to reject) is granted on payment of last instalment and (iii) each periodic amount paid is merely an instalment within HP price. Therefore, in case of HP, since GST has already been paid at the start of HP agreement, there is no requirement for HP -Supplier to be registered in every State where the HP stock is supplied and put to use.

Care must be taken to study what is sought to be achieved by each entry in Schedule II. As an exercise one may think about Para-5(b) versus Para-6(a) and examine 'why' only 'goods are referred in Para-7 and not 'services' . [Para-7 being omitted vide Finance Act, 2021, w.r.e.f. 1-Jul-2017¹⁷]

The activities pertaining to this clause are listed in Schedule II to the Act and explained in the following Table:

Entry in Schedule II	Analysis
1. TRANSFER
a. Any transfer of the title in goods is a supply of goods	This would be a clear case of a transfer of goods. It may be noted that this paragraph covers even a plain vanilla transfer of title in goods, either by way of sale or otherwise. Accordingly, where any goods are gifted to any person, say a motor car gifted by a businessman to his successor would be a supply of goods, provided there is a transfer of "title in" such goods. In legal parlance the phrase "title in" and "title to" have different connotations.
b. Any transfer of right in goods or of undivided share in goods without the transfer of title	This paragraph can be construed to be a case of a temporary transfer whereas a transfer of title in goods would be a sale simpliciter. One must pay attention to the

thereof, is a supply of services	language employed in this paragraph which speaks of transfer of right and not transfer of title. Even though the activity is categorized as a supply of service, the rate of tax applicable on the supply has been linked to the rate of tax as applicable to the supply of same goods involving transfer of title in goods. Hence, for all practical purposes to determine the rate of tax on such services, all notifications in respect of that particular goods would merit equal consideration to determine the rate of tax for the service. Refer the entries for Heading 9971 and 9973 to the Notification No. 11/ 2017 dt., 28.06.2017 prescribing the rate of tax on services, covering operating lease and financial lease transactions. Illustration: Notification No. 37 /2017 Central Tax (Rate), dated 13.10.2017 was issued to reduce the rate of tax on motor vehicle to 65 per cent of the tax rate as applicable with certain conditions. Considering the rate of tax for leasing of such motor vehicle to be same as that of the rate of tax applicable on the motor vehicle, even the rate of tax on leasing services stands reduced if the conditions specified in the notification are met.
c. Any transfer of title in goods under an agreement which stipulates that property in goods shall pass at a future date upon payment of full consideration as agreed, is a supply of goods.	Any instalment sale or hire purchase transaction with a pre-condition that the possession is transferred on day one, but the ownership is subject to payment of full consideration/ all instalments, would get categorized as a supply of goods at the time of transfer of possession. However, where the transaction is to be valued at the open market value, due care needs to be exercised so as to determine the value of instalments as against the value of the goods being transferred. One may also note that transactions of movables that could get covered under BOOT, BOLT, BOT etc., may also get covered under this paragraph. An important point which requires due consideration is the interest component in the hire purchase agreement. In this regard it is worth mentioning that vide Notification No. 12/ 2017-CGST (Rate), dated 28.06.2017, interest is stated to be exempt. However, only interest component is exempt. Therefore, if interest is separately mentioned then GST is not payable but if the interest amount is not separately mentioned then GST is payable on entire amount including interest.

2. LAND AND BUILDING
a. Any lease, tenancy, easement, licence to occupy land is a supply of services	While a transfer (sale) of land is outside the scope of GST laws, the law seeks to tax certain other transfers pertaining to land, by way of this paragraph. Notification No. 06/ 2019-Central Tax (Rate), dated 29-Mar-2019 as amended by Notification No. 03/ 2021-Central Tax (Rate), dated 02-Jun-2021, warrants attention in this regard. One issue which clearly emerges from the notification is that in case of a joint development agreement (JDA), the activity of providing the right to construct on a land belonging to the owner, is an independent supply in the hands of the owner and that supply, is treated as a supply of service in terms of this clause. It is inferred that such a service is independent of the construction service which the developer provides to the landowner. The challenge that arises would relate to the valuation for both these supplies. It is important to note that such transactions are vivisected for the purposes of levy of tax and have not been construed as a single demise. Also note that this entry throws much needed light on the limits to the exclusion available in Para-5 of Schedule III to 'sale of land and (completed) building'. It appears that only absolute sale would be excluded from GST and any arrangement inferior to or short of absolute sale, would not be excluded by Schedule III. Arrangements other than absolute sale would be transactions such as lease, license, easement, etc., that create 'interest' in immovable property. Further, when only land and (completed) buildings are listed in Schedule III, all other forms of immovable property and immovable property rights would also not be excluded by Schedule III.
b. Any lease or letting out of the building including a commercial, industrial or residential complex for business or commerce, either	The activity of leasing or letting out of complexes for the purpose of business or commerce is covered under this clause and not those used for the purpose of residence. It may be noted that the services by way of renting of residential dwelling for use as residence is exempt vide

wholly or partly, is a supply of services.	Notification No. 12/ 2017–Central tax (Rate), dated 28.06.2017. While on the subject, it is pertinent to note the distinction between a transaction of rent, lease and a transaction of “letting out”. A transaction of rent is what is lawfully payable by a tenant; a transaction of lease is an alienation or conveyance for the purpose of enjoyment whether or not for a specified period. The word ‘let’ is to be understood as a verb meaning allow, permit, grant or hire.
3. TREATMENT OR PROCESS
Any treatment or process which is applied to another person's goods is a supply of services.	While this transaction may not be pari materia with a works contract activity, which could get categorized under this clause, it appears to be “job work” as defined under section 2(68) of the Act. The only difference between the definition clause in terms of section 2(68) and this paragraph - is that the activity would be regarded as a job work only if carried out for a registered principal. However, regardless of the registration of the principal, the activity would be categorized as service by this clause. Certain clarifications have been provided vide Circular No. 11/ 11/ 2017-GST, dated 20-Oct-2017; Circular No. 34/ 8/ 2018-GST, dated 01-Mar-2018; Circular No. 38/ 12/ 2018-GST, dated 26-Mar-2018, and Circular No. 126/ 45/ 2019, dated 22-Nov-2019 on job work which would be relevant.
4. TRANSFER OF BUSINESS ASSETS
a. Where goods forming part of the assets of a business are transferred or disposed of by or under the directions of the person carrying on the business so as no longer to form part of those assets, whether or not for a consideration,¹⁸ such transfer or disposal is a supply of goods by the person.	This clause provides for taxability of such of those transactions where business assets stand transferred. Typically, assets donated could be an example of such a transaction. One must pay attention to the fact that this clause refrains from the usage of the expression “in the course or furtherance of business” or “consideration”. But, when read along with section 2(17)(d), shutting down of a business is also included within business. Also, goods ‘forming part’ of business assets when applied for non-business purposes covers all cases of ‘diversion from intended end-use in business’. Such diversion may be conscious or by a force majeure event. Ultimately, end-use

	of business assets requires careful examination. And these assets may be tangible or intangible. Care must also be taken when such assets are partly used for business and partly for non-business purposes which may not escape incidence of GST.
b. Where, by or under the direction of a person carrying on a business, goods held or used for the purposes of the business are put to any private use or are used, or made available to any person for use, for any purpose other than a purpose of the business, whether or not for a consideration,¹⁸ the usage or making available of such goods, is a supply of services .	Any part of the business assets if put to use for (a) private purpose or (b) made available to another person to apply it to any non-business use, would be covered under this Para. Note that this sub-para holds its own field compared to previous sub-para regarding end-use of business assets that are goods. Also, supply involving goods may be treated as supply of goods or supply of services but Para-4 is attracted when 'goods' are used as observed by these sub-paras whichever way they may be treated under other paras of Schedule II. One must exercise caution while determining what amounts to private use/ non-business use, since this will have a direct bearing on the deductions claimed under the Income tax law. In this regard, it may be noted that a service by way of transfer of a going concern, as a whole or an independent part thereof, is an exempted service in terms of Notification 12/2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 28-06-2017.
c. Where any person ceases to be a taxable person, any goods forming part of the assets of any business carried on by him shall be deemed to be supplied by him in the course or furtherance of his business immediately before he ceases to be a taxable person, unless— i. the business is transferred as a going concern to another person; or ii. the business is carried on by a personal	The supply under this clause can be understood to be a supply of goods, although the paragraph does not explicitly state so. Attention is drawn to section 29(5) of the Act dealing with "Cancellation of Registration", wherein the law provides that the person applying for cancellation of registration is required to pay an amount equivalent to the credit of input tax or the output tax payable thereon, in respect of inputs held in stock and inputs contained in semi-finished or finished goods held in stock or capital goods or plant and machinery on the day immediately preceding the date of such cancellation, whichever is higher. It is important to understand the subtle usage of the expression "ceases to be a taxable person". Cessation of being a taxable person could result from either closure of

representative who is deemed to be a taxable person.	business, voluntarily or otherwise, while the clause also speaks of transfer of business in the latter part. In case of cancellation of registration, a person ceases to be a registered person and not a taxable person. One can reasonably infer that in terms of this clause if a business is transferred on a 'lock, stock and barrel' basis as a going concern then such transactions cannot be subjected to tax; even in situations where the transfer of business takes place and a representative (acting as a taxable person) carries on such business, the question of subjecting such a transaction to tax, as a cessation of business does not arise. For this reason, there is an express exemption in entry 2 to Notification No. 12/2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 28.06. 2017.
5. SUPPLY OF SERVICES The following shall be treated as supply of service, namely: —
a. Renting of immovable property	Renting wholly or partly of any immovable property is treated as a service. Therefore, unless the supply is otherwise exempt (such as renting of residential dwelling for the purpose of residence), the activity shall be regarded as a supply. Note that 'immovable property' covers a wide variety of property that includes interests in immovable properties.
b. Construction of a complex, building, civil structure or a part thereof, including a complex or building intended for sale to a buyer, wholly or partly, except where the entire consideration has been received after issuance of completion certificate, where required, by the competent authority or after its first occupation, whichever is earlier.	Paragraph 5 of Schedule III of the Act reads "Sale of land and, subject to clause (b) of Para-5 of Schedule II, sale of building". We need to pay attention as to how this clause is to be read and understood. Let us now read the clause as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sale of land • Sale of building • Sale of land and sale of building • Sale of land and building in which an undivided share in land stands transferred. It must be noted with caution that Para-5 of Schedule III is 'subject to clause (b) of Paragraph 5 of Schedule II'. It is for this reason that development contracts in the real estate sector have been a subject matter of tax only if they are not saved by the exclusion in Paragraph 5 of Schedule III.

	Any agreement for sale of an immovable property (being in the nature of transfer of UDI in land plus building or in case of revenue sharing agreements which equally stipulates transfer of UDI in land plus constructed part) would be subject to tax as a service. But a plain agreement to sell land which later results in a sale deed for land simpliciter being executed will not be liable to GST. Some experts are of the view that the Legislature intends to overcome the Constitutional Bench decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Larsen & Toubro's case (65 VST 1) and where any part of the consideration is received, prior to obtaining completion certificate or first occupation, it would be taxed while all transactions entered into thereafter, would be excluded by Para-5 of Schedule III as sale of land and sale of (completed) building.
c. Temporary transfer or permitting the use or enjoyment of any intellectual property right	The word 'or' in this clause is to be understood as a disjunctive that carves out alternatives. This clause envisages three separate classes of transactions which could be as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Temporary transfer of any IPR • Permitting the use of any IPR • Permitting the use or enjoyment of any IPR. In respect of temporary transfer or usage of IPRs one needs to travel to the relevant notification to understand their import. The scheme of classification of services for Heading 9973 provides for temporary as well as permanent transfer of IPR in respect of goods. However, with effect from 15.11.2017, the rate notification for goods has also incorporated a paragraph for the permanent transfer of IPR in respect of goods and there has been no corresponding deletion of the words "or permanent" in the rate notification for services. Due care needs to be exercised by the registered person in order to determine whether supply is of goods or services.
d. Development, design, programming, customisation, adaptation, upgradation, enhancement, implementation	The dichotomy which prevailed in the erstwhile service tax and VAT regime (i.e., the question whether software should suffer service tax or VAT or both) has been put to rest under GST.

of information technology software	While this paragraph takes care of certain activities in respect of IT software, it must be noted that the supply of pre-developed or pre-designed software in any medium/ storage (commonly bought off-the-shelf) or making available of software through the use of encryption keys, is treated as a supply of goods, classifiable under Heading 4907 or 8523.
e. Agreeing to the obligation to refrain from an act, or to tolerate an act or a situation, or to do an act	Some examples that may get covered under this clause are as under: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Non-compete agreement for a fee • Notice period recovery • Additional amount agreed upon for settlement of any dispute/ matter etc. • Liquidated damages • Forfeiture amounts actually forfeited or adjusted • Punitive recoveries (even if computed based on quantity and price of material not delivered or piece-rate for work not completed) • Payment to induce another transaction (being itself taxable or non-taxable). Consider a situation where a supplier would supply product 'A' only if the recipient agrees to buy product 'B'. One may think as to whether such transactions would amount to supply of goods or supply of services. Reference may be made to Maharashtra AAR decision in the case of Maharashtra State Power Generation Company Limited ruling liquidated damages constituted supply under GST. Payment made for purchase of goodwill will not come within this transaction as goodwill is goods and may be taxed under restrictive HSN or residuary Entry No. 453 of Schedule-III forming part of Notification No.-1/ 2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 28.06.2017. However, if the transferee of a business accounts 'goods' being the premium paid over and above the cost of assets received in this acquisition, no supply under this Para can be implied, as this goodwill is a term applied as part of purchase price accounting process.

f. Transfer of the right to use any goods for any purpose (whether or not for a specified period) for cash, deferred payment or other valuable consideration.	Transfer of 'right to use goods' is treated as a supply of service and taxed at par, with the rate of tax as applicable to the goods involved in the transaction. (Refer discussion under clause 1(a) of Schedule II).
6. COMPOSITE SUPPLY: The following composite supplies shall be treated as a supply of services, namely: —
a. Works contract as defined in clause (119) of section 2	Our understanding of works contract under the erstwhile VAT/ sales tax/ service tax laws has no relevance in the GST regime. In the GST regime, only such of those contracts that results in an immovable property is a 'works contract'. Every other contract which was understood to be a 'works contract' under the erstwhile laws will be treated as a composite/ mixed supply under the Act. In such cases, the transaction may be treated as goods or services, based on the principles laid down in section 8 (discussed separately in this Chapter).
b. Supply, by way of or as part of any service or in any other manner whatsoever, of goods, being food or any other article for human consumption or any drink (other than alcoholic liquor for human consumption), where such supply or service is for cash, deferred payment or other valuable consideration.	The law categorises the supplies referred to in this clause as a composite supply, given that there are multiple goods and/ or services which are essentially involved in such a transaction culminating into a composite supply of service. Under this clause, both restaurant and outdoor catering services get covered. It may also be contended that the clause also covers other forms such as parcels, take-away, home-delivery, etc. As long as the goods supplied are 'for the purpose of immediate consumption', whether or not it is actually consumed, it would be treated as supply of services. For instance., bottled-water supplied to Railways will be supply of goods but transforms into supply of services when supplied by Railways to its passengers. Note that the expression used here (and repeated in HSN 9963) is 'supply of goods as part of any service' will come within this fiction. Irrespective of the rate of tax as applicable on independent goods or services that are being supplied, the rate of tax as applicable to a restaurant service or outdoor catering service would apply to these goods being supplied but in the circumstance for 'immediate consumption; E.g.,

	Aerated drink which is served in a restaurant would be subject to tax at the rate applicable to the entire supply (restaurant service) although aerated drinks are otherwise subjected to a higher rate of tax as well as cess. By this reasoning, some experts argue that tobacco products which are sold in a restaurant and billed along with the supply of food/ beverage will also be taxed at the rate as applicable to restaurant services - as a composite supply. The test that one needs to apply in the given situation is to find out as to whether tobacco products are "other article for human consumption".
*7. SUPPLY OF GOODS The following shall be treated as supply of goods, namely: —
Supply of goods by any unincorporated association or body of persons to a member thereof for cash, deferred payment or other valuable consideration	The definition of the term 'business' under section 2(17) includes "provision by a club, association, society, or any such body (for a subscription or any other consideration) of the facilities or benefits to its members;" In order to clarify that the supply of goods by such association etc., to its members is to be treated as a supply of goods and not as a service of providing facilities, this clause has been included.

*This Para-7 of Schedule II has been omitted by Notified vide Notf No. 39/2021 dt. 21.12.2021

(f) Certain supplies will be neither a supply of goods, nor a supply of services

The law lists down matters which shall not be considered as 'supply' for GST by way of Schedule III. Since these are transactions that are not regarded as 'supply' under the GST laws, there is no requirement to report the inward/ outward supply of such activities in the returns.

Activities listed in Schedule III	Analysis
1. Services by an employee to the employer in the course of or in relation to his employment.	This Paragraph includes only services and not goods. Further, it only covers those services provided by an employee to the employer and not vice versa. Note that 'in the course or in relation to' does not save every transaction between employer-employee. Only those transactions occurring within the four corners of the 'master-servant' relationship will be saved. The same two

	persons (who are employer-employee) can constitute another relationship and those will be taxed on their own merits. It is also important to identify if the consideration that is claimed to be for 'services of employee' can be verified and validated with the amount reported for income-tax or provident fund purposes as 'salary'.
2. Services by any Court or Tribunal established under any law for the time being in force. The term "court" includes District Court, High Court and Supreme Court.	The word Tribunal does not cover Arbitral Tribunal since such Tribunal is dissolved after the adjudication proceedings are concluded.
3. Functions performed by MPs, MLAs, etc.; the duties performed by a person who holds any post in pursuance of the provisions of the Constitution in that capacity; the duties performed by specified persons in a body established by the Central/ State Government or local authority, not deemed as an employee;	Persons included in this clause may be Governor, Prime Minister, President etc.
4. Services of funeral, burial, crematorium or mortuary including transportation of the deceased.	This clause is in consonance with the exemption available under the erstwhile service tax regime.
5. Sale of land and subject to clause (b) of paragraph 5 of Schedule II, sale of building (i.e., excluding sale of under-construction premises where the part or full consideration is received before issuance of completion certificate or before its first occupation, whichever is earlier).	It is intriguing as to why two activities being (i) sale of land and (ii) sale of building, have been clubbed into a single paragraph. However, one may expand the paragraph to read the two activities as distinct activities, so as to treat a sale of land without the sale of building, also to be outside the purview of GST. Refer to discussions in Schedule II Para-5(b) (supra). Care must be taken to resist the urge to expand the words 'land and building' to cover 'all immovable properties'. Immovable property includes far more rights and

If transactions other than sale were to be excluded, then legislature should have employed suitable words or given some indication within the law to authorize expansion of the coverage. Unlike service tax, GST very cautiously allows this relief to (a) just land and (completed) building and (b) absolute sale and no other forms of interests inferior to absolute sale. Experts are divided on the issue as to whether (a) sale includes absolute sale or something less also and (b) land includes land only or rights, benefits and interests in land also.
6. Actionable claims, other than lottery, betting and gambling	A plain reading of this Para would mean that actionable claims are neither a supply of goods nor a supply of services. However, the three classes of actionable claims listed in this Para warrant attention. The definition of the word 'goods' includes the words 'actionable claims'. It has to be therefore, necessarily understood that the three classes of actionable claims viz. lottery, betting and gambling, if and when subjected to tax, must be taxed as goods. The irony is, while lottery is subject to tax as goods, betting and gambling have been subjected to tax as services under the heading 9996. This is deliberate to cover 'actionable claims' involving betting and gambling to be taxed as goods and 'other than actionable claims' towards betting and gambling to be taxed as services.
7. Supply of goods from a place in the non-taxable territory to another place in the non-	This insertion w.e.f. -01.02.2019 puts to rest the confusion which had arisen on such

Therefore, any transaction involving supply of goods by a person in India would not be called a supply when they are supplied from one place to another, both of which are outside India.
8. Supply of warehoused goods to any person before clearance for home consumption. Supply of goods by the consignee to any other person, by endorsement of documents of title to the goods, after the goods have been dispatched from the port of origin located outside India but before clearance for home consumption.	The levy of the IGST on import of goods would be levied under the Customs Act, 1962 read with the Custom Tariff Act, 1975. IGST is payable when the goods are cleared for home consumption, however, high sea sales were considered akin to inter-State transactions. Even though Circular No. 33 /2017-Cus, dated 1st August, 2017, clarified this matter that IGST on high sea sale, shall be levied and collected only at the time of importation i.e., when the import declarations are filed before the Customs authorities for the customs clearance purposes for the first time. However, the point of reversal of ITC was always contentious and various advance rulings, ruled in favour of revenue. Now after insertion of this entry in Schedule III, reversal of ITC would no longer be required. Debate that now rages on is whether this was always the intention and, therefore, this amendment ought to be effective not from 1.2.2018 but from 1.7.2017 so that credit reversal can be saved. Some experts believe that the retrospective effect comes from the fact that an Explanation has also been inserted in section 17(3) of CGST Act.

(g) To be notified

The Government has vested itself with powers to notify 'activities or other transactions' which shall neither be treated as supply of goods nor supply of services in terms of section 7(2). Such notification would be issued from time to time based on the recommendations of the GST Council.

- The Government has notified the following supplies in this regard:

Services by way of any activity in relation to a function entrusted to Panchayat under Article 243G of the Constitution (Inserted vide Notification No. 14/ 2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 28.06.2017)

Service by way of grant of alcoholic liquor licence, against consideration in the form of licence fee or application fee or by whatever name it is called. (Inserted vide Notification No. 25/ 2019- Central Tax (Rate), dated 30.09.2019)
- Inter-State movement of goods like movement of various modes of conveyance, between 'distinct persons' as explained in this Chapter, including trains, buses, trucks, tankers, trailers, vessels, containers & aircrafts, carrying goods or passengers or both, or for repairs and maintenance, would also not be regarded as supplies except in cases where such movement is for further supply of the same conveyance (Clarified vide Circular No. 1/ 1/ 2017-IGST, dated 07.07.2017).
- The above logic would apply to the issue pertaining to inter-State movement of jigs, tools and spares and all goods on wheels like cranes, except in cases where movement of such goods is for further supply of the same goods, and consequently no IGST would be applicable on such movements (clarified vide Circular No. 21/ 21/ 2017-GST, dated 22.11.2017).

(h) The Government is also empowered to specify what shall be treated as a supply of goods/ services, as is the function of Schedule II, based on the recommendation of the GST Council, by specifying that a supply is to be treated as:

- i) a supply of goods and not a supply of service;
 - ii) a supply of service and not a supply of goods.
- (i) In summary, supply can be understood as follows:

Section	Specified 'forms' of supply	Furtherance of Business	Existence of Consideration	Supply
				'made'	'agreed to be made'
7(1)(a)	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
7(1)(b)	✓	✓/✗	✓	✓	✗
7(1)(c)	✓	✓	✓/✗	✓	✗

(j) The GST law also treats certain transactions to be supplies by way of a deeming fiction imposed in the statute :

- (a) The law expressly uses the phrase 'deemed supply' in sections 19(3) and 19(6) in respect of inputs/ capital goods sent to a job worker but are not returned within the time period of 1 year / 3 years permitted for their return.

- (b) The bill-to-ship-to transactions wherein the supply is deemed to have been made to the person to whom the invoice is issued, imposes an intrinsic condition that such person who receives the invoice should in turn issue an invoice to the recipient unless the transaction demands a treatment otherwise. For instance, where an order is placed on a vendor based on an order received from a customer, the registered person may request the vendor to directly ship the goods to the customer. In this case, although there is a single movement of goods, there is a dual change of title to goods, and, therefore, there would be two supplies. However, the other limb of the transaction would get independently tested for supply under section 7.

Statutory Provisions

8. Tax liability on composite and mixed supplies

The tax liability on a composite or a mixed supply shall be determined in the following manner, namely: —

- (a) a composite supply comprising two or more supplies, one of which is a principal supply, shall be treated as a supply of such principal supply; and
- (b) a mixed supply comprising two or more supplies shall be treated as a supply of that particular supply which attracts the highest rate of tax.

Section 2(90)	Definition of “Principal supply”
Section 2(74)	Definition of “Mixed Supply”
Schedule II	Activities to be treated as a supply of goods or a supply of services

8.1. Introduction

Every supply should involve either goods, or services, or a combination of goods or a combination of services, or a combination of both. The law provides that such supplies would be classifiable for the purpose of tax treatment, either as wholly goods or wholly services, in the case of all such combinations. Schedule II of the Act provides for this classification in some of the listed instances thereunder.

8.2. Analysis

Where a supply involves multiple (more than one) goods or services, or a combination of goods and services, the treatment of such supplies would be as follows:

- (a) If it involves more than one, goods and/ or services which are naturally bundled together and supplied in conjunction with each other in the ordinary course of business and one such supply would be a principal supply:

- (i) These are referred to as composite supply of goods and/ or services. It shall be deemed to be a supply of those goods or services, which constitutes the principal supply therein. Only where all of the conditions specified for a supply of a combination of goods and/ or services to be treated as a composite supply are satisfied, the supply can be regarded as a composite supply. The conditions are as follows:
1. The supply must be made by a taxable person: This condition presumes that composite supplies can only be effected by a taxable person.
 2. The supply must comprise two or more taxable supplies: The law merely specifies that the supplies included within a composite supply must contain two or more taxable supplies. A question may then arise as to what would be the treatment in case of a supply that fulfils all the conditions, but involves an exempt supply – say, purchase of fresh vegetables from a store which offers home delivery for an added charge. Fresh vegetables are exempt from tax, whereas the service of home delivery would attract tax. No clarification has been issued in this regard. However, on a plain reading of the provision, it appears that this condition would not be satisfied where the composite supply involves an exempt supply. One could argue that taxable supply includes exempt supply by virtue of the definition of taxable supply under section 2(108).
 3. The goods and/ or services involved in the supply must be naturally bundled: The concept of natural bundling needs to be examined on a case to case basis. What is naturally bundled in one set-up may not be regarded as naturally bundled in another situation. For instance, stay with breakfast is naturally bundled in the hotel industry, while the supply of lunch and dinner, even if they form part of the same invoice, may not be considered as naturally bundled supplies along with room rent.
 4. They must be supplied in conjunction with each other in the ordinary course of business: Where certain supplies could be naturally bundled, it is essential that they are so supplied in the ordinary course of business of the taxable person. For instance, it is possible to consider the supply of a water purifier along with the first-time installation service as a naturally bundled supply. However, if a supplier of water purifiers does not ordinarily provide the installation service and arranges for a person to provide the installation service in the case of an important business customer, the supply would not satisfy the said condition.
 5. Only one of the supplies involved must qualify as the principal supply: In every composite supply, there must be only one principal supply. Where a conflict between the various components of the supply, as to which of those qualify as the principal supply, cannot be resolved and results in multiple predominant supplies, the supply cannot be regarded as a composite supply.

- (a) A principal supply is defined under section 2(90) to mean the predominant element of a composite supply to which any other supply forming part of that composite supply is ancillary.
- (b) Therefore, mere identification of the predominant element would not suffice and it must be ascertained that all other supplies composed in the composite supply are ancillary to that predominant element of the supply.
- (c) Consider the case of a supply of dining table with chairs. There would normally be no issue in this regard if both the components are made of the same material. However, if the dining table is made of granite, while the chairs are made of superior quality wood, there would be a conflict. Normally, the dining table would be regarded as the principal supply to which the supply of chairs is ancillary. However, in this case, it may not be possible to determine which of the two would constitute the principal supply.

Where any of the aforesaid conditions are not satisfied, the transaction cannot be treated as a composite supply.

- (ii) Matters such as time of supply, invoicing, place of supply, value of supply, rate of tax applicable to the supply, etc. shall all be determined in respect of the principal supply alone, since the entire supply shall be deemed to be a supply of the principal supply alone.
- (iii) Some Illustrations and cases of composite supplies have been discussed in the following paragraphs:
 - ❖ Illustration (provided in section 2(27)): Where goods are packed, and transported with insurance, the supply of goods, packing materials, transport and insurance is a composite supply and supply of goods is the principal supply. This implies that the supply will be taxed wholly as supply of goods.
 - ❖ Para 5(3) of Circular No. 32/06/2018-GST, dated 12.02.-2018 clarifies that “food supplied to the in-patients as advised by the doctor/ nutritionist is a part of composite supply of health care and not separately taxable”. It also goes on to clarify further that supplies of food by hospital to patients (not admitted) or their attendants or visitors are taxable.
 - ❖ Circular No. 11/11/2017-GST, dated 20.10.-2017 has provided following clarification on treatment of printing contracts:
 - ✓ In the case of printing of books, pamphlets, brochures, annual reports, and the like, where only content is supplied by the publisher or the person who owns the usage rights to the intangible inputs while the physical inputs including paper used for printing belong to the printer, supply of printing of the content supplied by the recipient of supply is the principal supply.

- ✓ In case of supply of printed envelopes, letter cards, printed boxes, tissues, napkins, wall paper etc. falling under Chapter 48 or 49, printed with design, logo etc. supplied by the recipient of goods but made using physical inputs including paper belonging to the printer, the predominant supply is that of goods and the supply of printing of the content supplied by the recipient of supply is ancillary to the principal supply of goods and, therefore, such supplies would constitute supply of goods falling under respective headings of Chapter 48 or 49 of the Customs Tariff. However, through the recent Circular No. 06/2021-Central Tax (Rate) dated 30.09.2021, the CBIC has substituted the above service of printing with “Other manufacturing services; publishing, printing and reproduction services; material recovery services” thereby doing away with the kind of bifurcation made supra for the purpose of GST rates.
- ❖ Circular No. 34/ 8/ 2018-GST, dated 01.03-2018 provides clarifications on some matters including the following:
 - ✓ The activity of bus body building is a composite supply. As regards which of the components would be principal supply, the Circular directs that it be determined on the basis of facts and circumstances of each case.
 - ✓ Re-treading of tyres– In re-treading of tyres, which is a composite supply, the pre-dominant element is the process of re-treading which is a supply of service, and the rubber used for re-treading is an ancillary supply. The Circular also clarifies that “Value may be one of the guiding factors in this determination, but not the sole factor. The primary question that should be asked is what the essential nature of the composite supply is and which element of the supply imparts that essential nature to the composite supply”.
- ❖ Circular No. 92/11/2019-GST dated 07.03.2019 provides clarifications on some matters including the following:
 - ✓ Clarification on various doubts related to treatment of sales promotion schemes under GST like (i) Free samples and gifts (ii) Buy one get one free offer (iii) Discounts including ‘Buy more, save more’ offers (iv) Secondary discounts

- ❖ Other examples: If a contract is entered for (i) supply of certain goods and erection and installation of the same or (ii) supply of certain goods along with installation and warranty thereto, it is important to note that these are naturally bundled and, therefore, would qualify as 'composite supply'. Accordingly, it would qualify as supply of the goods therein, which is essentially the principal supply in the contract. Thus, the value attributable to erection and installation or installation and warranty thereto will also be taxable as if they are supply of the goods therein.

Advance Ruling on Composite Supply

The AAR, West Bengal opined in Switching Avo Electro Power Ltd. "Whether a combination of goods that does not amount to a composite supply is being offered at a single price, such supplies are to be treated as mixed supplies - Held, yes - Whether where UPS and battery are supplied as separate goods, but a single price is charged for combination of goods supplied as single contract, supply of UPS and battery is to be considered as mixed supply within meaning of section 2(74), as they are supplied under a single contract at a combined single price - Held, yes"

(b) If it involves supply of more than one goods and/ or services which are not naturally bundled together but sold for a single price

- (i) These are referred to as mixed supply of goods and/ or services. It shall be deemed to be a supply of that goods or services therein, which are liable to tax at the highest rate of GST. The characteristics of a mixed supply are as follows:
 - (1) It involves two or more individual supplies: It may be noted that the term used in the case of mixed supply is "individual supplies" as against "taxable supplies". Therefore, a mixed supply can include both taxable and exempted supplies.
 - (2) It is made by a taxable person.
 - (3) The supply is made for a single price: The fact that a composite supply does not include this condition merits consideration. Where a supply of two or more goods or services is made for different prices, the supplies cannot be regarded as mixed supplies.
 - (4) The supply does not constitute a composite supply: The expression "constitute" is of wide ambit to include cases where the supply results in a composite supply, as well as a case where some of the components together make a composite supply, whereas the 'bundle together' would make a mixed supply. While the condition as such is not explicit, given that there is no provision for treatment of a bundled supply where only some components together qualify as a composite supply, it may be safe to interpret that a mixed supply is one which is not regarded as a composite supply.
- (ii) Aspects such as time of supply, invoicing, place of supply, value of supply, rate of tax applicable to the supply, etc. shall all be determined in respect of that supply which attracts the highest rate of tax. However, the law remains silent on what is the treatment required to be undertaken where more than one component is subjected to the highest rate of tax. For instance, consider a case where a commercial complex is let out for a consideration of monthly rentals and the owner of the complex also supplies parking lots to those tenants who opt for the facility. While both the supplies attract tax @ 18%, the law does not treat the transaction as that of only one of the two supplies.

(iii) Some illustrations and cases of mixed supplies have been discussed in the following paragraphs:

- ✓ Illustration [provided in section 2(66)]: A supply of a package consisting of canned foods, sweets, chocolates, cakes, dry fruits, aerated drink and fruit juices when supplied for a single price is a mixed supply. Each of these items can be supplied separately and is not dependent on any other. It shall not be a mixed supply if these items are supplied separately. This implies that the supply will be taxed wholly as supply of those goods which are liable to the highest rate of GST.
- ✓ Other examples: If a toothpaste (say for instance it is liable to GST at 12 per cent) is bundled along with a tooth brush (say for instance it is liable to GST at 18 per cent) and is sold as a single unit for a single price, it would be reckoned as a mixed supply. This would, therefore, be liable to GST at 18 per cent (higher of 12 or 18 per cent applicable to each of the goods therein).

(c) While there are no infallible tests for such determination, the following guiding principles could be adopted to determine whether a supply would be a composite supply or a mixed supply. However, every supply should be independently analysed.

Description	Composite Supply	Mixed Supply
Naturally bundled	Yes	No
Each supply available for supply individually	No	Yes / No
One is predominant supply for recipient	Yes	Yes / No
Other supply(ies) is/ are ancillary or received because of predominant supply	Yes	No
Each supply priced separately	Yes / No	No
Supplied together	Yes	Yes
All supplies can be of goods	Yes	Yes
All supplies can be of services	Yes	Yes
A combination of one/ more goods and one/ more services	Yes	Yes

9.1. Introduction

Article 265 of the Constitution of India mandates that no tax shall be levied or collected except by the authority of law. The charging section is a must in any taxing statute for levy and collection of tax. Before imposing any tax, it must be shown that the transaction falls within the ambit of the taxable event and that the person on whom the tax is so imposed also gets covered within the scope and ambit of the charging section by clear words used in the section. No one can be taxed by implication. The scope of the taxable event being 'supply' has been discussed in the earlier part of this Chapter. This section will provide an insight into the chargeability of tax on a supply. Section 9 is the charging provision of the CGST Act. It provides the maximum rate of tax that can be levied on supplies liable to tax under this law, the manner of collection of tax and the person responsible for paying such tax.

It is interesting to note that the four pillars of taxation that together constitute the cornerstone for levy are couched in section 9(1). The taxable event, tax rate, collection or levy, and the person to pay are so worded that there is no escape from liability. It appears that the law laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Govind Saran Ganga Saran's case has been followed.

9.2. Analysis

The IGST law provides the basis for determination of a supply as an intra-State supply or an inter-State supply. Simply put, if the location of the supplier and the place of supply are within the same State, the transaction will be an intra-State supply, barring the case of supplies made by/ to SEZ and all other supplies will be regarded as inter-State supplies. Refer to the discussion in the IGST Chapters for a holistic understanding of 'levy' as a concept under the GST law.

- (i) Taxable supply: Every taxable supply will be subjected to GST. A taxable supply refers to any supply of goods or services or both, which qualifies as a supply in terms of section 7. The exception to this rule would be all supplies that the levy section forgoes to tax, as also all those supplies that have been notified to be nil-rated or exempted from tax. The provisions imposing GST are phrased in such a manner so as to exclude the supply of alcoholic liquor for human consumption from the scope of levy itself. However, the law specifies certain other goods whereby the levy of GST has been deferred until such time the goods are notified in this regard to be taxable supplies (by the Government, based on the recommendations of the GST Council) like the following :
- (1) petroleum crude
 - (2) high speed diesel
 - (3) motor spirit (commonly known as petrol)
 - (4) natural gas and
 - (5) aviation turbine fuel
- (ii) Tax payable: The nature of tax would depend upon the nature of supply, viz., inter-State supplies will be liable to IGST and intra-State supplies will be liable to CGST and SGST/ UTGST (i.e., UTGST in case intra-State supplies within a particular Union Territory). Every intra-State supply will attract CGST as well as SGST, as follows:
- (1) Imposition of CGST by the Union Government of India
 - (2) Imposition of SGST by the respective State Government or (in case of UTGST, by the Central Government through the appointed Administrator)
- (iii) Tax shall be payable by a 'taxable person': The tax shall be payable by a 'taxable person' i.e., a person who is liable to obtain registration, or a person who has obtained registration. There can be multiple taxable persons for a single supply. It comprises separate establishments of persons registered or liable to be registered under section 22 or section 24 of the CGST Act. Refer to the discussion under section 25 for a thorough understanding of this concept. Under the GST law, the person liable to pay the tax levied on a supply under the statute would be one of the following:

- (1) The supplier, in terms of section 9(1), referred to as forward charge. This is ordinarily applicable in case of all supplies unless the supplies qualify under the other two categories, i.e., this would be the residual category of supply wherein the supplier would be liable to pay tax. (In this regard, it must be noted that the term 'supplier' is attributed to an establishment and not to the PAN as a whole. Therefore, if the supply is effected from an establishment in Karnataka, the establishment of the same entity located, say in Delhi, cannot discharge the liabilities) .
- (2) The recipient, referred to as tax under reverse charge mechanism. In such a case, all the provisions of the Act as are applicable to the supplier in a normal case, would apply to the recipient of supply (being a taxable person, and not the PAN as explained above). A supply would be subjected to tax in the hands of the recipient only in the following cases:
 1. Notified supplies under section 9(3): The supply of goods or services is notified as a supply liable to tax in the hands of the recipient vide Notification No. 4/ 2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 28-Jun-2017 in case of goods and Notification No. 13/ 2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 28-Jun-2017 in case of services, as amended from time to time. Note that the supplier discharging this liability would not render the liability discharged, since the law imposes the obligation on the recipient. The recipient of supply would nevertheless be liable to discharge the taxes and the relief available to the supplier would be only by way of an application for refund.
 2. Supplies received from unregistered persons under section 9(4): The supply is an inward supply of goods and/ or services affected by a registered person from an unregistered supplier. In this regard, it may be noted that the levy under this clause applies (as amended by CGST Amendment Act) only in respect of (a) 'class of registered persons' and (b) 'categories of goods or services', by a notification. With effect from 1st April, 2019, the Central Government vide Notification No. 07/ 2019-Central Tax (Rate), dated 29.03.-Mar-2019, notified the following categories of goods or services or both, in respect of which registered person shall pay tax on reverse charge basis as recipient of such goods or services or both:-

Analysis

- No partial reverse charge will be applicable under GST. Hundred per cent tax will be paid by the recipient if reverse charge mechanism applies.
- All taxpayers required to pay tax under reverse charge have to mandatorily obtain registration and the threshold exemption is not applicable to them.
- Payment of taxes under Reverse Charge cannot be made with utilisation of input tax credit and has to be made in Cash.
- The recipient can take the credit of tax paid on inward supplies liable to reverse charge once the recipient makes payment of tax in cash.

RCM on Motor Vehicles - Clarification

The Board issued clarification with respect to reverse charge mechanism (RCM) on renting of motor vehicles vide Circular No. 130/ 2019-GST, dated 31.12.-2019, as under-

1. Suppliers of service by way of renting of any motor vehicle designed to carry passengers where the cost of fuel is included in the consideration charged from the service recipient have an option to pay GST either at 5 per cent with limited ITC (of input services in the same line of business) or 12 per cent with full ITC.
2. The GST Council in its 37th meeting dated 20.09.2019 examined the request to place the supply of renting of motor vehicles under RCM and recommended that the said supply when provided by suppliers paying GST @ 5 per cent to corporate entities may be placed under RCM. RCM was not recommended for suppliers paying GST @12 per cent with full ITC, so that they may have the option to continue to avail ITC. RCM otherwise would have blocked the ITC chain for them.

Accordingly, the following entry was inserted in the RCM notification with effect from 01.10.19:

Sl. No.	Category of Supply of Services	Supplier of Service	Recipient of Service
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)
15	Services provided by way of renting of a motor vehicle	Any person other than a body corporate, paying Central tax at the rate of	Any body corporate located in the taxable territory.

	provided to a body corporate.	2.5 per cent on renting of motor vehicles with input tax credit only of input service in the same line of business
--	-------------------------------	--	--

3. Post issuance of the notification, representations had been received stating that when a service is covered by RCM, GST would be paid by the service recipient and not by the supplier. Therefore, the wording of the notification that “any person other than a body corporate, paying Central tax at the rate of 2.5 per cent ” is not free from doubt and needs amendment/ clarification from the perspective of drafting.
 4. The matter has been examined. When any service is placed under RCM, the supplier shall not charge any tax from the service recipient as this is the settled procedure in law under RCM. There are only two rates applicable to the service of renting of vehicles, 5 per cent with limited ITC and 12 per cent with full ITC. The only interpretation of the notification entry in question which is not absurd would be that–
 - (i) where the supplier of the service charges GST @ 12 per cent from the service recipient, the service recipient shall not be liable to pay GST under RCM; and,
 - (ii) where the supplier of the service doesn't charge GST @ 12 per cent from the service recipient, the service recipient shall be liable to pay GST under RCM.
 5. Though a supplier providing the service to a body corporate under RCM may still be paying GST @ 5 per cent on the services supplied to other non-body corporate clients, to bring in greater clarity, Serial No. 15 of the Notification No. 13/ 2017-CT(R), dated 28.06-2017 has been amended vide Notification No. 29/ 2019-CT(R), dated 31.12.19 to state that RCM shall be applicable on the service by way of renting of any motor vehicle designed to carry passengers where the cost of fuel is included in the consideration charged from the service recipient only if the supplier fulfils all the following conditions:
 - (a) the supplier is other than a body-corporate;
 - (b) the supplier does not issue an invoice charging GST @12 per cent from the service recipient; and
 - (c) the supplier supplies the service to a body corporate.
 6. It may be noted that the present amendment of the notification is merely clarificatory in nature and therefore for the period from 01.10.2019 to 31.12.2019 also, the clarification given at Para-5 above shall apply, as any other interpretation shall render the RCM notification for the said service unworkable for that period.
- (iv) In the case of Mohit Minerals (P) Ltd. v. UOI [2020-VIL-36-GUJ, dated 23.01.-2020], the Hon'ble High Court has held that no IGST is leviable on the ocean freight for the services provided by a person located in a non-taxable territory by way of transportation of goods by a vessel from a place outside India up to the customs station of clearance in India. Entry 9(ii) of Notification No.-8/ 2017-IT(R), dated 28-Jun-2017 and Entry No. 10 of Notification No.10/ 2017-IT(R), dated 28-Jun-2017 declared as ultra vires the IGST Act due to lack of legislative competence and consequently unconstitutional. Under section 5(3) of the IGST Act, the person liable to pay tax can only be “the recipient” of supply. The term ‘recipient’ has to be read in the sense in which it has been defined in the CGST Act. The importer cannot be said to be the recipient of the ocean freight service in the instant case since the importer has neither availed the service of transportation of goods nor he is liable to pay consideration for such service. The foreign shipping line is engaged by the foreign exporter. The importer cannot be made liable to pay tax on a mere premise that the importer is directly or indirectly recipient of the service.

The Court observed that it is neither an inter-State supply under section 7 nor an intra-State supply under section 8 of the IGST Act as follows:

For section 8, both the location of the supplier and place of supply should be in India. The same is not applicable since location of foreign shipping line is outside India. Sub-sections (1) & (2) of section 7 are dealing with goods and are not relevant. For section 7(3), both the location of the supplier and place of supply should be in India. The same is not applicable since location of foreign shipping line is outside India. Section 7(4) on import of service, is not applicable since the location of recipient of service, i.e., the foreign exporter, is outside India. Section 7(5)(a) is not applicable since location of foreign shipping line is outside India. Section 7(5)(b) pertaining to SEZ is also not applicable.

A supply where both the provider and the recipient are outside India can be made liable to tax only under section 7(5)(c) i.e., residuary clause, provided that “supply is in taxable territory”. The same cannot be equated with “place of supply”. Supply in the taxable territory shall mean a supply, all the aspects or majority of aspects of which take place in taxable territory. Thus, the provision may cover cases such as a foreign tour operator conducting a tour in India for a foreign tourist. The mere fact that transportation of goods terminates in India, will not make such supply of transportation of goods as taking place in India. Thus, no tax can be levied and collected from importer/ petitioner. In the instant case, the freight has already suffered IGST as a part of value of goods imported. Dual levy of IGST cannot be imposed treating it as supply of service. Double taxation, through delegated legislation, where statute does not provide, is not permissible.

Issues which may emerge post this decision

- Whether refund is available in respect of service tax or GST already paid under RCM where credit was not eligible?
- Whether ongoing demands by department for service tax or GST for non-payment of tax on ocean freight under RCM are liable to be dropped?

(iv) The e-commerce operator, in terms of section 9(5): The Government is empowered to notify categories of services wherein the person responsible for payment of taxes would neither be the supplier nor the recipient of supply, but the e-commerce operator through whom the supply is effected. It is important to note that, in case of such supplies, the e-commerce operator is neither the supplier nor does it receive the services. The e-commerce operator is merely the person who owns, operates or manages digital or electronic facility or platform for e-commerce purposes. Under the erstwhile service tax law, the e-commerce operator in such an arrangement was referred to as an 'aggregator'.

- (1) The Government has notified certain services in this regard vide Notification No. 17/ 2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 28-Jun-2017 as amended from time to time, services by way of transportation of passengers by a radio-taxi, motor cab, maxi cab and motor cycle, etc.; accommodation in hotels, inns, guest houses, clubs, camp-sites; services by way of housekeeping, such as plumbing, carpeting etc.
- (2) Where the e-commerce operator does not have a physical presence in the taxable territory, any person representing him in the taxable territory would be liable to pay the taxes. If no such representative exists, the e-commerce operator is liable to appoint such a person in order to discharge this obligation.
- (3) All other provisions of the Act will apply to the e-commerce operator or his representative (as the case may be) in respect of such services, as if, he is the supplier liable to pay tax on the services.
- (4) In this regard it may be noted that liability to pay tax on the supply by the e-commerce operator is not another provision imposing tax on the reverse charge basis. Reference to the definition of reverse charge in section 2(98) makes it clear that reverse charge is limited to tax payable under section 9(3) and section 9(4). It is important to note that the language employed in section 9(5) makes it clear that the liability to pay tax on the supply is placed on the e-commerce operator, "as if", the e-commerce operator were the "supplier liable to tax". The marked departure of the language from that used in case of the reverse charge provisions suggests that:
 - (a) The tax that is applicable on the supply is to be paid by the e-commerce operator, as if, such e-commerce operator was the supplier liable to tax. The provisions require the e-commerce operator to step into the shoes of the actual supplier, for the limited purpose of discharging his liability, and the supply by the e-commerce operator to the actual supplier (facilitation services, commission services or by any service inter se) will be taxable separately, in the hands of the e-commerce operator as a supplier of service to the actual supplier.
 - (b) The actual supplier is no longer liable to pay any tax. This means that the suppliers will not be the person liable to pay tax on such services effected through an e-commerce operator, even if, they have obtained registration. This is clear not only from the exclusion from compulsory registration under section 24(ix)[to such actual suppliers where the e-commerce operator will pay tax under section 9(5)] but also allowed to enjoy exclusion from registration under section 23(1)(a) when the entire turnover is taxed under section 9(5) in the hands of the e-commerce operator. Also refer Notification No. 17/ 2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 28-Jun-2017 where an exception is made for 'requirement to otherwise register under section 22" to such actual supplies attracting section 9(5).

Readers may refer to the decision of the Karnataka AAR in the matter of Opta Cabs (P) Ltd. discussed hereunder:

Question raised: Whether the money paid by the customer to the driver of the cab for the services of the trip is liable to GST and whether the applicant company is liable to pay GST on this amount?

Ruling: The services of transportation of passengers is supplied to the consumers through the applicant and it shall be deemed that the applicant would be deemed to be the supplier liable to pay tax in relation to the supply of such service by the taxi operator - in accordance with the provisions of section 9(5) read with Notification No. 17/ 2017- Central Tax(Rate), dated 28-Jun-2017, the applicant is liable to pay tax on the amounts billed by him on behalf of the taxi operators for the service provided in the nature of transportation of passengers through it.

(iv) Rate of tax: The rate of tax will be applicable as specified in Notification No. 1/ 2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 28-Jun-2017, for goods and Notification No. 11/ 2017- Central Tax (Rate), dated 28-Jun-2017, for services issued in this regard and read with other rate notifications which may be issued to partially exempt any other goods or services from payment of tax. In order to determine the applicable rate of tax, the following approach is to be adopted:

- Identify whether the supply is an intra-State supply.
- Identify whether the supply is a plain supply/ composite supply/ mixed supply and adopt the treatment accordingly.
- Identify HSN/ SAC of the goods or services and applicable rate of tax as per rate notification.
- Identify whether the HSN/ SAC applies to more than one description-line. If yes, analyse which of the description is more specific to the supply in question.
- Once the correct classification is ascertained, identify whether such goods or services qualify for any exemption (partially or wholly) from payment of tax.

(v) Taxable value: The rate of tax so notified will apply on the value of supply as determined under section 15. The transaction value would be accepted subject to inclusions/ exclusions specified in the said section, where the price is the sole consideration for the supply and the supplier and recipient are not related persons. In all other cases, the value of supply will be that value which is determined in terms of the rules (i.e., Chapter IV of the CGST Rules, 2017).

(vi) Classification of Goods or Services: In order to apply a particular rate of tax, a taxable person needs to determine the classification of his supply as to whether supply constitutes a supply of goods or services. Once the same is determined, further classification in terms of HSN/ SAC of goods and services has to be made by the taxpayer so as to arrive at the rate of tax at which he is required to pay tax. At the outset, it is important to note that HSN for goods are contained in Chapters 1 to 98 and SAC for services are contained in Chapter 99. Since classification of goods is older and is based on knowledge gathered from precedents on HSN classification, we shall discuss the steps for classification of goods. The steps for determination of proper classification is as under:

- I. It is important to note that classification of each product supplied has to be made separately, if supply of such product is independent. This shall include all by-products, scraps etc.
- II. Identify the description and nature of the goods being supplied. One must confirm that the product is also similarly or more specifically covered in the Customs Tariff and HSN 2017. The Section Notes and Chapter Notes to the applicable Schedule are to be read as if they form an integral part of the Tariff for the purpose of classification.
- III. If there is any ambiguity, reference shall, first, be made to the Rules for interpretation of the customs tariff.
- IV. As per the Rules, the first step to be applied is to find the trade understanding of the terms used in the Schedule, if the meaning or description of goods is not clear.
- V. If the trade understanding is not available, the next step is to refer to the technical or scientific meaning of the term. If the tariff headings have technical or scientific meanings, then these have to be ascertained first before the test of trade understanding.
- VI. If none of the above is available, reference may be had to the dictionary meaning or ISI specifications. Evidence may be gathered on end use or predominant use.
- VII. In case of the unfinished or incomplete goods, if the unfinished product bears the essential characteristics of the finished product, its classification shall be the same as that of the finished product.
- VIII. If the classification is not ascertained as per the above point, one has to look for the nature of the product which is more specific.
- IX. If the classification is still not determinable, one has to look for the ingredient which gives the article its essential characteristics.
- X. It is important to note that in the following cases of supply of services, same rate of central tax as applicable on supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods would be applicable:

Sl. No.	Chapter, Section or Heading	Description of Service	Rate (per cent.) of Central Tax	Rate (per cent.) of Integrated Tax
15	HEADING 9971 (Financial and related services)	(ii) Transfer of the right to use any goods for any purpose (whether or not for a specified period) for cash, deferred payment or other valuable consideration.	Same rate of Central tax as on supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods	Same rate of Integrated tax as on supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods
		(iii) Any transfer of right in goods or of undivided share in goods without the transfer of title thereof.	Same rate of Central tax as on supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods	Same rate of Integrated tax as on supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods
17	HEADING 9973 (Leasing or rental services, with or without operator)	(iii) Transfer of the right to use any goods for any purpose (whether or not for a specified period) for cash, deferred payment or other valuable consideration.	Same rate of Central tax as on supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods	Same rate of Integrated tax as on supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods
		(iv) Any transfer of right in goods or of undivided share in goods without the transfer of title thereof.	Same rate of Central tax as on supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods	Same rate of Integrated tax as on supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods

		(vi) Leasing or rental services, with or without operator, other than (i), (ii), (iii), (iv) and (v) above.	Same rate of Central tax as applicable on supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods	Same rate of Integrated tax as applicable on supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods
--	--	---	---	--

Note: The only exception to the above Table is leasing of motor vehicle which was purchased by the Lessor prior to July 1, 2017, leased before July 1, 2017 and no ITC of central excise, VAT or any other taxes on such motor vehicle was availed by him. If all these conditions are fulfilled then the lessor is liable to pay only 65 per cent of the GST applicable on such motor vehicle. – [Refer Notification No. 37/ 2017- Central Tax (Rate), dated 13-Oct-2017].

9.3 Comparative review

Under the erstwhile tax laws, central excise duty was levied on 'manufacture of goods', VAT/ CST was levied on 'sale of goods' and service tax was charged on 'service provided or agreed to be provided'. Unlike such different incidences, under the GST law, it is 'supply' which is the taxable event. Under the erstwhile law, e.g., while stock transfers were liable to central excise duty (if they are removed from the factory), it was not liable to VAT/ CST on production of necessary Forms; however, under the GST law, it is taxable as a 'supply', if such supplies are between distinct persons under section 25(4) or 25(5). Further, free supplies were liable to excise duty, while under the VAT laws, free supplies required reversal of input tax credit; under the GST law, we have to be careful to analyse whether there is any non-monetary consideration (inducement) present in the supplies (freely marketed as) and if yes, then we have to get into valuation of such free supplies to arrive at a transaction value. If not, then the treatment would be similar to the erstwhile VAT laws, where the supplies are made without any consideration (monetary/ otherwise). However, where the free supplies are made between distinct persons or between related persons then such supplies may be regarded as supply under Schedule I, Para-2.

Under the erstwhile law, there were multiple transactions which apparently qualified as both 'sale of goods' as well as 'provision of services'. [Example - license of software, providing a right to use a brand name, etc. To avoid this situation, GST law clarifies as to whether a transaction would qualify as a 'supply of goods' or as 'supply of services' by introducing a deeming fiction. A transaction of supply under composite contracts would either qualify as supply of goods or as services., under the GST law (Schedule II of the Act, Concept of composite supply and mixed supply).

The payment of VAT in the hands of the purchaser (registered dealer) on purchase of goods from an unregistered dealer and the circumstances when the service tax is payable under the reverse charge mechanism in respect of say, advocates' services, import of services, sponsorship services etc. are comparable to the 'reverse charge mechanism' prescribed herein.

However, the concept of partial reverse charge is not continuing in the GST regime, viz., every supply will be liable either to forward charge or full reverse charge. Further, under erstwhile law, the concept of reverse charge existed only in relation to services. The GST law, however, permits the supply of goods also to be subjected to reverse charge.

9.4 Issues and concerns

1. The activity of import of service is subjected to tax, whether or not such import is in the course or furtherance of business. While the relaxation from obtaining registration is provided to a 'non-taxable online recipient' who imports OIDAR services, relaxation to other persons who import services for personal use flows from exemption in Entry No. 10(a) to Notification No. 9/ 2017-Integrated Tax (Rate), dated 28-Jun-2017.
2. Although, the word 'business' is clearly defined under section 2(17), the phrase 'in the course or furtherance of business' has not been defined in the Act. The meaning that can be derived from this phrase is so wide to include every activity undertaken by a business concern, including activities in the course of employment, since employment is a subset of the activities undertaken in the course of business.
3. A plain reading of the meaning of the terms 'composite supply' and 'mixed supply' suggests that the concept pre-supposes a condition that they are effected by taxable persons. In case of a supply effected by a non-taxable person to a registered person attracting tax under reverse charge, the supply would not be regarded as a composite supply even where all the conditions are satisfied, and cannot be regarded as a mixed supply either, for the same reason. Such an understanding would defeat the very purpose of the legislative intent. Therefore, in case of reverse charge transactions, the supply must be understood to have been made by the registered person who is the recipient of supply, i.e., even supplies effected by unregistered persons may qualify to be termed as 'composite supply' or 'mixed supply', subject to the normal conditions which would otherwise apply.
4. While the concept of 'mixed supplies' requires that the goods and/ or services supplied in the mixed supply must be supplied for a single price, there is no such requirement in the case of composite supplies. Therefore, a person effecting a mixed supply of goods would certainly have an option to strategically alter the bundle of supplies so that all the goods/ services included in the mixed supply would not at all be subjected to the highest rate of tax applicable to the said supplies.

On the other hand, if a supplier who effects a composite supply wishes to charge for the supply of two or more goods or services separately, which otherwise constitutes a composite supply, a question may arise as to whether the rate of tax applicable on all the supplies would continue to be the rate applicable to the principal supply. Say, a supplier of air conditioners (taxable @ 28 per cent) who always effects the supply along with the installation service, now chooses to split the cost of the service in order to tax such service portion at the rate of 18 per cent. Such a split-up may be questioned, given that there is no escape from treatment as a composite supply merely because the values are ascertained separately. Generally, transactions that are intentionally broken up with an intent to minimise the impact of tax, would be subject to scrutiny/ valuation.

9.5 FAQs

Q1. In respect of exchange of goods, namely gold watch for restaurant services, will the transaction be taxable as two different supplies or will it be taxable only in the hands of the main supplier?

Ans. Yes, the transaction of exchange is specifically included within the scope of “supply” under section 7. Thus, exchange could be taxable both ways, provided the person exchanging gold watch is in the business of selling watches (A contrary view could also be taken. It depends on the facts of each and every case).

Q2. What are examples of ‘disposals’ as used in ‘supply’?

Ans. “Disposals” could include donation in kind or supplies in a manner other than sale.

Q3. Will a not-for-profit entity be liable to tax (if registered under GST) on any supplies effected by it – e.g., sale of assets received as donation?

Ans. Yes, it would be liable to tax on the value as may be determined under section 15, for the said sale of donated assets.

Q4. Is the levy under reverse charge mechanism applicable only to services?

Ans. No, reverse charge applies to supplies of both goods and services by virtue of Notification No. 4/ 2017-CT(R), dated 28-Jun-2017, and Notification No. 13/ 2017-CT(R), dated 28-Jun-2017, for goods and services respectively.

Q5. What will be the implications in case of purchase of goods from unregistered dealers?

Ans. Section 9(4) of the CGST Act, 2017 as amended by the CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018, specifies that tax shall be payable under reverse charge by the specified class of registered persons, in respect of supply of specified categories of goods.

9.6 MCQs

- (c) Both of the above
- (d) Either of the above.

Ans. (b) Intra-State supplies

Q2. Which of the following forms of supply are included in Schedule I?

10.1 Introduction

This section enables a registered person to opt for payment of taxes under a scheme of composition and provides the conditions attached thereto and the persons who are entitled, but not mandated, to make payment of tax under this Scheme. The conditions, restrictions, procedures and the documentation in respect of this scheme are contained in Chapter II of the Central Goods and Service Tax Rules, 2017 . [Rule 3 to Rule 7, Composition Rules]

10.2 Analysis

Tax payment under this scheme is an option available to the taxable person. This scheme would be available only to certain eligible persons.

- (a) Payment of tax: The composition scheme offers to a registered person, the option to remit taxes on the turnover as against outward supply-wise payment of taxes. In other words, the registered person opting to pay tax under the composition scheme needs only to ascertain the aggregate turnover, and compute the tax thereon at a fixed rate, regardless of the actual rate of tax applicable on the said outward supply. The rates of tax prescribed in this regard are as under:
- (i) In case of manufacturers (other than manufacturers of notified goods): 1 per cent (0.5 per cent CGST+ 0.5 per cent SGST) of the turnover in the State/UT. (Note: the rate applicable has been reduced from 2% to 1% vide Notification No. 1/2018-Central Tax dated 23.01.2018 effective 01.01.2018);
 - (ii) In case of food/ restaurant services: 5 per cent (2.5 per cent CGST+ 2.5 per cent SGST) of the turnover in the State/ UT (i.e., in case of composite supply of service specified in Entry 6(b) of Schedule II);

- (iii) In case of other suppliers: 1 per cent (0.5 per cent CGST+ 0.5 per cent SGST) of the turnover of taxable supplies in the State/ UT (like traders, agents for supply of goods, etc.)
- (b) Eligibility to pay tax under composition scheme: The conditions for eligibility to opt for payment of tax under the composition scheme are as follows:
- (i) Registered persons having an 'aggregate turnover' as defined under section 2(6) of the Act (i.e., aggregate of turnovers across all States under the same PAN, including exempt supplies, supplies specified under Schedule I, etc.) does not exceed the prescribed limit in the preceding financial year will be eligible to opt for payment of tax under the composition scheme. [Refer to the discussion on aggregate turnover as explained in the definitions Chapter for a better understanding of the expression].

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 172 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 and in supersession of the Central Goods and Services Tax (Removal of Difficulties) Order, 2017, No. 01/2017-Central Tax, dated the 13th October, 2017, published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, vide number S.O. 3330 (E), dated the 13th October, 2017, except as respects things done or omitted to be done before such supersession, the Central Government, on recommendations of the Council, hereby makes the following Order, namely: — 1. Short title. —This Order may be called the Central Goods and Services Tax (Removal of Difficulties) Order, 2019.

persons. In any such case, due tax ought to have been paid thereon under section 9(4).

Note: In case of migrated registrations from the erstwhile laws, the GST law imposes an additional condition that the stock of goods held on the GST appointed day (01.07.2017) does not include any goods which have been procured in the course of inter-State trade or commerce or received from his branch/ his agent/ his principal situated outside the State or imported from a place outside India.

- (iv) The registered person would not be eligible to effect any:
- (1) Supply of goods ⁵⁵[or services] through an e-commerce operator who is liable to collect tax at source (TCS) – while there is no restriction on goods supplier through a portal owned and operated by the same person.
In this regard, it may be noted that the provision relating to TCS has been notified to be effective from 01.10.2018.
 - (2) Supply of ⁵⁶non-taxable goods [or services], i.e., alcoholic liquor for human consumption, petroleum crude, high speed diesel, motor spirit (commonly known as petrol), natural gas and aviation turbine fuel.
 - (3) Supply of services, other than services specified in Para-6(b) to Schedule II or upto limit as prescribed under second proviso to Section 10(1) i.e., 10 per cent of the of turnover in a State or Union Territory in the preceding financial year or ₹ 5 lakh, whichever is higher. In this regard, it must be noted that the Government has issued an order for the removal of difficulties to clarify that any services provided by a composition taxpayer shall not be taken into account where the consideration for the said service is by way of “interest” which is exempted from tax under the GST Law.

Removal of Difficulty Order

One of the difficulties which was initially faced by such persons was that if he earns any interest income (particularly in a proprietorship firm) then that would have been deemed to be a supply against service under GST and therefore, any registered person receiving interest income in course of furtherance of business shall be deemed to be supplying services. Thus, such registered person shall not be eligible for opting composition scheme. To overcome such difficulties the Central Goods and Services Tax [Removal of Difficulties Order No. 01/2017-Central Tax, dated 13.10.2017] was issued to clarify as under:

- “(i) it is hereby clarified that if a person supplies goods and/ or services referred to in clause (b) of Paragraph 6 of Schedule II of the said Act and also supplies any exempt services including services by way of extending deposits, loans or advances in so far as the consideration is represented by way of interest or discount, the said person shall not be ineligible for the composition scheme under section 10 subject to the fulfilment of all other conditions specified therein;

- (ii) it is further clarified that in computing his aggregate turnover in order to determine his eligibility for composition scheme, value of supply of any exempt services including services by way of extending deposits, loans or advances in so far as the consideration is represented by way of interest or discount, shall not be taken into account.”

Central Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018

A registered person under section 10 is allowed to supply services up to a value not exceeding 10 per cent of the turnover in a State or UT in the preceding financial year or 5 lakhs, whichever is higher. This has been inserted through a proviso to Section 10.

- (4) ⁵⁷Inter-State outward supplies of goods [or services], including supplies to SEZ unit/ developer. This condition implies that the registered person will not be in a position to effect inter-State stock transfers to its own establishments located outside the State. It is also important to note that the condition is not limited to taxable supplies alone, and extends to exempt supplies as well.
- (v) Shall not collect tax: Taxable person opting to pay tax under the composition scheme is prohibited from collecting tax on the outward supplies. Care must be taken when composition taxable persons are involved in supply of MRP-goods. MRP includes output tax and selling at MRP violates this condition. The impact is far more severe as the composition facility gets rejected and full output tax is liable to be paid but input tax credit (otherwise available) would not have been availed within the relevant time permitted.
- (vi) Not entitled to input tax credit: The taxable person opting to pay tax under the composition scheme will not be eligible to claim any input tax credits.

However, if the taxable person becomes ineligible to remain under composition scheme, the taxable person will become entitled to take input tax in respect of inputs held in stock (as inputs, contained in semi-finished or finished goods) on the day immediately preceding the date from which he becomes liable to pay tax under section 9. (Refer section 18(1)(c) for the provision. A statement of stock shall be filed in Form GST ITC-01 within 30 days from the date from which the option is withdrawn or the order cancelling the composition option is passed).

- (vii) The registered person must not be:
- (1) A manufacturer of such goods as may be notified by the Government (based on the recommendations of the GST Council), in the year for which he opts for the scheme, or in the preceding financial year (E.g., Ice cream, pan masala, tobacco, aerated water). However, there is no restriction in trading of such goods, i.e., where the person has not manufactured the goods.
 - (2) A casual taxable person;
 - (3) A non-resident taxable person;
- (viii) All the registrations obtained under a single PAN are also mandated to opt for payment under the composition scheme, i.e., all the registered persons under the PAN will also be mandated to comply with all the conditions mentioned above, including the business verticals having separate registrations within the same State under the same PAN. The scheme would become applicable for all the registrations and it cannot be applied for select verticals only. E.g., Say a company has the following businesses separately registered:
- Sale of mobile devices (registered in Kerala)
 - Franchisee of branded restaurant (registered in Goa)
- The scheme would be applicable for the said two units. The company cannot opt for composition scheme for the registration in Kerala and opt to pay taxes under the regular scheme for the registration in Goa.
- (ix) The scheme will be applicable to all the outward supplies. The option of the scheme will be qua-person and not qua-class of goods—once opted it will be applicable for all supplies effected by the registered person; it must be noted that a taxable person cannot opt for payment of taxes under composition scheme for supply of one class of goods and opt for regular scheme of payment of taxes for supply of other classes of goods or services.
- (c) Conditions applicable on a composition supplier: Once a person has opted to pay tax under the composition scheme, the following conditions would stand attracted:
- (i) Every notice or signboard in every registered place of business, displayed at a prominent place, shall carry the words COMPOSITION TAXABLE PERSON;
 - (ii) Every bill of supply issued by the composition suppliers shall carry the declaration “Composition taxable person, not eligible to collect tax on supplies” on top of the bill;
 - (iii) RCM on inward supplies: The composition supplier shall be liable to make payment at the rate applicable on the supply in respect of every inward supply liable to tax under the reverse charge mechanism, regardless of the rate of tax that is applicable on him on the outward supplies effected by him. It may be noted that the value of such inward supplies would not be included in the aggregate turnover of the composition taxpayer although the liability is discharged by him on such inward supplies;

- (iv) Not entitled to collect tax: The composition taxpayer is prohibited from collecting any GST/ Cess applicable on the outward supplies effected by him. Accordingly, the recipients of supply would also not be eligible to claim any credits where the inward supply is from a composition taxpayer;
- (v) Not entitled to claim credit of taxes paid: The composition taxpayer is not entitled to claim credit in respect of taxes paid by him on any of the inward supplies effected by him, including inward supplies on which he pays tax under reverse charge mechanism.
- (vi) A Composition supplier shall not be entitled to issue any tax invoice. However, to effect supplies of goods/ services the supplier will have to issue "Bill of Supply" without indicating any tax amount on it.

However, if the composition taxpayer switches over to become a regular taxpayer, he will be entitled to take input tax in respect of inputs held in stock (as inputs, contained in semi-finished or finished goods) on the day immediately preceding the date from which he becomes liable to pay tax under section 9 (regular taxpayer). Refer the discussion on section 18(1)(c) for a better understanding of the provisions.

(d) Important Note: The option to pay tax under the composition scheme will remain valid so long as the registered persons comply with all of the aforesaid conditions in (b) and (c) above. The composition suppliers will be treated as any other registered supplier with effect from the date on which any of the said conditions cease to be complied with. The composition suppliers would not be entitled to re-enter the scheme until the expiry of the financial year.

- (i) The registered person would be required to file an intimation (suo motu) for withdrawal from the scheme within 7 days of the non-compliance;
- (ii) The registered person may also file an intimation if he wishes to withdraw from the scheme, before the effective date of withdrawal and such withdrawal can be applied for anytime during the financial year.

Once granted, the eligibility would be valid unless the permission is cancelled or is withdrawn or the person becomes ineligible for the scheme.

- (iii) Cancellation of permission: Where the proper officer has reasons to believe that the taxable person was not eligible to the composition scheme, the proper officer may cancel the permission (in order CMP-7) and demand the following:
 - (a) Differential tax and interest – viz., tax payable under the other provisions of the Act after deducting the tax paid under composition scheme.
 - (b) Penalty determined based on the demand provisions under section 73 or 74.

- (e) Comments specific to migration cases (transition from the erstwhile law to the GST regime): In case of migration of old registration into registration under GST, option to avail composition scheme under GST laws can be exercised only if the goods held in stock by such taxable person, on the appointed day have not been purchased in the course of inter-State trade or commerce or imported from a place outside India or received from his branch situated outside the State, or from his agent or principal outside the State.
- (i) As per rule 3(1) of the CGST Rules, in cases involving migration, there is need to exercise such option for composition in Form GST CMP-01 prior to appointed date or within 30 days after the appointed date. In this case, the option to pay tax under composition scheme shall be effective from the appointed date. This date has further been extended to 16.08.2017. Such person would be required to file stock statement under rule 3(4) in Form GST CMP-03 within a period of 90 days (extended from 60 days to 90 days by Notification No. 22/2017-CT, dated 17-Aug-2017 from the date on which the option for composition levy is exercised or within such further period as may be extended by the Commissioner in this behalf. Such date was extended further till 31.01.2018 vide Order No. 11/2017-GST, dated 21-Dec-2017.
- (ii) A new sub-rule (3A) was inserted by Notification No. 34/2017-Central Tax, dated 15.09.2017, which has an overriding effect on provisions of sub-rule (1), (2) and (3). It may be noted that, the purpose of rule (3A) is only to enable the persons to opt for composition scheme in the first year of GST implementation, without making them to wait up to the next financial year. This is on account of the fact that, the threshold limit for the purposes of composition scheme under section 10 was enhanced twice i.e., once on 27.06.2017 and then again on 13.10.2017 (vide Notification No. 45/2017-CT) Hence, sub-rule (3A) would only cover cases, where the application is made prior to 31.03.2018. For all applications made during the financial year 2018-19, the matter would be governed by rule 3(3).

10.3 Comparative review

Under the erstwhile tax laws, the scheme of composition is provided for in most State level VAT laws. The conditions prescribed under the GST law for composition scheme is broadly comparable to the conditions/ restrictions under the State level VAT laws.

10.4 Issues & concerns

- (1) An amendment of the rate applicable to the supplies effected by composition suppliers was made with effect from 01.01.2018. In this regard, attention is drawn to the rate applicable to traders which reads as follows – “half per cent of the turnover of taxable supplies of goods in the State or Union Territory”. It must be noted that the highlighted expression, more specifically, “of taxable supplies” is missing in the rate entries applicable to manufacturers and restaurant service providers. Therefore, the said two classes of persons would be liable to pay tax on the turnover in State, whether or not the supplies are exempted from tax.

Analysis

With effect from 1st April, 2019, a new composition scheme has come into force in case of intra-State supply of goods or services or both, at the rate of 6 per cent (3 per cent CGST + 3 per cent SGST) for first supplies of goods or services or both up to an aggregate turnover of ₹ 50 lakhs made on or after the 1st day of April in any financial year by a registered person subject to certain conditions.

This is an optional facility through a rate notification 'notwithstanding' any other rate notification issued. Therefore, the notification overrides Notification No. 11/2017-Central Tax (Rate). As it is optional, the registered person should carefully consider the conditions before opting for the same. This facility and composition scheme under section 10 operate as mutually exclusive. Thus, traders and manufacturers of goods and restaurant service providers who are eligible for composition (even if not opted) will not enter into this facility.

Statutory Provision

11. Power to grant exemption from tax

- (1) Where the Government is satisfied that it is necessary in the public interest so to do, it may, on the recommendations of the Council, by notification, exempt generally, either absolutely or subject to such conditions as may be specified therein, goods or services or both of any specified description from the whole or any part of the tax leviable thereon with effect from such date as may be specified in such notification.
- (2) Where the Government is satisfied that it is necessary in the public interest so to do, it may, on the recommendations of the Council, by special order in each case, under circumstances of an exceptional nature to be stated in such order, exempt from payment of tax any goods or services or both on which tax is leviable.
- (3) The Government may, if it considers necessary or expedient so to do for the purpose of clarifying the scope or applicability of any notification issued under sub-section (1) or order issued under sub-section (2), insert an explanation in such notification or order, as the case may be, by notification at any time within one year of issue of the notification under sub-section (1) or order under sub-section (2), and every such explanation shall have effect as if it had always been the part of the first such notification or order, as the case may be.

Explanation. —For the purposes of this section, where an exemption in respect of any goods or services or both from the whole or part of the tax leviable thereon has been granted absolutely, the registered person supplying such goods or services or both shall not collect the tax, in excess of the effective rate, on such supply of goods or services or both.

11.1 Introduction

This provision confers powers on the Central Government to exempt either absolutely or conditionally goods or services or both of any specified description from whole or part of the Central tax, on the recommendations of the Council. It also confers power on the Central Government to exempt from payment of tax any goods or services or both, by special order, on the recommendation of the Council.

11.2 Analysis

The Central or the State Governments are empowered to grant exemptions from tax, subject to the following conditions:

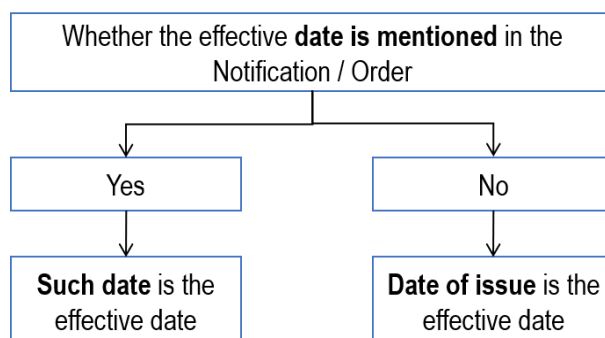

- (i) Exemption should be in public interest;
- (ii) By way of issue of notification;
- (iii) On the recommendation from the Council;
- (iv) Absolute/ conditional exemption may be for any goods and/ or services of any specified description. In this regard, it may be noted that the exemption would be in respect of the supply and not specifically for any classes of persons. For instance, an absolute exemption could be granted in respect of supply of water, whereas, a conditional exemption could be granted for supply of goods to canteen stores department.
- (v) Exemption by way of special order (and not notification) may be granted by citing the circumstances which are of exceptional nature.
- (vi) The GST law specifies that a registered person supplying the goods and/ or services is not entitled to collect a tax higher than the effective rate, where the supply enjoys an absolute exemption.

Effective date of the notification or special order

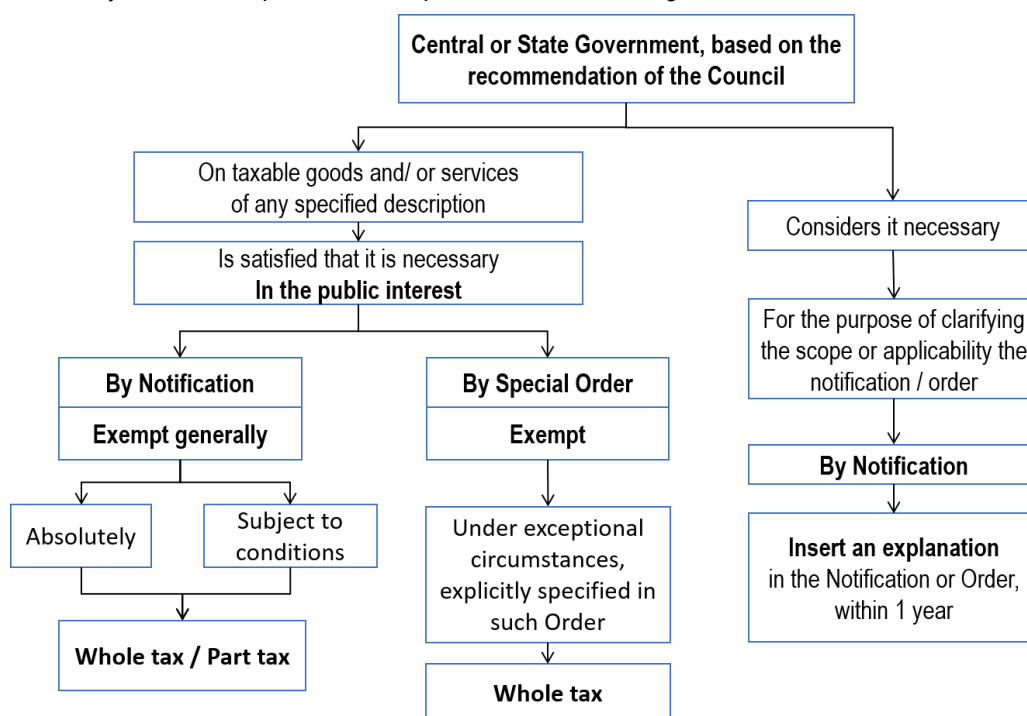

The effective date of the notification or the special order would be date which is so mentioned in the notification or special order. However, if no date is mentioned therein, it would be:

- date of its issue for publication in the official Gazette;

- date on which it is made available on the official website of the Government Department.

The analysis of above provision is explained in the following flowchart:

Effect of Exemption under one GST Law on another GST Law

An exemption issued under the CGST Act will 'automatically' exempt the same supply from the levy of tax under the SGST/ UTGST Act. This is provided under the SGST/ UTGST Act. But the converse is not necessarily applicable, that is, exemption under an SGST/ UTGST Act will not exempt levy of tax under the CGST Act.

Exemption under CGST Act	Deemed to be exempt under SGST Act
	Deemed to be exempt under UTGST Act
	No auto-application of exemption under IGST Act
Exemption under IGST Act	No auto-application of exemption under CGST Act

Clarification on a Notification/ Special Order

The law also provides for the Government to incorporate a clarification to such notification or special order, by way of an "Explanation", at any time within a period of 1 year from the date of the said notification or special order. Such explanation inserted within the timelines would have a retrospective effect, viz., from the effective date of the relevant notification or special order.

CLASSIFICATION

Introduction

Unlike the Customs law, GST law does not contain a commodity classification tariff; these are contained within the notification which prescribes the rate of tax. Classification, therefore, is an exercise that is inevitable to identify the specific entry in any of the six Schedules for determining the rate of tax on the supply of goods or services. The revenue department could object to the rate adopted or exemption claimed when the error is observed at the time of assessment, investigation or revenue audit. This could lead to multiple demands at all stages of supply and also denial of credit. The customer may object to the classification or the rate. The assessee himself may come to know of the error due to competitors using different rates, paying or not paying, attending some awareness session, reading articles, books etc. Errors may also come to light at the time of due diligence, internal audit, statutory audit, outsourced consultant changing, etc.

Errors in GST classification – Impact

Many taxpayers could suffer loss of business during the period of uncertainty till proper classification is arrived at as they may have adopted some rate for their supplies since they could not afford to stop business for want of HSN. After that they may be following the same incorrect classification unless there is any objection.

The impact of errors would include the following:

1. In case of higher tax being charged, the taxpayer may have to suffer the loss of orders and cost of re-establishing business with the customers and the loss of credibility with customers. The cost of discounts given to retain the customer due to incorrect rate is inevitable.
2. In case of goods or services supplied which are nil rated or exempted, the non-availability of credit can be fatal for the business if this claim for exemption is not accurately made by the supplier. In other words, where exemption is availed erroneously, demand for output tax will be made without any facility to allow credit that could have been availed. Similarly, where exemption is omitted to be claimed, there would be a scenario of recovery of input tax credit being ineligible from the start. Demands may be made at multiple stages of the supply chain. This is a major departure from the earlier regime.

3. In case of short levy due to incorrect classification or claim of exemption which is not available, would result in non-recoverability of taxes from the customers and cost of interest. In business, breaking the credit chain could make business unviable.
4. Valuation methods prescribed for certain categories of goods and/ or services would be dependent on the classification of such goods and/ or services. Wrong classification would lead to wrong payment of tax.
5. On certain goods and/ or services, GST is to be discharged by the recipient of supply under reverse charge mechanism. Wrong classification may result in non-payment of tax or un-necessary payment of tax.
6. Denial of benefits under FTP such as duty drawback and incentives being provided for various goods and/ or services at varied rates can be the result of incorrect classification of goods/ services.
7. Non-payment of compensation cess, if any, applicable on specified goods and/ or services may result in penal proceedings over and above the levy of interest .
8. Calculating incorrect liability on import of goods/ services or not claiming the ITC (input tax credit) benefit of export on goods/ services exports due to improper classification could also happen. This could happen when the alternative headings available have different import/ export criterion being applicable to them.

In case of Revenue raising the short charge or ineligible exemption issues, in addition to the above costs: the cost of penalty, denial of credit availed, cost of dispute resolution at adjudication, appeal, Court stages also would arise. It would also result in internal manpower resources getting substantially involved to resolve the issue in spite of the fact that a specialist in GST may be outsourced to prepare the reply, appearance etc.

Analysis

(i) Classification of Goods or Services:

In order to apply a particular rate of tax, one needs to determine the classification of the supply as to whether the supply constitutes a supply of goods or services or both. Once the same is determined in terms of sections 7 and 8, a further classification in terms of HSN/ SAC of goods and services has to be made so as to arrive at the rate of tax applicable to the supply. At the outset, it is important to note that HSN for goods are contained in Chapters 1 to 98 and SAC for services are contained as Chapter 99 notified as the 'Scheme of Classification of Services' provided as an Annexure to the Notification issued for rate of tax (CGST) applicable to services (i.e., Annexure to Notification No. 11/ 2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 28.06.2017).

The Classification of Goods is older and is based on knowledge gathered from precedents on HSN classification, as an adaptation from that formulated by the World Customs Organisation. The suggested steps for determination of proper classification of goods are as under:

1. The classification of each supply has to be made separately for every individual supply, regardless of the form of supply (such as sale/ transfer/ disposal including by-products, scraps etc.)
2. Identify the description and nature of the goods being supplied. One must confirm that the product is also more specifically covered in the Customs Tariff. The Section Notes and Chapter Notes specified in the Customs Tariff would squarely apply to the Tariff Schedules under the GST law, and ought to be read as an integral part of the Tariff for the purpose of classification.
3. If there is any ambiguity, first reference shall be made to the 'Rules of Interpretation' of the First Schedule to the Customs Tariff Act, 1975.
 - (a) As per the Rules, first step to be applied is to find the trade understanding of the terms used in the Schedule, if the meaning or description of goods is not clear.
 - (b) If the trade understanding is not available, the next step is to refer to the technical or scientific meaning of the term. If the tariff headings have technical or scientific meanings, then that has to be ascertained first before the test of trade understanding.
 - (c) If none of the above is available reference may be made to the dictionary meaning or ISI specifications. Evidence may be gathered on end use or predominant use.
4. In case of the unfinished or incomplete goods, if the unfinished goods bear the essential characteristics of the finished goods, its classification shall be the same as that of the finished goods.
5. If the classification is not ascertained as per the above point, one has to look for the nature of goods which is more specific.
6. If the classification is still not determinable, one has to look for the ingredient which gives the goods its essential characteristics.

(iii) Requirement of Classification

It may seem that classification may not be so cumbersome, and tools such as experience, logic and common sense are sufficient to identify the classification and to interpret the tariff notifications. However, a quick look at some examples would drive home the need to pay close attention to the principles of classification. Let us consider the following examples:

- (1) a 'watch made of gold' – an article of gold or a watch, albeit an expensive one?
- (2) a confectionary product 'Hajmola' – an ayurvedic medicaments or remains confectionary sweets?
- (3) surgical gloves – latex products or accessories to healthcare services?

- (4) mirror cut-to-size for automobiles – article of glass or accessories to motor vehicles fitted as rear-view mirror?

As can be seen from the few instances mentioned above, classification is not one that is free from doubt. When coupled with differential rates of tax, the scope for misclassification is bound to be reinforced with motivation to either reduce the tax incidence/ or to pay a higher tax to circumvent any possible interest and penalty. Both these motivations can work on either side – industry as well as tax administration.

Approach to Classification

The notifications prescribing the rate of tax in respect of goods as well as services contain explanations as to how the classification must be undertaken. Extracts of some of those explanations are provided below for ease of reference:

(iii) “Tariff item”, “Sub-Heading” “Heading” and “Chapter” shall mean respectively a tariff item, Sub-heading, Heading and Chapter as specified in the First Schedule to the Customs Tariff Act, 1975 (51 of 1975).

Notification 1/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated 28 June, 2017

4. Explanation.- For the purposes of this notification,-

- (i) ‘Goods’ include capital goods.
- (ii) Reference to “Chapter”, “Section” or “Heading”, wherever they occur, unless the context otherwise requires, shall mean respectively as “Chapter”, “Section” and “Heading” in the annexed scheme of classification of services (Annexure).
- (iii) The rules for the interpretation of the First Schedule to the Customs Tariff Act, 1975 (51 of 1975), the Section and Chapter Notes and the General Explanatory Notes of the First Schedule shall, so far as may be, apply to the interpretation of Heading 9988.

Notification 11/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated 28 June, 2017

As can be seen from the above, the notification prescribing the rate of tax itself specifies the approach that is to be followed for the purposes of classification, namely:

- (a) in respect of goods, the notification requires reference to be made to the First Schedule to Customs Tariff Act 1975: A quick look at these would help us to recognize the approach that needs to be followed for classification.

THE CUSTOMS TARIFF ACT, 1975 (51 OF 1975)

An act to consolidate and amend the law relating to customs duties.

Be it enacted by Parliament in the Twenty-sixth Year of the Republic of India as follows:-

1. (1) This Act may be called the Customs Tariff Act, 1975.
 - (2) It extends to the whole of India.
 - (3) It shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.
2. The rates at which duties of customs shall be levied under the Customs Act, 1962, are specified in the First and Second Schedules,

It was drafted under the aegis of Customs Cooperation Council Nomenclature, Brussels. It was adopted for Customs purposes by India in 1975 and readapted (with some changes) for central excise in 1985 and now for purposes of GST in 2017. Note that reference to the original HSN would be of much help in understanding the scope of any entry to understand the full extent of meaning implied in any entry found while reading Customs Tariff Act. Refer www.wcoomd.org where the HSN is available for purchase or subscription from World Customs Organization.

- (b) In respect of services, the notification requires reference to the Annexure which contains the scheme of classification: The Annexure is appended to the CGST rate notification and contains entries under Chapter 99 (although there is no such Chapter for services in the HSN prescribed under the customs law). Additionally, Explanatory Notes to such classification were recently issued to assist in the interpretation of various entries in the Annexure to the rate notification:

- (iv) In this regard, it may also be noted that the tariff entries in case of certain services refer to the rate of tax applicable to the relevant goods. In the following cases of supply of services, the rate of tax applicable on a supply of like goods involving transfer of title in goods, would be applicable to the supply of services:

Chapter, Section or Heading	Description of Service
HEADING 9971 (Financial and related services)	(ii) Transfer of the right to use any goods for any purpose (whether or not for a specified period) for cash, deferred payment or other valuable consideration.
	(iii) Any transfer of right in goods or of undivided share in goods without the transfer of title thereof.
HEADING 9973 (Leasing or rental services, with or without operator)	(iii) Transfer of the right to use any goods for any purpose (whether or not for a specified period) for cash, deferred payment or other valuable consideration.
	(iv) Any transfer of right in goods or of undivided share in goods without the transfer of title thereof.
	(vi) Leasing or rental services, with or without operator, other than (i), (ii), (iii), (iv) and (v) above.

The only exception to the above Table is leasing of motor vehicle which was purchased by the lessor prior to July 1, 2017, leased before the GST appointed date (i.e., 01.07.2017) and no credit of central excise, VAT or any other taxes on such motor vehicle had been availed by him. If all these conditions are fulfilled, then the lessor is liable to pay GST only on 65 per cent of the GST applicable on such motor vehicle. – Refer Notification No. 37 /2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 13-Oct-2017.

(v) Customs Tariff Act – Rules of Interpretation

The rules of interpretation contained in the Customs Tariff Act provide guidance regarding the approach to be followed for reading and interpreting tariff entries. These rules are merely summarized and listed below for convenience, whereas a detailed study of the rules is advised from commentaries and value-added updated tariff publications. Refer Customs Tariff Act for full text of the Rules of Interpretation.

- Rule 1: Headings are for reference only and do not have statutory force for classification;
- Rule 2(a): Reference to an article in an entry includes articles in CKD-SKD condition;
- Rule 2(b): Reference to articles in an entry includes mixtures or combination;
- Rule 3(a): Where alternate classification available, specific description to be preferred;

- Rule 3(b): Rely on the material that gives essential character to the article;
- Rule 3(c): Apply that which appears later in the tariff as later-is-better;
- Rule 4: Examine the function performed that is found in other akin goods;
- Rule 5: Cases-packaging are to be classified with the primary article;
- Rule 6: When more than one entry is available, compare only if they are at same level.

(vi) Role of 'Manufacture' in Classification

Classification would be well understood by applying the above rules of interpretation. Now, the process that goods pass through can impact their classification. For example, cutting, slicing and packing pineapple in cans in sugar syrup has primary input of pineapple and the output is canned fruit with extended shelf-life. Now, the input and output are not identical, but it has been held in the case of Pio Food Packers [2002-TIOL-67-SC-CT-LB] that this is not a process amounting to manufacture, but would it be possible to regard the input and the output to retain the same classification. The answer lies in knowing the scope of each entry applicable to classification. Another example, kraft paper used to make packing boxes may be sold as it is or after laminating them. It has been held in the case of laminated packaging that this process is manufacture even though the input and output fall within the same classification entry. GST law has adopted, in section 2(72), the general understanding of manufacture that is very similar to that in central excise. The real test from this definition is whether the input and output functionally interchangeable or not in the opinion of a knowledgeable end-user – and not based on the classification entry. Change in classification entry from one to the other, that is, classification entry for input is not the same as that of the output, could only raise a suspicion about the possibility of manufacture. Note that 'manufacture' is included in the definition of 'business' [in section 2(17)] but it is not included as a 'form of supply' (in section 7(1)(a) or anywhere else). Hence, the nature of the process that inputs are put through may not be manufacture but yet may appear to move the output into a different entry compared to the input. So, would change of classification entry be relevant or degree of change produced in the input due to the process carried out must be considered. With the adoption of HSN based classification from Custom Tariff Act, it is imperative to carefully consider whether one entry has been split and sub-divided into categories even if they both carry the similar rate of tax. Hence, the key aspects to consider are:

- Identify the scope of an entry for classification of input or output
- Study the nature of process carried out on the inputs
- Examine by the 'test' (above) if result of the process is manufacture
- Now identify the classification applicable to the output

For example, if 'desiccating a coconut' is considered as a process of manufacture, the desiccated coconut ought not be considered as eligible to the same rate of tax as coconut. Drying grains may not appear to be a process of manufacture but frying them could be manufacture as the grains are no longer 'seed grade' although it resembles the grain.

Manufacture need not be a very elaborate process. It can be a simple process but one that brings about a distinct new product, in the opinion of a knowledgeable end-user, and not just any person with no particular familiarity with the article. Manufacture need not be an irreversible process. It can be reversible yet until reversed it is recognized as a distinct new product, again, in the opinion of those knowledgeable in it. Processes such as assembly may be manufacture in relation to some articles but not in others. Hence, caution is advised in generalizing these verbs – assembly, cutting, polishing, etc. – but examining the degree of change produced and the identity secured by the output in the relevant trade as to the functional inter-changeability of the output with the input. If a knowledgeable end-user would accept either input or output albeit with some reservation, then it is unlikely to be manufacture. But, if this knowledgeable end-user would refuse to accept them to be interchangeable, then the process carried out is most likely to be manufacture. Usage of common description of the input and output does not assure continuity of classification for the two.

(vii) Role of 'Suppliers' Status' in Classification

This is best explained with an illustration. A restaurant buys aerated beverage on payment of GST at 28 per cent +12 per cent including cess and on resale of this beverage as part of food served as a combo with 'composition status' under section 10 of CGST Act, the rate of tax on this beverage would be 5 per cent . Therefore, it is important to note that classification can undergo a change depending upon the 'status' of the supplier. Another illustration could be medicaments which are taxed at 5 per cent would be exempt from tax when they are administered by the hospital to casualty/ emergency admissions and to in-patients even if billed separately in the invoice issued to patient by the hospital.

(viii) Classification for Exemptions

In GST law the exemptions are set out under section 11 of the whole of the tax payable or a part of it. In granting exemptions, it is not necessary that the exemption be made applicable to the whole Entry. In other words, exemption notifications are capable of carving out a portion from an Entry so as differentially alter the rate of tax applicable to goods or services within that Entry. Exemptions can take any of the following forms:

- Supplier may be exempt – here, regardless of the nature of outward supply, exemption shall apply to the supplier. Conditions specified may make such exemption applicable to the supplier but when the supplies are made to specified recipients

Sl. No.	Chapter, Section, Heading, Group or Service Code (Tariff)	Description of Services	Rate (per cent.)	Condition
1	Chapter 99	Services by an entity registered under section 12AA of the Income-tax Act, 1961 (43 of 1961) by way of charitable activities.	Nil	Nil

- Supplies may be exempt – here, the supplier is not as relevant and all supplies that are notified would enjoy the exemption. Conditions specified may help to determine the supplies that are to be exempted:

28	HEADING 9971	(a) Services by way of— (a) extending deposits, loans or advances in so far as the consideration is represented by way of interest or discount (other than interest involved in credit card services); (b) Inter se sale or purchase of foreign currency amongst banks or authorised dealers of foreign exchange or amongst banks and such dealers.	Nil	Nil
----	--------------	--	-----	-----

(ix) Role of 'Conditions' in Exemptions

It is well understood that conditions in exemption notifications tend to convert the exemption into an option, that is, the exempted/ concessional rate of tax would apply when the conditions are fulfilled and by deviating from the conditions, the full rate of tax would apply. This principle has been tested in the context of section 5A of the Central Excise Act. However, a quick look at the Explanation to section 11 of the CGST Act (reproduced below) appears to indicate that unless an express option is granted in the exemption notification, the concessional or exempted rate of tax along with attendant conditions must be availed without any discretion to opt out of it.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, where an exemption in respect of any goods or services or both from the whole or part of the tax leviable thereon has been granted absolutely, the registered person supplying such goods or services or both shall not collect the tax, in excess of the effective rate, on such supply of goods or services or both.

While there may be alternate views that the above explanation applies only when the exemption is 'granted absolutely' and not in all cases, such a view may find the contradiction where one Entry in an exemption notification prescribes a concessional rate of tax that applies its restriction on input tax credit, while another Entry in the very same notification prescribes two rates of tax where one of them enjoins restriction on input tax credit.

And the reason for resisting the view that – exemption with the condition is an option – is when the Government felt free to specify two alternate tax consequences in respect of a given Entry in one case (GTA, in above illustration), there is no justification to make an assumption about the existence of an option even when in the very same notification that Government opted to notify only one tax consequence. Accordingly, it would be a reasonable construction that – exemption is a condition and not an option – and all Court decisions under earlier laws to the contrary are rendered otiose in view of the explanation to section 11.

Illustration below shows a style where exemption would 'not be optional':

Sl. No.	Chapter, Section, Heading, Group or Service Code (Tariff)	Description of Services	Rate (per cent)	Condition
8	HEADING 9964 (Passenger transport services)	(i) Transport of passengers, with or without accompanied belongings, by rail in first class or air conditioned coach.	2.5	Provided that credit of input tax charged on goods and services used in supplying the service, is not utilized for paying central tax or integrated tax on the supply of service.

The following is a style of drafting exemption entries that is 'not optional':

8	HEADING 9964 (Passenger transport services)	(i) Transport of passengers, with or without accompanied belongings, by rail in first class or air conditioned coach.	2.5 Provided that credit of input tax charged on goods and services used in supplying the service, other than the input tax credit of input service in the same line of business (i.e., service procured from another service provider of transporting passengers in a motor vehicle or renting of a motor vehicle), has not been taken. (x) Composite Supply vs. Mixed Supply

Reference can also be made to the discussion on composite supply and mixed supply which can assist in classification of the supply into goods based on the principal supply in a transaction or that part of the transaction which carries the highest rate.

(xi) CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018

The CGST Act, 2017 has been retrospectively amended from July 1, 2017, to provide that transactions covered under Schedule II are not supplies but if they qualify as supplies then such transactions are to be 'treated' for the purpose of determining the relevant rate notification, HSN Code, time of supply, place of supply and other consequential implications.

(xii) Classification of Works Contract

Schedule II provides that works contract would be taxed as services and hence irrespective of the value of goods involved in the contract, works contract would be treated as services. 'Works contract' has been defined in section 2(119) of the CGST Act to provide that construction, commissioning, fabrication etc related to immovable property would only be treated as works contract. Thus, any activity related to movable property though understood as works contract under the erstwhile laws would not be treated as works contract under the GST law and will have to be classified based on the concept of composite supply.

(xiii) Conclusion

In the light of the foregoing discussion, the following points of learning can be summarized:

- (a) Transactions involving goods are, in certain cases, required to be treated as supply of services. As such, the fundamental classification to be undertaken is the differentiation between goods and services;
- (b) Classification of goods and services cannot be made based on logic, experience or common sense. But, recourse to rules of interpretation in the First Schedule to Customs Tariff Act is mandatory in relation to classification of goods. And reference to the scheme of classification (contained in the Annexure) is inevitable in relation to classification of services. There can be no inter-change in the use of the relevant classification rules between goods and services;
- (c) Classification in GST requires a deep appreciation and understanding of words and phrases in each domain and any urge to use the common meaning of such words and phrases must be actively discouraged. In other words, even if the common meaning of certain words and phrases appear reasonable, it must be understood that Government has deliberately and mindfully used the words to give specific interpretation in the relevant trade;
- (d) Classification is not only required to determine the rate of tax applicable but also examine the availability of exemptions. There is no compulsion for an exemption notification to exempt correctly what is the carve-out from an Entry of a subset of transactions – supplies or suppliers – to attract a different rate of tax;
- (e) Exemptions are not optional as are the conditions prescribed in respect of such exemption. Violation of the condition entails consequences and not options. 'Absolutely exempt' does not mean 'wholly exempt' and it is not required to be 'unconditionally exempt' to be 'absolutely exempt'.

Common Errors in Classification

The errors / deliberate actions which could lead to exposure, should be avoided to the extent possible. The errors would include many, some of which are illustrated below:

- (i) Classifying the supply for lower rate of GST without merit. This may be due to competition or due to the fact that the buyer is unable to avail the credit.
- (ii) Classifying the supply under higher slab to avoid disputes. Though there may not be any demand, the customer may have some objection and raise a debit note in future. It leads to higher working capital.

- (iii) Classifying under wrong heading considering applicability of the same rate. This may not have any commercial impact as there is no rate difference. However, when the rate changes there may be a problem.
- (iv) Classifying the supplies based on convenience of operation. This may not be advisable as it is bound to lead to disputes for self as well as the customers.
- (v) Classifying the supplies incorrectly to claim exemption. This would also be disastrous as demands if any can cripple the enterprise.
- (vi) Classifying the services considering the place of supply to claim as export etc. This can lead to – (a) demand for GST as supply is liable, (b) denial of credit due to time lapse or if longer period invoked, and, (c) demand for excess refund with interest and penalties.
- (vii) Similar to the above classifying differently to avoid Reverse charge mechanism. This could also lead to demand.
- (viii) Classifying under residuary entry when specific entry or general entry is available.

Proper classification is the foundation to avoid disputes with customers as well as demands from the Revenue. The applicability of rates (which have changed in between) and exemptions (have been notified and withdrawn) requires the updated knowledge as well as the information of the past changes.

11.4 Issues and concerns

1. The law provides that tax shall not be collected at a rate higher than the effective rate of tax applicable on a supply enjoying an absolute exemption. In this regard, there is one school of thought wherein it is inferred that this provision is specific to absolute exemptions only and in case of conditional exemptions, there is an option available to the registered supplier to collect tax from a recipient (Such a methodology, if adopted by suppliers, would imply that the requirement for input tax credit reversals under section 17(2) of the Act would not stand attracted). The other view is that the conditional exemptions are not optional, but are mandatory when the conditions relating to the exemption are satisfied.
2. On similar lines, it is to be noted that the restriction imposed by law is upon the “collection” of tax. Therefore, certain registered suppliers may resort to payment of tax without collection thereof, in order to effect only taxable supplies whereby they would not be required to undergo the hassle of reversal of input taxes. However, the issue would arise as regards documentation. A registered supplier may consider issuing a tax invoice instead of a bill of supply, against a supply that is wholly exempt and specifying in the tax invoice prominently, that the recipient is not required to pay the tax charged on the invoice on the basis that the supply is exempted under law. However, this practice is frowned upon, as this methodology is not entirely in compliance with the provisions of the law. It is also important to note that the GST Law casts an obligation on the supplier to prove that he has not collected taxes in such situations.

11.5 Relevance of Section 11 in Forms GSTR-9, 9A and 9C

1. Pt. 5D of GSTR-9 requires details of taxable value, CGST, SGST, IGST and Cess as applicable, in respect of exempted outward supplies. Further, the instructions annexed to the Form also clarify that Table 8 of Form GSTR-1 may be used for filling up the above-mentioned details.
2. Pt. 6B of Form GSTR-9A also requires details comprising of turnover, rate of tax, CGST, SGST, IGST and cess as applicable, in respect of exempted outward supplies as declared in the returns filed during the financial year.
3. Pt. 7B of Form GSTR-9C requires the value of exempted, Nil rated, non-GST supplies and no supply turnover. Further, the instructions annexed to the Form contain a clarification that the figure so reported shall be net of credit notes, debit notes and amendments, if any.

12.1 Analysis

(a) Introduction

Supply has been understood to hold the key to the incidence of GST, but it is the 'time of supply' that dictates the occasion when this incidence will come to rest. Taxable supply has been defined to mean a supply of goods and/or services which is chargeable to tax under this Act. It is interesting to note the use of the expression 'chargeable to tax' as opposed to 'leviable to tax'. It has been held that 'chargeable to tax' encompasses not only the incidence of tax but also its assessment.

The opening words in section 12(1) are very interesting and forceful as it is here that the liability to pay GST arises. The subject matter of levy – goods or services – becomes encumbered with the tax upon occurrence of the taxable event namely – supply. But the tax levied in terms of section 9, crystallises only at the time determined by sections 12 and 13. Accordingly, these sections play a stellar role in the imposition of GST.

The provisions state that the time of supply "shall be" and as such is a "must" to be examined closely. It signifies that "time of supply" is not a fact to be inquired by the taxable person but one that is to be admitted as the time of supply appointed by the will of legislature as declared in the section. In order to not allow any opportunity for a suggestion by the taxable person or even the tax administration as to any alternative to what could be the time of supply, the Legislature retains for itself the exclusive authority to appoint the time of supply by employing the words "shall be". Therefore, the time of supply is what is stated in the law to be the time of supply and nothing else.

Invoice is commonly understood as 'proof of sale' but this common understanding is far from the truth. Invoice is a document recording the terms of an arrangement already entered. Lease agreement, as an analogy, is a document in present evidencing the agreement reached between two parties is for the lease of property for certain duration in exchange for a certain consideration. A lease arrangement verbally entered into previously when documented by an indenture or deed does not bring into existence the lease when the document is prepared. In fact, the document merely is a record of an arrangement of lease entered previously, albeit verbally. Verbal arrangements are no less agreements in the eyes of law. Similarly, an invoice does not bring into existence a sale agreement but merely records the terms of whatever arrangement that may have been entered into by the parties, involving the subject matter. Tax laws require the preparation of an invoice not as if the absence of an invoice defeats the levy but prescribes an unambiguous occasion when the tax may become recoverable with a proper record of the terms of the underlying arrangement. Therefore, an invoice can evidence not only a sale but every other form of supply such as transfer, barter, exchange, license, rental, lease or disposal. If issuance of an invoice is uncommon for barter or a rental arrangement, then it is to do with our own unfamiliarity and nothing to do with its impermissibility.

(b) Time of Supply – Forward Charge

Time of supply is prescribed (Legislative will) to be the earlier of (a) date of issue of invoice or last date on which the invoice is required to be issued with respect to the supply and (b) date of receipt of payment. Date of issue of invoice requires us to examine section 31 which deals with the requirement to issue a “tax invoice”. Here, two kinds of situations are contemplated, namely:

- (i) a case where the supply involves movement of goods, and
- (ii) any other case

Before proceeding, it is necessary to admit the concept of ‘person and taxable person’. Person is defined in the most familiar manner in section 2(84) but taxable person is explained in detail in section 25 (refer to the relevant Chapter for a detailed discussion). A proper reading of section 25 helps one to understand that a State is the smallest registrable unit in GST, except where multiple business units are registered separately under section 25. A taxable person is, therefore, the presence of the person in a State where taxable supplies are made from in the name of such person. When a person becomes liable to be registered in a State at any place from where taxable supplies are made therein, such person shall be a taxable person.

Now, we may return to our discussion regarding the two kinds of cases that are discussed on time of supply. It is noticeable that section 31 uses two expressions – ‘removal of goods’ and ‘movement of goods’ – which are not merely expressions of distinction without a difference. There is deliberate purpose for legislating in this manner. ‘Removal of goods’ is defined in section 2(96) and identifies the steps that may follow once the decision to supply is made. But, ‘movement of goods’ is not defined and is, therefore, an attribute of the goods at the time of supply.

Illustration 1: Machine tools on display at an exhibition in Mumbai agreed to be purchased by executives of an engineering company from Indore attending the exhibition, is a case of ‘supply involving movement’ even though the transportation is undertaken by the representatives or the purchaser on their own.

Illustration 2: In illustration 1 above, if the executives from Indore were to place an order at the same exhibition with instructions for delivery to be ensured by the exhibitor (supplier) assured within six weeks, this would also be a case of ‘supply involving movement’ and the transportation being organised by the supplier through an independent transport agency from the factory or exhibitor’s site to the customer location.

It is for this reason that the language employed of seemingly similar or synonymous expressions – ‘removal of goods’ and ‘movement of goods’ – but demands to be supplied their separate and individual meanings and not be misled by their apparent similarity. To reiterate, ‘removal of goods’ is a question of fact to be examined from the steps that would ensue once the supply is decided whereas ‘involves movement’ is a question of the state-of-affairs of the goods being supplied.

Therefore, it is important even before the arrival of time of supply, that the goods to be supplied be classified into one of these two cases, that is, whether it is a case of supply that involves movement or one that does not involve movement of the goods. Only when this classification of the goods has been clearly made, section 31 comes into operation.

Date of invoice

Where invoice is raised before the actual movement or removal of goods or where the goods are made available to the buyer, the date of raising invoice shall be taken as the time of supply. It is possible that in such cases the delivery is taken at a later date by the buyer or is removed by the supplier at the instructions of the buyer at a date which is later than the date of raising such invoice. In such cases, we need not consider the last date of raising such invoice but we shall consider the actual date of invoice for determining the time of supply. Such cases shall include the invoices raised on the last date of the month but goods not dispatched and which are dispatched in the next month.

Supply involves movement

Where the supply involves movement of goods then an invoice must be issued at the exact time when the goods are about to be removed. Therefore, it is pertinent to identify the moment when the goods are considered to be getting removed. Section 2(96) defines removal in relation to goods as:

- (a) Despatch of the goods for delivery by the supplier thereof or by any other person acting on behalf of such supplier
- (b) Collection of the goods by the recipient thereof or by any other person acting on behalf of such recipient

As already explained above, movement of goods may be caused by the supplier (or his agent or transporter) or by the recipient (or his agent or transporter). When the movement is caused by the supplier, the point of removal will arise when the goods are despatched from the place of business of the supplier. The word 'despatch' means 'to send off'. Hence, just before the goods are to be sent off, the invoice is required to be issued where the removal is by the supplier.

Illustration 3: Mr. X in Gujarat gets an order from Mr. Y in West Bengal on 18th March 2020 for supply of refrigerators. Mr. X dispatches the goods from his premises to his transporter's premises on 20th March 2020. The transporter initiates the transportation on 22nd March 2020 and the goods finally reach the premises of Mr. Y on 26th March 2020. The removal of goods will be said to be caused on 20th March 2020 i.e., the date when the goods leave the premises of Mr. X. The last date to issue of invoice will also be 20th March 2020 in the given case.

Where the movement is by the recipient, the point of removal will arise when the goods are collected by the recipient from the premises of the supplier. This collection may be by the recipient or a person acting on his behalf as the agent or transporter or any other person. So, the invoice is to be issued by the supplier just before the point when the recipient (or his agent or transporter) collects the goods from supplier's premises.

Illustration 4: Mr. X in Gujarat gets an order from Mr. Y in West Bengal on 18th March 2020 for supply of refrigerators. Mr. Y's transporter takes delivery of the said goods from the premises of Mr. X on 21st March, 2020 and delivers them to Mr. Y on 26th March 2020. As Mr. Y's transporter collected the goods for transportation on 21st March 2020, the date of removal will be considered as 21st March 2020. The last date of issue of invoice will also be 21st March 2020 in the given case.

Illustration 5: Mr. X's manufacturing unit in Surat, Gujarat gets an order for supply of refrigerators from Mr. Y in West Bengal on 18th March 2020. It was agreed that Mr. Y's transporter will collect the goods from Mr. X's depot in Vadodara which is registered as an additional place of business under the same GSTIN as that of Surat. Mr. X removes the goods from his manufacturing unit to his depot on 20th March, 2020 which reaches the depot on 21st March 2020. Mr. Y's transporter collects these goods on 23rd March 2020 and the said goods reach Mr. Y on 28th March 2020. In this illustration, the movement of goods by the supplier between his premises cannot be called as a dispatch as it is not for delivery to the customer but internal movement from factory to depot. In fact, the first leg of the activity occurring between the units of Mr. X does not entail raising of invoice as it is not a supply. The removal of goods for supply to Mr. Y will arise only when the goods are collected by the transporter of Mr. Y from Vadodara i.e. 23rd March 2020 which will also be the last date of issue of invoice as per section 31.

Supply does not involve movement

Where the supply involves movement of goods then an invoice must be issued on or before the time when the goods are about to be removed. Where the supply does not involve movement of goods then an invoice must be issued on or before the time when the goods are delivered or made available to the recipient. It is in this case – where supply does not involve movement – that the complexity remains even after making a proper classification. That is, determining the time when the goods are delivered or made available to the recipient. Delivery – the mode and the time – is the unilateral choice of the recipient and the supplier has no authority to decide 'how' and 'when' he will deliver the goods to the recipient. It only becomes easy in a contract for supply if it clearly records this 'choice' of the recipient regarding the mode and time of delivery. The supplier is always duty-bound to deliver in exactly the same way – manner and timing – which the recipient dictates. In fact, the supplier continues to be obligated until delivery is completed in the way it is stated by the recipient. In other words, delivery is not complete if there is any deviation in either the manner or the timing compared to that dictated by the recipient. When the delivery is to the satisfaction of the recipient, then the supplier is released from his obligation. Therefore, in all those cases (where supply does not involve movement) the additional question of fact to be determined is the mode and time of delivery dictated by the recipient and whether the same has been complied with, to the satisfaction of the recipient. It is now that section 31 comes into operation.

Illustration 6: Mr. X agrees to sell his godown in Gujarat to Mr. Y on 18th March 2018. There is a separate agreement entered by Mr. X and Mr. Y for the selling of furniture within the godown on 19th March 2018. Mr. X hands over the possession of the godown and the furniture on 25th March 2018. In this case, the furniture will be considered to be delivered on 25th March 2018 which will also be the last date of issue of invoice as per section 31.

Continuous supply of goods

As per section 2(32) of the CGST Act 2017, continuous supply of goods means a supply of goods which is provided or agreed to be provided continuously or on recurrent basis, under a contract whether or not by means of wire, cable, pipeline or other conduit and for which the supplier invoices the recipient on a regular or periodic basis and includes supply of such goods as the Government may subject to such conditions as it may by notification specify.

From the above definition, it may be inferred that there are two important conditions to be satisfied for a supply to be called as continuous supply of goods:

- (a) The supply of goods should be provided on a continuous or recurrent basis
- (b) The supplier should be invoicing the recipient on a regular or periodic basis

Once, these two conditions are satisfied, any supply will be considered as continuous supply of goods. While continuous supply shall mean a supply of goods incessantly for eg., supply of lubricating oil through pipeline, a recurring supply shall mean a supply which has a pattern of reoccurrence for eg., supply of thirty water jars every day in an office. For the purpose of continuous supply, it is necessary that successive statement of accounts or successive payments or both are involved for the purpose of determining the consideration for such supply. As per section 31, in respect of continuous supply of goods, it has been stated that invoice should be issued before or at the time each such statement is issued or each such payment is received. Note that the payment referred to in the section relates to the payment as per the contract and will not relate to any ad hoc advance or any other payment received out of the terms of the agreement for continuous supply. Also note that regularity of supply does not always imply continuous supply. May be each supply is complete but there is a delay in billing. That cannot become continuous supply. There must be something contingent at the time of removal / movement that can only be determined after arrival or even consumption. Deliberate delay in invoice for regular supplies does not automatically result in continuous supply. If the billing cycle coincides with tax period, there may not be much consequence of regarding such transactions to be supply as tax does get paid timely. But, if the billing cycle is contractually longer than the tax period, then care must be taken to correctly categorize it as continuous supply.

Note that 'payment' as a criterion used in the context of continuous supply cannot be applied where the consideration is in 'non-monetary form' such as barter or exchange transactions. In such cases, where consideration is in non-monetary form and involve continuous supply, experts hold the view that the payment criterion falls apart and time of supply would need to be determined based on 'actual supply or invoice'.

Goods sent or taken on approval for sale or return basis

Under this system, certain goods are sent to the recipient without supplying/selling the same at its outset. These goods can be examined or tested by the recipient as to whether his requirements are fulfilled. The recipient can, at his behest, approve the said supply or return the said goods. If the goods are returned, no supply will be deemed to have taken place. If the goods are approved by the recipient, then it will amount to a supply. The last date of issuance of invoice in such cases as per section 31(7) of the CGST Act 2017 has been given as earlier of the following:

- (a) before or at the time of supply
- (b) six months from the date of removal

Here, time of supply refers to the time when the confirmation is given by the recipient that he is willing to accept the goods. The last date of issuance of invoice in such cases will be the confirmation of acceptance subject to the fact that this acceptance should not take place after six months from the date of removal. If the approval does not come within the time frame of six months/comes after the period of six months from the date of removal, then the last date of invoice arises on the date when this period of six months from the date of removal expires.

In this regard, the CBIC vide Circular No. 22/22/2017-GST, dated 21-12-2017, has clarified that the movement of artwork from artist to art galleries shall not be considered as supply as the same is sent on approval basis and the supply takes place when the buyer selects a particular art work displayed at the gallery. This Circular needs further clarification because in case the goods are not sold within six months from the date of removal, the invoice is required to be issued after such time to gallery for supply of such artwork. Accordingly, there is a presumption of supply from the artist to the gallery inherent in this example. On the contrary, if the gallery is not accepting the goods on approval but for display, the above clarification shall not hold true and as gallery is acting as an agent for display and supply of goods on behalf of the artist. In such cases, experts feel that an invoice be issued by the artist to the gallery while moving the goods to the gallery and gallery shall issue an invoice at the time of sale to the buyer. Further, valuation benefits as available under rule 28 of the CGST Rules may be availed by the artist while supplying such paintings to the gallery.

Also, vide Circular No. 10/10/2017-GST, dated 18-10-2017 the CBIC has clarified that where goods are moved within the State or from the State of registration to another State for supply on approval basis i.e. such goods are to be considered as being carried on approval basis and a tax invoice can be issued when the buyer has approved the goods and taken the delivery.

Unlike the case of VAT law where an invoice is required to be issued when 'transfer of property' takes place and invoice does not have to be kept pending until they are physically removed, GST requires issuance of an invoice at the time of their 'removal' or 'delivery', as the case may be, notwithstanding any delay in transfer of property. As explained earlier, an invoice does not by itself prove anything except that it is a record of the terms of understanding of the underlying transaction. Accordingly, reverting to our brief mention about 'person and taxable person', the tests requiring examination under section 31 must be administered not only in a transaction between two persons but even on all the transactions between two taxable persons even if they belong to the same person.

It is only upon undertaking a detailed enquiry into the questions of fact determined under section 31 in the respective cases, we will be able to determine one of the two elements prescribed to be the 'time of supply' under section 12. Time of supply therefore, is earlier of the date of invoice as per section 31 or the date of receipt of payment with respect to the supply.

Exceptions

- (i) When an amount is received in excess of tax invoice up to ₹1,000/-, the time of supply in respect of such excess at the option of the supplier, shall be the date of such invoice.
- (ii) Supply shall be deemed to have been made to the extent of the value of supply indicated in the invoice or the value of payment received by the supplier.
- (iii) Date of receipt of payment shall be the date on which the payment is accounted in the books of the supplier or the date reflected in the bank account of the supplier, whichever is earlier.
- (iv) No tax on receipt of payment in advance: The registered person who did not opt for the composition levy under section 10 shall pay the Central tax on the outward supply of goods at the time of supply as specified in section 12(2)(a) i.e. the date of issue of invoice by the supplier or the last date on which he is required, under section 31(1), to issue the invoice with respect to the supply. Therefore, no GST is payable on advances received against supply of goods. (NN-66/2017-Central Tax dated 15-Nov-17). Earlier by Notification No.40/2017- Central Tax dtd.13-Oct-17, this benefit was granted to only small assesses whose turnover in the preceding financial year or in the year in which he obtained registration does not exceed or is not likely to exceed ₹150 Lakhs. However subsequently the scope was enhanced to include all registered persons making supply of goods except the persons who have opted for composition tax under section 10. Note that the relaxation has been brought only for advance received for supply of goods and is not available for advance received for supply of services. In summary, the taxability of the consideration received in advance would be as follows:

Period	Taxability of consideration received in advance for supply of goods
	Aggregate turnover less than ₹ 1.5 crores	Aggregate turnover more than ₹ 1.5 crores
01.07.2017 to 12.10.2017	Taxable	Taxable
13.10.2017 to 15.11.2017	Not taxable	Taxable
15.11.2017 and onwards	Not taxable	Not taxable

The above notifications also refer to the situations attracting the provisions of section 14 (change in rate of tax in respect of supply of goods or services). Accordingly, the date of receipt of advances would not be relevant for the purpose of ascertaining appropriate rate of tax in case of change. In other words, the applicable rate of tax in case of change in rate of tax would be ascertained based on the date of issuance of invoice and date of supply of goods only.

- (v) The provisions relating to job-work provides for supply of capital goods / inputs to the job-worker without payment of tax (section 143). The intention of the law is not to tax capital goods / inputs sent to job-worker as supply since in such an arrangement the goods are received back by the principal. However, if such goods are not received back within three years and one year respectively, it would qualify as supply by way of operation of deeming fiction provided under section 143(2) and section 143(3). In such a scenario, the date of sending the goods to the job-worker would be deemed to be the date when the goods were sent to the job-worker originally. It is important to understand here that the incidence of tax falls back on the date when the goods were sent and the operation of the deeming fiction dictates the date of supply of goods as the time of supply. This would be in deviation to the general principles of ascertaining the time of supply viz., date of removal of goods on which the principal ought to have issued the invoice. In this regard, the Central Government has issued Circular No. 38/12/2018 dated 26.03.2018 wherein it is clarified that the principal should issue an invoice on expiry of three years / one year and should declare such supplies in the return filed for the month in which the time period of three years / one year gets expired.

Illustration 7: Assuming the circumstances given under illustrations 3, 4, 5 and 6, find the time of supply after considering the following additional information:

Actual date of issue of invoice	Date of receipt of payment	Amount received
21 st March 2018	19 th March 2018	5,00,000
	25 th March 2018	10,00,000

Answer: Since, the date of receipt of payment will be immaterial in considering the time of supply of goods, the earlier of the two dates i.e. the last date of issue of invoice and actual date of issue of invoice will be considered as the time of supply. So, the time of supply will be as follows:

Illustrations	Last date of issue of invoice	Actual date of issue of invoice	Time of Supply
Illustration 3	20 th March 2018	21 st March 2018	20 th March 2018
Illustration 4	21 st March 2018	21 st March 2018	21 st March 2018

- (a) Situation 1: Monthly payments of ₹ 5,00,000 are to be made by 7th of the next month as per the contract. For the period October – December, following were the date of issuance of invoices and payments:

Period	Date of issuance of invoice	Date of receipt of payment
October	4 th November 2018	6 th November 2018
November	6 th December 2018	8 th December 2018
December	9 th January 2019	5 th January 2019

- (b) Situation 2: Monthly statement of accounts are to be prepared by 5th of the next month as per the contract. For the period October, following were the dates of issuance of the successive statement of account and the date of issuance of invoices:

Period	Date of issuance of invoice	Date of issuance of the statement of account
October	4 th November 2018	6 th November 2018
November	6 th December 2018	3 rd December 2018
December	9 th January 2019	5 th January 2019

Answer:

Situation 1: Where there are successive payments involved, the last date of issuance of invoice is the date of receipt of such payment. As per section 12(2), the time of supply should be the earlier of the date of issuance of invoice or the last date of issuance of the invoice. It may be noted that as per Notification no. 66/2017-CT dated 15th November 2017, only these two events are to be considered and the date of receipt of payment as mentioned under section 12(2)(b) may be ignored. The due date when the payment should be received is also immaterial as it has not been specified in either the time of supply provisions or the provisions of the last date of issuance of invoice. Thereby, the time of supply in the given case will be the earlier of the date of receipt of successive payment (last date of issuance of invoice) or the actual date of issuance of invoice.

Period	Date of issuance of invoice	Date of receipt of payment	Time of supply
October	4 th November 2018	6 th November 2018	4 th November 2018
November	6 th December 2018	8 th December 2018	6 th December 2018
December	9 th January 2019	5 th January 2019	5 th January 2019

Situation 2: Where there are successive statements of accounts that are to be prepared, the last date of issuance of invoice will be the date of issuance of such successive statement. As per section 12(2), the time of supply should be the earlier of the date of issuance of invoice or the last date of issuance of the invoice. It may be noted that as per Notification no. 66/2017-CT dated 15th November 2017, only these two events are to be considered and the date of receipt of payment as mentioned under section 12(2)(b) may be ignored. The due date when the successive statement should be prepared is immaterial as it has not been specified in either the time of supply provisions or the provisions of the last date of issuance of invoice. Only the actual date of the preparation of the statement needs to be considered. Thereby, the time of supply will be the earlier of the date of issuance of successive statement of account (last date of issuance of invoice) and the date of invoice.

Period	Date of issuance of invoice	Date of issuance of the statement of account	Time of supply
October	4 th November 2018	6 th November 2018	4 th November 2018
November	6 th December 2018	3 rd December 2018	3 rd December 2018
December	9 th January 2019	5 th January 2019	5 th January 2019

Illustration 9: Certain goods are sent by Mr. X on sale on approval or return basis to Mr. Y on 22nd April 2019. The supply gets confirmed and invoice is issued on:

Case 1: 20th August 2019

Case 2: 22nd November 2019

Payment in each of the cases is made on 23rd November 2019.

Answer: Date of receipt of payment is immaterial for the purpose of calculating time of supply under section 12(2) of the CGST Act 2017. Therefore, 23rd November 2019 should be ignored altogether. The time of supply should be earlier of the date of issuance of invoice or the last date of issuance of invoice. The last date of issuance of invoice will be the earlier of the confirmation of supply or six months from the date of removal.

In case 1, the confirmation of supply occurred before 6 months from the date of removal. Thus, the last date of issuance of invoice was 20th August 2019. On this date, the invoice was issued. Hence, the time of supply will be 20th August 2019.

In case 2, the confirmation of supply happened after 6 months from the date of removal. The period of six months expired on 21st October 2019. Hence, the invoice was required to be issued by this date. Since the invoice was issued on 22nd November 2019, the actual date of issue of invoice will be considered as falling after the last date of issuance of invoice. The time of supply will be the last date of issuance of invoice i.e., 21st October 2019.

(c) Time of Supply – Reverse Charge

Where tax is payable on reverse charge basis, the time of supply is appointed to be the earliest of (a) date of receipt of goods, (b) date of payment or (c) 30 days from the date of issue of invoice by the supplier. If for any reason, one of these three dates cannot be determined then the time of supply will be the date of recording the supply in the books of the recipient.

Keeping in mind the definition of reverse charge in section 2(98), the above provision does not apply to payment of tax by an electronic commerce operator but only to those cases of supply which fall under sub-section (3) or (4) of section 9 of the Act.

Reverse charge in case of goods may arise either under section 9(3) or section 9(4) of the CGST Act. Section 9(3) empowers the issuance of notification by the Government under which the tax will be paid by the recipient of goods as per reverse charge mechanism. Notification No. 4/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated 28.06.2017 as amended from time to time provides the list of goods which will be subject to reverse charge mechanism subject to the category of supplier and recipient specified therein. These goods include cashew nuts (not shelled or peeled), bidi wrapper leaves (tendu), tobacco leaves, essential oils other than those of citrus fruits namely Of peppermint (Menthapiperita), Of other mints : Spearmint oil (exmenthaspicata), Water mint-oil (exmentha aquatic), Horsemint oil (exmenthasylvestries) and Bergament oil (ex-mentha citrate)², raw cotton, silk yarn, supply of lottery etc. when supplied by specified persons.

Prior to enactment of CGST (Amendment) Act, section 9(4) required the recipient of taxable goods/services to pay tax if it is registered and receives inward supplies from unregistered suppliers. The applicability of which was exempted from 13th October 2017 till 31st January, 2019. However, it was applicable for intra State supplies subject to the aggregate amount of such supplies exceeding ₹ 5000 in a day from any or all unregistered suppliers and all inter-State supplies without any limit till 12th October 2017. Section 9(4) has been substituted by the Central Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018, w.e.f. 1-2-2019. According to the new provision, Government may, on the recommendations of the Council, by notification, specify a class of registered persons who shall, in respect of supply of specified categories of goods or services or both received from an unregistered supplier, pay the tax on reverse charge basis as the recipient of such supply of goods or services or both. There are certain services which are notified but no goods had been notified till 30.04.2020 under the newly substituted section.

It is also pertinent to mention that in view of bringing into effect the amendments (regarding RCM on supplies by unregistered persons) in the GST law vide Notification No. 01/2019-Central Tax (Rate), dt. 29-01-2019, the reverse charge exemption notification has been rescinded

Illustration 10: Mr. X, an agriculturist supplies raw cotton (under reverse charge) to Mr. Y who manufactures cotton shirts. The date wise turnout of events is given below:

01.04.2019- Mr. Y approaches Mr. X and places an order for 2 tonnes of cotton

10.04.2019- Mr. Y receives the goods

15.04.2019- Mr. X issues an invoice

20.04.2019- Mr. Y makes a payment by cheque and accordingly records it in his books of accounts.

25.04.2019- The payment gets debited from Mr. Y's bank account

What will be the time of supply in the given case?

Answer: The time of supply shall be the earlier of the following dates:

a. the date of receipt of goods i.e. 10.04.2019

² Inserted vide Notf No. 10/2021-Central Tax (Rate), dated 30-9-2021 w.e.f. 1-10-2021

- b. the date of payment as recorded in the books of Mr. Y i.e. 20.04.2019 or the date when the payment gets debited in the books of the recipient i.e. 25.04.2019 whichever is earlier
- c. the date immediately following thirty days from the date of issue of invoice, i.e. 15.04.2019+30days+1day=16.05.2019

Therefore, the time of supply will be 10.04.2019.

(d) Time of Supply – Vouchers

The Act introduces time of supply in respect of 'vouchers' as a separate category such that the provisions relating to time of supply of goods is made inapplicable when the supply is of such vouchers. In Chapter III where in the context of supply, definition of goods has been discussed at length and one can find therein, specific inclusion of 'actionable claims'.

In relation to actionable claims, Courts have held as follows:

- (i) Actionable claims come within the definition of goods as generally understood.
- (ii) VAT laws have deliberately excluded actionable claims from the definition of goods.
- (iii) Actionable claims represent debt and accordingly carry a demand that can lawfully be made by one person against another.
- (iv) Actionable claims represent property in non-physical (incorporeal) form.

But in GST, unlike VAT laws, we find that by including actionable claims within the definition of goods, they are made liable to tax. In relation to actionable claims under GST, note the following key aspects:

- (i) Actionable claims are included specifically in the definition of goods, but this inclusion is by creating "an exception from an exclusion". In other words, while excluding money and securities from the definition of goods, actionable claims have been singled out. This means such forms of actionable claims that represent property in the form of money or securities are also excluded from the definition of goods. Therefore, from a large population of actionable claims, tax is applicable only on the subset of actionable claims which do not represent property in the form of money or securities and all other forms of actionable claims representing any other property is includable in the definition of goods. A receipt for having made payment is not actionable claim because that receipt represents money and not the result of a transaction resulting in debt or demand. Similarly, promissory notes, IOU slips and all other derivatives of such instruments are also not actionable claims for the purposes of GST because of the exclusion of money from the definition.
- (ii) Actionable claims which are included within the definition of goods do not become includable in the definition of services due to the accommodative and expansive language used to define 'services'. For this reason, the property that actionable claims represent even if they are in non-physical form, will continue to remain goods and not become services. Actionable claims, so understood, may or may not be in any physical form. In other words, actionable claim is not the piece of paper carrying the detailed description of the actionable claim in question but the real property, though in non-physical form, that is referred to in that piece of paper. In this digital age, a piece of paper carrying the description of the actionable claim can even be present in electronic form and still retain the character of actionable claim within the definition of goods. Actionable claims can therefore, be in physical or electronic form as long as they represent real property.

'Actionable claims' discussion in Chapter III has highlighted that the incidence is limited to 'lottery, betting and gambling'. Further, it is important to note that vouchers are not always referring only to actionable claims. Vouchers being treated as a separate category for the purposes of determining the time of supply, will need to be first identified in relation to supply before applying the relevant provision regarding its time of supply. Vouchers are defined in the Act as "an instrument where there is an obligation to accept it as consideration or part consideration for a supply of goods or services or both and where the goods or services or both to be supplied or the identities of their potential suppliers are either indicated on the instrument itself or in related documentation, including the terms and conditions of use of such instrument" and examples of voucher are coupon, token, ticket, license, permit, pass.

Now, the time of supply in the case of vouchers is stated to be:

- (i) the date of issue of voucher if the supply is identifiable at that point; or
- (ii) in all other instances, the date of redemption of the voucher.

From the above provision, it can be seen that at the time of issue of voucher, it is possible that the supply is not identifiable. Hence, the following key statements can be considered in this regard:

- (i) Vouchers may be issued with specific or non-specific end-use.
- (ii) Vouchers that are issued on payment of money will not be treated as 'vouchers' since the definition of money in section 2(75) includes "instruments approved by RBI" and where such approval is obtained from RBI (under Payments and Settlement Systems Act, 2007), the treatment will be as 'money' and not as 'vouchers'.
- (iii) Vouchers themselves are not legal tender.
- (iv) Vouchers represent some carried value or redeemable value in money terms.
- (v) Vouchers are accepted as substitute for payment for a supply due to their carry value.
- (vi) Vouchers are not merely receipts for pre-payment received (those would be 'money').
- (vii) Vouchers must be non-cancellable such that they cannot be reconverted into money.
- (viii) Vouchers may be in physical or digital form but comprise the above characteristics.

Some key aspects of the definition are discussed here as are relevant from the perspective of sections 12(4) and 13(4).

Money [section 2(75)] may be represented as follows:

Object		Purpose
Indian legal tender *	Foreign currency 	Used as consideration to:
Cheque, promissory note, bill of exchange, letter of credit, draft, pay order, travellers cheque, money order, postal or electronic remittance or any other instrument recognized by RBI #		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ settle an obligation or ➤ exchange with Indian legal tender of different denomination (not held for numismatic value)
* Currency recognized by law – RBI Act, 1934 includes currency notes and coins. Legal tender issued records liability of the Central Government and a guarantee to its holder to secure value-in-exchange
 Legal tender of other countries recognized by India. Does not include securities denominated in foreign currency
Stored value instrument known as pre-paid instrument (PPI) issued by a licensee under Payment and Settlement Systems Act, 2007

Money is therefore that which is 'used as' consideration between parties to a transaction. Money does not represent a liability of the parties to the transaction. Money represents liability of the Central Government. A person who has money has an asset which represents a certain amount of value. There is a requirement to specially prescribe the 'terms of use' of money. It is known and is declared by the law that recognizes money to be legal tender. Money includes all 'stored value' instruments approved by RBI or PPIs. Value is stored in PPIs by transfer of Indian legal tender in cash or from bank account and any balance of stored value in PPIs can be withdrawn in ATM or retransferred to the bank account. PPIs are of three types – closed, semi-closed and open PPIs. There are two other kinds of hybrids where existing banking license-holders along with a technology partner can issue PPI-like stored-value products which operate as a specie of savings bank account of the PPI-holder or beneficiary. PPIs can be physical bearer instruments as paper certificate or plastic card. PPIs can also be non-physical in the form of a digital wallet. Both represent stored value which is linked to a bank account of the beneficiary. PPIs are not to be misunderstood with Payments Bank. PPIs have more restrictions than a Payments Bank which is a scaled-down version of a regular savings bank account.

Note that the Government has passed the Payment and Settlement Systems Act, 2007 ('PSS Act') and accordingly, not everyone is permitted to issue instruments that may be used as a payment system. RBI was expected to make major changes to the circulars issued in terms of the PSS Act by June 2017 but the framework or principles borrowed from the current circulars for the purposes of GST is expected to remain unaltered although changes may come in areas of governance, ease of doing business and inclusive growth in e-payment offerings through these pre-paid instruments or PPIs. Voucher as defined in section 2(118) of the CGST Act may be represented as follows:

Object	Description
Instrument with obligation	Created by contract between private parties
Value represented	As per terms of use
Stored value	Nil; only value of obligation admitted
Obligor (person liable to discharge admitted obligation)	Issuer or other name obligor
Parties involved	3 or more parties – supplier, receiver and obligor

Voucher is therefore an 'instrument with obligation' that is accepted as consideration. Voucher does not contain any 'stored value' but 'value-to-use'. This 'value-to-use' is credited into a voucher by a contractual arrangement between the issuer-redeemer of the voucher. A customer who redeems the voucher is not a party to the arrangement for creation of the voucher. A voucher that is created changes hands through steps with a sliding-scale of discounts until it is redeemed at the face value. This 'value-to-use' at the time of its creating necessarily involves flow of payment from the issuer to the redeemer as such voucher represents cash/cash equivalent received in advance entailing an obligation. But this value-to-use, cannot be converted to cash but only expended or redeemed as per terms of use of voucher. There is no regulation governing issue, transfer and redemption of vouchers except the terms of a lawful contract. Vouchers are not PPIs and hence not governed by Payments and Settlement Systems Act, 2007. It is not uncommon for the available balance of 'value-to-use' to be credited into the digital wallet of a PPIs issued by the same issuer. But the difference is that the part of the wallet balance representing stored value can be withdrawn but not the part of the wallet balance representing value-to-use or voucher. Gift voucher issued by a merchant that is a bearer certificate with a unique identification number or code is not a voucher that answers this definition because this gift voucher is a close-ended PPI.

Another similar product is 'loyalty points' which also contains 'value-to-use' but the difference is that in loyalty points, the issuer-redeemer is the same person. Loyalty points issued represents liability of the issuer towards the beneficiary without any underlying flow of payment and is best described as 'future discount'. That is, these points accrue in one transaction and based on some conversion ratio, that can be redeemed as a discount in a subsequent transaction. As the loyalty points are non-transferable where the issuer-redeemer is the same person, it is not an instrument with obligation. Discount allowed in the subsequent transaction is towards cancellation of points accrued from the earlier transaction. Similar to vouchers, loyalty points also do not have any regulation governing its allotment and redemption except the terms of a lawful contract. Nowadays, it is seen that the liability that accumulated loyalty points represents, are being converted into voucher by transfer of liability by issuer to an intermediary at a discounted value. From here onwards, due to intermediary's involvement, an instrument comes into existence with an obligation which is voucher.

Yet another product coupon or token in the form of a 'code', where a customer becomes entitled to discount at the very first purchase by citing this 'code'. It is interesting to note that entitlement to this code though not flowing from a transaction in the past, it is an entitlement by accepting to enter into a transaction in the future. This acceptance is recorded by registering on a website, downloading an app or any other positive act on the part of the customer. Such codes also do not satisfy the requirements of a voucher for the same reasons as applicable to loyalty points.

Among all these lies another transaction that may appear to overlap with the definition of voucher, due to the words of common understanding being used interchangeably with words having specific statutory meaning and that is 'pass'. Pass is one which could be an entry pass or customer's pass or a free ticket. For example, a ticket to a cricket match is available for ₹1,000/- but a company buys these tickets and distributes it to key customers as 'free pass'. It allows the customer to enjoy the cricket match without paying anything for the same. But the company has already paid the ticket price to the organizers of the cricket match. Another example could be free pass to view screening of a film and so on. There is a normal taxable supply between the supplier of goods or services and the person who pays and buys the 'pass'. There is another supply to be examined, between the person who pays and the person who actually enjoys the goods or services. Whatever may be the conclusions reached regarding the two transaction here, there is no voucher that comes into existence even if such entry tickets are even designated as 'free pass – not for sale' and so on. However, if such 'passes' are printed and distributed out of the ordinary course of ticket sales without reference to a specific event but permitting access to a basket of events and valid for a duration of time, then it partakes the character of voucher – instrument with obligation. When the 'pass' loses its character as an 'advance paid' for a supply in future – whether to the payer or any other bearer – and becomes an 'instrument with obligation', then the 'pass' becomes a voucher.

The reason why it is important to differentiate whether it is a voucher or not, is that if the instrument is money then tax is payable on the actual 'paid-in value' and not the 'value-to-use' (or redeemable face value). For example, a customer pays advance of ₹1,00,000 to distributor and the distributor transfers ₹80,000 to manufacturer. GST payable by the distributor will be on ₹1,00,000 and the GST payable by the manufacturer will be on ₹80,000. Ignoring the fact that credit is not allowable, this would be the treatment in respect of any instrument that fits in the definition of money. However, if a voucher was supplied by the manufacturer to the distributor of face value (or value-to-use) ₹1,00,000 but paid-in value ₹80,000, GST would be payable by the manufacturer on ₹1,00,000 and not ₹80,000. Further, anomalies arise on account of distributors' liability to pay GST on ₹1,00,000 but with serious concerns on availability of credit of tax charged by manufacturer. Without satisfying the conditions under section 16(2) read with rule 28, credit would not be available and tax would be collected on face value or value-to-use and not the actual paid-in value. Payment of tax in the case of vouchers on face value or value-to-use is found in rule 32(6).

It is important to understand that a similar provision as specified in relation to time of supply of goods also exists in time of supply of services. It is reasonable therefore, to infer that the Government in its wisdom, in all probability, will treat 'vouchers relating to goods' and 'vouchers relating to services' as distinct and separate class of transactions. What does one understand by 'vouchers relating to goods' and 'vouchers relating to services'? A layman would comprehend that vouchers relating to goods would be those class of transactions which can be exchanged for goods whereas vouchers relating to services being distinct and separate can be exchanged only for services. There can be a third class of transactions relating to vouchers, namely, a gift voucher issued by a bank which can be exchanged only for cash. But a plain reading of definition of goods and services indicates that they both exclude money. Therefore, such vouchers relating to cash / money can be safely assumed to be outside the ambit of GST laws.

It is possible for one to construe that a voucher relating to goods can be embedded for the provision of services also. Such class of transactions must be read with Schedule II to understand whether they are to be treated as goods or as services and thereafter apply the principles laid down to the transaction as if they were goods or services. And in such situations, one should await until the time of redemption to determine the rate of tax and class of supply.

Interesting situations arise in respect of such transactions. For instance, the points accumulated in a credit card could be used to exchange for goods or issue of an air ticket. Difficulty arises in taxing such transactions in the hands of the person issuing such points. However, the taxability or otherwise of such accumulated points would need detailed deliberations based on facts and surrounding circumstances of each case.

As discussed above, the time of supply of goods in case of supply of vouchers by a supplier will be:

- (a) the date of issue of voucher if the supply is identifiable at that point
- (b) the date of redemption of voucher in all other cases

This basically means that if the exact nature of goods to be supplied along with its quantity value of such goods are available when the voucher is issued, the time of supply will be the date of issue of voucher. On the other hand, if the nature of supply of goods is not available at the time of issue of voucher, then the time of supply will be considered as the date of redemption of voucher. This is not to say that the time of supply will determine the value also. This is because as per rule 32(6), the value will always be the redemption or face value of the voucher irrespective of the time of supply. There remains some important issues which are yet to be resolved in the context of vouchers especially when vouchers have been given a separate place in the provisions of time of supply; for eg., what shall be the time of supply in case there is no redemption of such voucher made by the consumer where supply is not identifiable at the time of issue of such vouchers; would time of supply not be material at the time of redemption of vouchers against supply of goods or services; time of supply in respect of vouchers not issued by redeeming branch etc. In this regard, it may be noted that vouchers do not have a separate HSN code. As such, the tariff rate is dependent on the 'redemption article' (i.e., the good or service).

(e) Time of Supply – Residuary

Where none of the above provisions are able to satisfactorily answer the time of supply, it is to be determined based on the residuary provision which states that the time of supply is:

- (i) where a periodical return has to be filed, the due date prescribed for such return; or
- (ii) in any other case, the date of payment of the tax.

Time of supply under this residuary provision is applicable only when the other provisions are found to be inapplicable and not merely when there is some difficulty in determining the facts that are sought for by the relevant provision.

(f) Time of Supply – Special Charges

Special charges imposed for delay in payment of consideration will enjoy the facility of time of supply being the date of receipt of the charges imposed, that is, cash-basis of payment of GST. The various issues involved in these special charges are discussed in detail under “Time of supply of services” which may be referred.

Illustration 11: Mr. X enters into a contract for supply of goods worth ₹ 5, 00,000 with Mr. Y on 10th April 2018. Such goods are removed with an invoice dated 12th April 2018 on 13th April 2018 for delivery to Mr. Y. The terms of the contract demanded the payment against such supply to be made within 60 days beyond which a late payment charge of ₹ 10,000 will have to be paid by Mr. Y. Mr. Y makes the payment of Rs, 5,00,000 along with the late payment charges on 15th July 2018. What will be the time of supply in respect of the entire amount?

Answer: In Section 12(2), the time of supply in respect of ₹ 5, 00,000 will be the date of issuance of invoice or last date of issuance of invoice. Last date of issuance of invoice will be the date of removal where supply involves movement of goods.

Date of issuance of invoice: 12th April 2018

Last date of issuance of invoice: 13th April 2018 (date of removal)

The date of payment is immaterial as per Notification no. 66/2017-Central Tax dated 15th November 2017 as already discussed above. So, the time of supply will be 12th April, 2018 in respect of ₹ 5, 00,000.

However, in respect of the time of supply for the amount of Rs, 10,000 paid as late payment charges, time of supply as per section 12(6) has been stated to be the date on which the supplier receives the addition in value. Here, the additional amount of ₹ 10,000 is received on 15th July 2018. Hence, the time of supply for this amount will also arise on 15th July 2018.

13.1 Analysis

(a) Time of Supply – Forward Charge

Similar to goods, time of supply of services is prescribed to be the earlier of the date of issue of invoice and date of receipt of payment. Date of issue of invoice requires us to examine section 31 which deals with the requirement to issue a “tax invoice”. In relation to services; section 31 requires that a tax invoice be issued whether before or after provision of service. Further, there is a time limit beyond which tax invoice to be issued in arrears cannot be delayed after completion of the provision of service.

Rule 47 of the CGST Rules prescribes the time period within which such invoice should be issued. It states that in case of the taxable supply of services, invoice should be issued within 30 days from the date of supply of services. In case of banking company/financial institution/non-banking financial company, the time period becomes 45 days from the date of supply of services. When these banking/financial institution/non-banking financial institution/telecom operator companies make taxable supplies of services between distinct persons, invoice may be issued before or at the time such supplier records the same in his books of account or before the expiry of the quarter during which the supply was made.

If the invoice is issued within the prescribed time period, the time of supply will be the earlier of the date of issue of invoice or the date of payment. If the invoice is issued after the prescribed time period, the time of supply will be the earlier of the date of completion of service or the date of payment. If none of these two situations are applicable, then the time of supply will be the date when the recipient shows the receipt of services in his books of accounts.

The discussion in Chapter III explains that in accordance with Schedule II, supplies involving goods may be treated as supply of services. In all such cases, as in the case of services ordinarily understood, this provision alone applies for determination of time of supply. One may also refer to Chapter VII regarding issuance of tax invoice in all other circumstances and determine from there the fact of issuance of tax invoice.

Therefore, where the tax invoice has been issued accordingly, the time of supply can be determined to be earlier of the date of issuance of such tax invoice or the date of receipt of payment.

Illustration 1: Mr. X provides consultancy services to Mr. Y worth ₹ 50,000.

08.04.2018 – An advance of ₹ 10,000 is received from Mr. Y

10.04.2018 – The consultancy services are provided

16.05.2018 – Mr. X receives balance payment of ₹ 40,000 and records it in his books.

What will be the time of supply assuming Mr. X issues the invoice on:

Situation 1 - 15.04.2018

Situation 2 – 15.05.2018

Answer:

Situation 1: If the invoice is issued within the prescribed time period, the time of supply will be the date of receipt of payment or date of issue of invoice whichever is earlier. In the given case, the invoice is issued on 15.04.2018 which is within 30 days of the supply of services which is within the prescribed period. Hence, for ₹ 10,000, the time of supply will be 08.04.2018 which is the date of receipt of advance payment. For the balance amount, the time of supply will be 15.04.2018 which is earlier of 15.04.2018 (date of invoice) and 16.05.2018 (date of receipt of payment).

Situation 2: If invoice is not issued within the prescribed time period, the time of supply will be the earlier of the date of completion of service and the date of receipt of payment. Here, invoice is issued on 15.05.2018 which is after the prescribed time period. So, for ₹ 10,000, the time of supply will be 08.04.2018 which is the date of receipt of advance payment. For the balance amount, the time of supply will be 10.04.2018 which is earlier of 10.04.2018 (date of completion of service) and 16.05.2018 (date of receipt of payment).

Illustration 2: During investigation, it was found that Mr. X had provided catering services of ₹ 1,00,000 to Mr. Y during his business convention. The payment for these services was made in cash. Mr. X had neither issued any invoice nor recognised the payment in his books of accounts. Mr. Y recorded the payment of ₹ 1,00,000 in cash in his books on 28th April 2018. What will be the time of supply in this case?

Answer: Since, the date of receipt of payment or the date of invoice is not available in case of Mr. X, the date when the payment is recorded in the books of the recipient becomes relevant. Since, Mr. Y recorded this on 28th April, the time of supply for such supply will also be considered as 28th April 2018.

Exceptions:

- (i) When an amount in excess of tax invoice is received up to ₹ 1,000/-, the time of supply in respect of such excess at the option of the supplier shall be the date of such invoice.

Illustration 3: A telephone company receives ₹ 4,000 on 27th July 2018 against an invoice of ₹ 3,700 on 23rd July 2018 in respect of the services provided. The excess amount of ₹ 300 can be adjusted against the invoice to be issued in the next month. Time of supply will arise only for ₹ 3700 on 23rd July 2018. For the balance amount of ₹ 300, the time of supply may not arise on 27th July 2018 at the option of the supplier and may be adjusted against the next month's invoice.

- (ii) Supply shall be deemed to have been made to the extent the value of supply indicated in the invoice or the value of payment received by the supplier.

Illustration 4: In Illustration 3, assume that the payment received was ₹ 5000 instead of ₹ 4000. Since, the amount exceeds ₹ 1000 in terms of the excess payment received, there is no option with the supplier. Here, the supply will be deemed to have been made to the extent of the invoice of ₹ 3700 on 23rd July 2018 and the balance amount of ₹ 1300 will be liable to tax on 27th July 2018.

- (iii) Date of receipt of payment shall be the date on which the payment is accounted in the books of the supplier or the date reflected in the bank account of the supplier, whichever is earlier.

Illustration 5: Assume that payment is recorded in the books of the supplier on 25th July 2018 and the date as per the bank statement is 27th July 2018. In this situation, the date of receipt of payment will be taken as 25th July 2018 as it will be earlier of the two events.

Continuous supply of services

As per section 2(33) of the CGST Act 2017, continuous supply of services means a supply of services which is provided or agreed to be provided continuously or on recurrent basis under a contract for a period exceeding three months with periodic payment obligations and includes supply of services as the Government may, subject to such conditions as it may by notification specify.

This means that there are three important conditions to be satisfied in order to be a continuous supply of services:

- (a) The services should be provided continuously or on recurrent basis
- (b) The contract period should be exceeding three months
- (c) The payment obligations should be periodical

For instance an annual maintenance contract, construction contract etc. may be considered as continuous supply of services if the aforesaid conditions are satisfied. As stated in the context of goods, continuity of supply does not imply continuous supply. If each transaction is concluded satisfactorily, there cannot be a continuous supply. There must be something that cause the mere performance and insufficient to conclude the contractual performance of supplies. Merely delaying the invoicing cannot imply continuous supply.

The date of issuance of invoice in respect of continuous supply of services has been given under section 31(5) of the CGST Act 2017 as follows:

- (I) Where the due date of payment is ascertainable from the contract, the invoice will be issued on or before the due date of payment.
- (II) Where the due date of payment is not ascertainable from the contract, the invoice will be issued before or at the time when the supplier of services receives the payment
- (III) When the payment is linked to the completion of an event, the invoice will be issued on or before the date of completion of that event.

Illustration 6: Mr. X is getting construction services from a developer against buying of an under-construction flat for the period 01/07/2017 to 31/03/2018 for ₹ 150,00,000. The transactions are structured as follows:

Situation 1: Equal instalments to be paid at the end of every quarter

Periodic completion of service	Date of Invoice	Actual payment dates	Value
30-09-2019	03-10-2019	15-10-2019	50,00,000
31-12-2019	02-12-2019	03-02-2020	50,00,000
31-03-2020	10-04-2020	20-03-2020	50,00,000

Situation 2: Payment to be made as per mutual understanding

Periodic Completion of service	Date of Invoice	Actual payment dates	Value
31-12-2017	14-01-2020	12-01-2020	90,00,000
31-03-2020	22-04-2020	02-04-2020	60,00,000

Situation 3: 40% payment on 40% completion and balance payment on 100% completion

Periodic Completion of service	Date of Invoice	Actual payment dates	Value
31-03-2020	24-04-2020	28-04-2020	90,00,000

Answer: This is a case of continuous supply of services. The first question that should be determined in these cases is whether the invoice is issued within the prescribed time period. If issued within the prescribed time period, the time of supply will be the date of issue of invoice or the date of receipt of payment whichever is earlier. If the invoice is issued after the prescribed period, then the time of supply will be the date of completion of service or the date of receipt of payment whichever is earlier.

Situation 1: In this situation, the due date of payment can be ascertained from the contract. Hence, the last date of issuance of invoice will be the due date of payment. The due date of payment will be end of each quarter. So, the time of supply will be determinable as follows:

Periodic Completion of service	Date of Invoice	Actual payment dates	Value	Invoice issued within time limit	Time of supply
30-09-2019	03-10-2019	15-10-2019	50,00,000	No	30-09-2019
31-12-2019	02-12-2019	03-02-2020	50,00,000	Yes	02-12-2019
31-03-2020	10-04-2020	20-03-2020	50,00,000	No	20-03-2020

Situation 2: In this situation, due date of payment is not ascertainable from the contract. Hence, the invoice is to be issued before or at the time when the supplier of services receives the payment. So, the time of supply will be determinable as follows:

Periodic Completion of service	Date of Invoice	Actual payment dates	Value	Invoice issued within time limit	Time of supply

Situation 3: In this situation, the payment is linked to the completion of event. The invoice should be raised on or before the completion of that event (i.e. 40% or 100% completion as the case may be). The time of supply will be as follows:

Periodic Completion of service	Date of Invoice	Actual payment dates	Value	Invoice issued within time limit	Time of supply
01-10-2019	29-09-2019	05-10-2019	60,00,000	Yes	29-09-2019

Cessation of supply of services before the completion of the supply

As per section 31(6) of the CGST Act 2017 where the supply of services ceases before the completion of the supply, the invoice is to be issued at the time when the supply ceases and such invoice shall be issued to the extent of the supply made before such cessation.

Illustration 7: A contract for supply of professional services was entered for ₹ 5,00,000 for the period of two months on 20th July 2017. However, on 16th August 2017, the recipient informed the supplier that he is not willing to receive any more services under the contract. Both of them mutually agree that the services provided till date can be valued at ₹ 3,50,000. The invoice for this was issued on 20th August 2018 and the payment was made by the recipient on 25th August 2018.

Answer: Here the cessation of supply of services occurs on 16th August 2017. The date by which the invoice should have been raised was also 16th August 2017. However, the invoice was issued on 20th August 2017 which is after the prescribed time period. Therefore, the time of supply will be the earlier of the date of completion of service (16th August 2017) and the date of payment (25th August 2017) which will be 16th August 2017.

(b) Time of Supply – Reverse Charge

Where tax is payable on reverse charge basis, the time of supply is appointed to be the earlier of date of payment or 61st day from the date of issue of invoice by the supplier. If for any reason, one or all of these two dates cannot be determined then the time of supply will be the date of recording the supply in the books of the recipient.

In case of transactions between 'associated enterprises' where the supplier of service is located outside India, the date of recording the supply in the books of the recipient or the date of payment whichever is earlier, will be the time of supply. 'Associated Enterprises' has been defined in section 2(12) of CGST Act, 2017. The section defines the term as "associated enterprises" shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in section 92A of the Income-tax Act, 1961 (43 of 1961).

Again, note that in view of the definition of reverse charge in section 2(98), the above provision does not apply to payment of tax by an electronic commerce operator but only to those cases of supply which fall under sub-section 5 of section 9 of the Act.

Illustration 8: Mr. X provides legal services as an advocate to Mr. Y which fall under reverse charge basis.

10.04.2018 – The services are provided to Mr. Y

12.04.2018 – Mr. X issues an invoice to Mr. Y

10.07.2018 – The payment is made by Mr. Y through a cheque and recorded in his books of accounts

15.07.2018 – The payment gets debited from Mr. Y's bank account

What will be the time of supply?

Answer: The time of supply shall be earlier of the following dates:

The date of payment i.e. 10.07.2018 (earlier of 10.07.2018 and 15.07.2018)

The date immediately following sixty days from the date of issue of invoice i.e. 12.06.2018 (12.04.2018+60days+1day).

Therefore, the time of supply shall be 12.06.2018.

(c) Time of Supply – Vouchers

Refer to the discussion regarding time of supply of goods for some background discussion about actionable claims. For the purposes of this discussion on time of supply of services, note the following comments:

- (i) the discussion on actionable claims being includible as vouchers is relevant vis-à-vis services for the only reason that certain transactions involving goods are deliberately treated as supply of services by Schedule II and to this extent actionable claims which are a sub-set of goods need to be referred in this Chapter;
- (ii) vouchers are not entirely comprised only of actionable claims and services can also be included

Now, the time of supply in the case of vouchers is stated to be:

- (i) the date of issue of voucher if the supply is identifiable at that point; or
- (ii) in all other instances, the date of redemption of the voucher.

For a detailed discussion on understanding of vouchers in the context of actionable claim and money, refer Para 12.1(d) above.

When vouchers are issued for specific end-use, then they are taxable as supply provided they otherwise satisfy the requirements of section 7 of the Act. Since, a specific provision exists in respect of time of supply of vouchers, they are not goods or services by themselves, but are singled out for the limited purpose of prescribing the time of their supply. And the rate of tax will be that applicable to goods or services they are issued in respect of or that applicable at the time of redemption. Vouchers are not merely receipts for pre-payment received because prescribing a specific time of supply would be redundant when time of supply already considers advance payments.

(d) Time of Supply – Residuary

Where none of the above provisions are able to satisfactorily answer the time of supply, it is to be determined based on the residuary provision which states that the time of supply is:

- (i) where a periodical return has to be filed, the due date prescribed for such return; or
- (ii) in any other case, the date of payment of the tax.

(e) Time of Supply – Special Charges

Sometimes there may be charges imposed by the supplier on account of some deviation or special circumstance from the expected terms of contract on the part of the recipient. These special charges may be enabled by the contract though not necessarily attracted at the time of supply of the underlying goods or service (other than these special charges) or may be agreed later – when the special circumstance occurs. These special charges are listed as interest, late fee or penalty on account of delay in payment of consideration. In these cases, the time of supply is appointed to be the date of receipt by the supplier. It is this express provision that bring to light that (i) these special charges are not a separate supply but merely additional consideration for original supply and (ii) time of supply of these special charges would have been the time of supply of the original supply (attracting interest liability too) but for the express mention that it will be on the date of realization, notwithstanding that a supplementary invoice or debit note is issued towards these special charges.

Further, this express provision also makes it clear that in all other cases, where a supplementary invoice or debit note is issued towards 'any other charges' (not coming within this provision) would not enjoy 'realization date' as its time of supply but continue to operate with reference to time of original supply (and hence be exposed to interest). Bona fide cases where additional consideration (other than such special charges) comes to light after an interval of time, perhaps even after arbitral proceedings, there does not appear to be any relief from consequential interest, although it would be much deserved and logical. As deserving merits of the case or logic do not appeal to tax legislation, present express provision only in one's case (of special charges) would amount to absence of express provision in all other cases. And hence, all consequences in law would attach to any additional consideration charged after the time of original supply except these special charges. Remedy in such cases would be to include 'interest cost' in the claim for additional consideration as it is not a new supply and the same reason that the recipient (or arbitral panel) accepts payment of additional consideration (for original supply) must take responsibility for the belated acceptance of dues. Law cannot forego interest because of bona fides of the claim. Law merely follows the facts presented by parties and in case of claim of additional consideration, except these special charges, there is a delay in payment of tax on original supply and that attracts interest from a strict interpretation of law. Beneficial interpretation of law is scarcely favoured approach in interpretation of tax law. Refer also to a corresponding discussion about 'shifting' of time of supply in the context of debit note in the chapter on tax invoice under section 34.

Also note that even though a debit note may be issued after reaching agreement with the recipient about the special charges imposed, the time of supply continues to remain the 'date of receipt' of payment towards such special charges. This is a departure from the provisions on accrual principle contained in section 31. As this is a special provision, the same will prevail over all other general provisions.

It is important to understand that due to time of supply being prescribed, whether the imposition of these special charges is itself a supply or not? See the following comparative discussion:

Special Charges 'are' Supply	Special Charges 'are not' Supply
Special charges are also supply being agreeing to an act or forbear an act or to tolerate an act (Entry 5(e) of Schedule II) read with section 2(31)	There is no 'supply' in the case of interest, late fee or penalty as these special charges are a consequence of a departure from the agreed terms of contract and not in fulfilment thereof
Interest, late fee or penalty are illustrations only and such special charges by any other name would also be liable to GST but on receipt-basis	By accepting such an expansive interpretation, damages awarded by a Court, LD imposed in a contract, forfeiture of a EMD, etc. can become liable to GST as these are all in some way 'in the course or furtherance of business'

Special charges paid are liable to GST whether agreed before or agreed subsequently as satisfaction of the limited non-performance	Other than the three special charges listed, any other charges arising from a transaction is not liable to GST as it is not contemplated in the arrangement of supply although not imposed in all cases
Delay in payment is a primary deviation that gives rise to special charges but even deviation in time or quantity of supply can entail some other form of special charges, GST on those cannot be avoided as the these listed are only illustrative	Only 'delay in payment' gives rise to GST incidence on the special charges. Any other deviation would be a variation of contract to be independently examined if it satisfies definition of 'supply'
Special charges are 'linked' to an underlying supply (original supply) and therefore all forms of special charges would also be liable to GST	Special charges are 'linked' to an original supply as such GST cannot be imposed on special charges without an original supply

From the above discussion, several necessary conclusions need to be reached, namely:

- (i) whether the three listed charges are exhaustive or only illustrative?
- (ii) whether delay in payment is the only occasion when this provision is attracted or special charges imposed for any other default linked to the original supply will also attract this provision?
- (iii) whether special charges imposed for any other default (not delay in payment) is liable to GST but not on receipt basis but accrual basis or are special charges for these cases not at all liable to GST?

It appears that the three listed cases are exhaustive not by the three cases listed but the circumstance for their imposition – delay in payment of consideration. So, any form of special charges imposed is liable to GST on receipt basis but only if it is due to delay in payment of consideration. Special charges imposed due to any other default by the recipient is then to be examined if it is linked to an 'original supply' or is it by itself a supply? If linked to an original supply, it is also liable to tax but not during enjoying flexibility to pay tax on receipt basis and tax being payable based on the date of debit note. If not linked to an original supply, GST would not be applicable if it does not satisfy the requirements of levy.

The issues raised in respect of special charges may be considered as a matter of discussion and does not carry a procurement of an opinion. Readers are free to connect on these discussions and evaluate each such situation after giving it adequate consideration or thought.

(f) Time of Supply – Consideration involving Development Rights or Construction Service

In case of Consideration involving development rights or construction service, the time of supply is specially notified vide Notification 4/2018 – Central Tax (R) dated 25.01.2018, under the powers conferred by section 148 of the CGST Act. Accordingly the liability to pay tax in certain situations would be as below:

Situation	Event requiring payment of taxes
Registered persons supplying development rights to a developer, builder, construction company or any other registered person against consideration, wholly or partly, in the form of construction service of complex, building or civil structure	On transfer of possession or the right in the constructed complex, building or civil structure, to the person supplying the development rights by entering into a conveyance deed or similar instrument (for example allotment letter).
Registered persons supplying construction service of complex, building or civil structure to supplier of development rights against consideration, wholly or partly, in the form of transfer of development rights.

If a registered builder supplies construction service in consideration of receiving development rights from the owner, then liability would arise as a continuous supply of construction service through the construction duration and completed on the date of handing over.

If a registered landowner supplies development rights in consideration of construction service received from builder, then the liability would arise for immediately upon entering into an irrevocable agreement for supply of development rights although consideration in the form of constructed area is handed over much later.

Where Notification No. 4/2018-CT is applicable, the time of supply is deferred until handing over. But, note that where non-refundable deposit (NRD) is paid by the builder to the landowner or where landowner starts to sell apartment units (that are under construction), then the time of supply will not be deferred but get advanced to these earlier events of collection of NRD or booking agreement to end customers.

Further, where joint-development agreements are not on 'area sharing' basis but on 'revenue sharing' basis, then firstly, Notification No. 4/2018-CT will not apply as this notification only provides deferment of time of supply when there is an exchange. And when builder is liable to pay cash (for development rights supply), time of supply will be the time when builder is put in possession of the land. Note that the landowner does not put the builder in possession of the land again-and-again but at one-go, when the irrevocable agreement is executed and registered. As such, the supply of development rights is at the start of the project. But the credit to the builder will be subject to rule 37, that is, only to the extent payment made by the builder for the inward supply (of development rights) by the landowner. There is one view that supply of development rights (in case of revenue sharing development) can be treated as continuous supply so that builder is entitled to credit to the extent of each payment instalment that is made. On this, no clear view is available from the tax administration but review of the concept of continuous supply and the irrevocable development agreement may throw some light.

With effect from April 1, 2019, treatment to TDR/FSI and Long term lease has been amended for projects commencing after April 1, 2019. Vide Notification No. 4/2019 – CT(R), exemption has been granted to the supply of TDR, FSI, long term lease (premium) of land by a landowner to a developer subject to the condition that the constructed flats are sold before issuance of completion certificate and tax is paid on them. Exemption of TDR, FSI, long term lease (premium) shall be withdrawn in case of flats sold after issue of completion certificate, but such withdrawal shall be limited to 1 per cent of value in case of affordable houses and 5% of value in case of other than affordable houses.

Further, vide Notification No. 5/2019 – CT(R) dated 29th March, 2019 read with Notification No. 7/2019 – CT(R) dated 29th March, 2019, in terms of liability to pay, the liability to pay tax on TDR, FSI, long term lease (premium) shall be shifted from land owner to builder under the reverse charge mechanism (RCM). Vide Notification No. 6/2019 – CT(R), the provisions relating to time of supply have also been amended to provide that the date on which builder shall be liable to pay tax on TDR, FSI, long term lease (premium) of land under RCM in respect of flats sold after completion certificate shall be the date of issue of completion certificate. Also, the liability of builder to pay tax on construction of houses given to land owner in a JDA is also being shifted to the date of completion. This shall be applicable for development rights or Floor space index (FSI) (including additional FSI) given on or after 1st April, 2019.

Notification No. 6/2019-CT(R) dated 29th March 2019 extends the deferment of 'date for payment of tax in the case of construction service' to 'date of completion', similar to deferment extended by Notification No. 4/2018-CT(R) dated 25th January 2018. However, with the tax on development rights being shifted to RCM basis under Notification No. 4/2019-CT(R) dated 28th March 2019, deferment under Notification No. 6/2019-CT(R) is applicable only in respect of construction services supplied. It must be noted that since the landowner-promoter is permitted input tax credit (selling unfinished / under-construction apartments even prior to the date of their completion) of the tax charged by developer-promoter on construction services (fourth proviso to 3/2019-CT(R)), developer-promoter is obliged to discharge tax on construction services (to the extent of apartments falling to landowner-promoter's share and offered for sale prior to date of completion) on the basis of work in progress / percentage of completion method, and deviate from the deferment (to the extent of these apartment units) in 6/2019-CT(R) and apply the deferment only on apartment units (falling to landowner-developer's share) that are unsold on the date of completion.

Statutory Provisions

14. Change in rate of tax in respect of supply of goods or services

Notwithstanding anything contained in section 12 or section 13, the time of supply, where there is a change in the rate of tax in respect of goods or services or both, shall be determined in the following manner, namely: —

- (a) in case the goods or services or both have been supplied before the change in rate of tax, —
 - (i) where the invoice for the same has been issued and the payment is also received after the change in rate of tax, the time of supply shall be the date of receipt of payment or the date of issue of invoice, whichever is earlier; or
 - (ii) where the invoice has been issued prior to the change in rate of tax but payment is received after the change in rate of tax, the time of supply shall be the date of issue of invoice; or
 - (iii) where the payment has been received before the change in rate of tax, but the invoice for the same is issued after the change in rate of tax, the time of supply shall be the date of receipt of payment;
- (b) in case the goods or services or both have been supplied after the change in rate of tax, —
 - (i) where the payment is received after the change in rate of tax but the invoice has been issued prior to the change in rate of tax, the time of supply shall be the date of receipt of payment; or
 - (ii) where the invoice has been issued and payment is received before the change in rate of tax, the time of supply shall be the date of receipt of payment or date of issue of invoice, whichever is earlier; or
 - (iii) where the invoice has been issued after the change in rate of tax but the payment is received before the change in rate of tax, the time of supply shall be the date of issue of invoice:

Provided that the date of receipt of payment shall be the date of credit in the bank account if such credit in the bank account is after four working days from the date of change in the rate of tax.

Explanation. —For the purposes of this section, “the date of receipt of payment” shall be the date on which the payment is entered in the books of account of the supplier or the date on which the payment is credited to his bank account, whichever is earlier.

14.1 Analysis

Payment of tax requires the presence of all the following events:

- (i) supply of goods or services
- (ii) issue of invoice
- (iii) payment for the supply

When there is a change in the rate of tax during the occurrence of these 3 events, there may be some concern about the applicability of the correct rate of tax. Section 14 addresses this aspect clearly.

Where the supply takes place after the change in the rate of tax, the time of supply may be as follows:

(a) Supply before the cut-off date-say 01-Sep-19

Supply	Invoice	Payment	Time of Supply
25.08.2019	01.09.2019	05.09.2019	01.09.2019 (Invoice or payment, whichever is earlier)
25.08.2019	01.09.2019	27.08.2019	27.08.2019 (Date of payment)

(b) Supply after the cut-off date-say 01-Sep-19

Supply	Invoice	Payment	Time of Supply
01.09.2019	25.08.2019	05.09.2019	05.09.2019 (Date of payment)
01.09.2019	25.08.2019	26.08.2019	25.08.2019 (Date of invoice or date of payment, whichever is earlier)

It is relevant to note here that the Notification No. 66/2017-CT dated 15.11.2017 exempting a taxable person from payment of tax on advances received refers to the scenarios enumerated in section 14. This may not mean that the receipt of payment in advance should not be considered for determining the change in tax rate; since, the said notification will have limited application for ascertaining the time of supply of goods. In other words, section 12 specifies the scenarios for ascertaining time of supply whereas section 14 specifies the point of determination of appropriate rate of tax in cases where the events impacting time of supply fall in time zones having different rate of tax on such supply. This means that on application of the said notification, if the date of receipt of advance is relevant, the payment of tax may be deferred till the date of supply of goods at the rate applicable as on the date of receipt of advance (point of taxation).

Although supply has not yet taken place, the time of supply determined as above is valid and not in violation of the levy of GST for the following reasons:

- (i) Supply is defined in section 7(1)(a) as '.....made or agreed to be made.....'
- (ii) Levy of GST in section 9 is on such supply, that is, 'made or agreed to be made'

Prescribing the time of supply anterior to the time of actual supply is well accommodated in the language of the Act.

Determination of time of supply under section 14 has been provided as under:

Supply	Invoice	Payment	Time of Supply
Before rate change	Before rate change	Before rate change	Not governed by section 14
Before rate change	Before rate change	After rate change	Date of issue of invoice
Before rate change	After rate change	Before rate change	Date of receipt of payment
After rate change	After rate change	After rate change	Not governed by section 14
After rate change	After rate change	Before rate change	Date of issue of invoice

After rate change	Before rate change	After rate change	Date of receipt of payment
After rate change	before rate change	Before rate change	Date of receipt of payment or date of issue of invoice, whichever is earlier

Note that in the above table, "the date of receipt of payment" shall be the date on which the payment is entered in the books of account of the supplier or the date on which the payment is credited to his bank account, whichever is earlier.

Considering that it is more common to come across supply of services prior to issuance of tax invoice, section 14 may operate predominantly in the context of services. Although not as common, supply of goods being permitted without invoice being issued simultaneously, section 14 does not cease to operate with respect of goods in instances dealt with in rule 55 of CGST Rules.

Further, section 14 cannot be pressed into service where issuance of invoice is deliberately (and perhaps with mala fide intentions) delayed. Section 14 is a provision that operates where contractually invoice is issued with some interval of time where there is an intervening 'change of rate' event. Where there is a deliberate omission to issue tax invoice, the date when the invoice ought to have been issued will operate to fasten tax liability. It is not acceptable that supply itself becomes uncertain due to non-issuance of tax invoice. Therefore, it is accepted that section 14 operates in normal circumstances and not in extraneous and artificial circumstances of belated invoicing as time of supply cannot be shifted 'at will' but by normal course of business.

27. Value of supply of goods or services where the consideration is not wholly in money

Where the supply of goods or services is for a consideration not wholly in money, the value of the supply shall, -

- (a) be the open market value of such supply;
- (b) if the open market value is not available under clause (a), be the sum total of consideration in money and any such further amount in money as is equivalent to the consideration not in money, if such amount is known at the time of supply;
- (c) if the value of supply is not determinable under clause (a) or clause (b), be the value of supply of goods or services or both of like kind and quality;
- (d) if the value is not determinable under clause (a) or clause (b) or clause (c), be the sum total of consideration in money and such further amount in money that is equivalent to consideration not in money as determined by the application of rule 30 or rule 31 in that order.

Illustration:

- (1) Where a new phone is supplied for twenty thousand rupees along with the exchange of an old phone and if the price of the new phone without exchange is twenty four thousand rupees, the open market value of the new phone is twenty four thousand rupees.
- (2) Where a laptop is supplied for forty thousand rupees along with a barter of printer that is manufactured by the recipient and the value of the printer known at the time of supply is four thousand rupees but the open market value of the laptop is not known, the value of the supply of laptop is forty four thousand rupees.

28. Value of supply of goods or services or both between distinct or related persons, other than through an agent

The value of the supply of goods or services or both between distinct persons as specified in sub-section (4) and (5) of section 25 or where the supplier and recipient are related, other than where the supply is made through an agent, shall-

- (a) be the open market value of such supply;
- (b) if the open market value is not available, be the value of supply of goods or services of like kind and quality;

Provided that where the goods are intended for further supply as such by the recipient, the value shall, at the option of the supplier, be an amount equivalent to ninety per cent of the price charged for the supply of goods of like kind and quality by the recipient to his customer not being a related person:

Provided further that where the recipient is eligible for full input tax credit, the value declared in the invoice shall be deemed to be the open market value of the goods or services.

29. Value of supply of goods made or received through an agent

The value of supply of goods between the principal and his agent shall:

- (a) be the open market value of the goods being supplied, or at the option of the supplier, be ninety per cent. of the price charged for the supply of goods of like kind and quality by the recipient to his customer not being a related person, where the goods are intended for further supply by the said recipient.

Illustration:

A principal supplies groundnut to his agent and the agent is supplying groundnuts of like kind and quality in subsequent supplies at a price of five thousand rupees per quintal on the day of the supply. Another independent supplier is supplying groundnuts of like kind and quality to the said agent at the price of four thousand five hundred and fifty rupees per quintal. The value of the supply made by the principal shall be four thousand five hundred and fifty rupees per quintal or where he exercises the option, the value shall be 90 per cent. of five thousand rupees i.e., four thousand five hundred rupees per quintal.

31. Residual method for determination of value of supply of goods or services or both

Where the value of supply of goods or services or both cannot be determined under rules 27 to 30, the same shall be determined using reasonable means consistent with the principles and the general provisions of section 15 and the provisions of this Chapter:

Provided that in the case of supply of services, the supplier may opt for this rule, ignoring rule 30.

Corporate services firm A is engaged to handle the legal work pertaining to the incorporation of Company B. Other than its service fees, A also recovers from B, registration fee and approval fee for the name of the company paid to the Registrar of Companies. The fees charged by the Registrar of Companies for the registration and approval of the name are compulsorily levied on B. A is merely acting as a pure agent in the payment of those fees. Therefore, A's recovery of such expenses is a disbursement and not part of the value of supply made by A to B.

Tax amount = (Value inclusive of taxes X Tax rate in % of IGST or, as the case may be, CGST, SGST or UTGST) ÷ (100+ Sum of tax rates, as applicable, in %).

Explanation.- For the purposes of the provisions of this Chapter, the expressions-

- (a) “open market value” of a supply of goods or services or both, means the full value in money, excluding the integrated tax, Central tax, State tax, Union Territory tax and the cess payable by a person in a transaction, where the supplier and the recipient of the supply are not related and the price is the sole consideration, to obtain such supply at the same time when the supply being valued is made;
- (b) “supply of goods or services or both of like kind and quality” means any other supply of goods or services or both made under similar circumstances that, in respect of the characteristics, quality, quantity, functional components, materials, and the reputation of the goods or services or both first mentioned, is the same as, or closely or substantially resembles, that supply of goods or services or both.

15.1. Introduction

Consideration is quid pro quo in a contract and price is the consideration expressed in money terms. Value is the price prevalent when a transaction takes place under controlled conditions or specified circumstances. Valuation is the study of all those circumstances and assessment of steps to reverse or rectify the effect of contractual or other arrangements that may suppress or understate the value of the transaction.

15.2. Analysis

This section applies to both goods and services supplied for the purposes of valuation of the taxable supply.

Although contained in the CGST Act, the valuation method provided in this section applies to UTGST, SGST, CGST and IGST. Valuation must be as provided exclusively in this section.

Transaction value should be taken for the purpose of valuation under GST. "Transaction value" has been explained in the section as the price actually paid or payable for the supply of goods and/or services or both where the supplier and the recipient of the supply are not related and the price is the sole consideration for the supply. From the phrase "for the supply", it can be gathered that there should be a clear nexus between the supply of goods or services and the amount received by the supplier of goods or services. If no linkage can be established between the price paid or payable and the supply of goods/services, the inclusion of such price in the valuation of supplies may be called into question. For this, the contractual terms and obligations of the supplier and the recipient should be examined to evaluate whether nexus between the supply and the price paid/payable against it can be established. For instance, in a contract of job work, value of material given by the manufacturer to the job worker will not be considered for the purpose of GST. This is because the contract involved the supply of services by job worker only against which the price is paid by the manufacturer. There is no supply of material involved which can be attributable to the price paid/payable.

Few pointers to mention about 'consideration':

- Is it an “act or abstinence or forbearance”, that is reason for entering into the transaction. In section 2(31), the words “in respect of, in response to, or for the inducement of” are very elaborate representation of “act or abstinence or forbearance” referred to in section 2(d) of Indian Contract Act.
- If the said transaction is anyway entered into, whether with or without such ‘consideration’, then such “act or abstinence or forbearance” would not be consideration.
- Without consideration, the transaction would be a void contract. Transaction without consideration is not supply except the four cases listed in Schedule I.
- It must be valuable consideration. Re.1/- is not valuable consideration. Nominal consideration is not valuable consideration. Valuable, is for parties to decide but parties cannot be seen accepting nominal consideration. Valuable, is what a reasonable person will accept as consideration for entering into the transaction.
- Adequacy of consideration is not relevant. Parties to decide what is adequate when such decision is taken freely and without any adverse influence.
- It must be paid or promised ‘before’ the transaction and not ‘after’ the transaction. Paying (or promising to pay) after the transaction is not consideration, it could be a reward or something else but not consideration.
- It is enforceable in a court of law only if it is consideration and not when it is reward because there is no mutual promise to enforce payment of reward. Paying (or promising to pay) independent of the transaction cannot be treated as consideration. Remember that consideration is the reason for entering into the contract (except Schedule I transactions).
- Anything valuable (in the eyes of promisor) can be consideration even when it is not money. Non-monetary consideration is still valid consideration.
- It should not be imaginary to be valid consideration. Real consideration must be possible of being delivered and performed.
- It is not only increase in cash or other assets, to be consideration, but reduction in liability will also be consideration.
- It must be at the instance of the promisor (one who is to make the supply), that is, the supplier must dictate the consideration. But it may flow from the promisee (one who will collect the supply) or any other person, that is, recipient or any other person may pay.

- It may flow from promisee (one who will collect the supply) or from any other person. Stranger to a contract cannot sue on a contract (even if it is for his benefit). But a stranger to a contract can contribute the consideration. But stranger contributing to consideration that was due from promisee, must be explained as to the reasons for so doing – whether it is repayable to such stranger (payer) by the beneficiary (promisee) or it is non-repayable. If it is repayable, 'payment on behalf' will take the character of loan (between the stranger who was the actual payer and promisee who collected the supply). If it is non-repayable, there may be another 'side arrangement' between them which needs to be examined if there is yet another supply inter se, for making such 'payment on behalf'.
- Enforceability is the truest test as to whether it is consideration or not. When consideration takes non-monetary form, reason for the transaction cannot be known (accounting rules do not permit recording transactions due to 'money measurement concept' whose consideration is in non-monetary form or even barter/exchange). Enforceability is a very reliable basis to test whether there was a contract (and hence a supply).

Note: One needs to bear in mind these pointers while considering examples discussed in this Chapter.

Price is consideration in money terms. Value, as stated earlier, is price that would be prevalent under controlled conditions. This 'three-test' formula prescribed is :

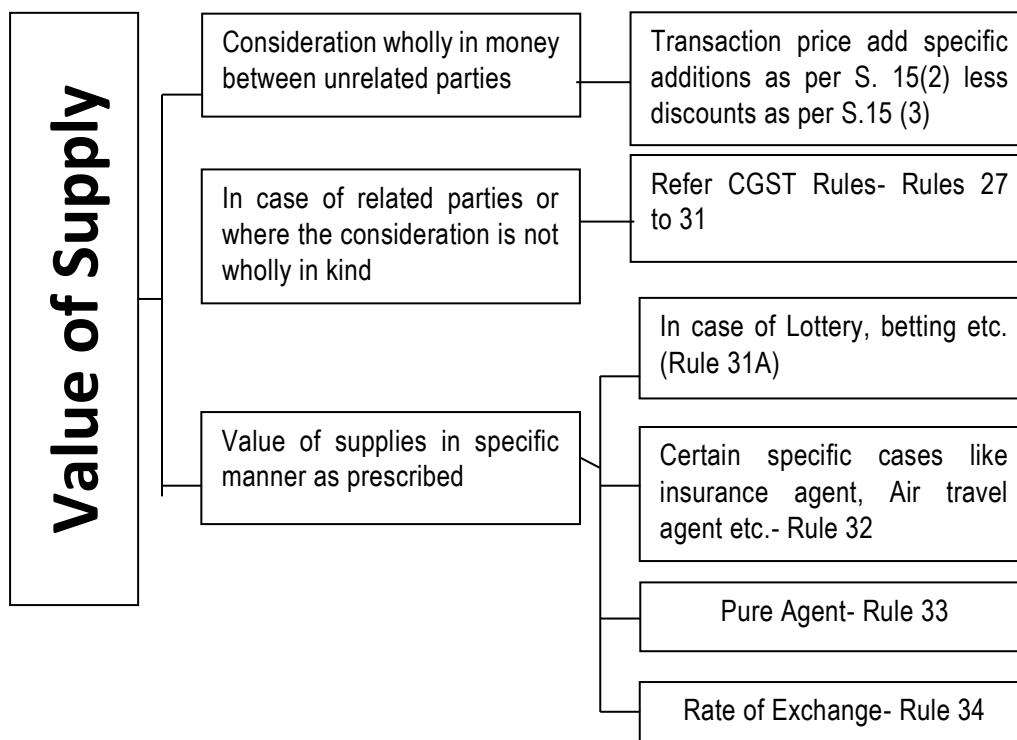

- Transaction having a price
- Between persons not related
- Price being the sole consideration

In other words, the exercise of valuation is aimed to recreate the above conditions and take any given transaction through to see the result – price – that would emerge. It is popularly believed that transaction price and that price being the sole consideration, between 'unrelated persons' is incontestable. Thus, the two conditions where the transaction price shall not be taken as value (on which tax shall be levied) are :

- The parties are 'related parties'.
- Price (that is, monetary consideration) is the sole consideration

If either of the above two conditions are not met, the valuation shall be determined in terms of section 15(4) read with CGST Rules, 2017.

The above understanding could be depicted by a flowchart as under:

In addition to 'price' existing for a supply, there are two other conditions which must exist in a transaction for such price to be accepted as the transaction value. But, before we move to the Rules to determine the valuation, let's examine these two conditions hereunder.

a. Parties are not related

Situations when the supplier and recipient will be considered as related have been enumerated in Explanation to section 15(5) of the CGST Act 2017. They are deemed to be related persons if:

- (i) such persons are officers or directors of one another's businesses;
- (ii) such persons are legally recognised partners in business;
- (iii) such persons are employer and employee;
- (iv) any person directly or indirectly owns, controls or holds twenty-five per cent. or more of the outstanding voting stock or shares of both of them;
- (v) one of them directly or indirectly controls the other;
- (vi) both of them are directly or indirectly controlled by a third person;
- (vii) together they directly or indirectly control a third person; or
- (viii) they are members of the same family;

Further, it has been stated that the word 'person' will also be including legal persons as per the comprehensive definition given under section 2(84) of the CGST Act. Also, it has been stated that the persons who are associated with business of one another as sole agent or sole distributor or sole concessionaire will also be deemed to be related persons.

Where persons are related, price determined under section 15(1) is disqualified and is subject to verification under section 15(4) by reference to the rules applicable.

b. Price (that is, monetary consideration) is the sole consideration

It is pertinent to note here that the term 'price' is the sole consideration. If there is any consideration in non-monetary form, the monetary portion of price actually paid cannot be taken as the basis of valuation because the presence of non-monetary portion in the consideration, the price is disqualified and relegated to verification under section 15(4) by reference to the rules applicable. And in this situation, price cannot be called as the sole consideration. In fact, any additional consideration received apart from the monetary consideration should also be considered to arrive at the acceptable transaction value. The fact that the consideration can be both monetary and non-monetary can very well be seen in the definition of 'consideration' given as per section 2(31) of the CGST Act. Further, the payment against the supply made either by the recipient directly or by another person will both be covered within the ambit of consideration and considered as part of the price for the purpose of valuation. This can be elaborated by an example:

Let's say the supplier supplies goods worth ₹ 5,00,000 to the recipient. Against this supply, ₹ 3,00,000 is paid by the recipient directly and balance ₹ 2,00,000 is paid by the recipient's debtor. Both the payments will be included in the price for the purpose of valuation under GST.

It is important to understand some of the common instances when the supply is claimed to be of this nature, namely:

- Warranty supply of parts to the end-customer through a dealership – the parts are supplied 'free' to the end customer. At first, it is important to determine whether the parts replaced are actually covered by warranty in the supply contract or whether there is any replacement request entertained for out-of-warranty equipment for brand building exercise. Then, the warranty obligation lies only with the original equipment manufacturer (OEM) but the actual replacement is carried out at the dealership. When a warranty claim is made with the dealership by the end customer, the dealer seeks approval from OEM. Only after 'in-warranty approval' is received from OEM does the dealer replace the part. Now, the warranty replacement between OEM to end customer is not liable to GST not because it is free but because the price for the replacement is built into the price of the equipment originally supplied and therefore tax has already been paid by OEM. However, the dealer who replaces the part does not carry any role in the warranty fulfilment. In fact, the dealer 'delivers' the part to customer but 'supplies' it to OEM. Hence, there is another supply embedded here between the dealer and OEM because the dealer uses a tax-paid part from his inventory to replace it for the end customer. Alternatively, the OEM issues credit note to the dealer for the part used in the warranty replacement. Reference may be made to Mohd. Ekram Khan's decision of SC reported in 144 STC 542. As such, warranty involves two supplies neither of which are free from tax. One is tax pre-paid and another is currently taxed though not involving the end customer.

- Physician's sample of drugs provided through sales representatives: These drugs are distributed by the physician during clinical consultation with patients. As such, the fee paid by patient to physician is one supply (whether taxable or exempt in GST) but the supply by pharmaceutical company to the physician is another supply. To hold that cost of such free samples is included in the price of other units sold and therefore there is no requirement to again impose GST based on OMV on the samples, would go against the valuation methodology adopted in GST. In other words, GST law does not follow valuation based on 'assessable value' but follows valuation based on 'transaction value'. If the cost or the value of the goods sold were to be the basis of computation of tax payable then the argument of inclusion of cost of samples may be tenable, but that is not the case in GST and each supply must stand on its own merit to be subjected to tax – if a price exists then tax would be computed on that price and if the price does not exist then tax would be computed on its OMV. If it is established that there is a non-monetary consideration flowing to the supplier then, samples will be liable to GST as determined by rule 27. This would be true not only of drugs but samples of any kind that are permanently given away. As regards physician's samples, there is raging debate that Courts are currently engaged in addressing due to the far-reaching implications and no final outcome has yet been reached in this regard. This principle may be challenged if the facts considered to exist in the course of the above discussion were not to be in alignment with the facts of any other case so as to possibly receive a very different treatment in its valuation.
- Defaced samples of garments given to supplier by brand-holder : In comparison with physician's samples, defaced samples are those which are 'unfit for resale or end-use'. Such samples are given in B2B transactions for helping suppliers to study the expected final product to prepare quotation for further orders. As these samples have been deliberately defaced and rendered unsuitable for resale or end-use, there can be no argument that consideration flows from recipient of defaced samples back to brand-holder. Taking recourse to section 17(5)(h) does not satisfy the requirements of section 15 in the case of 'saleable' samples given away for non-monetary consideration. Reference may be made to the previous discussion on the concept of non-monetary consideration existing in a commercial transaction. Non-availment of credit due to mistaken application of section 17(5)(h) will result in credit being given up along with the liability under section 15 continuing to exist where the samples given away are 'saleable' though not sold. Reference may be made to the detailed discussion on the circumstances requiring credit reversal in case of 'disposal' of samples that are 'unfit for sale'.
- Stocks issued to discharge CSR obligations: Without repeating the concept of non-monetary consideration, it is sufficient to mention that consideration is recognized in India even if it flows from a third-party to a contract. Stocks issued without any flow of consideration from a recognized and qualifying charitable institution would continue to be a supply 'for consideration' albeit in non-monetary form where the obligation under Companies Act stands satisfied/fulfilled. This in itself is the consideration for the supply and GST becomes payable based on the OMV. Continuing further, stocks issued in excess of the CSR obligation limits would also be a taxable supply. A legal entity is incapable of feeling the emotion necessary to make voluntary contributions towards needy causes. What in fact takes place is that the management of the legal entity will feel the necessary emotion, draw the stocks from inventory and then issue it for such voluntary/charitable purposes. As such, the drawal of stocks from inventory by the management itself is a supply under paragraph 4(a) of Schedule II and its subsequent issuance by the management does not alter the tax incidence. In fact, such charitable contributions by legal entity are disallowed as normal business expenditure for Income-tax purposes and enjoys deduction under a different provision of tax laws, that is, Chapter VI-A.

- Impairment of assets accounted in books: As per AS 28 (Ind AS 36) where impairment provision is to be made or reversed every time the assessment is done, the implication in GST needs to be kept in mind as to whether there is a supply and whether there is any corresponding impact of credit denial under section 17(5)(h) in respect of these assets. The usage of the words 'written off' can trigger extreme consequences and therefore caution must be exercised in the accounting treatment, disclosure of such treatment and implications of such treatment or disclosure under GST on a case to case basis. Generally, GST should not be applicable on 'write down' in the value of an asset that is neither permanent nor irreversible but the nature of the accounting treatment extended to the inquiry undertaken in relation to impairment may yield a different result if it is regarded to be a 'write-off'. No definitive view is being expressed here on the GST liability of impairment.
- Leased car provided by employer disclosed in Form 12BA as perquisite: The reporting of perquisites admits a personal element involved in the enjoyment of the company car and the supply that is excluded in Schedule III is service 'by' employee 'to' employer. But the present case is of supply of leased car 'by' employer 'to' employee which is not covered by Schedule III. By this admission in Form 12BA, GST becomes applicable but the valuation will not be as per rule 3 of Income-tax Rules, 1962 but by GST Valuation Rules. It is important to examine the purpose of leasing a car by the employer and the purpose of permitting the employee to use the car. If it is for the advancement of the ends of the employer then it would not be a supply but if the ends of the employee are advanced, the conclusion would be very different. If the leased car provided to the employee is as per the terms of the employment agreement, then such charges of leased car becomes a part of cost to company in respect of that employee. In that case, a reasonable argument may emerge that the leased car is a consideration against the supply of services by the employee to employer which is excluded from the ambit of supply as per Schedule III. However, care should be taken to examine all attendant facts, contracted obligations, established practices and other information that indicate the primary purpose of such leasing arrangements.

- Free-issue-material provided by client to contractor: Admittedly this is not a supply in itself, but the question that arises is whether there is any consideration flowing from the client to the contractor vis-à-vis the free-issue-material (FIM). Care should be taken in drafting the contract as to whether the work was awarded for a full rate and then deductions are made towards FIM by reducing the running-account-bill of the contractor or whether the contract itself was awarded for the reduced rate. Reference may be had to NM Goel's decision 1989 AIR 285 (SC) in relation to sales tax and Bayan Builders decision (2018) 51 GSTR 133 (SC) in the context of service tax. The development of collective thought of experts with regard to taxability of FIM depends on whether there is any consideration flowing from the contractor to the client for having issued the said material or the material so issued is the object upon which the contractor is to carry out his supplies and fulfil his contracted obligations. If the contractor were merely required to account for the entire quantity of FIM received by him with complete liberty to apply the FIM for the client's project or on any other project, without any restriction or embargo only then would it be a case of supply of the FIM itself. For the issuance of FIM to be regarded as a 'transfer', it must be absolute and unhindered to constitute a supply by itself. Reference may be made to the characteristics of each of the 8 forms of supply under section 7(1)(a) and examine if issuance of FIM comes within the grasp of any of the said forms of supply. Fabric given by a customer to a tailor is not a case of supply of fabric by the customer to the tailor and a supply back by the tailor of the finished garment. An air conditioner given by a customer to an electrician called upon for its installation, is not a case of supply of the air conditioner itself to the electrician. If the air conditioner were not given by the customer there would be nothing for the electrician to install. The electrician is not at liberty to install the air conditioner in any other premises but the premises of the customer. However, in the construction of a plant wherein the contractor was liable to supply the entire materials, if steel is supplied by the recipient which results in a reduction of the price of the contract, then it will definitely be a supply by customer to contractor within GST. Further such supply of the works contract service by the contractor should include the value of steel within it. As such, experience and understanding of the fiction in the valuation provisions under the earlier laws – where composition rate of tax was applicable or abatement valuation method was followed – must not be allowed to percolate into GST. It goes without saying that legal fiction in any law does not travel beyond the purpose for which that fiction was created. The GST law entertains no such fiction when it comes to valuation of each taxable supply.

Deposits and Advances

For determination of the taxable value, classification between deposits and advances should be made diligently. Advances refer to payment as part of consideration of an agreement before the supplier performs his obligation under the said agreement. It is not provided with intent of refunding unlike deposit. Advance is treated to be part of the consideration to the contract and thereby includible within the taxable value. A deposit can be described as an amount given to the supplier with an obligation entrusted upon the supplier to keep it safely. The essence of the deposit is that there must be a liability to return it to the party by whom or on whose behalf it is made upon fulfilment of certain conditions or to apply it as consideration at a future date depending on the terms of the contract. Till the deposit is classifiable as such, it does not form part of the taxable value. As and when this deposit is applied as consideration under the contract against the supply made or agreed to be made, it forms part of the taxable value. Retention money is a classic example of deposit. To elaborate, the recipient may withhold a certain part of the consideration payable to a supplier and keeps a part of that amount as deposit with himself. Only when the given obligations are discharged by the supplier as per the terms of the contract, this retention money is released. This retention money is not included in the value if returned as such to the supplier. However, if the supplier fails to fulfil the given obligations as per the contract, the recipient may charge the said retention money and apply it against the default. When applied, the said retention money becomes chargeable to tax. It may be pertinent to point out here that the money retained will not reduce the value of the original contract of supply. This means the principal supply will continue to be valued at the full amount without any deduction for the retention money.

Another example that can be taken here is that of a rent agreement. Let us assume that a tenant is required to pay three months deposit to the landlord in an eleven-month contract. Upon default of the rent of any one month, the deposit is partly deducted as the rental for that month. Only to the extent of such deduction towards the rent of that month, it will be considered as part of the taxable value. Further, deposit is not chargeable to tax under normal circumstances unless applied as consideration. So, there may be a tendency towards classification of the taxable advance as deposit. However, any such classification should not be made based on the nomenclature of the payment only. Based on the nature of business, frequency, application and intent of such payments etc., it may be susceptible to challenge by the Governmental authorities. The subtlety involved in classification of payments between 'advance' and 'deposit' should be carefully analysed in terms of the contract and as per customary practises to determine the correct nature of the payment. Reference may be made to the decision in Metal Box India Ltd. v. CCE, Madras (1995) 75 ELT 449 (SC).

Specific additions to be made to arrive at the Taxable Value

In addition to the price, certain express checks, as given hereunder, are to be carried out which can disqualify a price that is otherwise perfectly admissible :

- Taxes levied under any other law(s): This clause provides for exclusion of GST from the value and therefore all other taxes charged must be included in the value before quantifying the GST. Taxes other than GST will cause cascading effect and this is deliberate. For instance, on import of goods IGST is charged not only on the value of goods but the basic customs duty paid under the Customs law.
- Any Amounts paid by recipient that are obligation of supplier to pay - This clause removes any doubt about the need to include costs paid by the recipient to a third party in the value of supply by the supplier. The prescription in this clause is to identify any occasion where costs – in respect of which the supplier is the principal creditor / obligor – are diverted away from the principal such that the recipient directly makes the payment resulting in lowering the rightful value of supply. At the same time, this clause does not authorize every payment where the recipient is the principal creditor / obligor and require these also to be included in the value of supply.

CBIC vide Circular no. 47/21/2018-GST, dated 8-6-2018 has clarified that if the contract between OEM and component manufacturer was for supply of components made by using the moulds/dies belonging to the component manufacturer, but the same have been supplied by the OEM to the component manufacturer on FOC basis, the amortised cost of such moulds/dies shall be added to the value of the components.

This point may be illustrated by an example of – payment of commission to agent for facilitating the supply. If the payment is ‘buying commission’ which is paid by the recipient, then the obligation to pay the agent is always of the recipient and does not require to be included in the value of supply. But if the payment is ‘selling commission’ which happens to be paid by the recipient, then the obligation to pay the agent being that of the supplier is required to be included in the value of supply. In this case (of selling commission), the underlying obligation is that of the supplier because it is the supplier who engages the agent to identify customers to make a supply. And if, somehow, the supplier manages to pass this obligation to pay the agent (the amount towards selling commission) to the recipient, then the price paid to supplier is not the true value of supply. Had the recipient refused to pay this selling commission to the agent, then the supplier would have paid the agent and made a corresponding increase in the price of the supply. It is this objective that is being achieved by this clause. Another example can be of a free on road contract wherein the payment of transportation charges is directly made by the recipient and the value to be paid to the supplier by the recipient is reduced to that extent. In this case, the transportation charges which was reduced from the price payable will be added back to the taxable value. There are several other examples that can be considered. Refer to the discussion on “Value of supply” for further illustration on this point.

“transaction value” which is the price actually paid or payable for the said supply of goods and/or services or both where the supplier and the recipient of the supply are not related and the price is the sole consideration for the supply.

- Incidental expenses charged by the supplier: This clause addresses a completely different aspect compared to the previous clause. Here, costs that the supplier incurs ‘at’ or ‘before’ supply are liable to be included in the value of supply. For example, cost of packing and transportation has been debated under the VAT laws as to whether they are incurred before or after the ‘transfer of property’. In GST, the point when title passes is irrelevant. To address the issues that had been so vigorously debated under VAT laws, this clause lays down that any cost that the supplier incurs including commission and packing which is charged to the recipient will be included in the value of supply. With this clause there is no opportunity to claim that certain charges recovered by the supplier 'after supply' are not to be included in the value of supply. Also, incidental expenses like home delivery charges are includible in the value of supply when food is delivered by a restaurant to a customer's home. Another example can be the extra bed charges included by a hotel in the value in case of accommodation services provided by a hotel to a customer. Yet another example can be installation of new modular furniture at office wherein the installation expenses are recovered separately by the supplier. Special packing charges by a gift shop while selling a showpiece can also be a pertinent illustration here. If it is a charge recovered from the recipient, then the same is includible in the value of supply provided it is not incurred 'after' the completion of supply. An example of cost incurred after the date of supply, yet not liable to be included in the value of supply, could be amount of input tax credit, considered as eligible in pricing of supply, but denied to the supplier by (say) section 16(4). And an example of a cost incurred by the supplier after the date of supply but still includible could be cost of in-warranty parts (actual or scientifically estimated provision) supplied after the date of supply.

- Interest, late fee or penalty for delayed payment : This would also have been a charge recovered by the supplier 'after' the supply that would not be includible in the value of supply but due to the express words of this clause will be included. Refer the detailed discussion regarding this clause under "Time of Supply" as 'special charges' under section 12(6) / 13(6) where characterization of these charges as well as their rate of tax (supply-dependent or independent) are addressed. For example, Mr. X enters into a contract for supply of goods worth ₹ 2,00,000 on 15th March 2018. As per the said contract, the payment of the said amount was required to be made within 2 months of the sale. If the complete payment is not made within this time period, a late penalty of ₹ 10,000 will be chargeable. Let us assume that the payment is not made within the said period. In this situation, ₹ 10,000 will be includible in the taxable value.
- Subsidy realized by supplier on the supply: This clause expressly provides for the limited exclusion of subsidy from value of supply; that is, subsidy given by the Government alone is excluded from value of supply. This clause makes an interesting requirement that any transaction where there is any form of price-intervention that behaves like a 'subsidy' is liable to be included in the value of supply. In today's economy, there are many transactions that 'behave like subsidy'. For example, contribution of consideration by third party to contract, incentive to supplier given by brand holder linked to each supply, etc. Note that extended credit terms to one customer and upfront payment terms to another customer cannot be interfered with by relying on this clause. There appears to be no room to include 'notional additions' by this clause because unlike central excise which relies upon 'assessable value' for quantifying the duty, GST relies upon 'transaction value' for quantification. Also, note that 'no cost EMI' and 'cash back' are a form of price-intervention by third party but not included in this clause because these forms of price-intervention are reaching the recipient of supply and not the supplier. The condition for inclusion is also that the subsidy should be directly linked to the price. If the subsidy is provided in a manner which cannot be directly linked to the price of the product in question, then that amount cannot be included for the determination of taxable value. For instance, subsidy against a capital asset does not affect the value of the product directly and hence not includible in the price. However, all subsidies directly linked to price will be added if the said subsidy is not provided by the Government. For example, a cafeteria in X Ltd (a corporate office) provides lunch at ₹ 120 per plate to the employees of the company. However, the vendor in the cafeteria receives an amount of ₹ 70 per plate in the form of subsidy from X Ltd for providing the food at a lower rate. Here, value of ₹ 70 will be added to the taxable value of ₹ 120 for the purpose of charging GST. Had this subsidy been provided by the Government to the company against mid-day meals, such amount of ₹ 70 would not have been includible in the taxable value.

Discounts to be excluded from Taxable Value

Discount is another area that needs special mention. The emphasis on tax treatment of discounts is visible in the repeated mention of discounts in section 15(3) where the value of supply will not include discount, provided:

- it is allowed before supply
- it is allowed after supply, provided that it is established in agreement linked to specific supplies and corresponding credit is reversed by recipient.

It would be helpful to discuss the various kinds of discounts and the GST implication of each.

- 'In-bill' discounts – are those that are allowed exactly at the point of supply so as to reduce the published product price as a result of negotiations. Generally, 'in-bill' discounts are admissible as reduction in arriving at the transaction value. However, abnormal discounts cast a shadow of doubt as regards price being the 'sole consideration'. To reiterate some of the points mentioned earlier, firstly, no one gives anything in exchange for nothing; secondly, one cannot give more than what they would get; thirdly, sale under distress circumstances does not mean sale is under duress and lastly, discount must always be related to the present supply and no others. When discount on an invoice is abnormal, inquiry is necessary regarding the circumstances for such an abnormal discount. Abnormality of discount refers to discount greater than available margins. A supplier may be willing to give away all of his margin perhaps to clear away stocks and make room for new inventory. But, when the discount exceeds the margins and there are no distress circumstances, it appears highly suspicious that the supplier is receiving something in non-monetary form from the customer. Although it seems strange that the 'in-bill' discount needs to be dissected and evaluated to such an extent but the need for that arises by the remarkable words used in the definition of consideration in section 2(31), particularly clause (b). On a quick perusal, it will now become palatable that the dissection and evaluation discussed about is very much warranted. It is so because hardly anything can escape this sweeping language 'in relation to, in response to or for the inducement of'. The supplier may be induced to offer more than his margins to conclude a supply and choose to designate it as 'discount'. The direction of the flow of supply is in the opposite direction of the flow of consideration, more on this a little later.

- 'Off-bill' discounts – are those that are allowed after supply through a credit note. Credit notes in the context of GST have been discussed in detail under section 34 which may be referred to identify whether in all cases of 'off-bill' discount, is credit note allowed to be issued. For such 'off-bill' discounts to qualify as reduction from the transaction value adherence to the conditions specified in section 15(3) are sufficient. These conditions are very explicit and simple in their application. This simplicity is not to be equated with ease because these conditions specified are such that can cause great unease and result in many transactions where 'off-bill' discounts fail to satisfy these conditions. But when the conditions are satisfied, 'off bill' discounts can be reduced from the transaction value.
- Cash discounts – are those that are allowed to incentivize the customer for prompt payment. Merely because the policy of allowing cash discount is in existence before supply does not always make cash discounts eligible under section 15(3). In other words, the price at which a transaction of supply was negotiated and concluded is what is liable to GST and not the contingency linked to payment of the dues in respect of such supply. GST is not a tax on recovery of dues toward supplies but a tax on supply itself. Cash discounts therefore, are unlikely to satisfy the requirements of section 15(3) in most cases. As remarkable as this implication appears to be, cash discounts, when looked at very dispassionately, are more akin to bad debts than a proper reduction in the value of supply. Any resistance to accept this view needs to be supported with nothing less than the high standards laid down in section 15(3). Bad debt is not always failure to recover the value of supply. Bad debt can also be abstinence from enforcing recovery of the full value of supply. Bad debt is not the state of helplessness but the decision of prudence in the interest of continued relationship with customers, cost of pursuing recovery measures and the quantum of dues lying unrecovered. It is not suggested that all cases of cash discounts are not available to be reduced from the transaction value. But the circumstances under which cash discounts have been allowed requires inquiry into the circumstances leading to this cash discount.
- Quantity discounts – are those that are aimed at reducing the price of each supply on the condition that a certain quantity of stocks need to be exhausted within a specified duration of time. Here again, inquiry is required into the terms and conditions applicable to this quantity discount. Where the stock supplied by a manufacturer to a dealer are at a specified 'dealer price', which is applied in respect of supplies to all dealers along with additional discount linked to conditions – quantity and time – that is contingent at the time of supply by the manufacturer, this would be an eligible discount under section 15(3). But discounts allowed in an invoice in respect of supplies made earlier are not discounts because transaction value can be reduced by discount allowed in respect of the present supply and not in respect of any other supplies. This is because one of the conditions for allowance of the reduction in value is that the discount should be specifically linked to the original invoices against which the discount is to be given. Since, quantity discount is linked to time and volume and not against any specific invoice, the establishment of linking it to the original invoices may be questionable.

- Special discounts – are those that are allowed by a supplier to incentivize aggressive marketing of inward supplies on special occasions or in special market conditions. In most cases, such incentives designated as special discounts are really acknowledgment of services of aggressive marketing and product promotion. The direction of flow of consideration is an indicator of the direction of receipt of supplies. In other words, the incentives flow from the manufacturer to the dealer, that are not related to the present supplies. In fact, it indicates an acknowledgment by the manufacturers of the services received from the dealer. The services so identified are from the dealer back to the manufacturers and this is a supply on its own. In fact the rate of tax of the services supplied by the dealer to the manufacturer needs to be classified independently of the classification applicable to the supplies by the manufacturer to the dealer. Although it is true that between a manufacturer and a dealer all transactions are closely related by the common thread of the dealership agreement, GST travels deeper into this relationship and picks out individual transactions of supply to apply the right rate of tax on each of them. Special discounts by their very nature appear to be outside the scope of section 15(3).
- Discounts 'in-kind' – are those that are allowed in the form of holiday packages, gold coin, motor vehicle and other objects of high perceived incentive value. To begin with, these articles are rarely stocks in which the parties are dealing with. Further, these articles are incentives to the proprietor, director, marketing executive and other individuals and not the recipient of supplies in the normal course. Accordingly, discounts in kind are not discounts satisfying the requirements of section 15(3). When a manufacturer pays money to a travel agency for a holiday package and issues the same to the individual-dealer identified, it is important to examine whether the payment by the manufacturer to the travel agent is a payment to discharge the obligation of the dealer (eligible for this incentive) or is it a direct inward supply from the travel agent to the manufacturer. If the travel agent issues the invoice in the name of the manufacturer, it is an inward supply by the manufacturer. Where the said travel package is issued to the dealer, it is an outward supply under paragraph 4(a) of Schedule II and accordingly liable to tax (at the respective rate of tax the along with restrictions on input tax credit, if any). If however, the invoice is issued by the travel agency in the name of the dealer but the payment alone moves from the manufacturer to the travel agency then, there is a supply of some services received by the manufacturer which is being paid by settling the bills of the travel agency. It is sufficient for the present if the issues involved in special discounts are appreciated. Reference may be made to the detailed discussion on supply to come back and identify existence of such invisible supplies lying embedded in seemingly ordinary transactions that are called discounts.
- Free stocks – are those that are similar to discounts 'in-kind' except that the articles given away are the items of inventory date with by the parties. In such a case, the stocks given away are taxable outward supply in exchange of non-monetary consideration flowing from the manufacturers to the dealer entitled to such free stocks. When the manufacturer gives away stocks for free to a dealer, it is clear that this is not the case of charity by the manufacturer towards the dealer but a prudent business decision by the manufacturer to allow the dealer to realize the following proceeds from sale of such free stocks and retain them as his incentive without having to make any payment to the manufacturer towards the cost of such free stocks. It is important to note that cost of such free stocks in the hands of the manufacturer would be far lower than the value of the incentive realized and retained by the dealer which is the selling price of these stocks. Here is a case where a manufacturer incurs a small cost and delivers a far greater perceived value to the dealer. In hindi, the word consideration has been referred as 'prathiphal' which seems to convey the meaning on 'quid pro quo' more clearly. Also note the word 'uthprerna' for inducement for making the supply. A further implication of giving away free stocks is that, in the hands of the manufacturer it is a taxable outward supply without the benefit of input tax credit to the dealer as no payment is made in respect of the supply. Having paid tax once on the outward supply by the manufacturer, there is a further taxable outward supply in the hands of the dealer when the free stocks are sold to customers. The tax inefficiency in transactions of issue of free stocks is evidently clear so that appropriate decisions may be made to revisit this entire policy.

- 'Buy one-take two' – are transactions where two units of stocks are supplied against payment of the price designated against only one of them. Under the method of transaction value-based assessment of tax under the GST law, each unit of stock is liable to determination of transaction value on its own merit. 'Buy one-take two' is not the case where the two units of stocks are bundled together with a single price assigned to them but are individually priced with no differentiation in the quality of each of the units except that the present offer allows the customer to pay the published price of one and collect two units of the stock. The stock collected without making any payment could very well have been the one that was paid for and purchased or vice versa. It merits to mention here that multiple units of a product may be bundled together with a single price published for them such as 4-bars of soap or pack-of-5 socks. Therefore, unless bundled together with pre-selected units of stock and a single price affixed, all other transactions of 'buy one-take two' are individually taxable – the paid unit at the price paid and the free unit at the price determined by the valuation rules.
- Nominal value supplies – is another form of discount or incentive where items of inventory are admitted to be a taxable outward supply but a nominal value is charged for such supply. Relying on the second proviso to rule 28, there appears to be a lot of confidence in continuing such nominal value supplies as a form of discount or incentive. The discussion under rule 28 may be referred to know the implications of charging nominal value but for the present, it helps to recollect the discussions about regarding the requirement for every transaction to pass the test of 'sole consideration'. Charging a nominal value is an admission that the price is not the sole consideration and when price is not the sole consideration the transaction is dispatched into rule 27 for determination of the appropriate transaction value. As such, the nominal value supplies are admittedly liable to tax but not at the nominal value. The value determinable as per rule 27 should be taken for calculation of the liability of tax.

- Liquidated damages – Most of the contracts require the performance by the suppliers within a given time limit. A delay beyond this time period may result in a loss being incurred to the recipient. To mitigate such losses and to ensure the performance of the contract within the time limit, liquidated damages may be collected. For instance, in a construction contract, the contractor undertakes to perform his service within 3 years and the delay beyond such period will result in deduction of the liquidated damages to the tune of 1% per month by the recipient. In such cases, it may prima facie seem that against the principal supply of construction services, a lower than agreed upon consideration is being received due to the delay in performance and such lower value should be offered for taxation. However, upon analysing the definition of supply under the GST law, it will result in a conclusion that there are actually two supplies which are taking place here. First is the principal supply of the construction service by the contractor for which the value was fixed as per the contract terms. Second supply is that which is provided by the recipient of the principal supply to the contractor in the form of agreeing to the obligation to tolerate an act in terms of para 5(e) of Schedule II against consideration in the form of deduction from total value of consideration. Essentially there are two forms of supply for which the consideration is partially set off against each other through book entry usually and the balance monetary consideration only exchanges hands. This only provides one of the common models for settlement of liquidated damages. However, to determine the correct treatment of such charges, a threadbare analysis of the contractual rights and obligations along with the intent behind such contracts becomes an issue of utmost importance.

Determination of Value as per CGST Rules

If and only if the transaction value cannot be determined as above, reference to CGST Rules related to valuation is permitted. These are cases where either the parties are related or the price is not the sole consideration. Government is free to notify tariff values in specific cases to determine the tax payable in such cases. This would prevail over the valuation provided for in sub-section 1. Valuation Rules are prescribed under Chapter IV of the Central Goods & Services Tax Rules, 2017 in rules 27 to 35.

The value shall be determined in the sequence of rules given. It is only when the earlier rule is not applicable; the subsequent rule may be resorted to. It is not open to the assessee to choose the valuation rule of his choice.

The rules for determining the valuation shall be followed in the sequence set out in the flowchart below:

The above rules are explained hereunder in greater details.

(a) Consideration not wholly in money - Rule 27

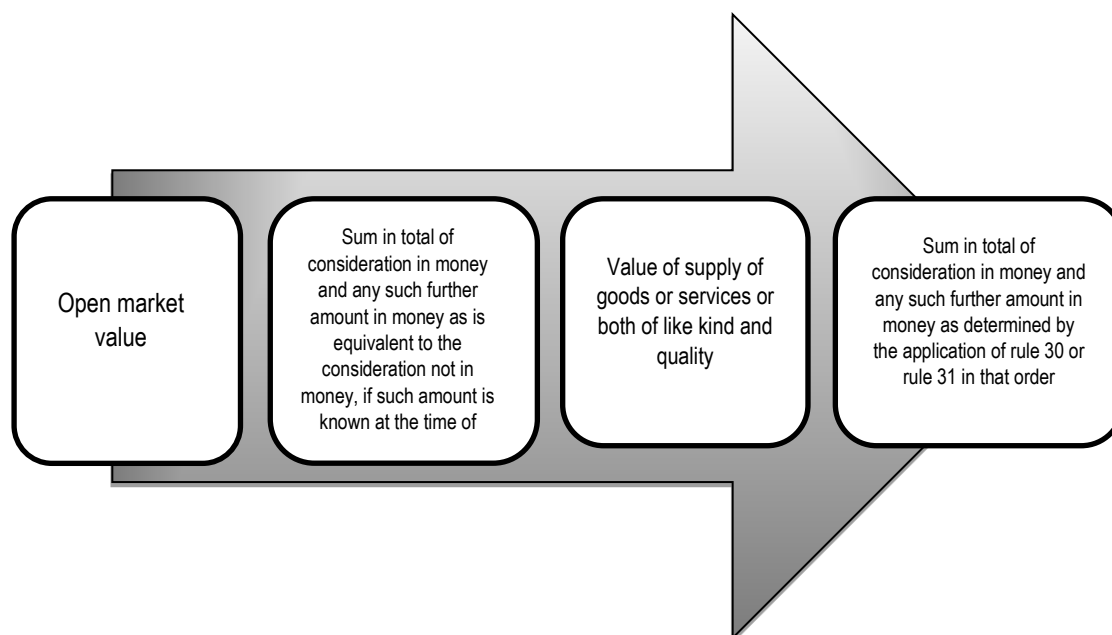

This rule comes into effect when the condition that price is the sole consideration gets violated. It is important to consider the difference between 'free' and 'no consideration'. It is probably common to consider that these two are synonymous. At the outset, there can be no contract without consideration. Experts in contract law will see the gross illegality if one were to say that there is a contract that has no consideration in it. If the contract is valid, then there must exist a consideration though in non-monetary terms which is erroneously stated to be a contract having 'no consideration'. It is impermissible that a contract exists but lacks consideration. It is just impossible. If price is not the sole consideration, there should be consideration in some other form as per the contract. Normally, upon analysing the terms of the contract, consideration in all forms can be found out. Now, if there is a contract with non-monetary consideration, rule 27 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Rules comes into operation. Although this rule states that it applies when 'consideration is not wholly in money', it applies even when the consideration is partly in money or wholly in non-monetary form. This rule provides that the value of supply "shall be" and not be "based on" or "guided by", so that mandatory nature of the prescription of this rule can be appreciated. Further, this rule comes into operation not only when the consideration paid is partly in money and partly in non-monetary form but also when the whole of the consideration is found to be in non-monetary form. Some of the transactions discussed earlier and found to be taxable supplies such as discounts, will rely on this rule to arrive at their value.

The following transactions of supply under section 7 straightaway apply this rule for the determination of the transaction value as they failed to qualify for application of section 15(1), namely:

- barter and exchange transactions
- transactions listed in Schedule I
- transactions listed in Schedule II but without consideration

The order of application of the methods prescribed under this rule cannot be deviated merely because the third is a more acceptable answer or is easier to apply. The value of supply shall therefore be determined in the following sequence:

- (i) Open market value (OMV)– which is the full value in money payable by an unrelated person as its sole consideration at the same time as the supply under inquiry. OMV is a new phrase but not too far from its scope and covered from its explanation. Transaction value is price of the supply under inquiry and open market value is the price of the same supply but without the circumstances that impairs the use of transaction value for quantification of tax. OMV is not comparable price to unrelated customer. The definition of OMV does not allow comparison of supplies in comparable circumstances. It only requires supply ‘at the same time’. Hence OMV is not price in another ‘comparable’ supply at a close proximity in time. Bought-out goods given for non-monetary consideration has the purchase price itself as the OMV for outward supply. This provision does not provide the manner of adjustments to be made to overcome the effect of those disqualifying circumstances present but simply states that OMV 'shall be' the value of the supply.

- (ii) Sum total of monetary consideration and 'money-equivalent' to consideration not in money – here two aspects are involved – one, to establish that OMV is not available (a task that will be discussed shortly) and two, to arrive at the money value of the non-monetary consideration. Having identified that OMV is not very specific to be able to clearly be determined, it becomes more acute to establish that OMV is not available before proceeding to clause (ii). Onus lies on the one who asserts – the taxable person would have admitted that the circumstances of section 15(1) are not fulfilled and warrants recourse to the rules but having arrived at the rules, the onus remains with the taxable person to establish that OMV is not available. OMV is not comparable alternate price. Supplies to unrelated persons are always taking place although in different 'commercial circumstances' which is not provided in the definition of OMV. As such, overcoming the first aspect – OMV not available – is a challenge which tax administration can be stubborn about. Then, arriving at money value of non-monetary consideration is not guided by requirement to use standards of cost accounting, etc. Rule of reasonableness is the only guide for arriving at the value which can be shot down by tactic of arbitrariness of the tax administration. Suitable guidance is much needed in this entire exercise.

For instance, an old antique art of work is sold against which consideration is partly in the form of money of ₹ 20,000 and partly in the form of a new furniture whose value known at the time of supply is ₹ 35,000. Then the value for the purpose of GST will be the monetary consideration combined with the equivalent money value of the new furniture i.e., ₹ 55,000.

- (iii) Value of supply of 'like kind and quality' – The phrase "supply of goods or services or both of like kind and quality" means any other supply of goods or services or both made under similar circumstances that, in respect of the characteristics, quality, quantity, functional components, materials, and reputation of the goods or services or both first mentioned, is the same as, or closely or substantially resembles, that supply of goods or services or both [Explanation to clause (b) of rule 35 of CGST Rules, 2017]. This is a salutary method where there is much experience in customs valuation in successfully arriving at the comparable value. Subjectivity must be overcome which is possible by applying data that is reliably substantiated rather than arbitrary factors. The definition provides guidance on the manner of finding this 'likeness' for identifying whether the comparables are really comparable without being subject to any arbitrariness in tax compliance or tax administration.

As per the explanation of the term 'supply of goods or services or both of like kind and quality', the supply through which the comparison is taking place should be under similar circumstances in respect of the characteristics, quality, quantity, functional components, materials and reputation of goods or services or both and should be the same or closely/substantially resemble the subject supply. Therefore, all the factors should be taken into account and the supply which is closest in terms of these factors should only be taken for the purpose of valuation. The factor may not be exactly replicated in the supply being valued but should be substantially resembling the supply being used for comparison. This rule should not be applied if the circumstances are vastly different between the supply being valued and the one being used for comparison. For instance, the value of a product in New Delhi and that in Sikkim may be vastly different due to non-similar circumstances. Further, it may be very difficult to compare the reputation and quality in respect of services as it involves subjectivity and arbitrariness. The nature of the services will depend on the facts and circumstances of each case.

Taking an example where this mechanism can be applied, a customised air conditioning unit whose open market value is not available is installed at an office wherein the consideration is paid in the form of money of ₹ 40,000 and an old air conditioning unit whose price is not available at the time of supply. A similar air conditioning unit in terms of characteristics, quality, quantity, functional components, materials and reputation etc. has been installed by the company at another client's premises for ₹ 60,000. Since, the value of goods of like kind and quality is available, the value of ₹ 60,000 will be taken under rule 27.

- (iv) Sum total of monetary consideration and value determined by rule 30 or rule 31 in respect of consideration not in money – similar to the previous clause, the first of the two aspects – value is not determinable as above – is the one that presents the greatest difficulty. Expect that it is crude to import values from rule 30 or 31, the rest of this clause is simple in its application. Note that rule 30 must be applied first and then rule 31, more on that in the discussion of those rules. Some illustrations are provided in rule 27 that may be referred for understanding its application.

These illustrations do not cover all possible scenarios but lay down some pointers that need to be considered while determining the valuation and GST impact of various transactions.

(b) Supply between related persons (Rule 28)

A supply between related persons or between distinct persons (with same PAN) is prima facie not fulfilling the requirements of section 15 to admit the transaction value for quantification of GST. In such cases, the value of supply will be:

- (i) Open market value – refer previous discussion;

For example, a trader in computers gifts one of the laptops worth ₹ 50,000 to his relative during Diwali. Since the open market value of this is available, it needs to be taken for the purpose of charging GST.

- (ii) Value of supply of 'like kind and quality' – refer to previous discussion;

For example, a holding company provides a capital equipment whose open market value is not available to its subsidiary company which is not registered under GST. A similar capital equipment in terms of characteristics, quality, reputation etc. is available in the market at ₹ 10,00,000. This value of ₹ 10,00,000 will be adopted for the purpose of valuation.

- (iii) Value determined by rule 30 or 31 – refer subsequent discussion.

The proviso to this rule is of significance where it is the recipient, who is entitled to full credit and the value declared in the invoice is deemed to be OMV. In other words, in the case of supply eligible under this rule – related parties or distinct persons – the supplier is entitled to unquestioned admittance of ‘any price’ that may be charged. This provision appears to accommodate internal preferences of the parties where the tax paid is revenue neutral. However, caution is advised in taking recourse of this proviso and charging a price lower than the cost.

In the case of inter-branch supply of services, valuation of these supplies will involve additional tax due to costs such as salary, amortization, etc. which do not involve any input tax credit. For example, if a head office incurs certain entity-level expenses that are common to all registered taxable persons in other States, it is not permissible for the HO to retain the whole of these common credits due to the limitation in the language of section 16(1) – used by him in his business – although a portion of this credit may still be available. Previously, such HOs were registered as ISDs under the service tax law but this may not be the case in GST.

Refer to discussion in section 20 for some analysis of these issues. Now, the HO is certainly not ‘merely an office receiving invoice for services’ but is actually the ‘seat of management and control’ performing very significant services that are supplied to all branches. HOs ought not to continue as ISDs but recognize the nature of the supply of services to all branches. And on this basis, apply these Rules for quantifying tax to be discharged. ISD is not to be substituted for inter-branch supply. Any location that is a ‘fixed establishment’ as per section 2(50) cannot be an ISD-location as per section 2(61). And if it is a fixed establishment, it would be an indicator of potential inter-branch supplies.

The proviso to this rule does not authorize payment of tax on cost because the value to be determined under this rule is OMV or else like-kind-and-quality or else rule 30 / 31 value. Hence, HO may be required to invoice for its services appropriately and not distribute credit as ISD. Valuation at nominal amount appears to be permissible by the second proviso to this rule. The eagerness to value stock transfers at nominal value misleads one to rely on the condition – recipient eligible for full input tax credit – appears to play culprit. It must be recalled that a transaction of stock transfers from one branch to another being defined to be a taxable supply under section 7(1)(c) read with Schedule I deserves to be subjected to the rightful amount of tax based on the right value of this supply. This rule cannot undo what was set out to be achieved by the section. In order to read this second proviso harmoniously with the definition of ‘supply’, it appears to be appropriate to construe ‘the value declared in the invoice’ under the second proviso to be nothing short of the OMV of the stocks transferred between the branches inter se.

This OMV could very well be the cost incurred by the supplier branch. But if the urge to apply nominal value to such supplies continues, by the words 'value declared in the invoice', the one declaring the value on the invoice cannot do so by affixing a nominal value which would be completely in disharmony between the rule and the section. A quick reference to rule 32 makes it clear that section 15 provides the boundaries within which every exercise of valuation must operate.

For example, an entity has four branches in Delhi, Mumbai, Kolkata and Bangalore. There is a head office of that entity in Hyderabad. The HO in Hyderabad recruits certain key management personnel for its branches. Here, it will be considered as if the manpower recruitment services are provided by the HO to its branches. For valuation purposes, one needs to go through the hierarchy provided in rule 28. As mentioned above, a nominal value for the purpose of billing should not be taken. There should be a reasonably justifiable method of valuation as explained above.

(c) Supply through agent (Rule 29)

Every supply involving an agent is not a taxable supply. As discussed in Chapter III, supply by principal and agent inter se, although merely a channel to supply to the end customer, is treated as a supply in Schedule I where the goods are handled by the agent or principal. Note that this rule is applicable only in case of 'supply of goods' and not 'supply of services' or 'supply involving goods treated as supply of services'. When this rule is applicable, the value of supply will be:

- (i) open market value or 'at the option' of supplier 90% of the price charged for goods of 'like kind and quality' by the agent— this rule provides for an ad hoc reduction of 10% from the price otherwise charged to accommodate the incentive or margin left for the Agent in pricing. Where margins are lower than 10%, this rule can cause great anguish. But, discarding the use of this clause is not permitted freely.
- (ii) value determined by rule 30 or rule 31 – refer to subsequent discussion.

Transactions treated as supply by Schedule I of the CGST Act, which need to be subjected to tax requires a valuation mechanism. Principal and agent do not ipso facto become related persons for rule 28 to be applicable to them.

Note that agency cannot be inferred but must be express or implied. Agency may be understood as 'delegated authority' and 'detached consequences'. Within the scope of agency, the principal will be obligated to third parties without any limit by actions of the agent. As such, the authority to the agent to act is delegated by the principal and the agent is not obliged to the consequences arising from his actions, provided they are within the scope of the agency. Undisclosed principal still obligates the principal because the lack of disclosure is to the third party and not that the principal is unaware of the possible obligations accruing.

It is important to note that not all transactions between a principal and agent attract paragraph 3 of Schedule I, but it is only those transactions where the agent 'handles' the goods of the principal. Only when it is identified that it is a transaction of such nature, will the valuation under this rule become applicable. Further, it is to be considered that recourse to this rule is not an option because every transaction between principal and agent are disqualified under section 15(1) and required to be examined with reference to these rules. Once having arrived at rule 29, there is only one method – price of supply of goods of like kind and quality – and no others. This rule applies only in respect of goods and not services.

There is a very interesting clue in a press release that permits advertisement agency to opt for either agency-model or resale-model as regards publishing of advertisements in media. Here, the press release appears to require an alternation in the contractual arrangement with the media (which may not be agreeable or not advisable), but it would be advantageous if, for limited purposes of GST, the agency were to apply agency-model or the resale-model.

Clarification on Value of Supply by a Del-Credere Agent (DCA)

DCA is a selling agent which is engaged by a principal to assist in supply of goods or services by contacting potential buyers on behalf of the principal. The factor that differentiates a DCA from other agents is that the DCA guarantees the payment to the supplier. Circular No. 73/47/2018-GST dated 05-11-2018 was issued to clarify on levy of GST on various types of DCA transactions with the principal.

In terms of this circular, a DCA would be an agent as per Schedule I of CGST Act if the invoice is raised by the principal to DCA and then by DCA to final customer. In such a scenario, DCA may advance credit to customer to enable him make payment to principal. For such credit, DCA charges interest as a consideration. In such a situation, there was a concern whether the interest charged by DCA to customer would be includible to compute GST in terms of section 15(2)(d), as the same was relatable to supply made by DCA to the customer.

It is clarified that such interest is relatable to the supply of goods by DCA to the customer and is no more a separate supply of advancing credit. Such interest is to be included to the value of taxable supply of goods by DCA to its customer.

(d) Cost based value (Rule 30)

Where cost is used as a base for determining the value of supply and when any of the more specific methods prescribed are unavailable for specific reasons, this rule may be applied. It provides that the value will be 'cost plus 10%'. Note that this rule applies to both goods and services supplied.

Every supply claimed to be free but involving non-monetary consideration faces the threat of tax being determined on this method. Cost of acquiring the product is the cost incurred by the person for bringing the production in the condition and location for the purpose of selling. While price paid to purchase goods that are given away for non-monetary consideration, the OMV is this purchase price but when it not a readily bought-out supply (goods or services), the cost construction method may need to be applied. Cost Accounting Standards may be relied upon to determine cost for purposes of this rule. CAS-4 enumerates various costs to be included in determining the cost of raw materials. As per the said standard, cost of material shall consist of cost of material, duties, taxes, freight inward, insurance and other expenses directly attributable to the procurement. Trade discount, rebate and similar items will be deducted in determining the cost of material. Input tax credit in any form will also be deducted. Thus, cost of acquisition will include the cost of transportation, local taxes, insurance, other expenditure like commission etc. on procurement of goods. However, determining the cost of providing of service is not that straightforward. In case of services, the major components are the cost of the employee and other administrative expenses,

Refer to the few illustrations discussed in previous sections such as warranty replacement, physician's samples, etc. Tax administration may not dispute, if valuation is not lower than 'cost plus 10%'. Although this method appears simple, it is important to note that only when it is established that the other more specific rules and the specific methods under those rules are unable to yield an acceptable value for the supply under inquiry. Only where the other methods of valuation cannot be applied, will this rule be available to apply. Where margins are not as high as 10%, suppliers may justifiably move to rule 31 but by establishing that this rule does not provide a reasonable value.

In respect of supply of services (also transactions involving goods treated as supply of services), the supplier is permitted to apply rule 31 instead of rule 30, if that were more favourable.

(e) Residual valuation (Rule 31)

Where the value cannot be determined by any other method, this rule authorizes the use of 'reasonable means to arrive at the value. It is important to consider that these reasonable means must be commensurate with the principles of section 15. This rule provides some crucial guidance on the manner of application of all other rules – any valuation method applied that is contrary to 'principle of section 15' – may not be accepted.

(f) Lottery, betting, gambling and horse racing (Rule 31A)

The debate on the taxable value of services for betting, lottery, gambling and horse racing has been put to rest by insertion of rule 31A in the CGST Rules vide notification no. 03/2018-Central Tax dated 23.01.2018. The said rule overrides all the other provisions relating to Valuation Rules. The use of the word 'shall be' implies that the value has to be necessarily determined as per the said rule. According to this rule, the valuation in respect of the following services shall be determined as follows:-

Value of Lottery: [Value shall be 100/128 of the face value of ticket or of the price as notified in the Official Gazette by the Organising State, whichever is higher. The expression "Organising State" has the same meaning as assigned to it in clause (f) of sub-rule (1) of rule 2 of the Lotteries (Regulation) Rules, 2010 which is defined to mean any State Government which conducts the lottery either in its own territory or sells its tickets in the territory of any other State.]⁵

Betting, Gambling or Horse Racing – Actionable claim in the form of chance to win in betting, gambling or horse racing in a race club shall be 100% of the face value of the bet or the amount paid to totalisator. This implies that that the value on which GST has to be paid will be the amount of bet placed or the amount paid to the totalisator instead of the commission or share of revenue of the race club.

It is interesting here to refer to Schedule III which states that actionable claim other than lottery, betting and gambling would qualify as an activity or transaction which shall be treated neither as supply of goods nor supply of services. This means that transaction in lottery, betting and gambling would for the purpose of GST law, qualify as supply. The terms 'goods' under section 2(52) includes actionable claims. 'Services' under section 2(102) has been defined to exclude goods. Accordingly, the actionable claim in the form of chance to win betting, gambling and horse racing with reference to the above definitions will be goods and not services. Business under section 2(17) is defined to include the services provided by a race club by way of a totalisator or a licence to book maker in such club. The tax rate notifications issued for goods states that 'actionable claim in the form of chance to win in betting, gambling, or horse racing in race club' is liable to tax at the rate of 28%. The rate notification issued for services also specifies that the gambling as an activity involving services and accordingly, liable to tax at 28% (refer entry No. 34(v) of Notification No. 11/2017 (Rate)).

It is also interesting to refer to the clarifications issued by TRU vide F. No. 354/107/2017-TRU dated 04.01.2018 wherein it is clarified that the actionable claim involving betting, gambling or horse racing would be a service. It is further clarified that the tax would be applicable at 28% on the total value of betting which exceeds the authority to tax since, only certain percentage of the total value of betting will be retained as commission in providing the services of betting / gambling and balance amount forms part of the prize money.

With the above ambiguities there may be some confusion whether to tax actionable claims as goods or services and the rate at which such supply should be taxed.

The above rule is as amended by the Central Goods and Services Tax (Second Amendment) Rules, 2020, w.e.f. 1-3-2020.

Prior to the amendment, the rule provided for determination in the following manner

- (i) Lottery run by State Government – Value of supply shall be 100/112 of the face value of ticket or the price as notified in the Official Gazette by the Organising State; whichever is higher. The phrase 'lottery run by State Government' is defined to mean a lottery not allowed to be sold in State other than the Organising State. 'Organising State' has the meaning assigned in rule 2(1) (f) of the Lotteries (Regulation) Rules, 2010.
- (ii) Lottery authorized by State Government - Value of supply shall be 100/128 of the face value of ticket or the price as notified in the Official Gazette by the organising State; whichever is higher. The phrase 'lottery authorized by State Government has been defined to mean a lottery which is authorized to be sold in State(s) other than the Organising State also.

It is relevant to note that the rate of GST on sale of lottery tickets run by State Government is 12% and the sale of lottery tickets which are authorized by State Government is liable to 28%. As stated in rule 31A, the face value of the lottery ticket shall be taken as inclusive of applicable taxes which is pari-materia with the provisions specified under rule 35.

(iii) Betting, Gambling or Horse Racing – Explained as above.

(g) Specific supplies (Rule 32)

Before commencement of the discussion on the provisions of rule 32, it may be pertinent to emphasize here that the determination of valuation as per the mechanism specified is only an option available to the supplier. If the supplier feels that the valuation mechanism specified under the rule 32 does not reflect the correct position or that the value adopted should be in accordance with section 15 and rules 27 to 31, he may choose to ignore the said rule 32. He may determine the value accordingly under section 15 and rules 27 to 31 as the case may be. Supplies which were previously under some form of abatement of value are found in this rule, namely:

- (i) Supply of services involving sale/purchase of foreign currency, the value of supply will be:
- (a) option (a) – difference between buying-selling rate and the reference rate published by RBI. Where reference rate is not available, 1% of gross Indian Rupee value of the transaction. And where the conversion is not into Indian Rupees, then 1% of the lesser of the Indian Rupee equivalent of each currency exchanged;
- (b) option (b) – 1% of gross amount upto ₹1 lac, 1/2% after ₹1 lac upto ₹10 lacs and 1/10% after ₹10 lacs. This option (b) once exercised cannot be withdrawn during the financial year.
- (ii) Supply of services in relation to booking of tickets for air-travel by a travel agent - The value of such supply will be 5% of basic domestic fare or 10% of basic international fare of the air ticket. As per the rule 'basic fare' means 'that part of airfare on which commission is normally paid by airline'; hence, air travel agents availing the valuation under this rule, has to pay tax only on that part of airfare on which commission is paid to them (i.e., basic fare X 5% / 10%). In this context, one need to take note that only those agents who receives commission from airline can opt for this method. In other words, this provision is applicable only in cases where airlines sell the tickets through their agents. Accordingly, the agent will be raising tax invoice as under:

Purpose	Address to -	Value	Rate of Tax
Commission	Airline	5% of basic domestic fare	18%
		10% of basic international fare

The passenger or the person booking the ticket, if registered, can claim credit of GST charged by the airlines on the air passenger transportation service if the ticket is issued by the airlines in its name. The credit of GST paid by the air travel agent on the commission received by it from the airlines, the value of which is computed as per rule 32(3), can be claimed by the airlines on the basis of the invoice issued by the air travel agent to the airlines.

- (iii) Supply of services in relation to life insurance, the value of supply will be gross premium reduced by investment allocation, in the case of single premium policy will be 10% of premium and in all other cases will be 25% of first year's premium and 12.5% for other year's premia. This rule will not apply to premium related to coverage for risk-of-life.
- (iv) Supply of services of person dealing in second-hand goods, the value of supply will be difference between purchase price and selling price. The term 'second-hand goods' refers to goods used or otherwise employed in some process without causing any change in their nature. Used goods are not the same as pre-owned goods which need not have been put to use. For example, a motor car where mark of registration has been assigned by RTO, even if left unused for long time will not be able to satisfy that it has not been used. Similarly, the odometer reading showing '0 kms' but duly registered by RTO will not override the conclusion that it is used. The most appropriate tests for identifying whether the goods have been used or not may be examined. Also, this rule does not apply only to 'supply of second-hand goods' but to supply of services of person dealing in second-hand goods. In other words, disposal of leased car will also come within the operation of this rule.

Intra-State supplies of second hand goods, by an unregistered supplier to a registered person, dealing in buying and selling of second hand goods and who pays the central tax and compensation cess on the value of outward supply of such second hand goods as determined under rule 32(5) of Central Goods and Services tax Rules, 2017, is exempted. This has been done to avoid double taxation on the outward supplies made by such registered person, since such person operating under the margin scheme cannot avail input tax credit on the purchase of second hand goods. (Notification No. 10/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated 28-Jun-17 and NN 04/2017-Compensation cess (Rate) dated 20-Jul-17)

It is important to note that registered taxable person disposing off used goods would not be able to avoid payment of tax on this outward supply. Facility under this 'margin method' is available only when the outward supply involving sale of used-goods is by an unregistered person to a registered taxable person dealing in used-goods. In the case of used-cars, the levy of tax on outward supply has completely taken the sheen off the used-car business because registered sellers cannot avail this margin-method coupled with the visibly high rates of GST plus applicable cess. However, the Government vide Notification no. 8/2018-Central Tax (Rate) dated 25.01.2018 has reduced the rate of GST to 18% and 12% on the sale of old and used motor vehicles. Further, the cess payable on sale of old and used motor vehicle has also been exempted vide Notification no. 1/2018-Compensation Cess (Rate) dated 25.01.2018. However, the major change as per the said notification was the valuation mechanism under GST. The said valuation was stated to be the margin involved i.e., the difference between the selling and purchase price. If the selling price is less than the purchase price/WDV (as the case may be), then this amount should be ignored for the purpose of GST. However, where the selling price is greater than the purchase price, only the differential margin will be taxable. In case of sale by a registered person, it has been stated that the value that needs to be taken in lieu of the purchase price will be the depreciated value of goods on the date of supply. So, the taxability arises in respect of the margin if the selling price is higher than the depreciated value of the motor vehicle,

Illustration: Mr. X, a registered person in GST had purchased a motor car on 1st June, 2016 for ₹ 10,00,000. The said car was sold on 25th February 2018 by him for:

- a) ₹ 9,00,000
- b) ₹ 7,00,000

Determine the valuation under GST

Ans: The depreciated value of the car as on 1st April 2017 is ₹ 10,00,000 – 0.15*10,00,000 = ₹ 8,50,000 (as per income tax law). If the sale value of the car is ₹ 9,00,000, ₹ 50,000 will be the value for charging GST. If the car is sold at ₹ 7,00,000, the margin will be negative and hence it should be ignored.

Proviso to rule 32(5) speaks about the repossession of goods in case of default by an unregistered borrower. In this scenario, the purchase price for the calculation of margin will be the purchase price of such goods by the defaulter. However, such purchase price will be subject to reduction of 5% every quarter or part thereof for the period between the date of purchase and the date of disposal.

Illustration: Mr. X took a car loan of ₹ 3,00,000 from ABC Bank Ltd. on 1st September 2017 which was entirely used for the purchase of car worth the same amount. Mr. X defaults on the loan balance and thereby his car is repossessed by the bank on 1st March 2018. This car is sold on 30th March 2018 by the bank for ₹ 2,50,000. Determine the valuation under GST.

Answer: The purchase value to be taken will be the purchase price in the hands of the borrower – 5% per quarter or part thereof (September – March) i.e., 3,00,000 – (5%*3*300,000) = ₹ 2,55,000. As the sale value of the car is below ₹ 2,55,000, the margin will be ignored for the charging of GST.

When such 'presumptive value' is opted for payment of tax, then it is NOT permissible for tax administrators to attempt a 'second bite at the same cherry'. That is, once tax is paid on the presumptive value, then entire supply and consideration (from all sources) in respect of that same supply is not to be taxed. For instance, travel agent who pays tax at 0.9% on domestic fare cannot be taxed again on the consideration received from (i) passenger called 'service charges' or (ii) airlines called 'commission' in monetary credits to agent's account or 'paid up tickets' at no charge to be sold for 'price' or (iii) 'share of commission' from CRS societies / companies where airlines list their inventory. Experts caution that attempts could be made to single out air-ticketing activity into these three components and restrict the 'presumptive value' only to airline commission and take a 'second bite' on all other two sources of income of travel agent. Remember, it is one supply which earns income from three sources and not three supplies. However, courts will have final say in the matter as the law in GST is precise than rule 6(7) of Service Tax Rules. But the point is that presumptive value is 'in lieu of' tax otherwise payable on the various individual courses of consideration for the supply.

- (v) Supply of voucher, the value will be the redemption value of the voucher. 'Voucher' includes coupon, stamp, token, etc. Refer to the discussion on vouchers under section 13 for the various forms that voucher can take including digital vouchers to which this rule will apply. Also, note the those instruments that are approved by RBI and included in the definition of 'money' under the expression ".....or any other instrument approved by RBI when used as a consideration to settle an obligation....." should not be treated as vouchers merely because they are popularly referred as 'vouchers'. All vouchers are not vouchers attracting this rule. Reference may be made to the discussion under section 12(4)/13(4) to identify instruments that 'are' or 'are not' vouchers.

Illustration: Mr. X had purchased a voucher for ₹ 200 which was redeemable against purchase of a wallet worth ₹ 500 from Shopping Stop. Here, the valuation that should be taken is the redemption value of ₹ 500 in respect of the voucher and not the purchase value of ₹ 200.

- (vi) Supply of services between distinct persons, that are notified by Government and where input tax credit is availed will be Nil. The implications of denial of credit u/s 17(2) in case of supply being exempt will be attracted in these cases. Care should be taken to identify that the notification to be issued in this regard are 'distinct persons' and supplies inter se when notified will have a deemed value of Nil. No notification has been issued as yet, in this regard. But it is expected that branches of banks may be notified to avail this facility where credit is fully available to the recipient-branch and even if 50% credit facility is availed by the bank, it is applicable only at the supplier-branch under section 17(4). And this expectation is borrowed from benefit to suppliers by second proviso to rule 46.

(h) Service of pure agent (Rule 33)

Agency supplies are different from 'pure agent' in relation to valuation. This rule applies only to supply of services. It provides for the exclusion from valuation of any supply of certain costs and expenses if and only if the following tests are satisfied:

- (i) The supplier acts as a pure agent of the recipient of the supply, when he makes the payment to the third party on authorisation by such recipient; the payment made by the pure agent on behalf of the recipient of supply has been separately indicated in the invoice issued by the pure agent to the recipient of service; and
- (ii) The supplies procured by the pure agent from the third party as a pure agent of recipient of supply are in addition to the services he supplies on his own account.

Explanation.- For the purposes of this rule, the expression “pure agent” means a person who-

- (a) enters into a contractual agreement with the recipient of supply to act as his pure agent to incur expenditure or costs in the course of supply of goods or services or both;
- (b) neither intends to hold nor holds any title to the goods or services or both so procured or supplied as pure agent of the recipient of supply;
- (c) does not use for his own interest such goods or services so procured; and
- (d) receives only the actual amount incurred to procure such goods or services in addition to the amount received for supply he provides on his own account.

Corporate services firm A is engaged to handle the legal work pertaining to the incorporation of Company B. Other than its service fees, A also recovers from B, registration fee and approval fee for the name of the company paid to the Registrar of Companies. The fees charged by the Registrar of Companies for the registration and approval of the name are compulsorily levied on Company B. A is merely acting as a pure agent in the payment of those fees. Therefore, A's recovery of such expenses is a disbursement and not part of the value of supply made by A to B.

Other such examples may be:

- (a) Ticket in railways is booked by a travel agent on behalf of the customer and the charges for such ticket are recovered by the agent along with the commission by showing them separately.
- (b) Customs duty, dock dues, transportation, port clearance charges etc. are paid by the customs broker on behalf of the importer and are recovered along with his commission from the importer.
- (c) Advertisement charges to the newspaper are paid by advertising agency on behalf of the customer and are recovered separately along with commission.
- (d) In an ex-factory delivery contract, if the transportation charges are paid by the supplier on behalf of the recipient and are recovered separately from the recipient along with the price of the goods.

To establish that the conditions of pure agent are getting satisfied, it is recommended that there should be a written contract between the supplier and the recipient. The clauses of the agreement should clearly point to compliance with all the conditions as discussed above with regard to pure agent. This will act as the most reasonable defence if any questions are raised by the Department later on. However, even if the contract is not in writing, it can be established by other available evidence that the conditions of pure agent are satisfied. However, any contract in writing may be considered as more persuasive in nature.

Further, in order to claim any amount as a deduction in the form of a pure agent, the dealer will have to demonstrate with substantial evidence that the liability to incur the cost was on the recipient and that the dealer has incurred such cost merely for convenience sake. Further, the dealer has to ensure that the invoice/ bill of supply/ receipt has been received in the name of the recipient, who is the ultimate beneficiary.

(i) Exchange rate to be used (Rule 34)

Transactions undertaken in foreign currency must be translated into Indian Rupees. The rate of exchange for the determination of the value of taxable goods shall be the applicable rate of exchange as notified by the Board under section 14 of the Customs Act, 1962 and for the determination of the value of taxable services shall be the applicable rate of exchange determined as per the generally accepted accounting principles for the date of time of supply in respect of such supply in terms of section 12 or, as the case may be, section 13 of the Act.

Illustrations on section 15 read with Central Goods and Services Tax Rules:

Q1. Jaya purchases a Samsung television set costing ₹ 85,000 from an electronic shop, in exchange of her existing TV set. After an hour of bargaining, the shop manager agrees to accept ₹78,000 instead of his quote of ₹81,000, as he would still be in a profitable position (the old TV can be sold for ₹8,000).

Ans. Where the price is not the sole consideration for the supply, the 'open market value' would be the value of the supply. Therefore, ₹ 85,000 would be the value of the supply.

[Section 15(4) read with rule 27(a) of Central Goods and Services Tax Rules]

Q2. Mr. X located in Manipal purchases 10,000 Hero ink pens worth ₹4,00,000 from LMP Wholesalers located in Bhopal. Mr. X's wife is an employee in LMP Wholesalers. The price of each Hero pen in the open market is ₹52. The supplier additionally charges ₹5,000 for delivering the goods to the recipient's place of business.

Ans. Mr. X and LMP Wholesalers would not be treated as related persons merely because the spouse of the recipient is an employee of the supplier, although such spouse and the supplier would be treated as related persons. Therefore, the transaction value will be accepted as the value of the supply. The transaction value includes incidental expenses incurred by the supplier in respect of the supply up to the time of delivery of goods to the recipient. This means, the transaction value will be: ₹4,05,000 (i.e., 4,00,000 + 5,000).

Q3. Sriram Textiles is a registered person in Hyderabad. A particular variety of clothing has been categorised as non-moving stock, costing ₹5,00,000. None of the customers were willing to buy these clothes in spite of giving big discounts on them, for the reason that the design was too experimental. After months, Sriram Textiles was able to sell this stock on an online website to another retailer located in Meghalaya for ₹2,50,000, on the condition that the retailer would put up a poster of Sriram Textiles in all their retail outlets in the State.

Ans. The supplier and recipient are not related persons. Although a condition is imposed on the recipient on effecting the sale, such a condition has no bearing on the contract price. This is a case of distress sale, and in such a case, it cannot be said that the supply is lacking 'sole consideration'. Therefore, the price of ₹2,50,000 will be accepted as value of supply.

[Section 15(4) read with rule 27(d) and rule 31 of Central Goods and Services Tax Rules]

Q4. Rajguru Industries stock transfers 1,00,000 units (costing ₹10,00,000) requiring further processing before sale, from Bijapur in Karnataka to its Nagpur branch in Maharashtra. The Nagpur branch, apart from processing units of its own, engages in processing of similar units by other persons who supply the same variety of goods, and thereafter sells these processed goods to wholesalers. There are no other factories in the neighbouring area which are engaged in the same business as that of its Nagpur unit. Goods of the same kind and quality are supplied in lots of 1,00,000 units each time, by another manufacturer located in Nagpur. The price of such goods is ₹9,70,000.

Ans. In case of transfer of goods between two registered units of the same person (having the same PAN), the transaction will be treated as a supply even if the transfer is made without consideration, as such persons will be treated as 'distinct persons' under the GST law. The value of the supply would be the open market value of such supply. If this value cannot be determined, the value shall be the value of supply of goods of like kind and quality. In this case, although goods of like kind and quality are available, the same may not be accepted as the 'like goods' in this case would be less expensive given that the transportation costs would be lower. Therefore, the value of the supply would be taken at 110% of the cost, i.e., ₹ 11,00,000 (i.e., 110% * 10,00,000).

However, if the Nagpur branch is eligible for full input tax credit, the value declared in the invoice will be deemed to be the open market value of the goods in terms of 2nd proviso of rule 28.

[Section 15(4) read with rules 28(b) & (c) and 30 of Central Goods and Services Tax Rules]

Q5. M/s. Monalisa Painters owned by Ved is popularly known for painting the interiors of banquet halls. M/s. Starry Night Painters (also owned by Ved) is engaged in painting machinery equipment. A factory contacts M/s. Monalisa Painters for painting its machinery to keep it free from corrosion, for a fee of ₹1,50,000. M/s. Monalisa Painters sub-contracts the work to M/s. Starry Night Painters for ₹1,00,000, and ensures supervision of the work performed by them. Generally, M/s. Starry Night Painters charges a fixed sum of ₹1,000 per hour to its clients; it spends 120 hours on this project.

Ans. Since M/s. Monalisa Painters and M/s. Starry Night Painters are controlled by Mr. Ved, the two businesses will be treated as related persons. Therefore, ₹1,00,000 being the sub-contract price will not be accepted as transaction value. The value of the service would be the open market value being ₹ 1,20,000 (i.e., ₹ 1,000 per hour * 120 hours)*.

Note: This view is based on the grounds that there are no comparables to this supply.

However, if M/s. Starry Nights is eligible for full input tax credit, the value declared in the invoice shall be deemed to be the open market value of services i.e., ₹ 1,00,000/-

[Section 15(4) read with rule 28(a) of Central Goods and Services Tax Rules]

- Q6. Prestige Appliances Ltd. (Bangalore) has 10 agents located across the State of Karnataka (except Bangalore). The stock of chimneys is dispatched on just-in-time basis from Prestige Appliances Ltd. to the locations of the agents, based on receipt of orders from various dealers, on a weekly basis. Prestige Appliances Ltd. is also engaged in the wholesale supply of chimneys in Bangalore. An agent places an order for dispatch of 30 chimneys on 22-Sep-2017. Prestige had sold 30 chimneys to a retailer in Bangalore on 18-Sep-2017 for ₹ 2,80,000. The agent effects the sale of the 30 units to a dealer who would affect the sales on MRP basis (i.e., @ ₹10,000/unit).

- Ans. The law deems the supplies between the principal and agent to be supplies for the purpose of GST. Therefore, the transfer of goods by the principal (Prestige) to its agent for him to effect sales on behalf of the principal would be deemed to be a supply although made without consideration. The value would be either the open market value, or 90% of the price charged by the recipient of the intended supply to its customers, at the option of the supplier. Thus, the value of the supply by Prestige to its agent would be either ₹ 2,80,000, or 2,70,000 (i.e., $90\% \times 10,000 \times 30$), based on the option chosen by Prestige.

[Section 15(5) read with rule 29(a) of Central Goods and Services Tax Rules]

- Q7. Mr. & Mrs. XYZ purchase 10 gift vouchers for ₹ 500 each from Crossword, and 5 vouchers from Four Fountains Spa costing ₹ 1,000 each and gives them as return gifts to children and their parents for their son's birthday party. The vouchers from Four Fountains Spa had a special offer for couples – services for both persons at the price chargeable to one.

- Ans. The value of the supply would be the money value of the goods redeemable against the voucher. Thus, in case of vouchers from Crossword, the value would be ₹ 5,000 (i.e., $₹500 \times 10$) and the value of vouchers in case of Four Fountains Spa would be ₹ 10,000 (i.e., $₹ 1,000 \times 2 \times 5$).

[Section 15(5) read with rule 32(6) of Central Goods and Services Tax Rules]

- Q8. For a rented company accommodation, the rent received by the landlord is ₹ 30,000 per month. As per the rent agreement the building maintenance to the tune of ₹ 3,000 per month is required to be paid by the landlord. In the month of April 2018, the tenant directly pays the building maintenance to the residential society and deducts the said amount from the total consideration of ₹ 30,000 and paid ₹ 27,000 to the landlord. Further, the tenant discharge municipal taxes of ₹ 2,000 in April 2018. Find the taxable value in the month of April 2018?

- Ans. ₹ 3,000 represents the amount liable to be discharged by the landlord which has been paid by the tenant. Therefore, ₹ 3,000 will be added to the actual price paid or payable of ₹ 27000 for the purpose of valuation. ₹ 2,000 will also be added to the taxable value as it is in the form of taxes, duties, cesses, fees and charges levied under the law. So, the total taxable value will be ₹ 32,000.

15.3. Comparative Review

Valuation Rules in Customs, Central Excise and Service Tax have been tested for applicability in various circumstances. All that experience and judicial interpretation may be brought to provide a good understanding of the words used in these Rules and the purpose for such usage. They are:

- Customs Valuation (Determination of Price of Imported Goods) Rules, 2007
- Customs Valuation (Determination of Price of Export Goods) Rules, 2007
- Central Excise Valuation (Determination of Price of Excisable Goods) Rules, 2000
- Central Excise (Determination of Retail Sale Price of Excisable Goods) Rules, 2008
- Service Tax (Determination of Value) Rules, 2006

15.4. Issues and concerns

1. There appears to be concerns over the taxability of actionable claims in the form of betting, gambling and horse racing as goods or services. The definition of goods specifically states that the actionable claims would qualify as goods for the purpose of GST law. That being the case, it seems appropriate to conclude that the actionable claim are goods and accordingly, the applicable rate of tax should be ascertained. This is based on the understanding that the notifications cannot overrule what is specified under the law.
2. A taxable person should be cautious in case of supply of services where the consideration is in kind by way of receipt of other services. In such cases, it may appear that the services are supplied without consideration. However, it could result in barter which would qualify as barter.
3. The common expenses incurred by a taxable person in relation to procurement of services used by the branches located in another States, the allocation of such expenses to respective branches may qualify as supply of services. There appears to be an ambiguity on ascertaining the time of supply – whether, at the end of each month such taxable person should arrive at the cost to be allocated to respective branches and remit the tax accordingly or should arrive at the cost to be allocated at the end of the year and remit the tax on the expenses allocated to branch for the whole year.
4. The discount after effecting the taxable supplies should be issued by way of credit notes. Section 34(2) states that the discounts should be issued before the end of September following the end of the financial year or the date of furnishing the annual return. This necessarily means that discount can be issued to the recipient after the supplies are effected but not after the lapse of time period specified under section 34(2).

5. Every transaction seems to be covered by 'consideration'. It is important to carefully understand the benefits, rewards and gratuitous contributions that do not amount to consideration under the contract law (see sections 25 and 70 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872).

16.1 Introduction

Chapter V of the CGST Act deals with input tax credit. The credit of taxes paid on inputs, capital goods or input services against the output tax payable, forms the cornerstone in a GST regime. GST can be understood as a system of value-added tax on goods and/ or services. It is these provisions on input tax credit that make GST a value-added tax i.e., collection of tax at all points in the supply chain after allowing for credit of taxes paid on inputs/input services and capital goods. The invoice method of value-added taxation has been followed in the GST regime too, viz., the tax paid at the time of receipt of goods or services or both would be eligible for set-off against the tax payable on supply of goods or services or both, based on the invoices with a special emphasis on actual payment of tax by the supplier. The procedures and restrictions laid down in these provisions are important to make sure that there is a seamless flow of credit in the whole scheme of taxation without any misuse.

16.2 Analysis

(i) Relevant definitions:

- (a) Taxable person under section 2(107) means a person who is registered or liable to be registered under section 22 or section 24. As such, the liability to pay tax devolves on every 'taxable person' whether or not registration has been sought. But a careful reading of the input tax credit provisions makes it clear that input tax credit would be available only to a 'registered person' and to a limited extent pre-registration credit is available under section 18(1) (discussed later). Omission to obtain registration or cancellation of registration, results in forfeiture of input tax credit that may have otherwise been available, but demand for output tax remains, whether the person is registered or not.

NOTE:

The difference between ‘taxable person’ and ‘registered person’ is important – these are two dissimilar phrases intentionally used in the law – and credit is allowed under section 16(1) only to a ‘registered person’ whereas under section 9(1) tax levied is payable by every ‘taxable person’ implying that the liability subsists even if not registered but credit is available only if registered.

- (b) Input tax credit means the credit of “input tax” in terms of section 2(63).
- (c) Input tax in terms of section 2(62) in relation to a registered person, means the Central tax, State tax, integrated tax or Union Territory tax charged on any supply of goods or services or both made to him and includes:
- integrated goods and service tax (IGST) charged on import of goods.
 - tax payable on reverse charge basis under IGST Act/SGST Act/CGST Act/UTGST Act.

but excludes the tax paid as a composition levy.

Sections 9(3) and 9(4) of the CGST Act [similarly sections 5(3) and 5(4) of the IGST Act] levies tax on goods or services or both on reverse charge.

Therefore, ‘input tax credit’ is the tax paid by a registered person under the Act whether as a forward charge or reverse charge for the use in the course or furtherance of his business. It is interesting to note that in the definition of “input tax credit”, (i) transition credit is not included because transition credit is not tax paid under GST law but (ii) IGST paid on import of goods is included because IGST on imported goods is additional duty of customs equivalent to GST applicable on domestic goods.

- (d) Electronic credit ledger: The input tax credit as self-assessed in the return of registered person shall be credited to electronic credit ledger in accordance with section 41, to be maintained in the manner as may be prescribed. [section 2(46) read with section 49(2)]. Credit in electronic credit ledger is ‘provisional’ because there are (i) pre-conditions to avail input tax credit (discussed later) and (ii) post-conditions which need to be complied after input tax credit is availed.
- (e) Capital goods means goods, the value of which is capitalised in the books of account of the person claiming the input tax credit and which are used or intended to be used in the course or furtherance of business [Section 2(19)]. It is important to note that Accounting Standard 10 permits capitalization of even ‘services’ when it is expected that the future economic benefits associated with it will flow to the enterprise and the asset has a cost or value that can be measured reliably. Thus, it can be inferred that:
- economic benefit is expected to be derived from the asset

- an asset is expected to be available for use by an entity for a long period of time, say, more than a year
- cost of asset can be ascertained in monetary terms.

Services which are capitalized, as per AS10, will continue to be 'input services'. GST law only admits 'goods' to be capital goods and the treatment prescribed in respect of 'capital goods' will not apply in relation to services that are capitalized in accordance with AS10.

(f) Input in terms of section 2(59) means:

- any goods,
- other than capital goods,
- used or intended to be used by a supplier
- in the course or furtherance of business.

It is important to note that prior to 'actual use' of the inputs, there is only an expectation or intention to use the said inputs 'in the course or furtherance of business'. This is an example of a post-condition, that is, if the inputs which were intended to be used are later: (i) diverted to some non-business use or (ii) lost or destroyed such that they are not available to be so used, the post-condition is not satisfied and input tax credit availed will be liable to be reversed.

(g) Input service in terms of section 2(60) means:

- any service
- used or intended to be used by a supplier
- in the course or furtherance of business.

It is important to note that 'services' is not a verb but a noun in GST. That is, there are instances when goods which are supplied are required to be 'treated as' supply of services in terms of section 7(1A) read with Schedule II. In such cases, tax paid on such goods will also be 'input service' for the purposes of section 16. For example, software purchased or equipment lease rental under HSN 9973, will be input services.

(h) Works Contract in terms of section 2(119) means a contract for building, construction, fabrication, completion, erection, installation, fitting out, improvement, modification, repair, maintenance, renovation, alteration or commissioning of any immovable property wherein transfer of property in goods (whether as goods or in some other form) is involved in the execution of such contract.

It is important to note that 'works contracts' is not limited to civil construction although civil construction may be common under HSN 9954. The true test of works contract would be the creation of an 'immovable property' and not merely 'fixed installation'. Refer discussion under section 2(102) [i.e., definition of services] regarding the scope of 'immovable property' in the context of GST law and the principles enshrined under other substantive laws.

(ii) Section 16

- (a) Registered person to take credit: Every registered person subject to section 49 (payment of tax), shall be entitled to take credit of input tax charged on any supply of goods or services or both to him which are used or intended to be used in the course or furtherance of his business. The input tax credit is credited to the electronic credit ledger. Rule 36 of the CGST Rules provides that input tax credit can be taken on the basis of any of the following documents:
- (i) Invoice issued under section 31 by the supplier of goods or services or both.
 - (ii) Debit note issued under section 34 by a supplier of goods or services or both.
 - (iii) Bill of entry or any similar documents under Customs Act or rules made thereunder for the assessment of integrated tax on imports.
 - (iv) Invoice prepared in respect of supplies made under reverse charge basis issued under section 31(3)(f).
 - (v) Invoice or credit note issued by ISD for distribution of credit in accordance with rule 54(1) of the CGST Rules.

It is important to note the words 'input tax charged on any supply of goods or services or both to him' and 'in the course or furtherance of his business' appearing in section 16(1). The words 'him' and 'his' refers to registered (distinct) taxable person claiming input tax credit in question and not the legal entity. Hence, input tax paid in a State must not be in relation to the business of any other distinct taxable person in another State, albeit belonging to the same legal entity.

For example, a company has Branch-A which is a registered taxable person in Andhra Pradesh and conducts a conference in a hotel in Lonavla (Maharashtra) where CGST-MGST is charged by the hotel. This company also has Branch-M which is a registered taxable person in Mumbai. Now the provisions of section 16(1) operate as under :

- CGST-MGST charged by the hotel in Lonavla (Maharashtra) is 'used in the business of Branch-A' in Andhra Pradesh and not in the business of Branch-M in Mumbai.
- The hotel would not be aware of the above fact and would not resist to issue the bill in the name of Branch-M because both are branches of the same company.
- Since, CGST-MGST would be charged by the hotel, input tax credit would not be available to Branch-A as tax paid in Maharashtra is not a creditable tax in Andhra Pradesh;
- Moreover, Branch-M in Mumbai cannot justify this input tax credit as it is not 'used' in 'business' but it is 'used by another (distinct person)' in 'that other (distinct persons) business'.
- Care should be taken to verify 'whose' business each input tax credit relates to, that is, who is the exact distinct person eligible to each item of credit.

- In order to avail input tax credit, the company ought to obtain ISD registration in Maharashtra and distribute this credit entirely to Andhra Pradesh.
- Alternatively, if nexus is established between the services of the hotel and the business of Branch-M, input tax credit may be availed by Branch-M. Nexus would be established if Branch-M were to provide inter-branch supply of services to Branch-A as an alternate to registering as ISD [more on feasibility of 'interoperability of cross-charge with ISD' discussed later].

Note - Input tax credit can also be taken on the basis of revised tax invoice.

- (b) Credit in case registration is cancelled: When only a 'registered person' is entitled to take credit, registration is a pre-requisite to claim credit. And if registration once obtained is later cancelled, no further credits from the date of cancellation could be availed. Not only that, as at the date of such cancellation reversal of credits under section 29(5) would come into operation without any provision for refund of any surplus credit after such reversal too. Care must be taken to ensure that registration is not cancelled so that credits are not endangered. This aspect becomes significant while planning mergers and acquisitions (M&A) where business is transferred on a given date to another existing or new entity. In all these transactions, 'credit preservation' would be a key component in the M&A transaction structure. Credits can be irretrievably lost if there were a break in the registration of the transferor or transferee. Reference may be made to section 85 and rule 41 for detailed discussion about credit transfer in such transactions.
- (c) Credit where registration is suspended: Suspension of registration is not cancellation of registration. However, during the period of suspension, there is presumption of stoppage of business. As a result, inward supplies during suspension are not admissible as it does not augur with the fact of suspension of registration. Note that suspension may be the result of an 'application' made by the taxable person as noted from rule 21A or some other failure by taxable person. It does not lie with the taxable person to make such application for suspension of registration pending settlement of all dues to enable cancellation of registration and at the same time assert the existence (and continuation) of business by claiming credit on inward supplies. As such, where registration is suspended, credit is not admissible due to the presumption contrary to the requirement in section 16(1) that such 'taxable person' must be a 'registered person' to claim input tax credit.
- (d) Wastage of inputs in the course of production: Credit in respect of inputs that may have been wasted during the course of production of finished products does not cease to be 'used or intended to be used' in the course or furtherance of business. As such, there is no restriction to read into the language of section 16(1). In fact, the full extent of credit would be available whether the extent of wastage of inputs in the course of production of finished goods is within the normal wastage norms Unless there is a diversion of inputs (in respect of which credit has been availed), there is no embargo on taking and retaining input tax credit. Section 17(5)(h) restricts credit on “goods lost” since these can no longer be used for the purpose of business but does not provide for restriction of credits on “loss of goods” which could be a process loss inherent to the nature of product on which credit has been availed. Therefore, “goods lost” must be given a completely different meaning as compared to “loss of goods” during production / process.

Note that in-process loss occurring in the course of job work would receive different treatment. Further, where there is any (in-process) loss of inputs, credit claimed by the principal would be undisturbed provided such norms are demonstrable in trade practices.

It is interesting to note that the requirement in section 16(1) is that inward supplies must be ‘used’ in the course or furtherance of business (and where it is ‘intended to be used’ at the time of receipt of inward supplies, it must be actually used). Where there is inefficient use, that is there is a ‘loss’ of inward supplies, there is no doubt that they were ‘used’ although not very efficiently. For this reason, experts hold the view that inward supplies that are ‘actually used’ will be admissible as input tax credit and whether such use has been efficient or otherwise is beyond the reach of GST law. Reference may be had to the decision of the CESTAT in Ashok Leyland Ltd. v. CCE, Nagpur [(2004) 169 ELT 131 (Tri. Mumbai)] where inputs damaged in ‘shop stores’ were held to be ‘in process losses’ and inputs damaged in ‘raw material stores’ were held to be ‘pre-process losses’.

Where inward supplies (of goods) are ‘lost’, then section 17(5)(h) comes to block input tax credit for the reason that they are not ‘used’ in the course or furtherance of business. And this follows the ratio in Ashok Leyland’s decision that unless the inputs are ‘used’ (in the business) they will not be considered as ‘used’ and when they are ‘lost’ then, admittedly they are not ‘used’ and will fail the test in section 16(1). Refer discussion about ‘loss v. lost’ (infra).

- (e) Input-Output nexus: While CENVAT Credit Rules, allowed credit on input and input services used for manufacture of excisable goods or for rendering taxable services, the credit under GST law is available on procurements which are “used” or “intended to be used” in the course or furtherance of business. It is important to note the difference between ‘use in manufacture’ (CENVAT) versus ‘used in business’ (GST) which is a much broader terminology in GST. Actually, used must be shown even if at the time of availing credit, inward supplies were received into stock with intention to use later for stated purposes and this is referred as ‘actual end-use’ which is a post-condition to avail input tax credit [discussed later in para (k) below]. Hence, any procurement though not having any direct or immediate connection with the manufacture of finished products or rendering of outward supplies, would also qualify for input tax credit so long as it is “used or intended to be used” for the purpose of business. For e.g., stationery used in the office of Managing Director at Mumbai has no correlation with the equipment manufactured at the company’s factory in Aurangabad but the credit of tax relating to such stationery would be available since it is “used or intended to be used” for the purpose of business.

- (f) “One-to-one correlation” of credit from unrelated businesses with single GSTIN: There is a well-accepted principle in any value added tax system to inquire whether the given set of rules requires ‘one-to-one correlation’ for credit admissibility and utilization. An example may help to understand this principle better. Say, a proprietor runs a furniture trading business in Indore, Madhya Pradesh and a software services business in Jabalpur, Madhya Pradesh. If the given tax system does not permit cross-utilization of credit (validly availed) in the furniture trading business with the output liability in the software services business then, it can be said that, that tax system requires ‘one-to-one correlation’. But, if another tax system (which GST is) allows such cross-utilization, then it can be said that ‘one-to-one correlation’ is not required. Taking this principle into the furniture business, credit availed in respect of inputs (or input services or capital goods) purchased in the furniture business in Indore may be utilized for payment of output tax in the software services business in Jabalpur. As long as all credits and corresponding output tax liability are contained within one single GSTIN, such cross-utilization is freely permitted.
- (g) Setting-up of business and credit relating to pre-setup expenditure (preliminary and pre-operative) of such business: It is well known that ‘commencement of business’ is not the same as ‘commencement of entity’. An entity may be incorporated to explore business possibilities, or an entity may be incorporated to implement a business opportunity. Where expenses are incurred without a ‘business’ in existence, credit is doubtful although the underlying expenses are seemingly business-like and business-linked like rent, consultancy, travel, etc. Revenue expenditure incurred during construction of factory is not permitted to be capitalized with plant or factory building and such expenditure is treated as ‘sunk costs’. Reference may be made to decisions in Income-tax in the context of previous year (section 3), expenditure on business (section 28) and preliminary expenses (section 35D) from Kanga and Palkivala’s Commentary on Income-tax Act, to appreciate that there is a positive determination of this fact that there are ‘sunk costs’ of an entity. Experts are divided in opinion that input tax credit is not readily admissible on all expenses of an entity or person as section 16(1) very clearly refers to ‘business’ when it is ‘by a (distinct) person’. It is doubtful if expenses (representing inward supplies) which are admittedly not for the business could be allowed as credit. The principle that flows from those decisions in the context of income-tax law is that ‘business is recognized as a business only when it has achieved income generating capacity’. Income generating capacity is when the idea which is being exploited by an entity is not in the ‘exploratory phase’ where a potential business idea is being evaluated and tested. Income generating capacity is a situation when the idea is already tested and is ready to generate income. Decisions starting from Western India Vegetable Products and Tuticorin Alkali and contrasted in Bongaigaon Railway and Karnal Co-op. could be referred.
- (h) Credit involved in sunk costs of abandoned and unfructified projects: While new businesses may have certain aspects to be examined like - (i) date from when business is said to be commenced (ii) date when inputs are actually used in business, these are aspects where income-tax law appears to be more liberal than GST law. This may be explained with the following examples:

- 'A', a mineral exploration company applies for 10 sectors to search or prospect mineral deposits, discovers 8 sectors to have deposits, finalizes 6 sectors to be viable for extraction and extracts minerals only in 4 sectors. Here, it may be stated that it is the nature of this industry that in order to identify which are those 4 viable sectors to extract mineral, prospecting costs must be incurred on all 10 sectors. There are judicial pronouncements that allow expenditure in unsuccessful sectors (areas where mineral deposits were expected) as admissible deduction in arriving at the gross total income for income-tax purposes because that is the nature of the business and only by starting with all 10 sectors can the company reach those 4 viable sectors to extract deposits and generate income.
- Now, take the case of 'B' a film production company which launches 3 films and it has paid writers and purchased the scripts for all 3 films and then paid fees to directors/actors for 2 films and finds distributors for only 1 film. Now, in computing the gross total income for the film business of this production company, expenditure on film 1 and 2 are not 'used in business' against income earned from film 3. Here, expenditure incurred on film 1 and 2 may be treated as a 'loss-making ventures' to be set-off against the income from film 3 which is 'profitable venture'.

As to the correctness of the treatment in income-tax, it is a matter that turns on its unique provisions in income-tax law but for GST purposes the treatment depends on the following aspects:

- (a) Factual tests in case A and case B are not identical; in case A it is the nature of the business to 'spend on several to earn from few' and in case B, it is clear that there loss-making ventures have no contributory value to the profitable venture.
 - (b) Requirement in section 16(1) is 'actual end-use' so that there is output tax due. And where inward supplies do not result in output tax, credit is ineligible [see sections 17(2) and 17(5)(h) for explanation].
 - (c) Although there is no requirement for 'one-to-one correlation' in GST, non-use of inward supplies is not going to pass muster of 'actual end-use' for credit to be admissible. And if non-use (leading to taxable outward supplies) was not a criteria then, sections 17(2) and 17(5)(h) would be otiose. Now, without laying down any rule of a direct link between credit in GST and costs in such projects that are abandoned or unfructified, experts caution that admissibility of credit under section 16(1) cannot be free from further inquiry.
- (i) Credit involved in 'capital or debt' raising activities: There are a host of instances due to 'remoteness' of connection between taxable outward supplies and the expenditure involving GST credit. Experts caution that absence of a specific embargo in, say, section 17(5) for such cases, is reason enough to claim credit but consider that these expenditures have been riddled with controversy and contested as to whether they are 'used in business'.

- (j) Costing-pricing inter-relationship: The cost of inputs on which credit has been availed will not be included in the pricing of the product and consequently, not included in the transaction value – this may create a concern as to whether this credit is admissible or not. As explained by Supreme Court in CCE, Pune v. Dai Ichi Karkaria [(1999) 112 ELT 353], the nature of Modvat scheme is such that the cost of purchase of inputs is lowered because credit, does not immediately, directly and proportionately impact the assessable value of the finished product manufactured using the inputs.
- (k) GST credit is subject to 'conditions precedent' and 'conditions subsequent': GST law has laid down certain conditions in sections 16 to 18 of the CGST Act. Some of these conditions are 'before' claiming input tax credit, while some are 'after' claiming credit. It is true that in Eicher Motors Ltd. v. UOI [(1999) 106 ELT 3 (SC)], it was held that Modvat credit is an 'indefeasible right'. But, every 'right' becomes 'indefeasible' after it is 'vested' and not before. Rights are relevant only when they are legally recognized and by that recognition enforceable in a Court of law for infringement by others who threaten its enjoyment by the holder of those rights. If these attributes are missing, then it is not a right but a mere reward or a benefit allowed due to magnanimity of law. And by that reason, it can be taken away without reason or explanation. But lawful rights once vested become indefeasible and until they are vested, these rights are 'inchoate' (or inchoate), that is, there are not 'yet' vested. Non-fulfilment of vesting conditions operates as divesting conditions.

This makes identification of 'vesting conditions' very important. If the vesting conditions are satisfied, then the rights are vested and hence, indefeasible. As a corollary, unless the rights are vested, they remain 'inchoate' and can be taken away by operation of law. The law that can take away 'inchoate rights' may be conditions linked to vesting or prescription. Conditions linked to vesting of input tax credit in GST, can be found in section 16(2), among others. Notice that every 'taxable person' is liable to pay tax (and be compelled, in accordance with the law prescribed, to pay the tax levied) but only a 'registered person' is eligible to 'take' credit. Care must be taken of the 'effect' of these two central aspects, namely, (a) conditions linked to vesting or (b) prescription. If any of these central aspects are not satisfied, then even if credit is 'provisionally' allowed, will need to be returned back. And until 'conditions precedent' are not satisfied, credit cannot be taken and in case 'conditions subsequent' are not satisfied, credit (provisionally) taken must be paid back or returned. Following is a list of conditions linked to claim of input tax credit:

Pre-conditions		Post-conditions
Registration	16(1)	Payment to supplier within 180 days	Rule 37
Filing of Form GSTR - 1 by supplier (to enable it to appear in Form GSTR - 2B to recipient)	16(2)(aa)*	Actual end-use in making taxable outward supplies which are not (i) exempt under Notification No. 11/2017-CT(R), dt.28.06.2017 or (ii) treated to be exempt by conditions in tariff notifications [see expln. 4(iv) to Notification No. 12/2017-CT (R), dt. 28.06.2017]]	17(1), 17(2), 17(5)(h) and 18(4)
Possession of valid tax invoice	16(2)(a)
Delivery of goods or services (complete and effective)	16(2)(b)	Not blocked (default)	17(5)
Payment of tax by supplier	16(2)(c)	Not ineligible (special category)	Tariff conditions (Rate Notf.)
Credit shown in the return filed	16(2)(d)	Time limit to claim credit	16(4)

* (i) Corresponding amendments in State GST laws awaited.

* (ii) The new condition effective from 01.01.2022 mandates that ITC shall be eligible only if the details of the invoice or debit note has been furnished by the supplier in their Form GSTR-1 and the same has been communicated to the recipient.

Note that for amendments in CGST Act to be fully effective, corresponding provisions of SGST Act also must be amended. Same goes for Form GSTR-2B.

- (l) Time limit to avail the input tax credit: A registered person is not entitled to avail input tax credit on tax invoice/ debit notes after the due date of furnishing of the return under section 39 for the month of September of the subsequent financial year or furnishing of the relevant annual return, whichever is earlier. In fact, not only is registration a pre-requisite (see, 'registered taxable person' alone will be entitled to claim credit) but filing of return under section 39 is also a requirement. Input tax credit is a right that does not 'vest' until the last of the conditions in section 16(2) are fulfilled. Until then, this right i.e., input tax credit is inchoate (or incomplete or undeveloped) and not a vested right.

Rights that are not yet vested can lapse by limitation unless effective steps to actualize those rights are taken by the person. And once the right stands vested, it becomes indefeasible except by operation of subsequent inherent conditions. In other words, input tax credit which is a right (in law) of the taxable person is not fully mature and is not available to the taxable person until all pre-conditions (steps to realize the available rights) have been fulfilled or performed. Section 16(2) lays down these steps that can be fulfilled immediately or in course of time. Only when all these steps are fulfilled, the right that is 'available' becomes a right that could be 'availed'. After the credit is actually availed (by including in Form GSTR-3B), it will be ready for utilization without any time for utilization or any age for its expiration.

Section 18(4) provides a condition (which is informed at the time of availing credit) that credit availed will be liable to be reversed if output tax is exempt at the time of making such outward supply. Other than this situation, all credit availed (after meeting all pre-conditions and post-conditions) will be permanently and indefeasibly available as a vested right to the taxable person. Now, in a situation where the credit that is 'available' is somehow delayed and 'not taken', it would still be available but not beyond the limitation prescribed in section 16(4). Once the limitation period prescribed in section 16(4) sets in, the credit which is 'not availed' by virtue of the limitation prescribed is proper, in view of the principle of reaching finality in respect of all 'available' credits that may 'not' be intended to be availed. Experts suggest that in case of doubt, one can avail the credit and then reverse under protest with intimation to Revenue. This would ensure that the time limitation would not be the reason for not taking ITC, once clarity emerges from Courts.

Section 16(4) provides for time limit for taking credit for invoices and debit notes. Bill of entry is not mentioned in section 16(4) and hence it appears that there is no time limit for taking credit in case of bill of entry.

It would be important to note that the due date for availing credit from debit notes received is based on the date on which the debit note is issued regardless of the year in which the original supply was made. Section 34(3) says "shall issue to the recipient, one or more debit notes for supplies made in a financial year". Reference to "financial year" is qua debit note and not the qua original supply made.

Invoice	05.07.2021	Returns for the month of September 2022
Debit Note	05.03.2021 (Debit Note relates to invoice raised on 05.01.2021)	Returns for the month of September 2022

* Assumed that annual returns have been filed after the filing of the returns for the month of September

Note: The intent of law to delink the date of issuance of debit note from the date of issuance of the underlying invoice for purposes of availing input tax credit is evident in the Board Circular No. 160/16/2021-GST dated 20.09.2021, which stipulates that:

- (a) W.e.f. 01.01.2021, in case of debit notes, the date of issuance of debit note (not the date of underlying invoice) shall determine the relevant financial year for the purpose of section 16(4) of the CGST Act.
- (b) The availment of ITC on debit notes in respect of amended provision shall be applicable from 01.01.2021. Accordingly, for availment of ITC on or after 01.01.2021, in respect of debit notes issued either prior to or after 01.01.2021, the eligibility for availment of ITC will be governed by the amended provision of section 16(4), whereas any ITC availed prior to 01.01.2021, in respect of debit notes, shall be governed under the provisions of section 16(4), as it existed before the said amendment on 01.01.2021.
- (m) Time limit 'limitation' or 'prescription': Although the time limit prescribed in section 16(4) or even section 18(2) for that matter, has been referred to as 'limitation' (in the above discussions), care must be taken to note the difference between 'limitation' and 'prescription'. "Limitation is when a right continues but is no longer enforceable after lapse of certain time". For e.g., input tax credit taken by the exporter in case of zero-rated supplies, the exporter is eligible to claim refund. If the refund claim is not filed within two years from the relevant date, the refund gets barred. This does not mean the credit is liable to be reversed. It will continue and may be utilized to pay any output tax by the same exporter. Here, the two-year time limit to claim refund (on zero-rated supplies made) is a limitation. Note that the right (input tax credit) remains but it is no longer enforceable (even though the condition of making zero-rated supplies is met) to receive the refund." Prescription is when the right itself vanishes after lapse of specified time". For e.g., 'right' to input tax credit (that has clearly satisfied all vesting conditions) itself vanishes by lapse of this time limit specified in section 16(4).
- (n) Deemed receipt of goods: Section 16 permits a registered person to avail credit only after he has received the said goods or services or both. However, in case of bill to-ship to transactions (including where such goods are sent for job work), by which the registered person instructs his supplier to ship the goods to another person on his behalf, the date of receipt of goods by such other person shall be deemed to be the date of receipt of goods by the said registered person.

Therefore, what exactly does 'received, mean in this context? Does it refer to actual receipt of goods at factory premises or even constructive receipt of goods would suffice? Broadly, receipt of goods may be said to be complete when goods have been supplied as per the recipient's instructions and the supplier is discharged from any further liability on such goods. The delivery must be complete in all respects to the utmost satisfaction of the recipient. The point of acceptance in cases of pre-requisite of quality control may have to be clear.

For example, when goods imported by a registered person are supplied directly to his customers in India from the port without bringing such imported goods (physically) to his factory premises, the importer would still be entitled to ITC of IGST paid on imported goods although such goods were never received at his factory premises, provided that all the import formalities are fulfilled

The bill -to ship -to model is applicable in case of services also. However, note that this fiction for delivery of goods or services is not an attempt at encroaching upon the place of supply provisions of IGST Act but merely to satisfy the conditions for taking credit in certain cases where someone else collects goods or enjoys the services.

- (o) Goods received in instalments: If goods are received in instalments against a single invoice, credit can be availed upon receipt of last instalment of the goods.

Illustration – A consignment of coal is to be dispatched from Kolkata to Mumbai using five trucks. An invoice was issued to the recipient on March 30, 2021. Four trucks reached the claimant by March 30, 2021 but the truck carrying the final lot of the consignment reached the recipient only on April 2, 2021. In this case, input tax credit for the entire consignment can be availed only in the month of April 2021.

It is important to note that, foreclosure of delivery schedule is permitted. Where goods are delivered to a certain extent and deliveries are foreclosed by the recipient of supply, it is permitted to claim credit only to the extent delivered on pro-rata basis. Foreclosure may not always be possible. This rule is specifically addressed to indivisible equipment that is delivered in parts or lots. In such cases, credit cannot be claimed on incomplete equipment stating foreclosure.

- (p) Receipt of Services: The recipient can claim credit only upon receipt of services except in a situation mentioned in the Explanation to section 16(2)(b). In the commercial world, while it is easy to demonstrate receipt of goods (by way of physical stock, e-way bill, GRN etc), services are not amenable to such proof-of-delivery due to their transient and intangible nature. Determination of actual receipt of services could be a formidable task especially when the contracting period for provision of service extends beyond a tax period but consideration is received in advance.

Explanation to section 16(2)(b) has been amended to include services. It has been stated that the registered person will be deemed to have received the services where the services are provided by the supplier to any person on direction of and on account of such registered person. Experts see that this amendment could be followed retrospectively even though the amendment does not state it to be retrospective. Reference may be had to tools of interpretation of statutes which state that substantive vested rights cannot be taken away even by an amending Act. Drafting tools like 'proviso' and 'explanation' are often used to bring about an amendment. A proviso carves out an exception to advance the object and suppress the mischief sought to be overcome by the extant law. An explanation aids in more accurately expressing the legislative intent that always was. As important as it is to understand the 'nature and scope' of amending provisions of equal importance is the 'effect' of these amendments. It is common understanding that when amendments are clarificatory, they will be retrospective, but when they are substantive, they will be prospective. Date of notification brings the amended law into the statute book but merely because amended law takes facts, that occurred previously into consideration, it does not make it an ex post facto law and come under challenge. The Supreme Court in Sundaram Pillai v. Pattabiraman [1985 AIR 582 SC] laid down some guiding principles on the effect that these drafting tools – proviso and explanation – can have on the construction of the amended law by the amendments so made. And for advancing the mischief that occurred before the explanation to section 16(2) whereby credit could have been denied even though those services are delivered 'on behalf of' the recipient, this explanation would deserve retrospective effect for being clarificatory in nature to avoid the mischief.

The person receiving any services may be different from the person who is liable to make the payment as the recipient under the law. The term 'recipient' under the GST law has been defined to mean the person liable to make the payment. However, there are multiple cases where the payment is made by a particular person, but the services are received by another person. In such a situation, the person liable to make the payment will be deemed to have received the services.

For instance, X is providing advisory services to Z for which the payment is agreed to be made by Y. In this situation, Y will be deemed to have received the services as per the new deeming fiction in the Explanation to section 16(2). Y will be allowed to avail input tax credit even though he is not in actual receipt of the services.

- (q) Failure to pay to supplier of goods or services or both, the value of supply and tax thereon: Where the recipient (of goods or services or both) has failed to pay the supplier within 180 days from date of invoice, input tax credit availed in proportion to such unpaid amount of the invoice shall be reversed by adding to recipient's output tax liability along with interest as may be applicable. On payment of the value of the invoice, amount of credit reversed may be reclaimed without any time limit as per rule 37(4). It is interesting to note that there is no other provision in GST law where credit once reversed can be reclaimed by the recipient and therefore (i) credit available must be availed within the time limit in section 16(4) and any delay beyond this time limit will result in available credit being forfeited permanently and (ii) credit once availed [within the time limit in section 16(4)] but reversed under rule 37(1) may be reclaimed under rule 37(4) and this time without any time limit to reclaim the reversed credit.

One may note that as per experts, the aforesaid condition does not apply to supplies that are liable to tax under reverse charge and supplies made without consideration as specified in Schedule I. Conspicuous by its absence within this carved out provision is, import of goods. Others advise that credit of taxes paid on reverse charge basis or IGST paid on imports must be claimed within September following the financial year when the payment was actually made even though the liability to pay may have been earlier.

While reverse charge is excluded from the condition of having to make payment within 180 days, GST paid on import of goods does not fall within the ambit of reverse charge under section 9(3) or 9(4) of the CGST Act or section 5(3) or 5(4) of IGST Act although IGST paid on import of goods is akin to reverse charge. The question that now arises is - whether there can be reverse charge liability other than that under section 9(3) and 9(4). The definition in section 2(98) does not permit such an extended application.

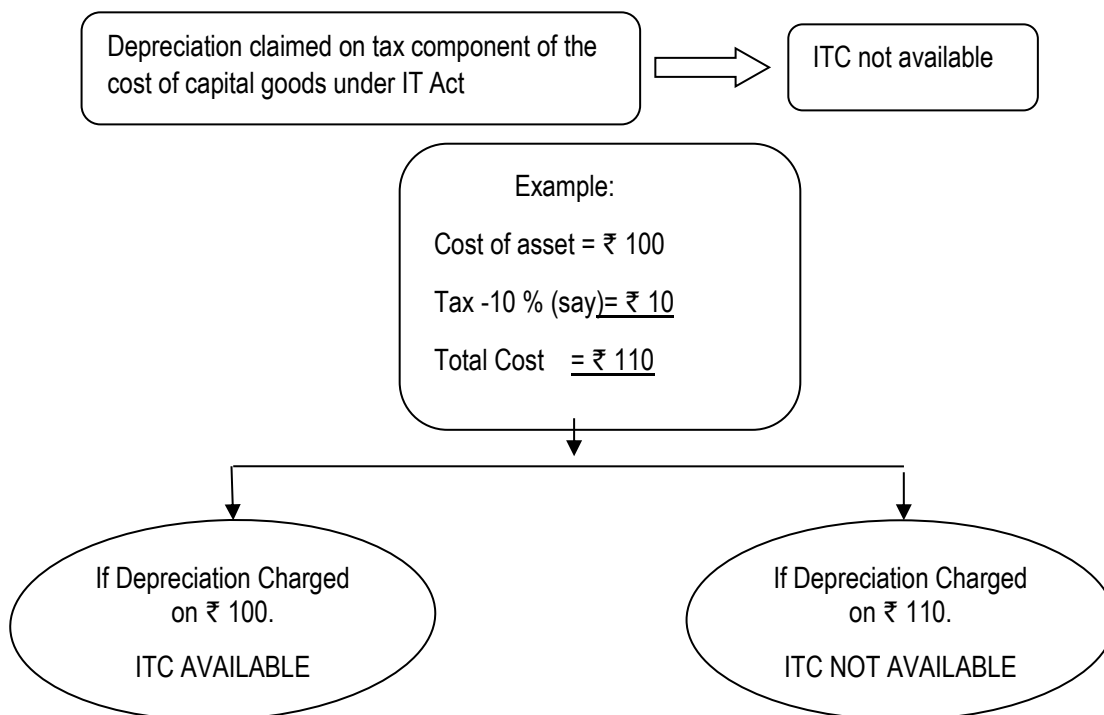

The privilege to prescribe pre-conditions for vesting of right to input tax credit belongs to section 16 and therefore, there is no other provision from where any overriding right to claim credit on goods imports may be borrowed or imputed. On the other hand, IGST paid under reverse charge on import of services is covered under section 5(3) of the IGST Act as a result of which an importer of service would be entitled to credit of IGST paid even if payment to the service provider remains unpaid beyond the said period of 180 days.

It would be relevant to note that section 15 of the CGST Act deals with valuation of supplies and provides for adjustment in the value of supply in case the price is not the sole consideration or if the transacting parties are related by recourse to the Rules. Such adjustment to the transaction price being made for only GST purposes (to arrive at the tax payable) but commercially, such amount is neither recorded in the books nor paid by the transacting parties. Hence in all such cases where additions are made to the value of supply, the recipient will not be denied input tax credit since payment is not made to the extent of such additions. CGST Rules have been amended w.e.f. June 13, 2018 to provide that in cases where consideration is in non-monetary form, whether supplies under Schedule I or even such additions to transaction price, they will be deemed to have been paid by the recipient to the supplier.

Another aspect to consider is section 63 of Indian Contract Act where consideration (payment) in respect of executed contracts may be accepted less than the originally contracted sum. Although this is contrary to the terms agreed, it is provided in Indian law for seller to accept less than originally agreed owing to the time value of money and the certainty that comes with immediate payment. When less amount is accepted in place of the amount that was due, it does not give rise to the remedy of specific relief or relief of repudiation of contract as it is already executed. Such admitted reduction in consideration is enforceable under the original contract and does not amount to amendment of original contract or substitution with new contract again for the reason that it is already executed. Now, for GST purposes it is important to note that credit note need to be issued in such instances because the value originally agreed is more than what is payable provided such credit note is issued within the time limit prescribed in section 34. However, paying less than originally agreed would attract reversal of credit (in the hands of the recipient-payer) under rule 37 and this condition is linked to credit note under section 15(3)(b)(ii) regarding reversal of corresponding amount of credit.

Capital goods on which depreciation is claimed: Input tax credit will not be allowed on the tax component of the cost of capital goods and plant and machinery if depreciation on such tax component has been claimed under the provisions of the Income -tax Act. This does not imply that credit of the cost of inputs may still be claimed as revenue expenditure. That is not true because AS 2 states that 'cost of purchase does not include taxes subsequently recoverable from a taxing authority'. Experts express the view that accounting method followed in respect of inputs cannot be deviated from accounting method in case of input services.

- (r) Unmatched credit capped at '5 per cent': Section 16(2)(c) places a burden on the recipient to claim credit 'after' tax has been deposited with the Government by the supplier. This clause operates like a 'condition precedent' to claim credit.

The Government's response to this 'impossible eventuality' is that credit cannot be given in respect of tax not received by exchequer. To balance the two sides, Government has enabled Form GSTR-1 filed by suppliers to appear in Form GSTR-2A/2B (Form GSTR-2B only from 1.01.2022) to the recipient. Though this by itself is no assurance that supplier has subsequently filed Form GSTR-3B (for the entire turnover reported in Form GSTR-1) the Government considers 'liability to tax admitted in Form GSTR-1' as a basic responsibility that must be ensured. Remember the condition precedent in section 16(2)(c) has not been amended regarding this 'matching' process. If credit appears in Form GSTR-2A/2B [Form GSTR-2B only from 1.01.2022] (by supplier filing Form GSTR-1), that will give some assurance to permit credit to the recipient. The recipient may still claim credit unilaterally without any formal credit matching by claiming bona fide credits in Form GSTR-3B.

Rule 36(4) inserted vide Notification No. 49/2019-CT, dt. 09.10.2019 applies to all returns filed after 9th October 2019, that is, to September returns as well.

This sub-rule (updated, as on date) states that (i) eligible credits appearing in Form-GSTR 2A/2B will be allowed [total credits minus ineligible credits under sections 17(2), 17(5), etc.] and (ii) additional unmatched ad hoc credit of 5 per cent of the eligible credits. From 1st January, 2022 onwards only Form 2B is to be considered and not Form GSTR -2A vide Notification No. 40/2021 – Central Tax dated 29.12.2021.

On one hand, the condition precedent in section 16(2)(c) continues to hover over the taxpayer's shoulders while on the other hand, Form GSTR-2A/2B (Form GSTR-2B only from 1.01.2022) based 'quasi matching' exercise is allowed with a 5 per cent additional relief. Trade is still relying on 'impossible eventuality' where until 8th October 2019 'all' credits were being claimed, and suddenly, this provision seeks to curtail credits of such 'quasi matched' and eligible credits. The limit was 20 per cent which was reduced to 10 per cent w.e.f. 1st January 2020 and to 5 per cent w.e.f. 1st January 2021. However, relaxations were provided while filing returns for the period February to August 2020 which will be applicable on a cumulative basis for these months while filing of return for September 2020.

Note - In terms of the procedure for Corporate debtors undergoing insolvency resolution process under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 as provided in Notification No. 11/2020-C.T., dated 21-3-2020 read with Notification No. 39/2020-C.T., dated 5.05.2020, section 16(4) and rule 36(4) will not restrict credit claim by Corporate Debtor - Resolution Professional, only in case of the first returns being filed by Resolution Professional. Hence, only one time measure was provided

- (s) Provisional credit: Section 155 makes it incumbent on the registered person to satisfy the eligibility conditions and compliances to take credit. Credit cannot be forced upon the registered persons hands by law or the authorities. If credit that could have been taken is not availed for any reason, then that credit is lost forever. Similarly, where eligibility to any exemption turns out to be inadmissible, input tax credit that could have been claimed had it been known that tax was actually payable on the outward supply, cannot be allowed if the time limit prescribed has expired. Where credit has been taken on the notion that tax is applicable on outward supply, credit so taken (and / or utilized) will be recoverable.

Decisions under CENVAT credit scheme that are popularly referred as 'revenue neutral' are unlikely to guide interpretation in GST as the incidence of tax is on every point of outward supply with credit for taxes paid on inward supplies. Reference may be made to CCE (A), Ahd v. Narayan Polyplast [(2005) 179 ELT 20 (SC)] and CCE, Vadodara v. Narmada Chematur Pharmaceuticals Ltd. [(2005) 179 ELT 276 (SC)].

In summary, among others the following facts are crucial for taking input tax credit:

- (a) The claimant should be registered under the GST law to avail the input tax credit (except for certain exceptions covered under section 18)
- (b) Goods or services must be used or intended to be used in the course or furtherance of his business.
- (c) Possession of original tax invoice/supplementary invoice/ debit note/ ISD invoice/ bill of entry and other related documents is a must.
- (d) Such tax invoice must contain all the particulars prescribed / specified in Chapter VI of the CGST Rules. It may be noted that the tax invoice or such other documents can contain additional details other than those prescribed but not less than the details required in terms of Chapter VI of the CGST Rules- 'Tax Invoice, Credit and Debit Notes'. However, this requirement has been relaxed w.e.f. September 4, 2018, by virtue of proviso to rule 36(2), inserted vide Notification No. 39/2018-C.T., dt. 4.09.2018. Registered person can avail input tax credit if the documents contain the following minimum details:
 - Amount of tax charged
 - Description of goods or services
 - Total value of supply of goods or services or both
 - GSTIN of the supplier and recipient
 - Place of supply in case of inter-State supply
- (e) Supplier of goods and/ or services must upload the details of such documents in the common portal i.e., GSTN. Subject to section 41 being claim of ITC and provisional acceptance thereof, the supplier must have remitted the tax charged on such supplies.
- (f) Vesting condition for claiming input tax credit includes filing return under section 39 and not making supply out of such inward supplies.
- (g) Claimant should have received the goods / services. Input tax credit in case of supplies in installment, would be on receipt of last installment of goods.
- (h) The law casts an obligation on the recipient of supply availing credit to effect payment to the supplier within a period of 180 days from the date of invoice. If such payment is not effected/partially effected by the recipient to the supplier, rule 37 obligates reversal/ proportionate reversal of input tax credit so availed leading to consequential levy of tax and interest.

Proviso to section 16(2) provides that the taxable person shall be entitled to avail input tax credit after making payment of the amount towards value of supply of goods or services or both along with tax payable thereon. Further, rule 37(4) provides that the time limit specified under section 16(4) shall not be applicable in case of re-credit.

- (i) Claim of depreciation on the GST component disqualifies a recipient of capital goods and plant and machinery from taking input tax credit.
- (j) ITC cannot be availed after the due date of filing the return for September month of the next financial year or on furnishing the annual return whichever is earlier.
- (k) No registered person is permitted to avail any input tax credit pursuant to an order of demand on account of fraud, willful misstatement, or suppression of fact.

Note: The last point is important as in many of the cases in a routine manner the show cause notice would invoke these mala fide intentions and if not contested, the ITC would not be available to the receiver even if otherwise eligible.

16.3 Issues and Concerns

- (i) A consignment of coal is to be dispatched from Kolkata to Mumbai through five trucks for which the invoice was sent along with the first truck. Four trucks reached the claimant by March 30, 2021 but the truck carrying the final lot of the consignment fell down a gorge and the consignment was never received. Would this deny the input tax credit that should otherwise have been available on coal received on the first four lots? The answer is 'No'. Once the supply is complete, credit is admissible to the extent of quantity received if the remainder of the quantity would not be replenished by the supplier.
- (ii) Section 16 allows a recipient of supply to avail credit only when he has received the goods or services or both. For example, in an annual maintenance contract entered into on 1st November 2020, the supplier is under an obligation to render services arising over a period of 12 months (ending 31st October, 2021) but in respect of which an invoice is raised and consideration is received on the date of entering into the agreement i.e., 1st November 2020. In such cases, input tax credit contained in the said invoice is left hanging in the balance considering the fact that input tax credit in respect of an invoice received during the year cannot be claimed after the due date for filing the return for the month of September of the succeeding year. In the given case, the receipt of service is said to be completed (i.e., AMC period ends) on 31st October, 2021, while the time limit for claiming credit is 20th October, 2021. Possible solution to overcome this situation could be to convert the AMC into monthly / quarterly maintenance contracts, if agreeable to the supplier. Alternatively, could it be interpreted that an AMC, is primarily an assurance which is received on the date of entering into the AMC and what follows is only a continuing obligation of the supplier and hence the service may be deemed to have been received on the date of commencement of the AMC. The above issue also arises in case of an insurance contract. It is possible for one to interpret or read down the law in such cases since every business operates on a concept of going concern. These issues would most certainly be put to test in times to come.

- (iii) In the case of a recipient who has reversed credit on account of non-payment of consideration within 180 days, can he avail credit in instalments as and when the payment is made to the supplier or should he reclaim the credit only when the entire amount including taxes has been paid to the supplier. Given that the third proviso to section 16(2)(d) allows availing of credit on payment of 'the amount towards the value of supply of goods or services or both' and not 'an amount', reading strictly it may be construed that the entire amount would have to be paid for availing of credit earlier reversed. Consideration paid in non-monetary form is also a consideration and for the scheme to work one needs to read the provisions harmoniously. It is a common practice that some deductions are there in the invoice without GST being deducted. Then can it be said that the whole consideration has not been paid and the credit denied until the whole amount with taxes are paid? The credit should be available for value deductions by customer without impacting the GST as well as non-monetary payments.

16.4 Comparative review

Aspect	Credit under erstwhile system	Input tax credit under GST
Definition of "capital goods"	Defined in CENVAT Credit Rules	Comparatively wider definition.
Definition of "input"	Defined in CENVAT Credit Rules having inclusion and exclusion limbs.	Exhaustive definition and does not contain inclusion or exclusion limb.
Definition of "input services"	Defined in CENVAT Credit Rules which has inclusion and exclusion limb.	Exhaustive definition and does not contain inclusion or exclusion limb.
Electronic credit ledger	Similar to CENVAT credit register maintained in Form RG23A	Electronic credit ledger required to be maintained for crediting and utilising input tax credit

While CENVAT Credit Rules identified three components for taking credit, namely input, input services and capital goods, the GST law allows input tax credit on goods and services with goods being further classified into inputs and capital goods.

Extract of the CGST Rules38. Claim of credit by a banking company or a financial institution.

A banking company or a financial institution, including a non-banking financial company, engaged in the supply of services by way of accepting deposits or extending loans or advances that chooses not to comply with the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 17, in accordance with the option permitted under sub-section (4) of that section, shall follow the following procedure, namely,-

- (a) the said company or institution shall not avail the credit of-
 - (i) the tax paid on inputs and input services that are used for non-business purposes; and
 - (ii) the credit attributable to the supplies specified in sub-section (5) of section 17, in Form GSTR-2;
- (b) the said company or institution shall avail the credit of tax paid on inputs and input services referred to in the second proviso to sub-section (4) of section 17 and not covered under clause (a);
- (c) fifty per cent. of the remaining amount of input tax shall be the input tax credit admissible to the company or the institution and shall be furnished in Form GSTR- 2;
- (d) the amount referred to in clauses (b) and (c) shall, subject to the provisions of sections 41, 42 and 43, be credited to the electronic credit ledger of the said company or the institution.

42. Manner of determination of input tax credit in respect of inputs or input services and reversal thereof

(1) The input tax credit in respect of inputs or input services, which attract the provisions of sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) of section 17, being partly used for the purposes of business and partly for other purposes, or partly used for effecting taxable supplies including zero rated supplies and partly for effecting exempt supplies, shall be attributed to the purposes of business or for effecting taxable supplies in the following manner, namely,-

- (a) the total input tax involved on inputs and input services in a tax period, be denoted as 'T';
- (b) the amount of input tax, out of 'T', attributable to inputs and input services intended to be used exclusively for the purposes other than business, be denoted as 'T₁';
- (c) the amount of input tax, out of 'T', attributable to inputs and input services intended to be used exclusively for effecting exempt supplies, be denoted as 'T₂';
- (d) the amount of input tax, out of 'T', in respect of inputs and input services on which credit is not available under sub-section (5) of section 17, be denoted as 'T₃';
- (e) the amount of input tax credit credited to the electronic credit ledger of registered person, be denoted as 'C₁' and calculated as-

$$C_1 = T - (T_1 + T_2 + T_3);$$

- (f) the amount of input tax credit attributable to inputs and input services intended to be used exclusively for effecting supplies other than exempted but including zero rated supplies, be denoted as 'T₄';

¹⁷[Explanation: For the purpose of this clause, It is hereby clarified that in case of supply of services covered by clause (b) of Paragraph 5 of Schedule-II of the said Act value of T₄ shall be zero during the construction phase because inputs and input services will be commonly used for the construction of apartments booked on or before the date of issuance of completion certificate or first occupation of the project, whichever is earlier, and those which are not booked by the said date].

- (g) 'T₁', 'T₂', 'T₃' and 'T₄' shall be determined and declared by the registered person at the invoice level in Form GSTR-2¹⁸ [and at summary level in Form GSTR-3B];
- (h) input tax credit left after attribution of input tax credit under clause ¹⁹[(f)] shall be called common credit, be denoted as 'C₂' and calculated as:

$$C_2 = C_1 - T_4;$$

- (i) the amount of input tax credit attributable towards exempt supplies be denoted as 'D₁' and calculated as

$$D_1 = (E \div F) \times C_2$$

where,

'E' is the aggregate value of exempt supplies during the tax period, and

'F' is the total turnover in the State of the registered person during the tax period:

²⁰[Provided that in case of supply of services covered by clause (b) of paragraph 5 of Schedule II of the Act, the value of 'E/F' for a tax period shall be calculated for each project separately, taking value of E and F as under:-

E= aggregate carpet area of each apartments, construction of which is exempt from tax, but are identified by the promoter to be sold after the issue of completion certificate or first occupation, whichever is earlier;

F=aggregate carpet area of apartments in the project;

Explanation 1: In the tax period in which the issuance of completion certificate or first occupation of the project takes place, value of E shall also include aggregate carpet area of the apartments, which have not been booked till date of issuance of completion certificate or first occupation of the project, whichever is earlier

Explanation 2: Carpet area of apartments, tax on construction of which is paid or payable at the rates specified of items (i), (ia), (ib), (ic) or (id), against serial

17.1 Introduction

The input tax credit eligibility is based on the fact as to whether the goods or services or both are used for taxable supplies or exempt supplies. Where the goods or services or both are used for both taxable and exempt supplies, only proportionate credit is allowed to a registered person. Further, this section lists out the supplies that are ineligible for input tax credit.

17.2 Analysis

A. Proportionate credit:

ITC based on usage in business

B. Definition of 'exempt supply'

It is interesting to note that although an exempt supply is defined in section 2(47), section 17(3) read with explanation (2) to rule 45, for the purposes of input tax credit reversal includes the following transactions as well:

- tax paid under reverse charge
- transaction in securities
- sale of land and subject to clause (b) of Paragraph 5 of Schedule II, sale of building.

Thus, in a way, exempt supply for the purpose of section 17(3) means all such transactions that come within the sweep and ambit of section 2(47) and such other transactions listed in section 17(3) – Is this permissible under law?

Note that the value of supplies in respect of which the outward supplier is not liable to pay tax but the recipient is made liable to pay tax under sections 9(3) and 5(3) of the CGST and IGST Act respectively, would be regarded as 'exempt supplies' for the limited purpose of determining the net available input tax credit. Doubts have been raised whether such supplies should be included as exempt supplies by the recipient who pays the tax under reverse charge. In this context, it would be relevant to note that section 17(3) identifies supplies attracting reverse charge to be exempt supplies in the hands of the supplier effecting such supplies and not in the hands of the recipient who avails such services liable under reverse charge.

Explanation added to section 17(3) is an important amendment to allow taxpayer to avail full credit even if they are not paying GST if the activities or transactions are mentioned in Schedule III except sale of land and completed building. As such, it is important to note that transactions listed in Schedule III are “not supplies” and hence they are neither ‘exempt supplies’ nor are they ‘non-taxable supplies’.

For instance, sale of goods on high seas or merchant trading transactions will not entail any reversal of input tax credit as they are covered under Schedule III after the amendment.

The CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018

[Read with Notification No. 2/2019-C.T., dt. 29.01.2019]

An Explanation has been added to section 17(3) to provide that value of exempt supplies shall not include transactions listed under Schedule III (transactions which are treated “neither as a supply of goods nor a supply of services”) except sale of land and completed building. Thus, no credit would be required to be reversed for engaging in transactions referred under Schedule III though no GST is paid on such transactions.

The above Explanation also cover two new entries which have been added to the said Schedule – supply of warehoused goods before clearance for home consumption and supply of goods from one non-taxable territory to another without the goods entering India. No reversal of credit would be required for engaging in these transactions. Experts hold the view that saving from reversal of credit was a treatment that all entries in Schedule III qualify for. And the fact that these supplies (high sea sales and in-bond sales) have been inserted in Schedule III and not included as exemption under section 11 makes it clear that reversal of credit is not to be followed from inception of GST in July 2017. Courts would finally decide this matter but taxpayers at the risk of interest demand, need to take a provisional view whether to retain credit or reverse credit on these ‘no supply’ transactions.

C. Reversal of credit

1) Reversal of credit based on ‘condition of end-use’ – inputs and input services

Input tax credit is admissible based on certain conditions (refer discussion on ‘vesting conditions’ for input tax credit under section 16 which comprises of precedent conditions or subsequent conditions). Registered persons are responsible for meeting all requirements to correctly claim input tax credit as per section 155. Now, when goods (inputs or capital goods) are received, credit of input tax paid is eligible subject to accepting and agreeing to meet all the associated conditions. But when these goods are not used as accepted and agreed (at the time of taking credit), for whatever reason, then credit availed ought not to have been availed and becomes liable for reversal.

Now, let us examine two provisions dealing with the disqualification that arises after having admitted that credit taken would meet all the associated conditions:

Description	Section 17(1)	Section 17(2)
Goods or services received	Both	Both
Intended to be used in the course or furtherance of business	Yes	Yes
Actual use	Non-business	Business
Outward supply is 'actually' taxed	N.A.	No
Outward supply is 'non-supply'	N.A.	Yes

From the above table, it is evident that at the time of taking credit, there must be 'intention' to use the goods or services for purposes of 'business' but subsequently there may be changes due to some new development or supervening inconvenience arising later. But, if at the time of taking input tax credit itself there was no such 'intention', then taking credit is more inculpatory than the change (of intention) arising later.

In either case, after taking credit, if the goods or services are:

- (a) not used for business purposes, then section 17(1) comes into operation demanding reversal of credit on both, goods and services. Whether the goods or services were actually used for business purposes or not may be ascertained from - (i) nature of the goods or services itself or (ii) working backwards from non-business 'output' activities of the registered person and then identifying 'input' goods or services that would have been used or involved in such non-business activities. Where any goods or services are used in such non-business activities, then the whole of the credit is straight away liable to be reversed;
- (b) used for making outward supplies that are not taxed, then section 17(2) comes into operation seeking reversal of credit on both, goods and services based on a formula prescribed in rule 42 (for inputs and input services) and rule 43 (for capital goods). Exempt supply is defined in section 2(47) but for the limited purposes of section 17(2), section 17(3) provides a special definition of 'exempt supply'. Consider the table below for the description of 'specially exempt supply' and its key differences with the general definition of 'exempt supply':

Description and sub-description of outward supplies			Specially 'exempt supply'	Normal 'exempt supply'
Leviable to GST	Tax applicable	Zero-rated	x	x
		Domestic	Rate with credit	x	x
			Rate without credit*	✓	x
	Tax exempted	Zero-rated	x	x
		Domestic	(upto 31 Jan 2019)	x	x
			Interest on loans given (from 23 Jan 2018)	x	x
			Goods transport by vessel from Indian port (outbound)	x	x
			All others	✓	✓
	Non- leviable to GST	Zero-rated	x	✓
		Domestic	✓	✓
No supply (Sch III)	Sale of land or sale of (completed) building (para 5)	✓	x
	Supply of all other (listed in Sch III)	x	x
Securities (neither 'goods' nor 'services')			✓	x
Supplies liable to payment of output tax on RCM basis			✓	x
Central excise duty paid under Entries 84 and 92-A			x	✓
State excise duty paid under Entry 54			x	✓
VAT paid under Entry 51			x	✓
CGST, SGST, IGST and Cess paid			x	x

* Notification No.11/2017-CT(R), dt. 28.06.2017 specifies at para 4(iv)(b) that where the rate of GST is prescribed (and not '0 per cent' or 'nil') for services with a condition that input tax credit will not be allowed, then such supplies are to be considered as 'exempt supply' for the purposes of section 17(2) and where they are (a) wholly used for such supplies taxable at a 'rate without credit', then the entire credit will not be allowed and (b) partly used for such supplies taxable as a 'rate without credit', then such credit to be treated under section 17(2).

 Export of services to Nepal and Bhutan against payment in Indian Rupees was excluded from credit reversal but after amendment of definition of export of services to conditionally relax repatriation in INR the same has been deleted from this special relaxation as no longer required since the relief is available in the law itself.

The above table gives a good view of the specialty exempt supplies prescribed for the purposes of credit reversal. Now, let us examine the nature of reversal of credit that is prescribed.

- a) Credit review for reversal is required to be carried out monthly (provisional) and annually (final) for inputs and input services and only monthly (final) for capital goods.
- b) Total credit 'taken' in a month comes in for this review and not total credit 'eligible'. Hence, it seems like one can defer claiming credit where the extent of reversal required (by rule 42) is higher in one month than in another month. But note that credit in respect of inputs and input services is required to be revised annually. It may not be possible after all to adjust the credit-data to optimize on reversals.
- c) Credit related to Schedule III supplies must always be allowed and cannot come in for any reversal for the reasons that (a) items listed in Schedule III are 'no supply' and (b) the explanation inserted in section 17(3) expressly states this with the only exception of para 5 of Schedule III. Although this explanation was inserted from 1st February 2019, as per decision in Sundaram Pillai v. Pattabiraman [1985 AIR 582 SC], the date of coming into effect of 'explanation' and 'proviso' inserted in a legislation must be examined from the context.
- d) The purpose of this exercise is to identify 'common credits' that are used for (a) taxable and credit admissible outward supplies and (b) taxable but credit not admissible and exempt outward supplies and those liable to reverse charge. Merely because inward supplies 'appear' to be common it does not mean they must be common, and their credits be subject to treatment under this rule. Experts are of the view that the requirement in this rule is to exclude credits that are directly related to various end-uses (discussed in detail later) and then 'derive' the pool of common credits. If registered persons are able to segregate apparently common inward supplies at invoice-level (and even on analytical basis, which may be subject to challenge), then there may be (almost) 'nil' common credits. And this is permitted by way of third proviso to rule 42(1).
- e) Compliance with rule 42 is different for works contract service involving construction of apartment whether of 'ongoing' real estate project or as 'new' real estate which are taxed without input tax credit ('RE Supplies'). The treatment under this rule may be examined in the light of the supplies involved and data qualities from the records of the registered person are extremely important to be sanitized and segregated.

Non-RE Supplies

Instead of a detailed discussion running into several pages, the table below attempts to explain the operation of this rule for non-RERA supplies:

Outward supplies:		Credit on inward supplies (T)
		Wholly	Partly (C ₁) = (T-T ₁ -T ₂ -T ₃)	Ineligible (T ₃)
Non-business	✗ (T ₁)	(C ₂) (C ₁ -T ₄)	✗(D ₂) (5%×C ₂)	✗
Specially 'exempt supply' (Note 1)	✗ (T ₂)		✗(D ₁) (C ₂ × E/F)	✗
Zero-rated	✓ (T ₄)		✓ (C ₃)	✗
Domestic (other than above) (Note 2)		✗

Note 1:

Specially 'exempt supply':
	Domestic (other than zero-rated):
	Taxable but exempt u/s 11*
	Taxable without credit
	Non-taxable sale of land and sale of (completed) building
	Transaction in securities
	Supplies liable to RCM

Note 2:

Domestic (other than all of above):
	Taxable with credit
	No supply (other than para 5 of Schedule III)
	Interest on loans given
	Transport by vessel from Indian port (outbound)

From the above, it is clear that:

- First Credit will have to be identified where it is 'wholly' not allowed (T₁, T₂ and T₃).
- Remainder is credit 'wholly' allowable plus 'common credits' (C₁);
- Out of this, credit 'wholly' allowable is identified and allowed (T₄);
- From the revised remainder i.e., common credit (C₂) is re-allocated to:
 - Specially 'exempt supply' (D₁) which is a pro-rata of the revised remainder of credit in the ratio of specially 'exempt supply' by 'total turnover in the State';
 - Non-business end-use (D₂), which is a straight allocation of 5 per cent of C₂;
 - Adjusted remainder will be 'allowable' (C₃).

The above computation is required to be carried out monthly and then again at the end of the financial year (not later than Sept following end of year). No variation is expected in T₁, T₂ and T₃ in this year-end review. Variation in D₁ and D₂ are relevant and upward or downward revision is permitted. In case of upward revision (aggregate of monthly calculation is less than the amount arrived at by annual calculation), the additional amount that ought to be reversed along with interest under section 50(1) from April to September (or earlier when reversals are finally revised) after end of financial year to which such credit relates. In case of downward revision (aggregate of monthly calculation is greater than the amount arrived by annual calculation), the excess reversal may be reclaimed as credit in any month (when reversals are finally revised) but not later than the filing of returns for the month of September following end of financial year to which such credit relates.

Simply put, review of common credits in case of RE supplies is not exactly as discussed above in the context of non-RE supplies for the reason of 'timing difference' between year in which inward supplies are received and year in which related outward supplies (of apartments) are made. Having understood the computation of reversal under rule 42, following points may be noted:

- a) RE supplies do not cover all works contracts but only construction of apartments as the reference is to para 5(b) of Schedule II (i.e. construction contract) and not para 6(a) of Schedule II (i.e. works contract);
- b) Residential real estate projects are subject to CGST at the rate of 2.5 per cent plus SGST/UTGST of 2.5 per cent or IGST 5 per cent (without ITC) and hence it will be treated as exempt supplies due to the operation of explanation 4(iv)(b) to Notification No.11/2017-CT(R), dt.28.06.2017.

On the other hand real estate projects of commercial apartments do not enjoy the new rate regime and would be treated as taxable supplies.

- c) Computation of credit allowable and credit to be reversed are to be determined for each project in the month of completion when the certificate of completion is granted. Hence, until that month, all credits may be taken so as not to miss the time limit under section 16(4) and left unutilized.

Please note Reversal of credit under rule 37 attracts interest but not monthly reversal under rule 42. However, credits such as T_1 , T_2 and T_3 should not be availed. Interest liability for claim of credit (between commencement and completion of construction) is allowed only in respect of D_1 and D_2 . In case credits in the nature of T_1 , T_2 and T_3 are availed albeit innocently, this relief from interest will not be available.

- d) RE Supplies exempt from tax will comprise of the following :

Description	Ongoing Project	New Project
Exempt supplies	Apartments sold after date of OC/CC and hence not taxed	All apartments in new projects that are 'taxable without credit'
Taxable supplies	Apartments that are 'taxable with credit' and sold before OC/CC	None, whether sold before or after OC/CC
		Commercial apartments in REP

- e) Rule 42(3) prescribes that review of credit reversals is required to be carried out project-wise on the date of grant of certificate of completion (not later than Sept following). It is accepted in the rule that projects may take more than one financial year and hence, project duration is considered relevant for this 'project end review' of credit reversal by ignoring any intervening financial year end until completion of said project;
- f) Rule 42(4) applies to 'transition project', that is project that was commenced before 1 Apr 2019 which was 'taxable with credit' and option was exercised for the project to be 'taxable without credit'. In such projects, the requirement is to proceed project-wise and with retrospective effect from (i) the date of project commencement or (ii) 1st Jul 2017, whichever is earlier (special review period). This adjustment is required only in respect of 'commercial units' in a REP project for certain reasons, namely: (a) at the time of transition into 'new rate regime', all credits taken would have been reversed in terms of Notification No. 3/2019-CT(R), dt.29.03.2019 which made specific amendments to Notification No. 11/2017-CT(R), dt.28.06.2017 and (b) new rate regime applies only to residential apartments as per Entry 3(id) and commercial apartments in REP are 'taxable with credit' as they do not come under the new rate regime. Hence, commercial apartments in REP will be eligible for credit.

- g) Review of credit reversal for RE supplies to be carried out only in respect of RREP projects with commercial apartments, after the introduction of new rates and not otherwise. The procedure for the reversal of ITC as per rule 42 (4) is as follows:

Particulars	Attributes
Eligible common input tax credit attributed to the purposes of business and for effecting supplies other than exempted supplies but including zero rated supplies. - from 01.07.2017 to 31.03.2019	C3r
Total carpet area of the commercial apartments in the project	AC / F

Total carpet area of commercial apartments which have not been booked till the date of issuance of completion certificate or first occupation of the project, whichever is earlier.	E
The Amount of Final eligible common credit on commercial portion in the project	$C3F = C3A \times (E/F)$

- Credits not allowable would have already been reversed towards T₁, T₂ and T₃.
- Special reversals of D1 and D2 would also have been identified and reversed.
- RE supplies would not have been considered as 'exempt supplies'. Therefore credit related to RE supplies which are 'exempt' would be carried in T₄ and in C₃.
- Take out from T₄ (if not already done), credits relatable to apartments 'taxable without credit' on a project-wise basis and reverse the same on the date of completion but within September following the end of the financial year of the project completion.
- C3i will be computed monthly upto the date of completion as per the formula prescribed in rule 42 (1)

- Now, the actual amount of C3F 'eligible' will be determined when C3A is to be reduced in the ratio of 'unbooked commercial apartments' by 'total commercial apartments' (of carpet area).
- Variation in C3A and C3F may either be downward or upward. In case of downward revision, additional amount that ought to be reversed along with interest from April to September (or earlier when reversals are finally revised) after end of financial year. In case of upward revision, the excess reversal may be reclaimed as credit in any month (when reversals are finally revised) but not later than filing of returns for the month of Sept following end of year.

In case of RE supplies and non-RE supplies, following values will not be included both as exempt supplies and total turnover:

- Value of central excise duty paid under Entry 84 and Entry 92-A
- Value of State excise duty paid under Entry 54
- Value of VAT paid under Entry 51 of the VII Schedule to Article 246 of COI
- Value of GST – CGST, SGST, ISGT and Cess paid.

Note 3: The registered person is expected to make such computation for each tax period and reverse the same in the periodic returns being filed by him. However, on completion of the financial year, input tax credit shall be determined accurately based on actuals, in the same manner as provided in rule 42. A true up is required to be done on an annual basis (between the amounts reversed for each tax period during the year and the amount determined at the end of the financial year) and any excess credit availed needs to be reversed with interest while short credit, if any, needs to be re-availed within 6 months from end of the financial year.

It is to be noted that the registered person would be required to remit excess ITC claimed (as determined in Note 3 above) with interest calculated for the period starting from the first day of April of the succeeding financial year till the date of payment. However, no interest can be claimed if, at the end of the financial year, it is found that short credit was availed.

2) Reversal of credit based on 'condition of end-use' – Capital goods

Input tax credit in respect of capital goods is also fettered with the same conditions [refer the above discussion on 'vesting conditions' for input tax credit under section 16(1)] which comprises of precedent conditions or subsequent conditions). Registered person continue to be responsible for meeting all the requirements to correctly claim input tax credit even on capital goods as per section 155. Now, unlike inputs and input services, end-use of capital goods is more objective because output for each month can be determined.

When capital goods are not used in making taxable outward supplies, then they too come in for review of credit. Capital goods 'used' do not get 'used up'. Hence, the computations applicable to input and input services cannot be applied to capital goods.

Description of outward supplies	Credit on capital goods	End-use 'swap'
Non-business	Not credited to ECL; 'ineligible' capital goods	Credit on 'all' capital goods deemed to accrue on '5% per quarter' (or part). Swap of end use from ineligible to eligible and vice versa will be available to the extent accrued as per rate above.
Specially 'exempt supplies'*
Taxable	Credited to ECL; 'eligible' capital goods
Zero-rated
End-use not identified exclusive to either of above	Credited to ECL (A) and subject to adjustment under rule 43; 'common' capital goods

* interpretation of specially 'exempt supplies' is the same for rule 42 and rule 43.

Treatment given to RE supplies and non-RE supplies is applicable even to capital goods.

Non-RE supplies

In case of non-RE supplies, full credit of 'eligible' and 'common' capital goods will be taken in the month in which they are received by the registered person.

- Credit related to capital goods exclusively used to make taxable outward supplies including zero-rated is 'wholly' available.
- Credit related to capital goods exclusively used to make non-business and special 'exempt supplies' are 'wholly' not available.
- Credit related to capital goods that are not identified exclusively to either of the above will be taken as credit subject to treatment under this rule (TC).
- Credit subject to treatment will be divided by 60 for each month (TM) of the deemed useful file of 5 years being 60 months [rule 43(1)(c) is prescribed useful life for all capital goods].
- Each such capital goods will have its own TM for a given month. Now monthly TM of all such capital goods must be aggregated (TR).

- (f) Credit liable to reversal is computed on the ratio of 'specially exempt supplies' by 'total turnover in the State' for the registered person (TE).
- (g) The amount so arrived will need to be reversed. Interest will be applicable because total capital goods credit (A) would have been taken in the month of receipt of capital goods (and credited to ECL) and now a 'new TE' would be computed each month based on the ratio.

RE Supplies

In case of RE Supplies, capital goods used for non-RE Supplies are excluded from this discussion and previous section may be referred for the applicable treatment. Capital goods used for RE Supplies full credit of 'eligible' and 'common' capital goods will be taken in the month in which they are received by the registered person.

Description of outward supplies	End-use of capital goods		Credit subject to treatment under rule 43
	Exclusively	Commonly
Apartment 'taxable without credit'	ü	ü	û
Other exempt construction	ü	ü	û
Ongoing project (opted for old rate)	ü	ü	ü
Commercial apartment in REP	N.A.	ü	ü

- (a) Credit reversal treatment in respect of capital goods is required to be made project-wise and on the date of grant of certificate of completion.
- (b) During construction period, capital goods used for taxable supplies is required to be assumed as 'nil'.
- (c) Value of apartment to be considered is their total value and not the value billed or paid upto date of completion.
- (d) Credit on 'common' capital goods to be reversed (TE) in case of RE supplies is to be determined in following manner:
- Identify credit relating to 'common' capital goods from 1st July 2017 to date of completion of project
 - Carry out all steps to arrive at TE, that is:
 - o Take credit individually for each 'common' capital goods not monthly but for entire project duration (TC)
 - o Aggregate of all individual TC will be TC-FINAL
 - o Arrive at the factor to reduce total credit to determine eligible and ineligible

Total carpet area of apartments constructed (project-wise) (F)
Exempt	Taxable without credit	Partly taxable and exempt	Taxable with credit
E1 (Area only)		E2 (Area x Value Exempt / Total Value) *	E3 (Area unsold or unbooked only) **

* E2 generally expected to be 'nil' for the reason that in case of apartments under new rate regime credit is not allowed at all. In respect of ongoing projects where old rate regime continues, then full credit is available. Where 'common' capital goods are used for more than one such projects, then 'reasonable basis' (and not this rule) is applicable as per rule 43(4).

 E3 will be limited to 'unsold' or 'unbooked' apartments as GST (ongoing project under old rate regime) will apply even if payments are not fully received within date of OC/CC but have been 'sold' or 'booked' before that date.

- o Ineligible credit will be the net amount new-TE arrived by applying the above factor to the credit on 'common' capital goods TC.
- o Applying this formula to all 'common' capital goods will provide TE-FINAL;
- Variation in TE with new-TE-FINAL may either be downward or upward. In case of downward revision (FINAL is higher), then additional amount that ought to be reversed along with interest from Apr to Sept (or earlier when reversals are finally revised) after the end of financial year. In case of upward revision (FINAL is lower), the excess reversal may be reclaimed as credit in any month (when reversals are finally revised) but not later than returns for the month of Sept following end of year.
- (e) Computation of eligible and ineligible is required to be considered on 1/60 basis to begin with although credit may have been entirely availed (where available only) at the time of their receipt by the registered person.

Note:

It is important to note that unlike rule 42 which mandates determination of the actual amount of reversal on the completion of the financial year, rule 43 does not prescribe any re-computation at the end of the financial year. This could be presumed to be due to the fact that reversal of input tax credits under rule 43 is based on number of tax periods unlike that of rule 42. But considering the fact that reversal of common credits under rule 43 is also based on the proportion of turnover of exempt supplies to the total turnover in the State for that tax period, due consideration should be given to the fact that any shortage of ITC on account of any reason cannot be subsequently availed under rule 43. On the other hand, any excess credit availed would promptly be subject to scrutiny by the proper officer.

D. ITC Restrictions on Banks and NBFCs

[Section 17(4) read with Rule 38 of the CGST Rules]

Banking Company or financial institution including NBFC engaged in accepting deposits, extending loans or advances: An option is made available to a Banking company or financial institution including NBFC engaged in accepting deposits, extending loans or advances that chooses not to comply with the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 17. As per this option, the ITC availment would be limited to 50 per cent of the eligible ITC on inputs, capital goods and input services each month and lapse the remaining ITC. In such cases, the banking company or financial institution shall:

- Refrain from availing input tax credit related to 'non-business purposes' and those restricted under section 17(5) and such blocked credit needs to be reported in Form-GSTR 2.
- Avail full credit on inter-branch supplies between distinct persons of the banking company or NBFC. In other words, if the HO has restricted credit to 50 per cent and those goods or services are involved in inter-branch taxable supplies, the receiving branch is not required to further apply the 50 per cent restriction.
Further, even if the HO avails some services from branch, it can avail 100 per cent credit. This relief is provided in the second proviso to section 17(4).
- NOT be able to change the option once exercised during the remaining part of the financial year.

Interest income is the main source of revenue of banks and NBFCs and the same is exempt under GST vide entry 27(a) of NN 12/2017-CT(R) and Entry 28(a) of NN 9/2017-ITR. The relevant extract of the said Entry is as under:

Sl No.	Chapter, Section, Heading, Group or Service Code (Tariff)	Description of services	Rate (%)	Condition
27	Heading 9971	(a) Services by way of—(a) extending deposits, loans or advances in so far as the consideration is represented by way of interest or discount (other than interest involved in credit card services);	NIL	NIL

Where this option to restrict input tax credit under section 17(4) is not availed, then input tax credit will be available to the extent admissible after complying with rules 42 and 43.

E. Restrictions on ITC: Blocked credits under section 17(5)

Section 17(5) commences with a non-obstante clause “notwithstanding anything contained in sub section (1) of section 16 and sub section (1) of section 18, input tax credit shall not be available in respect of the following, namely: -”. It clearly means that the provisions of section 17(5) overrides sections 16(1) and 18(1). Further, section 17(5) uses the expression ‘in respect of’ which connotes a broader meaning. With effect from 01.02.2019, section 17(5) has been amended vide the CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018.

(a) Motor Vehicles

After such amendment, clause (a) of section 17(5) regarding eligibility/ non-eligibility of input tax credit on vehicles has become more specific. As per amended provisions, firstly, input tax credit on motor vehicles for transportation of goods is not barred, that is, credit is fully admissible subject to any specific restrictions in tariff Notification No. 11/2017-CTR, dt. 28.06.2017. Secondly, motor vehicles used for transportation of persons having approved seating capacity of not more than 13 persons (including the driver) are ineligible for input tax credit except if used for following specified purpose:

- (a) Further supply of such vehicle or vessel or aircraft; or
- (b) Transportation of passengers; or
- (c) Imparting training on driving such vehicles.

As per the amended provisions, ITC on motor vehicles with approved seating capacity of more than 13 persons (including the driver) will be available, subject to tariff restrictions, if any.

Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 defines 'motor vehicle'* in section 2(28) as follows:

Any mechanically propelled vehicle	Adapted for use upon roads	Power of propulsion from external or internal source
Inclusions		Exclusions
Chassis to which body is not attached		Vehicle run on fixed rails
Trailer		Vehicle of special type adapted for use only in factory or in enclosed spaces
		Vehicle having less than 4 wheels with engine capacity less than 25 cc

* vehicle is used interchangeably with motor vehicle.

From the above definition, it is abundantly clear that railway wagons, coal wagons, etc. not being a motor vehicle are eligible for credit. Similarly, two-wheelers and three-wheelers with engine capacity less than 25 cc are also not motor vehicles and thus, will be eligible for credit. Also, it needs to be noted that credit will be available on motor vehicles used for passenger transportation with seating capacity of less than 13 persons if they are used for making specified taxable supplies viz., further supply of such vehicles, transportation of passengers or imparting training on driving. For example, a car registered as commercial vehicle and being used in transportation of passengers (ola/uber cab) will be eligible for credit.

As stated earlier, this restriction applies only in respect of 'passenger transport vehicles' and not for 'goods transport vehicles'. Here, a question arises as to whether construction equipment mounted on crawlers or wheels or rollers even though affixed with a 'mark of registration' would be goods transport vehicles or construction machinery. From the above definition, the point of emphasis is 'adapted for use upon road' and not the fact of 'registration mark'. Test of 'adapted for use upon road' refers to the 'principal function' is its use for transportation by road. Added functionalities or features may ease operations before or after transportation. By its very nature, such construction machineries are 'not adapted' for use on road but for use off-road. Wheels (or crawlers or rollers) fitted are to provide added mobility within the site and for its own transport to other sites, and not for transporting other articles but to work on its own. And then there are tippers and dumpers which are 'adapted' for use on road as earth movers not for excavation but for transporting material after earth excavation along with added features of easy loading or unloading with pneumatic cylinders, etc. Forklifts and other vehicles that have very limited range of mobility but high capacity for lifting or moving loads are also 'not adapted' for use upon road. Care must be taken to classify these vehicles based on the definition contained in the Motor Vehicle Act.

Description	Mark of Registration	Motor Vehicle or Not	Creditable or Not
Truck chassis	Yes	Yes	Yes
Truck chassis + goods transport body	Yes	Yes	Yes

Truck chassis + passenger transport body	Yes	Yes	No
Truck chassis + ambulance body	Yes	Yes	No
Tractor (designed to pull or push a payload – farm or road use)	Yes	Yes	Yes
Tractor + Trailer	Yes	Yes	Yes
Trailer only	Yes	Yes	Yes
Tipper	Yes	Yes	Yes
Road-roller	Yes	Yes	Yes
Wheel-loader or pay-loader	Yes	No	Yes
Excavator	No	No	Yes
Fork-lift	No	Yes	Yes
Aircraft tug	No	Yes	Yes

Another aspect to consider is whether credit is admissible in respect of 'test drive' vehicles that are neither 'held for sale' nor 'put to regular use'. As test for ineligible credit is 'further supply', based on broader meaning of the expression 'in respect of', used in sub-section (5), credit will be allowed. Reference may be made to AM. Motors' case [(2018) 18 GSTL 93 (AAR, Kerala)] and Chowgule Industries (P.) Ltd. [(2019) 107 taxmann.in 293 (AAR, Goa)]. It may be noted that when the 'test drive' vehicles are sold after being used, the same are allowed to be valued as per margin method in terms of Notification No. 8/2018-C.T. (R), dt. 25-1-2018 only if input tax credit thereon has not been taken.

(aa) Vessels and Aircraft

After notification of clause (b) of section 9 of the CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018 w.e.f. 1st February 2019 vide Notification No. 2/2019-C.T., dt. 29.01.2019, clause (aa) of section 17(5) makes eligibility/ non-eligibility of input tax credit on 'vessels and aircraft' more specific. As per amended provisions, all vessels and aircrafts are rendered ineligible for credit except when used for the following specified purpose:

- (i) For making taxable supplies of:
 - (a) such vessel or aircraft themselves; or
 - (b) transportation of passengers; or
 - (c) imparting training on navigating such vessels; or
 - (d) imparting training on flying such aircraft; or
- (ii) For transportation of goods.

From the foregoing, it is clear that vessels and aircrafts have a similar embargo like motor vehicles although worded slightly differently. That is, transport of goods is totally eligible for credit in case of motor vehicles as well as vessels and aircraft. Care must be taken to note that this exception (ineligible credit is made eligible in certain exceptions listed) must be strictly adhered to. Further, tariff conditions [conditions linked to rate of GST under Notification No. 11/2017-CT(R), dt.28.06.2017] being more specific, will render credit that is covered by this exception to become ineligible again.

Although a notification cannot overrule the statute, note that section 17(5) is an embargo that is applicable to all registered persons. So also, the relaxation of this embargo applies to all registered persons. Now, a taxable person in search of the applicable GST tariff finds that Notification No. 11/2017-CT(R), dt. 28.06.2017 prescribes the rate of GST with a condition that input tax credit on goods (includes capital goods) is not to be availed. Explanation to section 11 states that where an exemption (partly or fully) is granted absolutely (applicable to all) it must be mandatorily availed. In other words, 'conditional rate' cannot be converted into 'optional rate' by deliberately violating the 'condition' attached to the prescribed rate of tax. One must pay the prescribed rate of GST and also adhere to the condition (and refrain from claiming credit). Refraining from claiming credit obviously refers to credit that is otherwise eligible. Tariff notification is not attempting to override the statute here but is in complete harmony where it firstly recognizes that credit (in respect of motor vehicles, vessels and aircraft) to the extent (that it comes within the exceptions carved out) becomes eligible under section 16(1) read with section 17(5) and secondly, it is this (extent of eligible) credit that is to be refrained from being availed in order to properly comply with the conditions prescribed in the tariff notification. Hence, there is no disharmony between the conditions prescribed in the tariff notification and the provisions of section 17(5).

Another important aspect to highlight is that 'further supply' of vessel or aircraft (also applicable to motor vehicle) does not mean only 'resale' but any 'form' of supply. In other words, 'purchase' of vessel or aircraft (even motor vehicle) when used to let-out on 'lease', will qualify for credit admissibility because the output is 'further supply' although not of the same form. Further supply which can be in 'any' form must not be of such a form where tariff notification places an embargo on claiming credit. 'Hire' is a fare for passage and 'lease' is a right to use. When we buy a flight ticket, we only pay for the trip (or passage along the route) but we do not pay for 'right to use' the aircraft (or vessel or motor vehicle) even when it is a charter. Care must be taken not to interchange these expressions and seek to come under a tariff entry that is free from credit restriction/conditions.

(ab) Services of upkeep of motor vehicles, vessels and aircraft

Further, credit of general insurance, servicing, repair and maintenance shall be available so far as it relates to motor vehicle, vessels or aircraft on which credit is available. Furthermore, credit will also be available if the services are received by a taxable person engaged in manufacture of the motor vehicles or in supply of general insurance services in respect of motor vehicles, vessels or aircraft insured by him.

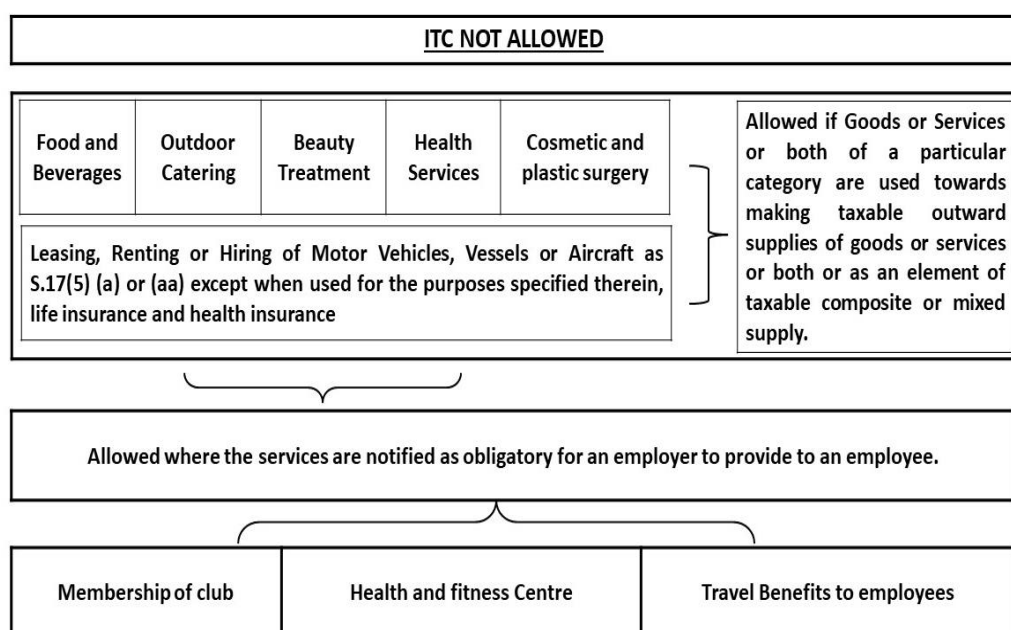

Interestingly, it has been observed that this restriction is being imposed even on authorized service centres (ASC) involved in providing maintenance as their principal supply to customers (owners of motor vehicles). Maintenance charges are an expression that is applicable qua owner of motor vehicle. Maintenance charges qua authorised service centre are in the nature of subcontract charges where ASC is the main-contractor of the customer (owner of motor vehicle). ASC will not 'maintain' vehicle belonging to the customer.

Now, maintenance and upkeep charges will be creditable if the underlying motor vehicle (or vessel or aircraft) is also eligible for credit. Note that the tariff notification restriction on credit will not be limited to motor vehicle (or vessel or aircraft) but will extend to its maintenance and upkeep also.

(b) Supply of goods /and services being

In the certain specified cases, credit is blocked unless it is used in making a further outward supply as such or as an element of a composite or mixed supply.

As per amended section 17(5), input tax credit of all the above services shall be eligible if it is obligatory on the part of the employer to provide the same to its employees under any law for the time being in force. For example., credit of GST paid on outdoor catering services used in factory may be allowed after effective date, as the Factories Act made it compulsory to provide canteen services if the factory has certain number of employees. Earlier, this credit was not allowed in such cases.

Although credit is restricted on the above supplies, credit would still be allowed if it is used for effecting further taxable supply of the same category, or as an element of a taxable composite or mixed supply. Often in a business scenario, it is extremely difficult to link such inward supplies to taxable outward supplies. For instance, in a rent-a-cab service the input tax credit would be allowed if the corresponding inward supply could be linked to an outward supply of the very same rent-a-cab service; but if rent-a-cab outward supply is provided free of cost then the question that arises is whether input tax needs restriction or output supply is subject to valuation? Assume that in the very same example the rent-a-cab outward supply is provided by a hotel to its guest in the form of free airport transfers, what would be the position of input taxes? The pertinent question would be whether it was for furtherance of business for which the obvious answer would be in affirmative as the cost would have been included in the value of the other (composite or mixed) supply of services. Alternative views may arise due to the facility not being uniformly available to all guests. But care must be taken to reflect on the admissibility of credit when output is subjected to tax.

It would not suffice to merely claim that these restricted supplies are used for further taxable supply in the absence of a clear link between the restricted inward supply and the taxable outward supply. Mere utilization of these restricted supplies for the benefit of the supplier in the course of an outward supply may validate input tax credit on such restricted supplies.

Certain instances where credit on aforementioned restricted categories can be sought to be availed are indicated below:

Inward Supplies	Credit Eligibility
Food and beverages or outdoor catering	Corporate party organized by hiring an event manager. Event manager is contracted to ensure all arrangements relating to food, guests, lighting, decoration, cab services for pick up and drop etc. Event manager uses the services of a caterer to serve food at the party and engages a rent-a-cab operator to pick-up and drop guests. (i) Credit to event manager for food and rent-a-cab services available since inward supplies have been used for making outward supplies (ii) Credit to company is available since they are availing composite supply of event management and not a standalone supply of various elements contained in organizing such event
Renting or hiring of motor vehicles provided to company for transport of female employees who work on night shift	The Karnataka Shops and Establishment Regulations mandate every employer to ensure that cab facility is provided to female employees working during night shift. Cab facility provided for transport of female employees is mandated by statute and credit of the same would be available to the employer.
Travel benefits to directors	Travel benefits to employees have been specifically restricted from taking credit but nothing has been mentioned about the travel benefits extended to non-executive directors and hence the same should be available. Credit on transactions for “non-business use” may not apply here since the company is accounting this as a business expenditure in its books of accounts.

From 1st February, 2019, clause (b) of section 9 of CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018 read with Notification No. 2/2019-C.T., dt. 29.01.2019, replaces clause (b) of section 17(5) to bring out the following amendments:

1. Credit shall not be available for the supply of food and beverages, outdoor catering, beauty treatment, health services, cosmetic and plastic surgery, leasing, renting or hiring of motor vehicles, vessels or aircraft referred to in clause (a) or clause (aa) of section 17(5) except when used for the purposes specified therein. In other words, renting or hiring of motor vehicles, vessels and aircraft are blocked only if the purchase of such motor vehicles, vessels and aircrafts are blocked as per clause (a) or (aa). However, input tax credit in respect of such goods or services or both shall be available where an inward supply of such goods or services or both is used by a registered person for making an outward taxable supply of the same category of goods or services or both or as an element of a taxable composite or mixed supply.

Further, credit in respect of life insurance and health insurance will continue to be blocked.

Where steps are taken to include these inward supplies as an 'element' of an outward supply, then credit cannot be denied. Proviso to section 17(5)(b) very clearly saves the credit from being blocked when these inward supplies are themselves involved in making an outward supply (whether as independent supplies and composite or mixed supplies). For example, if a CA issues an invoice for stock review services of ₹ 100,000 and collects reimbursement of lunch expenses of ₹ 5,000, then the invoice of the CA will have a taxable value of ₹ 1,05,000, and the CA will be entitled to avail input tax credit of GST paid on inward supply of catering services since the catering services are involved in the composite supply of 'professional service fee' of ₹ 105,000. Care must be taken to maintain documents supporting general lunch expenses for staff welfare and that specifically incurred by the team carrying out this stock review exercise.

2. ITC on membership of club, health and fitness centre will also be considered as blocked
3. Travel benefits extended to employees on vacation such as leave or home travel concession will also not be available.
4. The provisions have been amended so as to allow ITC in respect of goods or services or both specified above if it is made obligatory for an employer to provide the same to its employees under any law for the time being in force.

(c) Construction of Immovable Property (other than plant and machinery)

“Construction” includes re-construction, renovation, additions or alterations or repairs, to the extent of capitalization, to the said immovable property. Note that ‘alterations’ and ‘repairs’ are also included in this definition, if capitalized.

It is important to note that credit of GST paid on works contract services would be allowed only if the output supply is also works contract services. Input tax credit attributable to ‘works contract services’ (including inward supply of goods or services) availed by builders/ developers for providing outward supply of services, would be eligible for ITC.

In respect of inward supply of works contract resulting in immovable property for own use, the corresponding tax credits would be blocked if it is used “for” construction. Hence, costs directly related to construction would not enjoy any input tax credit, but costs which directly do not relate to construction would be entitled to credit.

“Plant and machinery” means apparatus, equipment, machinery fixed to earth by foundation or structural support that are used for making outward supply of goods or services or both and includes such foundation and structural supports but excludes land, building or any other civil structures, telecommunication towers; and pipelines laid outside the factory premises. The definition of plant and machinery is also unique in including foundation and support which could be a works contract service for which credit is allowed but excludes ‘any other civil structure’. The intention appears to be put to rest the disputes in the past where foundation and structure which may include civil construction which are part of the plant and machinery were eligible for credit. Specific exclusion like telecommunication towers may exclude some parts other than the basic tower. These aspects may also be tested in times to come.

In this context it is important to note that a single contract may be awarded for construction including interior works along with electronic installations comprising of audio-video equipment. As a composite supply, the electronic installations will also be taxed under HSN 9954 and be incapable of being extracted from the total contract price. But if this contract was treated as a mixed supply, the works contract too would be taxed at 28 per cent (assumed for discussion purposes). Can credit of the entire project be claimed including the works contract embedded in the single contract price even though taxed at 28 per cent. Care appears to have been taken to permit credit only in respect of 'plant and machinery' which has been defined in an explanation that is made applicable to 'this section as well as all sections in Chapter VI of the Act'.

Reference may be made to Maharashtra AAR order in the case of Nipro India Corporation Private Limited (ARA- 33/2017-18/B- 41 Mumbai, dt. 28.05.2018) where the AAR has travelled to great lengths to collect data of plant and machinery embedded in the contract price and allowed credit to applicant in respect of such plant and machinery although the entire contract was taxed under HSN 9954 as 'works contract service'.

Another aspect to be examined is whether a 'factory building' is a building (and hence, credit restricted) or plant (and hence credit admissible)? Every structure is not immovable property. One should examine if the structure is a 'means of production' or the 'location of production'. Steel structures for gantry crane to move about would not be building but part of the supports for the crane. This area requires some technical insight and cannot be dismissed based on visual inspection by an untrained eye. Plant may be annexed to the ground. Courts have applied the test whether the annexation is the object of permanent beneficial enjoyment of the land. Machinery for metal shaping and electro-plating which was attached by bolts to special concrete bases that could not be removed was not treated to be part of structure or solid beneath as the attachment was not for beneficial enjoyment of the soil or concrete. If they retain their identity and are not for beneficial enjoyment of the land, then they will be creditable as 'plant and machinery' even though they may be annexed to the ground. Plant is erected and then an enclosure is fabricated around the plant, the enclosure is not directly involved in the operation of the plant although it is necessary to provide protection to the plant from weather and other factors that can adversely affect the production with the plant. Tendency could be to vaguely describe the enclosure, or its fabrication may be simultaneously with the plant, but test of identity remains to decide the admissibility or restriction of credit. Examine, if the enclosure is 'passive' component in the working of the factory or an 'active' component.

Also refer the discussion under section 2(52) on the 'effect of affixation' whether it remains movable property or becomes immovable property and whether it promotes better enjoyment of the equipment or enhances value of land to which it is affixed/installed. This inquiry is necessary to test whether the bar on credit applies to equipment affixed/installed or is saved.

(d) Goods and/or services involved in inward supplies for self-construction of immovable property

Inward supply of goods and/or services for construction of an immovable property for 'own use' would also not be eligible for input tax credit. This restriction applies even when such immovable property is used in the course or in furtherance of business. Understanding the scope of 'immovable property' is very important. Immovable property is well understood to be land and building but it also includes everything that is attached to or forming part of the land and rights-in-land. Credit is blocked on all inward supplies leading to the establishment of such immovable property. Inward supply of services from real estate agent, architect, interior decorators and contractors are all blocked as these are involved in the establishment of the immovable property. But, if inward supplies such as security, house-keeping and property maintenance are used after construction, then such credits are not blocked as these are received after establishment of the immovable property. One needs to note the fine line that the law draws to prevent indiscriminate extension of this credit blockage beyond the purpose for which it is specified.

Factors to be considered for deciding whether the credits on costs associated with works contract or construction of immovable property are available or not:

- (i) If rent is charged separately for bare shell and the fitouts – No credit could be availed in respect of inputs used in construction of bare shell whereas credit could be availed on fitouts and related material if they are separable from the construction materials and labour; Separable not by securing a pricing break-down from the supplier but identifiable as a distinct asset class involved in the construction project activity. Often it is seen that in order to fasten turnkey responsibility of supply and installation of equipment and installations, single contract is awarded. Articles that do not form an integral part or create the identity of the immovable property such as electronic installations including audio-video equipment may be included in the same contract but as a separable item of supply with its own price, tax and other terms. Apart from risk of being treated as a mixed supply, there is a potential for loss of credit. Fit-out is a generic expression that includes false roofing and cornice-work, sound-proof panelling, glass partitions, anti-static carpets, loose furniture in lobby and client reception areas, pantry infra with movable furniture and wash-area facilities. Here too, those assets that do not form an integral part or create the identity of the immovable property may be identified separately so that credit can be availed without being lost as an integral part of the interior decoration works which merges inseparably with the immovable property;
- (ii) Lease premium or lease rental for land on which immovable property is constructed – It is common to take land on lease (on payment of one-time premium and / or recurring rental) for long-term (say) 10 years to 99 years. And then invest in the construction of a building for use as factory, warehouse or office. Rent paid for building is not affected by this clause (d) as the 'lease' of building is not barred under section 17(5). However, the lease of land needs to be carefully understood. On one hand, lease of land may be equated with lease of building and credit claimed, regardless of what the lease is for – building or land only. Unless agreed otherwise, building (that is put-up on that land) belongs to the landowner at the end of lease tenure because of ownership of land all things attached permanently to that land merges with the property in that land and cannot remain the property of the lessee after the end of lease tenure. This merger is due to the construction in a permanent manner and coalescing of the two properties – land apart from building – only at the end of lease (called determination of lease).

Now, in lease, there is an expression 'demise' which needs to be carefully understood. For example, if land is taken on lease and the lessee puts-up a temporary structure of tents and carries on his circus business, the lessee is liable to pay rent (for land) whether the circus is running or the tent-structures (God forbid) get destroyed in a fire accident.

This is because the 'demise' here is the land which continues to remain in the possession the lessee who may re-erect the tent-structures and restart the circus or terminate the lease and vacate the land. There is no third scenario possible and lease rentals will continue to accrue. Contrasted with another example, where the tent-structures are taken on lease from the landowner and if this tent-structure were to be destroyed by a fire accident, there is no rent payable as the demise here is 'tent-structures'. When there is no demise, there can be no tenancy and hence no lease rental payable.

In the case of land taken on lease (and building put-up by lessee), inquiry is required into the 'demise' in respect of which premium and or rentals are paid and then examine if the credit restriction is attracted or not. When parties contract in such a manner so as to themselves treat the land as being distinct from the building thereon, the 'demise' is the 'land alone' and not the 'land and building'. The question that arises is whether the building is where business is carried on or it is the land where the business is carried on. When these two, land and building thereon, have once been accepted as separate and distinct, their uses must also be gone into. And by these tests, building is where business is carried on and GST paid on lease rental for building is not restricted. But land is where the building is put-up and lease rental for land is to put-up (during the years of construction) and retain it there (for the remainder of the lease tenure). Having said that, land is the demise and it is separate from the building put-up on that land. Then, the end-use of land and end-use of building retain their separate identities and then stand the test of credit restriction under this clause.

Relatively simpler issues have been hotly contested in GST and this question is far-reaching and is not without forceful arguments. Reference may be made to the decision of the Orissa High Court in the case of Safari Retreats Private Limited v. CC-CGST [WP(C) No. 20463 of 2018 vide Order dated April 17, 2019] where input tax credit has been allowed in respect of GST paid on construction of immovable property that is meant for further lease by the owners. As these are the views of the High Court, in the absence of contradictory decisions of any other jurisdictional High Court or from SC, this decision will continue to have force. Care must be taken while relying on this decision as credit 'availed even if not utilized' would attract interest at 24 per cent under GST. Considered decision may have to be taken as the quantum of credit may be quite large and so will be the consequences.

- (iii) Accounting treatment in the books – Are the costs to be capitalized with the building or separately disclosed in the fixed asset register? In the case of separate capitalization credit would be available. Accounting treatment is a good alibi for claiming credit. If an item of expenditure is not permitted to be capitalized as property, plant and equipment (PPE), then the same cannot be treated by GST to be capital goods, whether creditable or not. Similarly, if any item of supply included in the turnkey contract is to be separated from the construction material and labour for putting up the immovable property for the reason that the items do not form an integral part or create the identity of the immovable property, support must be available in the manner of capitalization. If these items actually comprise an independent but simultaneous item supplied, then they would be capitalized separately as an independent asset class or group as it demonstrates characteristics of use, usefulness and useful life that is different from that of the immovable property. Although not impossible, contradictions in accounting treatment with that in GST for claiming credit may generally not be free from litigation. In fact, where there are such contradictions, more transparent explanations and notes may be prepared so as to allow tax authorities to consider if they concur with the uniqueness of the GST treatment.

- (iv) Things which cannot be retrieved without damage to the goods –These are immovable and hence no credit. As to what is immovable property and what is movable property, the yardstick is no longer ‘retrieve without damage’ but ‘purpose of affixation’. Refer to the detailed discussion on the definition of ‘services’ under section 2(102) where among other things, it has been explained that “Based on the three limbs to the definition of ‘attached to the earth’ in section 3 of Transfer of Property Act, 1882, it appears that if the attachment (of equipment) is for beneficial enjoyment of the land (or building), then equipment becomes immovable property itself. But, if the attachment is for the beneficial enjoyment of the equipment then, equipment remains movable property. These principles were expounded in Subramaniam Chettiar v. Chidambaram Servai AIR 1940 Mad 527 which were reiterated in CCE vs. Solid and Correct Engineering Works (2010) 252 ELT 481 (SC)”.
- (v) HSN Code in the Bill – If classified under the category of construction, then credit may not be available. There is a settled principle of law that incorrect classification by the supplier should not lead to denial if in the normal circumstances it would be eligible. There is no ‘one fits all’ rule that can be applied here. HSN may change when it passes the supplier’s hands.
- (vi) Separate purchase order and invoice from the vendor to bifurcate between transactions on which one would avail credits and on transactions on which one would not avail credits- Artificial bifurcation of otherwise inseparable works is not advised. It depends on the nature of the article supplied and the understanding of its installation will guide whether the two can be separated or not. If the parties are the same but operating under two separate documents (PO and Contract), it arouses suspicion. Further, suspicious are clauses where both components are taken together for computing advance, liquidation damages and recoveries and if there are ‘cross-fall breach’ clauses, then it becomes all the more worrisome.
- (vii) Accounting of transactions and assigning the Project / Cost Code. Services may also be capitalized along with an asset class or asset group but that does not mean they cease to remain ‘input services’.

(e) Goods or services or both on which tax has been paid under Section 10

Section 10(4) provides the conditions to be fulfilled for a person falling under composition scheme, with respect of input tax credit. One of the conditions states that a person opting for the composition scheme should not collect any tax from the recipient. As no taxes are paid by the recipient, no input tax credit can be availed by them either. For this reason, any tax paid by supplier under section 10 will be restricted by this clause under section 17(5).

Since, no tax has been charged by the supplier (opting for composition), this restriction may seem academic. But, not quite so, as section 10(4) authorizes the tax authorities not only to take action against erring composition taxpayers for collecting tax, section 17(5)(e) authorizes action against the recipient-taxpayers who may have taken credit of the same, even innocently.

(f) Goods or services or both received by a non-resident taxable person except on goods imported by him

A non-resident taxable person (NRTP) is a person who temporarily supplies any goods or services within India even though he is not a resident of the taxable territory. For such NRTPs, a restriction has been cast in respect of the goods or services or both received within India. In respect of the goods or services or both received within India, no input tax credit can be availed. However, he is free to avail the input tax credit of the goods imported from outside India.

Reference may be made to the discussion in the context of section 27 about casual taxable person compared to non-resident taxable person. Indian FDI regulations place a restriction on foreign companies entering India and undertaking 'business-like' activities without establishing a taxable enterprise. And income-tax law will impute a taxable presence in the form of a 'business connection' or 'permanent establishment' in India to subject the income of this presence to tax in India. Conclusions and compliances under income-tax and FDI will impact the conclusions in GST about casual taxable person v. NRTP and hence credit entitlements to each. Care must be taken not to apply clause (f) mechanically. Registration as NRTP may itself need to be examined carefully due to adverse credit consequence to NRTPs compared to casual taxable persons

(g) Personal consumption

Goods received by a registered person may be used for 'personal' consumption. It would be apposite to recollect para 4 of Schedule II which states two situations that are relevant for the present purposes, namely, (a) diversion from intended end-use in business and (b) private use of business assets (and the third situation is not relevant for the present discussion).

Business assets may or may not include inputs and capital goods on which input tax credit has been availed. The scope of para 4 of Schedule II is far wider than this clause (g). Presently, the concern is only in respect of 'personal' use which would be a sub-set of para 4 of Schedule II. Reason why it is considered to be a sub-set and not something else outside of Schedule II is because Schedule II completely and comprehensively covers all situations regarding the treatment to be extended to an actual supply or deemed supply by Schedule I.

All assets of an incorporeal taxpayer (any kind of legal entity) are used and consumed by employees or other natural persons. Clause (g) does not get attracted in all those situations to deny credit. The 'nature' of use or consumption must be examined. For example, a software engineer uses the computer provided by the company along with the workstation provided in an air-conditioned environment. None of these are personally consumed because all facilities provided are 'tools-of-trade' that the company must provide in order to avail the work and skill of the software engineer. Then it may seem like all inward supplies used or consumed may be justified in this manner. Not quite so and some criteria could be devised to differentiate – whether it is a means of performing their duties or the rewards after performing their duties – as personal consumption inherently yields no direct and proximate benefit to the company in making outward supplies.

Clause (g) should not be considered as a threat to claim credit if the inward supplies on which credit is being claimed are diligently availed. Section 16(1) permits credit on everything but with an 'end use' criteria – in the course or furtherance of business. Income-tax law also allows deduction in respect of expenses that are 'for earning income' in the business. But these two statutes have different objectives in this regard. Income-tax is determining the 'profit before tax' whereas GST is determining the 'credits in respect of outward supply'.

By this reasoning, it appears that clause (g) could be pressed into service when there is no 'nexus' between items in respect of which credit is availed and outward supplies. Care must be taken not to interpret the language of section 16(1) liberally and without check or limits. Clause (g) provides the check to see if the 'immediate and ultimate' use or consumption of any item is for personal benefit to the person (employee or director or any other person who can consume on behalf) or not. If the immediate benefit is for the said person but the ultimate benefit is for the supplier company, then credit would not be restricted by clause (g).

Inward supplies by company such as raw-material, capital goods including computers, air-conditioning, work areas, factory and office building taken on lease, flight tickets, hotel accommodation, etc. are creditable by the company even though they are for 'immediate' consumption by employees as they are for 'ultimate' benefit by company.

However, inward supplies such as video games, cinema or IPL tickets, theme-party organized, holiday package, etc., are 'unlikely' to be creditable by the company as they are for 'immediate and ultimate' consumption by employees only.

Then there would be an 'in-between' category where though it is 'immediate' consumption by employees, there may be a proportion of 'ultimate' benefit to the company. These cases, discretion must be exercised to identify admissibility of credits to the company. A perfect rule cannot be applied for all cases nor can credit be completely allowed. If the inward supplies are in the nature of 'tools-of-trade' which the employer makes available to the employees to use in order to discharge their duties, such inward supplies will not come within this exclusion. But if the inward supplies are not in this nature, credit will most likely come within this exclusion.

And for these reasons, income-tax rules of allowance/disallowance cannot be applied in GST as every expenditure 'by' the business is allowed in income-tax whereas those 'for' the business are admissible in GST. Refer the discussion under section 16(1) on (i) commencement of business and (ii) used in business, in respect of various expenses and the effect on credit.

Deemed supply to related party (especially employee) is attracted by Schedule I, para 2 even when no consideration is involved. Where employees are involved, gifts that are not remuneration for their employment services is a 'perquisite' above ₹ 50,000/- per annum and therefore comes within the exclusion by Schedule III, para 1. Where any other related persons are involved, care must be taken to examine whether there is a 'diversion of business assets' (not limited to fixed assets but all assets of the business even if it is not capitalized) are used for 'non-business purposes'. Where credit is availed and thereafter, they are 'diverted' care must be taken to address the 'treatment' prescribed in Schedule II, para 4(b). Although Schedule II does not itself define supply, it provides 'classification' whether the supplies are to be 'treated' (as goods or as services), existence of entries in Schedule II arouses questions about taxability of said transactions. Without the transaction, atleast in the opinion of lawmaker, its treatment would not be provided and conversely, existence of a treatment indicates (possible) taxability.

Whether such diversion of business assets is supply or not may be debated but attention must be drawn not only to (i) taxability of such diversion but also (ii) admissibility of credit on such inward supplies. If it is concluded that there is no supply involved in such diversion, then credit could easily come within the disqualification under 'personal consumption' and vice versa.

Further, every telephone call made from the office need not be justified as to its 'use in furtherance of business'. Also, there is no requirement to admit personal element in telephone expenses (and all such inward supplies) without examining the (i) tools-of-trade and (ii) 'immediate and ultimate' benefit consideration discussed above. There is also no requirement to automatically consider all such inward supplies as being liable for reversal of an amount of 5 per cent (as item D₂ under rule 42). If there were compulsory element of 'personal consumption' in all such inward supplies then, the treatment of such expenditure in income-tax (in computation of income from business or profession) or its disclosure in CARO cannot be ignored. As all these different legislations are looking for the same 'assertion on facts' by the legal entity of which the registered person is an integral part.

Section 17(5) is given the title of an 'imperfect negative list' and it is deliberate so that there is room to accommodate bona fide cases where credit ought to be allowed as there is greater proportion of benefit ultimately flowing to the company. Courts will have final say in the matter that we need to learn from as things unfold.

(h) Goods lost, stolen, destroyed, written off or disposed of by way of gift or free samples

Consider an illustration where input 'A' is converted into output 'B' (both being goods) and a certain quantity of output 'B' that are produced but not yet supplied are destroyed by fire within the factory premises. Now, is GST payable on output 'B' or is it sufficient, if input tax credit taken on input 'A' is reversed? Destruction of a part of output 'B' does not satisfy the requirements of 'supply' and therefore, there is no question of payment of tax on the stock of 'B' that are destroyed by fire before they are supplied. This would not have been the case under Central Excise law (as Central Excise Duty was payable on manufacture) as those principles do not find place in GST law. Under the GST law, on destruction of stock of 'B', the only tax that remains to be paid is the proportionate credit availed on input 'A' because goods destroyed are 'A' only in the form of 'B'.

Credit was properly availed on 'A' and was even used properly in the course or furtherance of business in the production of 'B' which was subsequently destroyed before being supplied. This renders the credit availed of 'A' to fail the 'vesting condition subsequent' attached to validity of credit taken under section 16(1) being proper 'end use' of 'A'. Credit is not a 'vested right' at the time of receipt of inputs but only on satisfying all 'vesting conditions', including its participation in a taxable outward supply.

Note that while credit reversal discussed above applies to goods destroyed flows from the operation of a specific provision in section 17(5)(h), no such reversal because though inefficiently used, they are still used as accepted and agreed at the time of taking credit. by this clause [refer discussion under section 19(3) where abnormal loss in the hands of job-worker will be deemed to be a supply in the hands of principal due to an express provision].

As the 'reasons' for reversal is specifically stated in clause (h), reversal is 'without any interest' consequence. If the credit was 'ineligible' and is reversed, that is ineligible ab initio. Such reversal is not the same as reversal due to change of circumstances contemplated in this clause (h) which is a current change requiring reversal.

Therefore, it becomes clear that the words 'in respect of' are not limited to the very articles that are disqualified from claim of input tax credit under this sub-section but also credits 'in respect of' goods or services linked to the disqualified articles are also liable to be disqualified.

Now, in order to discuss this clause (h), it may be appropriate to first describe the scope of the words listed here. A short description of each of the words given above is given below:

- (a) LOST – When goods are missing, not traceable or inexplicable absence. The word 'lost' is not to be confused with 'loss'. Loss is explicable but nevertheless a 'loss' but certainly not 'lost'. Explicable loss is 'in-process' loss which may be normal loss. Explicable losses do not attract reversal of credit under clause (h) because the 'credit condition' accepted and agreed at the time of taking credit was that the said goods will be used. And when explicable in-process (normal) loss occurs, the fact that the said goods have been used is undeniable albeit inefficiently for failing to generate produce output.

Lost, on the other hand, is a clear indication due to the inexplicable nature of this situation that the said goods are not used as accepted and agreed. As such, 'lost' attracts reversal of credit but not 'loss'. Explicable means explainable and being able to explain the reasons for the loss does not include any loss due to "not using" the said goods. As additional notes, it merits to mention that full credit may be taken and retained and even utilized in case of goods which are involved in explicable in-process loss, whether normal or abnormal. [The exception is when abnormal loss occurs in the hands of job-worker. Refer detailed discussion in the context of deemed supply by principal under section 19(3)].

With regard to in-process loss of inputs a very interesting decision may be found in Ashok Leyland Ltd v. CCE, Nagpur [(2004) 169 ELT 131 (Tri.Mumbai)].

- (b) STOLEN – When any goods are found to be less upon physical verification, it may be considered as stolen. This will require reversal of any input tax credit taken earlier. Stolen goods may or may not be covered by insurance. As such, ‘insurable interest’ in case of goods (inventory or assets) on which GST credit is claimed ought not to be at the carried value in the book as per AS2/AS10 or IndAS2/IndAS16 but value as per “balance sheet plus GST credit availed”.
- (c) DESTROYED – Any goods which get destructed due to any natural calamity like flood, earthquake or a manmade event like fire, water leakage etc. If the goods reach to a certain level of destruction that it cannot be possibly reversed, then this clause gets attracted. Destroyed is not an expression that is used to refer to normal wear and tear or normal ageing deterioration. Destroyed leans towards a ‘sudden occurrence’, whether it could have been avoided or not, the outcome is relevant and not the reason for this occurrence. It’s not an accounting treatment but a fact to be observed or verified.
- (d) WRITTEN OFF – If any goods are having a certain value as per the books of accounts but are completely written off due to any reason, this clause will get attracted. This can include goods getting written off due to obsolescence or lapse of time. But ‘write-off’ must be differentiated from (a) ‘write-down’, which is a temporary and sometimes reversible accounting treatment in order to more accurately report the carried value of property, plant and equipment under AS 28 or Ind AS 36 and (b) ‘charge-off’ by claiming 100 per cent depreciation in respect of assets costing below a certain value per unit. Both these instances are not covered by this clause (h). However, due to poor understanding of the differences in each of these words, there may be some misapplication of the provision. Once the time to claim credit in section 16(4) has passed, the reversal will be irreversible even if done under misinformation.
- (e) DISPOSED-OFF by way of gift or free samples– Any goods which are disposed through these two mechanisms will be covered here. Key words to note are:
- (a) ‘disposed’ which is a word that appears in three key places in GST law (all other places it is used are in the context of ‘disposal of an application or appeal’, it is used 11 times in CGST Act). And they are (i) section 7(1)(a), (ii) para 1, Schedule I and (c) this clause (h). The expression ‘disposed’ is not used as a synonym of ‘sale’. Disposed is akin to discard or get-rid-off or clear away and implies articles that are ‘unfit for sale’. The expression ‘sale’ always implies an assurance of merchantability even if it is offered at a deep discount due to change in trends or end of season, etc. Also, articles are ‘unfit for sale’ not only when their quality is unsuited (as per law, if any, and as per trade understanding) but also in presentation, quality or quantity, such that it is not suited for effective use. For e.g., tester perfume in 5 ml bottles, shampoo in 10 ml sachets, etc., indicate lack of fitness for sale although the products may be of standard quality but are presented in non-standard quantity that they are ‘unfit for use’ as they are intended.
- (b) ‘By way of’ is an expression that refers to ‘the way of doing something’. It is not used for ‘such as’ or ‘namely’. Hence, ‘disposed off by way of’ means ‘gift or free sample’ are the ‘ways’ in which goods that are ‘unfit’ are given away. Given that ‘disposed’ is one of the forms of 'supply', care must be taken not to reverse credit when in fact, output tax should have been on the outward supply. Any error in this understanding could result in losing the reversed credit (after time lapse) and output tax still being demanded.

Now, 'gift' and 'free sample' may be understood not in isolation but in the context of 'disposal' and these being the 'ways' in which such disposal is taking place. This understanding clears any confusion about gift and free sample of articles of 'merchantable quality'. Gift is a form of transfer if it is irrevocable and hence it is supply. Free sample indicates delivery of goods for use or consumption on non-contractual basis. Articles put-up for distribution are 'unfit for sale'. Not that these articles are sub-standard or even harmful, but they are not in commercial quantity or presentation. For example, perfumes are presented in tester bottles which are very small pinch sized only to enthruse customers to 'use without buying' or shampoo presented in sachets and inserted inside magazines which are of insufficient quantity to satisfy actual bathing use but sufficient for customer to 'use without buying'. 'Lacking merchantability' means any aspect of merchantability that is absent, and quality is only one aspect and others are quantity, etc. When such articles 'lacking merchantability' are given away, that amounts to "disposal 'by way of' gift or free sample". Care must be taken not to gloss over the words "by way of" which greatly affects our conclusions.

But where the articles are 'fit for sale' and delivered (even without consideration) it will be deemed supply under para 1 of Schedule I. Refer detailed discussion of this deemed supply under Schedule I.

Where credit is availed on goods that are 'disposed of', then para 1 of Schedule I is attracted due to the words "...disposal of business assets where input tax credit has been availed on such assets". Once credit is reversed on account of the fact that the said goods are 'disposed off' then, there cannot be a second demand for tax by deeming fiction flowing from Schedule I when the said goods are taken out on account of disposal.

Some examples of goods 'not meant for supply' are as follows:

- Drug samples marked 'Physician's sample not to be sold'
- As per the Legal Metrology (Packaged Commodity) Rules, 2011 sale of packaged commodities by a manufacturer, importer or wholesale dealer to an Industrial consumer shall have the declaration 'Not for retail sale'.

Some experts argue that nothing done in business is free and therefore credit reversal would not always be sufficient compliance as even this activity is in the course and furtherance of business. This matter may also be tested in times to come. Reference may be made to discussion on various examples in the context of valuation under section 15 of 'free supplies' which may actually be for consideration that is in non-monetary form.

Implications under GST in case of expired medicines:

In case of pharmaceutical industry, the medicines carry expiry date and it is the duty of the manufacturer to destroy the unsold medicines on the date of expiry. Accordingly, the manufacturer collects such unsold expired medicines from various levels in the supply chain and destroys the expired medicine based on the provisions of the Drugs and Cosmetics Act, 1940. It would be relevant to note that the manufacturer compensates the supply chain for loss due to expired medicine. Circular 72/46/2018-GST dated 26.10.2018 has been issued to highlight the implications under GST on such expired medicine. These implications have been discussed below by way of an example

Assumption

- Medicine purchased / imported at ₹ 100 and GST paid ₹ 5
- Medicine sold to Distributor at ₹ 1000 and GST charged ₹ 100

Scenario	Clarification Issued – Options	Implications
Original Sale 2017-18 (till March 31, 2018) Expired stock returned By September 30, 2018	OPTION 1 1. Seller to issue credit note to distributor for ₹ 1000 + 100 2. Distributor to reverse credit of ₹ 100 3. Seller to reverse credit of ₹ 5 (GST paid on procurement)	Seller to receive expired stock under credit note route (option 1) and thereby restrict credit reversal to the tax paid on procurement
	OPTION 2 1. Distributor to issue Invoice for ₹ 1000 + 100 2. Seller to avail credit of the same. On destruction of goods, seller to reverse credit of ₹ 100 (GST paid on return supply)
Original Sale 2017-18 (till March 31, 2018) Expired stock returned after September 30, 2018	OPTION 1 1. Seller to issue credit note to distributor for ₹ 1000 + ₹ 0 2. Credit availed by distributor may be affected due to non-payment of consideration for the inward supply and return of stocks. However, distributor would claim compensation of ₹ 100 credit lost by him which may be a separate	Option 1 leads to reversal of credit of ₹ 105 whereas Option 2 leads to reversal of credit of ₹ 100. Effectively, the seller (importer) is required to reverse credit on the selling price which can be a substantial amount.

	taxable supply of 'tolerating and act' (of breach by seller). 3. Seller to reverse credit of ₹ 5 (GST paid on procurement)	This needs to be examined specifically in terms of section 18 of the Drugs and Cosmetics Act, 1940 which prohibits sale of expired stock
	OPTION 2 1. Distributor to issue Invoice for ₹ 1000 + 100 2. Seller to avail credit of the same 3. On destruction of goods, seller to reverse credit of ₹ 100 (GST paid on sales)

It is a wonder how 'expired medicines' can at all enjoy the same HSN as 'medicines'. Surely, something has occurred that brings about this categorization as 'expired'. And when HSN cannot remain the same, inquiry is required into what is the 'object of supply'. Question to inquire is whether they are some other goods or when it is not goods of any kind, whether this repayment of original billed value is therefore a service (in GST terms). It all depends on the contractual arrangement between the parties to see 'who bears the financial risk of expired drugs'. And this issue is common in all other sectors and there cannot be a 'one-fits-all' rule but in sectors like pharma or food products, there is some limits to contractual liberty that is set by the governing law.

Circular no. 105/24/2019-GST dated 28.06.2019 (now rescinded) had expressed certain views from Indian Contract Act that was not well received by trade, not so much of the principles brought out, but the delay in issuing such a circular as nearly two-years of business practices had gone in one way. Nothing new was said in this circular because it stated only certain 'application points' from the Contract law. And this circular was withdrawn by GST Council in its 37th meeting and very interestingly ab initio. Generally, when circulars were withdrawn under the central excise law, the withdrawal would be 'with reasons' such as, Court ruling to the contrary or change of law or change of thinking by CBEC (as it then was called). By withdrawing in silentio, more room seems to be left for the 'application points' brought out in this (now non-existent) circular to be tested in Courts. Experts advise great caution while writing up 'returns policy' in GST regime to consider the risks involved in ignoring these application points which may still be applied to issue notices without citing this circular (non-existent) but by adopting the application points contained in it.

(i) Any taxes paid in accordance with the provisions of sections 74, 129 and 130

Section 74 talks about payment of taxes in a situation where taxes are not paid or short paid or erroneously refunded or input tax credit wrongly availed or utilized by reason of "fraud or willful misstatement or suppression of facts". If the supplier is making payment of taxes under forward charge due to the aforesaid reasons, no input tax credit will be available to the recipient. In case of reverse charge, if the recipient is making payment of taxes under this section, even the recipient will not be allowed to avail input tax credit.

Section 129 talks about detention, seizure and release of goods and conveyance in transit. Further, section 130 mentions about confiscation of goods and/or conveyance or redemption fine and levy of penalty under other provisions of the Act. In both the cases if any payment is made by any person under these sections, no input tax credit in respect of these will be available.

Through this point, input tax credit is proposed to be blocked wherever mens rea is proven/accepted. In such cases, since taxes had not been paid earlier due to any fraudulent intent, no input tax credit is allowed by the law. But the question that comes up, say, in case of reverse charge demanded under section 74, is whether the registered person should claim the tax paid or not, because the question of 'fraud, etc.' will be decided by Tribunal/Court and the time-limit under section 16(4) will encourage registered person to claim credit on payment. Consider a registered person who forfeits credit on the basis of the SCN being under section 74 and later it turns out the Tribunal/Court confirmed demand but sets aside extended period. In other words, as per section 75(2), if 'fraud, etc.' alleged in a notice issued under 74 is not established then the same notice 'will be deemed' to be notice under section 73. In this case, credit was eligible by the registered person but was misguided by the fact that SCN was issued under 74. Great care and attention must be paid even to admit and pay tax demanded due to the direct and indirect implications under this clause (i).

18.1 Introduction

Input tax credit is normally available to a registered person who engages in providing taxable outward supplies and such person not being a composition taxpayer. However, in certain cases, credit would be available on inputs held in stock, inputs contained in semi-finished and finished goods and on capital goods even though the supplier was unregistered or engaged in exempt supplies or was under the composition scheme on the date of procurement of such goods or services. Conversely, instances where input tax credit legitimately availed needs to be reversed has also been dealt with in this section.

18.2 Analysis

Eligibility of input tax credit on inputs held in stock and contained in semi-finished and finished goods held in stock: The credit on inputs held in stock and inputs contained in semi-finished goods and finished goods held in stock is available in the following manner:

Supplier	Inputs	Input Services	Capital Goods	Stock to be considered as on
Liabe for registration (crosses the prescribed threshold limit) – Applies for registration within 30 days of becoming liable for registration and obtains registration	Available	Not Available	Not Available	Day immediately preceding the date from which he becomes liable to pay tax
Voluntary Registration	Available	Not available	Not available	Day immediately preceding the date of grant of registration
Composition scheme to regular scheme	Available	Not available	Available	Day immediately preceding the date from which supplier is liable to pay tax under regular scheme
Exempt supplies become taxable	Available	Not available	Available*	Day immediately preceding the date from which exempt supplies become taxable

* Only for capital goods previously used exclusively in making exempt supplies.

- Credit on inputs includes inputs and inputs contained in semi-finished and finished goods. Credit on input services is not available under any circumstance.
- Declaration in Form GST ITC-01 must be filed within thirty days from the date of becoming eligible to input tax credit. Rule 40 of the CGST Rules requires a declaration to be filed containing details of stocks and capital goods along with a certificate from a practicing Chartered Accountant or Cost Accountant where the aggregate credit of CGST, SGST/UTGST and IGST so claimed exceeds ₹ 2 lakhs.

- The supplier would not be entitled to credit of goods or services or both after expiry of one year from date of issue of tax invoice (this restriction applies even to capital goods though this may not have been the intention).
- Credit on capital goods shall be reduced by five percentage per quarter or part thereof from the date of invoice.
- Credits are subject to verification of details furnished by the supplier in Form GSTR-1 or Form GSTR-4 on the common portal only in case of conversion from composition to regular scheme or when exempt supplies become taxable supplies. Verification is not possible for new registration cases as the supplier was unregistered at the time of procurement.

NOTE:

In case exempt supply becomes taxable: There is no saving clause in the event the taxable person entertained a bona fide belief as to the non-taxability of certain supplies or availability of an exemption which is later overturned by a superior Court and the demand crystallizes. In this scenario, limitation of taking of input tax credit lands a double blow on this taxable person. That is, not only would GST have been paid on inputs, input services and capital goods on which no credit would have been availed (due to this bona fide view having been entertained) but also, the full extent of the output tax becomes payable (without any relief towards credit that would otherwise have been available) due to the decision of the superior Court. One needs to exercise caution while entertaining a view about non-taxability or exemption. At the same time, it is not permitted to take a hyper-conservative view – where even with the availability of a clear and absolute exemption, the taxable person chooses to pay GST in order to protect credit from the limitation. This option cannot be taken in view of the mandatory nature of such exemptions as clearly stated in explanation to section 11. It could lead to denial of credits as the supply was not taxable.

Examples:

- (i) A person becomes liable to pay tax on 1st August 2021 and has obtained registration on 15th August 2021. Such person is eligible for input tax credit on inputs held in stock as on 31st July 2021.
- (ii) A applies for voluntary registration on 5th August 2021 and obtained registration on 22nd August 2021. A is eligible for input tax credit on inputs in stock as on 21st August 2021.
- (iii) B, a registered person was paying tax under composition rate upto 30th August 2021. However, w.e.f. 31st August 2021, B becomes liable to pay tax under regular scheme. B is eligible for input tax credit on inputs held in stock as on closure of business hours on 30th August 2021.

It procures raw materials and inputs such as iron ore, chemicals, gases, etc. and capital goods including plant and machinery, for the manufacture of such iron and steel. Note 4: Rule 40(1)(a) of the CGST Rules provides that input tax credit on capital goods can be claimed after reducing 5% per quarter of a year or part thereof, from the date of invoice in respect of which capital goods are received. Therefore, the number of quarters is 1, being the first quarter of the year 2021. The reversal of credit would therefore be, to the extent of ₹ 18000 (5% of ₹ 3,60,000).

Section 18(4) mandates credit reversal when a registered person switches from regular scheme to composition scheme or goods and services supplied by him become wholly exempt:

- Pay an amount by debiting electronic cash ledger / credit ledger, equivalent to input tax credit of -
 - Inputs held in stock
 - Inputs contained in semi-finished or finished goods held in stock and
 - Capital goods
- On the day immediately preceding the date of such switch over/ date of exemption.
- Balance of input tax credit lying in the electronic credit ledger, after payment of the above said amount, shall lapse.
- Such amount is calculated in the manner to be prescribed under rule 44 of the CGST Rules, accordingly-
 - The amount of ITC relating to inputs held in stock, inputs contained in semi-finished and finished goods held in stock shall be reversed proportionately on the basis of the corresponding invoices on which credit had been availed by the registered taxable person on such inputs. If invoices are not available, ITC can be reversed on the basis of the prevailing market price of the goods on the effective date of switch over/ date of exemption. The details furnished on the basis of the prevailing market value shall be duly certified by a practicing Chartered Accountant or Cost Accountant.
 - ITC involved in the remaining useful life (in months) of capital goods is reversed on pro rata basis, taking the useful life as five years.

- ITC to be reversed on inputs and capital goods is calculated separately for ITC of CGST, SGST/ UTGST and IGST
- Reversed amount is added to the output tax liability of the registered person.

Input tax credit and change in constitution of registered person

The change in constitution of registered person due to sale, merger, demerger, amalgamation, lease or transfer or change in the ownership of business including transfer of liabilities provides for the following:

- (i) The registered person is allowed to transfer the input tax credit remaining unutilized in the electronic credit ledger to such sold, merged, demerged, amalgamated, leased or transferred business.
- (ii) Rule 41 prescribes such credit transfer be made on the common portal in Form GST ITC-02 and in case of demerger, credit to be transferred must be apportioned in the ratio of the value of assets of the new units as specified in demerger scheme. "Value of the assets" has been explained in the said rule to mean the value of the entire assets of the business whether or not input tax credit has been availed on them.
- (iii) A practicing Chartered Accountant or Cost Accountant to certify that the arrangement contains a specific provision for the transfer of liabilities.
- (iv) Details furnished in Form GST ITC-02 by the transferor would have to be accepted by the transferee on the common portal. Refer to the discussion on registration in case of such arrangements to examine the timing of seeking registration by the transferee.
- (v) The transferee to duly account for the inputs and capital goods received in the books of accounts.

ITC: CHANGE IN CONSTITUTION OF REGISTERED PERSON

Note: It is pertinent to mention here that the Board vide Circular No. 96/15/2019-GST, dated 28-3-2019 clarified issues in respect of transfer of input tax credit in case of death of sole proprietor.

Also, Clarification in respect of apportionment of input tax credit (ITC) in cases of business reorganization under section 18(3) of CGST Act read with rule 41(1) of CGST Rules has been provided by the Board vide C.B.I. & C. Circular No. 133/03/2020-GST, dated 23-3-2020

Transfer of credit on obtaining separate registration for multiple places of business within a State (Rule 41A)

If a registered person wishes to obtain separate registration for multiple places of business in a State, the law provides the mechanism for transfer of unutilized input tax credit lying in the electronic credit ledger to any or all new registrations within 30 days from obtaining such separate registrations. For this purpose, the registered unit needs to submit Form GST ITC-02A on the common portal. Such Form ITC-02A is to be accepted by the newly registered person on the common portal. Upon such acceptance, the input tax credit is transferred to these newly registered persons.

As regards the proportion of the input tax credit to be transferred, it has been provided that the transfer of input tax credit is to be divided in the ratio of the value of assets held by these persons at the time of registration. Such value of assets is to be taken as the value of the entire assets of the business whether or not input tax credit has been availed on them.

Supply of capital goods on which input tax credit has been taken

The registered person shall pay an amount equal to the higher of:

- o input tax credit taken on such capital goods as reduced by such prescribed percentage points or
- o the tax on the transaction value of such capital goods,

Note:

One striking difference becomes evident in Rule 40 in the manner of computation of ITC in respect of used capital goods under clause (a) of sub rule (1) and sub rule (2). While rule (1)(a) deals with input tax credit on capital goods after reducing tax paid on such capital goods by five percentage points per quarter of a year or part thereof, rule 40(2) specifies computation of input tax credit by reducing the input tax credit on capital goods at a rate of "five percentage points for every quarter or part thereof from the date of the issue of the invoice". Thereby ITC pertaining to remaining useful life of capital goods (in quarters*) is to be considered

From the above we may come to the following conclusion:

- For the purpose of clause (a) of sub-rule (1), 'quarter' shall mean a 'calendar quarter'
- For the purpose of sub-rule (2), the quarter shall be computed from the date on the invoice.

For example: Capital goods purchased on 25th March 2021 would be reduced by 5 percentage points for the quarter ending March 2021 for the purpose of clause (a) sub-rule (1) while the same assets would be reduced by 5 percentage points for the period between 25.03.2021 to 24.06.2021 and so on in case of sub rule (2).

SUPPLY OF CAPITAL GOODS ON WHICH ITC IS ALREADY TAKEN

Refractory bricks, moulds and dies, jigs and fixtures are supplied as scrap

The taxable person may pay tax on transaction value under section 15.

- Note- As per Rule 44(6) ITC involved in the remaining useful life (in months) of capital goods is reversed on pro rata basis, taking the useful life as five years.

18.3 Issues and Concerns

Applicability of section 18(6) is also a concern due to the practice of adopting 'useful life' of assets (being capital goods under GST) of less than 60 months. In such cases, experts are of the view that where full depreciation is claimed within, say, 36 months, it may be treated that the said capital goods have been 'written-off' (by the end of 36 months) so as to attract reversal of credit relatable to balance of 24 months (60 minus 36 months) in terms of section 17(5)(h).

Whether this view is far-fetched or not, it is advisable to (a) depreciate 95% of the cost and carry 5% as long as the said capital goods remain in use or (b) report every year after 36th month that the said capital goods although fully depreciated are 'still in use and possession' of the registered person. These steps could overcome the concerns expressed.

Section 16	Eligibility and conditions for taking input tax credit
Section 143	Job work procedure
Rule 55	Transportation of goods without issue of invoice

19.1 Introduction

This provision relates to availing credit of input tax on goods sent for job work.

19.2 Analysis

(i) Relevant Definitions

- Job work: Any treatment or process undertaken by a person on goods belonging to another registered person [section 2(68)].
- Job worker: A person who undertakes any treatment or process on goods belonging to another registered person.
- Principal: A person on whose behalf an agent carries on the business of supply or receipt of goods or services or both.

(ii) Entitlement of credit on inputs or capital goods:

The principal can take credit of input tax on inputs or capital goods sent to job-worker subject to fulfilment of the following conditions and restrictions as stipulated in section 19 and section 143 read with rule 45:

- o The credit of inputs / capital goods can be taken even if inputs / capital goods were sent directly to job-worker's premises without bringing it to principal's place of business.

- In case of direct supply, the period of 1 year / 3 years shall be reckoned from the date the job worker receives such inputs/ capital goods.
- The inputs / capital goods, after completion of job-work, are to be received back by the principal within 1 year / 3 years respectively, of their being sent out.
- If the inputs / capital goods are not received back within 1 year / 3 years, it shall be deemed that such inputs / capital goods had been supplied by principal to the job worker on the day when the said inputs / capital goods were sent out.
- In case of non-receipt of the inputs / capital goods within the time prescribed, the principal shall issue an invoice for the same and declare such supplies in his return for that particular month in which the time period of one year/ three years expires.
- To issue a delivery challan for transfer of inputs/ capital goods to the job-worker including when they are sent directly (to maintain paper trail of transaction)
- The details of delivery challans for goods dispatched to job worker or received from job worker or sent from one job worker to another during the quarter shall be included in Form GST ITC-04 to be furnished on or before 25th day of the month succeeding that quarter.
- Delivery challan shall contain details as prescribed in rule 55 of CGST Rules. All delivery challans issued in respect of inputs sent to a job-worker and those received back are to be reported in Form GSTR-1

Points to be considered/ Concerns

- Given that non-receipt of inputs or capital goods within a period of one year and three years respectively would be deemed to be a supply as on the date on which goods were originally dispatched to the job worker, it is preferred that a principal raises a tax invoice and supplies the goods against such invoice at the time of original supply, if he is certain that such goods would not be received within the period specified above. However, this being uncertain, the principal has to bear the burden of interest, as interest would be calculated from the date on which the goods were originally dispatched and not from the date on which the period of one year or three years, as the case may be, expires.
- Some experts are of the view that unless the principal is 'registered', the activity would not be 'job-work'. And when the supply – treatment or process – is not job-work, then it would also not be eligible to be classified under HSN 9988 in the Annexure – Scheme of Classification of Services. Although the nature of work performed is the same whether the principal is registered or not, the classification of supplies should be based on another suitable HSN code in Chapter 99 because paragraph 3 of Schedule II of the CGST Act (extracted below) does refer to 'another person's goods' and not 'another registered person's goods'.

“3. Treatment or process

Any treatment or process which is applied to another person’s goods is a supply of services.”

Hence, due to the registration status of the principal, the treatment or process may or may not qualify as job-work but in either case, the work of the supplier would continue to be ‘treated as supply of services’ though not under HSN 9988.

- It must be noted that while every manufacture may encompass ‘process or job-work’, every job-work need not necessarily result in manufacture. It is for this reason that in the rate Notification No. 11/2017-CT(R), dt.28.06.2017, manufacturing services has been separately mentioned for work carried out on “physical inputs owned by others”.

Treatment or process undertaken may or may not result in manufacture [section 2(72)] Where processing of raw material or inputs results in the emergence of a new product it would be manufacture. Whether it results in manufacture or not, the treatment or process would always be ‘treated as supply of services’ in view of the mandate specified in entry no. 3, Schedule II of the CGST Act. Manufacture is a sub-set of job-work. And job-work will not be job-work if the principal is unregistered. Reference may be made to be recent changes in entry no. 26 of Notification No. 11/2017-CT(R), dt.28.06.2017, as follows:

Sub-entry under entry 26	Keywords from Description	Sub-entry applicable only
		if Principal is:		If new article emerges
		Registered	Unregistered
(i), (ia), (ib), (ic) and (id)	Services by way of job work....	✓	✗	✗
(ii), (iia) and (iii)	Services by way of any treatment or process	✓	✓	✗
(iv)	Manufacturing services....	✓	✓	✓

- Now, ‘goods belonging to another’ does not mean 100% of the goods required in the job-work must be provided by the Principal. It is common and often inevitable, for the job-worker to apply his own goods. Goods required for job-work can generally be identified as primary, secondary and ancillary material. If the job-worker applies ancillary material in the course of carrying out the treatment or process, the transaction does not cease to be job-work. Similarly, if the Principal provides only ancillary material, it is not justifiable to regard the transaction as job-work. Hence, a reasonable construction of the definition of paragraph 3, Schedule II requires the Principal to provide the ‘primary material’ at least to qualify a transaction to be termed as 'job work'. Although there are no infallible tests or undisputed guiding principles or no one rule can be prescribed, the classification into primary, secondary, and ancillary itself is a subjective matter. Reasonable construction is required based on the role, each component plays in relation to the finished product in terms of function and identity to determine 'goods belonging to another' correctly.

- Job-working must not be confused with repair or maintenance. Job-working creates the functionality of an article, but repair or maintenance restores or improves the functionality already created and possessed by that article or thing.
- As regards 'movement of goods' by Principal to job-worker, it is not a supply for the reason that the ingredients required to constitute supply [as detailed in the explanation of clause (a) to (c) under section 7(1)] are not satisfied. It is for this reason that section 19(3) and 19(6) are required to 'deem' this movement of goods to be a supply in the event of failure of job-worker to return the processed goods within the permitted time (1 year for inputs and 3 years for capital goods, respectively). Further, sections 19(3) and 19(6) 'deem' it to be a supply not on the date of expiry of the permitted time to return them, but retrospectively on the date when the inputs / capital goods were originally sent 'for' job-work.

Deeming fiction is capable of providing a meaning that is otherwise not available to a word or phrase. Deeming fiction is used with great caution by the lawmakers and when it is used, its construction must be with the same caution and seriousness. Hence, 'movement of goods' for the purpose of job-work is not supply but is 'deemed' to be a supply by failure of a contingency or condition-subsequent.

- As discussed earlier, loss of goods (inputs or capital goods) during the processing or manufacture of output is not liable to reversal of credit under section 17(5)(h). Now, when inputs have been issued to a job-worker and there is some loss of inputs in the hands of job worker, whether the same would not be liable for reversal of credit.

Conversion of inputs into processed output on job work basis necessarily involves normal loss. Even if, the extent of normal loss has been recorded (as there is no provision in GST law to report the same prior to sending inputs to job worker), non-receipt of inputs does not amount to deemed supply under section 19(3). However, any abnormal loss in job worker's hand will not enjoy this relief but be deemed supply and attract tax in the hands of principal. Time of supply will be the date when the inputs were issued for job work and hence attract interest also. Note the divergence in the treatment of abnormal loss in the hands of the principal which is saved due to actual use albeit inefficiently by the principal whereas such abnormal loss in the hands of the job worker is impacted by the 'deeming' fiction in section 19(3). Divergence is not uncommon when legal fiction operates. These implications may be taken care of while complying with the GST law because GST is a self-assessment-based tax and the taxpayer is obliged to inquire into all these aspects and report voluntarily.

- It is section 16 and not section 19 that allows input tax credit, but section 19 permits taking of input tax credit even when the inputs (or capital goods) are not first received at the premises of the Principal but delivered directly to job-worker. Reference may be made to the explanation to section 16(2)(b) that delivery of goods or services to any other person 'on behalf of' or 'on account of' would be sufficient compliance with this condition. This explanation is not only applicable to job-work situation but to others as well.

Section 19 also does not deny or recover the input tax credit already availed by the principal on the occasion of sending them to the job-worker. When movement of goods for job-work is not a supply, where is the need for a provision to permit continuation of credit that was already availed validly. Since credit has been availed, failure to use the inputs (or capital goods) as 'intended' under section 16(1) would cause a break-down of the credit scheme – to allow credit only when the said goods are subsequently supplied and are taxable. And for this reason, transfer of business assets on which credit availed is 'declared' to be supply in paragraph 1, Schedule I and diversion for non-business use (in certain cases) is 'treated' as supply in paragraphs 4(a) and 4(b), Schedule II. But there is no provision to impute supply characteristics to 'movement of goods for job-work'. This responsibility is cast by sections 19(3) and 19(6).

- This can be contrasted with the 'time of supply' of goods sent-on-approval under section 31(7). Here, the date of acceptance by customer (or end of 6th month) is recognized as supply and hence registers 'time of supply'. It is interesting to note that there is a deeming fiction employed here because none is required. In other words, 'sending goods on approval' is not a supply for the same reason that the ingredients required to constitute supply (as detailed in the explanation to clauses (a) to (c) under section 7(1)) are not satisfied. And such a test can validly be applied for verifying whether 'movement of goods for job-work' is supply or not. By applying the same test to 'sending goods on approval', the 'time of supply' is not the date of sending them but the date of their acceptance by customer (or end of 6th month). The time of supply in case of non-receipt of the inputs / capital goods within the time prescribed (one year/ three years) by the job-worker, the principal shall issue an invoice and time of supply for the same will be the date when the inputs/ capital goods were issued for job work.

20.1 Introduction

This section sets forth the way input tax credit (of services) is distributed to supplier of goods or services or both of same entity having same PAN. Procedure for distribution is given in rule 39 of the CGST Rules.

20.2 Analysis

- (i) An input service distributor (ISD) shall distribute the eligible ITC in accordance with rule 39 elucidated in the following paras. Both eligible and ineligible credits are to be distributed such that distributable credit is 'nil' each month. It is for the recipient-branch to disallow ineligible credits. Distribution-document must suitably indicate the nature of credit distributed based on HSN, description and delivery details so that recipient-branch can demonstrate on enquiry that the conditions in sections 16 and 17 are duly satisfied and credit retained by such recipient-branch is only eligible credit and not ineligible credit. Experts advise that even in the absence of express mention in rule 54, the responsibilities of recipient-branch cannot be discharged without collecting information in possession of ISD, especially when they share the same PAN.
- (ii) ISD is an office of the supplier of goods or services or both where a document (like invoice) of services attributable to other locations are received (since they might be registered separately). Since the services relate to other locations the corresponding credit should be transferred to such locations (having separate registrations) as services are supplied from there. Care should be taken to ensure that an inter-branch supply of services should not be misinterpreted as a distribution by ISD. Remember that an ISD cannot be an office that does any supply of its own but must be one that merely collects invoice for services and issues prescribed document for its distribution.

- (iii) ISD cannot normally be used in a situation where there is a liability to pay GST. It can only receive input tax credits on invoices related to input services and distribute such credit in the manner discussed below. An ISD cannot discharge tax liability under reverse charge. This would require obtaining another registration as a regular registered person and discharge RCM liability. An ISD is therefore required to be 'nothing more than an office that receives/distributes credit' without having any of the attributes of a 'place of business' by itself.

Illustration 1: Corporate office of XYZ company Ltd., is at New Delhi, having its business locations of selling and servicing of goods at New Delhi, Chennai, Mumbai and Kolkata. If the software license and maintenance is used at all the locations, invoice indicating CGST and SGST is received at Corporate Office. Since software is used at all the four locations, the input tax credit of entire services cannot be claimed at New Delhi. The same has to be distributed to all four locations. For that reason, the New Delhi Corporate office has to act as ISD to distribute the credit.

Illustration 2: Yoko Infotech Ltd. has its head office in Mumbai, for which it additionally has an ISD registration. The company has 12 units across India including its head office. It receives the following invoices in the name of the ISD at Mumbai, for the month of January 2021:

Invoice A: ₹ 100,000 @ IGST 18,000 issued by Peace Link Technologies (registered in Uttar Pradesh) for repairs executed in 3 units – Bangalore, Kolkata, Gurgaon (Note: Gurgaon location is not registered as it is engaged in making only exempt supplies).

Invoice B: ₹ 300,000 @ CGST 27,000, SGST 27,000 issued by M/s. Tec Force (registered in Pune) for repairs executed in 3 units – Mumbai, Bangalore, Kolkata.

Invoice C: ₹ 500,000 @ IGST 90,000 issued by M/s. Georgia Marketing (registered in Bangalore) for marketing services for the company.

Invoice D: ₹ 10,000 @ CGST 900 and SGST ₹900 issued by M/s. Gopal Coffee works (registered in Mumbai) for supply of beverages during the month to its Mumbai unit.

All taxes have been considered at 18% (CGST and SGST at 9% each).

The turnover of each of the units during the year 2019-21 is: Mumbai: 1 crore; Bangalore 2 crore; Kolkata 1 crore; Gurgaon 2 crore; each of the other 8 units: 50 lakhs, resulting in the aggregate turnover of ₹ 10 crore during the previous financial year.

The distribution of credits by the ISD shall be as under:

Credit of CGST, SGST and IGST on invoice		Total eligible credits distributed as CGST, SGST and IGST as applicable (Refer Note below)
CGST	27,000	-	-	6,750	-	-	6,750
SGST	27,000	-	-	6,750	-	-	6,750
IGST	108,000	52,200	26,100	9,000	25,200	4,500 each (viz. total of 36,000)	148,500
TOTAL	162,000	52,200	26,100	22,500	25,200	36,000	162,000

It can be seen from the illustration that credit of CGST of ₹ 27,000 is distributed as CGST credit only to the extent of ₹ 6,750; likewise, credit of SGST of ₹ 27,000 is distributed as SGST credit only to the extent of ₹ 6,750. This is because, the intra-State service billed to the ISD is attributable to 1 unit in the same State as the ISD and 2 other units located in different State. Thus, the balance of CGST credit and SGST credit is distributed as IGST to such units. This is the reason why the credit of IGST lying with the ISD prior to distribution is only ₹ 108,000 while the credit of IGST that is distributed aggregates to ₹ 148,500.

Note 1:

- The credit of IGST should always be distributed as IGST credit to all the units to which the service is attributable, regardless of where they are located.
- The credits should be distributed only to those units to which the service is attributable. Given that the service mentioned in the case of Invoice A is attributable only to Bangalore, Kolkata and Gurgaon, the entire input tax credit applicable to the case should be distributed to the said 3 units, on a pro rata basis in the ratio of their respective 'Turnover in State' to the aggregate of the 3 'Turnover in State' (i.e., 2 Cr + 1Cr + 2 Cr). Further, no differentiation is made as to whether the unit is registered or not, and therefore, credit attributable to the Gurgaon unit is distributed to that unit although it is not registered, which implies, it is a loss of credit.
- The 'turnover in State' is arrived at a value for the 'relevant period'. Since all 12 units were operational during the preceding financial year, the relevant period would be the preceding financial year.

Note 2:

- The credit of CGST and SGST should be distributed as IGST credit to all the units located outside the State in which the ISD is located, and as CGST and SGST respectively, in case of distribution of credit to a unit located in the same State as the ISD. Thus, the CGST and SGST credits are distributed as IGST credits to Bangalore and Kolkata, and as CGST and SGST respectively, to Mumbai.

- Given that the service supplied in terms of Invoice B is attributable only to Bangalore, Kolkata and Mumbai, the entire input tax credit applicable to the case should be distributed to the said 3 units, on a pro rata basis in the ratio of their respective 'Turnover in State' to the aggregate of the 3 'Turnover in State' (i.e., 2 Cr + 1Cr + 1 Cr).

Note 3:

- The credit of IGST is distributed as IGST to all the units to which the service is attributable.
- Invoice C relates to a supply of service that is attributable to all the units, and hence, the credits would be distributed on a pro-rata basis of the 'Turnover in State' of each of the units, to the aggregate of 'Turnover in State' of all the 12 units, i.e., ₹10 Cr.;
- For convenience of presentation, only one column is shown to reflect the distribution to each of the 8 units, having the same 'turnover in State', and to which the same invoice is attributable.

Note 4:

Given that the services for receipt of food and beverages would not be eligible input services, the taxes relating to Invoice D should be distributed as ineligible input tax (900 + 900), and the distribution must be done separately.

Since the service is wholly attributable to the Mumbai unit, the distribution is done only to such unit.

- (iv) Distribution of credit where ISD and recipient are located in different States shall be as under in terms of rule 39(1)(e) and (f) of CGST Rules
- CGST as IGST;
 - SGST as IGST and
 - IGST as IGST
- by issuing prescribed document mentioning the amount of credit distributed to recipient of credit located in different States.
- (v) In cases where an entity has different registration within the same State, the ISD shall distribute credit of:
- CGST as CGST
 - SGST as SGST and
 - IGST as IGST

by issuing prescribed document mentioning the amount of credit distributed to recipient being a business vertical.

Illustration: If the corporate office of XYZ Ltd being an ISD situated in Bangalore and also having locations at Chennai, Mumbai, Kolkata, Mysore and Belagavi. XYZ Ltd receives invoices indicating ₹ 4 lakhs of CGST and SGST each in case of one service and ₹ 7 lakhs as IGST in case of another service, it shall distribute credit of:

- CGST of ₹ 4 Lakhs as IGST
- SGST of ₹ 4 Lakhs as IGST and
- IGST of ₹ 7 Lakhs also as IGST to its locations at Chennai, Mumbai, Kolkata and shall distribute credit of:

- CGST of ₹ 4 Lakhs as CGST
- SGST of ₹ 4 Lakhs as SGST and
- IGST of ₹ 7 Lakhs also as IGST to its locations at Mysore and Belagavi, being another business verticals in the State of Karnataka.

under a prescribed document containing the amount of credit distributed.

- (vi) Conditions to distribute credit by ISD: The conditions to distribute the credit by ISD to supplier of goods or services or both having same PAN as that of ISD i.e., recipient of credit, are as follows:
- (a) Credit to be distributed to recipient under ISD invoice contents/details of which are prescribed under rule 54 of the CGST Rules. Such document should be issued to each of the recipient of credit.
 - (b) Credit distributed should not exceed the credit available for distribution.
 - (c) Tax paid on input services used by a particular recipient (registered as supplier), is to be distributed only to that recipient.
 - (d) Credit of tax paid on input services used by more than one recipient shall be distributed to all of them in the ratio of turnover of the recipient in a State/ Union territory to aggregate turnover of all recipients to whom the input service is attributable and which are operational during the current year.

Note: The period to be considered for computation of aforesaid turnovers is the previous financial year of that recipient. If it does not have any turnover in the previous financial year, then previous quarter of the month to which the credit is being distributed.

- (vii) For a detailed discussion on tax invoice or credit note or debit note to be issued by an ISD reference may be made to Chapter 8 which clearly indicates the particulars to be included in such a document.

Illustration 1: A Ltd as an ISD has input service credit of ₹ 35 lakhs used by more than one location, to be distributed among recipient's locations X, Y and Z. The turnover of X, Y, Z during the preceding financial year, is ₹ 10 crores, ₹ 15 crores and ₹ 5 crores respectively. The credit of ₹ 5 lakhs pertain to input service received only by Z. The credit attributable to X, Y, Z are as follows:

Particulars	Amount (in ₹)
Total Credit to be distributed as ISD	35 Lakhs
Credit of service used only by Z location	5 Lakhs
Credit available for distribution for all units	30 Lakhs
Credit distributable to X 10 crores / 30 crores * 30 Lakhs	10 Lakhs
Credit distributable to Y 15 crores / 30 crores * 30 Lakhs	15 Lakhs
Credit distributable to Z 5 crores / 30 crores * 30 Lakhs = 5 Lakhs Credit directly attributable to Z = 5 Lakhs	10 Lakhs

Illustration 2: Distribution of input tax credit by an ISD to its units is shown as under:

M/s XYZ Ltd, having its head Office at Delhi, is registered as ISD. It has three units in different States namely 'Delhi', 'Rajasthan' and 'Gujarat' which are operational in the current year. M/s XYZ Ltd furnishes the following information for the month of July 2021 and asks to distribute the credit to various units.

- (i) CGST paid on services used only for Delhi Unit: ₹ 300000/-
- (ii) IGST, CGST and SGST paid on services used for all units: ₹ 1200000/-
- (iii) Total Turnover of the units for the Financial Year 2020-21 are as follows:-

Unit	Turnover (₹)
Delhi	5,00,00,000
Rajasthan	3,00,00,000
Gujarat	2,00,00,000
Total	10,00,00,000

Solution: The Computation of Input Tax Credit distributed to various units shall be as under :-

Particulars	Total Credit Available	Delhi	Jaipur	Gujarat
		Credit distributed to all Units
CGST paid on services used only for Delhi Unit.	3,00,000	3,00,000	0	0
IGST, CGST and SGST paid on services used in all units- Distribution on pro rata basis to all the units which are operational in the current year (Refer Note1)	12,00,000	6,00,000	3,60,000	2,40,000
Total	15,00,000	9,00,000	3,60,000	2,40,000

Note 1: Credit distributed pro rata basis based on the turnover of all the units are as under: -

- Unit Delhi: $(5,00,00,000/10,00,00,000)*12,00,000 = ₹ 6,00,000$
- Unit Rajasthan : $(3,00,00,000/10,00,00,000)*12,00,000 = ₹ 3,60,000$
- Unit Gujarat: $(2,00,00,000/10,00,00,000)*12,00,000 = ₹ 2,40,000$

The relevant period for distribution of credit shall be as under:

- If the recipient of credit has turnover in their States during the preceding financial year of the year in which credit is distributed - such financial year.
- If some or all recipients do not have any turnover in their States in preceding financial year of the year in which credit is distributed – last quarter for which details of such turnover of all the recipients are available, previous to the month during which credit is to be distributed.

The analysis of above provision in a pictorial form is summarised as follows:

Input Service Distributor – Section 20.

- ITC is distributed to supplier of goods or services or both of same entity having the same PAN as the ISD
- Common services used at / for

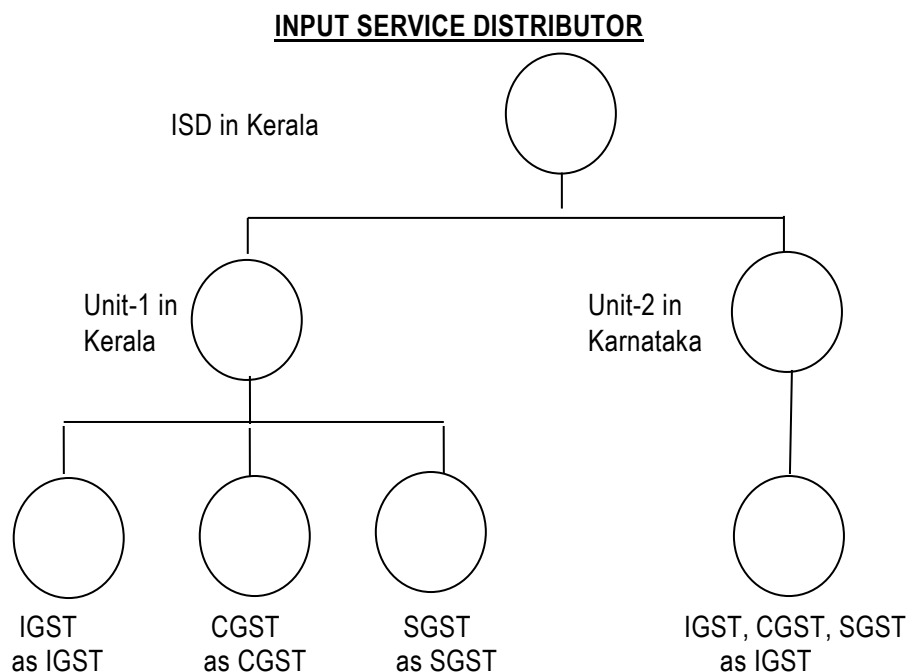

Illustration 3: Consider an example where a company has a Branch-M in Mumbai and a Branch-D in Delhi. This company is incorporated in Delhi. Branch-M incurs various expenses towards supply of services in Delhi where CGST-SGST is liable to be charged in Delhi by that supplier. Obviously, credit of this tax cannot be availed by Branch-D as the underlying expense is not 'in relation to business' of Branch-D and because it is exclusively in relation to business of Branch-M. When credit cannot be claimed by Branch-D and Branch-M does not want to forego this credit, the option available is for Branch-M to obtain ISD registration in Delhi. Now, in the same manner, if Branch-D incurs expenses in Maharashtra (say in Nasik), the implications would be that credit will not be allowable to Branch-M for these supplies and Branch-D is eligible to obtain ISD registration in Maharashtra if credit is not to be foregone.

From this example, the following questions arise for careful consideration:

Question	Response
(i) Is ISD registration required in 'all but one' States for a registered taxable person? (All but one may be all States/UT other than home State)	Yes. If tax charged by the supplier is not IGST but CGST-SGST of the host-State where supplies are taking place, then a registered taxable person would require ISD registration in each those host-States except home-State.
(ii) Is ISD registration an entity-level office	Yes, ISD is an entity-level office because

in a given State or is it a registered taxable persons-specific office in other States (outside the home State of that registered taxable person)?	section 2(61) defines ISD as “...an office of the supplier ... which receives tax invoice...” It does not say that it is an “office of the registered taxable person which receives tax invoice...”
(iii) Will ISD registration be required for each registered taxable person in ‘all but one’ State? (All but one may be all States/UT other than home State)	No. One entity-level ISD registration in all States will suffice for credit distribution requirement of all registered taxable persons having same PAN
(iv) Can an ISD distribute credit of taxes paid in that State alone (whether IGST or CGST-SGST) to registered taxable persons in all other States or only to that State for whose benefit the ISD registration was obtained?	Since ISD is an entity-level registration, one ISD in a State can distribute credit to all registered taxable persons in all other States having same PAN. Further, this ISD can also distribute credit to separately registered business verticals in that State.
(v) When GSTIN registration is obtained in one State, is there any need to also obtain ISD in the same State or is GSTIN and ISD registrations mutually exclusive in a given State?	Yes, ISD registration is required as GSTIN registration does not permit distribution of credit. If taxes are paid which are not related to the business of that registered taxable person in that State, then for want of ‘nexus’, credit cannot be availed by him. And to save from loss of credit, ISD registration is the only option to distribute this credit whichever registered taxable person (called ‘recipient of credit’) satisfies this nexus test. Where it is suggested in Q1 that ISD registration will not be required in every State, if costs incurred are cross charged then, requirement of ISD registration may be overcome in this instance. OR No; ISD registration will not be required if cross-charge of supplies is made from the GSTIN available.
(vi) Can a Company which has independent	Yes, the Company could opt to do so. This is

operations in all 29 States and 2 UTs and is therefore registered in all 31 locations be required to have 31 ISD registrations?	because each registered taxable person is stated to be truly independent of other business (of registered taxable persons) and receives supplies in those host-States where CGST-SGST paid in those host-States is to be distributed to the relevant home-State.
(vii) Is it possible, when GSTIN registration is already available in any given State, for the Company to completely avoid ISD registration?	No, for the reasons stated in (vi) and (i) above, it would not be possible to avoid ISD registration.
(viii) Can a Company, to avoid ISD compliances, decide to avoid ISD registration in every State where it is already having GSTIN registration?	It is possible that a Company may consider the possibility of doing so subject to loss of legitimate credits which could have been availed as an ISD.
(ix) If a Company were to instruct all registered taxable persons in a State who may have credit loss in other States, can it misdirect the suppliers into issuing tax invoice with GSTIN of that State?	Yes, such a practice may not be uncommon in trade for a Company to misdirect a supplier to optimize credits. Care must be taken to avoid such instances; however, supplier's responsibility would not extend to examining the 'nexus' while issuing tax invoice.
(x) Is ISD registration necessary in every State where this 'nexus' test cannot be satisfied by each registered taxable person?	Yes, as explained in (vii) above, ISD registration is necessary in every State where 'nexus' test is not fulfilled.
(xi) If multiple ISD registrations or GSTIN-plus-ISD registrations are unavoidable (as explained above), is there any solution to resolve this multiplicity of monthly and quarterly compliances?	Yes, only if link is established between the 'no nexus' supplies in a State and the registered taxable person in that same State. If no such 'nexus' exists, credit claim by registered taxable person becomes improper. If nexus is established, please examine valuation of inter-branch supply of services per proviso to Rule 28 or as per Rule 30 of the CGST Rules.

ISD is not merely a matter of compliance but involves great revenue implications to a registered taxable person. Compliance would also not be nominal. So, this is yet another indicator of the business model that has been in place until now has reached end-of-life and a new model needs to be examined. Consider the following example of a CA in practice with branches in 3 States:

Common facts for consideration
Head office	Maharashtra
Branch offices	West Bengal and Delhi
Client base	All 3 States
Skills based	Distributed in all offices, based on the assignment, staff from all offices join to complete the assignment
Completion	Sign-off only by Partners who are in Maharashtra and West Bengal

Business models and their comparison are as follows:

Criteria	Under Erstwhile Law	Under GST Law – Option A	Under GST Law – Option B
ST (Service tax) /GST registration	Centralized at Mumbai	All 3 branches	All 3 branches
Billing to clients	From all 3 offices	From Mumbai only	From all 3 offices
Internal billing	None	Branches issue tax invoice to HO at 'cost plus 10%' as per Rule 30 of the CGST Rules	Every branch including HO to bill each other for their respective contribution on 'revenue split' or 'proportion of contribution' method
ST credit of branches	Availed at Mumbai due to centralized registration (ISD registration not required)	Branches and HO avail input tax credit on tax invoices issued by respective suppliers	Branches and HO avail input tax credit on tax invoices issued by respective suppliers including internal bills
ST credit at HO	Mumbai credits, entity-level credits and branch-specific credits	HO retains credit of all entity-level credits and avails credit of tax invoice issued by branches	HO retains credit of all entity-level credits
Loss, cost or risk	None	IGST outflow on non-credit costs included in valuation and 10% mark-up. Non-credit costs of branches are	Nexus risk on credits: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> entity-level costs like audit fee central vendor bills like data-telecom, salaries, depreciation, etc.	travel, etc. Administrative challenge in assignment-level billing allocation

Mitigation	NA	Branch to invoice HO on 30 th in respect of client-level billings due on 1 st of next month so that the incremental IGST outflow from HO to branches is recovered quickly	GST does not impose any 'one-to-one' correlation of credits. Entity-level credit can be contended to be allowed in HO. Assignment-level billing allocation left to each branch to self-regulate

There is no doubt that the above are not recommendations but for comparative illustration regarding application of the law to a business and to highlight that it is impossible to continue the erstwhile business model in GST, at least in many sectors.

The illustrations considered in this section are matters to be considered for discussion/deliberations only and are not views envisaged. The reader may or may not agree with the views in the discussion in this Chapter/section.

Experts express great concern with respect of ISD in GST and call out the following areas of concern:

- a) ISD in GST is not identical to ISD in Service tax regime;
- b) Taxable person registered in one city in a State is considered a registered person in every city in that State unless another registration in the same State is obtained;
- c) ISD in GST is an 'office' that 'receives invoice' and 'distributes credit'. These are the three key principles in section 2(61). In other words, ISD does nothing else, reason being, when there is an office that is a taxable person (making taxable outward supplies), for that office to claim as an ISD, that is, merely receiving invoice and distributing credit is highly questionable;
- d) FAQ on Banking, Insurance and Stock Brokers Sector issued by Government (available on cbic.gov.in) inter alia states that:

Sr. No.	Question	Answer
54.	Are services supplied by a Bank to its branch / head-office outside India, which are neither intermediary services nor services	GST is a destination-based consumption tax. Such services provided by a Bank or the branch of a foreign Bank in India to its offshore branch / head-office, which are

	to account holders, taxable under GST?	neither intermediary services nor services to account holders, are inter-State supply of services between distinct establishments (as per section 7(5)(a) read with Explanation to section 8 of the IGST Act, 2017), and will be taxable in India, as the location of the supplier is in India and the place of supply is outside India. Such services will not be treated as exports in view of the sub-clause (v) of section 2(6) of the IGST Act, 2017 read with Explanation 1 to section 8 of the IGST Act, 2017.
55.	Will the management oversight or stewardship activities performed in relation to business operations by the Head Office of a Bank to a Branch in India be considered as a supply of services by the Head Office even when there is no consideration charged by the Head Office, nor any expenditure recorded in the books of account of the Branches?	As per Schedule – I to the CGST Act, 2017, supply of services between distinct entities will be a taxable supply even in absence of a consideration.
56.	If tax is payable on provision of management oversight or stewardship services by a related person, what shall be the value of supply when no invoice is raised, no payment is made by recipient or no entry is made in the books of accounts of the recipient of service? What will be the time of supply?	As per Rule 28 of the CGST Rules, 2017, the Bank may obtain a certificate from the Branch or Office providing the estimated cost of rendering the support. It may be backed by a certificate issued by a Chartered Accountant or Cost Accountant. In such cases, the time of supply shall be the date when such costs are determined or certificate is received and the GST liability on the said costs shall be discharged accordingly. This can be done before the expiry of the quarter during which such supply was

		made as provided in 2nd proviso to Rule 47 of the CGST Rules, 2017. For this purpose a document may be issued by the entity supplying such services
--	--	---

From the above, it can be inferred and observed that:

- HO of a bank is providing taxable service (Q54) to its branches and by implication not ISD. While under service tax, HO of a bank was operating as an ISD. This brings out the dissimilarity in ISD under GST compared to Service tax;
 - Services provided by HO is referred (Q55) to as 'management oversight or stewardship services' is liable to tax in terms of para 2 of Schedule I. When HO of a bank is said to provide such services, HO of a company or firm or proprietary concern with more than one registrations cannot be managing with anything less and operating without 'oversight' on the activities of all its distinct persons; and
 - Valuation of management oversight or stewardship services (Q56) is referred to rule 28;
- e) But trade has continued to operate HO (regional or zonal office also) as ISD under GST and this is an area of great concern.

Concerns highlighted by experts are:

- (i) Correctness of ISD registration which ought to have been a cross-charge of services.
- (ii) Credit at the receiving locations may not be disputed but outward supply (cross-charge) can be agitated.
- (iii) Demands being raised under section 74 (which in this case could well satisfy) may result in forfeiture of credit by branches.

It is therefore advised to revisit all ISD registrations in GST to examine if, in fact, that HO or branch does not provide any taxable supplies in this nature – oversight or stewardship. Experts express concern that co-existence of regular registration and ISD registration in the same premises is dangerous and continuing to ignore the implications could border on being reckless. In case there is advantageous tariff, then the implications can be debilitating and furnish motive for doing so for the enterprise.

20.3 Issues and Concerns

ISD registration at a particular location cannot be a location which constitutes "fixed establishment" (FE) under section 2(50) and every FE is also a "place of business" under section 2(85) which attracts requirement of registration under section 22. As a result of this flow of implications, experts express concern that ISD and FE registrations are mutually exclusive. Now, FE is a place which is represented by "sufficient degree of permanence in human and technical resources". As such, if ISD location has (i) a physical premises and (ii) permanent staff employed, such location is less likely to support ISD registration rather than regular registration of FE. Experts caution that ISD location that passes the test of FE location, may be exposed to the risk that (i) output tax may be demanded on the costs at such ISD location and (ii) branches receiving credit would be denied credit of such output tax if demand is supported under section 74 (credit previously distributed as ISD, albeit erroneously) may still be left undisturbed. However, it is also seen that there are several taxpayers holding ISD registration in States where they also have regular registration and this is the area of concern, that the ISD location would, in fact, be a FE location.

20.4 Comparative review

These provisions are similar to the provisions contained in rule 7 of CENVAT Credit Rules for distribution of credit of input service by an ISD.

It appears that the distribution of credit among the recipients prescribed in CENVAT Credit Rules has been continued in the GST law. The conditions for distribution of credit for each recipient also appear to be the same as before.

21.1 Introduction

The CGST Act clearly lays down that credit distribution is not 'to self', that is, a registered taxable person cannot distribute credit to himself. Each registered person being a distinct person under section 25, must distribute credit to another registered taxable person but having the same PAN to whom the credit is most accurately attributable. The consequence of incorrect distribution, due to inadvertence or misapplication of the provisions, are discussed under the head "Analysis".

21.2 Analysis(i) Excess Credit distributed in contravention of the provisions

Excess credit distributed to one or more recipient of credit in contravention of ISD provisions under section 20 is recoverable from the recipient of such credit along with interest. The recovery would be under section 73 or 74.

Example-1 Total credit available to ISD is 15,00,000/- and the credit distributed to all the units is ₹ 16,50,000/- (i.e., Delhi 10,00,000, unit Jaipur ₹ 4,00,000 and unit Gujarat ₹ 2,50,000). What will be the consequences?

Solution: The excess credit of 1,50,000 (₹ 16,50,000- ₹ 15,00,000) distributed would be recovered from the recipient along with interest and the provisions of section 73 or 74 shall apply mutatis mutandis for effecting such recovery.

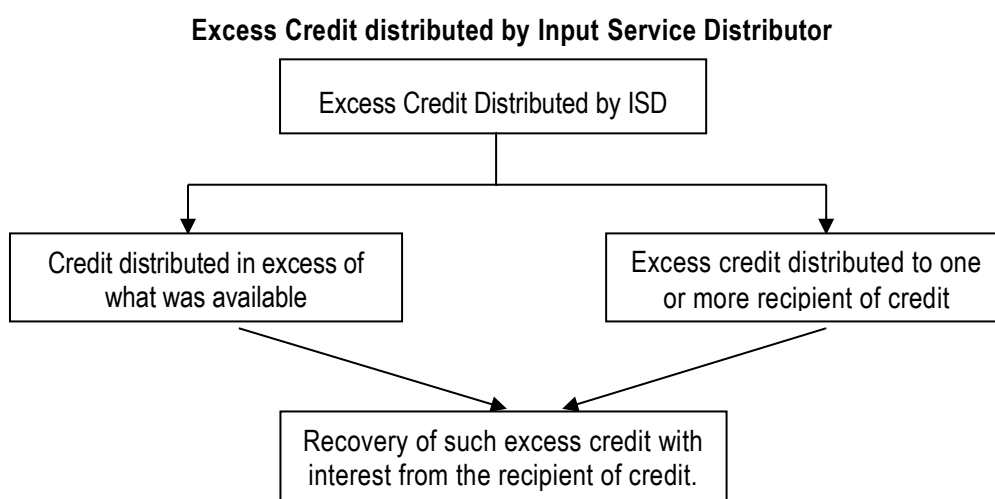

Example-2 Total credit available to ISD is ₹ 15,00,000/- and the credit should have been distributed equally to all the units as all units had equal turnover; however, credit was distributed in violation of section 21, as under:

Delhi ₹ 7,00,000, Jaipur ₹ 6,00,000, Gujarat ₹ 2,00,000.

What will be the consequences?

Solution: The excess credit of ₹ 2,00,000 (₹ 7,00,000- ₹ 5,00,000) shall be recovered from Delhi and ₹ 1,00,000 (₹ 600,000 – ₹ 5,00,000) shall be recovered from Jaipur along with interest and the provisions of section 73 or 74 shall apply mutatis mutandis for effecting such recovery.

The above analysis is summarised in a flowchart as under :

21.3 Comparative review

Earlier recovery provision was specified in rule 14 of CENVAT Credit Rules. The CENVAT credit taken or utilized wrongly or erroneously refunded, was recoverable along with interest under the provisions of sections 11A and 11AB of the Central Excise Act or sections 73 and 75 of the Finance Act 1994

Earlier, there was no specific provision for excess distribution of credit by ISD. Now specific provision is incorporated in the GST law providing for recovery of amount along with interest. Further, the period for recovery of excess amount distributed is also specified in section 21 of the CGST Act.

21.4 FAQs

- Q1. Whether the excess credit distributed can be recovered by the Department?
- Ans. Yes. Excess credit distributed can be recovered along with interest from the recipient by the Department.
- Q2. What are the consequences when credit is distributed in contravention of the provisions of the Act?
- Ans. The credit distributed in contravention of the provisions of the Act is to be recovered from the unit to which it is distributed along with interest.

22.1 Introduction

This section provides for registration of every supplier effecting taxable supplies, subject to a threshold limit. Registration of a business with the tax authorities implies obtaining a unique identification code (i.e., GSTIN) from the concerned tax authorities so that all the operations of, and data relating to the business can be agglomerated and correlated. In any tax system, this is the most fundamental requirement for identification of the business for tax purposes and for having any compliance verification mechanism. A registration from the concerned tax authorities will confer, among others, the following advantages to the registrant:

- Legally recognised as a supplier of goods and/or services;
- Proper accounting of taxes paid on the input goods and/ or services;
- Utilisation of input taxes for payment of GST due on supply of goods and/ or services;
- Pass on the credit of the taxes paid on the goods and/ or services supplied to purchasers or recipients.

22.2 Analysis

- Every supplier shall be liable to be registered under the Act in the State from which he makes a taxable supply of goods or services or both. It is important to note that registration is required 'in' the State 'from which' taxable supplies are made. Registration is not required 'in' the State 'to' which taxable supplies are made, even though this is a destination-based tax. This greatly reduces the burden of the taxable person from having to seek registration in every State 'to' which taxable supplies are made. If the supplies are in the nature of inter State supply, which is made 'to' another State, then the nature of tax will not be CGST-SGST but IGST and is paid to the Centre who will ensure that the same reaches the appropriate 'destination' State. Therefore, for purposes of obtaining registration, it is important to identify the 'origin' of supply even though GST is a 'destination' based tax. Tax goes to the destination-State but registration is in the origin-State. Place of supply (as determined under IGST Act) provides the 'destination' and this is not relevant for registration. The location of supplier is relevant for registration.

The State "from" where taxable supply is made is a question of fact and that must be determined based on the requirements of the law. In the case of services, "location of supplier of services" is defined in section 2(71) of CGST Act but in the case of goods, "location of supplier of goods" is not defined. This is not an oversight but deliberate. Services leave no trail as to the location 'from' where they are supplied and for that reason, a definition is required. Whereas goods leave a trail, that is, where the goods are actually 'located'. This can be seen from the definition of "place of business" [Section 2(85)] of CGST Act. Place of business is where the business is 'ordinarily carried on' – this would be the location 'from' where taxable supplies are made, whether for goods or for services. But, if this is not so (in case of goods), this definition goes on to include 'place where goods are stored'. Hence, location of supplier of goods is where business is ordinarily carried on or where the goods themselves are located, if that were more accurate. For example, a company incorporated outside India purchases goods from a manufacturer and instructs that the goods be deposited with a warehouse-keeper in India.

Then after sometime, he supplies the goods from the warehouse to a customer, who is also within India. For the company though being incorporated outside India, the place where business is ordinarily carried on is not in India but the location where goods are stored being within India, attracts the requirement to register at the place of the warehouse. Care should be taken to correctly identify the place where registration ought to be obtained so as not to end up with a serious misapplication of the requirements of law.

At this point, it would also be relevant to note the difference in sections 22(1) of CGST Act compared with sections 22(1) of any State GST Act:

Section 22(1) of the CGST Act	Section 22(1) of any SGST Act
Every supplier shall be liable to be registered under this Act in the State or Union territory, other than special category States, from where he makes a taxable supply of goods or services or both, if his aggregate turnover in a financial year exceeds twenty lakh rupees	Every supplier making a taxable supply of goods or services or both in the State shall be liable to be registered under this Act if his aggregate turnover in a financial year exceeds twenty lakh rupees

Comparison of the provisions

Point of Difference	CGST Act	SGST Act
Applicable to	Every supplier	Every supplier
Responsibility	shall be liable to be registered under this Act	shall be liable to be registered under this Act
Jurisdiction	in the State or Union territory from where	in the State
Exception	other than special category States
Activity	makes a taxable supply of goods or services or both	makes a taxable supply of goods or services or both in the State
Criteria	if his aggregate turnover in a financial year exceeds twenty lakh rupees	if his aggregate turnover in a financial year exceeds twenty lakh rupees

Given the difference in sections 22(1) of CGST and in SGST Act, one may argue that based on the provisions of SGST Act, the registration is required “in the State from where” taxable supplies are made and NOT the State “where the supplier is located”. Care must be taken to identify the situs for registration carefully. Very often it is seen that 'place of supply' is interchanged with 'place of business'. It is the 'place of business' that guides the situs and not the 'place of supply'. Refer discussion in the context of section 2(85) and the illustrations provided therein.

Section 22(1) prescribes an 'exemption threshold' from obtaining registration. In other words, even if a person makes taxable supplies attracting levy of tax under section 9(1), such person will neither be required to obtain registration nor pay any GST. That is the effect of exemption threshold that will exempt payment of GST indirectly instead of a direct exemption being available under section 11. Refer discussion under section 11 for understanding the operation of that exemption to supply after exemption to threshold has been exhausted.

Registration is required if the aggregate turnover in a financial year exceeds rupees twenty lakhs. This threshold limit will be rupees ten lakhs if a taxable person conducts his business in any of the special category States as specified in sub-clause (g) of clause (4) of Article 279A of the Constitution.

Effect of this 'reduced exemption threshold' on 'exemption threshold' in other non-special category States will have to be understood. And this merges from the observation that this first proviso to section 22(1) also appears in SGST Act. Now, it is important to understand whether this proviso will affect registration only in respect of special category States or all States. Say for instance a person in Karnataka has a branch in the special category State, of Mizoram, then the threshold for registration in Mizoram which is ₹ 10 lacs should not normally affect the threshold for registration in Karnataka. But existence of this proviso in Karnataka GST Act makes the threshold (for requirement to obtain registration) stand revised to ₹ 10 lacs in Karnataka too. If that were not the case, why would Karnataka GST Act have to touch upon presence of branch in Mizoram (belonging to the same person). Hence, a person in any non-special category State must be very careful while considering 'exemption threshold' based on the presence (or absence) of branch in any special category State (liable to obtain registration due to 'place of business' 'in' such State). Shifting of 'exemption thresholds' is discussed later.

In case of special category States, registration shall be required if the aggregate turnover in a financial year exceeds Rupees 10 lakhs. The Government may enhance this aggregate turnover limit at the request of a special category State and on the recommendations of the Council from ₹ 10 lakhs to an amount not exceeding ₹ 20 lakhs.

As per explanation (iii) to section 22, the expression "Special Category States" shall mean the States as specified in Article 279A (4) (g) of the Constitution except the State of Jammu and Kashmir and States of Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Himachal Pradesh, Meghalaya, Sikkim and Uttarakhand. [Based on Central Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018, notified w.e.f. 01-02-2019 vide Notification No.02/2019 – Central Tax dated 29-01-2019.] Accordingly, from 01st Feb 2019, special category States for the purpose of registration shall be the States of Manipur, Mizoram, Nagaland and Tripura only. Hence, the threshold limit of ₹ 10 lakhs shall be applicable for Manipur, Mizoram, Nagaland and Tripura.

Further, in case of a person engaged exclusively in supply of goods, as per the third proviso to section 22(1) inserted by Finance (No. 2) Act, 2019 w.e.f. 1st January 2020, the Central Government may enhance the aggregate turnover from ₹ 20 lakhs to ₹ 40 lakhs, subject to certain conditions and restrictions as may be prescribed. Similar to the second proviso, this benefit is granted at the request of the State after the same is duly recommended by the GST Council.

Before, the above insertion of third proviso, the Government as empowered under section 23(2) of CGST Act, 2017, provided an exemption from registration w.e.f. 01 April 2019 vide Notification No. 10/2019 – Central Tax dated 7-03-2019. The Notification provides that any person, who is engaged in exclusive supply of goods and whose aggregate turnover in the financial year does not exceed 40 lakh rupees is exempt from taking registration under the said Act except if -

- they are compulsorily required to register under section 24 of the said Act;
- they are engaged in making supplies of ice-cream and other edible ice, pan masala and tobacco;
- they have taken voluntary registration;
- they are engaged in making intra-State supplies in the States of Arunachal Pradesh, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, Puducherry, Sikkim, Telangana, Tripura and Uttarakhand;

Therefore, the above Notification effectively increases the threshold limit for persons who are engaged in exclusive supply of goods for the purpose of GST registration from ₹ 20 Lakhs to ₹ 40 Lakhs.

Now the moot question that arises is whether the value of supply of exempt services by way of extending deposits, loans or advances in so far as the consideration is represented by way of interest or discount, shall be included in calculating the aggregate turnover of ₹ 40 lakhs as per this Notification. In the said Notification, there is no provision allowing the supplier also to be engaged in exempt supply of services (unlike in the case of section 22(1) notified w.e.f. 01-01-2020). Hence, if such persons provide any services, then the exemption will not be applicable.

However, there is another school of thought connected to the limit of ₹ 40 Lakhs prescribed in the above referred exemption notification. Some experts are of the view that the person who is engaged in supply of goods can also engage in exempt supply of services provided by way of extending deposits, loans or advances in so far as the consideration is represented by way of interest or discounts. This analogy is drawn on the fact that the Government has, through various Notifications⁴ and Removal of Difficulty Orders⁵, for the purpose of calculating the turnover for composition scheme and for calculation of reversal of input tax credit under rule 42 and rule 43, specifically excluded such income from the aggregate turnover. The proviso inserted in section 22(1) also provides for such exclusion. Thus, they are of the view that the intention of the lawmakers is thus not to consider such income. However, one must exercise caution while availing the exemption from registration under this Notification based on such analogy.

It is pertinent to mention that for the purpose of the entire section 22(1), a person would be considered to be 'exclusively supplying goods' even if he is engaged in exempted supply of services by way of extending deposits, loans or advances where the consideration is in the form of interest or discount.

Based on options exercised and corresponding State notifications, refer table below for persons in various States/UTs and their respective 'exemption threshold' in case where the outwards supplies are 'exclusively goods' (subject to relaxation of interest income) and 'goods and services':

Type of Supply	Upto 31 st Jan 2019		W.e.f 01 st Feb 2019		W.e.f 01 st Jan 2020
	Normal States/ UT	Special Category State	Normal States/ UT	Special Category State (SCS)	Normal States/ UT	Special Category State
Only Goods	₹ 20 lakhs	₹ 10 lakhs	₹ 20 lakhs	Amount not exceeding ₹ 20 lakhs, if opted by the SCS	Amount not exceeding ₹ 40 lakhs if opted by the States*	Amount not exceeding ₹ 20 lakhs, if opted by the SCS
Services/ Goods & Services	₹ 20 lakhs	₹ 10 lakhs	₹ 20 lakhs	Amount not exceeding ₹ 20 lakhs if opted by the SCS	₹ 20 lakhs	Amount not exceeding ₹ 20 lakhs if opted by the SCS

Mistake in identifying correct 'exemption threshold' or eligibility to 'enhanced exemption threshold' must be carefully considered while making a determination as to whether requirement to register has been triggered or not.

How the Aggregate Turnover is calculated

The expression “aggregate turnover” has been discussed in detail under section 2(6) of the CGST Act which may be referred for its scope and coverage. Aggregate turnover is PAN based and not State/ Union Territory based.

In the following table, illustrations have been provided to understand how the aggregate turnover is calculated and what will be the requirement of registration in each of these illustrations-

Illustration 1

State	Turnover (in Rs)	Registration Requirement (supplies of goods and services)
Maharashtra	15,00,000	Since the turnover of the entire entity exceeds ₹ 20,00,000 (‘15,00,000+’7,00,000) registration will be required in both the States
Tamil Nadu	7,00,000

State	Turnover (In ₹)	Registration Requirement (supplies of goods and services)
Maharashtra	9,00,000	Since the entity has presence in special category State, the threshold limit is only ₹ 10,00,000. As the entity crosses such limit, registration will be required in both the States*
Manipur Tripura	2,00,000

* Note that proviso to section 22(1) of the CGST Act also appears in SGST Act(s). As a result, for a taxable person in a non-special category State, who has a branch in special category State, the threshold becomes ₹ 10 lacs and not ₹ 20 lacs.

- Registration requirements under the pre-GST Laws

Statute	Registration Requirement	Registration Level
Excise	For each factory	Unit Level
VAT	Per State (branches in the State were considered as additional places of business)	State Level
Service Tax	One centralized registration (option for de-centralized registration was also available)	National Level

- GST has adopted VAT model for registration. Hence, the supplier will be liable to obtain registration for each of the locations spread across various States/ Union Territories, though he operates as a single person for the purpose of other statutes like Companies Act, 2013, Income Tax Act, 1961 etc.

- A proper reading of section 22 read with section 25 helps one to understand that a State is the smallest registrable unit in GST – and multiple registrations can also be taken separately in different places in one particular State / Union Territory if the conditions specified in rule 11 are satisfied.
- For calculating the threshold limit, the turnover shall include all supplies made by the taxable person, whether on his own account or made on behalf of all his principals. Further, supply of goods by a registered job worker, after completion of job work, shall be treated as the supply of goods by the “principal” referred to in section 143 (i.e. Job work procedure) of this Act. The value of such goods shall not be included in the aggregate turnover of the registered job worker.
- It is necessary to appreciate the difference between the terms ‘person’ and ‘taxable person’. ‘Person’ is defined in section 2(84) of CGST Act to include various types of business structures and association of persons whereas ‘taxable person’ is defined in section 2(107) to mean a person who is registered or is under obligation to get registered under GST Law.

Exemption Limit vs. Registration Limit

In the erstwhile law, the facility of SSI/ SSP exemptions were provided wherein even though assessee has taken the registration it was not required to collect and pay tax unless they crossed the threshold limit. However, in the GST regime no such exemption is provided under the law. Once registration is taken the taxpayer is mandatorily required to collect and pay tax to the Government irrespective of the threshold. As per section 2(107) of the CGST Act, 2017 “taxable person” means a person who is registered or liable to be registered under section 22 or section 24; this means a registered person is a taxable person. It is important to note that section 9 of CGST Act, 2017 deals with levy of tax on a person and therefore, once registration is obtained the concept of taxable person gets triggered.

Other persons requiring registration under this provision irrespective of threshold limit

- Every person who, on the day immediately preceding the appointed day, is registered or holds a license under an earlier law, shall be liable to be registered under this Act with effect from the appointed day.

Based on this provision, all the persons registered under the pre-GST law were mandatorily required to migrate to GST and then the option for cancellation of registration was provided.

- Transfer of business (Discussed below)

Transfer of Business and Registration

If a registered taxable person transfers business on account of succession or otherwise, to another person as a going concern, the transferee, or the successor, as the case may be, shall be liable to be registered with effect from the date of such transfer or succession. This means that the registration certificate issued under sections 22 of the Act is not transferable to any other person. In the case of transfer pursuant to sanction of a scheme or an arrangement for amalgamation or, as the case may be, de-merger of two or more companies by an order of a High Court, the transferee shall be liable to be registered with effect from the date on which the Registrar of Companies issues a certificate of incorporation giving effect to such order of the High Court.

Obligations after registration

- As per rule 18, every registered person shall display his certificate of registration in a prominent place at his principal place of business and at every additional place or places of business.
- Every registered person shall display his goods and services tax identification number (GSTIN) on the name board exhibited at the entry of his principal place of business and at every additional place or places of business.

22.3 Issues/ Concerns

Requirement of registration in respect of construction works undertaken outside the State: Works contractors, having a principal place of business in one State may undertake execution of works across India in many States. It may so happen that the contractor procures and/ or stores his goods at the site (in another state) and thereafter carries on the construction work at the site.

Now, as per section 2(85), a “place of business” is defined “...to include any other place, where a taxable person stores his goods or receives goods or services...” Hence, in case the taxable person stores his goods at the construction site, it will be considered as his place of business and he will be liable to take registration at the construction site.

STATUTORY PROVISIONS

23. Persons not liable for registration

- (1) The following persons shall not be liable to registration, namely: —
- (a) any person engaged exclusively in the business of supplying goods or services or both that are not liable to tax or wholly exempt from tax under this Act or under the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act;
 - (b) an agriculturist, to the extent of supply of produce out of cultivation of land.
- (2) The Government may, on the recommendations of the Council, by notification, specify the category of persons who may be exempted from obtaining registration under this Act.

Related provisions of the Statute

Section or Rule	Description
Section 2(7)	Definition of ‘agriculturist’
Section 2(47)	Definition of “exempt supply”
Section 25	Procedure for registration

23.1 Analysis

Section 23 provides relaxation from the requirement of obtaining registration to the following two categories of persons:

- (a) Agriculturists
- (b) Persons engaged exclusively in the supply of exempted goods or services or both.

Thus, the aforementioned persons would not be required to obtain registration even if their turnover exceeds the threshold limits (₹ 10 Lakhs for special category States and ₹ 20 Lakhs for other States). To this extent, section 23 overrides the provisions of section 22.

Agriculturist

As per section 2(7), 'agriculturist' means an individual or HUF who undertakes cultivation of land:

- (a) By own labour, or
- (b) By the labour of family, or
- (c) By servants on wages payable in cash or kind or by hired labour under personal supervision or personal supervision of any member of the family.

Thus, an agriculturist is not liable for registration only to the extent of supply of produce out of cultivation of land. If an agriculturist undertakes supplies which are not linked to the cultivation of land, he will fall within the ambit of sections 22 and may have to take registration in respect of such supplies. It is important to consider the nature of activities undertaken by the agriculturist. If the process deviates from 'cultivation' it will travel outside the scope of this exclusion from registration. The exclusion states – to the extent of supply of 'produce out of cultivation' of land – any further processing of the primary produce from cultivation will continue not to avail this exclusion.

Cultivation of land does not include pisciculture on inland water body or cattle rearing that graze the produce of land. The produce that emerges from land is 'cultivation of land'. For example, harvesting paddy is cultivation but production of rice is not.

It should be noted that the exclusion from the requirement of registration does not result in non-collection of tax on agricultural produce. Section 9(3) of the CGST Act and sections 5(3) of the IGST Act notifies certain commodities (like cashew nuts) on which tax is required to be discharged under reverse charge basis by the recipient of goods when such commodities are purchased from an agriculturist. Thus, the exemption from registration is dependent on the status of the supplier and not based on the commodity involved. Needless to say, if the supplier of goods is not an agriculturist, then he will have to obtain registration under the regular provisions i.e., section 22 if his aggregate turnover exceeds the 'exemption threshold' and its variations (discussed earlier). Also, refer discussion under section 2(7) on the various facets of 'agriculturist' and the scope of inapplicability of exemption from registration under section 23(1)(b).

Exclusively engaged in Exempt Supplies

The term 'exclusive' indicates engaging in only those supplies which are exempted. Therefore, if a supplier is supplying both exempt and taxable goods and/or services, then this provision is not applicable and he is required to obtain registration under section 22.

It essentially permits any person whose 'entire' supply consists of 'exempt supplies', to be excluded from obtaining registration. Care should be taken to validate the premise of (a) entire supply and (b) it being exempt. Even if small value of supplies is taxable, the exempt supplies will be included to determine if the aggregate turnover has exceeded the exemption threshold under section 22 for attracting registration.

Now, a question may arise as to whether registration is required in case a person is engaged exclusively in supplying exempted goods or services and also incurs certain expenses which are listed in section 9(3) for payment of tax on reverse charge basis. These aspects are discussed in detail under section 24.

Care must be taken to look through notifications issued under section 7(2) where Government will notify persons who are specifically granted exemption from registration, namely:

- (a) Persons engaged in rendering taxable services, who are liable to GST under reverse charges, are not required to take registration (Notification No. 5/2017–Central Tax, dated 19.06.2017).
- (b) Job-workers engaged in making inter-State supply of services to a registered person except those who are liable to be registered under section 22(1) of the CGST Act, 2017 or persons opting for voluntary registration or persons engaged in making supply of services in relation to jewellery, goldsmiths' and silversmiths' wares and other articles (w.e.f. 14.09.2017) Notification No. 7/2017–Integrated Tax, dated 14.09.2017 as amended vide Notification No. 2/2019-Integrated Tax, dated 29-Jan-2019, w.e.f. 1-Feb-2019.
- (c) Persons effecting inter-State supplies of taxable services – where the aggregate value of supplies on PAN-India basis does not exceed ₹ 20 Lakhs in a year (₹ 10 Lakhs for special category States- Manipur, Mizoram, Nagaland and Tripura) (w.e.f. 13.10.2017) - Notification No. 10/2017–Integrated Tax, dated 13.10.2017 as amended vide Notification No. 3/2019-Integrated Tax, dated 29-Jan-2019, w.e.f. 1-Feb-2019.
- (d) Categories of persons effecting inter-State taxable supplies of handicraft goods – where the aggregate value of supplies on PAN-India basis does not exceed ₹ 20 Lakhs in a year (₹ 10 Lakhs for special category States- Manipur, Mizoram, Nagaland and Tripura) - (w.e.f. 22.10.2018) - Notification No. 3/2018–Integrated Tax dated 22.10.2018. This notification has superseded Notification No. 8/ 2017-Integrated Tax, dated 14.09.2017
- (e) Persons providing services through e-commerce mode who is required to collect tax at source, provided their aggregate turnover does not exceed ₹ 20 lakh (₹ 10 lakh in special category States-Manipur, Mizoram, Nagaland and Tripura) (w.e.f. 15.11.2017).

Notification No. 65/2017–Central Tax, dated 15.11.2017 as amended vide Notification No. 6/2019-Central Tax, dated 29-Jan-2019, w.e.f. 1-Feb-2019

- (f) Categories of casual taxable persons making taxable supplies of handicraft goods- where the aggregate value of supplies on PAN-India basis does not exceed ₹ 20 Lakhs in a year (₹ 10 Lakhs for special category States-Manipur, Mizoram, Nagaland and Tripura) - (w.e.f. 23.10.2018) Notification No. 56/2018-Central Tax, dated 23.10.2018. This notification has superseded Notification No. 32/ 2017-Central Tax, dated 15.09.2017.
- (g) W.e.f. 01.04.2019, the basic limit beyond which obtaining registration becomes mandatory has been increased from ₹ 20 lakhs to ₹ 40 lakhs for certain categories of persons vide Notification No. 10/2019-Central Tax, dated 07.03.2019 (discussed earlier).

As per the said notification any person, who is engaged in exclusive supply of goods and whose aggregate turnover in the financial year does not exceed forty lakh rupees, except,

- (a) persons required to take compulsory registration under section 24 of the said Act;
- (b) persons engaged in making supplies of the following goods,

Sl. No.	Tariff item, sub-heading, heading or Chapter	Description
1	2105 00 00	Ice cream and other edible ice, whether or not containing cocoa
2	2106 90 20	Pan masala
3	24	All goods, i.e. Tobacco and manufactured tobacco substitutes

- (c) persons engaged in making intra-State supplies in the States of Arunachal Pradesh, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, Puducherry, Sikkim, Telangana, Tripura, Uttarakhand; and
- (d) persons exercising option under the provisions of sub-section (3) of section 25 [voluntary registration], or such registered persons who intend to continue with their registration under the said Act.

23.2 Issues/ Concerns

- (a) The new 'extended exemption threshold' for registration (from 1 Apr 2019) to ₹ 40 lakhs is applicable only for those taxable persons, who are engaged in exclusive supply of goods. Therefore, in case a person is supplying goods but also earns a nominal amount of income from service (whether taxable or not) such as commission income, then he shall be liable to obtain registration on crossing the exemption threshold of ₹ 20 lakhs and not ₹ 40 lakhs.

- (b) Exemption to Charitable Organizations: Pursuant to Notification No. 12/2017-CT(R), dated 28th Jun 2017, the Government has exempted services by way of charitable activities, provided by charitable organisations registered under section 12AA/12AB of the Income Tax Act, 1961 from the levy of GST. Thus, charitable organizations registered under section 12AA/12AB of the Income Tax Act, 1961, engaged exclusively in charitable activities are exempt from obtaining registration. However, charitable organisations are required to register where they have receipts on account of ancillary activities like providing a premises on rent to operate ATM or a shop to supplement their income sources, charitable hospitals collecting fixed rent or revenue share from pharmacy operator inside the hospital premises or from sale of medicines in self-run pharmacy as these are not exempt activities and along with healthcare income, may be well over the exemption threshold and be liable for registration.
- (c) Separate Registration for ISD to discharge tax on RCM basis: Under the erstwhile service tax laws, an ISD was allowed to discharge tax liability under reverse charge mechanism without seeking a separate registration. However, under GST regime, the ISD is required to obtain a separate GSTIN other than the ISD registration for discharging such taxes. But, an ISD is not one who will have any taxable outward supplies except distribution of credit. When an ISD attracts RCM or other liability of its own, then it is more likely that the ISD will become a regular taxable person because these taxable inward supplies cannot be received without creating an 'outward supply event'. This is adding to the multiplicity of registrations and complexity in documentation and compliance and impacting the matrix of 'ease of doing business'. Co-existence of ISD along with regular registration in the same State may soon fall into disuse once the trade comes to understand the dissimilarity between ISD in service tax and ISD in GST. Experts hold the view that ISD (GST) can rightfully exist when the person (legal entity) DOES NOT have a regular registration at any place in the same State. There are some voices to the contrary but the two may come into harmony once the benefits of ISD registration in GST are discovered to be easily available via the regular registration (already obtained in the same State).
- (d) Inclusion of non-operational income for threshold limit: The inclusion of non-operational income like interest income as 'exempt supplies' for the purpose of determining the aggregate turnover for registration would bring into the focus large number of persons who are otherwise undertaking in providing only a minimal amount of supply. In case a person is earning interest income from fixed deposit receipts (FDR) of ₹ 15 Lakhs and a rental income from immovable property of ₹ 6 Lakhs, he would need to take registration and collect GST on such supply of rental services. Care must be taken to identify whether such non-operational income are really NOT connected with the business of the person. For e.g. FD income of proprietor from funds (held in savings account) may be separate from the business of the proprietor. But FD of a firm from funds (held in current account) may be part of the business. Perfect demarcation is not possible and not required also, to leave room for examining based on trail of funds (source for deposit) and to support conclusions one way or other.

24.1 Analysis

Section 24 starts with a 'non obstante' clause which is limited to section 22(1) and NOT to section 23. It dictates that in the 'twelve' situations listed, even though 'exemption threshold' may still be available to the person, GST registration WILL BE applicable to such person. Registration is always under section 22 and once registration is obtained, such person will forfeit the 'exemption threshold'. Registration is 'unqualified' whether it is due to exceeding exemption threshold under section 22(1) or voluntarily registered under section 25(3) or compulsorily registered under section 24. Once registered, all supplies will be subject to tax 'as if' generally liable to be registered.

Categories of persons who shall be required to be registered under this Act irrespective of the threshold limit

The following categories of persons are required to obtain registration compulsorily under this Act:

- Persons making any inter-State taxable supply
- Casual taxable persons making taxable supply
- Persons who are required to pay tax under reverse charge
- Persons who are required to pay tax under sub-section (5) of section 9 (electronic commerce operator)
- Non-resident taxable persons making taxable supply
- Persons who are required to deduct tax under section 51 (tax deduction at source);
- Persons who supply goods or services or both on behalf of other registered taxable persons whether as an agent or otherwise
- Input service distributor
- Persons who supply goods and/or services, other than supplies specified under sub-section (5) of section 9, through such electronic commerce operator who is required to collect tax at source under section 52
- Every electronic commerce operator who is required to collect tax at source under section 52
- Every person supplying online information and database access or retrieval services from a place outside India to a person in India, other than a registered taxable person
- Such other person or class of persons as may be notified by the Central Government or a State Government on the recommendations of the Council.

It may be noted that vide Notification No. 10/2017–Integrated Tax, dated 13th October 2017, persons making inter-State supply of services and having turnover not exceeding ₹ 20 lakhs have been exempted (under section 23 as discussed in the preceding paragraphs) from obtaining registration. Accordingly, only persons who make inter-State supply of goods have to compulsorily obtain registration irrespective of the aggregate turnover. Refer the variations in 'exemption threshold', 'extended exemption threshold' and 'reduced exemption threshold' to special category States (and its effect in non-special category States) including deviations from 1 Apr 2019 discussed under section 22.

The Government has issued notifications under section 23(2) to provide exemption from registration to certain categories of persons who are mentioned in the aforementioned list. Details of such exemption are provided under sections 23(2) and implications of such exemption to those persons requiring compulsory registration is tabulated below:

Category of Persons	Exemption Granted
i) Persons making any inter-State taxable supply	Inter State supplies of taxable services (Notification No. 10/2017-Integrated Tax, dated 13.10.2017 amended vide Notification No. 3/2019-Integrated Tax, dated 29-Jan-2019, w.e.f. 1-Feb-2019) and handicraft goods except when their turnover exceeds threshold limit (Notification No.3/2018-Integrated Tax, dated 22.10.2018 which superseded Notification No. 8/ 2017-Integrated Tax, dated 14.9.2017)
ii) Casual taxable persons making taxable supply	Casual taxable persons making taxable supplies of handicraft goods if the aggregate turnover does not exceed ₹ 20 lakhs (Notification No. 56/2018-Central Tax, dated 23.10.2018 which superseded Notification No. 32/ 2017-Central Tax, dated 15.9.2017)
iii) Persons who are required to pay tax under reverse charge	'Reverse charge' is defined to include sections 9(3) and 9(4) in section 2(98). Person eligible to 'exemption threshold' under section 22(1) may forfeit benefit if even one payment made attracts RCM.
iv) Persons who are required to pay tax under sub-section (5) of section 9 (electronic commerce operator)	Experts advise that suppliers [in respect of whose turnover ECO would pay tax under 9(5)] would NOT be required to pay tax. Hence, they would NOT be required to be registered (if there was no other turnover liable to tax). Note also the exclusion of such suppliers under clause (ix).
v) Non-resident taxable persons making taxable supply	No such exemption

vi) Persons who are required to deduct tax under section 51 (tax deduction at source)	Refer relaxation provided under RCM notification (entries 1 and 14 of Notification No. 13/2017-CT(R) dated 28 Jun 2017) to those who have 'nil' taxable supplies and are registered only to comply with section 51 and hence, section 24.
vii) Persons who supply goods or services or both on behalf of other registered taxable persons whether as an agent or otherwise	Although not expressly stated, 'agents' will become liable to compulsory registration only if their transactions attract Schedule I.
viii) Input service distributors	Remember, ISD registration is voluntary and its mention in section 24 only makes 'facility' of ISD available on the condition of obtaining registration.
ix) Persons who supply goods and/or services, other than supplies specified under sub-section (5) of section 9, through such electronic commerce operator who is required to collect tax at source under section 52	Supplier providing services through an e-commerce operator if the aggregate turnover does not exceed ₹ 20 Lakhs (Notification No. 65/2017-Central Tax, dated 15.11.2017 amended vide Notification No. 6/2019-Central Tax, dated 29-Jan-2019, w.e.f. 1-Feb-2019)
x) Every electronic commerce operator who is required to collect tax at source under section 52	No 'exemption threshold' to ECO for own outward supplies if liable to TCS under 52.
xi) Every person supplying online information and database access or retrieval services from a place outside India to a person in India, other than a registered taxable person	Exempt from filing annual return and reconciliation statement prescribed in section 44(1) and 44(2).
xii) Such other person or class of persons as may be notified by the Central Government or a State Government on the recommendations of the Council	Not yet notified

Exports as Inter-State supplies

Export of goods or services or both are treated as inter-State supplies as per section 7(5) (a) of the IGST Act. Hence, as per section 24(i) of the CGST Act, the person who is engaged in export of goods or services or both is compulsorily required to take registration irrespective of the fact that such export turnover is less than ₹ 20 Lakhs. However, by virtue of Notification No. 10/2017-ITR as amended by Notification No. 3/2019-Integrated Tax dated 29.01.2019 read with section 20 of the IGST Act and section 23(2) of the CGST Act, the persons making inter-State supply of taxable services are being exempt from taking registration if the aggregate turnover computed on all India basis is less than ₹ 20 Lakhs. For example, freelance journalists, software professionals, visiting faculty to foreign universities, etc. who are engaged exclusively in supply of services though working from home, need not take registration if their aggregate turnover is below the threshold limit of ₹ 20 Lakhs.

But this exemption from registration is not applicable to persons who are engaged in export of goods and thus they are mandatorily required to take registration as per section 24(i) of the CGST Act since inception. However, such persons can export the goods or services or both, as per section 16(3) of the IGST Act, either without payment of integrated tax under LUT or Bond and can claim refund of such unutilised ITC or with payment of integrated tax and can claim refund of such integrated tax paid.

However, in the case of export of services, when turnover is less than the threshold limit, the GST paid on inward supplies will form part of the cost of output services in case registration is not taken. It is pertinent to mention here, that taxpayer can avail the benefit of refund only if registered under GST, even if turnover is less than that of the threshold limit. Also, the requirement to register allows opportunity for Government to examine the correctness of the claim to zero-rated exemption from tax on their turnover.

Casual Taxable Person

Traders (especially jewellers) registered in one State carry goods to another State and upon receipt of approval from the customers, sell the goods to such customers. The issue that arises for consideration is whether such jewellers are required to register as casual taxable persons in the State of the buyer. In this context, Circular No.10/10/2017-GST, dated 18.10.2017 has been issued to clarify that in the given case, the supplier is not able to ascertain the actual supplies beforehand and ascertainment of tax liability is a mandatory requirement for registration as a casual taxable person and hence, he is not required to get registered as a casual taxable person. Refer detailed discussion on the concept and application of casual taxable person under section 27.

Agent

Section 24 clause (vii) provides that an agent who makes taxable supply of goods or services on behalf of other person, is compulsorily required to obtain registration independent of the aggregate turnover threshold limit provided under section 22. The term “agent” here refers to the “agent” who supplies goods to the customers under his invoice on behalf of the principal (linked to Para 3 of Schedule I of the CGST Act which refers to deemed supply of goods by principal to agent where the agent undertakes to supply goods on behalf of the principal) and it does not cover within its ambit, all types of agents like those who act as intermediary. This matter has also been clarified in the Circular No. 57/31/2018-GST dated September 4, 2018 and also Circular No. 73/47/2018-GST, dated November 5, 2018.

Refer detailed discussion under section 2(13) of IGST Act and under Schedule I regarding the extent of this fictional treatment of 'agency' in GST.

24.2 Issues / Concerns

- a. Section 23 vs. Section 24: Section 24 overrides section 22(1) and accordingly persons enumerated under section 24 are required to obtain compulsory registration irrespective of whether their turnover exceeds the threshold limit specified under sections 22(1). However, section 24 does not specifically override sections 23. In case there is a conflict between sections 23 and sections 24, the issue is which provision will prevail. Consider a scenario where a hospital is providing health care services which are exempt from GST. The turnover of the hospital is ₹ 10 Crores. The hospital has imported certain services from outside India worth ₹ 5 Lakhs which is liable to discharge the tax liability under reverse charge mechanism. The impact of sections 22, 23 and 24 in the given case are set out hereunder :

Provision	Impact
Section 22	Not liable to register since they are NOT providing any taxable supply and it is a pre-requisite under section . 22(1) to take registration in that State from where a person makes TAXABLE SUPPLY of goods or services, provided aggregate turnover exceeds ₹ 20/10 lakhs.
Section 23	Not required to register since they deal exclusively in exempt supplies
Section 24	Mandates registration since liable to pay tax under reverse charge on import of services.

Further, since section 24 only overrides section 22(1) and not section 23, a logical view enumerates that registration is not required in the above case. However, in the absence of any clarification on the issue by the department, there are possibilities of department litigating the matter but the same needs to be defended based on merits.

In this context, it would be interesting to note that section 23(2) of the CGST Act empowers the Government to issue notification exempting category of persons from obtaining registration. The Central Government has issued various notifications under the said provision to exempt persons who were otherwise required to register based on section 24.

25.1 Analysis

Every registered person is considered a 'distinct person' for the limited purposes of the GST. This is a very important fiction provided by the law so as to overcome the deficiency to constitute a 'supply' between one branch to another of the same person (legal entity). But for this fiction, imputing 'supply' in respect of supply-like transactions between branches of the same entity or person would have been impossible, in spite of existence of Schedule I. In fact, the fiction of 'distinct persons' flows from section 25 into Schedule I and supports the levy of tax on branch-transfers. While branch transfer involving goods is understandable, branch transfers involving services too are taxable, but that is discussed under 'supply' which may be referred.

Section 25 read with rules 8 to 26 of the CGST Rules related to registration provides a detailed road map on the procedural aspects of the registration. The time limit for application is 30 days (for persons other than casual taxable person or a non-resident taxable person) and casual taxable person or a non-resident taxable person shall have to obtain the registration at least 5 days prior to the commencement.

Single registration will be granted from one State or Union Territory and in case of persons having business across different States, then multiple registrations are granted. Now, as per CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018 with effect from 1-Feb-2019, even in a single State, multiple registrations are possible wherever a person has multiple places of business in the same one State.

Concept of Aadhar Authentication implemented by Finance (No. 2) Act, 2019

1. Aadhar Authentication at the time of seeking registration has been introduced in the GST Act by inserting sub-sections (6A) to (6D) in section 25.

2. Section 25(6A) has been introduced which mandates a registered person to undergo Aadhar authentication or furnish proof of possession of Aadhar number and empower the government to make rules related to the same. Sub rule (4A) has been inserted in Rule 8 w.e.f. 01.04.2020 vide Notification no. 16/2020 dt. 23/03/2020 in this regard. Further, if Aadhar Number has not been assigned to such person, alternate and viable means of identification shall be provided through rules and correspondingly a proviso in rule 9(1) has been inserted vide Notification no. 16/2020 dt. 23/03/2020 which requires physical verification of principle place of business in the presence of said person who has failed to undergo Aadhar authentication. The proper officer, with the approval of an officer authorised by the Commissioner not below the rank of Assistant Commissioner, shall carry out physical verification of places of business and the verification report along with the other documents, including photographs, shall be uploaded in Form GST REG-30 on the common portal within a period of fifteen working days following the date of such verification.

As per the 2nd proviso in Section 25(6A), if a registered person fails to undergo Aadhar authentication or furnish proof of possession of Aadhar number as per rule 8 or fails to furnish alternate and viable means of identification, then such registration shall be deemed to be invalid and other provisions of the CGST Act shall apply as if such person does not have a registration.

3. Section 25(6B) and Section 25(6C) have been inserted to mandate Aadhar Authentication or furnish proof of possession of Aadhar number at the time of grant of registration to an individual and any person other than an individual. Where Aadhar number has not been assigned to the person, an alternate and viable means of identification will be specified by way of a notification. Notification no. 18/2020 dt. 23/03/2020 has been issued pursuant to section 25(6B) to specify 01/04/2020 as the date from which an individual shall undergo Aadhar authentication as per rule 8 in order to be eligible for registration. Alternate and viable means of identification has been offered in the manner specified in Rule 9.

4. Similarly, Notification no. 19/2020 dt. 23/03/2020 has been issued pursuant to section 25(6C) for persons other than individuals, notifying 01/04/2020 as the date from which the authorised signatory of all type, managing and authorised partners in a partnership firm and Karta of an HUF shall undergo Aadhar authentication as per rule 8 in order to be eligible for grant of registration. Alternate and viable means of identification has been offered in the manner specified in Rule 9.

5. Newly inserted section 25(6D) empowers the Government on the recommendation of the Council to specify persons or such class of persons or any state or Union Territory or part thereof, on whom provisions of sub-sections (6A)³³, (6B) and (6C) shall not apply. Notification no. 17/2020 dt. 23/03/2020 w.e.f. 01/04/2020 ³⁴as superseded by Notification no. 03/2021 dt. 23.02.2021, specifies a person who is

- (a) not a citizen of India, or
- (b) a department or establishment of Central Government or State Government, or
- (c) a local authority, or
- (d) a statutory Body, or
- (e) a public sector undertaking, or
- (f) a person applying for registration under the provisions of sub-section (9) of section 25.

on whom provisions of sub-sections (6A), (6B) and (6C) of section 25 shall not apply.

Furnishing of Bank Account Details [Rule 10A]

Note: In case of a proprietorship concern, the PAN of the proprietor shall also be linked with the Aadhaar number of the proprietor.

However, this requirement of furnishing bank account details shall not be applicable to

- persons who have been granted registration under rule 12 and persons required to deduct tax at source or to collect tax at source or
- persons who have been granted registration under rule 16 on suo motu basis by the proper officer.

³⁵Separate registration within the State in the same line of business has been allowed by removing the concept of business vertical

6. The concept of business vertical has been removed from GST (business vertical meant different lines of businesses which carry different risk and reward).

Taxpayers can now opt for separate registrations in a State voluntarily based on location for each of the business (though they are in similar line of business)

Illustration

Situation	Pre-Amendment	Post-Amendment
Business 1 – IT Software Services Business 2 – Employee Training Services Location – Common Office	Separate registration possible since the tax payer has separate business vertical	Separate registration not possible since the businesses are operating from a common location
Business 1 – Hotel Business 2 – Hotel Location – Separate Locations	Separate registration not possible since the tax payer has single business vertical	Separate registration possible since businesses are located at different locations

Further, as per the second proviso to section 25, a Special Economic Zone unit or Special Economic Zone developer shall make a separate application for registration as a distinct place of business from its other units located outside the Special Economic Zone. Rule 8 provides detailed procedure for application of registration by a person desirous of seeking registration under GST. All SEZ (developer or unit) within one State may operate with one GST registration and there is no requirement for separate registration for developer, unit or multiple units in (same or different) zones in same State.

Every person being an Input Service Distributor shall make a separate application for registration as such Input Service Distributor. Regular registration does not permit credit-distribution. Refer discussion under section 2(61) and under section 23 (Issues and Concerns, point (c) above) regarding the scope for ISD falling into disuse over time.

Where a person who is liable to be registered under this Act fails to obtain registration, the proper officer can proceed to register such person in the manner as may be prescribed.

A person not liable to registration (i) may opt for voluntary registration and (ii) then will be liable to 'all' compliance 'as if' such person was liable for registration. Unlike service tax where registration could be obtained even when the threshold was below ₹ 10 lacs but tax was to be paid only after the turnover crossed ₹ 10 lacs. GST makes a shift in this understanding and this must be taken note of.

The registration shall be effective from the date on which the person becomes liable to registration where the application for registration has been submitted within a period of thirty days from such date. Where an application for registration has been submitted by the applicant after the expiry of thirty days from the date of his becoming liable to registration, the effective date of registration shall be the date of the grant of registration.

The Registration Certificate is issued in Form GST REG-06.

The registration rules prescribe 31 different forms (refer Table below) in respect of registration matters. The application for registration should be disposed off in a time bound manner and detailed time limits have been prescribed under the Rules for various purposes.

25.2 Issues/ Concerns

Relaxation of time-limit for effective date of registration

There are numerous ground level issues faced by the tax payers w.r.t. IT infrastructure glitches, plethora of notifications/ circulars, corrigendum, amendments, interpretation of laws etc. on account of which the industry has been grappling with various issues including registration procedures. In this background, in cases where the application for registration has been belatedly made, it would be unfair to the tax payer if the effective date of registration is not considered from the date of liability itself.

Statutory Provisions

26. Deemed registration

- (1) The grant of registration or the Unique Identity Number under the State Goods and Services Tax Act or the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act shall be deemed to be a grant of registration or the Unique Identity Number under this Act subject to the condition that the application for registration or the Unique Identity Number has not been rejected under this Act within the time specified in sub-section (10) of section 25.
- (2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (10) of section 25, any rejection of application for registration or the Unique Identity Number under the State Goods and Services Tax Act or the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act shall be deemed to be a rejection of application for registration under this Act.

26.1 Analysis

These are the linking provisions between the Central Goods and Services Tax Act and State/Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act. By enabling these provisions, the burden of taking registrations under various Acts has been removed. Thus, if a supplier takes a registration under one Act it shall be deemed that the registration has also been obtained under the other Act and vice-versa. Even otherwise the registration must be taken on the common portal and is based on the PAN and hence the registration will remain common across the various Acts.

However, if the registration is rejected under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, then such rejection will be treated as if the registration has not been obtained under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act even though registration has been obtained in State/Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act.

If an application for registration has been rejected under State/Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act then it shall be deemed that the same has been rejected under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act.

Rejection of Application for Registration

The proper officer shall not reject the application for registration or the Unique Identification Number (UID) without giving a notice to show cause and without giving the person a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

This implies that the decision to reject an application under this section shall be only after following the principles of natural justice and after a due process of law by issuance of an order. It should also be noted that any rejection of application for registration or the Unique Identity Number under the CGST Act/ SGST Act shall be deemed to be a rejection of application for registration under the SGST Act/ CGST Act respectively as the case may be.

Statutory Provisions

27. Special provisions relating to casual taxable person and non-resident taxable person

- (1) *The certificate of registration issued to a casual taxable person or a non-resident taxable person shall be valid for a period specified in the application for registration or ninety days from the effective date of registration, whichever is earlier and such person shall make taxable supplies only after the issuance of the certificate of registration:
Provided that the proper officer may, on sufficient cause being shown by the said taxable person, extend the said period of ninety days by a further period not exceeding ninety days.*
- (2) *A casual taxable person or a non-resident taxable person shall, at the time of submission of application for registration under sub-section (1) of section 25, make an advance deposit of tax in an amount equivalent to the estimated tax liability of such person for the period for which the registration is sought:
Provided that where any extension of time is sought under sub-section (1), such taxable person shall deposit an additional amount of tax equivalent to the estimated tax liability of such person for the period for which the extension is sought.*
- (3) The amount deposited under sub-section (2) shall be credited to the electronic cash ledger of such person and shall be utilized in the manner provided under section 49.

15. Extension in period of operation by casual taxable person and non-resident taxable person directly or through a Facilitation Centre notified by the Commissioner, by such person before the end of the validity of registration granted to him.

(2) The application under sub-rule (1) shall be acknowledged only on payment of the amount specified in sub-section (2) of section 27.

27.1 Analysis

Casual taxable person ('CTP') is defined in section 2(20) to be a 'person' and not 'registered person' who occasionally undertakes transactions involving supply, etc. This definition in CGST Act is also present in SGST/UTGST Act. Therefore, there are 'two States' that come in for consideration, that is, one the State where the said person is 'regularly' undertaking transactions involving supply and another State where the said person is 'occasionally' undertaking transactions involving supply. This two-State premise is explained by the fact that if the said person is only present in one State, then in that State whether the transactions undertaken are 'regular' or 'occasional' are not relevant because the said person cannot be denied the 'exemption threshold' (available in section 22) in that State. The two-State premise identifies the State where the said person is 'regularly' undertaking transactions of supply (home-State) and the other where the said person is 'occasionally' undertaking transactions of supply (host-State).

Assume a scenario when a supplier does not make actual delivery of the goods in the host state and only the order is taken / booked in the host state and actual supplies are effected from the home State. Now, let us consider whether registration is required to be taken as CTP in such case. To answer this issue one has to understand the scope of supply as discussed under section 7 which includes supplies made or agreed to be made. Hence in the given situation, even though in the host state only the orders were booked, it tantamount to supply and registration as CTP is essential.

Occasional Transactions

'Occasional' means non-recurring and does not mean 'intermittent'. First-time application to register as CTP may not be questioned about the 'occasional' nature of transactions involving supply in host-State but a second-time application (after deregistration on completion of said occasional project) may not be readily accepted. Second and subsequent occasion of CTP registration may actually call for an inquiry into the possibility of 'regular registration' in the said host-State. Thus, there are multiple ways in which one could go wrong with CTP and experts caution that CTP should not be interchanged with regular registration.

Contrasted with CTP, non-resident taxable person (NRTP) may be examined by its definition in section 2(77) which appears to be identical to the definition of CTP in section 2(20) except for the following:

Characteristics	CTP 2(20)	NRTP 2(77)
Occasional transactions of supply	✓	✓
Goods or services or both	✓	✓
In the course or furtherance of business	✓	-
As principal or as agent or otherwise	✓	✓
Without a fixed place of business	In a State/UT	In India
Without a residence	-	✓

From the above comparison, the following aspects may be noted:

- CTP must have a pre-existing 'business' except that there is no POB in the host-State but the question of pre-existing business is irrelevant for NRTP. But when supply in section 7(1) is attracted only when there is a 'business', whether NRTP could come within the scope of supply in the absence of a business. The answer may be found in section 7(1)(b) where 'business' is NOT a criterion to come within the definition of 'supply'. Also, note that vide entry 10(b) to Notification No. 9/2017-Int. (R) dated 28 Jun 2017, 'non business purposes' have been exempted from GST. Thus, 'business' does become relevant factor even for NRTPs. Care must be taken to come within the IGST exemption and not presume that non-business activities by NRTPs will be exempt because this entry 10(b) found in IGST exemption is NOT available in CGST exemption Notification No.12/2017-CT(R) dated 28 Jun 2017). Therefore pre-existing business is relevant for CTP and NRTP but on different basis.
- CTP is one who does not have a POB in host-State but NRTP should neither have POB nor residence in the whole of India. One should take care to avoid erroneous classification of project offices and branch offices as NRTP. They do have a POB as stated in their RBI approval. Therefore, PO and BO (of foreign companies) are NOT CTPs or NRTPs but liable to regular registration even though they may undertake only one project (esp. PO). Now, liaison office or representative office (of foreign companies) are barred from undertaking any 'business-like' activities and hence are neither CTP nor NRTP. Reference may be made to Raj. AAR in Habufa Meubelen B.V. 2018 (14) G.S.T.L. 596 (AAR) wherein LO was held not to be liable to registration under GST. Care must be taken to investigate if LOs attract registration under section 24(iii) for making payments attracting GST on reverse charge basis.

The certificate of registration issued to a “casual taxable person” or a “non-resident taxable person” shall be valid for a period specified in the application for registration or ninety days from the effective date of registration, whichever is earlier, extendable by proper officer for a further period of maximum 90 days at the request of the taxable person.

A casual taxable person or a non-resident taxable person, while seeking registration, shall make an advance deposit of tax in an amount equivalent to the estimated tax liability. Where any extension of time is sought, such taxable person shall deposit an additional amount of tax equal to the estimated tax liability for the period for which the extension is sought.

Such deposit shall be credited to the electronic cash ledger of the casual taxable person or non-resident taxable person and utilized in the manner provided under section 49 of the Act (Payment of tax, interest, penalty and other amounts) .

Since the nature of the activity carried out by a casual taxable person and non-resident taxable person are temporary as compared to a regular taxable person, additional safeguards have been placed to ensure that the registration is granted for a limited period and the tax liability is recovered in advance.

Rule 13 of the CGST Rules, 2017, provides for a detailed process of grant of registration to non-resident taxable person and rule 15 provides for the process of extension in period of operation by casual taxable person and non-resident taxable person.

A non-resident taxable person shall electronically submit an application, along with a self-attested copy of his valid passport, for registration, duly signed or verified through electronic verification code, in Form GST REG-09, at least five days prior to the commencement of business. In the case of business entity incorporated or established outside India, the application for registration shall be submitted along with its tax identification number or unique number on the basis of which the entity is identified by the Government of that country or its Permanent Account Number.

A person applying for registration as a non-resident taxable person shall be given a temporary reference number by the common portal for making an advance deposit of tax in accordance with the provisions of section 27 and the acknowledgement under sub-rule 5 of rule 8 shall be issued electronically only after the said deposit in his electronic cash ledger.

Rule 9 and rule 10 of the CGST Rules, 2017 shall also apply to an application submitted under this rule. The application for registration made by a non-resident taxable person shall be duly signed or verified through electronic verification code by his authorized signatory who shall be a person resident in India having a valid Permanent Account Number.

Where a registered casual taxable person or a non-resident taxable person intends to extend the period of registration indicated in his application of registration, an application in Form GST REG-11 shall be submitted electronically, by such person before the end of the validity period of registration granted to him. Such application shall be acknowledged only on payment of the amount specified in sub-section (2) of section 27.

Circular No. 71/45/2018-GST dated October 26, 2018, clarified that in case of long running exhibitions (for a period more than 180 days), the taxable person cannot be treated as a casual taxable person and thus, such person would be required to obtain registration as a normal taxable person. In such cases he would not be required to pay advance tax for the purpose of registration.

Deposit of tax

For casual taxable persons, there was lack of clarity as to whether the term 'tax liability' refers to output tax liability before adjustment of input tax or after adjustment of input tax. Requiring a person to make an advance deposit of tax on the output tax liability (without adjustment of input tax) would be unfair to the taxpayers and cause undue financial hardships. In this regard, Circular No. 71/45/2018-GST dated October 26, 2018 has been issued to clarify that tax to be deposited by the casual taxable person will be "estimated net tax liability" after considering ITC available to such taxable person.

29.1 Analysis

Any registration granted under this Act may be cancelled by the proper officer. The various circumstances and the provisions of the law on this subject have been outlined under this section.

A registration granted can be cancelled by the proper officer, either on his own or on application by the registered person when –

- the business is discontinued, transferred fully for any reason including death of the proprietor, amalgamated with other legal entity, demerged or otherwise disposed of; or
- there is any change in the constitution of the business; or
- the taxable person is no longer liable to be registered under sections 22 or section 24 or intends to opt out of the registration voluntarily.

Further, the proper officer may cancel the registration from a date, including any retrospective date, in case when –

- the registered taxable person has contravened such provisions of the Act or the Rules made thereunder as may be prescribed; or
- a person paying tax under composition scheme has not furnished returns for three consecutive tax periods; or

- any registered person who has not furnished returns for a continuous period of six months; or
- any person who has taken voluntary registration and has not commenced business within six months from the date of registration; or
- where registration has been obtained by means of fraud, wilful misstatement or suppression of facts.

This is possible only after the person is afforded an opportunity of being heard.

The CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018 notified with effect from 1-Feb-2019, provided that during the pendency of the proceedings relating to cancellation of registration filed by the registered person, the registration may be suspended for such period and in such manner as may be prescribed.

As such, cancellation of registration, shall not affect the liability of the taxable person to pay tax and other dues under the Act for any period prior to the date of cancellation whether or not such tax and other dues are determined before or after the date of cancellation. Cancellation of registration under State Goods and Services Tax Act or the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act shall be deemed to be a cancellation of registration under the Central Goods and Service Tax Act.

Where registration is cancelled, the registered taxable person shall pay an amount equivalent to the credit of input tax in respect of inputs held in stock and inputs contained in semi-finished or finished goods held in stock on the day immediately preceding the date of such cancellation or the output tax payable on such goods, whichever is higher. The payment can be made by way of debit in the electronic credit or electronic cash ledger.

In case of capital goods, the taxable person shall pay an amount equal to the input tax credit taken on the said capital goods reduced by the prescribed percentage points or the tax on the transaction value of such capital goods [under sub-section (1) of section 15 of the Act (value of taxable supply)], whichever is higher. The amount payable under these provisions shall be calculated in accordance with rule 44 of CGST Rules. The supplier who intends to cancel his registration will be required to file his final return in Form GSTR-10 so as to complete the cancellation of registration effectively. (Reference may be made to Notification No. 21/2018-Central Tax, dated 18th April, 2018).

As per rule 20 of the CGST Rules, 2017, an application for cancellation of registration by a registered person other than the persons required to deduct / collect tax at source or the person to whom UID is granted needs to be made in Form GST REG-16 along with requisite details. A person whose turnover does not exceed the threshold limit but has obtained registration voluntarily, may also seek cancellation of registration any time during the year. This provision has been introduced vide Notification 3/2018–Central Tax, date 23 January 2018. Earlier, such person could not apply for cancellation before the expiry of one year from the effective date of registration.

Rule 21 of the CGST Rules, 2017, provides for cases of cancellation of registration and includes the following where the person :

- a. does not conduct any business from the declared place of business, or
- b. issues invoice or bill without supply of goods or services or both in violation of the provisions of Act or Rules made thereunder,
- c. violates the provisions of section 171 of the Act relating to anti-profiteering measures or the Rules made thereunder,

- e. avails input tax credit in violation of the provisions of section 16 of the Act or the rules made thereunder; or
- f. furnishes the details of outward supplies in Form GSTR-1 under section 37 for one or more tax periods which is in excess of the outward supplies declared by him in his valid return under section 39 for the said tax periods; or
- g. violates the provision of rule 86B relating to restrictions on use of amount available in electronic credit ledger.

Reasons for Cancellation

- Transfer of business or discontinuation of business
- Change in the constitution of business. (partnership firm may be changed to sole proprietorship due to death of one of the two partners, leading to change in PAN)
- Persons no longer liable to be registered under sections 22 or 24 or intend to opt out of voluntary registration.
- Where registered taxable person has contravened the provisions of the Act as may be prescribed.
- A composition supplier has not furnished returns for 3 consecutive tax periods/ any other registered person has not furnished returns for a continuous period of 6 months.
- Non-commencement of business within 6 months from the date of registration by a person who has registered voluntarily.
- Where registration has been obtained by means of fraud, willful misstatement or suppression of facts, the registration may be cancelled with retrospective effect.

Rule 21A of the CGST Rules, 2017, provides for suspension of registration in the following manner-

- Where a registered person has applied for cancellation of registration, the registration shall be deemed to be suspended from the date of submission of the application or the date from which the cancellation is sought, whichever is later, pending the completion of proceedings for cancellation of registration under rule 22.

- Where the proper officer has reasons to believe that the registration of a person is liable to be cancelled, he may, suspend the registration of such person with effect from a date to be determined by him, pending the completion of the proceedings for cancellation of registration under rule 22.

Suspension based on Technical Analysis

- Sub rule (2A) of Rule 21A, provides for immediate suspension of registration of a person, as a measure to safeguard the interest of revenue, on observance of such discrepancies /anomalies which indicate violation of the provisions of Act and Rules made thereunder and that continuation of such registration poses immediate threat to revenue. Such action may be taken as a result of
 - Comparison of the returns furnished by a registered person under section 39 with details of outward supplies furnished in Form GSTR-1 or
 - Analysis of the details of inward supplies derived based on the details of outward supplies furnished by his suppliers in their Form GSTR-1, or
 - such other analysis, as may be carried out on the recommendations of the Council,
- In case of observance of significant differences or anomalies indicating contravention of the provisions of the Act or the rules made thereunder, leading to cancellation of registration of the said person, his registration shall be suspended and the said person shall be intimated in Form GST REG-31, electronically, on the common portal, or by sending a communication to his e-mail address provided at the time of registration or as amended from time to time, highlighting the said differences and anomalies and asking him to explain, within a period of thirty days, as to why his registration shall not be cancelled.
- As per Circular 145/01/2021 GST dated 11th February 2021, it was clarified that till the time functionality for Form REG-31 is made available on the GST portal, such notice/intimation shall be made available to the taxpayer on their dashboard on common portal in Form GST REG-17. The taxpayers will be able to view the notice in the "View/Notice and Order" tab post login.

Effect of Suspension of Registration

- A registered person, whose registration has been suspended, shall not make any taxable supply during the period of suspension and shall not be required to furnish any return under section 39. It is clarified that the meaning of the term "shall not make any taxable supply" shall be that the registered person shall not issue a tax invoice and, accordingly, not chargeable to tax on supplies made by him during the period of suspension.
- A registered person, whose registration has been suspended under sub-rule (2) or sub-rule (2A), shall not be granted any refund under section 54, during the period of suspension of his registration.

Revocation of Suspension of Registration

The suspension of registration shall be deemed to be revoked upon completion of the proceedings by the proper officer under rule 22 and such revocation shall be effective from the date on which the suspension had come into effect.

It is to be noted that suspension of registration as above may be revoked by the proper officer, anytime during the pendency of the proceedings for cancellation, if he deems fit.

Cancellation of Registration

The registration of a tax payer is cancelled only upon passing of the cancellation order by the jurisdictional officer. In the interim, tax payer is required to file 'Nil' returns, else daily penalties will accrue to him. In order to ensure that the tax payer who have applied for cancellation of registration are not burdened with return filing, amendments have been made to section 29 of the CGST Act to change the status of registration to "suspended". Once the officer changes the status of the registration to "suspended", the tax payer would not be required to file the GST returns till the order for cancellation has been passed and once the order for cancellation is passed, the tax payer can file the final return and complete the de-registration formalities.

Rule 22 of the CGST Rules, 2017, provides for process of cancellation of registration and includes the following:

- Cancellation can be done by proper officer suo moto or on application made by the registered person;
- Retrospective cancellation in case of fraud, willful misstatement or suppression of fact
- Liability to pay tax before the date of cancellation will not be affected
- Cancellation under CGST Act will be deemed cancellation under SGST Act and vice-versa
- Substantial penalty in case of registration obtained with fraudulent intentions
- Notice of hearing and opportunity of being heard is a must before cancellation.

Further, the Government has issued Circular No. 69/43/2018-GST, dated October 26, 2018 amended vide Circular No. 88/07/2019-GST, dated 1-Feb-2019 on standard operating procedure for processing of applications for cancellation of registration submitted in Form GST REG-16.

Final Return under section . 45: As per section 45, "every registered person who is required to furnish a return under sub-section (1) of section 39 and whose registration has been cancelled shall furnish online on the GST portal, a final return "within three months" of the date of cancellation or date of order of cancellation, whichever is later, in FORM GSTR-10 as specified in Rule 81"

29.5. Issues/ Concerns

- a. Cancellation of registration from an earlier date: If cancellation of registration is permitted from anterior (earlier) date, it would lead to disruption of whole credit chain and difficulties will be faced by persons who have already availed credit.
- b. Commencement of business: In some cases, persons who have obtained voluntary registration may not be able to commence business within 6 months for want of clearance of registration norms, permissions and requirements etc. under other laws. Cancellation of such registration without having considered the facts of the case would be unfair.

31.1 Introduction

An invoice does not bring into existence an agreement but merely records the terms of a pre-existing agreement (oral or written). An invoice can be understood as a document that is meant to serve a particular purpose. The GST Law requires that an invoice – tax invoice or bill of supply – is issued on the occurrence of certain event, being a supply, within the prescribed timelines. Therefore, an invoice, among other documents is required to be issued for every form of supply such as sale, transfer, barter, exchange, license, rental, lease or disposal. This chapter provides an understanding of the various documents required to be issued under the GST law, timelines to issue such document and the contents of every such document.

31.2 Analysis

A. Tax invoice on supply of goods or services: Every registered person is required to issue a tax invoice on effecting a taxable outward supply of goods or services or both.

- (a) In order to determine when the tax invoice is to be issued in case of supply of goods, the supply must be classified into one of these two cases, that is, whether it is case of supply that involves movement of goods or one that does not involve movement of the goods. Timelines for issuance of a tax invoice in such case are as follows:

- (i) Where the supply involves movement of goods: Before or at the time of removal of goods;
- (ii) Where the supply does not involve movement of goods: Before or at the time of delivery of the goods / making them available to the recipient.

Please refer to chapter 4 on time of supply for a detailed discussion about removal and movement of goods, mode and time of delivery of goods and the role of supplier or recipient in determining the answers to these questions.

- (b) It is crucial for the supplier to determine the point of time at which the service is provided. Service being intangible in nature would throw several challenges in identifying the point of time at which it can be said to be provided / completed. The timelines for issuance of tax invoice on the supply of taxable services are -
 - (i) before the provision of services; or
 - (ii) after the provision of services but within 30 days (or 45 days in case of suppliers of services being an insurer / banking company / financial institution, including a NBFC) from the date of supply of the service; or
 - (iii) before or at the time, the supplier records the supplies in his books of account or before the expiry of the quarter during which the supply was made, in case of supply of taxable services between distinct person by an insurer or a banking company or a financial institution, a NBFC, or a telecom operator, or any other class of supplier of services as may be notified by the Government on the recommendations of the Council. No such notification has been issued so far.
 - (iv) an insurer / banking company / financial institution, including a NBFC may issue an invoice or any other document in lieu thereof.
- (c) In terms of rule 46 of CGST Rules, 2017, a tax invoice referred to in this section shall be issued by the registered person containing all the particulars specified in the said Rule, as applicable to the transaction.

Notes:

- ✓ Where the registered person effects both taxable and exempt supplies to an unregistered person, he may issue a single 'Invoice-cum- bill of supply' instead of 'tax invoice', for all such supplies as provided in Rule 46A.
- ✓ A registered person can issue multiple series of invoices. No application is required to be filed with the Tax office in this regard. However, the suppliers would be required to report the serial numbers (from & to, along with the number of cancellations during the tax period) of all the series of tax invoices (and other documents covered under this Chapter) in Form GSTR-1.

- (d) The tax invoice must be prepared in triplicate for goods, and in duplicate for services. Each copy of the tax invoice is required to be marked as follows:

Goods	Services
1. ORIGINAL FOR RECIPIENT	1. ORIGINAL FOR RECIPIENT
2. DUPLICATE FOR TRNSPORTER	2. DUPLICATE FOR SUPPLIER
3. TRIPLICATE FOR SUPPLIER	–

- (e) ²⁵[As regards the requirement to quote the HSN of the supplies, the aggregate turnover of the registered person for the previous financial year shall be referred. with effect from the 1st April 2021, in case of suppliers having aggregate turnover in the preceding financial year:–

- (i) Upto ₹ 5 Crore – HSN up to 4 digits required;
(ii) Exceeding ₹ 5 Crore – HSN up to 6 digits required.

Provided that a registered person having aggregate turnover up to five crores rupees in the previous financial year may not mention the number of digits of HSN Code, as specified above in a tax invoice issued by him under the said rules in respect of supplies made to unregistered persons.]

It needs to be noted that as per section 2(6) 'aggregate turnover' means the aggregate value of all taxable supplies (excluding the value of inward supplies on which tax is payable by a person on reverse charge basis), exempt supplies, exports of goods or services or both and inter-State supplies of persons having the same Permanent Account Number, to be computed on all India basis but excludes central tax, State tax, Union Territory tax, integrated tax and cess.

It is also relevant to note that there has been no notification issued in respect of services, separately. However, considering that the term 'HSN' has been used commonly in respect of both goods and services, the aforesaid order can be applied even in respect of services, while quoting the code from the scheme of classification of services, as provided in Notification No. 11/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dt.28.06.2017.

- (f) ²⁶As per Clause (q) of Rule 46, a tax invoice shall contain signature or digital signature of the supplier or his authorised representative. However, such signatures or digital signature shall not be required in the case of issuance of an electronic

- (j) Discount provided before or at the time of supply must be reflected on the face of the tax invoice in order to avail a reduction from the taxable value. Trade discounts not reflected on the face of the invoice would not qualify for such benefit and therefore, tax on that value may also be liable to be paid.
- (k) Where an invoice contains multiple goods and / or services, it needs to be noted that the details would be required to be provided in respect of every line item of the invoice (such as description, HSN, quantity, unit of measurement, value, discount, increase in value on account of inclusions specified in section 15(2), taxable value as agreed or as determined in terms of the valuation rules, etc.).
- (l) Circular 72/46/2018 dated 26.10.18 clarifies the procedure in respect of return of time expired drugs or medicines wherein it is clarified asunder -
 - a person returning the time expired goods may issue the tax invoice or bill of supply, as the case may be in the following manner:
 - (i) Return of time expired drugs / medicines by a registered person (other than a composition taxpayer) may be treated as fresh supply and accordingly, a tax invoice may be issued for such return supply. It is also clarified that a manufacturer/wholesaler accepting the time expired medicines / drugs from wholesaler/retailer is entitled to claim the input tax credit of GST mentioned on the tax invoice issued by the registered person returning such goods;
 - (ii) In case the person returning time-expired drugs / medicines is a composition tax payer, he may issue a bill of supply and pay the tax applicable to a composition tax payer. In such a scenario, there does not arise any question to claim input tax credit by the manufacturer/wholesaler;
 - (iii) In the case of unregistered persons, time expired drugs / medicines can be returned by way of issuing any commercial document without charging any tax on the same.
 - Alternatively, the goods may be returned by issuing a delivery challan and the supplier may issue a credit note against such return supply under section 34(1) up to 30th September following the end of financial year to which such invoice relates. If this time has lapsed, he may issue a financial credit note. There is no requirement to declare such credit note on the common portal as tax liability cannot be adjusted in this case.

³¹ Determination of tax not paid or short paid or erroneously refunded or input tax credit wrongly availed or utilised by reason of fraud or any willful-misstatement or suppression of facts.

³² Detention, seizure and release of goods and conveyances in transit

³³ Confiscation of goods or conveyances and levy of penalty

(m) ³⁴Exception to the rule that every supply must be supported by a tax invoice: A registered person ³⁵(other than an exhibitor of cinematograph films in multiplex screens) is not required to issue a separate tax invoice in respect of supply of goods and / or services where the value of supply is lower than ₹ 200/-, subject to the following conditions:

- (i) the recipient is not a registered person;
- (ii) the recipient does not require such invoice; and
- (iii) the supplier issues a consolidated tax invoice for such supplies at the close of each day in respect of all such supplies.

Note: A registered person supplying services by way of admission to exhibition of cinematograph films in multiplex screens is required to issue an electronic ticket in all cases which shall be deemed to be a tax invoice for all purposes of the Act[Rule 54(4A)].

B. Revised Tax Invoice: A revised tax invoice in terms of the GST Law [section 31(3) (a) read with rule 53] is different from what is construed to be a revised tax invoice in common parlance. Therefore, it is made abundantly clear that there is no provision under the GST Law for a registered person to revise a tax invoice which was issued earlier, on account of errors / mistakes in the original tax invoice. Revised invoice is permitted for first-time registered persons within 30 days from the date of crossing the exemption threshold.

(a) A revised tax invoice under GST law?

A person should apply for registration within 30 days of becoming liable for registration under section 25(1) of the CGST Act. When such an application is made within such time and registration is granted, the effective date of registration is the date on which the person became liable for registration, thereby resulting in a time lag between the date of grant of certificate of registration and the effective date of registration. For supplies made by such person during this intervening period, the law enables issuance of a revised tax invoice, so that ITC can be availed by the recipient on such supplies.

(b) Accordingly, a revised invoice [carrying the details as specified in rule 53(1)] may be issued for supplies effected between the effective date of registration and the date of issue of registration certificate.

The GST Law provides for issuance of a consolidated revised tax invoice in respect of all taxable supplies made to an unregistered person during such period. However, in case of inter-State supplies where the value of supply does not exceed ₹ 2.5 Lakhs, a consolidated revised invoice may be issued separately in respect of all unregistered recipients located in a state.

³⁴ Section 31(3)(b) read with Fourth proviso to rule 46

Thus, a revised/ consolidated revised invoice may be issued within one month from the date of registration as follows:

- For each inter-State B2C taxable supply of less than ₹ 2,50,000/-: State-wise consolidated revised invoice
- For each inter-State B2C taxable supply of ₹ 2,50,000/- and more: Recipient wise revised invoice
- For all Intra-state B2C taxable supplies irrespective of the amount: Consolidated revised invoice

C. Bill of supply: A bill of supply as per section 31(3)(c) is required to be issued in the following two cases:

- (a) Where the supplier is a registered person who has opted for composition tax under section 10 of the Act including a ³⁶service provider who opts for composition scheme. (and shall not charge tax on the bill of supply). or
- (b) Where the goods / services being supplied by any registered person are wholly exempted.

The registered person may not issue a bill of supply if the value of the goods and/or services supplied is less than ₹ 200/-.

The bill of supply is required to contain all the applicable particulars as are specified in rule 49 of CGST Rules, 2017. Provisos to rule 46 shall mutatis mutandis apply to the bill of supply issued under rule 49.

As per clause (h) of rule 49, a bill of supply shall contain the signature or digital signature of the supplier or his authorised representative. However, signature or digital signature of the supplier or his authorised representative shall not be required in the case of issuance of an electronic bill of supply in accordance with the provisions of the ³⁷Information Technology Act, 2000 (21 of 2000).]

D. Documents required to be issued in respect of receipt and refund of advances [Section 31(3)(d) & (e)]

- (a) In case of receipt of advance payment by a registered person with respect to any supply of goods and/or services, a 'receipt voucher' or any other document is required to be issued, and not a tax invoice, containing all the particulars as are prescribed in rule 50 of CGST Rules, 2017. Based on this receipt voucher, the ³⁶ A service provider who avails the benefit of composition was allowed to issue a bill of supply via Removal of Difficulty Order No. 03/2019-CT dated 8.3.2019. Subsequently, Sub-section 2A was inserted in section 10 vide Finance (No. 2) Act, 2019 w.e.f 01.01.2020 to allow a service provider to pay tax not exceeding 6% of turnover in State/UT if his aggregate turnover in the preceding financial year did not exceed ₹ 50 lakhs.

registered person will be required to pay tax on the advances received on services.
³⁸GST is not applicable on advances against supply of goods. For details, refer Chapter dealing with “Time of Supply”.

- (b) It should be noted that the receipt voucher would also carry the details of tax applicable on the transaction when the advance so received is liable to tax (as in case of services). However, if the below mentioned key factors cannot be determined at the time of receipt of advance, then the following rule would apply:
- (i) Where the rate of tax is not determinable: Rate will be 18%
- (ii) Where the nature of supply is not determinable: Nature to be inter-State supply.
- (c) In addition to such receipt voucher, the supplier will be required to issue a tax invoice on effecting the supply, containing all the particulars specified in rule 46 as are required in a case where no advance had been received. In this regard, it may be noted that while the receipt voucher may not be significant where the supply takes place in the same month in which the advance is received, the law does not exempt one from issuing a receipt voucher in such a scenario.
- (d) Whenever a transaction envisages issue of receipt voucher, and the same is not followed by the issuance of a tax invoice, since it does not translate into a transaction of supply, the receipt voucher issued will have to be reversed (meaning without cancellation of the receipt voucher) by issuing a ‘refund voucher’ containing particulars, as required under rule 51 of the CGST Rules, 2017.
- (e) Provisions on receipt voucher and refund voucher do not apply where the consideration is in ‘non-monetary form’ as the expression ‘payment’ is akin only to monetary consideration whereas ‘value’ is akin to both monetary and non-monetary consideration. Trace the usage of these words in rule 50 to 55 to note the context of their usage and identify their application.

E. Documents required to be issued in respect of supplies liable to tax under reverse charge mechanism [Section 31(3)(f) & (g)]

- (a) If the recipient is liable to pay tax on reverse charge basis in terms of section 9(3) or 9(4), or the corresponding provisions of the IGST Act, 2017, he shall issue an invoice (self –invoice) if he receives the supply of goods and/or services from an unregistered supplier. In this regard, the following may be noted:

Document to be issued by recipient	Supplier is registered	Supplier is not registered
Tax invoice	Not required	Required
Payment voucher	Required	Required

³⁸ Notf No. 40/2017-CT dt. 13.10.2017 as superseded by Notf. No.66/2017-CT dt. 15.11.2017.

- (b) The ³⁹law makes a provision for the issuance of a consolidated tax invoice for every month, to be issued at the end of the month for supplies received from an unregistered person under section 9(4), where the aggregate value of such supplies liable to tax under reverse charge mechanism exceeds ₹ 5,000/- in a day from any or all the suppliers. This apart, a mirrored set of all the particulars specified under rule 46 would be required to be contained in a tax invoice issued by a registered recipient (commonly referred to as a 'self-invoice' by trade and industry).
- (c) All cases of inward supplies on which tax is payable on reverse charge basis, require the recipient of supply to issue a payment voucher, at the time of making payment to the supplier, containing all the applicable particulars specified in rule 52 of the CGST Rules, 2017.
- (d) It is relevant to note here that payment of tax by registered recipients on effecting inward supplies from unregistered persons, in terms of section 9(4) of the Act, has been exempted up to 30.09.2019, vide Notification No 8/2017-Central Tax (rate) dated 28.06.2017 as amended time to time. However, the said notification has been rescinded by Notification No 1/2019-Central Tax (Rate) dated 29-01-2019 w.e.f 01.02.2019 vide the Central Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018. After amendment of section 9(4), the Government may, on the recommendations of the Council, by notification, specify the class of registered persons who shall, in respect of supply of specified categories of goods or services or both received from an unregistered supplier, pay the tax on reverse charge basis as the recipient of such supply of goods or services or both.
- (e) Notification No. 07/2019-CT (Rate) dated 29.03.2019 as amended vide Notification No. 24/2019-CT dated 30.09.2019 issued in this respect under section 9(4) as amended specifies 'Promoter' as a class of registered persons who shall on receipt of specified goods or services as specified in the said notification from an unregistered supplier, shall pay tax on reverse charge basis.

F. Tax Invoice for an Input Service Distributor (ISD):

- (a) An Input Service Distributor (ISD) is entitled to distribute credits in terms of section 20 of the Act read with rule 39 of the CGST Rules, 2017. For the purpose of such credit distribution, an ISD invoice is required to be issued by an ISD (or a credit note where the credit distributed earlier is to be reduced for any reason) and such document is required to contain all the particulars specified in rule 54(1) of the CGST Rules, 2017.
- (b) An exception has been carved out for an ISD of a banking company or a financial institution, including a NBFC, wherein the document issued for distribution may or may not be serially numbered, but must contain all the details as prescribed above.
- (c) The law provides that a registered person having the same PAN and State code as that of the ISD, may issue an invoice or, as the case may be, a credit or debit note to transfer the credit of common input services to the ISD (wherein the taxable value shall be the same as the value of the common services), containing the details specified in rule 54(1a). It may be noted that the said sub-rule has been inserted vide Notification No. 03/2018 dated 23.01.2018. By virtue of this provision, delivery location (of services) other than at the address of ISD is enabled in harmony with the concept of 'bill to and ship to' in explanation to section 16(2)(b).

G. Delivery challan: Rule 55 of the CGST Rules, 2017 provides for issuance of delivery challan, and also the mandatory contents in a delivery challan. A delivery challan is required to be issued by a registered person every time he moves goods for any reason other than by way of supply (say supply for job work, goods sent for sale on approval basis, dispatch of demo-goods, disposal by way of gift or free samples, shipment of goods for an exhibition, etc.)

- (a) It should be noted that a delivery challan is a document required for movement of goods, and not "supply of goods". This means, even where goods that are otherwise chargeable to tax as services, are moved, this document would be required. E.g., Goods moved for works contract purposes, goods sent for hire, etc.
- (b) Goods sent on approval: Where goods are sent on approval basis, an invoice would not be required at the time of removal of goods and shall be issued only at the time of receipt of approval from the recipient. However, if the goods so dispatched have neither been accepted nor been returned within 6 months from the date of their removal, the tax invoice is required to be issued on the date immediately succeeding the date on which the 6-month period expires.
- (c) It has been clarified vide Circular No.10/10/2017 dated 18.10.2017 that where the goods are removed for line sales or for supply on approval basis, the person removing the goods either for intra-State supplies or inter-State supplies shall raise a delivery challan along with e-way bill (if applicable) since the supplier would be unable to ascertain the actual supply at the time of removal. It is also clarified that the person removing the goods shall carry the invoice book during the movement which shall enable him to issue an invoice once the supply is complete. It is further clarified that all such supplies, where the supplier carries goods from one State to another and supplies them in a different State, will be inter-State supplies and attract integrated tax in terms of section 5 of the IGST Act, 2017.
- (d) Circular No. 22/22/2017 dated 21.12.2017 has been issued clarifying the same procedure for removal of goods by artists and supply of such goods by artists from galleries.
- (e) Circular No. 108/27/2019 dated 18.07.2019 has been issued clarifying the procedure in respect of goods sent/taken out of India for exhibition or on consignment basis for export promotion. It has been clarified that such activity except when it is covered under Schedule I of the CGST Act does not constitute supply as no consideration is involved at that point in time and consequently the same cannot be considered as zero rated supply under section 16 of the IGST Act. It has been further clarified that such goods shall be accompanied with a delivery challan. When such goods have been sold fully or partially, within the stipulated period of six months as per section 31(7) of the CGST Act, the sender shall issue a tax invoice in respect of such quantity of specified goods which has been sold abroad, in accordance with the provisions contained in sections 12 and 31 of the CGST Act read with rule 46 of the CGST Rules. When the specified goods sent / taken out of India have neither been sold nor brought back, either fully or partially, within the stipulated period of six months, the sender shall issue a tax invoice on the date of expiry of six months from the date of removal.

- (f) While the law provides only for movement in general, a corollary can be, that a delivery challan may be for movement-outward or / and movement-inward.
- (g) A delivery challan would also be required to be prepared in triplicate, as applicable in case of tax invoices for goods (explained above).
- (h) The rules also specify the nature of other documents to be carried along with the goods under transportation. Note that this list is illustrative and not exhaustive.

Nature of supply	Mandatory documents	Particulars to be contained in the document
(1) Where the tax invoice could not be issued at the time of removal of goods for supply; (2) Supply of liquid gas where the quantity at the time of removal from the place of business of the supplier is not known; (3) Transportation of goods for job work; (4) Transportation of goods for reasons other than by way of supply; or (5) Such other supplies notified by the Board	1. Consignor to issue a delivery challan 2. Serially numbered delivery challan to be issued in lieu of invoice at the time of removal of goods for transportation	(i) Date and number of the delivery challan, (ii) Name, address and GSTIN of the consigner, if registered, (iii) Name, address and GSTIN or UIN of the consignee, if registered, (iv) HSN code and description of goods, (v) Quantity (provisional, where the exact quantity being supplied is not known), (vi) Taxable value, (vii) Tax rate and tax amount – CGST, SGST/ UTGST, IGST or cess, where the transportation is for supply to the consignee, (viii) Place of supply, in case of inter-State movement, and (ix) Signature.

H. Important note: The person-in-charge of the conveyance shall carry a copy of the tax invoice or the bill of supply or tax invoice cum bill of supply, as explained in the preceding paragraphs, in a case where such person is not required to carry an e-way bill [As per rule 55A]

I. Special cases

(a) Continuous supply of goods [section 31(4)]: In case of a continuous supply of goods as defined in section 2(32), where successive statements of accounts or successive payments are involved, the tax invoice is required to be issued before or at the time when :

- each such statement or a running-claim is issued; or
- each such payment is received.

Section 2(32)- “continuous supply of goods” means a supply of goods which is provided, or agreed to be provided, continuously or on recurrent basis, under a contract, whether or not by means of a wire, cable, pipeline or other conduit, and for which the supplier invoices the recipient on a regular or periodic basis and includes supply of such goods as the Government may, subject to such conditions, as it may, by notification, specify;

(b) Continuous supply of services [section 31(5)]: In case of a continuous supply of services as defined in section 2(33) of the CGST Act, 2017, a tax invoice is required to be issued as follows:

- (i) When payment date is ascertainable as per the contract:
 - o On or before the due date for payment
- (ii) When payment date is not ascertainable from the contract:
 - o On or before the time when the supplier of services receives the payment
- (iii) When payment is linked to completion of an event:
 - o On or before the date of completion of the event.

Section 2(33)- “continuous supply of services” means a supply of services which is provided, or agreed to be provided, continuously or on recurrent basis, under a contract, for a period exceeding three months with periodic payment obligations and includes supply of such services as the Government may, subject to such condition as it may, by notification, specify.

(c) Goods sent on SKD / CKD conditions/batches/lots [rule 55(5)]: Where the goods are being transported in a semi knocked down (SKD) or completely knocked down (CKD) conditions or in batches or lots, the supplier must first issue the complete invoice before the first consignment is moved. A delivery challan is to be issued for each of the subsequent consignments giving reference of the said invoice. Each consignment shall be accompanied by copies of the corresponding delivery challan in terms of rule

55 of the CGST Rules, 2017 along with a certified copy of the invoice. It is imperative to note that the original invoice must accompany the last consignment. Experts caution that goods sent in CKD-SKD or consignments must apply the HSN applicable to the complete built up (CBU) and not parts in each consignment. Very often goods are sourced and shipped to site directly from various vendor locations in case of EPC project. In such cases, the EPC contractor tends to recycle the same HSN as used by the parts-vendors. Reference may be had to a very interesting decision in Shirke Construction Equipment Pvt. Ltd. v. CCE, Pune (1997) 95 ELT 644 (Trib.) where it was held that goods cleared in such a consignment were 'not parts of crane but crane in parts'.

- (d) Cessation of service [section 31(6)]: On cessation of a contract for supply of services, a tax invoice is required to be issued to the extent of supply effected up to the point of cessation, and the tax due shall be remitted thereon.
- (e) Bill-to-ship-to transactions: Where the place of supply is deemed to be the principal place of business of the person on whose direction the goods are dispatched to another person (as specified in section 10(1)(b) of the IGST Act, 2017), the transaction would have two supplies - one from the supplier to the person to whom the invoice is addressed and another deemed to be effected by the said addressee to the person who receives the goods. In such a case, the addressee may consider the date of making available of the goods to the ultimate recipient, as the date on which the tax invoice is liable to be issued by him. The reason being that in case of supply of goods, invoice is to be issued on or before the removal of goods as per section 31(1) and the term "removal of goods" as defined in section 2(96) of the CGST Act also means collection of the goods by the recipient thereof or by any other person acting on behalf of such recipient.
- (f) Goods sent to job worker for the purpose of job work: Where inputs or capital goods have been sent to the job worker for the purposes of job work and have neither been returned nor been directly dispatched for supply from the place of the job worker within the timelines specified in section 19, it shall be deemed that such goods (other than moulds and dies, jigs and fixtures, or tools) have been supplied by the principal to the job worker as on the date of dispatch of such goods to the job worker (or the date of receipt of goods by the job worker where the goods were sent to the job worker's premises without being first received at the place of business of the principal).

Special issues concerning Goods sent for Job work

Goods sent to a job worker for the purpose of job work amounts to supply liable to tax under GST. However, as per section 143 of the CGST Act, the principal may' under intimation and subject to fulfillment of certain conditions choose to send goods for job work without payment of tax and from there subsequently to another job worker and likewise. Form GST ITC-04 will serve as the intimation as envisaged under section 143 of the CGST Act, 2017 [Clause (i) of Para 8.4 of Circular No. 38/12/2018 dated 26.03.2018.]

The documents that need to be issued for movement of goods between the principal and the job worker are as follows:

1. Goods sent for job work on payment of tax – The principal shall issue a tax invoice for goods sent for job work. The job worker, if registered, shall return the goods by raising another tax invoice. In case of receipt of goods after job work from an unregistered job worker, the principal will be required to raise an invoice as per section 9(4) of the CGST Act (which was exempt till 30th September, 2019, vide Notification No 8/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated 28.06.2017 amended time to time. However, the said notification has been rescinded by Notification No 1/2019-Central Tax (Rate) dated 29-01-2019 w.e.f 01.02.2019). After amendment of section 9(4), the Government may, on the recommendations of the Council, by notification, specify a class of registered persons who shall, in respect of supply of specified categories of goods or services or both received from an unregistered supplier, pay the tax on reverse charge basis as the recipient of such supply of goods or services or both). No such notification has been issued in case of receipt of goods from an unregistered job worker.
2. Goods sent for job work without payment of tax – Circular No.38/12/2018 dated 26th March, 2018 has clarified the following:
 - (a) Where goods are sent by principal to only one job worker: The principal shall prepare in triplicate, the challan in terms of rule 45 read with rule 55 of the CGST Rules, for sending the goods to a job worker. Two copies of the challan may be sent to the job worker along with the goods. The job worker should send one copy of the said challan along with the goods, while returning them to the principal.
 - (b) Where goods are sent from one job worker to another job worker: In such cases, the goods may move under the cover of a challan issued either by the principal or the job worker. Alternatively, the challan issued by the principal may be endorsed by the job worker sending the goods to another job worker, indicating therein the quantity and description of goods being sent. The same process may be repeated for subsequent movement of the goods to other job workers.
 - (c) Where the goods are returned to the principal by the job worker: The job worker should send one copy of the challan received by him from the principal while returning the goods to the principal after carrying out the job work.
 - (d) Where the goods are sent directly by the supplier to the job worker: In this case, the goods may move from the place of business of the supplier to the place of business/premises of the job worker with a copy of the invoice issued by the supplier in the name of the buyer (i.e. the principal) wherein the job worker's name and address should also be mentioned as the consignee, in terms of rule 46(o) of the CGST Rules. The buyer (i.e., the principal) shall issue the challan under rule 45 of the CGST Rules and send the same to the job worker directly in terms of Para (a) above. In case of import of goods by the principal which are then supplied directly from the customs station of import, the goods may move from the customs station of import to the place of business/premises of the job worker with a copy of the bill of entry and the principal shall issue the challan under rule 45 of the CGST Rules and send the same to the job worker directly.

- (e) Where goods are returned in piecemeal by the job worker: In case the goods after carrying out the job work, are sent in piecemeal quantities by a job worker to another job worker or to the principal, the challan issued originally by the principal cannot be endorsed and a fresh challan is required to be issued by the job worker.
- (f) Issue of invoice
- (i) Supply of job work services: The registered job worker shall issue an invoice at the time of supply of the services as determined in terms of section 13 read with section 31 of the CGST Act. The value of services determined in terms of section 15 of the CGST Act would include not only the service charges but also the value of any goods or services used by him for supplying the job work services, if recovered from the principal.
- (ii) Supply of goods by the principal from the place of business/ premises of job worker: Since the supply is being made by the principal, the time, value and place of supply would have to be determined in the hands of the principal irrespective of the location of the job worker's place of business/premises. The invoice would have to be issued by the principal. It is also clarified that in case of exports directly from the job worker's place of business/premises, the LUT or bond, as the case may be, shall be executed by the principal.
- (iii) Supply of waste and scrap generated during the job work: Sub - section (5) of section 143 of the CGST Act provides that the waste and scrap generated during the job work may be supplied by the registered job worker directly from his place of business or by the principal in case the job worker is not registered. The principles enunciated in Para (ii) above would apply mutatis mutandis to this case.
- (g) If inputs/capital goods are neither returned nor supplied within specified time period of 1/3 years from job worker's place of business: The inputs or capital goods (other than moulds and dies, jigs and fixtures or tools) would be deemed to have been supplied by the principal to the job worker. The principal would issue an invoice for the same and declare such supplies in his return for that particular month in which the time period of one year / three years has expired. The date of supply shall be the date on which such inputs or capital goods were initially sent to the job worker and interest for the intervening period shall also be payable on the tax.

If such goods are returned by the job worker after the stipulated time period, the same would be treated as a supply by the job worker to the principal and the job worker would be liable to pay GST if he is liable for registration in accordance with the provisions contained in the CGST Act read with the Rules made thereunder. It may be noted that if the job worker is not registered, GST would be payable by the principal on reverse charge basis only if the Government issues a notification in this regard in terms of substituted provisions of section 9(4) as stated above.

31.3 Comparative review

Under the erstwhile indirect tax laws, depending upon the taxable event, as to whether it is manufacture or sale or service, excise invoices or tax invoices were raised.

Under the service tax regime, a time limit to issue a tax invoice was prescribed having regard to the date of completion of such taxable service or receipt of any payment towards the value of such taxable service, whichever is earlier.

The provision to issue revised invoice (from the effective date of registration to the date of issuance of certificate) was not available earlier. This document would be useful for claiming tax credit for supply of goods/services during this period.

Under erstwhile law, invoices or bills of sale etc. can be issued inclusive of tax in certain cases whereas it is mandatory to indicate the amount of tax charged on every transaction in the GST regime.

31.4 Issues and Concerns

1. The value of supply and the amount of GST applicable thereon is required to be reflected separately in the tax invoice, in terms of rule 46. However, a supplier is also permitted to effect supplies for an inclusive value – such as in the case of travel agents paying tax on margins. In such cases, the supplier will be required to disclose their margins to the recipient, by virtue of this requirement.
2. Rule 46 of the CGST Rules, 2017 does not specifically provide as to how the details of tax must be reflected in cases of zero-rated supplies. Therefore, where a zero-rated supply has been effected on payment of IGST, the details thereof may be reflected separately on the face of the invoice, by providing a declaration to the effect that the same is not charged to the recipient of supply, given that disclosure of tax details is mandatory. In other cases, the applicable rate of tax can be stated, whereas the tax amount can be shown as '0'.

3. The law does not specifically provide the manner in which the details of HSN, quantity, etc. must be reflected in cases of composite supply or mixed supply. However, given that section 8 regards all composite supplies as principal supply alone, only those details pertaining to the principal supply must be reflected, while quoting the taxable value applicable to the composite supply as a whole. In case of mixed supplies, the supply attracting the highest rate of tax ought to be reflected – what if both the supplies attract the same rate of tax? It is expected that clarity will come in due course.
4. While the GST law provides for a supplier to issue a revised tax invoice in respect of supplies made during the time period from the effective date of registration to the date of grant of registration certificate, there are no similar provisions found for issuance of revised tax invoice to mention the GSTIN of the recipient, wherein a supply has been effected to a taxable person who has applied for registration, and receives such registration after the tax invoice has been issued by the supplier. Therefore, the recipient of supply may not be entitled to the credits on such inward supplies, unless the tax invoice is cancelled and reissued during the same tax period.
5. Given that all incidental expenses are required to be included in the value of supply, and the value of supply is determined for each of the goods and / services separately, even where all such goods and / or services are included in the same tax invoice, the incidental expenses (say freight, packing, etc.) will be required to be split up as attributable to each supply, separately. This would be a tedious task and would be practically difficult to reflect it on the face of the invoice. To ensure that no tax is underpaid, the suppliers can adopt a reasonable basis to identify the most suitable rate of tax applicable on the incidental charges, by considering the contents of the invoice.
6. Where an advance has been received and the supplier is unable to determine the nature of tax, the law provides a deeming fiction to treat such supply as an inter-State supply. This provision would, however, require a relook, considering that the place of supply is a must, for the purpose of reporting the transaction as an inter-State supply. Further, the law does not provide for closing the loop, as and when the rate of tax or the nature of tax has been ascertained. It appears that the only solution is to issue a refund voucher and reverse the effect of issue of the earlier receipt voucher and thereafter, issue a tax invoice (where the supply has been effected), or issue a fresh receipt voucher with the correct details (where the supply is yet to be effected).
7. While rule 54(1A) provides the form in which credits can be distributed by a registered person to its own ISD in the same State, no corresponding provision has been made under the law which specifies that a registered person is entitled to issue an invoice to another registered person (whether ISD / any other person) where there is no underlying taxable supply. However, by virtue of this sub-rule which has been inserted, the intent of the law can be safely inferred that there is no such requirement and the registered persons may make use of this provision to furnish the details of common services to the ISD for the purpose of distribution.

⁴⁰[31A. Facility of digital payment to recipient.

The Government may, on the recommendations of the Council, prescribe a class of registered persons who shall provide prescribed modes of electronic payment to the recipient of supply of goods or services or both made by him and give option to such recipient to make payment accordingly, in such manner and subject to such conditions and restrictions, as may be prescribed.]

E-Invoice

The GST Council, in its 35th meeting held in New Delhi on 21.06.2019, decided to implement a system of e-invoicing, which will be applicable to specified categories of persons. Para 6 of the said press release states:

⁴⁰ Inserted by Finance (No. 2) Act, 2019 – Brought into force w.e.f. 1st January, 2020

“6. The Council also decided to introduce electronic invoicing system in a phase-wise manner for B2B transactions. E-invoicing is a rapidly expanding technology which would help taxpayers in backward integration and automation of tax relevant processes. It would also help tax authorities in combating the menace of tax evasion. The Phase 1 is proposed to be voluntary and it shall be rolled out from Jan 2020”

What is E-invoicing?

‘E-invoicing’ or ‘electronic invoicing’ is a system wherein the supplier will upload his invoice details and register his supply transaction on the Government invoice registration portal (IRP) and get the invoice reference number (IRN) generated by the IRP system. That is, the tax payer will first prepare and generate his invoice using his ERP/accounting system or manual system in the standard e-invoice schema and then upload these invoice details in Form GST INV-01 to IRP and get the unique reference number, known as IRN. It is clarified again that the e-invoice does not mean preparation or generation of tax payer’s invoice on Government portal. It is only intimating the Government portal that invoice has been issued to the buyer, by registering that invoice on the Government portal.

The IRP will act as the central registrar for e-invoicing and its authentication. IRP will validate the key details of the invoice, checks for any duplication and generates an invoice reference number (IRN), digitally signs the invoice and creates a QR code in output JSON for the supplier. On the other hand, the seller of the supply will get intimated of the e-invoice generation through email (if provided in the invoice). An e-invoice will be valid only if it has IRN. By digitally signing the invoice, the Government authenticates the genuineness of the invoice submitted/registered by the supplier.

IRP will send the authenticated payload to GST portal for GST returns. Additionally, details will be forwarded to the e-way bill portal, if applicable. ANX-1 of seller and ANX-2 of the buyer will get auto-filled for the relevant tax period.

The basic aim behind adoption of e-invoice system is to reduce the submission of multiple statements and details by the tax payers and help the purchaser to get the input tax credit easily.

While the word ‘invoice’ is used in the nomenclature ‘e-invoice’ it covers other documents like the following, that will be required to be reported to e-invoice system by the creator of the document:

- Business to business invoice
- Business to Government invoices
- Export invoices
- Reverse charged invoices
- Credit notes
- Debit notes

It may be noted that presently the business to consumer (B2C) invoices are not allowed for e-invoice/ IRN generation.

Pre-requisite for generation of e-invoice

The pre-requisite for generation of e-invoice is that the person who generates e-invoice should be a registered person on GST portal and e-invoice system or e-way bill system. Documents such as tax invoice or bill of sale or debit note or credit note must be available with the person who is generating the e-invoice. If a user is generating bulk invoices, then he/she should have a valid JSON file as per the e-invoice schema to upload on the e-invoice system

The Government has issued the following notifications with respect to e-invoicing:

- 1) Notification Nos. 68/2019-CT to 70/2019-CT all dated 13.12.2019

Circular clarifications

Circular No. 160/16/2021-GST dated 20th September, 2021 – Clarification on carrying physical copy of invoice under rule 48(4)

Issue: Whether carrying physical copy of invoice is compulsory during movement of goods in cases where the suppliers have issued invoices in the manner prescribed under rule 48 (4) of the CGST Rules, 2017 (i.e. in cases of e-invoice).

Clarification :

1. Rule 138A (1) of the CGST Rules, 2017 inter-alia, provides that the person in charge of a conveyance shall carry— (a) the invoice or bill of supply or delivery challan, as the case may be; and (b) a copy of the e-way bill or the e-way bill number, either physically or mapped to a radio frequency identification device embedded on to the conveyance in such manner as may be notified by the Commissioner.
2. Further, rule 138A (2) of CGST Rules, after being amended vide Notification No. 72/2020-Central Tax dated 30.09.2020, states: “In case, invoice is issued in the manner prescribed under sub-rule (4) of rule 48, the quick reference (QR) code having an embedded invoice reference number (IRN) in it, may be produced electronically, for verification by the proper officer in lieu of the physical copy of such tax invoice”
3. A conjoint reading of rules 138A (1) and 138A (2) of CGST Rules, 2017 clearly indicates that there is no requirement to carry the physical copy of tax invoice in cases where e-invoice has been generated by the supplier. After amendment, revised rule 138A (2) states in unambiguous words that whenever an e-invoice has been generated, the quick reference (QR) code, having an embedded invoice reference number (IRN) in it, may be produced electronically for verification by the proper officer in lieu of the physical copy of such tax invoice.

Accordingly, it is clarified that there is no need to carry the physical copy of tax invoice in cases where the invoice has been generated by the supplier in the manner prescribed under rule 48(4) of the CGST Rules and production of the quick response (QR) code having an embedded invoice reference number (IRN) electronically, for verification by the proper officer, would suffice.

Quick Response (QR) Code

Government has added Sixth proviso to rule 46 vide Notification No. 31/2019 –CT dt. 28.06.2019 which states that the tax invoice shall have quick response (QR) code subject to such conditions and restrictions as mentioned therein. This proviso has been made effective from 1.4.2020 vide Notification No. 71/2019-CT dated 13.12.2019. and vide Notification No. 72/2019-CT dated 13.12.2019 [effective from 1.4.2020, but deferred to 01.10.2020], it has been notified that an invoice issued by a registered person to an unregistered person (hereinafter referred to as B2C invoice), shall have quick response (QR) code if his aggregate turnover in a financial year exceeds 500 crores rupees.

The proviso to the said notification states that where such registered person makes a dynamic quick response (QR) code available to the recipient through a digital display, such B2C invoice issued by such registered person containing cross-reference of the payment using a dynamic quick response (QR) code, shall be deemed to be having QR code.

The above notification has been superseded by Notification No. 14/2020-CT dated 21.03.2020 (effective from 1.10.2020) whereby the Government has made it mandatory that the invoice to be issued as such shall have a dynamic quick response (QR) code except in the following cases:

1. Invoice issued under sub-rules (2), (3), (4) and (4A) of rule 54 -
 - a. Rule 54(2): Issue of consolidated tax invoice or any other document in lieu thereof by an insurer or a banking company or a financial institution, including a non-banking financial company.
 - b. Rule 54(3): Issue of tax invoice or any other document in lieu thereof by a goods transport agency (GTA)
 - c. Rule 54(4): Issue of tax invoice including ticket in any form, by whatever name called, by a passenger transportation service provider.
 - d. Rule 54(4A): Issue of an electronic ticket by multiplexes
2. Invoice issued by a registered person referred to in section 14 of the IGST Act.

Section 14 of the IGST Act refers to special provision for payment of tax by a supplier of online information and database access or retrieval services.

The said Notification No. 14/2020-CT dated 21st March, 2020 has been amended vide Notification No. 71/2020 – Central Tax dated 30th September 2020 to extend the date of implementation of the dynamic QR code for B2C invoices till 01.12.2020 instead of 01.10.2020. Also, the same Notification No. 71/2020 provides clarity on the threshold that QR code is applicable if the aggregate turnover exceeds INR 500 crores in any preceding financial year from 2017-18 onwards.

Penalty for non-compliance and Waiver of the same

Non-generation of dynamic QR codes for invoices issued by a registered person to unregistered persons with effect from 1st October 2021 by companies having an annual turnover in excess of ₹500 Crores could now attract penalty of ₹ 50,000 under section 125 of CGST Act, 2017. However, vide Notification No. 89/2020 – Central Tax dated 29th November, 2020, the Government has waived such penalty for non-compliance between the period from 01.12.2020 and 31.03.2021, subject to the condition that the said person complies with the provisions of the said notification from the 01st April, 2021. Such waiver of penalty was further extended until 30th June 2021 subject to compliance from 1st July 2021.

However, in supersession of such conditional waiver of penalty, Notification No. 28/2021 – Central Tax dated 30th June, 2021 was issued to grant waiver of penalty for the period from 01.12.2020 to 30.09.2021 unconditionally (without attaching any condition towards subsequent compliance). Accordingly, any non-compliances of QR code would attract general penalty of ₹ 50,000 with effect from 1st Oct 2021.

Meaning of QR Code

A QR code (short for "quick response" code) is a type of barcode that contains a matrix of dots. It can be scanned using a QR scanner or a smartphone with built-in camera. Once scanned, the software on the device converts the dots within the code into numbers or a string of characters. For example, scanning a QR code with your phone might open a URL in your phone's web browser. [Source: https://techterms.com/definition/qr_code]

QR code for the URL of the English Wikipedia Mobile main page.

A QR code consists of black squares arranged in a square grid on a white background which can be read by an imaging device such as a camera. QR codes are used over a much wider range of applications. These include commercial tracking, entertainment and transport ticketing, product and loyalty marketing, in-store product labeling etc.

Dynamic QR code

A dynamic QR code is a type of QR code that is editable, as opposed to a static QR code which is not editable. Dynamic QR codes also allow for additional features like scan analytics, password protection, device-based redirection and access management.

Static vs. Dynamic QR Code:

- Static QR Code: The actual destination website URL is placed directly into the QR code and it can't be modified.
- Dynamic QR Code: A short URL is placed into the QR code which then transparently re-directs the user to the intended destination website URL; with short URL redirection destination URL is able to be changed after the QR code has been created.

Circulars providing clarifications on QR code

A. Circular No. 146/02/2021-GST dated 23rd February 2021-Clarification in respect of applicability of Dynamic QR code on B2C invoices and compliance of Notification No. 14/2020-CT dt. 21st March, 2020

1. Issue 1: To which invoice is Notification No 14/2020- Central Tax dated 21st March, 2020 applicable? Would this requirement be applicable on invoices issued for supplies made for exports?

Clarification 1: This notification is applicable to a tax invoice issued to an unregistered person by a registered person (B2C invoice) whose annual aggregate turnover exceeds 500 Cr rupees in any of the financial years from 2017-18 onwards. However, the said notification is not applicable to an invoice issued in following cases:

- I. Where the supplier of taxable service is:
 - a) an insurer or a banking company or a financial institution, including a non-banking financial company;
 - b) a goods transport agency supplying services in relation to transportation of goods by road in a goods carriage;
 - c) supplying passenger transportation service;
 - d) supplying services by way of admission to exhibition of cinematograph in films in multiplex screens
- II. OIDAR supplies made by any registered person, who has obtained registration under section 14 of the IGST Act 2017, to an unregistered person.

As regards the supplies made for exports, though such supplies are made by a registered person to an unregistered person, as e-invoices are required to be issued in respect of supplies for exports in terms of Notification No. 13/2020-Central Tax, dated 21st March, 2020 treating them as business to business (B2B) supplies, Notification No. 14/2020- Central Tax, dated 21st March, 2020 will not be applicable to them.

2. Issue 2: What parameters/ details are required to be captured in the quick response (QR) code?

Clarification 2: Dynamic QR code, in terms of Notification No. 14/2020-Central Tax, dated 21st March, 2020 is required, inter-alia, to contain the following information:

- I. Supplier GSTIN number
- II. Supplier UPI ID
- III. Payee's bank A/C number and IFSC
- IV. Invoice number & invoice date,

- V. Total invoice value and vi. GST amount along with breakup i.e. CGST, SGST, IGST, CESS, etc.

Further, dynamic QR code should be such that it can be scanned to make a digital payment.

3. Issue 3: If a supplier provides/ displays dynamic QR code, but the customer opts to make payment without using dynamic QR code, then will cross reference of such payment, made without use of dynamic QR code, on the invoice, be considered as compliance of dynamic QR code on the invoice?

Clarification 3: If the supplier has issued invoice having dynamic QR code for payment, the said invoice shall be deemed to have complied with dynamic QR code requirements. In cases where the supplier, has digitally displayed the dynamic QR code and the customer pays for the invoice: -

- I. using any mode like UPI, credit/ debit card or online banking or cash or combination of various modes of payment, with or without using dynamic QR code, and the supplier provides a cross reference of the payment (transaction id along with date, time and amount of payment, mode of payment like UPI, credit card, debit card, online banking etc.) on the invoice ; or
- II. in cash, without using dynamic QR code and the supplier provides a cross reference of the amount paid in cash , along with date of such payment on the invoice;

the said invoice shall be deemed to have complied with the requirement of having dynamic QR code.

4. Issue 4: If the supplier makes available to customers an electronic mode of payment like UPI Collect, UPI Intent or similar other modes of payment, through mobile applications or computer-based applications, where though dynamic QR code is not displayed, but the details of merchant as well as transaction are displayed/ captured otherwise, how can the requirement of dynamic QR code as per this notification be complied with?

Clarification 4: In such cases, if the cross reference of the payment made using such electronic modes of payment is made on the invoice, the invoice shall be deemed to comply with the requirement of dynamic QR code. However, if payment is made after generation / issuance of invoice, the supplier shall provide dynamic QR code on the invoice.

5. Issue 5: Is generation/ printing of dynamic QR code on B2C invoices mandatory for pre- paid invoices i.e. where payment has been made before issuance of the invoice?

Clarification 5: If cross reference of the payment received either through electronic mode or through cash or combination thereof is made on the invoice, then the invoice would be deemed to have complied with the requirement of dynamic QR code. In cases where payment is made after generation / issuance of invoice, the supplier shall provide dynamic QR code on the invoice.

6. Issue 6: Once the e-commerce operator (ECO) or the online application has complied with the dynamic QR code requirements, will the suppliers using such e-commerce portal or application for supplies still be required to comply with the requirement of dynamic QR code?

Clarification 6: The provisions of the notification shall apply to each supplier/registered person separately if such person is liable to issue invoices with dynamic QR code for B2C supplies as per the said notification. In case, the supplier is making supply through the e-commerce portal or application and the said supplier gives cross references of the payment received in respect of the said supply on the invoice, then such invoices would be deemed to have complied with the requirements of dynamic QR code. In cases where payment is made after generation / issuance of invoice, the supplier shall provide dynamic QR code on the invoice.

- B. Circular No. 156/12/2021-GST dated 21st June 2021 - Circular No. 146/2/2021-GST, dated 23.02.2021 stands modified to this extent.

1. Issue 1: Whether dynamic QR code is to be provided on an invoice, issued to a person, who has obtained a unique identity number as per the provisions of sub-section 9 of section 25 of CGST Act 2017?

Clarification 1: Any person, who has obtained a unique identity number (UIN) as per the provisions of sub-section 9 of section 25 of CGST Act 2017, is not a "registered person" as per the definition of "registered person" provided in section 2(94) of the CGST Act 2017. Therefore, any invoice, issued to such person having a UIN, shall be considered as invoice issued for a B2C supply and shall be required to comply with the requirement of dynamic QR code.

2. Issue 2: UPI ID is linked to the bank account of the payee/ person collecting money. Whether bank account and IFSC details also need to be provided separately in the dynamic QR code along with UPI ID?

Clarification 2: Given that UPI ID is linked to a specific bank account of the payee/ person collecting money, separate details of bank account and IFSC may not be provided in the dynamic QR code.

3. Issue 3: In cases where the payment is collected by some person other than the supplier (ECO or any other person authorized by the supplier on his/ her behalf), whether in such cases, in place of UPI ID of the supplier, the UPI ID of such person, who is authorized to collect the payment on behalf of the supplier, may be provided?

Clarification 3: Yes. In such cases where the payment is collected by some person, authorized by the supplier on his/ her behalf, the UPI ID of such person may be provided in the dynamic QR code, instead of UPI ID of the supplier.

4. Issue 4: In cases, where the receiver of services is located outside India, and payment is being received by the supplier of services in foreign exchange, through RBI approved modes of payment, but as per provisions of the IGST Act 2017, the place of supply of such services is in India, then such supply of services is not considered as export of services as per the IGST Act 2017; whether in such cases, the dynamic QR code is required on the invoice issued, for such supply of services, to such recipient located outside India?

Clarification 4: No. Wherever an invoice is issued to a recipient located outside India, for supply of services, for which the place of supply is in India, as per the provisions of IGST Act 2017 and the payment is received by the supplier in foreign currency, through RBI approved mediums, such invoice may be issued without having a dynamic QR code, as such dynamic QR code cannot be used by the recipient located outside India for making payment to the supplier.

5. Query 5: In some instances of retail sales over the counter, the payment from the customer is received on the payment counter by displaying dynamic QR code on digital display, whereas the invoice, along with invoice number, is generated on the processing system being used by supplier/ merchant after receiving the payment. In such cases, it may not be possible for the merchant/ supplier to provide details of invoice number in the dynamic QR code displayed to the customer on payment counter. However, each transaction i.e. receipt of payment from a customer is having a unique order ID/ sales reference number, which is linked with the invoice for the said transaction. Whether in such cases, the order ID/ reference number of such transaction can be provided in the dynamic QR code displayed digitally, instead of invoice number.

Clarification 5: In such cases, where the invoice number is not available at the time of digital display of dynamic QR code in case of over the counter sales and the invoice number and invoices are generated after receipt of payment, the unique order ID/ unique sales reference number, which is uniquely linked to the invoice issued for the said transaction, may be provided in the dynamic QR code for digital display, as long as the details of such unique order ID/ sales reference number linkage with the invoice are available on the processing system of the merchant/ supplier and the cross reference of such payment along with unique order ID/ sales reference number are also provided on the invoice.

6. Query 6: When part-payment has already been received by the merchant/ supplier, either in advance or by adjustment (e.g. using a voucher, discount coupon etc), before the dynamic QR Code is generated, what amount should be provided in the dynamic QR code for "invoice value"?

Clarification 6: The purpose of dynamic QR Code is to enable the recipient/ customer to scan and pay the amount to be paid to the merchant/ supplier in respect of the said supply. When part-payment for any supply has already been received from the customer/ recipient, in form of either advance or adjustment through voucher/ discount coupon etc., then the dynamic QR code may provide only the remaining amount payable by the customer/ recipient against “invoice value”. The details of total invoice value, along with details/ cross reference of the part payment/ advance/ adjustment done, and the remaining amount to be paid, should be provided on the invoice.

- C. Circular No. 160/16/2021-GST dated 20th September, 2021 – Clarification on carrying physical copy of invoice under Rule 48(4)

Issue 2: Whether carrying physical copy of invoice is compulsory during movement of goods in cases where the suppliers have issued invoices in the manner prescribed under rule 48 (4) of the CGST Rules, 2017 (i.e., in cases of e-invoice).

Clarification 2: It is clarified that there is no need to carry the physical copy of tax invoice in cases where invoice has been generated by the supplier in the manner prescribed under rule 48(4) of the CGST Rules and production of the quick response (QR) code having an embedded invoice reference number (IRN) electronically, for verification by the proper officer, would suffice.

Statutory Provisions

32. Prohibition of unauthorised collection of tax

- (1) A person who is not a registered person shall not collect in respect of any supply of goods or services or both any amount by way of tax under this Act.
- (2) No registered person shall collect tax except in accordance with the provisions of this Act or the Rules made thereunder.

32.1 Analysis

Collection of tax is not a statutory right but a contractual remedy. Right to collect tax must flow from the contract. If the contract is silent, the customer is under no obligation to pay tax to the supplier. However, the Government will demand payment of tax from the supplier being the ‘taxable person’ mentioned in section 9(1). Reference may be made to the decision in the case of Chotabhai Jethabhai & Co., v. UOI, AIR 1962 (SC) 1006 where this principle has been well laid down. As such, no recipient is obliged by law to reimburse the supplier taxes due on the supply except by contract. At the same time, every taxable person (in case of forward charge) remains liable to deposit the applicable tax to the Government.

This provision casts an obligation on each unregistered person and registered person with regard to collection of tax on supply as under -

- unregistered person is not to collect any amount ‘by way of’ tax

- registered person is to collect tax only in accordance with the provisions of the Act and the Rules

It is important to differentiate between the restriction placed by this provision and the contractual route necessary to recoup tax by the supplier. Only the tax that is collected as CGST or IGST or SGST/UTGST is to be paid to the Government. Any other loss, recoupment of input tax credit 'foregone or forfeited' does not fall within this restriction.

A question that arises for consideration is, if taxes that are not applicable are collected by the taxable person from his customer, whether such amounts (purported to be tax) are to be paid to the Government and will it be lawful for the Government to retain such amounts knowing that it is not 'tax'. Reference may be made to the decision in RS Joshi, STO, Gujarat v. Ajit Mills & Anr. (1977) 40 STC 497 (SC) where it was first laid down that the law that is applicable to the taxpayer is the same law that is applicable to the tax administrator. And if tax is not lawfully leviable, then the same is not lawfully collectible by the Government. That is, if tax levied is not lawful, its collection cannot be any more lawful. This was derived from Articles 265 and 300A of our Constitution. It is to overcome this jurisprudence that Parliament has enacted a provision like section 32 that first places this embargo on the taxpayers from collecting any amount that is not lawfully leviable as tax, from customers. Then in Mafatlal Industries Ltd & Ords v. UOI & Ors. (1997) 89 ELT 247 (SC), it was laid down that where it comes to choose between the State (Government) and the subject (taxpayer) to retain unlawful collection of (inapplicable) taxes, the SC voted in favour of the State to retain such amounts as it would ultimately be utilized for the benefits of citizens and the State (Government) is in the position of parens patriae and the concept of unjust enrichment against the State does not apply.

Section 32 provides for unauthorised collection of tax but if the same has been collected and not paid to the Government, then section 76 provides that notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any order or direction of any Appellate Authority or Appellate Tribunal or court or in any other provisions of this Act or the rules made thereunder or any other law for the time being in force, such amount shall forthwith be paid to the Government, irrespective of whether the supplies in respect of which such amount was collected are taxable or not. Further, such person shall also be liable to pay interest and penalty thereon.

Unregistered person should first create an user ID and then a challan using that user ID for making payment.

Steps to create user ID:

- Go to <https://www.gst.gov.in>
- Click on Services>User Services>generate user ID for unregistered applicant
- Follow the steps mentioned therein.

Steps to create challan for making payment:

- Go to <https://www.gst.gov.in>

- Click Services > Payment > Create Challan.
- Follow the steps mentioned therein.

Section 76(11) further provides that the person who has borne the incidence of the amount, may apply for the refund of the same in accordance with the provisions of section 54.

Statutory Provisions

33. Amount of tax to be indicated in tax invoice and other documents.

Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act or any other law for the time being in force, where any supply is made for a consideration, every person who is liable to pay tax for such supply shall prominently indicate in all documents relating to assessment, tax invoice and other like documents, the amount of tax which shall form part of the price at which such supply is made.

33.1 Analysis

With the non-obstante clause, this provision secures preference over any other provision to the contrary, whether in this Act or elsewhere. It states that in all documents, tax amount which shall form part of the price of supply, shall prominently be indicated.

This provision therefore holds the price charged to be the 'cum tax' price of the supply. Tax included in the price is that actually assessed on the supply.

It means that if the supply price is ₹1000/- which is inclusive of tax then every document must state that "the price of ₹1000 includes – say IGST of ₹180/- or alternatively say supply price is ₹ 820 and IGST ₹180 total ₹1000.

The GST law presupposes the fact that the tax, even, if not charged is deemed to have been passed on to the recipient unless proved contrary. If 'tax is charged' then the same is to be indicated on the tax invoice as is also required under rule 46(m). As a result, any claim of 'cum tax' computation when demands are being raised, will not be supported if tax invoice does not contain the amount of tax. Unlike in earlier tax regime, where it was held in CCE, New Delhi v. Maruti Udyog Ltd. (2002) 141 ELT 3 that total price charged is presumed to include any duty that is collectable and 'back working' must be allowed to arrive at 'net duty'. GST law seems to disturb this principle by making an express provision in section 33 that the amount that is purported to be tax must appear explicitly on the tax invoice. As a result, if tax is not indicated on the tax invoice, then the entire amount indicated on the tax invoice will be treated to be 'ex tax' as a complete departure from Maruti's decision (cited above). In this context, it is important to refer rule 35 which states that where value of supply is inclusive of integrated tax, or as the case may, Central tax, State tax, Union Territory tax, the tax amount shall be determined by reverse calculation;

Where the price charged is 'cum tax' price of the supply, then the tax amount should be arrived at as per rule 35 and such tax amount should be indicated in the tax invoice [as also required under rule 46(m)] and other documents as envisaged under this section.

In case goods marked with “MRP” are sold at such MRP itself, then would it mean that (i) if tax is applicable on outward supply, then such tax amount is also included in the MRP amount and sales at MRP tantamount to the amount of output tax being collected from customer or (ii) sale at MRP only means, tax on outward supply is to the account of seller and not collected from customer. Experts are of the view that courts will be busy answering these questions in the case of MRP articles sold ‘at MRP’ (without mentioning tax amount in tax invoice) due to the departure from the principle in Maruti’s decision that seems visible in GST law. Reference may also be made to the implications of exempt supplies and suppliers under composition selling “MRP goods at MRP” and their potential disqualification under section 10(2).

Statutory Provisions

34.1 Introduction

To begin with, one must fully unlearn the practices under the erstwhile law in order to clearly understand the concepts of credit note and debit note under the GST Law. A credit note or a debit note, for the purpose of the GST Law, can be issued by the registered person who has issued a tax invoice, i.e., the supplier. Any such document, by whatever name called, when issued by the recipient to the registered supplier, is not a document recognized under the GST Law. Sections 34(1) & (2) of the Act deal with credit note and sections 34(3) & (4) deal with debit note.

34.2 Analysis

- (i) Credit note and debit note cause some difficulty to quickly understand – who owes whom? Credit note is issued when the issuer ‘owes’ money to someone, that is, it is issued by the person who owes money. Debit note is issued when any money is ‘owed’ to the issuer, that is, it is again issued by the person who is the receiver of money.
- a. When a cash discount is allowed at the time of collecting payment from a customer in terms of an agreement entered into prior to the supply, then the supplier would issue a credit note to the customer to the extent of such cash discount, to declare that he ‘owes’ money. Then, the original amount due minus the credit note amount is the revised value of supply that the customer pays the supplier. To this extent, GST thereon would also stand reduced, subject to conditions which have been discussed in the subsequent paragraphs.
 - b. Now, if the supplier charges a penalty for delayed payment of consideration, the supplier would issue a debit note for the amount of penalty, to the customer to declare that money is ‘owed’ to the supplier. Then, the original amount due plus the debit note is the revised value of supply, that the customer pays the supplier. To this extent the GST thereon would also stand increased.
- (ii) The conditions applicable for the issue of credit note are listed below:
- a. The supplier may issue one or more credit notes for supplies made in a financial year through one or more tax invoices which have been issued by him earlier.
 - b. The credit notes so issued must be disclosed by the supplier in the return for the month in which they are issued. However, maximum time limit for making such declaration is the earlier of the following two:
 1. the date of furnishing of the annual return for the FY in which the original tax invoice was issued; or
 2. return for the month of September immediately succeeding the FY in which the original tax invoice was issued (i.e., for a tax invoice issued in April 2018, as well as a tax invoice issued in March 2019, the relevant credit notes cannot be issued after September 2019);
 - c. The recipient, on declaring the same, must claim a reduction in his input tax credit if the same had been availed against the original tax invoice.
 - d. A credit note cannot be issued if the incidence of tax and interest on such supply has been passed by him to any other person.
 - e. Every credit note must be linked to specific original tax invoice(s).
 - f. It is important to remember that there cannot be bunching of two financial years for issue of a credit note. Therefore for a tax invoice issued in March 2019 and another issued in June, 2019, a single credit note cannot be issued against both the invoices.

- g. In case of a credit note issued for a discount, the discount must be provided in terms of an agreement entered into before or at the time of supply, as provided in clause (i) of section 15(3) (b) of the Act.
 - h. The GST Law provides an exhaustive list of situations under which the registered supplier is entitled to issue a credit note saying, 'I OWE'. These situations are ::
 - 1. Actual value of supply is lower than that stated in the original tax invoice;
 - 2. Tax charged in the original tax invoice is higher than that applicable on the supply;
 - 3. Goods supplied are returned by the recipient;
 - 4. Goods or services supplied are deficient.
 - i. The credit note contains all the applicable particulars as specified in rule 53(1A) of the CGST Rules, 2017.
- (iii) The GST Law mandates that a registered supplier may issue one or more debit notes for supplies made in a financial year through one or more tax invoices issued by him earlier under the following circumstances:
- a. Actual value of supply is higher than that stated in the original tax invoice;
 - b. Tax charged in the original tax invoice is lower than that applicable on the supply;
 - c. The debit note needs to be linked to the original tax invoice(s);
 - d. The debit note contains all the applicable particulars as specified in rule 53(1A) of the CGST Rules, 2017;
 - e. A debit note issued under section 74, 129 or 130 would not entitle the recipient to avail credit in respect thereof as blocked through section 17(5)(i), and the supplier shall specify prominently, on such debit note the words "INPUT TAX CREDIT NOT ADMISSIBLE"; as provided in Rule 53(3).
 - f. It is important to remember here that unlike in the case of credit note, there is no time limit for declaration of the details of debit note in the return. As such, a debit note in relation to a supply made in a financial year can be issued any time. On the other hand, a credit note can be issued only till 30th September following the end of the financial year in which supply related to such credit note was made assuming annual return is filed after such date.
- (iv) Except in the circumstances specified, credit note or debit note is not permitted to be issued merely because a financial adjustment is required to be made in respect of the receivable or payable. It needs to be noted that any credit note / debit note not issued in terms of section 34 would not be a valid document under the GST Law. For instance, if a credit note has been issued in respect of goods returned after the due date for credit note, a credit note may be issued by the supplier for reduction in the amount payable by the recipient. However, he cannot declare such credit note in his return and claim a reduction in tax liability. On the other hand, the recipient of tax may be impelled to reverse the input tax credit that had been availed thereon. This position of law is also clarified vide Circular 72/46/2018 dated 26.10.18 (issued with respect to time expired drugs or medicines) wherein it is clarified that for claiming the reduction in output tax liability in case of return of goods (whether the goods have been expired or otherwise), the credit note should have been issued within the time limit specified under section 34(2). It is further clarified that any credit notes issued after expiry of the time limit specified under section 34(2), there is no requirement to declare such credit note on the common portal by the supplier as tax liability cannot be adjusted in such case.

- (v) Review the circumstance for issuing credit note. As per Circular No. 72/46/2018 dated 26.10.2018, there is no time limit to issue credit note but only for effecting 'tax adjustment'. Credit note where tax adjustment is not involved need not even be filed on the portal as per this circular. Further, on review of Tables 5E and 5J of GSTR 9C, it is evident that such credit notes will suffer tax without any relief to the recipient by way of tax adjustment.
- (vi) Credit note (and to lesser extent, debit note) under section 34 must be contrasted with financial credit note issued in trade. Above Circular No. 72 along with Circular No. 92/11/2019-GST dated 7th Mar 2019 make it clear that (a) financial credits notes are extant practices in trade and (b) if tax adjustment is not made, then such credit notes are not to be reported in GSTR 1. It is important to recognize that credit notes (and even debit notes) are issued to record a bilateral agreement where treatment of credit note in issuer-suppliers' books (and GST records) must be mirrored in the recipient-customers' books (and GST records). It would be worrisome if issuer-supplier accounts the financial credit note as expenditure (in other words, an inward supply) but the recipient-customer accounts the same as reduction from cost of purchase. Experts caution against taking this issue lightly particularly when post-supply transactions are riddled with different interpretations of contractual understanding applied to GST. Another view was based on some interesting and fundamental contract law principles but was withdrawn ab initio through Circular No. 112/31/2019-GST dated 3.10.2019 (by 37th GST Council decision) without stating whether those principles were not applicable to GST or the circular was erroneous due to certain reasons.
- (vii) Credit notes are also issued for accounting any unilateral treatment such as write-off of bad debts, etc., Therefore, care must be taken to identify whether the CN-DN (a) are to reflect a bilateral arrangement or unilateral arrangement (b) is harmoniously reflected in both parties' books (and GST records) or not (c) are a reflection of pre-supply understanding with a contingency or a post-supply understanding reached subsequently (d) is a traditional document issued when in fact a tax invoice (from the other party) ought to be issued and (e) is 'earned' by any activity by the recipient or is an 'entitlement' that is admitted subsequently. GST treatment will greatly vary based on the answers to these questions.

- (viii) Care must be taken to examine the 'time of supply' applicable to debit note as amount additionally claimed by supplier is not another supply but additional consideration towards original supply. To expect that additional consideration must enjoy a new time of supply would run counter to the only exception that can be found in section 12(6) / 13(6) where time of supply is shifted to 'realization date'. Although debit note is issued in bona fide cases, there is no provision in law that admits 'shifting' of time of supply specially for 'debit notes'. Refer related discussion in the context of 'special charges' in the Chapter on time of supply under section 12(6) relating to effect of issuance of debit note after a certain interval of time.

Support can also be found by comparison with section 19(3) where non-return of inputs by job-worker clearly attracts interest liability from the original date of dispatch of inputs as that is the date on which the non-returned inputs are 'deemed' to be supplied. On the other hand, non-return of goods sent on-approval under section 31(7) is 'treated' to be supplied on the date of expiry of six months. Therefore, any 'shifting' of time of supply (and hence implications on interest) has been expressly provided by law in a number of related provisions and when there is no express 'shifting' for debit notes, 'artificial shifting' seems to be a misadventure in interpretation of this law.

- (ix) CBIC Circular No. 137/07/2020-GST dated 13th April 2020 issued certain clarifications on advance receipt, cancellation of contract, credit notes, refund voucher, etc., which is relevant not only in the context of COVID19 economic slowdown, but also otherwise in the normal course of any business. Relevant extracts as below:

Issue 1: An advance is received by a supplier for a service contract which subsequently got cancelled. The supplier has issued the invoice before supply of service and paid the GST thereon. Whether he can claim refund of tax paid or is he required to adjust his tax liability in his returns?

Clarification 1: In case GST is paid by the supplier on advances received for a future event which got cancelled subsequently and for which invoice is issued before supply of service, the supplier is required to issue a "credit note" in terms of section 34 of the CGST Act. He shall declare the details of such credit notes in the return for the month during which such credit note has been issued. The tax liability shall be adjusted in the return subject to conditions of section 34 of the CGST Act. There is no need to file a separate refund claim.

However, in cases where there is no output liability against which a credit note can be adjusted, registered persons may proceed to file a claim under "Excess payment of tax, if any" through Form GST RFD-01.

Issue 2: An advance is received by a supplier for a service contract which got cancelled subsequently. The supplier has issued receipt voucher and paid the GST on such advance received. Whether he can claim refund of tax paid on advance or he is required to adjust his tax liability in his returns?

Clarification 2: In case GST is paid by the supplier on advances received for an event which got cancelled subsequently and for which no invoice has been issued in terms of section 31 (2) of the CGST Act, he is required to issue a “refund voucher” in terms of section 31 (3) (e) of the CGST Act read with rule 51 of the CGST Rules.

The taxpayer can apply for refund of GST paid on such advances by filing Form GST RFD-01 under the category “Refund of excess payment of tax”.

Issue 3: Goods supplied by a supplier under cover of a tax invoice are returned by the recipient. Whether he can claim refund of tax paid or is he required to adjust his tax liability in his returns?

Clarification 3: In such a case where the goods supplied by a supplier are returned by the recipient and where tax invoice had been issued, the supplier is required to issue a “credit note” in terms of section 34 of the CGST Act. He shall declare the details of such credit notes in the return for the month during which such credit note has been issued. The tax liability shall be adjusted in the return subject to conditions of section 34 of the CGST Act. There is no need to file a separate refund claim in such a case.

However, in cases where there is no output liability against which a credit note can be adjusted, registered persons may proceed to file a claim under “Excess payment of tax, if any” through FORM GST RFD-01.

34.3 Comparative review

- (i) Rule 9 of CENVAT Credit Rules, 2004 gives details of the documents and accounts which need to be mandatorily adhered to in order to avail the benefit of CENVAT Credit.
- (ii) As per this rule, CENVAT Credit can be availed based on: -
 - (a) an invoice, or
 - (b) supplementary invoice
- (iii) In the context of excise laws, though credit notes may be issued in situations where taxable value is reduced, typically, no adjustment is made for excise valuation purpose (except when the assessment is provisional). Instead of debit notes for increase in taxable value/tax, supplementary invoices are issued (this is a valid document for taking CENVAT credit). There is no time limit for issuance of credit/debit notes (supplementary invoice).
- (iv) In the context of service tax laws, credit notes may be issued in situations where taxable value is reduced. Adjustment of excess tax paid is permissible in specified situations. Instead of debit notes for increase in taxable value/tax, supplementary invoices are issued (this is a valid document for taking CENVAT credit). While the law stipulates the time limit for issuance of credit note (viz., end of September following the financial year in which the supply was effected or filing of annual return whichever is earlier), there is no time limit for that has been specified for issuance of debit notes (supplementary invoice).

However, credit availed on tax paid on supplementary invoices could be disputed in circumstances where additional tax was payable by reason of fraud, collusion, wilful mis-statement, suppression of facts, contravention of any of the provisions with intent to evade duty/taxes.

- (v) Most State VAT laws have provisions relating to issue of credit or debit notes for difference in value of supply and tax. A time period, usually 6 months from the date of sale, is prescribed for issuance of credit/debit notes for adjustment against taxable value. Some States provide that if the credit has already passed on in the original invoice, the tax component shall not be adjusted by issuance of credit note (this is because the buyer would have taken credit in such cases and the credit is left undisturbed).

34.4 Issues and concerns

1. It is a common practice of trade and industry to issue volume discounts / turnover discounts, at the end of a certain period, say a financial year. Clearly, such discounts cannot be provided at the time of supply to reflect the same on the tax invoice. On the other hand, although the discount is a post-supply discount which is established in terms of an agreement entered into before or at the time of supply, the discount cannot be specifically linked to any one invoice. By virtue of this drawback, discounts of such nature would not permit the supplier to claim a reduction in his output tax liability. However, to redress this issue, the Central Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018 with effect from 1.2.2019 provides for the issuance of one or more credit notes or debit notes against multiple supplies in a financial year.
2. The GST Law has not provided a scenario whereby a supplier forgoes a certain part of consideration, in full and final settlement of the dues from a recipient, even where such a reduction can be identified with a specific invoice. In other words, the supplier would be required to issue a tax invoice for the agreed value and discharge tax on the whole value, while he collects only a part payment thereof from the recipient and would not be permitted to reduce his output tax liability, since the reduction is not on account of a deficiency in service / goods. Given this anomaly, a reasonable inference can be drawn to say that the reduction is on account of reduction in the value of supply, being the reduction in the amount of consideration received, wherein "price is in fact the sole consideration". The tax department in such a situation could – (a) resort to reverse the input tax credit on a pro-rata basis and (b) subject the value of the said credit note to output tax. It is also important to note that if the tax department resorts to such action, the recipient too would not be in a position to avail any credits of such tax paid at a later point in time. It will not be out of place to mention that the recipient, in any event, will be subject to reversal of input tax credit to the extent he does not affect payment to the supplier against the original invoice by virtue of the provisions of Section 16(2) of the CGST Act, 2017 however, experts believe that non-payment of invoice amount is not the same as accounting-adjustment of invoice amount by netting-off with financial or other credit notes.

35.1 Introduction

This section mandates the upkeep and maintenance of records, at the place(s) of business, in electronic or other forms. Furnishing of an audited statement of accounts and reconciliation statement is also contemplated for registered persons having turnover exceeding the prescribed limit. There is no relaxation provided to persons who have voluntarily obtained registration. This section, read with relevant rules provides for the manner and method of maintenance of records of all kinds and classes of persons, as well.

35.2 Analysis

- (i) The importance of maintenance of books and records need no emphasis. It is presumed that all business entities would be aware of the nature of books and records to be maintained. However, it is important to note that the GST Law is a devil in details. It means that the emphasis is placed on primary and secondary books and records. There is no need to stress on the relevance or importance of maintenance of such records, since it is common in the digital world for businesses to maintain such books and records electronically. Having said that, one must bear in mind the importance of maintaining the primary books or records of entry that would have evidentiary value.
- (ii) This section emphasises “true and correct” account meaning the concept of materiality is largely given a go-bye. Tax authorities would go by the actual records maintained and would not place much reliance on the concept of materiality.
- (iii) Every registered person is required to keep and maintain accounts and records that reflect the true and correct account of the transactions effected. In other words, separate accounts shall have to be maintained by a single person, in respect of each of the GSTINs operative during the year reflecting the following details:
 - Production / manufacture of goods
 - Inward and outward supply of goods or services or both
 - Stock records of goods
 - Input tax credit availed, output tax payable and paid
 - Such other particulars as may be prescribed in this behalf.
- (iv) The accounts are to be maintained at the principal place of business (as mentioned in the certificate of registration). In case of multiple places of business (as specified in the certificate of registration), the accounts relating to each place of business shall be kept at the respective place of business concerned. Where records are maintained manually, all records pertaining to the operations at every place of business shall be maintained in such place of business.
- (v) The registered person has the option to keep and maintain accounts and other records in electronic form. In such a case, the records shall be authenticated by way of digital signature. Additionally, the GST Law mandates that a proper electronic back-up is maintained and preserved where accounts are maintained electronically, to restore information in the event of its destruction, within a reasonable period of time.

- (vi) It is important to note that in respect of quantitative information, the 'unit of measurement' must be such that the actual units used for procurement and supply can be determined or computed. For example, in case goods are procured in 'square meters' and they are supplied in 'square feet', the accounts for the stock of goods must be maintained in either sq.mt. or sq.ft., or a conversion-ratio must be applied so as to extract information in terms of one of the units. The processing or other transaction ~~translation~~ losses, if any, may be written off – however, input tax credit if any, involved in such written off value or reduction in inputs would also require a reversal. In case of any increase, the value may be ignored, given that the increase does not result in additional pay-out to the supplier.
- (vii) The Commissioner is empowered to:
- (a) Notify a class of taxable persons to maintain additional accounts or documents for specified purpose . [No notification has been issued in this regard as of date.]
 - (b) Permit a class of taxable persons to maintain the records in any other manner , if he believes that they are not in a position to keep and maintain accounts in accordance with this section.
- (viii) It was specified in section 35(5) of the Act that every registered person whose turnover during a financial year exceeds prescribed limit shall get his accounts audited. Therefore, it is apparent that the audit under the provisions of the GST law should be undertaken for each registration viz., GSTIN-wise. However, it may be noted that section 35(5) has been omitted vide Finance Act 2021 with effect from 1st August, 2021.
- (a) Rule 80(3) provides that a registered person, other than those referred to in the second proviso to section 44, an Input Service Distributor, a person paying tax under section 51 or section 52, a casual taxable person and a non-resident taxable person, whose aggregate turnover during a financial year exceeds five crore rupees, shall also furnish a self-certified reconciliation statement as specified under section 44 in Form GSTR-9C along with the annual return, on or before the thirty-first day of December following the end of such financial year.²
 - (b) The registered person is required to make the following submissions to the proper officer:
 - (i) the annual return for the financial year;
 - (ii) a self certified reconciliation statement under section 44, reconciling the value of supplies declared in the annual return with the audited annual financial statement, and
 - (iii) other particulars as may be prescribed.

² Rule 80 as amended vide Notf. No. 30/2021-CT dt. 30th July, 2021

Note: No other document has been prescribed in this regard as of date. The details that may be sought for, may be an extract of any of the records / documents which are required to be maintained under this section.

- (c) The audit of the transactions undertaken under the GST regime will cover the entire gamut of transactions of a particular GSTIN. For instance, if the audit is undertaken for a registered person being an agent for supply of goods, it must be understood that the agent would be recording all the goods received on behalf of the Principal as inward supply of goods, as also the goods dispatched on behalf of the Principal as outward supply of goods. On the other hand, the income / revenue that would be reflected in his books of account under any other statute would only be limited to the commission income. Accordingly, for the purpose of the GST Laws, the agent would be regarded as a person engaged in effecting outward supply of goods and would therefore be required to maintain all the stock records that are to be maintained by a trader.
- (d) It should be noted that the provisions relating to audit of books of accounts were amended vide Central Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018 whereby a proviso has been inserted in section 35(5) to extend exemption from audit of books of accounts to the Central Government, State Government and local authority whose books of accounts are subject to audit by the Comptroller and Auditor General of India or an auditor appointed for auditing the accounts of local authorities under any law for the time being in force. However, this exemption has become infructuous due to the omission of section 35(5) of the Act vide Finance Act 2021.
- (ix) The following checks / approach may be adopted for the purpose of ensuring comprehensiveness in reporting or for the purpose of preparation of reconciliation statement under section 44³:
 - (a) Inward supplies: Every inward supply effected by a registered person shall be one of the following:
 - ✓ Appear in the details for inward supplies (including the effect of debit / credit notes received) furnished in the returns, (including cases of exchange, barter, deemed supply such as agency transactions, etc.) while the details may be of:
 - (1) Eligible credits – including partly ineligible credits which are reversed to the extent ineligible;
 - (2) Ineligible credits.
 - ✓ Appear as exempt / nil rated / non-taxable inward supplies; or
 - ✓ Appear as inward supplies from composition suppliers; or
 - ✓ Not reported for any of the following reasons:

³ As per section 44 substituted vide Notf No. 29/2021 CT-dt. 30th July, 2021

- (1) It is neither a supply of goods nor a supply of services (such as salary paid to employees) or
- (2) It is an inward supply received from a registered supplier wherein the supplier is unaware of the fact that the supply is made to a registered person (i.e., where the supplier reports the transaction as part of summary details under B2C supplies in his GST returns) – e.g., food bills, etc.
- (3) It is an accounting entry made in the books of account by virtue of a requirement under another statute – such as provision for accrued expenses, depreciation, bad debts written-off, debit / credit notes issued in the capacity of a recipient, etc.

Note: Every inward supply that is eligible for credits shall form part of detailed entries (invoice-level information) in Form GSTR-1 of any registered supplier, except in the case of inward supplies liable to tax on reverse charge basis.

- (b) Outward supplies: Every outward supply effected by the registered person would need to appear in the returns for outward supplies where:
- ✓ Every taxable outward supply that is effected to a registered person shall be reported at invoice level, including:
 - (1) credit notes having a reduction in taxable value / tax, unless the same is time-barred under the GST Laws;
 - (2) debit notes issued for increase in taxable value / tax;
 - (3) value of expenses incurred by the recipient, although liable to be incurred by the registered person as a supplier, the value of incidental expenses such as delivery charges, etc. and any other amount liable to be included in the value of supply in terms of section 15(2) of the CGST Act, 2017;
 - (4) value determined under the valuation rules, where the price is not the sole consideration for the supply, or where the supply is made to a related person, is to be reckoned for these purposes;
 - (5) transactions regarded as supply despite lacking consideration (i.e., activities specified under Schedule I);
 - ✓ Summary details to be reported in case of supply of exempted / nil-rated / non-taxable outward supplies and supplies to unregistered persons.
- (x) It has been clarified vide Circular No. 47/21/2018-GST dated 08.06.2018 that the persons involved in auction either as a principal or auctioneer shall declare warehouse or other places as additional place of business in case such places are meant for storage of goods. The principal and the auctioneer shall also maintain the books of accounts in terms of section 35(1) at such places. However, it is clarified that the books of accounts may be maintained at the principal place of business in case of any difficulties faced in maintaining the books of accounts at such additional place of business upon intimating the jurisdictional officer in writing.

- (xi) It is also clarified vide Circular No. 61/35/2018-GST dated 04.09.2018 that in case of storing of goods in the godown of the transporter, the transporter's godown has to be declared as an additional place of business by the recipient. The transporter and recipient shall maintain the books of account in terms of section 35 at such places. However, it is clarified that books of accounts in relation to goods stored at the transporter's godown (i.e., the recipient taxpayer's additional place of business) by the recipient taxpayer may be maintained by him at his principal place of business.
- (xii) Special attention is required in cases of requirement to reverse input tax credit availed, as provided under section 16(2), section 17(2) or section 17(5)(h) – Where goods are lost, stolen, destroyed, written off, or disposed of as gifts or free samples, proportionate input tax credit should be reversed.
- (xiii) One needs to pay attention to the relevant Rules, wherein it is mandated that the details specified / prescribed ought to be captured while maintaining books and records viz., name, address, GSTIN, description, quantity, value etc., as stipulated in section 31. Special category of persons such as works contractors, lessors, agents, auctioneers, etc ought to maintain data / details in the manner specified.
- (xiv) It is important to note that rule 56(6) clearly specifies that taxable goods stored in an unregistered place of business without cover of valid documents would be subjected to tax as if such goods have been supplied.
- (xv) Entries in books and records cannot be erased, effaced or overwritten. However, any such act needs to be attested in cases of manual maintenance of books and records while digital records would require maintenance of a suitable log of such corrections..
- (xvi) Rule 56(10) is presumptive in nature, meaning any documents or books and records found in a place other than the registered persons' place of business, would be presumed to be maintained by such registered person. All other consequences under the GST Laws would automatically follow.
- (xvii) The law mandates the following persons to maintain the records of the consignor, consignee and other relevant details of the goods, even if such persons are not registered under the Act:
 - (a) A transporter of goods;
 - (b) Persons who own and operate, or persons who operate any warehouse, godown, etc. for storage of goods – the goods shall be stored in a manner in which they can be identified item-wise and owner-wise.

The provisions relating to enrolment of transporters are amended vide the Central Goods and Services Tax (Sixth Amendment) Rules, 2018 with effect from 19.06.2018 whereby it was provided that in case the transporter is having place of business in more than one State or Union Territory and all such places of business are registered under the provisions of the GST law, he shall obtain the unique common enrolment number. The application seeking unique common enrolment number shall be filed in Form GST ENR – 02. Such registered transporter shall get enrolled on the basis of GSTIN of any State of his choice. It is also provided that such enrolment number shall be used by the transporter for generating the e-way bills and for undertaking the transport of goods.

35.3 Comparative Review

Maintenance of records had been prescribed under the earlier Central Excise, Service Tax and State VAT laws. The provisions are briefly discussed below:

Service tax records

- Rule 5(1) of Service Tax Rules, 1994 provided that the records including computerised data as maintained by the assessee in accordance with the various laws in force from time to time shall be acceptable.
- Rule 5(2) provided that every assessee, at the time of filing of his first return shall furnish to the Department, a list in duplicate of the following : -
 - (i) All the records maintained by the assessee for accounting of transactions in regard to: -
 - (a) Providing of any service;
 - (b) Receipt or procurement of input service and payment of such input service;
 - (c) Receipt, purchase, manufacture, storage, sale, or delivery, regarding input or capital goods
 - (d) Other activities such as manufacture and sale of goods if any.
 - (ii) All other financial records maintained by him in the normal course of business.
- Rules 5(4) and 5(5) provide for preservation of records in electronic form.

Central Excise Records

- Rule 10 of the Central Excise Rules, 2002 obligated the maintenance of "Daily Stock Account" indicating the particulars regarding description of the goods produced or manufactured, opening balance, quantity produced or manufactured, inventory of goods, quantity removed, assessable value, the amount of duty payable and particulars regarding amount of duty paid.
- Chapter 6 of the Central Excise Manual obligated every assessee to furnish to the Range Officer, a list in duplicate, of all the records prepared or maintained by him for accounting of transactions in regard to receipt, purchase, manufacture, storage, sales or delivery of the goods including inputs and capital goods

CENVAT Records

Rule 9 of Cenvat Credit Rules, 2004 provided for maintenance of various records for taking and utilizing CENVAT credit on inputs, input services and capital goods.

VAT Records

VAT laws of most States required every assessee to keep and maintain an up-to-date, true and correct account showing full and complete particulars of his business and such other records as may be prescribed. There is an option to maintain those records at other place or places as he may notify to the registering authority in advance.

Audit of Accounts and Reconciliation Statement

Under the Central excise and service tax laws, there was no requirement for audit of accounts and furnishing reconciliation statement by a Chartered Accountant or Cost accountant. Many State VAT laws stipulated audit of records by a Chartered Accountant and filing of VAT audit reports. Threshold limits were prescribed for such audits.

Reconciliations between the tax records and audited statement of accounts is generally sought for at the time of assessment, audit or investigation by the revenue authorities. There was no statutory requirement to furnish such reconciliation statements under the erstwhile laws although it was carried out during audit / Certification of records.

35.4 Issues and concerns

1. Multiple books of account for the same entity: While the accounts of a person are required to be maintained for the entire business concern (i.e., PAN-wise), the GST law requires separate book-keeping for every GSTIN. This will mean that every account maintained will repeat based on the number of GSTINs obtained under a single PAN. The solution to this task may be to maintain records in such a manner so as to capture the GSTIN to which every transaction pertains, separately, so as to enable the person to extract only such of those transactions relevant to a particular GSTIN.
2. Separate book-keeping practices for GST law: The registered person is liable to record the details of all supplies, whether or not the supplies are considered to be supplies under the Accounting Standards or any such requirement under other statutes. While some transactions would have a netting-off effect, such as stock transfers, certain other transactions may not form part of the revenue of the entity, such as permanent disposal of a business asset without consideration / supply valued under the Valuation Rules wherein the consideration actually received is different from the value of supply for the purpose of the GST laws. One must exercise utmost caution to look into all such transactions with a view to ensure that the financial statements are not misreported with details relevant only from the GST-standpoint. E.g., Credit notes not fulfilling conditions under the GST law cannot reduce the value of supply, while the books of account would reflect reduction in the value.

Meaning of 'annual audited accounts': Till the omission of section 35(5) of the Act by the Finance Act 2021, the law required a registered person having an aggregate turnover exceeding Rs. 5 Crore, to get his books of account audited and submit a copy of annual audited accounts.

3. Books in respect of 'non-monetary' transactions: The law makes no concession in respect of transactions that are underlying for 'non-monetary' consideration. As such, care must be taken to document through identifiable invoice (may be, separate series) and corresponding disclosure (for time and place of supply) and the basis for such non-monetary transactions so that they can be tracked separately.

Related provisions of the Statute

Section or Rule	Description
Section 35	Accounts and other records
Section 44	Annual return

36.1. Introduction

This section specifies the period up to which records and accounts must be retained by the registered person.

36.2. Analysis

- (i) Every registered person is required to mandatorily retain the books of accounts and other records until the expiry of 72 months (6 years) from the due date for filing of Annual Return for the year, i.e., 81 months from the end of the financial year pertaining to such accounts and records.
- (ii) For instance, the books of account and other records for the FY 2017-18 are to be maintained till 31.12.2024, regardless of the actual date of filing of annual return for the year. This time period is more than the duration prescribed in section 62(1) for issuance of order of assessment i.e., 5 years from the due date for filing of annual return or date of erroneous refund (as applicable) in cases of fraud, wilful mis-statement, suppression of facts, etc. (in the above example, the order of assessment shall be issued by 31.12.2023).
- (iii) In case, an appeal or revision or any other proceeding is pending before any Appellate Authority or Revisional Authority or Appellate Tribunal or Court, or in case the registered person is under investigation for an offence under Chapter XIX, he shall retain the books of account and other records pertaining to the subject matter of such appeal or revision or proceeding or investigation for a further period of one year after final disposal of such appeal or revision or proceeding, or until the expiry of 72 months (6 years) from the due date for filing of annual return for the year whichever is later. This may result in maintaining the books and records even after the expiry of 72 months from the due date for furnishing the annual return.

- (iv) Where any disputes are involved, then records must be maintained until the final disposal of those matters.

36.3. Comparative Review

- Rule 5(3) of Service Tax Rules, 1994 provided that all records shall be preserved for a period of five years immediately after the financial year to which such records pertain.
- Chapter 6 of the CBIC's Central Excise Manual required every assessee to maintain the records for a period of five years immediately after the financial year to which such records pertain.
- Different State VAT laws prescribed different time periods for maintenance of records. However, many States prescribed a period of five years.
- Where proceedings are pending in appeal, revision etc., the records are generally maintained till the proceedings are finally concluded, though this is not specifically stipulated in the erstwhile laws. In fact, the books and records are required to be maintained till the time limit for revision proceedings stand open and are not barred by limitation of period.

36.4 Issues and concerns

Due date of annual return: If the due date to furnish the annual return is amended for any reason, the registered person must bear in mind that the requirement to maintain the records would also stand extended accordingly. For instance, if the due date to furnish the annual return for the FY 2017-18 is extended to 30-June-2019 for whatever reason, the period of retention would be 30-June-2025 and not 31-Dec-2024.

36.5. FAQs

- Q1. Is a separate time limit for maintenance of records specified where an assessee is involved in any litigation?
- Ans. In case an assessee is a party to an appeal or revision or any other proceeding before any Appellate Authority or Revisional Authority or Appellate Tribunal or Court, (as an appellant or a respondent), or where he is under investigation for an offence under Chapter XIX, then he shall retain the books of account and other records pertaining to the subject matter of such appeal or revision or proceeding or investigation for a further period of 1 year after final disposal of such appeal or revision or proceeding, or for the period specified for records by section 36(1), whichever is later.

- Q2. Who is responsible for the maintenance of proper accounts related to job work?
- Ans. The responsibility for the maintenance of proper accounts of job work-related inputs and capital goods rests with the principal.
- Q3. What action can be taken for transportation of goods without valid documents or attempted removal without proper recording in the books?
- Ans. If any person transports any goods or stores any such goods while in transit without the documents prescribed under the Act (i.e., invoice and a declaration) or supplies or stores any goods that have not been recorded in the books or accounts maintained by him, then such goods shall be liable for detention along with any vehicle on which they are being transported. Such goods shall be released only on payment of the applicable tax and penalty or upon furnishing of security.

37.1 Introduction

This provision relates to furnishing of details of outward supplies by the supplier .

37.2 Analysis

- (a) A return of outward supplies in terms of this section should be furnished by every registered taxable person except for the following persons namely,
- Input service distributor
 - A non-resident taxable person
 - A person paying tax under the provisions of section 10 (composition levy)
 - A person paying tax under the provisions of section 51 (TDS)
 - A person remitting tax collected under the provisions of section 52 (TCS)
 - A person referred to in section 14 of IGST Act – Person providing online information and data access & retrieval services to a non-taxable online recipient.
- (b) Explanation to section 37 relating to furnishing of the "details of outward supplies" shall include details of invoices, debit notes, credit notes and revised invoices issued in relation to outward supplies made during any tax period. This e-return shall be filed within 11 days from the end of the tax period in Form GSTR-1.
- (c) Such returns shall be for supply of goods or services or both as effected during a tax period and shall be filed electronically.
- (d) The Commissioner is empowered to notify any extension of due date of filing, for any class of persons, beyond the tenth of the succeeding month, with reasons to be recorded in writing. Refer Annexure 'A' at the end of the Chapter, for extensions notified, from time to time, for various returns.
- (e) The details provided by the supplier in Form GSTR-1 shall be auto-populated and made available electronically to the recipient, for matching purposes, in accordance with the provision of Rule 60 in Form GSTR-2A / Form GSTR-2B , which can be used for reconciliation and filing of Form GSTR-9 i.e. Annual return.

- (f) The present process of return filing envisages that the recipient of the supply shall be provided an opportunity to accept, reject, amend or delete the details in a two-way communication process. This opportunity is not available at present as filing of Form GSTR-2 has been deferred.
- (g) If any error or omission is discovered in the course of matching as specified in the Act and discussed under sections 42 and 43, rectifications of the same shall be effected; and tax and interest, if any, as applicable shall be paid on such corrections by the person responsible for filing the return of outward supplies. Sections 42 and 43 are currently not applicable as the due dates for filing of details in Form GSTR-2 are yet to be notified.
- (h) Such rectification of error or omission, however, is not permitted after filing of annual return or the return for the month of September of the following financial year to which the details pertain to, whichever is earlier.

However, the GST Council has provided relaxation to the tax payers for the financial year 2017-18 vide the Central Goods and Services Tax (Second Removal of Difficulties) Order, 2018, after considering the fact that financial year 2017-18 was the first year of the implementation of the Goods and Services Tax in India and the taxpayers were still in the process of familiarising themselves with the new taxation system and due to lack of said familiarity-

- (i) the registered persons eligible to avail input tax credit could not claim the same in terms of provisions of section 16 because of missing invoices or debit notes referred to in sub-section (4) within the stipulated time;
- (ii) the registered persons could not rectify the error or omission in terms of the provisions of sub-section (3) of section 37 within the stipulated time.

Therefore, any error or omission pertaining to the financial year 2017-18 could be rectified till the due date for furnishing the details under sub-section (1) for the month of March, 2019 or for the quarter January, 2019 to March, 2019.

For example assume an entity has furnished the annual returns for the year 2020-21 on August 15, 2021. If an error is discovered in respect of a transaction pertaining to the tax period July 2020, where the entity has filed its returns for the month of September 2021 on October 18, 2021. In this case, the rectification of the error pertaining to a transaction in July 2020 cannot be made beyond August 15, 2021. This is because the said entity has already filed its annual return on 15th August, 2021.

The following registered persons will not be allowed to furnish the details of outward supplies of goods or services (Form GSTR-1)–

- who is allowed to set off 100% of ITC against the outward tax liability but has not furnished the below said return:

- Monthly Form GSTR-3B - for preceding two months.
(or)
 - Quarterly Form GSTR - 3B under QRMP Scheme – for the preceding tax period i.e. previous quarter.
- who is not allowed to set off ITC in excess of 99%.of outward tax liability and has not furnished the following returns:
- Monthly Form GSTR-3B - for the preceding one month.
(or)
 - Quarterly Form GSTR - 3B under QRMP Scheme – for the preceding tax period i.e. previous quarter.

Linking e-way bill with GSTR-1

Every registered person who causes movement of goods of consignment value exceeding ₹ 50,000/- or ₹ 1,00,000/- (as prescribed under the respective State GST law), as the case may be, in relation to supply, or for reason other than supply such as sale of goods on approval basis, job work etc., or due to inward supply from an unregistered person excluding exempted goods needs to furnish information relating to the said goods and thereby, furnish details of invoices while generating e-way bills. Further, the invoice details for business to business supplies have to be given in Form GSTR-1 by the tax payer. To avoid duplicate data entry, GSTN has provided a facility to taxpayers, where e-way bill data of a tax period can be imported by the taxpayer in their Form GSTR-1. If the number of e-way bills generated in a month are:

- up to 50 only, the invoice details can be directly imported into the respective Tab of Form GSTR 1, without using the offline tool.
- more than 50 but less than 500, invoices can be downloaded in three separate CSV files with data pertaining to B2B transactions, B2C transactions and HSN summary. These files can then be imported into Form GSTR-1 offline tool.
- more than 500, the invoice details in respect of B2B transactions, B2C transactions and HSN summary can be imported from e-way bill portal in a single excel file. This file can then be imported into Form GSTR-1 offline tool.

However, the data so imported can be edited while filing Form GSTR-1.

It is pertinent to mention here that 'import EWB data' option in the GSTN portal and selection of requisite data of invoices to be uploaded in the GSTR-1 is an option, made available to ease the return filing procedure and the same is not mandatory. Where the user decides not to use the option, details of such invoices are to be filed manually.

Matching details given in Form GSTR-1 with those given in the e-way bill will curb tax evasion as evident from certain facts revealed like some transporters are doing multiple trips by generating only a single e-way bill or not reflecting invoices for which e-way bill is generated while filing Form GSTR-1 or e-way bill is not being generated even as supplies are being made etc.

However, the following points need to be considered while reconciling e-way bills generated with the data declared in GST returns so that frivolous demands are not raised:

- movement of goods over and above a threshold limit require generation of e-way bill while data declared in Form GSTR-1 includes all the supplies regardless of any threshold,
- in case of supply of services, no e-way bill is required to be issued while the same needs to be duly reported in Form GSTR-1,
- varied State-specific requirements, such as different threshold limits and notified products for which e-way bills are required,
- reconciliation of the value of supplies considering the credit notes (tax or financial) issued later by the supplier to factor the discounts, deficiency, etc. for the customer,
- where goods are transported by job worker, the e-way bill will be generated on the basis of delivery challan and not on the basis of tax invoice issued by job worker for job work charges. The value of goods moved on the basis of delivery challan is not to be reported in Form GSTR-1 and neither there is mention of tax invoice issued by job worker for job work charges in e-way bill; therefore, no data would be auto-populated in Form GSTR-1 of the job worker.

Components of valid GST Return for Outward Supplies made by the Taxpayer (Form GSTR-1)

This Statement of outward supplies would capture the following information:

1. GSTIN
2. Name
3. Period to which the return pertains
4. Aggregate turnover of the taxpayer in the previous financial year. This information would be submitted by the taxpayers only in the first year, first tax period and will be auto-populated in subsequent tax periods and years.
5. The transactions of outward supplies are required to be furnished in the said statement i.e., Form GSTR 1 at invoice / consolidated level, as per the requirements laid down in law / rules which are as mentioned in the following tables:

Table 1 Submission of information at Invoice level

Type	Supplies made to	Invoice Value	Level of submission
Inter-State	Registered persons	Any	Invoice level
	Unregistered persons (stated as consumer in the return)	> 250,000	Invoice level
	Credit notes for the above		Invoice level submission

Table 2 Submission of information at consolidated (Place of supply) level

Type	Supplies made to	Invoice Value	Level of submission
Intra-State	Unregistered persons	Any	Consolidated
	Unregistered persons (stated as consumer in the return)	< 250,000	Consolidated
	All exempted supplies	Any	Consolidated

Note: For all B2C supplies (whether inter-State or intra-State) where invoice value is up to ₹ 2,50,000/- State-wise and rate-wise summary of supplies should be uploaded in Table 7 of Form GSTR-1.

Additional Comments

Every registered person furnishing any statement or return or making any application, shall make sure that they have read the instructions provided by GSTN which is to be followed by every registered person furnishing such statement / return / application. The said instruction is available in the format(s) of Form(s) prescribed in CGST Rules, 2017 as well as at the offline utility of each of the statement / return / application.

Illustration:

1. HSN requirement: HSN summary to be provided in Table 12 of Form GSTR 1 is divided into 2 parts vide Notification No. 78/2020 – C.T. dated 15.10.2020 i.e., (a) Aggregate turnover up to ₹ 5 crore in the previous financial year - 4 digits compulsorily for B2B supply and optional for B2C supply (b) Aggregate turnover above ₹ 5 crore in the previous financial year - 6 digits.

Further, Unit Quantity Code (UQC) for which no specific unit of measurement is available, shall be selected as 'OTHERS'; for example in case of supply of services, UQC can be on the basis of number of invoices issued under particular HSN for a particular tax period.

It is also important to note that, HSN Summary or summary of supplies at description of goods / services level, shall also contain details of supplies which are exempt from payment of tax or is not liable to goods and service tax i.e., non-taxable supply (example supply of alcoholic liquor meant for human consumption).

2. Furnishing of details of Physical Exports as against supplies made to SEZ unit or SEZ developer / Deemed Exports: Details of physical export of goods or services or both are to be separately furnished in Table 6A of Form GSTR-1.

37.3 Comparative Review

Under all the earlier laws, which have been subsumed into GST, there was no concept of furnishing a statement of outward supplies for the purpose of matching outward supplies with the input tax credit availed by the recipient of such supply. However, VAT laws of few States such as Karnataka had the facility of e-UPaSS which was introduced with the intent of matching output tax paid by the seller with that of input tax credit availed. However, the said activity was never carried out even as part of assessment under respective State VAT Laws.

37.4 Issues and Concerns

- (i) It is important for every registered person to note that the details of all outward supplies made by him is to be furnished in Form GSTR-1 i.e., statement of outward supplies, irrespective of the fact, whether such supply is outside the umbrella of GST or exempted from payment of tax i.e., GST, by way of exemption notification or is it a supply of notified goods or services which is liable to tax in the hands of recipient. The reason for disclosure is (1) the law requires one to provide details of such supplies though not liable to tax; and (2) as a registered person, by disclosing the values of all supplies, the registered person is effecting a reconciliation of financial statements with that of statements / returns furnished.
- (ii) The person effecting zero-rated supplies (physical export of goods), who wishes to claim refund of taxes paid has to ensure that details relating to such supplies as provided in GSTR-1, like invoice no., shipping bill details, value of goods exported and amount of IGST paid match with the details as available in the ICEGATE system. Only on matching of such details, refund of tax paid will be granted. Therefore, it is important that every registered person making physical export of goods verifies whether details of all export invoices as provided in GSTR-1 matches with details available in customs in ICEGATE.

The same can be verified by logging in to www.gst.gov.in with valid credentials and carrying out the following step:

Refunds >> Track status of invoice data to be shared with ICEGATE

Note: If the difference between the amount of IGST paid as disclosed in Form GSTR-3B and that in Form GSTR-1 is more than ₹ 100, the information will not be shared by GSTN for verification by ICEGATE; in such cases one has to first ensure that there is parity in the value disclosed in Form GSTR-3B and Form GSTR-1 by amending the details as required.

37.5 Quarterly Return Monthly Payment Scheme (QRMP Scheme)

The GST Council, in its 42nd meeting held on 05.10.2020, had recommended that registered person having aggregate turnover up to five crore rupees may be permitted to furnish return on quarterly basis along with monthly payment of tax, with effect from 01.01.2021. Accordingly, the scheme was announced and registered persons having an aggregate turnover of up to 5 crore rupees in the preceding financial year were allowed to file quarterly Form GSTR – 1.

Details of the scheme are explained here under:

- a. For each of the first and second months of a quarter, such a registered person will have the facility (Invoice Furnishing Facility- IFF) to furnish the details of such outward supplies

- to a registered person, as he may consider necessary, between the 1st day of the succeeding month and the 13th day of the succeeding month.
- b. The said details of outward supplies shall, however, not exceed the value of fifty lakh rupees in each month.
 - c. It may be noted that after 13th of the month, this facility for furnishing IFF for previous month would not be available.
 - d. As a facilitation measure, continuous upload of invoices would also be provided for the registered persons wherein they can save the invoices in IFF from the 1st day of the month till 13th - day of the succeeding month.
 - e. The facility of furnishing details of invoices in IFF has been provided so as to allow details of such supplies to be duly reflected in the Form GSTR-2A and Form GSTR-2B of the concerned recipient.
 - f. The facility of furnishing details of invoices in IFF is not mandatory and is only an optional facility made available to the registered persons under the QRMP Scheme.
 - g. The details of invoices furnished using the said facility in the first two months are not required to be furnished again in Form GSTR-1. Accordingly, the details of outward supplies made by such a registered person during a quarter shall consist of details of invoices furnished using IFF for each of the first two months and the details of invoices furnished in Form GSTR-1 for the quarter.

38.1 Introduction

This provision relates to furnishing of details of inward supplies by the recipient on the basis of details of outward supplies uploaded by the supplier(s) in Form GSTR 1.

38.2 Analysis

- (a) In respect of the return for outward supplies filed by the supplier of goods / services (under section 37 of CGST / SGST Act, 2017), the recipient of supply is required to match his inward supply details with that of the details uploaded by the supplier by way of furnishing Form GSTR-1.
- (b) The details uploaded by the supplier and non-resident taxable person will be made available to the recipient in Part 'A' of Form GSTR 2A (the details of input tax credit distributed by input service distributor will be made available in Part 'B' of said Form i.e., Form GSTR 2A). The details will be available for verification as and when the supplier has furnished Form GSTR-1. The details of tax deducted at source and tax collected at source will be made available in Part 'C' of Form GSTR 2A and the details of IGST paid on import of goods will be made available in Part 'D' ..

TDS Dedctor - Sec. 51	GSTR-7	Part-C of GSTR 2A
TCS Collector – Sec. 52	GSTR-8
Imported via Bill of Entry (BoE)		Part-D of GSTR 2A

Part A of Form GTSR 2A will contain the following details (auto-populated on the basis of Form GSTR 1 submitted by the supplier).

Sl. No. of Form 2A	Content of Form GSTR 1 of supplier
3	Inward supplies received from a registered person other than the supplies attracting reverse charge.
4	Inward supplies received from a registered person on which tax is to be paid on reverse charge.
5	Debit / credit notes (including amendments thereof) received during current tax period.

Note: The filing of Form GSTR-2 has been suspended for the time being.

- (c) In case, any error or omission is discovered in the course of matching as specified in the Act and discussed under section 42 and 43, rectification of the same shall be effected and tax and interest, if any as applicable shall be paid on such corrections by the person responsible for filing the return of inward supplies.
- (d) Such rectification of error or omission, however, is not permitted after filing of annual return or before the due date for filing the return for the month of September of the following financial year to which the details pertain, whichever is earlier.

38.3 Issues and Concerns

- (i) As a recipient of supply one would have to be cautious since supply details are uploaded by his suppliers by way of filing of Form GSTR 1. The recipient will only download and verify such details in Form GSTR 2A / Form GSTR 2B. The recipient should ensure that, all his inward supplies on which he has availed input tax credit has been uploaded by his supplier and the details of the same is available in Form GSTR-2A / Form GSTR 2B. By this, the recipient of supply can avoid interest liability on taking of excess credit (in the eyes of exchequer) which may also effect his goods and service tax compliance rating in long run.
- (ii) Further, the recipient of credit shall be aware of the fact that, input tax credit in relation to supply received in a particular financial year say 2020-219 (including transactions of credit / debit notes as the case may be), if not availed earlier, is to be availed on or before the due date prescribed for filing of return for the month of September 2021 or date of filing of annual return in Form GSTR 9, whichever is earlier. On this aspect, law is sacrosanct and no additional time is allowed which will result in losing out on input tax credit.

A registered person will not be allowed to furnish a return for any tax period, unless the returns for all previous tax periods have been furnished by him. Currently, the filing of monthly return in Form GSTR 3 is suspended and a summary return in Form GSTR 3B is required to be filed on monthly basis by every taxpayer including composition taxpayer.

CBIC vide Circular No. 129/48/2019 – GST dated 24th December, 2019 issued clarifications and guidelines for standard operating procedure to be followed in case of non-filers of returns.

Further, filing of Form GSTR 2 i.e., statement of inward supply is also suspended for an indefinite period and therefore filing of Form GSTR 3 i.e., monthly return is not possible. As a result, currently, the assessment of returns and information furnished thereon, is being done on the basis of information furnished in Form GSTR-3B, Form GSTR-1 i.e., statement of outward supply for supplies effected and Form GSTR-2A which is made available to the recipient of supply on the basis of details of outward supply furnished by supplier in Form GSTR-1.

Provisions relating to deduction of tax at source (section 51) and provisions of collection of tax at source (section 52), have been implemented w.e.f 1.10.2018. Form GSTR-7 is required to be filed by a person liable to deduct tax at source and furnishing of a statement in Form GSTR-8 is required to be filed by the person liable to collect tax at source in terms of GST provisions.

F. Quarterly Return Monthly Payment Scheme→ Eligibility:

- A registered person who is required to furnish a return in Form GSTR-3B, and who has an aggregate turnover of up to 5 crore rupees in the preceding financial year, is eligible for the QRMP Scheme from 01.01.2021.
- Further, in case the aggregate turnover exceeds 5 crore rupees during any quarter in the current financial year, the registered person shall not be eligible for the Scheme from the next quarter.

→ Mode of exercising the option

- Facility to avail the scheme on the common portal would be available throughout the year.
- A registered person can opt in for any quarter from first day of second month of preceding quarter to the last day of the first month of the quarter. In order to exercise this option, the registered person must have furnished the last return, as due on the date of exercising such option. Once the option has been exercised, they shall continue to furnish the return as per the selected option for future tax periods, unless they revise the said option.
- Similarly, the facility for opting out of the Scheme for a quarter will be available from first day of second month of preceding quarter to the last day of the first month of the quarter.
- It is also clarified that such registered person, whose aggregate turnover crosses 5 crore rupees during a quarter in current financial year, shall opt for furnishing of return on a monthly basis, electronically, on the common portal, from the succeeding quarter. In other words, in case the aggregate turnover exceeds 5 crore rupees during any quarter in the current financial year, the registered person shall no longer be eligible for the Scheme from the next quarter.
- It is further clarified that the option to avail the QRMP Scheme is GSTIN wise and therefore, distinct persons as defined in section 25 of the CGST Act (different GSTINs on same PAN) have the option to avail the QRMP Scheme for one or more GSTINs. In other words, some GSTINs for that PAN can opt for the QRMP Scheme and remaining GSTINs may not opt for the Scheme.

→ Filing Quarterly Return (Form GSTR-3B)

- Registered persons would be required to furnish Form GSTR-3B, for each quarter, on or before 22nd or 24th day of the month succeeding such quarter. In Form GSTR-3B, they shall declare the supplies made during the quarter, ITC availed during the quarter and all other details required to be furnished therein.

- The amount deposited by the registered person through Form GST PMT-06 in the first two months shall be debited solely for the purposes of offsetting the liability furnished in that quarter's Form GSTR-3B. However, any amount left after filing of that quarter's Form GSTR-3B may either be claimed as refund or may be used for any other purpose in subsequent quarters.
- In case of cancellation of registration of such person during any of the first two months of the quarter, he is still required to furnish return in Form GSTR-3B for the relevant tax period.

→ Making Monthly Payment

- A registered person under the QRMP Scheme would be required to pay the tax due in each of the first two months of the quarter by depositing the due amount in Form GST PMT-06, by the twenty fifth day of the month succeeding such month. While generating the challan, taxpayers should select Monthly payment for quarterly taxpayer as reason for generating the challan. The said person can use any of the following two options provided below for monthly payment of tax during the first two months –
 - (a) Fixed sum method: A facility is being made available on the portal for generating a pre-filled challan in Form GST PMT-06 for an amount equal to thirty five per cent. of the tax paid in cash in the preceding quarter where the return was furnished quarterly; or equal to the tax paid in cash in the last month of the immediately preceding quarter where the return was furnished monthly.
 - (b) Self-assessment method: The said persons, in any case, can pay the tax due by considering the tax liability on inward and outward supplies and the input tax credit available, in Form GST PMT-06. In order to facilitate ascertainment of the ITC available for the month, an auto-drafted input tax credit statement has been made available in Form GSTR-2B, for every month.

→ Applicability of Interest

- For registered person making payment of tax by opting fixed sum method-
 - (i) No interest would be payable in case the tax due is paid in the first two months of the quarter by way of depositing auto-calculated fixed sum amount as detailed in Para 6.1(a) above by the due date. In other words, if while furnishing return in Form GSTR-3B, it is found that in any or both of the first two months of the quarter, the tax liability net of available credit on the supplies made /received was higher than the amount paid in challan, then, no interest would be charged provided they deposit system calculated amount for each of the first two months and discharge their entire liability for the quarter in the Form GSTR-3B of the quarter by the due date.

- (ii) In case such payment of tax by depositing the system calculated amount in Form GST PMT-06 is not done by due date, interest would be payable at the applicable rate, from the due date of furnishing Form GST PMT-06 till the date of making such payment.
- (iii) Further, in case Form GSTR-3B for the quarter is furnished beyond the due date, interest would be payable as per the provisions of section 50 of the CGST Act for the tax liability net of ITC.
- For a registered person making payment of tax by opting self-assessment method- Interest amount would be payable as per the provision of section 50 of the CGST Act for tax or any part thereof (net of ITC) which remains unpaid / paid beyond the due date for the first two months of the quarter.
- Interest payable, if any, shall be paid through Form GSTR-3B.

→ Applicability of Late Fee

Late fee is applicable for delay in furnishing of return / details of outward supply as per section 47 of the Act. The requirement to furnish the return under the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 39 is quarterly. Accordingly, late fee would be the applicable for delay in furnishing of the said quarterly return / details of outward supply. It is clarified that no late fee is applicable for delay in payment of tax in first two months of the quarter.³¹

Return by Composition taxpayer

Every person registered as composition tax payer is required to furnish return on quarterly basis in Form GSTR CMP-08 within 18 days from the end of the relevant quarter to which such return pertains.

Further, Notification No. 12/2020- Central Tax dated 21st March 2020 has exempted those registered persons from filing GSTR-1 for 2019-20 who could not opt for availing the option of special composition scheme by filing Form CMP-02 & have furnished a return in Form GSTR-3B instead of furnishing the statement containing the details of payment of self-assessed tax in Form GST CMP-08.

Furnishing details as part of first return would apply, only when the person has effected taxable supplies between the period of date of application for registration and the actual date of grant of registration, where such registration certificate is granted effective from the date of application for registration.

As per the section 18(1), the person making an application for new registration shall be entitled to claim credit of input tax held in inputs as such, inputs contained in semi-finished goods or finished goods held in stock by such person on the day immediately preceding the date from which such person is liable to obtain registration i.e., the supplies made thirty days before the date of registration if the application for registration is made on thirtieth day, from the date on which he became liable to get registered or the date on which he made an application for registration, if application for registration is made immediately when he became liable for registration.

Note: Input tax credit in relation to capital goods held as a fixed asset as on the above date, which will be used or is intended to be used in making taxable supply will not be available, as there is no specific provision in this regard. 42.1 Introduction

This provision relates to matching, reversal and reclaim of input tax credit. The provisions of section 42 are currently not applicable due to deferment of filing of Form Nos. GSTR-2 and GSTR-3. However, the matching of input tax credit and verification of output tax liability would still be done on the basis of GSTR 1 furnished for outward supplies and the amount of credit availed by recipient apart from values as made available to him in his Form GSTR 2A, the facility of which is still available to both registered persons as well as to the exchequer to ensure that there is no mismatch in output tax paid or payable / input tax credit availed or available, as the case may be.

Further, Notification No. 49/2019 C.T. dated 09.10.2019 as amended has inserted new sub-rule (4) to rule 36 of the CGST Rules, 2017 restricting taking of input tax credit in respect of invoices or debit notes, the details of which have not been uploaded by the suppliers under sub-section (1) of section 37 of the CGST Act, 2017. Such input tax credit is restricted to 5% of the eligible credit available in respect of invoices or debit notes the details of which have been uploaded by the suppliers.

The following principal was laid down by the above referred sub-rule:

- The restriction of taking of input tax credit is imposed only in respect of those invoices / debit notes, details of which are required to be uploaded by the suppliers under sub-section (1) of section 37 but have not been uploaded. Therefore, taxpayers may avail full ITC in respect of IGST paid on import, documents issued under RCM, credit received from ISD, etc. which are outside the ambit of sub-section (1) of section 37, provided that eligibility conditions for taking of ITC are met in respect of the same.
- The particulars of the invoice in the Form GSTR-2A have to be matched with the inward register maintained under section 35 of the CGST Act, 2017.

- The supplier has to calculate 5% of the eligible credit available on only those invoices which have been uploaded by the supplier i.e., 5% of the eligible credit available in Form GSTR-2B .
- The balance ITC may be claimed by the taxpayer in any of the succeeding months provided details of requisite invoices are uploaded by the suppliers. The receiver can claim proportionate ITC as and when details of some invoices are uploaded by the suppliers provided that credit on invoices, the details of which are not uploaded (under sub-section (1) of section 37) remains under 5 per cent of the eligible input tax credit, the details of which are uploaded by the suppliers.

42.2 Analysis

A. Matching, reversal and reclaim envisages the following circumstances

Situation	Remarks / Comments
All transactions where input credit details of recipient are matched for output tax as stated by supplier and recipient (including cases where amount of input tax credit claimed is less than the amount of output tax paid by supplier on a particular tax invoice)	The transaction is treated as matched.
Transactions where the claim of input tax credit is made more than once (i.e., duplication of claims)	Details of such discrepancy shall be communicated to the registered person (only recipient) in Form GST MIS 1 .
Transactions where the claim for input tax credit is higher than the output tax as declared by the supplier	Details of such discrepancy shall be made available to recipient in Form GST MIS-1 and to the supplier in Form GST MIS-2 – Two possibilities: (a) If the discrepancy is due to supplier's mistake and he accepts it, he can correct it in GSTR 1 of that month (results in increase in output liability in the hands of supplier). (b) If the discrepancy is due to recipient's mistake and he accepts it, he can correct it in the statement of inward supply for that month (results in reduction in input tax credit in the hands of recipient). However, if the same is not rectified by both of them, such amount will get added to output tax liability of such recipient and the said amount is payable along with applicable interest [section 50(1) of CGST Act, 2017].

Transactions where the claim for input tax credit is higher than the output tax as declared by the supplier because the supplier has not furnished a particular transaction.	Same as above

- (10) The amount reduced from output tax liability in contravention of the provisions of sub-section (7) shall be added to the output tax liability of the supplier in his return for the month in which such contravention takes place and such supplier shall be liable to pay interest on the amount so added at the rate specified in sub-section (3) of section 50.

Section 50	Interest on delayed payment of tax

43.1 Introduction

This provision relates to matching, reversal and reclaim of reduction in output tax liability due to discrepancy in the output tax reduced by the supplier by way of issuing credit note and corresponding reduction of input tax credit by the recipient. However, the provisions of section 43 are currently not applicable as filing of details in inward supplies in Form GSTR 2 and furnishing a monthly return in Form GSTR 3 have been suspended for an indefinite period. However, still matching of reduction in output tax paid by the supplier and reduction of corresponding input tax credit (if availed earlier) will be verified by revenue authorities by adopting different modes, such as, obtaining details through jurisdiction of the recipient of supply, as the Government will not be ready to forego revenue twice viz., (i) on account of reduction in output tax liability by the supplier by way of issuing credit note; and (ii) taking of input tax credit in full, without reversing credit resulting due to credit note issued by the supplier.

The said reduction in output tax liability can also be possible on account of reduction of output tax liability by the supplier which originally was due to duplication of output tax liability and the procedure as said above would mutatis and mutandis would apply.

43.2 Analysis

A. Issuance of credit note for reduction in output tax liability:

Where the output tax is reduced by the supplier by way of issuing a credit note, details of every such credit note issued is to be matched with the corresponding reduction in the credit by the recipient by availing lower input tax credit to that extent in the return furnished for such period in which details of credit note is made available to the recipient on the portal. For example a supply invoice originally issued at ₹ 150,000 was overstated by ₹ 50,000; to that effect a credit note is issued by the supplier (along with tax). This credit note is to be accepted by the recipient and should result in reduction of input tax credit to the said extent in the return furnished by the recipient of the supply.

B. Reduction in output tax liability due to duplication of output liability

Similarly, where the supplier has paid taxes twice on a particular supply by issuing two tax invoices or otherwise and a credit note is issued to rectify the said error, the recipient of supply shall reduce his input tax credit (only if availed credit twice) in the tax period in which such credit note is issued by the supplier and the same is made available to the portal to the recipient. same shall also be accounted by the recipient.

Additional Comments

All procedures as outlined above under the heading "Analysis" of section 42 and related rules thereto, would equally be applicable to this section and the reference to the same can be made to understand the consequences, liability to pay interest and refund of interest paid earlier by way of credit to electronic credit ledger.

Statutory Provisions

- (4) The procedure for availing input tax credit in respect of outward supplies not furnished under sub-section (3) shall be such as may be prescribed and such procedure may include the maximum amount of the input tax credit which can be so availed, not exceeding twenty per cent. of the input tax credit available, on the basis of details furnished by the suppliers under the said sub-section.
- (5) The amount of tax specified in the outward supplies for which the details have been furnished by the supplier under sub-section (3) shall be deemed to be the tax payable by him under the provisions of the Act.
- (6) The supplier and the recipient of a supply shall be jointly and severally liable to pay tax or to pay the input tax credit availed, as the case may be, in relation to outward supplies for which the details have been furnished under sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) but return thereof has not been furnished.

- shall be such as may be prescribed.”]*

As per sub-section (2) of section 41 of the CGST Act, the registered person is entitled to take ITC as self - assessed in the return, which will be credited on a provisional basis to his electronic credit ledger. Section 43A was introduced by the CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018 laying down the procedure for furnishing return and availing ITC. According to section 43A, the recipient of goods and services could avail ITC only if the supplier had deposited the tax with Government either in cash or through utilisation of input tax credit. In other words, every registered person would be allowed to take credit in the returns furnished under sub-section (1) of section 39 only after verifying, validating, modifying or deleting the details of supplies furnished by the suppliers. Further, in respect of outward supplies not furnished, the ITC would be restricted to maximum slab of 20% of the ITC available, on the basis of details furnished by the suppliers. The supplier and the recipient of a supply would be made jointly and severally liable to pay tax or to pay the ITC availed, as the case may be, in relation to outward supplies for which the details were furnished but return thereof had not been furnished.

However, it needs to be noted that section 43A as inserted vide CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018 has not been notified as yet. Though clause (aa) under section 16(2) has been introduced vide the Finance Act, 2021 to put a blanket restriction on provisional availment of ITC with respect to unmatched invoices, the GST Council has categorically discarded the process of introducing the new form to file return making the process as prescribed in this section and ultimately making section 43A dormant. Therefore, the return process shall continue with the same Form GSTR-3B.

45.1 Introduction

This section applies to all registered taxable persons other than the persons registered as-

- Input Service Distributor
- A person paying tax under section 51 (TDS)
- A person paying tax under section 52 (TCS)
- Non-resident taxable person
- A person paying tax under section (10) composition levy.

45.2 Analysis

Every registered person whose registration is cancelled (suo motu or on an application made by applicant i.e., voluntary cancellation) shall file a final return in Form GSTR-10 through the common portal within 3 months from the date of cancellation (in case of voluntary cancellation) or date of order of cancellation (forceful cancellation by authority), whichever is later.

Details, which shall be made available in the final return to be furnished in Form-GSTR-10, are available in CGST Rules, 2017 as amended on 18-04.2018 vide Notification No. 21/2018 – CT dated 18.04.2018.

Most important information is that this return would require a person whose registration is cancelled, to furnish, information as follows:

- (a) Details of value (after adjustment of credit/debit notes) and quantity of inputs held in stock, inputs contained in semi-finished or finished goods held in stock and capital goods /plant and machinery.
- (b) Details of credit availed / reversed as per the provisions of GST law and tax payable if any.
- (c) Details of amount to be payable on cancellation of registration through electronic cash ledger/ electronic credit ledger.
- (d) Details of interest / late fee if any payable and paid details.
- (e) State-wise summary of supplies, rate-wise, should be uploaded in Table 7 of the Form GSTR-1.

Further, it is also important to take care of the following things while furnishing final return in Form GSTR 10:

- (a) While providing details of inputs held in stock, inputs contained in semi-finished goods or finished goods as the case may be the following compliances arise :
 - Where the tax invoices related to the inputs held in stock or inputs contained in semi-finished or finished goods held in stock are not available, the registered person shall estimate the value of inputs available in stock (in all three forms) for the purpose of reversal, based on the prevailing market price of the goods
Note: The details of stock for which invoices are not available, shall be certified by a Chartered Accountant or Cost Accountant and should to be furnished with final return filed in Form GSTR 10.
 - In case of capital goods / plant and machinery, the value for the purpose of arriving at the value of input tax to be reversed or paid, should be the invoice value reduced by 1/60th value per month or part thereof, from the date of invoice / purchase taking useful life as five years. For example, if the asset value was say ₹ 5 Lacs and input tax credit availed on the same was ₹ 90,000 (at 18%), the said asset was put to use for say 48 months as on the date of cancellation of registration, then, in such a case the amount of reversal would be calculated as follows:

Amount of input tax credit eligible, till the date of cancellation - ₹ 90,000 / 60 * 48 = ₹ 72,000/-.

Amount of input tax credit to be reversed / paid in cash - ₹ 90,000 / 60 * 12 = ₹ 18,000/-.

48.1 Introduction

This provision relates to:

- Procedure to be followed in appointment / termination of specified persons as Goods and Service Tax Practitioners (GSTPs)
- Activities, which can be performed or services that can be offered by a person eligible for appointment as GST practitioner.

48.2 Analysis

The procedure as prescribed in rule 83 of CGST Rules, 2017 supra, is to be followed to enrol as a Goods and Services Tax Practitioner (GSTP). The eligibility and disqualifications from enrolment as GSTP is also provided in the said rule.

Further, procedure and purposes for which a registered person can appoint a GSTP and duties of GSTP in relation to activities specified, is also clearly provided in the rule.

For activities, such as application for refund and cancellation of registration it is important to note that though the application is made by GSTP, approval / confirmation of the information by the registered person of information submitted by GSTP is mandatory.

A GST practitioner can undertake any or all of the following activities on behalf of a registered person, if so authorised by the registered person viz,

- (a) furnish details of outward and inward supplies;
- (b) furnish monthly, quarterly, annual or final return;
- (c) make deposit for credit into the electronic cash ledger;
- (d) file a claim for refund; and
- (e) file an application for amendment or cancellation of registration.

Notes to the Chapter

Note 1. Filing of Forms GSTR-2 and GSTR-3 have been suspended for indefinite period. As such, all provisions relating to filing of details of inward supply in Form GSTR-2, monthly return in Form GSTR-3, matching provisions specified in section 42 and section 43 shall not be applicable till the date Government prescribes the new form of returns and issues notification(s) in this regard.

Note 2. Late fees for failure to file Form GSTR-3B has been waived for the months of July 2017, August 2017 and September 2017. From October 2017, the late fees has been reduced to twenty five rupees per day (both under CGST, SGST / UTGST) and where the central tax payable is nil, the late fee is restricted to ten rupees per day (both under CGST and SGST / UTGST / IGST). Refer table in Para 47.2 supra.

Note 3. Non-filing of GST returns for two consecutive tax periods/ months would debar the taxpayer from generating any e-way bill.

In a bid to force non-compliant businesses to file returns regularly, the Finance Ministry has barred e-way bill generation while transporting consignment if the supplier or recipient of the cargo has not furnished returns for -

- two consecutive tax periods under GST in case of composition tax payer
- a consecutive period of two months, in case of person other than composition tax payer

13. This transfer may be done using Form GST PMT-09. For example, cash balance under minor head 'Interest' under CGST may be transferred to any of the minor heads under CGST or SGST or IGST as desired by the registered person.

Such amount transferred shall be deemed as deposit of tax to the electronic cash ledger under the head to which such transfer takes place.

 - Permissible ITC on inputs held in stock and inputs contained in semi- finished or finished goods held in stock on the day of conversion from composition scheme to regular tax scheme.
 - ITC eligible on payments made on reverse charge basis

The above list is illustrative and not exhaustive and thus would include credit transfers to a recipient in cases of mergers, amalgamations etc.

4. A registered person shall, upon noticing any discrepancy in his electronic credit ledger, communicate the same to the officer exercising jurisdiction in the matter, through the common portal in Form GST PMT-04.
5. Any excess payment or wrong payment of tax made by debit to the electronic credit ledger but subsequently . refund has been sought by the registered person, then if such refund is found admissible, it shall only be re-credited to the electronic credit ledger by an order in Form GST PMT-03.
6. Blocking utilization of credit can be done under rule 86A by the Commissioner or authorized officer not below the rank of Assistant Commissioner, if they have reason to believe that the credit has been availed fraudulently or that the party was not eligible for such credit. The blocked amount shall not be available for discharge of liability or for claiming refund. The blocking may be done only after giving reasons in writing. Such restriction shall be removed by the officer on being satisfied that conditions for disallowing the credit no longer exist or a period of one year has elapsed from such restriction, whichever is earlier.

CBIC has issued Guidelines for disallowing debit of electronic credit ledger under Rule 86A of the CGST Rules, 2017. The salient points of the Guidelines have been elaborated below:

1. Grounds for disallowing debit of amount from electronic credit ledger

- (i) The Commissioner or an officer authorised by him, not below the rank of Assistant Commissioner, must “form an opinion” for disallowing debit of an amount from electronic credit ledger after proper application of mind considering all the facts of the case including the nature of prima facie fraudulently availed or ineligible input tax credit and whether the same is covered under the grounds mentioned in rule 86A(1), the amount of input tax credit involved, and whether such disallowance is necessary for restricting him from utilizing/ passing on fraudulently availed or ineligible input tax credit to protect the interests of revenue.
- (ii) The power of disallowing debit of amount from electronic credit ledger must not be exercised in a mechanical manner and “careful examination of all the facts of the case” is important to determine case(s) fit for exercising power under rule 86A. The remedy of disallowing debit of amount from electronic credit ledger being, by its very nature. extraordinary’ has to be resorted to with utmost circumspection and with maximum care and caution. It contemplates an objective determination based on intelligent care and evaluation as distinguished from a purely subjective consideration of suspicion. The reasons are to be on the basis of material evidence available or gathered in relation to fraudulent availment of input tax credit or ineligible input tax credit availed as per the conditions/grounds under sub-rule (l) of rule 86A.

2. Proper authority for the purpose of rule 86A

- (i) The Commissioner/ Principal Commissioner may authorize exercise of powers under rule 86A based on the following monetary limits:

Total amount of ineligible fraudulently availed input tax credit	Officer authorized to disallow debit of amount from electronic credit ledger under rule 86A
Upto ₹ 1 crore	Deputy/ Assistant Commissioner
Above ₹ 1 crore but upto ₹ 5crore	Additional/ Joint Commissioner
Above ₹ 5 crore	Principal Commissioner/ Commissioner

- (ii) The Additional Director General /Principal Additional Director General of DGGI can also exercise the powers assigned to the Commissioner under rule 86A. The monetary limits for authorization for exercise of powers under rule 86A, to the officers of the rank of Assistant Director and above of DGGI by the Additional Director General /Principal Additional Director General may be same as mentioned above for equivalent rank of officers.
- (iii) Where during the course of Audit under section 65 or 66 of CGST Act, 2017, it is noticed that any input tax credit has been fraudulently availed or is ineligible as per the grounds mentioned in rule 86A(1), the concerned Commissioner/ Principal Commissioner of CGST Audit Commissionerate may refer the same to the jurisdictional CGST Commissioner for examination of the matter for exercise of power under rule 86A.

3. Procedure for disallowance

- (i) The amount of fraudulently availed or ineligible input tax credit availed by the registered person, as per the grounds mentioned in rule 86(1) shall be prima facie ascertained based on material evidence available or gathered on record. The "reasons to believe" to disallow debit from electronic credit ledger as formed by the Commissioner or any other officer authorized by him shall be duly recorded by the concerned officer in writing on file, before he proceeds to disallow debit of amount from electronic credit ledger of the said person.
- (ii) The amount disallowed for debit from electronic credit ledger should not be more than the amount of input tax credit which is believed to have been fraudulently availed or is ineligible, as per the conditions/ grounds mentioned in rule 86A(1).

- (iii) The action to disallow such debit from electronic credit ledger shall be informed on the portal to the concerned registered person, along with the details of the officer who has disallowed such debit.

4. Allowing debit of disallowed/restricted credit under rule 86A(2).

- (i) The Commissioner or the authorized officer, either on his own or based on the submissions made by the taxpayer with material evidence, may examine the matter afresh and on being satisfied that the input tax credit, initially considered to be fraudulently availed or ineligible, is no more ineligible or wrongly availed, either partially or fully, may allow the use of the credit so disallowed/restricted, up to the extent of eligibility, as per powers granted under rule 86A(2).
- (ii) Reasons for allowing the debit of electronic credit ledger, which had been earlier disallowed, shall be duly recorded on file in writing, before allowing such debit of electronic credit ledger.
- (iii) Upon expiry of one year from the date of restriction, the registered person shall be able to debit input tax credit so disallowed, subject to any other action that may be taken against such person.
- (iv) As the restriction on debit of electronic credit ledger under rule 86A(1) is resorted to protect the interests of the revenue and the said action also has bearing on the working capital of the registered person, it should be endeavored that in all such cases' the investigation and adjudication are completed at the earliest, well within the period of restriction, so that the due liability arising out of the same can be recovered from the said taxable person and the purpose of disallowing debit from electronic credit ledger is achieved.

7. The contents of the ledger would be as under :

Dr. Electronic Credit Ledger (Form GST PMT - 02)		Cr.
(a) Payment of tax.	(a) Claim of input tax credit by filing Form GSTR - 3B as prescribed in section 39.
(b) Refund of accumulated ITC, under section 54, filed in Form GST RFD - 01	(b) Refund claim rejected and re-credit through Form GST PMT- 03
	(c) Refund of any amount paid as tax wrongly or paid in excess for which debit has been made from the electronic credit ledger.

8. The manner of utilisation of ITC and cross utilization shall be as under:
- (1) The amount available in the electronic credit ledger may be utilized for effecting payment towards output tax payable under the Act or Rules. The manner of utilization, conditions and timelines have been specifically prescribed.
 - (2) Electronic credit ledger has the following (cross) credit utilization arrangement as per combined reading of sections 49(5), 49A, 49B, Rule 88A and Circular No. 98/17/2019-GST, dated 23.04.2019:

Input tax Credit on account of	Output liability on account of Integrated tax	Output liability on account of Central tax	Output liability on account of State tax/ Union Territory tax
Integrated tax	(I)	(II) - In any order and in any proportion
(III) Input tax credit on account of integrated tax to be completely exhausted mandatorily
Central tax	(V)	(IV)	Not permitted
State tax/Union Territory tax	(VII)	Not permitted	(VI)

- (3) As per the section 49A, the ITC of IGST has to be utilized completely before ITC of CGST / SGST or UTGST can be utilized for discharge of any tax liability.

Further, section 49B empowers the Government, on the recommendation of the GST Council, to notify the order for utilization of ITC in e-credit ledger, Accordingly, CBIC vide Notification No. 16/2019 dated 29.03.2019 inserted rule 88A in the CGST Rules.

Rule 88A also allows utilization of ITC of IGST towards the payment of CGST and SGST, or as the case may be, UTGST, in any order subject to the condition that the entire ITC on account of IGST is completely exhausted first before the ITC on account of CGST or SGST / UTGST can be utilized.

Prior to rule 88A, as per section 49 (5) IGST Act, input tax credit was first utilized against IGST liability and any remaining credit of IGST, if any may be utilized against CGST and then SGST/UTGST in the following order:

Credit of:	Allowed for Payment of
	IGST	CGST	SGST
IGST	✓ (1)	✓ (2)	✓ (3)
CGST	✓ (2)	✓ (1)
SGST	✓ (2)		✓ (1)

However, with the introduction of section 49A, it becomes abundantly clear that there is only a two-step hierarchy and once credit of IGST is fully adjusted with liability of IGST, then remainder of credit of IGST may be utilized in any order against liability of CGST or liability of SGST.

- (4) With effect from 01.02.2019, proviso to sub-section (5) of section 49 [inserted vide the CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018 read with Notification No. 2/2019-C.T., dated 29-1-2019], ITC on account of SGST/ UTGST shall be utilized towards payment of IGST only where the balance of the ITC on account of CGST is not available for payment of IGST.
- (5) 'Cross-utilization of credit is available' means it can be effected only in that order. The important restriction is that the CGST credit cannot be utilized for payment of SGST or UTGST and vice versa. One may note the fact that IGST credit is available seamlessly, subject to order of utilization as mentioned supra.
- (6) Following is an illustration on the order of utilization of input tax credit amplifying the impact of newly inserted rule 88A of the CGST Rules as stipulated in Circular No. 98/17/2019-GST, dated 23.04.2019 :

Head	Output Liability	Input tax Credit
Integrated tax	1000	1300
Central tax	300	200
State tax/ Union Territory tax	300	200
Total	1600	1700

Appropriation of tax credits available as above may be as follows:

Option 1:

Input tax Credit on account of	Discharge of output liability on account of Integrated tax	Discharge of output liability on account of Central tax	Discharge of output liability on account of State tax/ Union territory tax	Balance of Input Tax Credit
Integrated tax	1000	200	100	0
Input tax credit on account of integrated tax has been completely exhausted
Central tax	0	100	-	100
State tax/ Union Territory tax	0	-	200	0
Total	1000	300	300	100

Option 2:

Input tax Credit on account of	Discharge of output liability on account of Integrated tax	Discharge of output liability on account of Central tax	Discharge of output liability on account of State tax/ Union territory tax	Balance of Input Tax Credit
Integrated tax	1000	100	200	0
Input tax credit on account of integrated tax has been completely exhausted
Central tax	0	200	-	0
State tax/ Union Territory tax	0	-	100	100
Total	1000	300	300	100

- (7) The full utilization of IGST credit by taxpayer facilitates the Government in the following;
- Reduction of transactions of inter -settlement between the Centre and States
 - Self-utilization of IGST deposited in Consolidated Fund of India through payment route of taxpayer instead of post return calculation

However, if the provisions are not appreciated applied, it leads to a situation wherein taxpayer has to pay SGST in cash while his balance in CGST credit ledger is still lying.

Illustration:

Nature of Tax	Tax liability	ITC available
IGST	100 (ip)	200 (ic)
CGST	100 (cp)	50 (cc)
SGST	100 (sp)	50 (sc)

	Tax liability	Option 1		Option 2
		Paid through ITC	Paid through Cash / Balance Credit	Paid through ITC	Paid through Cash	Balance ITC
IGST	100 (ip)	100 (ic)	Nil	100 (ic)	-	-
CGST	100 (cp)	50 (ic) 50 (cc)	Nil	100 (ic)	-	50 (cc)
SGST	100 (sp)	50 (ic) 50 (sc)	Nil	50 (sc)	50	-

From the above Illustration, we can conclude that Option – 1 does not result in any cash flow issue. On the contrary, In Option 2 the registered person pays the SGST liability in cash and accumulates the ITC under the head CGST. This is because the registered person had not carried out the adjustment as per rule 88A i.e., ITC left after setting off the IGST liability can be utilized in any order.

- (8) Sub-section (6) of section 49 provides that the balance in the cash or credit ledger after payment of tax, interest, penalty, fee or any other amount may be refunded in accordance with the provisions of section 54 (dealing with refunds).
- (9) A unique identification number shall be generated at the common portal for each debit or credit to the electronic cash or credit ledger, as the case may be. The said UIN must be used to discharge tax liability.
9. The conditions for use of the amount available in electronic credit ledger are given below:
- The Commissioner or an officer authorized by him (not below the rank of an Assistant Commissioner) under rule 86A may not allow the registered person to utilize ITC for payment of taxes or claim refund, if he has reason to believe that such ITC in electronic ledger has been fraudulently availed or the person was ineligible to avail it. This blocking may be done after giving reasons in writing.
 - The ITC in electronic ledger can be blocked for any one of the following reasons–
 - ITC was availed on the basis of tax invoice or debit note or any other document prescribed under rule 36 –
 - issued by a supplier who is non-existent or not conducting any business from the registered premises
 - without receipt of goods or services or both.
 - taxes mentioned in the document issued by the supplier has not been paid to the Government.
 - the registered person availing ITC has been found non-existent or does not conduct any business activity from the registered premises.

- ITC is availed without any documentary proof.
 - The Commissioner or an Officer authorized by him may, upon being satisfied that conditions for blocking the ITC in e-credit ledger as discussed above do not exist, may permit the use of ITC for payment of taxes or allow refund claim of accumulated ITC as per section 54.
 - Blocking of ITC ceases after one year from date of imposition.
10. Following are the restrictions on the use of the amount available in electronic credit ledger:
- In order to curb misuse of ITC by the registered person the Central Government with effect from 01.01.2021 introduced rule 86B which limits the use of ITC available in the electronic credit ledger for discharging the output tax liability. Accordingly, the registered persons cannot use ITC in excess of 99 per cent of output tax liability.
 - This rule is applicable to registered persons having taxable value of supply (other than exempt supply and zero-rated supply) in a month which is worth more than ₹ 50 lakhs.
 - This rule has a non-obstante clause which means this rule overrides all other rules of the CGST Rules.
 - However, the above restriction is not applicable to the following registered persons:
 - If the persons mentioned below have paid more than ₹ 1 lakh as Income Tax under Income Tax Act, 1961 in each of the preceding two financial years for which the time limit to file return of income under sub-section (1) of section 139 of the said Act has expired:
 - registered person
 - proprietor, karta or managing director of the registered person
 - any of the partners or whole-time directors or any other person as the case may be.
 - If the registered person under concern has received a refund of unutilized input tax credit amounting to more than ₹ 1 lakh in the preceding financial year on account of export under LUT or due to inverted tax structure.
 - If the registered person under concern has discharged his liability towards output tax by electronic cash ledger for an amount in excess of 1 per cent cumulatively of the total output tax liability up to the said month in the current financial year.
 - If the registered person under concern is any of the following:
 - Government department or

- Public sector undertaking or
- Local authority.

Sub-section (9) of section 49 provides that the incidence of tax on goods/services shall be deemed to have been passed on to the recipient of such goods and /or services when the tax is paid unless the contrary is proved.

49.3 Issues and Concerns:

- (i) The recipient of notified services who is liable to reverse charge, is required to ensure that tax is charged on the tax invoice issued by the supplier (marked as payable under RCM) of notified goods or services and all necessary declarations as required under the tax invoice and input tax credit provisions have been complied with.
- (ii) A person having multiple registrations is required to ensure that payment of tax is made for the registrations against which the tax liability is due. Any incorrect payment will envisage that the correct payment of taxes under the appropriate registration needs to be made, while such person needs to seek refund from that particular registration under which the said wrong payment was effected. This will impact working capital and obtaining refunds will mean time and costs.

49.4 Comparative Review

The electronic cash ledger, electronic credit ledger and tax liability register are unique features of the GST law. This would ensure that only eligible credits are availed thereby eliminating the need for Forms 'C' or 'F' or 'H' etc. (Refer relevant provisions of the CST Act, 1956).

On the other hand, the assessee would be expected to reconcile their financial ledgers with corresponding electronic ledgers.

50.1 Introduction

This section lays down the provisions for payment of interest under the Act for delayed payment of tax.

50.2 Analysis

Section 50 of the CGST Act makes it mandatory for a tax payer to pay interest on belated payment of tax i.e., when he fails to pay tax (or any part of tax) to the Government's account within the due date/s.

Interest - When Payable

Interest under section 50 of CGST Act is payable in the following three circumstances

1. Sub-section (1): period for which there is a delay in payment of tax, in full or in part
2. Sub-section (3): Undue or excess claim of input tax credit under section 42(10)
3. Sub-section (3): Undue or excess reduction in output tax liability under section 43(10)

Rate of Interest

The actual rates of interest notified by the Government vide Notification No. 13/ 2017 Central tax dated 28.06.2017 are as follows:

S. No.	CGST Act, 2017 Sections	Reason for charging interest	Rate of interest
1	50(1)	Failure to pay tax or part thereof to the Government within the period prescribed	18%
2	50(3)	Undue or excess claim of ITC or reduction of output tax liability	24%
3	54(12)	Interest on Withheld refund	6%
4	56	Interest on Delayed refunds	6%
5	Proviso to 56	Interest on Refund arising from order passed by Adjudicating Authority/ Appellate Authority/ Tribunal/ Court and not refunded within 60 days	9%

Manner of Computation of Interest

1. The manner of computation of the period for which interest under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3) of section 50 is to be paid has not been addressed in the Rules. Generally, the period of interest shall be from the date following the due date of payment to the actual date of payment of tax.
2. Pursuant to section 49, registered persons can make payment of tax through electronic cash ledger or electronic credit ledger. Generally, balance in electronic credit ledger is exhausted first and then electronic cash ledger is utilized for better working capital management.

Besides this, payment of tax as per rule 85(3) be considered only when electronic cash ledger or electronic credit ledger of the registered person is being debited. Mere, credit entry in cash ledger or credit ledger will not tantamount to payment of tax.

It may also be noted that section 39 (7) lays down the last date for remittance, as the last date on which the taxable person is required to furnish such return. Moreover, section 2 (117) lays down that a return shall be considered valid, only if the tax payable as per the return is paid in full.

Therefore, if a registered person has insufficient (combined) balance in both the ledgers, partial payment is not allowed as a return is valid only when tax payable as per the return is paid in full and also the GST Portal doesn't enable partial payment. Considering this limitation, a proviso to section 50 was inserted w.e.f. 01.07.2017 vide The Finance Act, 2021 read with Notification No. 16/2021- Central Tax, dt.1-06-2021 in terms of which interest in cases where tax return has been furnished after the due date in accordance with the provisions of section 39, but before commencement of any proceedings under section 73 or section 74, shall be levied on that portion of the output tax which is being paid by debiting electronic cash ledger. Hence, when a registered person has paid his taxes through a return specified under section 39 belatedly, interest is chargeable only on the net taxes paid through electronic cash ledger and not on the gross taxes paid for such tax period. Interest liability shall not arise on that portion of output tax liability which is paid using ITC available in electronic credit ledger.

Therefore, after the retrospective amendment to section 50(1), interest is chargeable only on the net liability.

3. Sections 73(5) & 73(6) provide that if tax along with interest has been paid, the adjudicating authority shall not serve any show cause notice.
4. Section 73(8) provides that where a person has been served with show cause notice but has made the payment of tax and interest under section 50 within thirty days of issue of notice, no penalty is payable and all proceedings in respect of that tax amount are deemed to be concluded. The issue then is – whether interest is payable under section 50(1) or 50(3).

5. On a conjoint reading of sections 50 (1), 73 (5), 73 (6) and 73 (8) of the Act, it is evident that where a person makes a voluntary payment of interest along with belated payment of tax whether admitted on his own or within thirty days from the date of issue of show cause notice, then the proceedings are deemed to be concluded and no penalty shall be payable.

Other Important Points

1. The term 'tax' here means the tax payable under the Act or Rules made thereunder.
2. The phrase 'on his own' used in sub-section (1) of section 50 indicates that such payment of interest should be made voluntarily (i.e.) even without a demand.
3. There are no specific provisions for payment of interest-on-interest amount due.
4. The interest payable under this section shall be debited to the electronic tax liability register as per sub-rule 1 of rule 85
5. Such liability for interest can be settled by adjustment against the balance in electronic cash ledger but not with balance in electronic credit ledger

50.3 Issues and Concerns:

- (i) Unlike central excise or service tax law, where interest was to be paid only when CENVAT Credit was availed and utilised incorrectly, under the GST regime availing of incorrect input tax credit is sufficient cause to attract the provisions of liability to pay interest. However, due to deferment of Form GSTR - 2 and Form GSTR - 3, section 50(3) may not become operational to demand interest on ineligible credit availed but not utilized.
- (ii) Further, due to the wordings in section 50(2) that the 'manner of computation is to be prescribed' some experts hold the view that until any method is prescribed, merely prescribing the rate of interest would not suffice to demand interest.
- (iii) When there is change in the value of input tax credit (common credit) to be reversed to the extent it relates to exempt turnover on the basis of amounts calculated finally at the end of the financial year is liable to interest immediately from first day of subsequent financial year. On the other hand, the Central Excise Act, 1944, Finance Act 1994 read with CENVAT Credit Rules, 2004 allowed time for reversal without interest up to 30th June of the subsequent financial year.
- (iv) Under the earlier law, the amount paid by challan was considered to be a payment of tax and interest was payable till the date when the amount was paid through challan. In GST interest is to be paid till the electronic cash or electronic credit ledgers is not debited.

50.4 Comparative Review

1. This provision is similar to that in service tax and excise law. In the case of VAT laws, if the payment of tax and interest is made after issuance of show cause notice, it is at the discretion of the adjudicating authority to drop the penalty. Some State VAT laws have mandatory penalty provisions.

2. The view laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Prathibha Processors v. UOI (1996) 11 SCC 101, that interest is automatic as it is compensatory in nature and not penal in character, holds good even under the GST laws.

50.5 FAQs

Q1. When is a person liable to pay interest?

Ans. When a person who is liable to pay tax under the provisions of the Act or the respective rules made thereunder, fails to pay the whole/ part of the tax due, to the account of the Government, within the prescribed time, he shall be liable to pay interest.

Q2. How is the interest computed under section 50(1)?

Ans. Interest is computed for the period for which the tax remains unpaid at the notified rate not exceeding 18 per cent, i.e., from the date following the day on which tax becomes due to be paid, till the date of payment of tax.

Q3. Is penalty still payable if a person pays the tax and interest in response to a show cause notice?

Ans. Where the person has made payment of tax and interest under section 50 within thirty days of issue of the show cause notice, no penalty is payable and all proceedings in respect of that tax are deemed to be concluded.

Q4. Is interest leviable on excess reduction of output tax liability?

Ans. Yes, interest is also leviable where there is undue or excess reduction in output tax liability under section 43(10) of the CGST Act at the rate of 24% per annum.

Q5. Is a show cause notice or demand required to determine the liability to pay interest?

Ans. No, there is no requirement of demand from the Department to determine the interest liability. It is the responsibility of the person liable to pay tax to compute and pay the interest 'on his own'. Though this was the general understanding, it has been held in Mahadeo Construction Co. vs Union of India (Jharkhand High Court) W.P. (T) No. 3517 of 2019 that even in case of interest recovery, it can be initiated only after an adjudication under section 73 or 74.

51.1 Introduction

With the objective of ensuring smooth rollout of GST, the provisions of tax deduction at source (TDS) (section 51 of the CGST / SGST Act 2017) and tax collection at source (section 52 of the CGST/SGST Act, 2017) were deferred from enforcement.

It is not out of place to mention that a tax deductor has to compulsorily register without any threshold limit whether or not separately registered under the Act. The deductor has a privilege of obtaining registration under GST without having required to obtain PAN. He can obtain registration using his tax deduction and collection account number (TAN) issued under the Income Tax Act, 1961.

²⁷ Omitted vide Notf no. 31/2019 – CT dt. 28.06.2019

Moreover, by virtue of Notification No. 33/2017 – Central Tax dated 15.09.2017 read with Notification No. 50/2018-C.T., dated 13.09.2018, section 51 (provisions related to TDS) came into force w.e.f. 01.10.2018 and the following persons have been notified under section 51(1)(d) as liable for tax deduction:

- (a) an Authority or a Board or any other body, -
 - (i) set up by an Act of Parliament or a State Legislature; or
 - (ii) established by any Government, with fifty-one percent or more participation by way of equity or control, to carry out any function;
- (b) society established by the Central Government or the State Government or a Local Authority under the Societies Registration Act, 1860;
- (c) public sector undertakings:

Reference may be had to CBIC Circular No. 76/50/2018-GST, dated 31.12.2018 which makes it clear that the 51 per cent condition is applicable to both limbs of 'authority or board' appearing in the notification issued under section 51(1)(d) [para (a) above].

This section provides for deduction of tax at source in certain circumstances. The section specifically lists out the deductors who are mandated by the Central Government to deduct tax at source and also specifies the rate of tax deduction and the procedure for remittance of the tax deducted. The amount of tax deducted is reflected in the electronic cash ledger of the deductee.

51.2 Analysis

The CGST Act vide section 2 (53) defines the term 'Government' to mean the Central Government. Section 51(1) ibid refers to TDS related mandate by 'Government' (Central/State Government). Such mandates shall be for the following persons -

Department or establishment of Central Government or State Government
Local Authority.
Government agencies.
Persons or category of persons notified by the Central Government on the recommendation of the Council. (Notified vide Notification No. 33/2017 – Central Tax dated 15.09.2017 read with Notification No. 50/2018-C.T., dated 13.09.2018)

1. The above 'persons' are referred to as deductors.
2. The deductors have to deduct tax at the rate of 1 per cent CGST / SGST or 2 per cent IGST from the payment made or credited to the supplier of taxable goods and / or services, notified by the Central Government or State Government on the recommendations of the GST Council. Deduction is required where the total value of supply under 'a contract' exceeds ₹ 2.5 lakhs.

Value of supply shall exclude the tax indicated in the invoice.

No deduction shall be made if the location of the supplier and the place of supply is in a State or Union Territory which is different from the State or as the case may be, Union Territory of registration of the recipient. - This is because sub rule (9) of rule 87 of the CGST Rules provides that any amount deducted under section 51 or collected under section 52 and claimed by the registered taxable person from whom the said amount was deducted or, as the case may be, collected shall be credited to his electronic cash ledger. And when supply is intra supply exigible to Central tax and State tax, transfer of TDS (CGST + SGST of one State say Delhi) to cash ledger of the supplier (CGST + SGST of other State say Mumbai) will be cumbersome. Therefore, no TDS will be deducted in such case.

3. TDS applies on 'taxable goods or services' supplied and not on 'all taxable supplies'. 'Taxable supplies' is defined in section 2(108) of CGST Act which covers all supplies that are 'leviable' to tax (even if exempt by notification under section 11 of the CGST Act). But 'taxable goods and services' requires an inquiry as to whether the goods or services are taxable or exempt. If they are exempt, then TDS will not be attracted.
4. The amount deducted shall be paid to the Central Government within 10 days after the end of the month in which such deduction is made.

As per Rule 66, the deductor shall furnish a TDS certificate in Form GSTR-7A to the deductee mentioning therein the following:

- (a) Contract value
- (b) Rate of deduction
- (c) Amount deducted
- (d) Amount paid to the appropriate Government

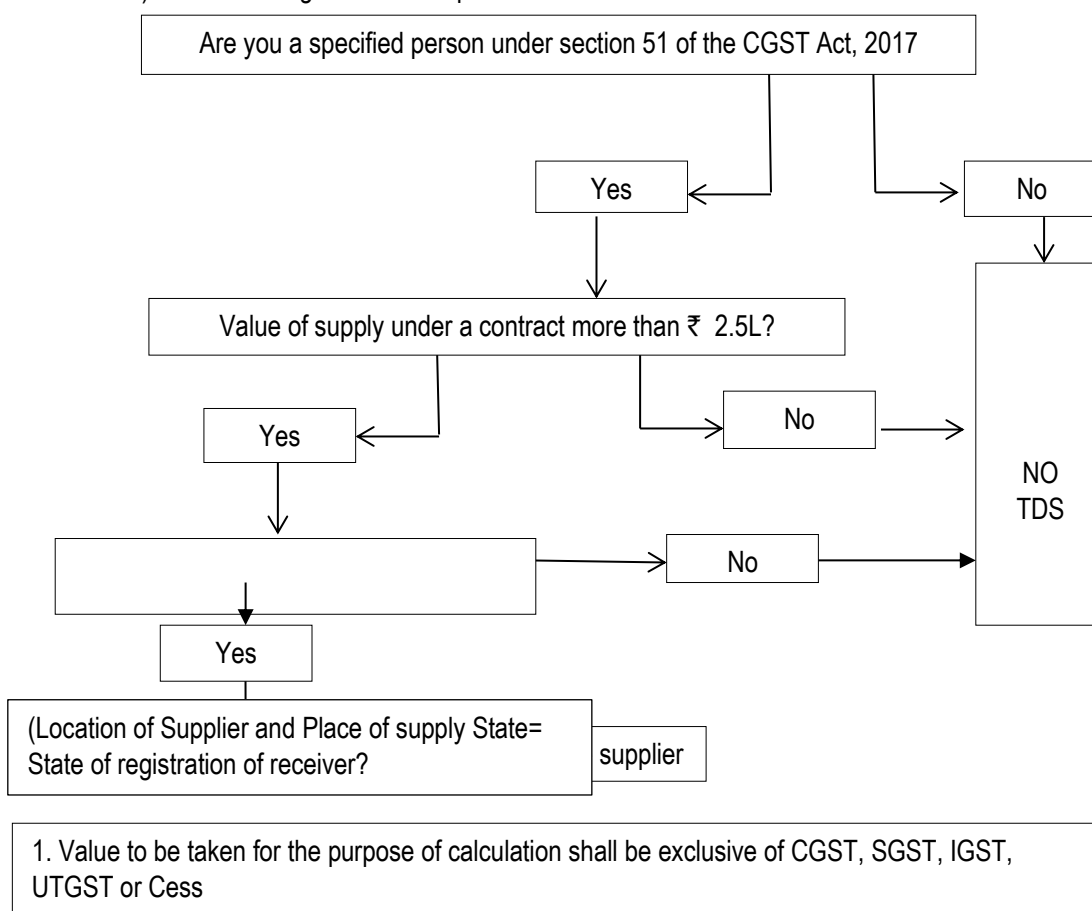

These data need to be accepted by the deductee in common portal only after which the cash ledger will get credited with the amount of tax deducted.

7. Non-remittance by the deductor: If the deductor does not remit the amount deducted as tax, he is liable to pay penal interest under section 50 in addition to the amount of tax deducted.
8. The amount of tax deducted and reported in the return in Form GSTR-7 by the deductor shall reflect in electronic cash ledger of the deductee once it is claimed as credit to the electronic cash ledger by the deductee.

This provision enables the Government to cross-check whether the amount deducted by the deductor is correct and that there is no mis-match between the amounts reflected in the electronic cash ledger as reflected in the return filed by deductor. One may draw easy analogy from existing practice in income tax related TDS returns filed by deductor and Form 26AS statement available for viewing the TDS remitted in respect of his transactions by the deductee.

9. Refund on excess collection: The deductor or the deductee can claim refund of excess deduction or erroneous deduction. The provisions of section 54 relating to refunds would apply in such cases. However, if the amount deducted has been credited to the electronic cash ledger of the deductee, the deductor cannot claim refund (only the deductee can claim). The following flowchart depicts the scenario:

10. The IGST Act 2017, subject to its own provisions, adopts the provisions in CGST Act in respect of tax deduction at source mutatis mutandis (Ref: Section 20 of IGST Act).
11. The UTGST Act 2017, subject to its own provisions, adopts the provisions of CGST Act in respect of tax deduction at source mutatis mutandis (Ref: Section 21 of UTGST Act).

12. Following are the important notifications in this regard :

- Notification No. 50/2018-CT dated 13.9.2018 (as amended) – TDS provision do not apply:
 - To authorities under the Ministry of Defence, other than the authorities specified in Annexure-A and their offices (Notification No. 57/2018 C.T. dated 23.10.2018) w.e.f. 01.10.2018.
 - When supply is between PSU (public sector undertaking) to another PSU (Notification No 61/2018 C.T. dated 05.11.2018) w.e.f. 01.10.2018.
 - When supply is between persons specified in clauses (a) to (d) of section 51(1) of CGST Act, 2017 (Notification No 73/2018 C.T. dated 31.12.2018) w.e.f.31.12.2018.

51.3 Comparative review

Provisions relating to deduction of tax at source existed in the VAT laws too. There were no TDS provisions in central excise or service tax laws, though there was a concept of reverse charge. Under most State VAT laws, TDS provisions were applicable to payments made to works contractors. Some States had provisions for TDS on 'transfer of right to use goods'.

Following is a comparative table between State VAT Law and CGST Act:

S. No.	State VAT Law	CGST Act
1.	Applicable only to works contractors.	Applicable to recipients notified by the Central Government on the recommendations of the GST Council.
2.	Two different standard rates	One standard rate viz. 1% CGST + 1% SGST (2% IGST)
3. 52.1 Introduction

This section provides for collection of tax at source (TCS) in certain circumstances. The section specifically lists out the tax collecting persons who are mandated by the Central Government to collect tax at source, the rate of tax collection and the procedure for remittance of the tax collected. The amount of tax collected is reflected in the electronic cash ledger of the person from who tax collected.

It is important to mention here that every electronic commerce operator (“e-commerce operator”) who is required to collect tax at source under section 52 is required to compulsorily get registered under GST law. Even the persons who supply goods or services or both, other than supplies specified under section 9(5), through such e-commerce operator has to obtain compulsory registration as per section 24 of the CGST Act.

The provisions which are common under CGST, UTGST and SGST Act have been analyzed hereunder.

52.2 Analysis

(i) Every e-commerce operator, not being an agent shall collect TCS at a rate not exceeding 1 per cent on the net value of taxable supplies in which he collects consideration of the supply. “Net value of taxable supplies” shall mean the aggregate value of taxable supplies of goods or services or both, other than services notified under sub-section (5) of section 9, made during any month by all registered persons through the operator reduced by the aggregate value of taxable supplies returned to the suppliers during the said month.

If there is return of supplies to suppliers, then the same shall be reduced from the gross value; TCS shall be worked on such net figure only (after such reduction).

It is pertinent to note the following definitions –

Section 2 (44), –

“electronic commerce” means the supply of goods or services or both, including digital products over digital or electronic network;

Section 2 (45), –

“electronic commerce operator” means any person who owns, operates or manages digital or electronic facility or platform for electronic commerce;

From the above definitions, it can be inferred that TCS refers to the tax collected by e-commerce operator when the supplier supplies taxable goods or services or both through its portal and payment for that supply is collected by the e-commerce operator.

In view of above, Mr. X, a supplier selling his own products through website hosted by him will not be liable to collect tax. Even, where Mr. Y a supplier who purchases goods from different vendors and sells them through his website under his own billing, TCS is applicable.

- (ii) The power to collect tax by e-commerce operator shall be without prejudice to any other mode of recovery.
- (iii) The amount so collected shall be paid to the Central/State Government respectively within 10 days after the end of the month in which such collection is made.
- (iv) Statements to be submitted by E-Commerce operator: E-commerce operator shall furnish a monthly statement containing details of outward supplies of goods or services or both made through it, including the supplies returned through it and the amount collected by it in section 52(1), in Form GSTR-8 within the 10 days after end of the month in which supplies are made.

The details of TCS furnished by an e-commerce operator under section 52 in Form GSTR-8 shall be made available to the supplier in Part C of Form GSTR-2A electronically through the common portal

Section 52 (5) of CGST Act requires filing of annual statement by e-commerce operator on or before 31st December following the year end (31st March of relevant year).

The Commissioner is empowered to extend the due date of furnishing the monthly and annual statement by the person collecting tax, with reason to be recorded in writing. Any such extension of time limit notified by the Commissioner of State tax or the Commissioner of Union Territory tax shall be deemed to be notified by the Commissioner.

- (v) The amount of tax collected is reflected in electronic cash ledger of the supplier since the related monthly return is filed by e-commerce operator.
- (vi) Any mismatch between the data submitted by the e-commerce operator in his monthly returns and that of suppliers making supplies through him, shall cause due 'mismatch enquiry' from the proper officer and either party may rectify the erroneous data. If rectification is not carried out by the supplier, his offence gets confirmed. Short remittance, if any, identified thus will have to be paid by the erring supplier (who under reported the turnover) with interest calculated as per section 50.

The law explicitly states that if the e-commerce operator after furnishing an annual statement discovers any omission or incorrect particulars therein, other than as a result of scrutiny, audit, inspection or enforcement activity by the tax authorities, he shall rectify such omission or incorrect particulars in the statement to be furnished for the month during which such omission or incorrect particulars are noticed, subject to payment of interest under section 50(1).

- (vii) Any authority, of the rank of Deputy Commissioner or above can issue a notice – during, or before a proceeding under this Act - to the e-commerce operator seeking information on –
- A. supplies of goods or services or both effected through such operator during any period; or
- B. stock of goods held by the suppliers making supplies through such operator in the godowns or warehouses, by whatever name called, managed by such operator and declared as additional places of business by such suppliers, as may be specified in the notice.

This shall be a notice which needs to be responded within 15 days from the date of receipt by the e-commerce operator and any failure to submit the required details will attract penalty under section 52 (14) of the Act which may extend to ₹ 25,000.

- (viii) Penalty shall be levied as under
- A. In case the e-commerce operator -
- fails to collect to tax under section 52(1) or
 - collects an amount which is less than the amount required to be collected under section 52(1) or
 - fails to pay to the government the amount collected as tax under section 52(3) then pursuant to section 122 (1)(vi) of the CGST Act, such e-commerce operator shall be liable to pay a penalty of ₹ 10,000 or an amount equivalent to the tax not collected or short collected or collected but not paid to the Government whichever is higher.

- B. In terms of section 52(13), where notice served under section 52(12) by an authority not below the rank of Deputy Commissioner is not responded within 15 days from the date of receipt by the e-commerce operator, penalty under Section 52 (14) of the Act will be attracted which may extend to ₹. 25,000.
- (ix) The UTGST Act, 2017, subject to its own provisions, adopts the provisions of CGST Act in respect of tax collection at source mutatis mutandis (Ref: Section 21 of UTGST Act).
The IGST Act 2017, subject to its own provisions, adopts the provisions of the CGST Act in respect of tax deduction at source mutatis mutandis (Ref: Section 20 of IGST Act).

53.2 Analysis

Under section 49 (5) (b) (c) and (d) of the Act, CGST / SGST / UTGST credits can be utilised by a tax payer on priority basis to respective CGST / SGST / UTGST dues first. Then, in case of CGST/SGST/UTGST, balance, if any, can be used to pay IGST.

As per section 53, if the amount of CGST is utilized for payment of IGST, there shall be reduction in CGST, equal to the credit so utilized and the Central Government shall transfer such amount to IGST account.

Such treatment shall be ensured by the Central Government for UTGST and SGST also in respective cases.

For better clarity, it may be noted that equivalent provision is there in section 18 of Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act 2017. Accordingly, if the amount of IGST is utilized towards CGST / UTGST liability, there shall be reduction in the amount of IGST equal to the credit so utilised and the Central Government shall transfer such amount to IGST account.

If the amount of IGST is utilized towards SGST liability, there shall be reduction in the amount of IGST equal to the credit so utilised and such amount will be apportioned to the appropriate State Government and the Central Government shall transfer the amount so apportioned to the account of the respective State Government.

The above section provides the following transfers in the electronic cash ledger by using Form GST PMT – 09:

- from one minor head to another minor head under the same major head.
- from one minor head to another minor head under the different major heads.

This enables a registered taxpayer to transfer any amount of tax, interest, penalty, etc. that is available in the e-cash ledger, to the appropriate minor head under IGST, CGST and SGST in the e-cash ledger. Hence, if a taxpayer has wrongly paid CGST instead of SGST, he can now rectify the same using Form GST PMT- 09 by reallocating the amount from the CGST head to the SGST. This facility has provided the registered persons to file the returns without paying the additional taxes in case of wrong payment or excess balance paid earlier. Further, this is an alternative to filing a refund of excess cash balance in e-credit ledger.

54.1 Introduction

Section 54 deals with the legal and procedural aspects of claiming refund by any person in respect of

- any tax (paid in excess);
- interest paid on such tax; or
- any other amount paid (which was not required to be paid);
- tax paid on export of goods or services or both
- tax paid on the deemed exports as notified in N.N. 48/2017 C.T. dated 18.10.2017;
- unutilized input tax credit at the end of tax period in cases of:
 - zero rated supplies as defined in sec. 16 (1) of the IGST Act, 2017, other than when
 - goods are subjected to export duty.
 - the supplier avails drawback of central tax or claims refund of integrated tax paid on such supplies. [After the introduction of the Customs and Central Excise Duties Drawback Rules, 2017 this condition has become invalid]
 - tax of inputs being higher than the rate of tax on output supplies, other than NIL rated or fully exempted.
- Supply which is not provided either wholly or partially and for which invoice has not been issued or refund voucher has been issued.
- Any other amount paid on intra-State supply which is subsequently held to be inter-State supply and vice versa.
- Refund to Casual Taxable Person/ Non Resident Taxable Person (subject to furnishing all returns for the period of continuity of registration)

This section provides for conditions and procedures for claiming refund without specifying all the circumstances in which the refund will be eligible to an applicant. Some Other circumstances where refund may be granted but are not covered by section 54 may be as follows:

- (a) Refund of duty/tax under existing law
- (b) Refund in case of International Tourist
- (c) Refund of Provisionally paid tax
- (d) Refund of Compensation Cess
- (e) Refund on account of Excess or Erroneous Deduction
- (f) Refund on Inward Supplies to Canteen Stores Department
- (g) Refund to Inward Supplies to UN and agencies
- (h) Refund of Interest against restoration of ITC
- (i) Refund of Interest against restoration of reduction in output tax liability
- (j) Refund due to order of Appellate Authority/Court
- (k) Refund of Central share in CGST & IGST in hilly areas
- (l) Refund of tax under Seva Bhoj Yojna

Thus, it can be inferred that refund is possible only when

- (a) tax, interest or any other amount is paid in cash and
- (b) in respect of exports / SEZ supplies/inverted duty rate in the form of input tax.

54.2 Analysis

- (i) Refund is available in respect of (a) zero-rated supplies (b) inverted rate supplies and (c) other payments. It is important to note that granting refund requires strict adherence to the requirements of the refund provision. Refer table (discussed below) of various refund entitlements. Care must be taken to satisfy the requirements of 'export' and discussion under section 2(5) and 2(6) provides some additional information in this regard. Reference must also be made to the authority available in Mafatlal Industries Ltd. & Ors. V. UOI & Ors. 1997 (89) ELT 247 (SC) for the various principles that must be appreciated for claiming refund.
- (ii) This provision states that the application for refund shall be made before the expiry of two years from the relevant date. The definition of relevant date in different circumstances is discussed here. It is important to note that section 54 operates not only as the machinery provision for disbursement of refund arising under provisions such as section 55 of CGST Act, section 16 of IGST Act among others, section 54 is also a substantive provision vesting the Registered Person with the right to claim refund, for example, section 54(3). While it plays these roles, it also effectively bars any other avenue for claiming refund. This bar operates by not listing any residual provision for claiming refund. Conspicuous by its absence is the provision to claim refund of unutilized credit when registration is being cancelled and where there is still some credit remaining after satisfying the credit reversal requirements under section 29(5). A significant aspect to note is that there is no residual avenue to claim refund in 'any other cases' in section 54.

- (iii) In case of a taxable person claiming refund of any balance in the electronic cash ledger, reference of clarification in Circular No. 166/22/2021-GST dated 17.11.2021 has to be taken into cognizance where it has been clarified that the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 54 of the CGST Act regarding time period, within which an application for refund can be filed, would not be applicable in cases of refund of excess balance in the electronic cash ledger .
- (iv) The persons entitled to a refund of tax paid by it on inward supplies of goods or services or both include
- A specialized agency of the United Nations Organization or
 - Any Multilateral Financial Institution and Organization notified under the United Nations (Privileges and Immunities) Act, 1947,
 - Consulate or Embassy of foreign countries, or
 - any other person or class of persons as notified under section 55.

Such agencies may make an application for refund, in such specified form and manner as may be prescribed within six months from the end of the quarter in which such supply was received. (Vide Notification No. 20/2018 – Central Tax dated 28th March, 2018, the Government has extended the time limit from six months from the end of the quarter to eighteen months from the last date of the quarter in which such supply was received)

- (v) Refund of the unutilized input tax credit can be claimed at the end of any tax period in the following cases:

However, refund on zero rated supplies is also not eligible in the following cases:

- If the goods exported out of India are subject to export duty;
- If the supplier claims refund of output tax paid under IGST Act.

- (c) If the supplier avails duty drawback of IGST/CGST on such supplies.

The manner of calculation of refund amount in case of refund of unutilized ITC in cases of zero rated supplies and inverted duty rate is provided in Rule 89(4) and Rule 89(5) and the details are discussed in Para 54.6

Note : In terms of Circular No. 45/19/2018 dated 30.05.2018, it has been clarified that in case of a registered persons making zero-rated supply of aluminium products on payment of integrated tax but cannot utilize the credit of the compensation cess paid on coal for payment of integrated tax in view of the proviso to section 11(2) of the Cess Act, which allows the utilization of the input tax credit of cess for the payment of cess on the outward supplies only, then, they cannot claim refund of compensation cess in case of zero-rated supply on payment of integrated tax. However, refund of unutilized credit including compensation cess on coal can be claimed.

Note: Drawback during transition period from 01-07-2017 to 30-09-2017

In order to ensure smooth transition to the GST regime, the Government allowed the old Duty Drawback scheme to continue for a period of three months, i.e., from 1.7.2017 to 30.9.2017. The exporters could, for exports made during this period, continue to claim the composite rates subject to certain additional conditions. During the transition period, exporters could also claim Brand rate of duty/tax incidence as they had been doing earlier. The conditions imposed for claiming these composite rates are aimed to ensure that the exporters do not claim composite AIRs of duty drawback and simultaneously avail input tax credit of Central Goods and Services Tax (CGST) or Integrated Goods and Services Tax (IGST) on the export goods or on inputs and input services used in the manufacture of export goods or claim refund of IGST paid on export goods. Further, an exporter claiming composite rate shall also be barred from carrying forward Cenvat credit on the export goods or on inputs or input services used in the manufacture of export goods in terms of the CGST Act, 2017. The exporters were, however required to give a declaration and certificates at the time of export. Similar checks shall apply while determining the Brand rate of drawback. While a transition period of three months had been allowed, the exporters had an option to claim only the Customs portion of AIRs of duty drawback of the Schedule of AIRs of duty drawback and avail input tax credit of CGST or IGST or refund of IGST paid on exports. [Circular 22/2017-Customs dated 30-06-2017]

Note: Drawback allowed for certain duties/taxes

A supplier availing drawback only with respect to basic customs duty shall be eligible for refund of unutilized input tax credit of central tax/State tax/Union territory tax/integrated tax/compensation cess under the said provision. It is further clarified that refund of eligible credit on account of State tax shall be available even if the supplier of goods or services or both has availed drawback in respect of central tax. [Circular 37/11/2018 dated 15-03-2018 Para 2.1]

- (vi) After the introduction of the Customs and Central Excise Duties Drawback Rules, 2017 w.e.f. 01.10.2017, drawback was restricted to customs duty. Hence, the condition connected to drawback in section 54 (3) is not relevant in the current scenario. The application for refund should be accompanied by documents which clearly establish that refund is due to the applicant. These documents are prescribed by Rule 89(2), and details are discussed in Para 54.4

- (vii) In case of refund under section 54 (8) (e) of the CGST Act the applicant is required to furnish documents and other evidences to establish that the:
- (a) Amount of tax and interest, if any, paid on such tax or any other amount paid in relation to which such refund is claimed was collected from him or (e.g., Purchase Invoices, Electronic Credit ledger, Returns) OR
 - (b) Amount of tax and interest, if any, paid on such tax or any other amount paid in relation to which such refund is claimed was paid by him or (e.g., Sale Invoices, Electronic Cash Ledger, Challans for payment of tax, returns offsetting liability, etc.)

The applicant is also required to establish with the help of documentary and other evidence that the incidence of such tax and interest has not been passed on to any other person.

- (viii) Further to the above conditions, if the amount of refund claim is less than rupees 2 lakh, it shall not be necessary for the applicant to furnish any documentary and other evidences but a self-declaration based on documentary and other evidences available with the claimant, certifying that he has not passed on the incidence of such tax and interest would suffice to claim refund.

As per section 49(9), every person who has paid the tax on goods or services or both under this Act shall, unless the contrary is proved by him, be deemed to have passed on the full incidence of such tax to the recipient of such goods or services or both.

As per Explanation (ii) to Rule 89(2), where the amount of tax has been recovered from the recipient, it shall be deemed that the incidence of tax has been passed on to the ultimate consumer.

- (ix) The refund relating to an application, if found complete in all respects, will be sanctioned within sixty days from the date of receipt of application.
- (x) The refund will be sanctioned to the claimant, in the following cases:
- refund of tax paid on export of goods or services or both;
 - refund of unutilized input tax credit on inputs or input services used in making exports;
 - refund of unutilized input tax credit on inputs accumulated on account of inverted duty structure;

- the tax / interest / other amounts paid by the applicant, if he had not passed on the incidence of tax to any other person; or
- refund of tax paid on a supply which is not provided, either wholly or partially, and for which invoice has not been issued or where a refund voucher has been issued
- refund of tax in pursuance of section 77 which means a registered person who has paid CGST and SGST/UTGST on a transaction considered by him as INTRA-STATE supply but held to be INTER-STATE supply;
- the tax or interest borne by notified class of applicants (done by Central/State Government on the recommendation of the council);

The above categories of refunds shall be paid to the applicant and shall not go to the consumer welfare fund, irrespective of the fact that there is a contrary order in:

- (a) Judgment , Decree, Order or direction of Appellate Tribunal or any Court
- (b) Provision in the CGST Act
- (c) Rule made under CGST Act
- (d) Law for the time being in force

Barring the above cases, the refund amount shall be credited to the consumer welfare fund and refund shall not be granted to the applicant. Hence it is important for the applicant to establish that his refund application falls under any of the above categories.

- (xi) If refund is claimed on account of zero rated supply of goods and/or services, the proper officer may refund, on provisional basis, ninety percent of the total amount claimed (excluding input tax credit not yet finalized). This refund will be subject to conditions, limitations and safeguards. The remaining 10% may be refunded after due verification of documents furnished by the applicant.

Note: As per Rule 91, provisional refund shall be granted subject to the condition that the person claiming refund has, during any period of five years immediately preceding the tax period to which the claim for refund relates, not been prosecuted for any offence under the Act or under an erstwhile law where the amount of tax evaded exceeds two hundred and fifty lakh rupees.

As per Para 46 of Circular 125/44/2019 dated 18-11-2019, the facility of export under LUT is available to all exporters in terms of Notification No. 37/2017- Central Tax dated 4th October, 2017, except to those who have been prosecuted for any offence under the CGST Act or the IGST Act or any of the existing laws in force in a case where the amount of tax evaded exceeds two hundred and fifty lakh rupees. Para 2(d) of the Circular No. 8/8/2017-GST dated 4th October, 2017, mentions that a person intending to export under LUT is required to give a self-declaration at the time of submission of LUT that he has not been prosecuted. Persons who are not eligible to export under LUT are required to export under bond. It is clarified that this requirement is already satisfied in case of exports under LUT and asking for self-declaration with every refund claim where the exports have been made under LUT is not warranted.

Further, as per Circular 40/14/2018-GST dated 06-04-2018, the amendments in Circular No. 8/8/2017-GST made it clear that application for LUT shall be done on the common portal, and it shall be deemed to be accepted as soon as an acknowledgement for the same, bearing the Application reference number (ARN), is generated online.

Note: The proper officer, after scrutiny of the claim and the evidence submitted in support thereof and on being prima facie satisfied that the amount claimed as refund is due to the applicant then he shall make an order in FORM GST RFD-04, sanctioning the amount of refund due to the said applicant on a provisional basis within a period not exceeding seven days from the date of the acknowledgement under sub-rule (1) or sub-rule (2) of rule 90 (refer para 54.10) i.e. RFD-02.

Note: The proper officer shall also issue a payment advice in FORM GST RFD-05 for the amount sanctioned and the same shall be electronically credited to any bank account of the applicant mentioned in his registration particulars and as specified in the application for refund.

Note: As per Circular 125/44/2019-GST dated 18.11.2019, it has been decided by the competent authority to sanction refund of provisionally accepted input tax credit at this juncture. However, the registered persons applying for refund must give an undertaking to the effect that the amount of refund sanctioned would be paid back to the Government with interest in case it is found subsequently that the requirements of clause (c) of sub-section (2) of section 16 read with sub-section (2) of sections 42 of the CGST Act have not been complied with in respect of the amount refunded. This undertaking should be submitted manually along with the refund claim till the same is available in FORM RFD-01 on the common portal.

- (xii) In case of claim of refund of accumulated unutilized input tax credit for zero rated supply or inverted duty rate, the refund due will be either withheld or deducted in cases where –
- A person defaults in furnishing any return;
 - A person is required to pay any tax, interest or penalty ordered, which is not stayed by Court or Appellate Authority within the last date for filing an appeal under this Act.
- (xiii) The deduction from refund due may be tax, interest, penalty, fee or any other amount which remains unpaid under
- (a) GST Act or
 - (b) The erstwhile law.
- (xiv) In cases where the refund is a consequence of an order and such order is in –
- appeal; or

- further proceeding; or
- Where any other proceeding under this Act is pending

And the Commissioner is of the opinion that grant of refund would affect the revenue adversely in the appeal or proceeding on account of malfeasance or fraud committed, the Commissioner may withhold the refund till such time as it may be determined. This can be done only after affording the taxable person an opportunity of being heard.[S. 54(11)]

The Government vide Notification No. 13/2017- Central Tax dated 28-06-2017 has prescribed, on the recommendation of the Council, 6% as the rate of interest for a refund withheld under sub-section (11) of section 54.

Procedure to Claim Refund in FORM GST RFD-01 subsequent to favourable order in Appeal or Any Other Forum – (Circular No. 111/30/2019 – GST dated 3rd October, 2019)

The Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC) has issued clarifications on the procedure to be followed by a registered person for claiming refund subsequent to a favourable order in appeal or any other forum against the rejection of a refund claim in FORM GST RFD-06.

In this Circular, the CBIC has clarified that “Appeals against the rejection of refund claims are being disposed of offline as the electronic module for the same is yet to be made operational. As per rule 93 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Rules, 2017, where an appeal is filed against the rejection of a refund claim, re-crediting of the amount debited from the electronic credit ledger, if any, is not done till the appeal is finally rejected. Therefore, such rejected amount remains debited in respect of the particular refund claim filed in FORM GST RFD-01.

“In case a favourable order is received by a registered person in appeal or in any other forum in respect of a refund claim rejected through issuance of an order in FORM GST RFD-06, the registered person would file a fresh refund application under the category “Refund on account of assessment/provisional assessment/appeal/any other order” claiming refund of the amount allowed in appeal or any other forum. Since the amount debited, if any, at the time of filing of the refund application was not re-credited, the registered person shall not be required to debit the said amount again from his electronic credit ledger at the time of filing of a fresh refund application under the category “Refund on account of assessment/provisional assessment/appeal/any other order”. The registered person shall be required to give the following details:

- (a) Type of the Order (appeal/any other order),
- (b) Order No., Order date and
- (c) The Order Issuing Authority.
- (d) Copy of the order of Appellate or other Authority.

- (e) Copy of the refund rejection order in form GST RFD-06 issued earlier against which appeal was preferred.

The proper officer would sanction the amount of refund as allowed in appeal or in subsequent forum which was originally rejected and shall make an order in FORM GST RFD 06 and issue payment order in FORM GST RFD 05 accordingly. The proper officer disposing of the application for refund under the category "Refund on account of assessment/provisional assessment/appeal/ any other order" shall also ensure re-credit of any amount which remains rejected in the order of the Appellate (or any other Authority).

- (xv) The amount of advance tax deposited by a casual taxable person or a non-resident taxable person at the time of taking registration would be refunded only after furnishing all the returns required under section 39, of the entire period for which the certificate of registration granted to him had remained in force.

Note: As per Rule 89, refund of any amount, after adjusting the tax payable by the casual taxable person or non-resident taxable person out of the advance tax deposited by him at the time of registration, shall be claimed in the last return required to be furnished by him.

- (xvi) No refund shall be granted or paid to an applicant or the consumer welfare fund, whether it is final refund or provisional refund (provisional refund is granted in cases of refund of unutilized ITC against zero rated supplies) if the amount is less than rupees one thousand. As per Para 60 of Circular 125/44/2019-GST dated 18.11.2019, limit of rupees one thousand shall be applied for each tax head separately and not cumulatively. The limit would not apply in cases of refund of excess balance in the electronic cash ledger [clarified vide. Circular No 166/22/2021-GST dated 17.11.2021]. Officers have been directed to reject claims of refund from the electronic credit ledger for less than one thousand rupees and re-credit such amount by issuing an FORM GST PMT 03.

- (xvii) The Government vide Notification No. 20/2018- Central Tax (Rate) dated 26-07-2018 has allowed for refund of accumulated input tax credit on account of inverted duty structure on fabric variants (10 categories of fabrics) which was earlier restricted and not available for such benefit. This allowance of refund becomes effective from August 1, 2018, with the condition that the balance of accumulated input tax credit lying unutilized up to the month of July 2018 shall lapse. Thus, refund of inverted duty structure is available for the 10 variants of fabrics from August 1, 2018 and hence the Input tax credit on procurements prior to this effective date is to be reversed as refund for such credit was not available. However, Gujarat HC has held that the 'lapse' of (vested) credits is NOT permissible in Shabnam Petrofils Pvt. Ltd. v. UoI SCA No.16213/2018 (Guj.).

The Government has clarified that the restriction is applicable only to input tax credit on goods, the said restriction does not apply to input tax credit on input services and capital goods.

Relevant date: The relevant date is crucial for determining the time within which the refund claim has to be filed. If the refund claim is made after the relevant date, the refund claim will be rejected and there is no provision in the Act to condone the delay in filing refund claim and accept delayed refund claims.

The relevant date is identified as follows:

- Refund of tax paid on goods exported or tax paid on inputs/input service
 - If exported by sea or air ->date when the ship or the aircraft leaves India; or
 - If exported by land ->date when such goods pass the Customs frontier; or
 - If exported by post ->date of dispatch of goods by concerned Post Office to a place outside India.
- Deemed exports supply of goods->the date on which the return relating to such deemed export is furnished.
- Refund of tax paid on such services exported itself or tax paid on inputs/input service
 - If the supply of service is completed prior to the receipt of payment->date of receipt of payment in convertible foreign exchange or in Indian rupees wherever permitted by the RBI;
 - If payment for the service received in advance prior to the date of issue of invoice -> date of issue of invoice.
- Refund of tax as a consequence of judgment, decree, order or direction of Appellate Authority, Appellate Tribunal or any Court -> date of communication of such judgement/decreed/order/ direction.
- Refund of unutilized input tax credit accumulated due to inverted duty rate—due date for furnishing return for the tax period in which such claim for refund arises;
- Provisionally paid tax - the date of adjustment of tax after the final assessment.
- In the case of a person, other than the supplier, the date of receipt of goods or services or both by such person; and
- In any other case, the date of payment of tax.

54.3 Manner and Timing of Refund

Rule 89(1) facilitates a taxable person to claim refund in the following manner under various circumstances

S.No.	Scenarios	Manner to claim refund
1	Refund of any tax, interest, penalty, fees or any other amount paid	File an application electronically in FORM GST RFD-01 through the common portal.
2	Refund relating to balance in the electronic cash ledger in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (6) of section 49	Such a refund may be made through the return furnished for the relevant tax period in FORM GSTR-3 or FORM GSTR-4 or FORM GSTR-6 or FORM GSTR-7

Note: In terms of Notification No. 55/2017 – Central Tax dated 15th November 2017, Rule 97A has been inserted in the Central Goods and Service Tax Rules, 2017 providing for manual filing of refund application and its processing. As per Rule 97A, any reference to electronic filing of an application, intimation, reply, declaration, statement or electronic issuance of a notice, order or certificate on the common portal shall, in respect of that process or procedure, include manual filing of the said application, intimation, reply, declaration, statement or issuance of the said notice, order or certificate in such Forms as appended to these rules.

In other words, the refunds may be filed manually and the processing of refund with respect to any notice, reply or order, among others, can also be issued / filed manually. (Not relevant in the present online Eco-System)

Note:

Frequency of filing refund application

In Para 2 of the Circular No. 135/05/2020-GST dated 31.03.2020, it has been clarified that the applicant, at his option, may file a refund claim for a tax period or by clubbing successive tax periods. The period for which refund claim has been filed, however, cannot spread across different financial years. Registered persons having aggregate turnover of up to ₹ 1.5 crore in the preceding financial year or the current financial year opting to file FORM GSTR-1 on a quarterly basis, can only apply for refund on a quarterly basis or by clubbing successive quarters. However, refund claims under categories listed at (a), (c) and (e) in para 3 above must be filed by the applicant chronologically. This means that an applicant, after submitting a refund application under any of these categories for a certain period, shall not be subsequently allowed to file a refund claim under the same category for any previous period. This principle / limitation, however, shall not apply in cases where a fresh application is being filed pursuant to a deficiency memo having been issued earlier.

In the case of a casual taxable person and non-resident taxable person, refund of any amount, after adjusting the tax payable by the applicant out of the advance tax deposited by him at the time of registration, shall be claimed in the last return required to be furnished by him. Hence, a casual taxable person or non-resident taxable person need not file monthly or quarterly refunds and has to file refund only in their last return.

As per Circular 37/2018 dated 15-03-2018, Para 11.2:

- (a) An exporter, at his option, may file refund claim for one calendar month / quarter or by clubbing successive calendar months / quarters
- (b) The calendar month(s) / quarter(s) for which refund claim is filed, however, cannot be spread across different financial years

However, w.r.t circular mentioned above, it has been decided to remove the restriction on clubbing of tax periods across Financial Years. Accordingly, Circular No. 125/44/2019-GST dated 18.11.2019 stands modified to that extent, i.e., the restriction on bunching of refund claims across financial years shall not apply. {vide Circular No.135/05/2020 – GST}

Refund to be claimed after filing of returns applicable to the claimant

As per Circular 24/2017 dated 21-12-17 [Para 2], refund claim for a tax period may be filed only after filing the details in FORM GSTR-1 for the said tax period. It is also to be ensured that a valid return in FORM GSTR-3B has been filed for the last tax period before the one in which the refund application is being filed.

However, In terms of Circular No. 125/44/2019-GST dated 18.11.2019, Para 6, it has been clarified that for an Input Service Distributor or a non-resident taxable person or a person paying tax under the provisions of section 10 or section 51 or section 52, the return as filed by them in terms of the rules applicable to them, i.e., FORM GSTR-4 for a composition taxpayer, FORM GSTR-6 for an ISD and FORM GSTR-5 for a non-resident taxable person shall be sufficient, instead of filing of the details in FORM GSTR 1 & FORM GSTR 3B.

Refund for supplies to SEZ to be filed after being endorsed for authorized operation

In respect of supply of goods to SEZ Unit/Developer, application for refund shall be filed after such goods have been admitted in full in SEZ for authorized operations. An endorsement by the specified officer of the SEZ is required as evidence of admission of goods in full for authorized operations. Refer www.sezindia.nic.in for the list of services pre-approved for being entered into authorized operations.

In respect of supply of services to SEZ Unit/Developer application for refund shall be filed after evidence regarding receipt of services for authorised operations has been endorsed by the specified officer of the SEZ.

Note:

The above discussion does not include:

- (a) The manner of filing refund application for the refund of IGST paid on zero rated supplies, which are discussed in Para 54.7
- (b) The manner of filing refund application by a person covered by section 55, which is discussed in Para 55.

Refund Application of IGST for supplies to SEZ to be filed only after matching of tax payment between GSTR 3B and GSTR-1

While filing the return in FORM GSTR-3B for a given tax period, certain registered persons committed errors in declaring the export of services on payment of integrated tax or zero rated supplies made to a Special Economic Zone developer or a Special Economic Zone unit on payment of integrated tax. They have shown such supplies in the Table under column 3.1(a) instead of showing them in column 3.1(b) of FORM GSTR-3B whilst they have shown the correct details in Table 6A or 6B of FORM GSTR-1 for the relevant tax period and duly discharged their tax liabilities. Such registered persons are unable to file the refund application in FORM GST RFD-01 for refund of integrated tax paid on the export of services or on supplies made to a SEZ developer or a SEZ unit on the GST common portal because of an in-built validation check in the system which restricts the refund amount claimed (integrated tax/cess) to the amount of integrated tax/cess mentioned under column 3.1(b) of FORM GSTR-3B (zero rated supplies) filed for the corresponding tax period. In this regard, it is clarified that for the tax periods commencing from 01.07.2017 to 31.03.2021, such registered persons shall be allowed to file the refund application in FORM GST RFD-01 on the common portal subject to the condition that the amount of refund of integrated tax/cess claimed shall not be more than the aggregate amount of integrated tax/cess mentioned in the Table under columns 3.1(a), 3.1(b) and 3.1(c) of FORM GSTR-3B filed for the corresponding tax period.] Para 3 of the Circular No. 125/44/2019 – GST dated 18.11.2019.

54.4 Documentary Evidence:

As per section 54(4)(a), application for refund should be accompanied by documentary evidence to establish that refund is due to the applicant. The documents in this regard are prescribed in Rule 89(2). As per Rule 89(2), the above application(s) shall be accompanied by following documentary evidences to establish that refund is due to the applicant:

S.No.	Scenarios	Documents
1	Refund of Pre-deposit as per sub-section (6) of section 107 and sub-section (8) of section 112 [Pre deposit is made for entertaining the appeal against the order]	Reference number of the order and a copy of the order passed by the proper officer or an Appellate Authority or Appellate Tribunal or Court resulting in such refund or OR Reference number of the payment of the pre-deposit amount.

Circular No. 166/22/2021-GST dt. 17th Nov, 2021

- Q. Whether certification/ declaration under Rule 89(2)(l) or 89(2)(m) of CGST Rules, 2017 is required to be furnished along with the application for refund of excess balance in electronic cash ledger?
- A. No, furnishing of certification/ declaration under Rule 89(2)(l) or 89(2)(m) of the CGST Rules, 2017 for not passing the incidence of tax to any other person is not required in cases of refund of excess balance in electronic cash ledger as unjust enrichment clause is not applicable in such cases.

54.5 Refund Amount to be debited to Electronic Credit Ledger

As per Rule 89(3), where the application relates to the refund of input tax credit, the electronic credit ledger shall be debited by the applicant by an amount equal to the refund so claimed. As per Circular 125/44/2019-GST dated 18.11.2019 [Guidelines for refunds of unutilized Input Tax Credit], the amount to be debited to the electronic credit ledger is the least of the following:

- (a) Amount calculated as per Rule 89(4) or 89(5)
- (b) The balance in the electronic credit ledger of the claimant at the end of the tax period for which the refund claim is being filed after the return for the said period has been filed; and
- (c) The balance in the electronic credit ledger of the claimant at the time of filing the refund application.

After calculating the least of the three amounts, as detailed above, the equivalent amount is to be debited from the electronic credit ledger of the claimant in the following order:

- (a) Integrated tax, to the extent of balance available;
- (b) Central tax and State tax/Union Territory tax, equally to the extent of balance available and in the event of a shortfall in the balance available in a particular electronic credit ledger (say, Central tax), the differential amount is to be debited from the other electronic credit ledger (i.e., State tax/Union Territory tax, in this case).

The procedure described above, however, is not presently available on the common portal. Till the time such facility is made available on the common portal, the taxpayers are advised to follow the order as explained above for all refund applications filed after the date of issue of this Circular. However, for applications already filed and pending with the tax authorities, where this order is not adhered to by the claimant, no adverse view may be taken by the tax authorities. The above system validations are being clarified so that there is no ambiguity in relation to the process through which an application in FORM GST RFD-01 is generated. Further, it may be noted that the refund application can be filed only after the electronic credit ledger has been debited in the manner specified above, and the ARN is generated on the common portal.

Computation of Refund of Unutilized ITC on Export

Rule 89(4) & Rule 89(5) of the CGST Act provide that:

- (a) In the case of zero-rated supply of goods or services or both without payment of tax under bond or letter of undertaking, refund of input tax credit shall be granted as per the following formula:

Refund Amount = (Turnover of zero-rated supply of goods + Turnover of zero-rated supply of services) x Net ITC ÷ Adjusted Total Turnover

(A) "Refund amount" means the maximum refund that is admissible

(B) "Net ITC" means input tax credit availed on inputs and input services during the relevant period other than the input tax credit availed for which refund is claimed under sub-rules (4A) or (4B) or both;

Note: ITC on capital goods shall not qualify as Net ITC

(C) "Turnover of zero-rated supply of goods" means the value of zero-rated supply of goods made during the relevant period without payment of tax under bond or letter of undertaking or the value which is 1.5 times the value of like goods domestically supplied by the same or, similarly placed, supplier, as declared by the supplier, whichever is less, other than the turnover of supplies in respect of which refund is claimed under sub-rules (4A) or (4B) or both;

(D) "Turnover of zero-rated supply of services" means the value of zero-rated supply of services made without payment of tax under bond or letter of undertaking, calculated in the following manner, namely:

Zero-rated supply of services is the aggregate of the payments received during the relevant period for zero-rated supply of services and zero-rated supply of services where supply has been completed for which payment had been received in advance in any period prior to the relevant period reduced by advances received for zero-rated supply of services for which the supply of services has not been completed during the relevant period;

(E) "Adjusted Total Turnover" means the sum total of the value of-
(a) the turnover in a State or a Union territory, as defined under clause (112) of section 2, excluding the turnover of services; and
(b) the turnover of zero-rated supply of services determined in terms of clause (D) above and non-zero-rated supply of services, excluding-
(i) the value of exempt supplies other than zero-rated supplies; and
(ii) the turnover of supplies in respect of which refund is claimed under sub-rule (4A) or sub-rule (4B) or both, if any,
during the relevant period
Note: Turnover of zero rated supply of services on which tax has been paid has been excluded from the definition of adjusted turnover by Notification 39/2018-Central Tax dated 04-09-2018. Zero rated supply of service without payment of tax and non-zero rated supply of service, however, shall form part of the adjusted turnover.
(F) "Relevant period" means the period for which the claim has been filed

Calculation of Adjusted Total Turnover: Clarification by Circular No. 147/2021 dated 12th March 2021

It has been clarified that for the purpose of Rule 89(4), the value of export/ zero-rated supply of goods to be included while calculating "adjusted total turnover" will be the same as being determined as per the amended definition of "Turnover of zero-rated supply of goods" in the said sub-rule. The same has been explained by the following illustration where actual value per unit of goods exported is more than 1.5 times the value of same/ similar goods in domestic market, as declared by the supplier:

Illustration: Suppose a supplier is manufacturing only one type of goods and is supplying the same goods in both domestic market and overseas. During the relevant period of refund, the details of his inward supply and outward supply details are shown in the table below:

Net admissible ITC = ₹ 270

All values in ₹.

Outward Supply	Value per unit	No of units supplied	Turnover	Turnover as per amended definition
Local (Quantity 5)	200	5	1000	1000
Export (Quantity 5)	350	5	1750	1500 (1.5*5*200)
Total			2750	2500

The formula for calculation of refund as per Rule 89(4) is:

$$\text{Refund Amount} = (\text{Turnover of zero-rated supply of goods} + \text{Turnover of zero-rated supply of services}) \times \text{Net ITC} \div \text{Adjusted Total Turnover}$$

Turnover of Zero-rated supply of goods (as per the amended definition) = ₹ 1500

Adjusted Total Turnover = ₹. 1000 + ₹ 1500 = ₹ 2500 [and not ₹ 1000 + ₹ 1750]

Net ITC = ₹ 270

$$\text{Refund Amount} = ₹ \frac{1500 \times 270}{2500} = ₹ 162$$

Thus, the admissible refund amount in the instant case is ₹ 162.

Computation of Refund in case of Inverted Duty Structure

(b) In the case of refund on account of inverted duty structure, refund shall be granted as per the following formula:

Maximum Refund Amount = {(Turnover of inverted rated supply of goods and services) x Net ITC ÷ Adjusted Total Turnover} - tax payable on such inverted rated supply of goods and services.

- (a) Net ITC shall mean input tax credit availed on inputs during the relevant period other than the input tax credit availed for which refund is claimed under sub-rules (4A) or (4B) or both; and
- (b) Adjusted Total turnover shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in sub-rule (4).

Note: In terms of Notification No. 21/2018 – Central Tax dated 18th April, 2018

- (i) Maximum refund amount to be computed after taking into consideration the ITC availed on inputs only. No refund shall be allowed on inputs services in case of refunds under inverted duty rate. Before amendment by Notification 21/2018, the definition of Net ITC as applicable under Rule 89(4) was applicable to inverted duty rated refunds, which included ITC on inputs as well as input services.
- (ii) Further, Refund shall be allowed on turnover of goods as well as services. Before amendment by Notification 21/2018, the formula provided for refund in respect of turnover of inverted duty rated goods only.

Notification No. 26/2018 dated 13-06-2018, further reiterated the above amendments in formula for inverted duty rated refunds and also made it applicable retrospectively w.e.f. 01-07-2017.

Note: Notification No. 5/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated 28.06.2017 (as modified by NN 29/2017-Central Tax(Rate) dated 22-09-2017 and 44/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated 14-11-2017) specifies the goods in respect of which refund of unutilized input tax credit (ITC) on account of inverted duty structure under section 54(3) of the CGST Act shall not be allowed where the credit has accumulated on account of rate of tax on inputs being higher than the rate of tax on output supplies of such goods. It includes fabric items and items related to railways. However, in case of fabric processors (Job worker), the output supply is the supply of job work services and not of goods (fabrics). Hence, Circular No. 48/22/2018 clarifies that the fabric processors (Job Worker) shall be eligible for refund of unutilized ITC on account of inverted duty structure under section 54(3) of the CGST Act even if the goods (fabrics) supplied to them are covered under Notification No. 5/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated 28.06.2017.

Note: Notification 20/2018-Central Tax (Rate) dated 26-07-2018, has further amended notification 5/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated 28-06-2017 to provide that nothing contained in this notification shall apply to the input tax credit accumulated on supplies received on or after the 1st day of August, 2018, in respect of fabrics. The notification further provides that the accumulated input tax credit lying unutilized in balance, after payment of tax for and up to the month of July 2018, on the inward supplies received up to the 31st day of July 2018, shall lapse. Circular 56/30/2018 dated 24-08-2018 has been issued to clarify doubts relating to the lapse of input tax credit accumulated on account of inverted duty structure on fabrics for the period up to 31-07-2018. As per the circular for calculation of input tax credit to lapse on 31-07-2018, the amount calculated for 01-07-2017 to 31-07-2018, as per formula provided in Rule 89(5) shall lapse subject to modifications that ITC in respect of inputs in stock on 31-07-2018 shall be excluded from calculation of net ITC. Calculation of value of inputs shall be made as per the format provided in Table 7 of ITC-01. ITC on input services and capital goods shall also not lapse. The amount of credit to lapse shall also not impact the amount of credit refundable of zero rated supplies under Rule 89(4). The amount of credit to lapse shall be provided in column 4B(2) of GSTR-3B return for August 2018. Verification of the amount that will lapse shall be done at the time of filing the first refund on account of inverted duty rated refund on fabric. A detailed calculation sheet shall be prepared by the taxable person and furnished at the time of filing of first refund claim on account of inverted duty structure.

Note: Notification 15/2017-CT dated 28-6-17 has specified that the construction of complex, building, civil structure service where the entire consideration has not been received after issuance of completion certificate as service, refund will not be allowed under inverted duty rate.

- (c) In the case of zero-rated supply of goods or services or both on payment of IGST, refund of the entire amount of IGST shall be available (refer para 54.7)
- (d) In the case of supplies received on which the supplier has availed the benefit of Notification No. 48/2017-Central Tax dated the 18th October, 2017 (deemed exports), refund of input tax credit, availed in respect of other inputs or input services used in making zero-rated supply of goods or services or both, shall be granted (Rule 89(4A))

- (e) In the case of supplies received on which the supplier of the person claiming refund of unutilized ITC on account of zero rated supplies without payment of tax has availed the benefit of Notification No. 40/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated the 23rd October, 2017 (concessional rate of tax at 0.05% on intra-State supply of taxable goods by a registered supplier to a registered recipient for export) or Notification No. 41/2017 Integrated Tax (Rate) dated the 23rd October, 2017 (concessional rate of tax at 0.1% on inter-State supply of taxable goods by a registered supplier to a registered recipient for export) OR a person claiming refund of unutilised input tax credit on account of zero rated supplies without payment of tax himself has availed the benefit of Notification No. 78/2017-Customs dated the 13th October, 2017 (goods imported by EOUs) or Notification No. 79/2017-Customs dated the 13th October, 2017 (import of goods under Advanced authorization/EPCG schemes) , refund of input tax credit, availed in respect of inputs received under the said notifications for export of goods and the input tax credit availed in respect of other inputs or input services to the extent used in making such export of goods, shall be granted (Rule 89(4B))

54.7 Rule 96 provides for Refund of integrated tax paid on goods or services exported out of India

It is interesting to note that although Rule 96 reads “Refund of integrated tax paid on goods or services exported out of India”, refund of integrated tax paid on the services exported out of India shall be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of rule 89 and the application for refund shall be filed in FORM GST RFD-01. [Rule 96(9)]

Shipping Bill Deemed to be application

The shipping bill filed by an exporter of goods shall be deemed to be an application for refund of integrated tax paid on the goods exported out of India.

When refund application shall be deemed to have been filed

Such application shall be deemed to have been filed only when

- the person in charge of the conveyance carrying the export goods duly files an export manifest or an export report covering the number and the date of shipping bills or bills of export; and
- the applicant has furnished a valid return in FORM GSTR-3 or FORM GSTR- 3B, as the case may be;

Note: Filing of export manifest is a must for treating shipping bill or bill of export as refund claim. Export report is filed in case of export by land and Export manifest is filed in case of export by air or sea. Export manifest is required to be filed u/s 41 and 42 of the Customs Act before departure of conveyance carrying goods. Commissioners have to ensure that export report/EGM is filed within the prescribed time limits [Instruction No. 15/2017-Customs dated 09-10-17]

Transmission of export data to Customs designated portal

The details of the relevant export invoices in respect of export of goods contained in FORM GSTR-1 shall be transmitted electronically by the common portal to the system designated by the Customs and the said system shall electronically transmit to the common portal, a confirmation that the goods covered by the said invoices have been exported out of India. Details of export invoices are available at the ICEGATE portal.

Provided that where the date for furnishing the details of outward supplies in FORM GSTR-1 for a tax period has been extended, then in exercise of the powers conferred under section 37 of the Act, the supplier shall furnish the details of information relating to exports as specified in Table 6A of FORM GSTR-1 after the return in FORM GSTR-3B has been furnished and the same shall be transmitted electronically by the common portal to the system designated by the Customs:

Note that the Table 6A has to be furnished only after filing of Form GSTR-3B under the respective tax period.

Cautions to ensure transmission of Data to Customs designated PortalData Matching

To ensure that the GST System transmits the export invoice data in case of export of goods with payment of IGST to ICEGATE for refund, Exporters need to provide complete and correct data while filing Table 6A of GSTR-1 as under:

- Invoice No. and Date (Tax invoice and not commercial invoice).
- Select from drop down list (WPAY- with payment of tax/WOPAY-without payment of tax).
- Shipping Bill No. and Date.
- While using offline tool for GSTR 1, the date format is dd-mm-yyyy, e.g., 15th July, 2017 will be written as 15-Jul-2017 and not like 15/07/2017.
- Six Digit Port Code should be mentioned correctly.
- Invoice Value: It is the total value of export goods covered by the invoice including tax and other charges, if any.
- Taxable Value: It is the value of goods, on which tax is paid. (Value net of tax).
- Tax Paid IGST, only in cases where the export is done on payment of IGST.

Value Differences

Where the value declared in the tax invoice is different from the export value declared in the corresponding shipping bill under the Customs Act, refund claims are not being processed. The value recorded in the GST invoice should normally be the transaction value as determined under section 15 of the CGST Act read with the rules made thereunder. The same transaction value should normally be recorded in the corresponding shipping bill / bill of export. During the processing of the refund claim, the value of the goods declared in the GST invoice and the value in the corresponding shipping bill / bill of export should be examined and the lower of the two values should be sanctioned as refund. [Para 9, 9.1 of Circular 37/11/2018 dated 15-03-2018]

IGST Paid Differences GSTR-1 and 3B

It is one of validation check by GSTN that aggregate IGST paid amount claimed in Table 6A of GSTR-1 is not higher than the IGST paid amount indicated in Table under column 3.1(b) of GSTR-3B of the corresponding month. To ensure that the GST System transmits the export invoice data, in case of export of goods with payment of IGST to ICEGATE for refund, Exporters should make payment of Tax and File Return as under:

- i) File Form GSTR-3B of the corresponding period.
- ii) In case of export of goods, the IGST amount paid should be shown in Table 3.1(b) of GSTR-3B and amount must be equal to or greater than the total IGST amount shown in Table 6A, and Table 6B, of GSTR-1 for the corresponding tax period.

As the return in FORM GSTR-3B does not contain provisions for reporting of differential figures for past month(s), the said figures may be reported on net basis along with the values for the current month itself in appropriate tables, i.e., Table No. 3.1, 3.2, 4 and 5, as the case may be. It may be noted that while making adjustment in the output tax liability or input tax credit, there can be no negative entries in the FORM GSTR-3B. The amount remaining for adjustment, if any, may be adjusted in the return(s) in FORM GSTR3B of subsequent month(s) and, in cases where such adjustment is not feasible, refund may be claimed. Where adjustments have been made in FORM GSTR-3B of multiple months, corresponding adjustments in FORM GSTR-1 should also preferably be made in the corresponding months. [Para 4 of Circular 26/26/2017 dated 29-12-17]

Auto Drafting of GSTR-1

As and when the Form auto-drafted in FORM GSTR-1 or is furnished for the said tax period, then details of exports will be auto-drafted from the Table 6A referred above. The procedure is as follows:

- (a) File GSTR-3B for a Tax Period
- (b) Fill Table 6A of Form GSTR-1 available on the Common Portal. Refund will be processed based on this Table 6A
- (c) As and when Form GSTR-1 is filed, the data relating to exports will be auto-populated from Table 6A

Processing of IGST Refund Claim

Upon the receipt of information regarding the furnishing of a valid return in FORM GSTR-3 or FORM GSTR-3B, as the case may be, from the common portal, the system designated by the Customs or the proper officer of Customs, as the case may be, shall process the claim of refund in respect of export of goods and an amount equal to the integrated tax paid in respect of each shipping bill or bill of export shall be electronically credited to the bank account of the applicant mentioned in his registration particulars and as intimated to the Customs authorities.

As per Instruction No.15/2017-Customs dated 9-10-17, the amount of refund of IGST paid on export of goods shall be credited to the account of exporter registered with Customs even if it is different from the bank account mentioned in the registration particulars.

Withholding of Refund of integrated tax paid on exports

- The claim for refund shall be withheld where

54.8 Rule 96A provides for Refund of integrated tax paid on export of goods or services under bond or Letter of Undertaking

- Any registered person availing the option to supply goods and/or services for export without payment of integrated tax shall furnish, prior to export, a bond or a Letter of Undertaking in FORM GST RFD-11 to the jurisdictional Commissioner (vide Circular no 2/2/2017-GST the power has been delegated to Deputy/Assistant Commissioner).

Conditions of LUT

- The registered person shall bind himself to pay the tax due along with the interest specified under sub-section (1) of section 50 (18%) within a period of
 - (a) fifteen days after the expiry of three months, or such further period as may be allowed by the Commissioner, from the date of issue of the invoice for export, if the goods are not exported out of India; or
 - (b) fifteen days after the expiry of one year, or such further period as may be allowed by the Commissioner, from the date of issue of the invoice for export, if the payment of such services is not received by the exporter in convertible foreign exchange

The Government has clarified and emphasized that exports have been zero rated under the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (IGST Act) and as long as goods have actually been exported even after a period of three months, payment of integrated tax first and claiming refund at a subsequent date should not be insisted upon. In such cases, the jurisdictional Commissioner may consider granting extension of time limit for export as provided in the said sub-rule on post facto basis, keeping in view the facts and circumstances of each case. The same principle should be followed in case of export of services. (Circular No. 37/11/2018-GST dated 15th March, 2018)

- If the goods are not exported within the time specified above and the registered person fails to pay the IGST amount, the export as allowed under bond or Letter of Undertaking shall be withdrawn forthwith and the said amount shall be recovered from the registered person in accordance with the provisions of section 79.
- The export as allowed under bond or Letter of Undertaking withdrawn shall be restored immediately after the registered person pays the amount due.

The provisions of sub rule (1) shall apply, mutatis mutandis, in respect of zero-rated supply of goods or services or both to a Special Economic Zone developer or a Special Economic Zone unit without payment of integrated tax.

LUT/Bond not required for exempt supplies

- In terms of Circular No. 45/19/2018 dated 30.05.2018, it has been clarified that in respect of refund claims on account of export of non-GST and exempted goods without payment of integrated tax, LUT/bond is not required. A registered person exporting non-GST goods shall comply with the requirements prescribed under the erstwhile law (i.e. Central Excise Act, 1944 or the VAT law of the respective State) or under the Customs Act, 1962, if any. Further, the exporter would be eligible for refund of unutilized input tax credit of central tax, state tax, union territory tax, integrated tax and compensation cess in such cases.

Note: The Government vide Notification No. 16/2017 – Central Tax dated 07.07.2017 has specified the following conditions for a registered person to be eligible for submission of Letter of Undertaking in place of a bond.

However, the disqualification in respect of point 2 above will cease on payment of tax along with interest.

A self-declaration by the exporter that he has not been prosecuted is sufficient for the purposes of Notification No. 37/2017- Central Tax dated 4th October, 2017. The Department may verify the claim after acceptance of the LUT, unless the Department has any specific information otherwise, regarding the prosecution. (Circular No. 8/8/2017-GST dated 04.10.2017)

Bond

A registered person who is not eligible to furnish LUT for reasons discussed above shall execute a Bond. It shall be accompanied by a Bank Guarantee for 15% of the Bond amount. Bond shall be furnished on non-judicial stamp paper of the value as applicable in the state in which the bond is being furnished. The exporters shall furnish a running bond where the bond amount would cover the amount of self-assessed estimated tax liability on the export. The exporter shall ensure that the outstanding integrated tax liability on exports falls within the bond amount. In case the bond amount is insufficient to cover the said liability in yet to be completed exports, the exporter shall furnish a fresh bond to cover such liability. The onus of maintaining the debit / credit entries of integrated tax in the running bond will lie with the exporter. The record of such entries shall be furnished to the Central tax officer as and when required.

(Circular No. 8/8/2017-GST dated 04.10.2017).

The LUT facility is also extended to Supplies made to SEZ.

If it is discovered that an exporter whose LUT has been so accepted, was ineligible to furnish the LUT in place of bond as per Notification No. 37/2017-Central Tax, then the exporter's LUT will be liable for rejection. In case of rejection, the LUT shall be deemed to have been rejected ab initio. No document needs to be physically submitted to the jurisdictional office for acceptance of the LUT. (Circular No. 40/14/2018-GST dated 06.04.2018)

Jurisdictional officer for acceptance of LUT

The LUT/Bond shall be accepted by the jurisdictional Deputy/Assistant Commissioner having jurisdiction over the principal place of business of the exporter. The exporter is at liberty to furnish the LUT/bond before either the Central Tax Authority or the State Tax Authority till the administrative mechanism for assigning of taxpayers to the respective authority is implemented.

LUT for supplies to Nepal and Bhutan

Acceptance of the LUT for supplies of goods to Nepal or Bhutan or SEZ developer or SEZ unit will be permissible irrespective of whether the payments are made in Indian currency or convertible foreign exchange as long as they are in accordance with the applicable RBI guidelines. It may also be noted that the supply of services to SEZ developer or SEZ unit under the LUT will also be permissible on the same lines. The supply of services, however, to Nepal or Bhutan will be deemed to be export of services only if the payment for such services is received by the supplier in convertible foreign exchange. [Circular 8/8/2017 dated 4-10-17]. Supply of services having a place of supply in Nepal or Bhutan against payment in Indian rupees is exempt under Notification No. 9/2017-IGST inserted vide Notification No. 42/2017-Integrated Tax (Rate), dated 27-10-2017.

54.9 Refund in case of Deemed Exports

Deemed Exports are defined as "Supplies" as may be notified under Section 147 of the CGST Act.

The Central Government vide Notification No. 48/2017 – Central Tax dated 18.10.2017 has notified the following items as "Deemed Exports"

- Supply of goods by a registered person against Advance Authorisation
- Supply of capital goods by a registered person against Export Promotion Capital Goods Authorisation (EPCG)
- Supply of goods by a registered person to an Export Oriented Unit (EOU) and includes:
 - ✓ Electronic Hardware Technology Park Unit (EHTP) or
 - ✓ Software Technology Park Unit (STP) or
 - ✓ Bio-Technology Park Unit (BTP).
- Supply of gold by a bank or Public Sector Undertaking specified in the Notification No. 50/2017-Customs, dated the 30.06.2017 (as amended) against Advance Authorisation.

Analysis

The FTP (2015-2020) in terms of Para 7.02 has provided a list of Supplies which are Deemed Exports under FTP.

However, only the aforesaid four supplies have been covered under Deemed Export under GST. Therefore, other Deemed Export under FTP but not specified in Notification No. 48/2017 – Central Tax dated 18.10.2017 shall not be classified as Deemed Exports. The recipient of deemed exports will be eligible to take Input Tax Credit of the tax paid by the supplier subject to restrictions / blocking of credits under Sections 16, 17 of the CGST Act and rules thereunder.

It is to be noted that only supply of goods and not supply of services can be classified as Deemed Exports.

Person claiming refund

The Application of refund may be filed by the Recipient of the Goods.

However, the Supplier may also file the refund application if

- a) The recipient does not avail the ITC and
- b) The supplier furnishes a declaration from the recipient that he has not availed Input Tax Credit on such deemed exports.

Recipient of deemed export supply claiming refund – Availment of Input Tax Credit Circular No. 125/2019 modified by Circular No. 147/2021 dated 12th March, 2021

When a refund application is filed by a recipient of deemed export supply to the extent of refund claimed, ITC is debited from the electronic credit ledger. This means that ITC must be availed by the recipient of deemed export supply to avoid loss of ITC.

Taking this into consideration, para 41 of Circular No. 125/2019 has made the following amendment: “that he has not availed input tax credit on such invoices” has been replaced with “the amount does not exceed the amount of input tax credit availed in the valid return filed for the said tax period.”

This amendment removes the restriction on availment of ITC placed by Circular 125/2019 and enables refund application with debit to electronic credit ledger by the recipient of deemed export supply.

Circular No. 166/22/2021-GST dt. 17th Nov, 2021

Q. Whether relevant date for the refund of tax paid on supplies regarded as deemed export by recipient is to be determined as per clause (b) of Explanation (2) under section 54 of the CGST Act and if so, whether the date of return filed by the supplier or date of return filed by the recipient will be relevant for the purpose of determining the relevant date for such refunds?

A. Clause (b) of Explanation (2) under Section 54 of the CGST Act reads as under:

“(b) in the case of supply of goods regarded as deemed exports where a refund of tax paid is available in respect of the goods, the date on which the return relating to such deemed exports is furnished;”

On perusal of the above, it is clear that clause (b) of Explanation (2) under section 54 of the CGST Act is applicable for determining the relevant date in respect of refund of amount of tax paid on the supply of goods regarded as deemed exports, irrespective of the fact whether the refund claim is filed by the supplier or by the recipient.

Further, as the tax on the supply of goods, regarded as deemed export, would be paid by the supplier in his return, the relevant date for the purpose of filing of refund claim for refund of tax paid on such supplies would be the date of filing of return, related to such supplies, by the supplier

54.10 Rule 90 - Acknowledgement and Deficiency memo

- (a) Acknowledgment where application relates to a claim for refund from the electronic cash ledger: on receipt of the application for refund, an acknowledgement in FORM GST RFD-02 shall be made available to the applicant through the common portal electronically, clearly indicating the date of filing of the claim for refund and the time period of 60 days for passing an order by proper officer shall be counted from such date of filing.
- (b) Acknowledgment where the application for refund, other than claim for refund from electronic cash ledger: such applications shall be forwarded to the proper officer who shall, within a period of fifteen days of filing of the said application, scrutinize the application for its completeness and where the application is found to be complete, an acknowledgement in FORM GST RFD-02 shall be made available to the applicant through the common portal electronically/manually, clearly indicating the date of filing of the claim for refund and the time period 60 days for passing an order by proper officer shall be counted from such date of filing.
- (c) Deficiency Memo: Where any deficiencies are noticed, the proper officer shall communicate them to the applicant in FORM GST RFD-03 through the common portal electronically/manually, requiring him to file a fresh refund application after rectification of such deficiencies, within 15 days from the date of receipt of application. The older application shall lapse, once the deficiency notice is given in RFD-03.
- (d) While calculating the two year time limit for refund as mentioned in Section 54(1), the time period between the date of filing refund claim in FORM GST RFD-01 till the date of communication of deficiencies in FORM GST RFD-03 shall be excluded.
- (e) If deficiencies have been communicated in FORM GST RFD-03 under the State Goods and Service Tax Rules, 2017, the same shall also be deemed to have been communicated under the CGST Act also.

Note: A clarification has been sought whether with respect to a refund claim, deficiency memo can be issued more than once. In this regard rule 90 of the CGST Rules may be referred to, wherein it has been clearly stated that once an applicant has been communicated the deficiencies in respect of a particular application, the applicant shall furnish a fresh refund application after rectification of such deficiencies. It is therefore, clarified that there can be only one deficiency memo for one refund application and once such a memo has been issued, the applicant is required to file a fresh refund application, in FORM GST RFD-01 online. . It is further clarified that once an application has been submitted afresh, pursuant to a deficiency memo, the proper officer will not serve another deficiency memo with respect to the application for the same period, unless the deficiencies pointed out in the original memo remain uncertified, either wholly or partly, or any other substantive deficiency is noticed subsequently.

Circular No. 125/44/2019-GST dated 18.11.2019 regarding actions to be taken regarding deficiency memo:

- (a) Deficiency to be communicated in RFD-03
- (b) Amount claimed to be re credited
- (c) Fresh Refund application to be filed within two years of the relevant date, as defined in the explanation of section 54.
- (d) No Show cause notice to be issued

A refund application which is re-submitted after the issuance of a deficiency memo shall have to be treated as a fresh application. No order in FORM GST RFD-04/06 can be issued in respect of an application against which a deficiency memo has been issued and which has not been resubmitted subsequently.

Note: As per Notification No. 39/2017-Central Tax and further modified by Notification No. 10/2018-Central Tax dated 23-01-2018, state tax officers have been authorized to act as proper officer for the purpose of section 54 and 55 for the sanction of refund. Regarding the refund of IGST paid on exports, State GST officers have been authorized to deal with IGST on export of services but not with IGST refund on export of goods. All other types of refunds can be dealt by State tax officer for the purpose of Section 54 & 55 of the CGST Act.

Disbursal of Refund Amount

Circular No. 59/2018 dated 04-09-18: A few cases have come to notice where a tax authority, after receiving a sanction order from the counterpart tax authority (Centre or State), has refused to disburse the relevant sanctioned amount calling into question the validity of the sanction order on certain grounds. E.g., a tax officer of one administration has sanctioned, on a provisional basis, 90 per cent of the amount claimed in a refund application for unutilized ITC on account of exports. On receipt of the provisional sanction order, the tax officer of the counterpart administration has observed that the provisional refund of input tax credit has been incorrectly sanctioned for ineligible input tax credit and has, therefore, refused to disburse the tax amount pertaining to the same. It is clarified that the remedy for correction of an incorrect or erroneous sanction order lies in filing an appeal against such order and not in withholding of the disbursement of the sanctioned amount. If any discrepancy is noticed by the disbursing authority, the same should be brought to the notice of the counterpart refund sanctioning authority, the concerned counterpart reviewing authority and the nodal officer, but the disbursal of the refund should not be withheld. It is hereby clarified that neither the State nor the Central tax authorities shall refuse to disburse the amount sanctioned by the counterpart tax authority on any grounds whatsoever, except under sub-section (11) of section 54 of the CGST Act. It is further clarified that any adjustment of the amount sanctioned as refund against any outstanding demand against the claimant can be carried out by the refund disbursing authority if not already done by the refund sanctioning authority.

Note: Refer Notification No. 55/2017–Central Tax dated 15.11.2017, mentioned above.

However, CBIC vide Circular No. 125/44/2019 – GST dated 18.11.2019 in PARA 27 clarified that Separate disbursement of refund amounts under different tax heads by different tax authorities, i.e., disbursement of Central tax, Integrated tax and Compensation Cess by Central tax officers and disbursement of State tax by State tax officers, was causing undue hardship to the refund applicants. In order to facilitate refund applicants on this account, it has now been decided that for a refund application assigned to a Central tax officer, both the sanction order (FORM GST RFD-04/06) and the corresponding payment order (FORM GST RFD-05) for the sanctioned refund amount, under all tax heads, shall be issued only by the Central tax officer. Similarly, for refund applications assigned to a State/UT tax officer, both the sanction order (FORM GST RFD04/06) and the corresponding payment order (FORM GST RFD-05) for the sanctioned refund amount, under all tax heads, shall be issued only by the State/UT tax officer.

54.12 Rule 93 provides for the Credit of the amount of rejected refund claim

Where any amount claimed as refund is rejected under rule 92, the amount debited to the extent of rejection, shall be re-credited to the electronic credit ledger by an order made in FORM GST PMT-03. A refund shall be deemed to be rejected, if the appeal is finally rejected or if the claimant gives an undertaking in writing to the proper officer that he shall not file an appeal. Also, where any deficiencies have been communicated in FORM GST RFD-03, the amount debited under sub-rule (3) of rule 89 shall be re-credited to the electronic credit ledger.

Note: Re credit of Electronic Credit Ledger in case of Rejection of Refund claim []

- (a) In case of rejection of refund claim of unutilized/accumulated ITC due to ineligibility of the input tax credit under any provisions of the Act and rules made thereunder, the proper officer shall have to issue a show cause notice in FORM GST RFD-08, under section 54 read with section 73 or 74, requiring the applicant to show cause as to why
- the refund amount corresponding to the ineligible ITC should not be rejected as per the relevant provisions of the law; and
 - the amount of ineligible ITC should not be recovered as wrongly availed ITC under section 73 or section 74 of the CGST Act, as the case may be, along with interest and penalty, if any.
- (b) The above notice shall be adjudicated following the principles of natural justice and an order shall be issued, in FORM GST RFD-06, under section 54 read with section 73 or section 74 of the Act, as the case may be. If the adjudicating authority decides against the applicant in respect of both points (a) and (b) above, then FORM GST RFD-06 shall have to be issued accordingly, and the amount of ineligible ITC, along with interest and penalty, if any, shall be entered by the officer in the electronic liability register of the applicant through issuance of FORM GST DRC-07.
- (c) In any case, the proper officer shall order for the rejected amount to be re-credited to the electronic credit ledger of the applicant using FORM GST PMT-03.
- (d) Before re-crediting, an undertaking from the claimant to the effect that he shall not file an appeal against the said rejection be obtained. If the claimant files an appeal, re-credit to be done only after the appeal is finally decided against the claimant.

54.13 Issues and Concerns

- I. Can a registered person exporting non-taxable goods (say, motor spirit) claim refund of inputs and input services utilised in the manufacture of such non-taxable goods?
- Although this is a debatable issue, some experts believe that the law does not place restriction on claiming refund of taxes paid on inward supplies used in effecting such export of non-taxable goods. This could be argued on the following grounds:
- Zero rated supply includes within its ambit, inter alia, export of goods
 - Motor spirit, although non-taxable, would fall within the meaning of goods, as defined in section 2(52) of the CGST Act
 - Section 17(2) of the CGST Act states that a supplier shall be entitled to avail input tax credit to the extent of input tax as is attributable to taxable supplies including zero rated supplies.
 - Section 16(2) of the IGST Act states that input tax credit may be availed for making zero rated supplies notwithstanding the fact that such supply may be an exempt supply subject to restrictions on ITC in Section 17(5).

- Exempt supply has been defined in Section 2(47) of the CGST Act to include non-taxable supply.
- Section 54(3) of the CGST Act specifies that refund of unutilised input tax credit shall be allowed in case of zero rated supplies effected without payment of tax unless such exports are subjected to export duty. Thus, refund on export of non-taxable goods may be sought by the registered person.

This position is clarified by the CBIC wherein it is stated that as per section 16(2) of the IGST Act, credit of input tax may be availed for making zero rated supplies, notwithstanding that such supply is an exempted supply. It is also categorically stated that the requirement of Bond/LUT cannot be insisted upon in such cases. (Para 49 of the Circular No 125/44/2019 GST dated 18.11.2019)

Can a registered person being an exporter claim refund of unutilised input tax credit being transitional credit carried forward from the pre-GST regime?

Under the GST law, there is no provision specifically providing for refund of transitional credit. Section 54(3) pertains to refund of unutilised input tax credit.

Section 2(63) of the CGST Act defines “input tax credit” to broadly refer to CGST, SGST, UTGST and IGST charged on the supply of goods or services. Thus, it is clear that taxes paid under pre-GST regime do not fulfil the criteria for being classified as input tax credit, as given in Section 54(3).

However, Explanation (1) to Section 54(14) of the CGST Act defines “refund” to include, inter alia, refund of tax paid on zero rated supplies. Thus, it is advisable that the exporter opts to export goods or services on payment of tax, utilise such transitional credit for payment of output tax on exports and then apply for refund of the tax paid on exports.

- II. Refund in respect of tax paid on capital goods used by a registered person for effecting exports.

It is interesting to note that Explanation (1) to Section 54(14) of the CGST Act defines “refund” to include, inter alia, inputs and input services used in making zero rated supplies. On the same lines, “NET ITC” as defined under Rule 89(4) of the CGST Rules refers to merely input tax credit availed on inputs and input services. Thus conspicuous by its absence is the fact that refund of unutilised input tax credit on account of zero rated supplies is not available in respect of capital goods.

Such a scenario may be countered by the exporter by choosing to export on payment of tax. As was the case in (II) above, the exporter who opts to export goods or services on payment of tax can utilise input tax credit accumulated on capital goods towards payment of output tax on exports and subsequently apply for refund of taxes paid on exports.

From the above scenarios, it is interesting to note that a registered person should wisely exercise his option to either effect zero-rated supplies on payment of tax or without payment of tax based on the facts of the case and there can be no general rule that can be applied to one and all.

III. Determination of Authorised Operations in respect of supplies made to a SEZ developer or SEZ unit.

The Second proviso to Rule 89 of the CGST Rules, states that in respect of supplies to a Special Economic Zone unit or a Special Economic Zone developer, the supplier of goods or services can apply for refund if such supplies are being used for authorised operations. The question which arises is, who determines the authorised operations and who is the specified officer referred to in the said Rule.

'Authorised Operations' has been defined under Section 2(c) of the SEZ Act to mean:

- For a SEZ Developer – The Board of Approval may authorise the Developer such operations which the Central Government may authorise
- For a SEZ Unit – Operations as authorised by the Development Commissioner in the Letter of Approval.

'Specified officer' has been defined in the SEZ Rules to mean a Joint or Deputy or Assistant Commissioner of Customs for the time being posted in the SEZ.

Thus, the terms as defined above may be adopted for the purpose of Rule 89 of the GST Rules.

54.16. Recent Clarifications

- I. Certain registered persons had to reverse the credits to be lapsed (as per Notification No..20/2018-CTR dated 26.07.2018) while claiming accumulated ITC on account of Inverted tax Structure, and they were not able to claim refund to the permissible extent because of validation check on the common portal.

Government noticed that this issue was faced by a large number of taxpayers. So it issued a Circular 94/13/2019-GST dated 28.03.2019 which states possible solutions and procedures for the same.

- II. Process of claiming of Refund by a Merchant Exporter where he had received supplies from suppliers who had availed benefit of Notf. No. 40/2017 CT(R) dated 23.10.2017.

Rule 89(4B) of the CGST Rules provides that where the person claiming refund of unutilized input tax credit on account of zero-rated supplies without payment of tax has received supplies on which the supplier has availed the benefit of the said notifications, the refund of input tax credit, availed in respect of such inputs received under the said notifications for export of goods, shall be granted.

This refund of accumulated ITC under rule 89(4B) of the CGST Rules shall be applied under the category “any other” instead of under the category “refund of unutilized ITC on account of exports without payment of tax” in FORM GST RFD-01 and shall be accompanied by all supporting documents required for substantiating the refund claim under the category “refund of unutilized ITC on account of exports without payment of tax”. After scrutinizing the application for completeness and eligibility, if the proper officer is satisfied that the whole or any part of the amount claimed is payable as refund, he shall request the taxpayer, in writing, to debit the said amount from his electronic credit ledger through FORM GST DRC-03. Once the proof of such debit is received by the proper officer, he shall proceed to issue the refund order in FORM GST RFD-06 and the payment advice in FORM GST RFD-05.

- III. Refund of taxes paid on inward supply of indigenous goods by retail outlets established at departure area of the international airport beyond immigration counters when supplied to outgoing international tourist against foreign exchange.

It has been recognized that international airports house retail shops of two types – “Duty Free Shops” (hereinafter referred to as “DFS”) which are point of sale for goods sourced from a warehoused licensed under Section 58A of the Customs Act, 1962 (hereinafter referred to as the “Customs Act”) and duty paid indigenous goods and “Duty Paid Shops” (hereinafter referred to as “DPS”) retailing duty paid indigenous goods.

The sale of indigenous goods procured from domestic market by retail outlets to an eligible passenger is a “supply” under the GST law and is subject to levy of Integrated tax but the same has been exempted vide Notification No. 11/2019-Integrated Tax (Rate) and 01/2019-Compensation Cess (Rate) both dated 29.06.2019. Therefore, retail outlets will supply such indigenous goods without collecting any taxes from the eligible passenger and may apply for refund as per the procedure explained in succeeding paragraphs [Circular No. 106/25/2019-GST dated 29-06-2019].

- IV. Processing of refund applications in FORM GST RFD-01 submitted by taxpayers wrongly mapped on the common portal.

As per Circular No. 104/23/2019- GST dated 28-06-2019, it is clarified that in such cases, where reassignment of refund applications to the correct jurisdictional tax authority is not possible on the common portal, the processing of the refund claim should not be held up and it should be processed by the tax authority to whom the refund application has been electronically transferred by the common portal. After the processing of the refund application is complete, the refund processing authority may inform the common portal about the incorrect mapping with a request to update it suitably on the common portal so that all subsequent refund applications are transferred to the correct jurisdictional tax authority.

- V. Disbursement of Refunds by a Single Authority.

Refunds issued under Section 54 of the CGST Act, 2017 has been amended by inserting sub-section 8A vide Section 103 of the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2019 and the amendment has come into force w.e.f. 1st September, 2019.

The effect of the amendment is that the CGST Officer can now sanction and disburse both CGST & SGST. Earlier, the Central Tax officer was allowed to sanction only CGST but not allowed to disburse SGST which was creating unnecessary delay and hurdles in the process of refunds..

VI. Mechanism to verify the IGST payments for goods exported out of India in certain cases

The procedure for claiming IGST refunds is fully automated as provided under Instruction 15/2017-Cus dated 09.10.2017. It has come to the notice of the Board that instances of taking of IGST refund using fraudulent ITC claims by some exporters have been observed by various authorities.[Circular No.16/2019-Customs dated 17.06.2019]

- DG (Systems) shall work out the suitable criteria to identify risky exporters at the national level and forward the list of the said risky exporters to Risk Management Centre for Customs (RMCC) and respective Chief Commissioners of Central Tax. DG (Systems) shall inform the respective Chief Commissioner of Central Tax about the past IGST refunds granted to such risky exporters (along with details of bank accounts in which such refund has been disbursed).
- RMCC shall insert alerts for all such risky exporters and make mandatory 100% examination of export consignments relating to those risky exporters. Also, alert shall be placed to suspend IGST refunds in such cases.

Further on 19.06.2019, a Press Release was issued stating the status of the exports. The extract is reproduced for reference:

“The CBIC has recently instructed its Customs and GST formations to verify the correct availment of input tax credit (ITC) by few exporters who are perceived as “risky” on the basis of pre-defined risk parameters. Only 5,106 risky exporters have been identified so far as against about 1.42 lakh total exporters. Thus the risky exporters are only 3.5% of the total exporters. Further, in the last two days i.e. 17.06.2019 and 18.06.2019 only 1,436 Shipping Bills filed by total 925 exporters have been interdicted. Considering that about 20,000 Shipping Bills are filed by roughly 9,000 exporters on a daily basis, the intervention is negligible. Even for these risky exporters, the exports are allowed immediately. However, the refund would be released after verification of ITC within a maximum of 30 days.”

VII. A registered person who has filed a NIL refund claim in FORM GST RFD-01A/RFD-01 for a given period, under a particular category, may again apply for refund for the said period under the same category only if he satisfies the following two conditions:

- (a) The registered person must have filed a NIL refund claim in FORM GST RFD-01A/RFD-01 for a certain period under a particular category; and
- (b) No refund claims in FORM GST RFD-01A/RFD-01 must have been filed by the registered person under the same category for any subsequent period.

It may be noted that condition (b) shall apply only for refund claims falling under the following categories:

- (i) Refund of unutilized input tax credit (ITC) on account of exports without payment of tax;
- (ii) Refund of unutilized ITC on account of supplies made to SEZ Unit/SEZ Developer without payment of tax;
- (iii) Refund of unutilized ITC on account of accumulation due to inverted tax structure;

In all other cases, registered persons shall be allowed to re-apply even if the condition (b) is not satisfied

- VIII. Any refund of tax paid on supplies other than zero rated supplies will now be admissible proportionately in the respective original mode of payment, i.e., in cases of refund, where the tax to be refunded has been paid by debiting both electronic cash and credit ledgers (other than the refund of tax paid on zero-rated supplies or deemed export), the refund to be paid in cash and credit shall be calculated in the same proportion in which the cash and credit ledger has been debited for discharging the total tax liability for the relevant period for which application for refund has been filed. Such amount shall be accordingly paid by issuance of an order in FORM GST RFD-06 for the amount refundable in cash and FORM GST PMT-03 to re-credit the amount attributable to credit as ITC in the electronic credit ledger. (Clarified vide Circular No.135/05/2020 – GST dt.31.03.2020)
- IX. After the insertion of sub-rule (4) to rule 36 of the CGST Rules, 2017 vide Notification No. 49/2019-GST dated 09.10.2019, various references had been received from the field formations regarding admissibility of refund of the ITC availed on the invoices which are not reflecting in the FORM GSTR-2A of the applicant. However, this will not impact the refund of ITC availed on the invoices / documents relating to imports, ISD invoices and the inward supplies liable to Reverse Charge (RCM supplies) etc. (Clarified vide Circular No. 139/09/2020 - GST) The term “subsequently held” in section 77 of the CGST Act and section 19 of the IGST Act, 2017 covers both the cases where the inter-State or intra-State supply made by a taxpayer is either subsequently found by taxpayer himself as intra-State or inter-State respectively or where the inter-State or intra-State supply made by a taxpayer is subsequently found/ held as intra-State or inter-State respectively by the tax officer in any proceeding. Accordingly, refund claim under the said sections can be claimed by the taxpayer in both the above mentioned situations, provided the taxpayer pays the required amount of tax in the correct head. Further, the refund under the above referred sections can be claimed before the expiry of two years from the date of payment of tax under the correct head, i.e., integrated tax paid in respect of subsequently held inter-State supply, or central and state tax in respect of subsequently held intra-State supply, as the case may be. However, in cases, where the taxpayer has made the payment in the correct head before the date of issuance of Notification No.35/2021-Central Tax dated 24.09.2021, the refund application under section 77 of the CGST Act/ section 19 of the IGST Act can be filed before the expiry of two years from the date of issuance of the said notification. i.e., from 24.09.2021. (clarified vide Circular No. 162/18/2021-GST dt. 25.09.2021 which provides detailed clarification in respect of refund of tax specified in section 77(1) of the CGST Act and section 19(1) of the IGST Act)

FTP – Benefits to Exporters

Under the aegis of Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act, 1992, the Government announces its 'policy statement' for five years. It is comprised of (i) Foreign Trade Policy (ii) Handbook of Procedures and (iii) Industry Trade Classification – Harmonised System (ITC-HS). All three form one integral policy and implementation plan for the promotion of exports, curtailment of import of undesirable articles and overall regulation of cross-border trade.

The Policy does not impose any statutory levies. In order to make exports (earning forex) competitive, it strives to ensure that domestic taxes and duties are not exported by being loaded in the price of export product (goods or services). With the introduction of the GST, ab initio exemptions have been done away with for exporters. All duties must be paid and after completion of export, they will be paid back via the zero-rated benefits.

The Policy takes this to the next level in the form of:

- Recognizing 'free trade zones' and 'export oriented undertakings' that are export-focused and enjoy variety for customs duty concessions and procedural relaxations. Customs duty exemption is allowed vide notification 50/2017-Cus. dated 30 Jun 2017 in respect of basic customs duty and IGST under the Customs Tariff Act;
- Prescribing 'duty free' procurement license/authorization on pre-export or post-export (for input replenishment) basis;
- Capital goods 'duty free' procurement license with associated export obligation is also allowed';
- Additional incentive in the form of 'tradable' license for service / merchandise exports.

Duty free import license / authorization – illustration of the working model

Neutralizing the effect of Indian trade taxes / duties is one of the ways of promoting exports without causing price disparity domestically for those products.

The illustration is as follows:

- A and B are used to produce C

- ₹ 30 and ₹ 35 are the import duties applicable to A and B respectively
- USD 10 is the per unit rate at which C is exported
- Additional data:
 - If duties are paid on A and B, price competitiveness of C is less by ₹ 65 per unit of export product
 - Exporter has secured an export order for exporting 1 million units of C and has been allowed 4 months to produce and supply. The time permitted under the contract is adequate to procure A and B, produce C and export it to the foreign customer
- Instead of paying duties on A and B, the exporter can apply for a license that allows him to (a) import A and B duty free and (b) export C within a certain time period and realize the foreign exchange.

This may be allowed in the form of a pre-export duty free procurement license. This type of license ought to have the following further conditions:

- Export order must be a 'firm contract'
- Value of foreign exchange to be earned from exports to be higher than the import payments
- Undertaking to be provided that export will be completed within a specified duration
- Undertaking to be provided that export proceeds will be received into India within a specified duration
- Variation in import prices is not to adversely affect the overall 'net' forex earnings
- Limit prescribed on the quantity of A and B permitted to be imported duty-free

This kind of pre-export license is essentially the feature of an Advance Authorization. This license is issued based on annual export forecast.

Now, if the export order is non-recurring, then the exporter may not like to import A and B, so he may be permitted to sell the license without any export obligation or sell A and B after importing them. This is the feature of Duty Free Import Authorization scheme which is allowed on post-export basis.

Further, the export order has to be fulfilled immediately and sufficient inventory of C is available with the exporter, then applying and obtaining Advance Authorization may not be possible. For this purpose, a post-export license may be allowed with the following further conditions:

- Input-output ratio is clearly known and notified (Standard Input Output Norms or SION)
- Inventory of C is not attached with any export obligations already

This kind of post-export license is a feature of Duty Free Import Authorization scheme. Key aspects of these licenses are:

Criteria	Advance Authorization	Duty Free Import Authorization
Pre-export	Yes	No
Post-export	No	Yes
Input-output ratio needed	Yes	Yes
Issued to manufacturer-exporter	Yes	Yes
Issued to merchant-exporter	Yes	No
For direct exports	Yes	Yes
For deemed exports	Yes	No
Against actual export orders	No	Yes
Against export projections	Yes	No
Minimum Value Addition condition	Yes (15%)	Yes (20%)
License transferable (post-exports)	No	Yes
Imported goods transferable (post-exports)	No	Yes

Benefits to 'supporting manufacturing' for such license/authorization holders:

Indigenous suppliers of articles required by Duty Exemption license-holders are also allowed the facility to import inputs required to manufacture these import-substitutes. Such indigenous manufacturers do not have any exports. But the Duty Exemption license-holders to whom the supplies are made will export and realize foreign exchange.

Based on this inter-relationship, indigenous suppliers are issued a domestic-sourcing- license by invalidation of inputs from within the SION of the Duty Exemption license-holders as these indigenous suppliers are supplying import-substitutes.

Various forms of this license issued to indigenous suppliers are:

- Advance Authorization or DFIA for intermediate supplies – permits indigenous suppliers to import their inputs on duty free basis to manufacture and supply to actual exporters (holding Duty Exemption license)
- Advance Release Order – permits indigenous suppliers to supply on duty-free basis the import-substitutes to actual exporters (holding Duty Exemption license)
- Back to back inland Letter of Credit – permits LCs to be issued by banks based on export contract of actual exporters (holding Duty Exemption license)
- Other key aspects to consider are:
 - Advance Release Order (ARO) may be issued along with respective Duty Exemption license or separately.
 - SION and other conditions mutatis mutandis apply in respect of Advance Authorization or DFIA for intermediate supplies

- No foreign exchange earning is required.
- Time limit allowed to be co-terminus with actual exporters (holding Duty Exemption license)

➤ Deemed Exports

Transactions where the goods do not leave the country, payment is received in Indian Rupees or in free foreign exchange and [Supply of goods as specified in Paragraph 7.02 of Foreign Trade Policy 2015-2020 shall be regarded as “Deemed Exports” provided goods are manufactured in India.] are regarded for limited purposes of FTP to be similar to exports. This is a fiction that cannot be extended beyond the purview of FTP.

Specified supplies are treated as ‘deemed’ exports and are eligible for certain benefits:

Supply by Manufacturer	Supply by Contractor / Sub-contractor
Sale of excisable goods to license holders (Advance Authorization or DFIA)	Supply to projects funded by notified Agencies / Funds (i) on duty-free supply terms of tender (ii) involving imported goods on ‘delivered duty-paid’ terms (iii) under international competitive bidding basis (iv) to specified agencies in App.7A
Sale of excisable goods to EOUs (all types)	Supply to projects (i) eligible to zero-duty supply u/n 12/2012-Cus. (ii) mega power projects u/n 12/2012-Cus. (iii) mega power projects on tariff based competitive bidding
Sale of capital goods to EPCG license holders	Supply to UN organization u/n 108/95-CE
	Supply to nuclear power projects (i) as per list 33/511 for setting-up u/n 12/2012 (ii) of >440 MW capacity (iii) certified by DoAE (iv) under national or international competitive bidding process

Benefits available are as follows:

- Advance authorization or DFIA
- Deemed export drawback
- Terminal excise duty refund (on applicable goods).

With the introduction of GST, except for the list of articles that continue to be liable to Central Excise duty, deemed export benefits have been realigned to be in harmony with incentives/duty neutralization measures in GST. Deemed exports as defined in FTP are not exactly the same as deemed exports notified under section 147 of the CGST Act (refer 48/2017-CT dated 18 October, 2017). Pursuant to this notification, various concessions have been allowed, namely:

Notification	Nature of GST Concession	Condition
48/2017-CT	Notifies deemed exports	Supplier to claim refund due to 'rate inversion' in his hands. As no refundable taxes paid by deemed-exporter, no refund remains to be availed
40/2017-CT (R)	Specifies CGST of 0.05% on supply to deemed exports
41/2017-Int. (R)	Specifies IGST of 0.1% on supply to deemed exports
78/2017-Cus.	Exempts IGST on imports	No refund since no IGST paid
79/2017-Cus.	Exempts IGST on imports

Where the rate of GST has been reduced to 0.05% CGST for supplies by any Supplier where the Recipient and the Supply is included as a deemed export under GST. With this measure, the Supplier would be liable to charge 0.1% IGST or 0.05%+0.05% CGST-SGST though much higher rate of tax may have been paid on this Supplier's inputs. This results in an 'inverted rate' situation for the Supplier who is entitled to claim refund under section 54(3) of the CGST Act. Please note that this reduced rate of GST paid by the Recipient will be available as credit albeit for the nominal amount paid (refer para 13.2 of Circular 37/11/2018-GST dated 15 March, 2018).

Capital goods (export promotion) license:

Capital goods required for manufacture of export goods is also eligible to be procured at 'zero' duty. Under this scheme, imports of capital goods are permitted at 'zero' rate of duty for the manufacture of resultant export product specified in the EPCG Authorization. The export obligation (EO) is the equivalent value of 6 times of the duty saved to be fulfilled in 6 years.

Zero duty EPCG Authorization is valid for 18 months. Imports are permitted with the actual user condition attached. Performance monitoring is done closely and periodically to ensure there are no delinquencies which will attract demand of duty foregone with interest and penalty for such delinquency.

The Scheme applies to manufacture-exporters, merchant-exporters with supporting manufacturers attached and service-exporters certified by the DGFT as Common Service Provider.

EO can be fulfilled by export of goods / services of license-holder and exports under other duty free licenses will also be counted towards fulfilment of EO against EPCG license. If more than 75 per cent of EO is fulfilled in half the time permitted, then remaining EO will be condoned. Where there is shortfall in EO fulfilment, up to 5 per cent shortfall can be waived.

EPCG license-holder can source capital goods from indigenous sources and EO will be reduced by 25 per cent. Suppliers to EPCG license-holders will also be entitled to deemed export benefits. ARO will be issued in favour of local suppliers.

EOUs converting to DTA unit or SEZs relocating outside the zone may apply for such conversion with EPCG benefit so that no duties need be paid on the WDV of capital goods provided exports are expected to continue after such conversion / relocation.

Other key aspects:

- EPCG license to be registered at a single port for import endorsement. Exports can be from any port
- Exports to be against realization in freely convertible foreign exchange
- Names of supporting-manufacturer and merchant-exporter to be indicated on export documents
- Proof of export will be admitted based on agreement for export, invoice and GR/equivalent
- EO may be fulfilled block-wise – 50% within first four years and balance in the next two years. Block-wise EO fulfilment entails 2 per cent composition fee on duty relatable to shortfall in each block
- EO extension will be allowed on payment of 2 per cent composition fee on duty relatable to shortfall
- Suo moto exit from EPCG will be allowed on payment of proportionate duty and interest
- In case of more than one EPCG authorization, clubbing is permitted for ease of monitoring

Post export EPCG duty credit scrips are also available to exporters who import capital goods on payment of full duty. Incentive being allowed as duty credit (freely transferable) of the basic customs duty paid on the capital goods. EO would be 15 per cent lesser than under the duty-free EPCG license.

Specified Green Technology products are allowed EPCG authorization with 75 per cent of EO.

Incentive scheme for service / merchandise exports:

Exporters are granted a 'reward' to offset infrastructural inefficiencies and associated costs involved, under two schemes. Nature of this reward is grant of 'duty credit scrip' that may be used for payment of Customs Duty and Central Excise Duty (where applicable) on freely transferable basis. These scrips are not eligible for payment of GST (refer Q7 in FAQs issued by DGFT on GST changes, see link <http://dgftcom.nic.in/exim/2000/DGFT-GST-FAQ.pdf>)

Merchandise Exports from India Scheme (MEIS) is a reward computed on the FOB value of exports realized in free foreign exchange, or on FOB value of exports as given in the Shipping Bills in freely convertible foreign currencies, whichever is less, unless otherwise specified and the percentage of this reward is specified in Appendix 3B of FTP 2015-20.

Service Exports from India Scheme (SEIS) is a reward computed on the basis of the 'net' free foreign exchange realized and the percentage of this reward is specified in Appendix 3D of FTP 2015-20.

Criteria	MEIS	SEIS
Eligible exports	Notified products to notified countries as per Appx. 3B	Notified services as per Appx. 3D above $ 15,000
Ineligible exports	Supplies to EOU, SEZ, deemed exports, products with minimum export price or export duty and other excluded exports	Foreign exchange received for other purposes like equity, debt, donation, loan repayment, etc. are excluded

Other key aspects to consider are:

- Duty paid by utilization of Duty Credit Scrip eligible for duty drawback.
- Duty Credit Scrips are valid for 18 months and revalidation is not permitted.

Care should be taken to avoid claiming SEIS scrip in cases that do not fall within Appendix 3D. It has been noticed that all service-exporters are making a beeline to claim SEIS scrip. Any benefit claimed under FTP is open for recovery if improper claim is discovered through an investigation. It must be ensured that the description of the service exported under other trade laws is in alignment with the description in Appendix 3D.

Duty credit scrips are classified under HSN 4907 and they are exempted from the whole of GST by an amendment to Notification No. 2/2017-CT (R) dated 28th June, 2018 by Notification No. 35/2017-CT (R) dated 13th October, 2017. It is important to note that duty credit scrips are held to be 'goods' for the purposes of GST.

Note-

Scheme to support 'export oriented' undertakings

Export Oriented Units (EOU) is a scheme introduced more than 30 years ago in Chapter 6 of the FTP issued from time to time under the aegis of the Foreign Trade (Development & Regulation) Act, 1992.

Background discussion on Project Imports and Concessional Procurement Rules will help gain some understanding about the operational method of EOU. In case of an EOU, there is an oversight authority that reviews and approves the unit and all its imports-exports. Customs authorities examine compliance with the Customs Act in matters associated with imports-exports of such EOUs based on the 'in principle' approval granted by the oversight-authority. Development Commissioner is the oversight-authority for EOUs, Software Technology Parks of India (STTP) is for IT/ITES units and so on.

EOUs are permitted to undertake various kinds of activities, including making of gold/silver/platinum jewellery and articles thereof, and agricultural activities including agro-processing, aquaculture, animal husbandry, bio-technology, floriculture, horticulture, pisciculture, viticulture, poultry, sericulture and granites. EOUs are permitted to procure (import / domestic) goods required for the export product without payment of duties provided the condition of minimum foreign exchange earnings from exports is satisfied.

Exemption from duties is allowed vide notification 52/2003-Cus. dated 31 March, 2003. This notification grants exemption 'subject to conditions' without any requirement of 'warehousing'. EOUs have been delicensed since 13 August, 2016 and made liable to 'condition' of safe-keeping in the premises. End-use of exempt goods is validated at first by the oversight-authority and any movement or disposal thereafter is with the approval by Customs authorities. Finished goods manufactured by EOUs are permitted to be exported outside India, transferred to other EOUs or sold in DTA (units in Domestic Tariff Area). There is no incidence of duty on export and underlying obligation of duty foregone is passed on to a transferee-EOU. But in case of DTA sales, along with payment of GST (Central Excise in case of select goods still liable to CE duty) the finished goods will entail reversal of duties foregone on the inputs used in their manufacture (based on SION).

The products are exported directly from the EOU and there is no duty incidence on the export-product during the entire process from procurement-to-conversion-to-export. This is a highly efficient manner of operations. The only administrative activity is the 'two-tier approach' of approval and documentation: from the oversight-authority and from Customs.

EOUs are permitted to get some part of their operations sub-contracted through units that are not EOUs themselves or DTA units. Strict control is required to be exercised in documentation of removal from EOU, processing in DTA and return of processed material with wastage.

EOUs permitted to sell their finished product in DTA are monitored, based on their overall export earnings position such that it meets the minimum norms for the given industry. Since EOUs operate under a 'special condition' and not as a 'warehouse', provisions of section 65 do not apply in respect of DTA sales by EOUs, finished goods sold in DTA will be liable to GST along with reversal of exemptions availed.

Capital goods are permitted to be supplied to the customers of the EOU as required for their projects. Capital goods can be sent to sub-contractors also for use in processing materials for the EOU. All goods can be sent out of the EOU for test, repair, calibration, etc., with necessary approval (two-tier approach). And surplus goods (capital goods or raw materials) may be exported to a supplier, sold to other EOUs or de-bonded and removed from EOU. Local sale of capital goods as being put to use will be on payment of import duties that were earlier foregone but based on (a) the current duty rate as per section 15 and 46 and (b) the depreciated value of the goods at specified rates of depreciation.

Warehousing provisions recast in 2016 are:

- Warehouse (Custody and Handling of Goods) Regulations, 2016
- Special Warehouse Licensing Regulations, 2016
- Special Warehouse (Custody and Handling of Goods) Regulations, 2016
- Private Warehouse Licensing Regulations, 2016
- Public Warehouse Licensing Regulations, 2016
- Warehoused Goods (Removal) Regulations, 2016

Duty exemptions to EOUs are as follows:

Duty	Capital Goods	Inputs	Input Services
Basic customs duty	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt
Customs surcharge	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt
Additional customs duty*	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt
IGST and Cess*	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt

* exemption to expire on 1 October, 2018 vide 33/2018-Cus. dated 23 March, 2018

In order to 'ease' doing business in India, 44/2016-Cus. dated 26 July, 2016 has brought about the following changes:

- Warehousing discontinued
- Duty exemptions continued
- Control through 'condition' monitoring

As a result, EOUs no longer have the levy 'suspended' but 'deferred'. This is a very significant change that has been brought about in relation to operation of EOUs. Circular 35/2016-Cus. dated 26th July, 2016 explains the nature of this change. With this change, EOUs are now a location within the terra firma of India and transactions with EOUs will entail GST.

Industry specific provisions are also in place. For example, Gem/Jewellery units, Service units, etc. Goods procured from DTA are regarded as 'deemed export' under the FTP (not in Customs Act) for those DTA suppliers who qualify for various duty-neutralisation benefits on their production and supply.

Periodic reporting requirements are involved to monitor imports, the extent of duty free facility availed, exports, foreign exchange earned, employment generated, etc. Any unit found deficit will be closely monitored or mentored out of the EOU scheme.

With permission of the oversight-authority and the customs department, EOUs can close down their operations after accounting and dealing with the goods (capital goods, raw material and finished goods) in the manner permitted.

Madam/Sir,

Subject: Fully electronic refund process through FORM GST RFD-01 and single disbursement – regarding

After the roll out of GST w.e.f. 01.07.2017, on account of the unavailability of electronic refund module on the common portal, a temporary mechanism had to be devised and implemented wherein applicants were required to file the refund application in FORM GST RFD-01A on the common portal, take a print out of the same and submit it physically to the jurisdictional tax office along with all supporting documents. Further processing of these refund applications, i.e., issuance of acknowledgement of the refund application, issuance of deficiency memo, passing of provisional/final order, payment advice etc. was also being done manually. In order to make the process of submission of the refund application electronic, Circular No. 79/53/2018-GST dated 31.12.2018 was issued wherein it was specified that the refund application in FORM GST RFD-01A, along with all the supporting documents, shall be submitted electronically. However, various post submission stages of processing of the refund application continued to be manual.

2. The necessary capabilities for making the refund procedure fully electronic, in which all steps of submission and processing shall be undertaken electronically, have been deployed on the common portal with effect from 26.09.2019. Accordingly, the Circulars issued earlier laying down guidelines for the manual submission and processing of refund claims need to be suitably modified and a fresh set of guidelines needs to be issued for electronic submission and processing of refund claims. With this objective and in order to ensure uniformity in the implementation of the provisions of law across field formations, the Board, in exercise of its powers conferred by section 168 (1) of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (hereinafter referred to as the "CGST Act"), hereby lays down the procedure for electronic submission and processing of refund applications in supersession of earlier Circulars viz. Circular No. 17/17/2017-GST dated 15.11.2017, 24/24/2017-GST dated 21.12.2017, 37/11/2018-GST dated 15.03.2018, 45/19/2018-GST dated 30.05.2018 (including corrigendum dated 18.07.2019), 59/33/2018-GST dated 04.09.2018, 70/44/2018-GST dated 26.10.2018, 79/53/2018-GST dated 31.12.2018 and 94/13/2019-GST dated 28.03.2019. However, the provisions of the said Circulars shall continue to apply for all refund applications filed on the common portal before 26.09.2019 and the said applications shall continue to be processed manually as prior to the deployment of the new system.

Filing of refund applications in FORM GST RFD-01

3. With effect from 26.09.2019, the applications for the following types of refunds shall be filed in FORM GST RFD 01 on the common portal and the same shall be processed electronically:

- (a) Refund of unutilized input tax credit (ITC) on account of exports without payment of tax;
- (b) Refund of tax paid on export of services with payment of tax;
- (c) Refund of unutilized ITC on account of supplies made to SEZ Unit/SEZ Developer without payment of tax;
- (d) Refund of tax paid on supplies made to SEZ Unit/SEZ Developer with payment of tax;
- (e) Refund of unutilized ITC on account of accumulation due to inverted tax structure;
- (f) Refund to the supplier of tax paid on deemed export supplies;
- (g) Refund to the recipient of tax paid on deemed export supplies;
- (h) Refund of excess balance in the electronic cash ledger;
- (i) Refund of excess payment of tax;
- (j) Refund of tax paid on intra-State supply which is subsequently held to be inter-State supply and vice versa;
- (k) Refund on account of assessment/provisional assessment/appeal/any other order;
- (l) Refund on account of "any other" ground or reason.

4. The following modalities shall be followed for all refund applications filed in FORM GST RFD-01 on the common portal with effect from 26.09.2019:

- (a) FORM GST RFD-01 shall be filled on the common portal by an applicant seeking refund under any of the categories mentioned above. This shall entail filing of statements/declarations/undertakings which are part of FORM GST RFD-01 itself, and also uploading of other documents/invoices which shall be required to be provided by the applicant for processing the refund claim. A comprehensive list of such documents is provided at Annexure-A and it is clarified that no other document needs to be provided by the applicant at the stage of filing the refund application. The facility of uploading these other documents/invoices shall be available on the common portal where four documents, each of maximum 5MB, may be uploaded along with the refund application. Neither the refund application in FORM GST RFD-01 nor any of the supporting documents shall be required to be physically submitted to the office of the jurisdictional proper officer.

- (b) The Application Reference Number (ARN) will be generated only after the applicant has completed the process of filing the refund application in FORM GST RFD-01, and has completed uploading of all the supporting documents/ undertaking/ statements/invoices and, where required, the amount has been debited from the electronic credit/cash ledger.
- (c) As soon as the ARN is generated, the refund application along with all the supporting documents shall be transferred electronically to the proper jurisdictional officer who shall be able to view it on the system. The application shall be deemed to have been filed under sub-rule (2) of rule 90 of the CGST Rules on the date of generation of the said ARN and the time limit of 15 days to issue an acknowledgement or a deficiency memo, as the case may be, shall be counted from the said date. This will obviate the need for an applicant to visit the jurisdictional tax office for submitting the refund application and /or any of the supporting documents. Accordingly, the acknowledgement for the complete application (FORM GST RFD-02) or deficiency memo (FORM GST RFD-03), as the case may be, would be issued electronically by the jurisdictional tax officer based on the documents so received from the common portal.
- (d) If a refund application is electronically transmitted to the wrong jurisdictional officer, he/she shall reassign it to the correct jurisdictional officer electronically as soon as possible, but not later than three working days, from the date of generation of the ARN. Deficiency memos shall not be issued in such cases merely on the ground that the applications were received electronically in the wrong jurisdiction.
- (e) It may be noted that the facility to reassign such refund applications is already available with the Commissioner or the officer(s) authorized by him.

5. The refund application in FORM GST RFD-01 filed by all taxpayers, who have already been assigned to the Centre or State tax authorities, shall be automatically forwarded by the common portal to the concerned authority. At the same time, there might be some migrated taxpayers, who have remained unassigned. The refund application in FORM GST RFD-01 filed by such unassigned taxpayers shall be forwarded, for processing, by the common portal to the jurisdictional proper officer of the tax authority from which the taxpayer has originally migrated. Such officers will continue to process these applications up to the stage of issuance of final order in FORM GST RFD-06 and the related payment order in FORM GST RFD-05 even if the applicant is assigned to the counterpart tax authority while the refund claim is under process. However, if such an applicant gets assigned to one of the tax authorities after generation of the ARN and a deficiency memo gets issued for the refund application submitted by him, then the re-submitted refund application, after correction of deficiencies, shall be treated as a fresh refund application and shall be forwarded to the jurisdictional proper officer of the tax authority to which the taxpayer has now been assigned, irrespective of which authority handled the initial refund claim and issued the deficiency memo.

6. Any refund claim for a tax period may be filed only after furnishing all the returns in FORM GSTR-1 and FORM GSTR-3B which were due to be furnished on or before the date on which the refund application is being filed. However, in cases of a claim for refund filed by a composition taxpayer, a non-resident taxable person, or an Input Service Distributor (ISD) furnishing of returns in FORM GSTR-1 and FORM GSTR-3B is not required. Instead, the applicant should have furnished returns in FORM GSTR-4 (along with FORM GST CMP-08), FORM GSTR-5 or FORM GSTR-6, as the case may be, which were due to be furnished on or before the date on which the refund application is being filed.

7. Since the functionality of furnishing of FORM GSTR-2 and FORM GSTR-3 remains unimplemented, it has been decided by the GST Council to sanction refund of provisionally accepted input tax credit. However, the applicants applying for refund must give an undertaking to the effect that the amount of refund sanctioned would be paid back to the Government with interest in case it is found subsequently that the requirements of clause (c) of sub-section (2) of section 16 read with sub-section (2) of section 42 of the CGST Act have not been complied with in respect of the amount refunded. This undertaking has to be submitted electronically along with the refund claim.

8. The applicant may opt to file a refund claim for a tax period or by clubbing successive tax periods. The period for which refund is filed, however, cannot spread across different financial years. Registered persons having aggregate turnover of up to ₹ 1.5 crore in the preceding financial year or the current financial year opting to file FORM GSTR-1 on quarterly basis can only apply for refund on a quarterly basis or by clubbing successive quarters, as aforesaid. However, refund claims under categories listed at (a), (c) and (e) in para 3 above must be filed by the applicant chronologically. This means that an applicant, after submitting a refund application under any of these categories for a certain period, shall not be subsequently allowed to file a refund claim under the same category for any previous period. This principle / limitation, however, shall not apply in cases where a fresh application is being filed pursuant to a deficiency memo having been issued earlier.

Deficiency Memos

9. It may be noted that if the application for refund is complete in terms of sub-rule (2), (3) and (4) of rule 89 of the CGST Rules, an acknowledgement in FORM GST RFD-02 should be issued within 15 days of the filing of the refund application. The date of generation of ARN for FORM GST RFD-01 is to be considered as the date of filing of the refund application. Sub-rule (3) of rule 90 of the CGST Rules provides for communication of deficiencies in FORM GST RFD-03 where deficiencies are noticed within the aforesaid period of 15 days. It is clarified that either an acknowledgement or a deficiency memo should be issued within the aforesaid period of 15 days starting from the date of generation of ARN. Once an acknowledgement has been issued in relation to a refund application, no deficiency memo, on any grounds, may be subsequently issued for the said application.

10. After a deficiency memo has been issued, the refund application would not be further processed and a fresh application has to be filed. Any amount of input tax credit/cash debited from electronic credit/ cash ledger would be re-credited automatically once the deficiency memo has been issued. It may be noted that the re-credit would take place automatically and no order in FORM GST PMT-03 is required to be issued. The applicant is required to rectify the deficiencies highlighted in deficiency memo and file a fresh refund application electronically in FORM GST RFD-01 for the same period, and this application would have a new and distinct ARN.

11. It is further clarified that once an application has been submitted afresh, pursuant to a deficiency memo, the proper officer will not serve another deficiency memo with respect to the application for the same period, unless the deficiencies pointed out in the original deficiency memo remain un-rectified, either wholly or partly, or any other substantive deficiency is noticed subsequently.

12. It is also clarified that since a refund application filed after correction of deficiency is treated as a fresh refund application, such a rectified refund application, submitted after correction of deficiencies, shall also have to be submitted within two years of the relevant date, as defined in the explanation after sub-section (14) of section 54 of the CGST Act.

Provisional Refund

13. Doubts might arise as to whether provisional refund would be given even in those cases where the proper officer prima-facie has sufficient reasons to believe that there are irregularities in the refund application which would result in rejection of the whole or part of the refund amount claimed. It is clarified that in such cases, the proper officer shall refund on a provisional basis ninety percent of the refundable amount of the claim (amount of refund claim less than the inadmissible portion of refund so found) in accordance with the provisions of rule 91 of the CGST Rules. Final sanction of the refund shall be made in accordance with the provisions of rule 92 of the CGST Rules.

14. It is further clarified that there is no prohibition under the law preventing a proper officer from sanctioning the entire amount within 7 days of the issuance of acknowledgement through issuance of FORM GST RFD-06, instead of granting provisional refund of 90 per cent of the amount claimed through FORM GST RFD-04. If the proper officer is fully satisfied about the eligibility of a refund claim on account of zero-rated supplies, and is of the opinion that no further scrutiny is required, the proper officer may issue final order in FORM GST RFD-06 within 7 days of the issuance of the acknowledgement. In such cases, the issuance of a provisional refund order in FORM GST RFD-04 will not be necessary.

15. Further, there are doubts regarding the procedure to be followed in situations where the final refund amount to be sanctioned in FORM GST RFD-06 is less than the amount of refund sanctioned provisionally through FORM GST RFD-04. For example, in a situation where an applicant files a refund claim of ₹ 100/- on account of zero-rated supplies. The proper officer, after prima-facie examination of the application, sanctions ₹ 90 as provisional refund through FORM GST RFD-04 and the same is electronically credited to his bank account. However, on detailed examination, it appears to the proper officer that only an amount of ₹ 70 is admissible as refund to the applicant. In such cases, the proper officer shall have to issue a show cause notice to the applicant, in FORM GST RFD-08, under section 54 of the CGST Act, read with section 73 or 74 of the CGST Act, requiring the applicant to show cause as to why:

- (a) the claimed amount of ₹ 30 should not be rejected as per the relevant provisions of the law; and
- (b) the amount of ₹ 20 erroneously refunded should not be recovered under section 73 or section 74 of the CGST Act, as the case may be, along with interest and penalty, if any.

16. The proper officer for adjudicating the above case shall be the same as the proper officer for sanctioning refund under section 54 of the CGST Act. The above notice shall be adjudicated following the principles of natural justice and an order shall be issued, in FORM GST RFD-06, under section 54 of the CGST Act, read with section 73 or section 74 of the CGST Act, as the case may be. If the adjudicating authority decides against the applicant in respect of both points (a) and (b) above, then an amount of ₹ 70 will have to be sanctioned in FORM GST RFD-06, and an amount of ₹ 20 along with interest and penalty, if any, shall be entered by the officer in the electronic liability register of the applicant through issuance of FORM GST DRC-07. Further, if the application pertains to refund of unutilized/accumulated ITC, then ₹ 30, i.e., the amount rejected, shall have to be re-credited to the electronic credit ledger of the applicant through FORM GST PMT-03. However, this re-credit shall be done only after the receipt of an undertaking from the applicant to the effect that he shall not file an appeal or in case he files an appeal, the same will finally be decided against the applicant. In such cases, it may be noted that FORM GST RFD-08 and FORM GST RFD-06 are to be considered as show cause notice and adjudication order respectively under both section 54 (for rejection of refund) and sections 73/74 of the CGST Act as the case may be (for recovery of erroneous refund).

17. It is further clarified that no adjustment or withholding of refund, as provided under sub-sections (10) and (11) of section 54 of the CGST Act, shall be allowed in respect of the amount of refund which has been provisionally sanctioned. In cases where there is an outstanding recoverable amount due from the applicant, the proper officer, instead of granting refund on a provisional basis, may process and sanction refund on a final basis at the earliest and recover the amount from the amount so sanctioned.

Scrutiny of Application

18. In case of refund claim on account of export of goods without payment of tax, the Shipping bill details shall be checked by the proper officer through ICEGATE SITE (www.icegate.gov.in) wherein the officer would be able to check details of EGM and shipping bill by keying in the port name, Shipping bill number and date. It is advised that while processing refund claims, information contained in Table 9 of FORM GSTR-1 of the relevant tax period as well as that of the subsequent tax periods should also be taken into consideration, wherever applicable. In this regard, Circular No. 26/26/2017-GST dated 29.12.2017 may be referred, wherein the procedure for rectification of errors made while filing the returns in FORM GSTR-3B has been provided. Therefore, in case of discrepancies between the data furnished by the taxpayer in FORM GSTR-

3B and FORM GSTR-1, the proper officer shall refer to the said Circular and process the refund application accordingly.

19. Detailed guidelines laid down in subsequent paragraphs of this Circular covering various types of refund claims may also be followed while scrutinizing refund claims for completeness and eligibility.

Re-crediting of electronic credit ledger on account of rejection of refund claim

20. In case of rejection of refund claim of unutilized/accumulated ITC due to ineligibility of the input tax credit under any provisions of the CGST Act and rules made thereunder, the proper officer shall have to issue a show cause notice in FORM GST RFD-08, under section 54 of the CGST Act, read with section 73 or 74 of the CGST Act, requiring the applicant to show cause as to why:

- (a) the refund amount corresponding to the ineligible ITC should not be rejected as per the relevant provisions of the law; and
- (b) the amount of ineligible ITC should not be recovered as wrongly availed ITC under section 73 or section 74 of the CGST Act, as the case may be, along with interest and penalty, if any.

21. The above notice shall be adjudicated following the principles of natural justice and an order shall be issued, in FORM GST RFD-06, under section 54 of the CGST Act, read with section 73 or section 74 of the CGST Act, as the case may be. If the adjudicating authority decides against the applicant in respect of both points (a) and (b) above, then FORM GST RFD-06 shall have to be issued accordingly, and the amount of ineligible ITC, along with interest and penalty, if any, shall be entered by the officer in the electronic liability register of the applicant through issuance of FORM GST DRC-07. Alternatively, the applicant can voluntarily pay this amount, along with interest and penalty, as applicable, before serving the demand notice, and intimate the same to the proper officer in FORM GST DRC-03 in accordance with sub-section (5) of section 73 or sub-section (5) of section 74 of the CGST Act, as the case may be, read with sub-rule (2) of rule 142 of the CGST Rules. In such cases, the need for serving a demand notice for recovery of ineligible ITC will be obviated. In any case, the proper officer shall order for the rejected amount to be re-credited to the electronic credit ledger of the applicant using FORM GST PMT-03, only after the receipt of an undertaking from the applicant to the effect that he shall not file an appeal or in case he files an appeal, the same is finally decided against the applicant.

22. In case of rejection of a claim for refund, on account of any reason other than the ineligibility of credit, the process described in para 20 and 21 above shall be followed with the only difference that there shall be no proceedings for the recovery of ineligible ITC under section 73 or section 74, as the case may be.

23. Consider an example where against a refund claim of unutilized/accumulated ITC of ₹ 100/-, only ₹ 80/- is sanctioned (₹ 15/- is rejected on account of ineligible ITC and ₹ 5/- is rejected on account of any other reason). As stated above, a show cause notice, in FORM GST

RFD-08 shall have to be issued to the applicant, requiring him to show cause as to why the refund claim amounting to ₹ 20/- should not be rejected under the relevant provisions of the law and why the ineligible ITC of ₹ 15/- should not be recovered under section 73 or section 74, as the case may be, with interest and penalty, if any. If the said notice is decided against the applicant, ₹ 15/-, along with interest and penalty, if any, shall be entered by the officer in the electronic liability register of the applicant through issuance of FORM GST DRC-07. Further, ₹ 20/- would be re-credited through FORM GST PMT-03 only after the receipt of an undertaking from the applicant to the effect that he shall not file an appeal or in case he files an appeal, the same is finally decided against the applicant.

24. Continuing with the above example, assume that the applicant files an appeal against this order and the Appellate Authority decides wholly in the applicant's favour. It is hereby clarified in such a case the petitioner would file a fresh refund claim for the said amount of ₹ 20 under the option of claiming refund "On Account of Assessment/Provisional Assessment/Appeal/ Any other order".

25. It has been represented that while filing the return in FORM GSTR-3B for a given tax period, certain registered persons committed errors in declaring the export of services on payment of integrated tax or zero-rated supplies made to a Special Economic Zone developer or a Special Economic Zone unit on payment of integrated tax. They have shown such supplies in the Table under column 3.1(a) instead of showing them in column 3.1(b) of FORM GSTR-3B whilst they have shown the correct details in Table 6A or 6B of FORM GSTR-1 for the relevant tax period and duly discharged their tax liabilities. Such registered persons were earlier unable to file the refund application in FORM GST RFD-01A for refund of integrated tax paid on the export of services or on supplies made to a SEZ developer or a SEZ unit on the GST common portal because of an in-built validation check in the system which restricted the refund amount claimed (integrated tax/cess) to the amount of integrated tax/cess mentioned under column 3.1(b) of FORM GSTR-3B (zero rated supplies) filed for the corresponding tax period.

26. In this regard, it is clarified that for the tax periods commencing from 01.07.2017 to 30.06.2019, such registered persons shall be allowed to file the refund application in FORM GST RFD-01 on the common portal subject to the condition that the amount of refund of integrated tax/cess claimed shall not be more than the aggregate amount of integrated tax/cess mentioned in the Table under columns 3.1(a), 3.1(b) and 3.1(c) of FORM GSTR-3B filed for the corresponding tax period.

Disbursal of refunds

27. Separate disbursement of refund amounts under different tax heads by different tax authorities, i.e., disbursement of Central tax, Integrated tax and Compensation Cess by Central tax officers and disbursement of State tax by State tax officers, was causing undue hardship to the refund applicants. In order to facilitate refund of such applicants, on this account, it has now been decided that for a refund application assigned to a Central tax officer, both the sanction order (FORM GSTRFD-04/06) and the corresponding payment order (FORM GST RFD-05) for the sanctioned refund amount, under all tax heads, shall be issued by the Central tax officer only. Similarly, for refund applications assigned to a State/UT tax officer, both the sanction order (FORM GST RFD-04/06) and the corresponding payment order (FORM GST RFD-05) for the sanctioned refund amount, under all tax heads, shall be issued by the State/UT tax officer only.

28. The sanctioned refund amounts, as entered in the payment orders issued by the Central and State/UT tax officers, shall be disbursed through the Public Financial Management System (PFMS) of the Controller General of Accounts (CGA), Ministry of Finance, Government of India. On filing a refund application in FORM GST RFD-01, the common portal shall generate a master file for the applicant containing the relevant details like name, GSTIN, bank account details, etc. This master file shall be shared with PFMS for validation of the bank account details provided by the applicant in the refund application. Once the bank account is validated, PFMS will create a unique assessee code (a combination of GSTIN + validated bank account number) for the applicant. This unique assessee code will be used by PFMS for all refund payments made to the applicant in the said bank account. Therefore, in order to avoid repeat validations and generation of multiple unique assessee codes for the same GSTIN, it is advisable for the applicants to enter the same bank account details in successive refund applications submitted in FORM GST RFD-01. In cases where an applicant wishes to avail the refund in a different bank account, which has not yet been validated, a new unique assessee code (comprising GSTIN + new bank account) will be generated by PFMS after validation of the said bank account.

29. If the bank account details mentioned by an applicant in the refund application submitted in FORM GST RFD-01 are invalidated, an error message shall be transmitted by PFMS to the common portal electronically and the common portal shall make the error message available to the applicant and the refund officers on their dashboards. On receiving such an error message, an applicant can:

- (a) rectify the invalidated bank account details by filing a non-core amendment in FORM GST REG-14; or
- (b) add a new bank account by filing a non-core amendment in FORM GST REG-14

30. The updated bank account details will be reflected in a drop-down menu on the dashboard. From this drop-down menu, the applicant can choose any bank account, including the ones rectified (option (a)) or newly added (option (b)), from the list of bank accounts available in his registration database. The chosen bank account details will again be sent to PFMS for validation. The proper officer will be able to issue the payment order in FORM GST RFD-05 only after the selected bank account has been validated.

31. By following the above process, validation errors, if any, will generally be corrected before the issuance of payment order in FORM GST RFD-05. Therefore, there should generally not be any validation errors after issuance of a payment order in FORM GST RFD-05. However, it is possible that in some exceptional cases, a validation error might occur after issuance of the payment order. In such cases, the said payment order will be invalidated by the common portal and a new payment order will have to be issued by the proper officer after following the rectification process described in paras 29 and 30 above. The re-issued payment order will have a new reference number and shall contain the newly selected bank account details. However, there will be no change in either the original ARN or the sanction order number or the amount for which the payment order was originally issued.

32. It may be noted that the applicant, at the time of filing of refund application in FORM GST RFD-01, can select a bank account only from the list of bank accounts provided by him at the time of registration in FORM GST REG-01, or subsequently through filing a non-core amendment in FORM GST REG-14. The same account details will be auto-populated in the payment order issued in FORM GST RFD-05. Any change in these auto-populated bank account details shall not be allowed unless there is a validation error in relation to the same.

33. The disbursement status of the refund amount would be communicated by PFMS to the common portal. The common portal shall notify the same to the taxpayer by email/SMS. Such details shall also be available on the status tracking facility on the dashboard.

34. Section 56 of the CGST Act clearly states that if any tax ordered to be refunded is not refunded within 60 days of the date of receipt of application, interest at the rate of 6 per cent (notified vide notification No. 13/2017-Central Tax dated 28.06.2017) on the refund amount starting from the date immediately after the expiry of sixty days from the date of receipt of application (ARN) till the date of refund of such tax shall have to be paid to the applicant. It may be noted that any tax shall be considered to have been refunded only when the amount has been credited to the bank account of the applicant. Therefore, interest will be calculated starting from the date immediately after the expiry of sixty days from the date of receipt of the application till the date on which the amount is credited to the bank account of the applicant. Accordingly, all tax authorities are advised to issue the final sanction order in FORM GST RFD-06 and the payment order in FORM GST RFD-05 within 45 days of the date of generation of ARN, so that the disbursement is completed within 60 days.

35. The provisions relating to refund provide for partial as well as complete adjustment of refund against any outstanding demand under GST or under any existing law. It is hereby clarified that both partial or complete adjustment of sanctioned amount of refund against any outstanding demand under GST or under any existing law would be made in FORM GST RFD-06. Furthermore, sub-clause (b) of sub-section (6), sub-clause (a) of sub-section (7), sub-clause (a) of sub-section (8) and sub-clause (a) of sub-section (9) of Section 142 of the CGST Act provides for recovery of any tax, interest, fine, penalty or any other amount recoverable under the existing law as an arrear of tax under GST unless such amount is recovered under the existing law. It is hereby clarified that adjustment of refund amount against any outstanding demand under the existing law can be done.

Guidelines for refunds of unutilized Input Tax Credit

36. Applicants of refunds of unutilized ITC, i.e., refunds pertaining to items listed at (a), (c) and (e) in para 3 above, shall have to upload a copy of FORM GSTR-2A for the relevant period (or any prior or subsequent period(s) in which the relevant invoices have been auto-populated) for which the refund is claimed. The proper officer shall rely upon FORM GSTR-2A as an evidence of the accountability of the supply by the corresponding supplier(s) in relation to which the input tax credit has been availed by the applicant. Such applicants shall also upload the details of all the invoices on the basis of which input tax credit has been availed during the relevant period for which the refund is being claimed, in the format enclosed as Annexure-B along with the application for refund claim. Such availment of ITC will be subject to restriction imposed under sub-rule (4) in rule 36 of the CGST rules inserted vide Notification No. 49/2019-CT dated 09.10.2019. The applicant shall also declare the eligibility or otherwise of the input tax credit availed against the invoices related to the claim period in the said format for enabling the proper officer to determine the same. Self-certified copies of invoices in relation to which the refund of ITC is being claimed and which are declared as eligible for ITC in Annexure – B, but which are not populated in FORM GSTR-2A, shall be uploaded by the applicant along with the application in FORM GST RFD 01. It is emphasized that the proper officer shall not insist on the submission of an invoice (either original or duplicate) the details of which are available in FORM GSTR-2A of the relevant period uploaded by the applicant.

37. In case of refunds pertaining to items listed at (a), (c) and (e) in para 3 above, the common portal calculates the refundable amount as the least of the following amounts:

- a) The maximum refund amount as per the formula in rule 89(4) or rule 89(5) of the CGST Rules [formula is applied on the consolidated amount of ITC, i.e. Central tax + State tax/Union Territory tax + Integrated tax];
- b) The balance in the electronic credit ledger of the applicant at the end of the tax period for which the refund claim is being filed after the return in FORM GSTR-3B for the said period has been filed; and
- c) The balance in the electronic credit ledger of the applicant at the time of filing the refund application.

After calculating the least of the three amounts, as detailed above, the equivalent amount is to be debited from the electronic credit ledger of the applicant in the following order:

- a) Integrated tax, to the extent of balance available;
- b) Central tax and State tax/Union Territory tax, equally to the extent of balance available and in the event of a shortfall in the balance available in a particular electronic credit ledger (say, Central tax), the differential amount is to be debited from the other electronic credit ledger (i.e., State tax/Union Territory tax, in this case).

38. The order of debit described above, however, is not presently available on the common portal. Till the time such facility is made available on the common portal, the taxpayers are advised to follow the order as explained above for all refund applications. However, for applications where this order is not adhered to by the applicant, no adverse view may be taken by the tax authorities. The above system validations are being clarified so that there is no ambiguity in relation to the process through which an application in FORM GST RFD-01 is generated.

39. For all refund applications where refund of unutilized ITC of compensation cess is being claimed, the calculation of the refundable amount of compensation cess shall be done separately and the amount so calculated will be entirely debited from the balance of compensation cess available in the electronic credit ledger.

40. The third proviso to sub-section (3) of section 54 of the CGST Act states that no refund of input tax credit shall be allowed in cases where the supplier of goods or services or both avails drawback in respect of Central tax. It is clarified that if a supplier avails drawback in respect of duties rebated under the Customs and Central Excise Duties Drawback Rules, 2017, he shall be eligible for refund of unutilized input tax credit of Central tax/ State tax/ Union Territory tax / Integrated tax/ Compensation cess. It is also clarified that refund of eligible credit on account of State tax shall be available if the supplier of goods or services or both has availed drawback in respect of Central tax.

Guidelines for refund of tax paid on deemed exports

41. Certain supplies of goods have been notified as deemed exports vide Notification No.48/2017-Central Tax dated 18.10.2017 under section 147 of the CGST Act. Further, the third proviso to rule 89(1) of the CGST Rules allows either the recipient or the supplier to apply for refund of tax paid on such deemed export supplies. In case such refund is sought by the supplier of deemed export supplies, the documentary evidences as specified in notification No. 49/2017-Central Tax dated 18.10.2017 are also required to be furnished, which includes an undertaking that the recipient of deemed export supplies shall not claim the refund in respect of such supplies and shall not avail any input tax credit on such supplies. Similarly, in case the refund is filed by the recipient of deemed export supplies, an undertaking shall have to be furnished by him stating that refund has been claimed only for those invoices which have been detailed in statement 5B for the tax period for which refund is being claimed and ~~that he has not availed input tax credit on such invoices~~ [the amount does not exceed the amount of input tax credit availed in the valid return filed for the said tax period.] Amended by Circular No. 147/2021. The recipient shall also be required to declare that the supplier has not claimed refund with respect to the said supplies. The procedure regarding procurement of supplies of goods from DTA by Export Oriented Unit (EOU) / Electronic Hardware Technology Park (EHTP) Unit / Software Technology Park (STP) Unit / Bio-Technology Parks (BTP) Unit under deemed export as laid down in Circular No. 14/14/2017-GST dated 06.11.2017 needs to be complied with.

Guidelines for claims of refund of Compensation Cess

42. Doubts have been raised whether a registered person is eligible to claim refund of unutilized input tax credit of compensation cess paid on inputs, where the zero-rated final product is not leviable to compensation cess. For instance, cess is levied on coal, which is an input for the manufacture of aluminium products, whereas cess is not levied on aluminium products. In this context, attention is invited to section 16(2) of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (hereafter referred to as the "IGST Act") which states that, subject to the provisions of section 17(5) of the CGST Act, credit of input tax may be availed for making zero rated supplies. Further, section 16 of the IGST Act has been mutatis mutandis made applicable to inter-State supplies under the Cess Act vide section 11 (2) of the Cess Act. Thus, it implies that input tax credit of Compensation Cess may be availed for making zero-rated supplies. Further, by virtue of section 54(3) of the CGST Act, the refund of such unutilized ITC shall be available. Accordingly, it is clarified that a registered person making zero rated supply of aluminium products under bond or LUT may claim refund of unutilized credit including that of compensation cess paid on coal. Such registered persons may also make zero-rated supply of aluminium products on payment of Integrated tax but they cannot utilize the credit of the compensation cess paid on coal for payment of Integrated tax in view of the proviso to section 11(2) of the Cess Act, which allows the utilization of the input tax credit of cess, only for the payment of cess on the outward supplies.

43. Regarding issues related to the refund of accumulated input tax credit of compensation cess on account of zero-rated supplies made under Bond/Letter of Undertaking on which clarifications have been sought since GST roll out, the same have been examined and are clarified as below:

- a) Issue: A registered person uses inputs on which compensation cess is leviable (e.g. coal) to export goods on which there is no levy of compensation cess (e.g. aluminium). For the period July 2017 to May 2018, no ITC is availed of the compensation cess paid on the inputs received during this period. ITC is only availed of the Central tax, State tax/Union Territory tax or Integrated tax charged on the invoices for these inputs. This ITC is utilized for payment of Integrated tax on export of goods. Vide Circular No. 45/19/2018-GST dated 30.05.2018, it was clarified that refund of accumulated ITC of compensation cess on account of zero-rated supplies made under Bond/Letter of Undertaking is available even if the exported product is not subject to levy of cess. After the issuance of this Circular, the registered person decides to start exporting under bond/LUT without payment of tax. He also decides to avail (through the return in FORM GSTR-3B) the ITC of compensation cess, paid on the inputs used in the months of July 2017 to May 2018, in the month of July 2018. The registered person then goes on to file a refund claim for ITC accumulated on account of exports for the month of July 2018 and includes the said accumulated ITC for the month of July 2018. How should the amount of compensation cess to be refunded calculated?

Clarification: In the instant case, refund on account of compensation cess is to be recomputed as if the same was available in the respective months in which the refund of unutilized credit of Central tax/State tax/Union Territory tax/Integrated tax was claimed on account of exports made under LUT/Bond. If the aggregate of these recomputed amounts of refund of compensation cess is less than or equal to the eligible refund of compensation cess calculated in respect of the month in which the same has actually been claimed, then the aggregate of the recomputed refund of compensation cess of the respective months would be admissible. However, the recomputed amount of eligible refund (of compensation cess) in respect of past periods, as aforesaid, would not be admissible in respect of consignments exported on payment of Integrated tax. This process would be applicable for application(s) for refund of compensation cess (not claimed earlier) in respect of the past period.

- b) Issue: A registered person uses coal for the captive generation of electricity which is further used for the manufacture of goods (say aluminium) which are exported under Bond/Letter of Undertaking without payment of duty. Refund claim is filed for accumulated Input Tax Credit of compensation cess paid on coal. Can the said refund claim be rejected on the ground that coal is used for the generation of electricity which is an intermediate product and not the final product which is exported, and since electricity is exempt from GST, the ITC of the tax paid on coal for generation of electricity is not available?

Clarification: There is no distinction between intermediate goods or services and final goods or services under GST. Inputs have been clearly defined to include any goods other than capital goods used or intended to be used by a supplier in the course or furtherance of business. Since coal is an input used in the production of aluminium, albeit indirectly through the captive generation of electricity, which is directly connected with the business of the registered person, input tax credit in relation to the same cannot be denied.

- c) Issue: A registered person avails ITC of compensation cess (say, of ₹ 100/-) paid on purchases of coal every month. At the same time, he reverses a certain proportion (say, half i.e., ₹ 50/-) of the ITC of compensation cess so availed on purchases of coal which are used in making zero rated outward supplies. Both these details are entered in the FORM GSTR-3B filed for the month as a result of which an amount of ₹ 50/- only is credited in the electronic credit ledger. The reversed amount (₹ 50/-) is then shown as a 'cost' in the books of accounts of the registered person. However, the registered person declares ₹ 100/- as 'Net ITC' and uses the same in calculating the maximum refund amount which works out to be ₹ 50/- (assuming that export turnover is half of total turnover). Since both the balance in the electronic credit ledger at the end of the tax period for which the claim of refund is being filed and the balance in the electronic credit ledger at the time of filing the refund claim is ₹ 50/- (assuming that no other debits/credits have happened), the common portal will proceed to debit ₹ 50/- from the ledger as the claimed refund amount. The question is whether the proper officer should sanction ₹ 50/- as the refund amount or ₹ 25/- (i.e.. half of the ITC availed after adjusting for reversals)?

Clarification: ITC which is reversed cannot be held to have been 'availed' in the relevant period. Therefore, the same cannot be part of refund of unutilized ITC on account of zero-rated supplies. Moreover, the reversed ITC has been accounted as a cost which would have reduced the income tax liability of the applicant. Therefore, the same amount cannot, at the same time, be refunded to him/her in the ratio of export turnover to total turnover. However, if the said reversed amount is again availed in a later tax period, subject to the restriction under section 16(4) of the CGST Act, it can be refunded in the ratio of export turnover to total turnover in that tax period in the same manner as detailed in para 37 above. This is subject to the restriction that the accounting entry showing the said ITC as cost is also reversed.

Clarifications on issues related to zero-rated supplies

44. Export of goods or services can be made without payment of Integrated tax under the provisions of rule 96A of the CGST Rules. Under the said provisions, an exporter is required to furnish a bond or Letter of Undertaking (LUT) to the jurisdictional Commissioner before effecting zero rated supplies. A detailed procedure for filing of LUT has been specified vide Circular No. 8/8/2017-GST dated 4.10.2017. It has been brought to the notice of the Board that in some cases, such zero-rated supplies were made before filing the LUT and refund claims for unutilized input tax credit got filed. In this regard, it is emphasized that the substantive benefits of zero rating may not be denied where it has been established that exports in terms of the relevant provisions have been made. The delay in furnishing a LUT in such cases may be condoned and the facility for export under LUT may be allowed on ex post facto basis taking into account the facts and circumstances of each case.

45. Rule 96A (1) of the CGST Rules provides that any registered person may export goods or services without payment of Integrated tax after furnishing a LUT / bond and that he would be liable to pay the tax due along with the interest as applicable within a period of fifteen days after the expiry of three months or such further period as may be allowed by the Commissioner from the date of issue of the invoice for export, if the goods are not exported out of India. The time period in case of services is fifteen days after the expiry of one year or such further period as may be allowed by the Commissioner from the date of issue of the invoice for export, if the payment of such services is not received by the exporter in convertible foreign exchange. It has been reported that the exporters have been asked to pay Integrated tax where the goods have been exported but not within three months from the date of the issue of the invoice for export. In this regard, it is emphasized that exports have been zero rated under the IGST Act and as long as goods have actually been exported even after a period of three months, payment of Integrated tax first and claiming refund at a subsequent date should not be insisted upon. In such cases, the jurisdictional Commissioner may consider granting extension of time limit for export as provided in the said sub-rule on post facto basis keeping in view the facts and circumstances of each case. The same principle should be followed in case of export of services.

46. It is learnt that some field formations are asking for a self-declaration with every refund claim to the effect that the applicant has not been prosecuted. The facility of export under LUT is available to all exporters in terms of Notification No. 37/2017- Central Tax dated 04.10.2017, except to those who have been prosecuted for any offence under the CGST Act or the IGST Act or any of the existing laws in force in a case where the amount of tax evaded exceeds two hundred and fifty lakh rupees. Para 2(d) of the Circular No. 8/8/2017-GST dated 04.10.2017, states that a person intending to export under LUT is required to give a self-declaration at the time of submission of LUT that he has not been prosecuted. Persons who are not eligible to export under LUT are required to export under a bond. It is clarified that this requirement is already satisfied in case of exports under LUT and asking for self-declaration with every refund claim where the exports have been made under LUT is not warranted.

47. It has also been brought to the notice of the Board that in certain cases where the refund of unutilized input tax credit on account of export of goods is claimed and the value declared in the tax invoice is different from the export value declared in the corresponding shipping bill under the Customs Act, refund claims are not being processed. The matter has been examined and it is clarified that the zero-rated supply of goods is effected under the provisions of the GST laws. An exporter, at the time of supply of goods declares that the goods are meant for export and the same is done under an invoice issued under rule 46 of the CGST Rules. The value recorded in the GST invoice should normally be the transaction value as determined under section 15 of the CGST Act read with the rules made thereunder. The same transaction value should normally be recorded in the corresponding shipping bill / bill of export. During the processing of the refund claim, the value of the goods declared in the GST invoice and the value in the corresponding shipping bill / bill of export should be examined and the lower of the two values should be taken into account while calculating the eligible amount of refund.

48. It is clarified that the realization of consideration in convertible foreign exchange, or in Indian rupees wherever permitted by the Reserve Bank of India, is one of the conditions for export of services. In case of export of goods, realization of consideration is not a pre-condition. In rule 89 (2) of the CGST Rules, a statement containing the number and date of invoices and the relevant Bank Realization Certificates (BRC) or Foreign Inward Remittance Certificates (FIRC) is required in case of export of services whereas in case of export of goods a statement containing the number and date of shipping bills or bills of export and the number and the date of the relevant export invoices is required to be submitted along with the claim for refund. It is therefore clarified that insistence on proof of realization of export proceeds for processing of refund claims related to export of goods has not been envisaged in the law and should not be insisted upon.

49. As per section 16(2) of the IGST Act, credit of input tax may be availed for making zero rated supplies, notwithstanding that such supply is an exempt supply. In terms of section 2 (47) of the CGST Act, exempt supply includes non-taxable supply. Further, as per section 16(3) of the IGST Act, a registered person making zero rated supply shall be eligible to claim refund when he either makes supply of goods or services or both under bond or letter of undertaking (LUT) or makes such supply on payment of Integrated tax. However, in the case of zero-rated supply of exempted or non-GST goods, the requirement for furnishing a bond or LUT cannot be insisted upon. It is thus clarified that in respect of refund claims on account of export of non-GST and exempted goods without payment of Integrated tax, LUT/bond is not required. Such registered persons exporting non-GST goods shall comply with the requirements prescribed under the existing law (i.e., the Central Excise Act, 1944 or the VAT law of the respective State) or under the Customs Act, 1962, if any. Further, the exporter would be eligible for refund of unutilized input tax credit of the Central tax, State tax, Union Territory tax, Integrated tax and compensation cess in such cases.

Refund of transitional credit

50. Refund of unutilized input tax credit is allowed in two scenarios mentioned in sub-section

(3) of section 54 of the CGST Act. These are zero rated supplies made without payment of tax and inverted tax structure. In sub-rule (4) and (5) of rule 89 of the CGST Rules, the amount of refund under these scenarios is to be calculated using the formulae given in the said sub-rules. The formulae use the phrase 'Net ITC' and defines the same as "input tax credit availed on inputs and input services during the relevant period other than the input tax credit availed for which refund is claimed under sub-rules (4A) or (4B) or both". It is clarified that as the transitional credit pertains to duties and taxes paid under the existing laws viz., under the Central Excise Act, 1944 and Chapter V of the Finance Act, 1994, the same cannot be said to have been availed during the relevant period and thus cannot be treated as part of 'Net ITC' and thus no refund of such unutilized transitional credit is admissible.

Restrictions imposed by sub-rule (10) of rule 96 of the CGST Rules

51. Sub-rule (10) of rule 96 of the CGST Rules restricted exporters from availing the facility of claiming refund of Integrated tax paid on exports in certain scenarios. It was intended that exporters availing benefit of certain notifications would not be eligible to avail the facility of such refund. However, representations were received requesting that exporters who have received capital goods under the Export Promotion Capital Goods Scheme (hereinafter referred to as "EPCG Scheme"), should be allowed to avail the facility of claiming refund of the Integrated tax paid on exports. GST Council, in its 30th meeting held in New Delhi on 28th September, 2018, accorded approval to the proposal of suitably amending the said sub-rule along with sub-rule (4B) of rule 89 of the CGST Rules prospectively in order to enable such exporters to avail the said facility. Notification No. 54/2018 – Central Tax dated the 9th October, 2018 was issued to carry out the changes recommended by the GST Council. In addition, notification No. 39/2018-Central Tax dated 4th September, 2018 was rescinded vide Notification No. 53/2018 – Central Tax dated the 9th October, 2018.

52. The net effect of these changes is that any exporter who imported any inputs/capital goods in terms of Notification Nos. 78/2017-Customs and 79/2017-Customs both dated 13.10.2017, before the issuance of the notification No. 54/2018 – Central Tax dated 09.10.2018, shall be eligible to claim refund of the Integrated tax paid on exports. Further, exporters who have imported inputs in terms of Notification Nos. 78/2017-Customs dated 13.10.2017, after the issuance of Notification No. 54/2018 – Central Tax dated 09.10.2018, would not be eligible to claim refund of Integrated tax paid on exports. However, exporters who are receiving capital goods under the EPCG scheme, either through import in terms of notification No. 79/2017-Customs dated 13.10. 2017 or through domestic procurement in terms of Notification No. 48/2017-Central Tax, dated 18.10.2017, shall continue to be eligible to claim refund of Integrated tax paid on exports and would not be hit by the restrictions provided in sub-rule (10) of rule 96 of the CGST Rules.

Clarification on calculation of refund amount for claim of refund of accumulated ITC on account of inverted tax structure

53. Sub-section (3) of section 54 of the CGST Act provides that refund of any unutilized ITC may be claimed where the credit has accumulated on account of rate of tax on inputs being higher than the rate of tax on output supplies (other than nil rated or fully exempt supplies). Further, sub-section (59) of section 2 of the CGST Act defines inputs as any goods other than capital goods used or intended to be used by a supplier in the course or furtherance of business. Thus, inputs do not include services or capital goods. Therefore, clearly, the intent of the law is not to allow refund of tax paid on input services or capital goods as part of refund of unutilized input tax credit. It is clarified that both the law and the related rules clearly prevent the refund of tax paid on input services and capital goods as part of refund of input tax credit accumulated on account of inverted tax structure.

54. There have been instances where while processing the refund of unutilized ITC on account of inverted tax structure, some of the tax authorities denied the refund of ITC of GST paid on those inputs which are procured at equal or lower rate of GST than the rate of GST on outward supply, by not including the amount of such ITC while calculating the maximum refund amount as specified in rule 89(5) of the CGST Rules. The matter has been examined and the following issues are clarified:

- (a) Refund of unutilized ITC in case of inverted tax structure, as provided in section 54(3) of the CGST Act, is available where ITC remains unutilized even after setting off of available ITC for paying output tax liability. Where there are multiple inputs attracting different rates of tax, in the formula provided in rule 89(5) of the CGST Rules, the term "Net ITC" covers the ITC availed on all inputs in the relevant period, irrespective of their rate of tax.
- (b) The calculation of refund of accumulated ITC on account of inverted tax structure, in cases where several inputs are used in supplying the final product/output, can be clearly understood with the help of following example:
 - i. Suppose a manufacturing process involves the use of an input A (attracting 5 per cent GST) and input B (attracting 18 per cent GST) to manufacture output Y (attracting 12 per cent GST).
 - ii. The refund of accumulated ITC in the situation at (i) above, will be available under section 54(3) of the CGST Act read with rule 89(5) of the CGST Rules, which prescribes the formula for the maximum refund amount permissible in such situations.
 - iii. Further assume that the applicant supplies the output Y having value of ₹ 3,000/- during the relevant period for which the refund is being claimed. Therefore, the turnover of inverted rated supply of goods and services will be ₹ 3,000/-. Since the applicant has no other outward supplies, his adjusted total turnover will also be ₹ 3,000/-.
 - iv. If we assume that Input A, having value of ₹ 500/- and Input B, having value of ₹ 2,000/-, have been purchased in the relevant period for the manufacture of Y, then Net ITC shall be equal to ₹ 385/- (₹ 25/- and ₹ 360/- on Input A and Input B respectively).

- v. Therefore, multiplying Net ITC by the ratio of turnover of inverted rated supply of goods and services to the adjusted total turnover will give the figure of ₹ 385/-.
- vi. From this, if we deduct the tax payable on such inverted rated supply of goods or services, which is ₹ 360/-, we get the maximum refund amount, as per rule 89(5) of the CGST Rules which is ₹ 25/-.

Refund of TDS/TCS deposited in excess

55. Tax deducted in accordance with the provisions of section 51 of the CGST Act or tax collected in accordance with the provisions of section 52 of the CGST Act is required to be paid while discharging the liability in FORM GSTR 7 or FORM GSTR 8, as the case may be, by the deductor or the collector, as the case may be.

Circular No. 166/22/2021-GST dt. 17th Nov, 2021

Q. Whether refund of TDS/TCS deposited in electronic cash ledger under the provisions of section 51 /52 of the CGST Act can be refunded as excess balance in the cash ledger?

A. The amount deducted/collected as TDS/TCS by TDS/ TCS deductors under the provisions of section 51 /52 of the CGST Act, as the case may be, and credited to the electronic cash ledger of the registered person, is equivalent to cash deposited in the electronic cash ledger. It is not mandatory for the registered person to utilise the TDS/TCS amount credited to his electronic cash ledger only for the purpose of discharging tax liability. The registered person is at full liberty to discharge his tax liability in respect of the supplies made by him during a tax period, either through debit in electronic credit ledger or through debit in electronic cash ledger, as per his choice and availability of balance in the said ledgers.

Any amount, which remains unutilized in the electronic cash ledger, after discharge of tax dues and other dues payable under CGST Act and rules made thereunder, can be refunded to the registered person as excess balance in the electronic cash ledger in accordance with the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 54, read with sub-section (6) of section 49 of the CGST Act.

56. It has been reported that, there are instances where taxes so deducted or collected are deposited under the wrong head (e.g. an amount deducted as Central tax is deposited as Integrated tax/State tax), thereby creating excess balance in the cash ledger of the deductor or the collector as the case may be. Doubts have been raised about the fate of this excess balance of TDS/TCS in the cash ledger of the deductor or the collector. It is clarified that such excess balance may be claimed by the tax deductor or the collector as the excess balance in the electronic cash ledger. In this case, the common portal would debit the amount so claimed as refund. However, in case where tax deducted or collected in excess is also paid while discharging the liability in FORM GSTR 7 or FORM GSTR 8, as the case may be, and the said amount has been credited to the electronic cash ledger of the deductee, the deductee can adjust the same while discharging his output liability or he can claim refund of the same under the category "refund of excess balance in the electronic cash ledger".

Debit of electronic credit ledger using FORM GST DRC-03

57. Various representations have been received seeking clarifications on certain refund related issues, the solutions to which involve debiting the electronic credit ledger using FORM GST DRC-03. These issues are clarified as under:

Sl. No.	Issue	Clarification
1	Certain registered persons have reversed, through return in FORM GSTR-3B filed for the month of August 2018 or for a subsequent month, the accumulated input tax credit (ITC) required to be lapsed in terms of notification No. 20/2018-Central Tax (Rate) dated 26.07.2018 read with Circular No. 56/30/2018-GST dated 24.08.2018 (hereinafter referred to as the "said notification"). Some of these registered persons, who have attempted to claim refund of accumulated ITC on account of inverted tax structure for the same period in which the ITC required to be lapsed in terms of the said notification has been reversed, are not able to claim refund of accumulated ITC to the extent to which they are so eligible. This is because of a validation check on the common portal which prevents the value of input tax credit in Statement 1A of FORM GST RFD-01A from being higher than the amount of ITC availed in FORM GSTR-3B of the relevant period minus the value of ITC reversed in the same period. This results in registered persons being unable to claim the full amount of refund of accumulated ITC on account of inverted tax structure to which they might be otherwise eligible. What is the solution to this problem?	a) As a one-time measure to resolve this issue, refund of accumulated ITC on account of inverted tax structure, for the period(s) in which there is reversal of the ITC required (to be lapsed in terms of the said notification, is to be claimed under the category "any other" instead of under the category "refund of unutilized ITC on account of accumulation due to inverted tax structure" in FORM GST RFD-01A. It is emphasized that this application for refund should relate to the same tax period in which such reversal has been made. b) The application shall be accompanied by all statements, declarations, undertakings and other documents which are statutorily required to be submitted with a "refund claim of unutilized ITC on account of accumulation due to inverted tax structure". On receiving the said application, the proper officer shall himself calculate the refund amount admissible as per rule 89(5) of the Central Goods and Services Tax Rules, 2017 (hereinafter referred to as "CGST Rules"), in the manner detailed in para 37 above. After calculating the admissible refund amount, as described above, and scrutinizing the application for completeness and eligibility, if the proper officer is satisfied that the

It is hereby clarified that all those registered persons required to make the reversal in terms of the said notification and who have not yet done so, may reverse the said amount through FORM GST DRC-03 instead of through FORM GSTR-3B .

Refund of Integrated Tax paid on Exports

58. The refund of Integrated tax paid on goods exported out of India is governed by rule 96 of the CGST Rules. The shipping bill filed by an exporter is deemed to be an application for refund in such cases, but the same is deemed to have been filed only when the export manifest or export report is filed and the applicant has filed the return in FORM GSTR-3B for the relevant period duly indicating the integrated tax paid on goods exported in Table 3.1(b) of FORM-GSTR-3B. In addition, the exporter is expected to furnish the details of the exported goods in Table 6A of FORM GSTR-1 of the relevant period. Only where the common portal is able to validate the consistency of the details so entered by the applicant, the relevant information regarding the refund claim is forwarded to the Customs Systems. Upon receipt of the information from the common portal regarding the furnishing of these details, the Customs Systems processes the claim for refund and an amount equal to the Integrated tax paid in respect of such export is electronically credited to the bank account of the applicant.

Clarifications on other issues

59. Notification No. 40/2017 – Central Tax (Rate) and Notification No. 41/2017 – Integrated Tax (Rate) both dated 23.10.2017 provide for supplies for exports at a concessional rate of 0.05% and 0.1% respectively, subject to certain conditions specified in the said notifications. It is clarified that the benefit of supplies at concessional rate is subject to certain conditions and the said benefit is optional. The option may or may not be availed by the supplier and / or the recipient and the goods may be procured at the normal applicable tax rate. It is also clarified that the exporter will be eligible to take credit of the tax @ 0.05% / 0.1% paid by him. The supplier who supplies goods at the concessional rate is also eligible for refund on account of inverted tax structure as per the provisions of clause (ii) of the first proviso to sub-section (3) of section 54 of the CGST Act. It may also be noted that the exporter of such goods can export the goods only under LUT / bond and cannot export on payment of Integrated tax.

60. Sub-section (14) of section 54 of the CGST Act provides that no refund under subsection (5) or sub-section (6) of section 54 of the CGST Act shall be paid to an applicant, if the amount is less than one thousand rupees. In this regard, it is clarified that the limit of rupees one thousand shall be applied for each tax head separately and not cumulatively.

61. Presently, ITC is reflected in the electronic credit ledger on the basis of the amount of the ITC availed on self-declaration basis in FORM GSTR-3B for a particular tax period. It may happen that the goods purchased against a particular tax invoice issued in a particular month, say August 2018, may be declared in the FORM GSTR-3B filed for a subsequent month, say September 2018. This is inevitable in cases where the supplier raises an invoice, say in August 2018, and the goods reach the recipient's premises in September 2018. Since GST law mandates that ITC can be availed only after the goods have been received, the recipient can only avail the ITC on such goods in the FORM GSTR-3B filed for the month of September 2018. However, it has been reported that tax authorities are excluding such invoices from the calculation of refund of unutilized ITC filed for the month of September 2018. In this regard, it is clarified that "Net ITC" as defined in rule 89(4) of the CGST Rules means input tax credit availed on inputs and input services during the relevant period. Relevant period means the period for which the refund claim has been filed. Input tax credit can be said to have been "availed" when it is entered into the electronic credit ledger of the registered person. Under the current dispensation, this happens when the said taxable person files his/her monthly return in FORM GSTR-3B. Further, section 16(4) of the CGST Act stipulates that ITC may be claimed on or before the due date of filing of the return for the month of September following the financial year to which the invoice pertains or the date of filing of annual return, whichever is earlier. Therefore, the input tax credit of invoices issued in August 2019 but "availed" in September 2019 cannot be excluded from the calculation of the refund amount for the month of September 2019.

62. It has been represented that on certain occasions, departmental officers do not consider ITC on stores and spares, packing materials, materials purchased for machinery repairs, printing and stationery items, as part of Net ITC on the grounds that these are not directly consumed in the manufacturing process and, therefore, do not qualify as input. There are also instances where stores and spares charged to revenue are considered as capital goods and therefore the ITC availed on them is not included in Net ITC, even though the value of these goods has not been capitalized in his books of account by the applicant. It is clarified that the ITC of the GST paid on inputs, including inward supplies of stores and spares, packing materials etc., shall be available as ITC as long as these inputs are used for the purpose of the business and/or for effecting taxable supplies, including zero-rated supplies and the ITC for such inputs is not restricted under section 17(5) of the CGST Act. Further, capital goods have been clearly defined in section 2(19) of the CGST Act as goods whose value has been capitalized in the books of account and which are used or intended to be used in the course or furtherance of business. Stores and spares, the expenditure on which has been charged as a revenue expense in the books of account, cannot be held to be capital goods.

NOTE:

Modifications in Circular No. 125/44/2019-GST (vide Circular No.135/05/2020 – GST dated 31/03/2020):

1. Bunching of refund claims across Financial Years:

Restriction on the clubbing of tax periods across financial years for claiming refund vide Paragraph 8 of Circular No. 125/44/2019-GST dated 18.11.2019 has been examined and it has been decided to remove the restriction on clubbing of tax periods across Financial Years.

2. Guidelines for refunds of Input Tax Credit under Section 54(3):

In terms of para 36 of circular No. 125/44/2019-GST dated 18.11.2019, the refund of ITC availed in respect of invoices not reflected in FORM GSTR-2A was also admissible and copies of such invoices were required to be uploaded. However, in the wake of insertion of sub-rule (4) to rule 36 of the CGST Rules, 2017 vide notification No. 49/2019-GST dated 09.10.2019, various references have been received from the field formations regarding admissibility of refund of the ITC availed on the invoices which are not being reflected in the FORM GSTR-2A of the applicant.

The matter has been examined and it has been decided that the refund of accumulated ITC shall be restricted to the ITC as per those invoices, the details of which are uploaded by the supplier in FORM GSTR-1 and reflected in the FORM GSTR-2A of the applicant. Accordingly, para 36 of Circular No. 125/44/2019-GST, dated 18.11.2019 stands modified to that extent.

Further, CBIC vide Circular No. 139/09/2020-GST dated 10-06-2020 has clarified that treatment of refund of ITC relating to imports, ISD invoices and the inward supplies liable to Reverse Charge (RCM supplies) will continue to be same as it was before the issuance of Circular No. 135/05/2020- GST, dated 31-03-2020.

3. Refund of accumulated input tax credit (ITC) on account of reduction in GST Rate:

Refund of accumulated ITC in terms of clause (ii) of sub-section (3) of section 54 of the CGST Act is available where the credit has accumulated on account of rate of tax on inputs being higher than the rate of tax on output supplies. Where the input and output being the same in such cases, though attracting different tax rates at different points in time, do not get covered under the provisions of clause (ii) of sub-section (3) of section 54 of the CGST Act. It is hereby clarified that refund of accumulated ITC under clause (ii) of sub-section (3) of section 54 of the CGST Act would not be applicable in cases where the input and output supplies are the same.

4. Guidelines for refunds of Input Tax Credit under Section 54(3)

It has been decided that the refund of accumulated ITC shall be restricted to the ITC as per those invoices, the details of which are uploaded by the supplier in FORM GSTR-1 and are reflected in the FORM GSTR-2A of the applicant. Accordingly, para 36 of the circular No. 125/44/2019-GST, dated 18.11.2019 stands modified to that extent.

Clarification in respect of refund claim by recipient of Deemed Export Supply

Para 41 of Circular No. 125/44/2019 – GST dated 18/11/2019 has placed a condition that the recipient of deemed export supplies for obtaining the refund of tax paid on such supplies shall submit an undertaking that he has not availed ITC on invoices for which refund has been claimed. It was clarified that there is no restriction under the 3rd proviso to Rule 89(1) of the CGST Rules, 2017 on the recipient of deemed export supply to claim refund of tax paid on such deemed export supply, and on availment of ITC on the tax paid on such supply.

Refund of Tax wrongfully collected and paid to Central Government or State Government

The term “subsequently held” in section 77 of CGST Act, 2017 or under section 19 of IGST Act, 2017 covers both the cases where the inter-State or intra-State supply made by a taxpayer, is either subsequently found by taxpayer himself as intra-State or inter-State respectively or where the inter-State or intra-State supply made by a taxpayer is subsequently found/ held as intra-State or inter-State respectively by the tax officer in any proceeding. Accordingly, refund claim under the said sections can be claimed by the taxpayer in both the above mentioned situations, provided the taxpayer pays the required amount of tax in the correct head.

An amendment in rule 89 of CGST Rules, 2017 clarifies that the refund under section 77 of CGST Act/ Section 19 of IGST Act, 2017 can be claimed before the expiry of two years from the date of payment of tax under the correct head, i.e., integrated tax paid in respect of subsequently held inter-State supply, or central and state tax in respect of subsequently held intra-State supply, as the case may be. However, in cases where the taxpayer has made the payment in the correct head before the date of issuance of Notification No.35/2021-Central Tax dated 24.09.2021, the refund application under section 77 of the CGST Act/ section 19 of the IGST Act can be filed before the expiry of two years from the date of issuance of the said notification. i.e., from 24.09.2021.

THE INTEGRATED GOODS AND SERVICES TAX ACT, 2017*

Statement of Objects and Reasons

Earlier, the States effecting inter-State sale of goods were empowered to collect and retain central sales tax (CST) under the Central Sales Tax Act, 1956.

The difficulties faced in the erstwhile central sales tax system were:

- (i) The levy was non-vatable i.e., the credit of CST was not available as a set-off in the hands of the purchaser.
- (ii) CST directly got added to the cost of the goods resulting in cascading effect of the taxes on the cost of production of products.
- (iii) Creation of tax arbitrage on account of the rate of CST being different from VAT levied on intra-State sale.
- (iv) Several businesses were not in a position to procure goods in the course of inter-State trade or commerce after concessional rate of tax against the declaration forms.

To usher in the GST regime, levy of a single tax called integrated goods and services tax is considered necessary on the supply of goods or services or both taking place in the course of inter-State trade/ commerce. The rate of tax is equal to the sum total of Central tax (CGST) and State tax (SGST) or Union Territory tax (UTGST) though there are some cases where more rationalisation is required in terms of parity of net tax incidence. The new legislation, amongst others, broadly:

- (i) Provides for levy of tax on all inter-State supplies of goods or services or both (except alcoholic liquor for human consumption) at a rate recommended by the GST Council (not exceeding 40 per cent);
- (ii) Provides for levy of tax on goods imported into India;
- (iii) Provides for levy of tax on import of services on a reverse charge basis;
- (iv) Empowers the Central Government to grant exemptions on the recommendation of the GST Council;
- (v) Provides for determination of nature of supply (intra-State or inter-State) and place of supply
- (vi) Provides for payment of tax by a supplier of Online Information and Database Access or Retrieval Services (OIDAR)
- (vii) Enables apportionment of tax and settlement of funds on account of transfer of input tax credit between the Central Government, State Government and Union Territory;
- (viii) Provides for application of certain provisions of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 to the extent relevant for the purposes of this Act;
- (ix) Provides for transitional transactions in relation to import of services.

Title

All Acts enacted by the Parliament since the introduction of the Indian Short Titles Act, 1897 carry a long and a short title. The long title, set out at the head of a statute, gives a full description of the general purpose of the Act and broadly covers the scope of the Act.

The short title, serves simply as a reference and is considered a statutory nickname to obviate the necessity of referring to the Act under its full and descriptive title. Its object is identification, and not description, of the purpose of the Act.

Extent

Part I of the Constitution of India states: "India, that is Bharat, shall be a Union of States". It provides that territory of India shall comprise the States and the Union Territories specified in the First Schedule of the Constitution of India. The First Schedule provides for twenty-eight (28) States and eight (8) Union Territories. Changes introduced by Jammu and Kashmir Reorganization Act, 2019 to take effect from 31 Oct 2019.

Part VI of the Constitution of India provides that for every State, there shall be a Legislature, while Part VIII provides that every Union Territory shall be administered by the President through an 'Administrator' appointed by him. However, the Union Territories of Delhi (Article 239 AA) and Pondicherry (Article 239A) have been provided with Legislatures with powers and functions as required for their administration.

India is a summation of three categories of territories namely – (i) States (28); (ii) Union Territories with Legislature (3); and (iii) Union Territories without Legislature (5).

State of Jammu and Kashmir enjoys a special status in the Indian Constitution in terms of Article 370 of the Indian Constitution until the coming into force Presidential Order entitled "The Constitution (Application to Jammu and Kashmir) Order, 2019" (C.O. 272) dated 5 Aug 2019 and Jammu and Kashmir Reorganization Act, 2019 from 31 Oct 2019.

The assembly of J&K had passed the GST bill in the first week of July. Subsequently, the Honourable President of India promulgated two ordinances, namely, the CGST (Extension to Jammu and Kashmir) Ordinance, 2017 and the IGST (Extension to Jammu and Kashmir) Ordinance, 2017 making the CGST/IGST applicable to the State of Jammu and Kashmir, w.e.f. 8 July 2017. After the promulgation of ordinance, India has adopted GST in its form across the country.

Commencement

Provisions of the IGST Act related to registration etc. came into operation through Notification No. 1/2017-Integrated Tax dated 19.6.2017. Further, Notification No. 3/2017-Integrated Tax dt. 28.06.2017 was issued to make other provisions of the IGST Act applicable w.e.f. 1st July. Effectively, all operational provisions of the IGST Act have become applicable from 1st July 2017.

Similar to extending enforcement of IGST Act, Notification No. 4/ 2017-Integrated Tax dated 28th June, 2017 has been issued to make Integrated Goods and Services Tax Rules, 2017 applicable w.e.f. 22nd June 2017. However, IGST Rules, 2017 have been separately notified along with the Central Goods and Services tax Rules, 2017.

STATUTORY PROVISIONS

2. Definitions

In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires-

(1) “Central Goods and Services Tax Act” means the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017;

It refers to the Act under which tax is levied on intra-State supply of goods or services or both (other than supply of alcoholic liquor for human consumption).

(2) “central tax” means the tax levied and collected under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act;

Tax levied under the CGST Act is referred to as “Central tax”. It refers to the tax charged under the CGST Act on intra-State supply of goods or services or both (other than supply of alcoholic liquor for human consumption). The rate of tax is capped at 20 per cent. The rates for goods have been notified vide Notification No. 1/2017- Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 28-06-2017 while Notification No. 8/2017- Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 28-06-2017 specified the rates of services notified.

It is relevant to note that the term ‘central tax’ under the IGST Act is defined to include tax levied and collected under the CGST Act whereas the term ‘Central tax’ under the CGST Act is defined to mean the central goods and services tax levied under section 9. Therefore, the phrase ‘Central tax’ has a wider connotation under the IGST Act as it includes taxes collected in addition to what is levied under CGST Act.

(3) “continuous journey” means a journey for which a single or more than one ticket or invoice is issued at the same time, either by a single supplier of service or through an agent acting on behalf of more than one supplier of service, and which involves no stopover between any of the legs of the journey for which one or more separate tickets or invoices are issued.

Explanation. —For the purposes of this clause, the term “stopover” means a place where a passenger can disembark either to transfer to another conveyance or break his journey for a certain period in order to resume it at a later point of time;

This is relevant to determine the place of supply of passenger transport services.

Continuous journey refers to a journey where:

- (a) A single or more than one ticket or invoice is issued at the same time;
- (b) Service is provided by one service provider or by an agent on behalf of more than one service providers

- (c) Journey does not involve any stopover at any of the legs of the journey for which one or more separate tickets or invoices are issued ("Stopover" means a place where a passenger disembarks from the conveyance).

The following aspects need to be noted:

- All stopovers will not cause a break in the journey. Only those stopovers for which one or more separate tickets are issued will be relevant. A travel involving Bangalore-Dubai-New York-Dubai-Bangalore on a single ticket with a halt at Dubai (onward and return) will be covered by the definition of continuous journey. However, if the passenger disembarks at Dubai or breaks his journey for a certain period in order to resume it at a later point of time, it will not be considered a continuous journey.
- All the above conditions should be cumulatively satisfied to consider the journey as continuous journey.
- A return journey will be treated as a separate journey even if the right to passage for onward and return journey is issued at the same time.

(4) "customs frontiers of India" means the limits of a customs area as defined in section 2 of the Customs Act, 1962;

The customs frontiers of India include the following:

- (a) Customs Port;
- (b) Customs Airport;
- (c) International Courier Terminal;
- (d) Foreign Post Office;
- (e) Land Customs Station;
- (f) Area in which imported goods or goods meant for export are ordinarily kept before clearance by Customs Authorities

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Bonded warehouses would now be covered under this definition.
- A person importing goods into the territory of India from an overseas exporter would be liable to pay IGST on such supply of goods.
- Where a transfer of documents of title takes place during import, the question of payment of tax by the importer would not arise since the documents of title would be transferred before the goods cross the customs frontier of India. It has been clarified vide Circular No. 33/2017-Cus dated 1-Aug-17, that IGST on high sea sale(s) transactions of imported goods, whether one or multiple, shall be levied and collected only at the time of importation i.e., when the import declarations are filed before the Customs authorities for the customs clearance purposes for the first time.

- Supplies made by an importer after the goods have crossed the customs frontier of India would be liable to CGST, SGST or IGST, depending on the facts of each case.

(5) “export of goods” with its grammatical variations and cognate expressions, means taking goods out of India to a place outside India;

Section or Rule	Description
Section 2(52)	Definition of Goods (CGST)
Section 2(56)	Definition of India (CGST)
Section 7	Inter-State supply (IGST)
Section 11	Place of supply of goods imported into or exported from India
Section 16	Zero rated supply

Export of goods will be treated as ‘zero-rated supplies’. Accordingly, while no tax would be payable on such supplies, the exporter will be eligible to claim the corresponding input tax credits. It is relevant to note that the input tax credits would be available to an exporter even if the supplies were exempt supplies so long as the eligibility of the input taxes is established. Interestingly circular 45/19/2018-GST dated 30 May 2018 at para 6.2, makes it clear that export of articles that are otherwise exempt and even non-GST articles would also be eligible to credit and consequent refund or rebate in respect of zero-rated supplies of such articles. Some experts express concerns over allowing zero-rated benefits to non-GST articles such as alcoholic liquor and 5-petro products (left out of GST) as the words “notwithstanding that such supply may be an exempt supply” appearing in section 16(2) of IGST Act cannot be read ‘as if’ it reads as “notwithstanding that such exports are of exempt goods”. And they support their argument on the following:

- ‘Exempt supply’ is not the same as ‘exempt goods’. A supply may be exempt for any reason but must necessarily involve goods that come within the operation of GST law. Articles that are out of GST law cannot be included in the contemplation of any provision within this law.
- Zero-rated benefit is allowed of ‘credit’ and before claiming refund or rebate, the amount must cross the series of hurdles in (i) section 16(1) of CGST Act then (ii) sections 17(2) and 17(5) of CGST Act. When these hurdles have blocked credit, it cannot be possible that credit is directly allowed by the words in section 16(2) of IGST Act.
- Section 16(2) of IGST Act serves section 16(1) of IGST Act. It is not yet another ‘credit granting’ provision in GST law. If that is really true, then students of this new law need to learn the “two routes” for claiming input tax credit.

But these questions may be taken up by our Courts. Until then it is clear from the circular that “all exempt and non-GST articles” will enjoy zero-rated benefits with only one restriction that survives is in section 17(5) of CGST Act that is made applicable to such exports also.

Following further aspects may also be noted:

- Unlike export of services which requires fulfilment of certain conditions for a supply to qualify as 'export of services' like the nature of currency in which payment is required to be made, location of the exporter etc., export of goods doesn't require fulfilment of any such conditions.
- The movement of goods alone is relevant and not the location of the exporter/ importer. This means that even if an order is received from a person outside India for delivery of goods within India, it will not be considered as export of goods.
- The exporter may utilize such credits for discharge of other output taxes or alternatively, the exporter may claim a refund of such taxes.
- The exporter will be eligible to claim refund under the following situations:
 - (i) export the goods under a letter of undertaking, without payment of IGST and claim refund of unutilized input tax credit; or
 - (ii) export the goods upon payment of IGST and claim refund of such tax paid, without of course, charging this IGST to the customer. That is, to claim rebate, pay-without-charging only then will this refund be available.

(6) "export of services" means the supply of any service when, —

- (i) the supplier of service is located in India;
- (ii) the recipient of service is located outside India;
- (iii) the place of supply of service is outside India;
- (iv) the payment for such service has been received by the supplier of service in convertible foreign exchange ¹[or in Indian rupees wherever permitted by the Reserve Bank of India]; and
- (v) the supplier of service and the recipient of service are not merely establishments of a distinct person in accordance with Explanation 1 in section 8;

With respect to the conditions specified in section 2(6)(v), Circular No.161/17/2021-GST dt. 20th September 2021 has clarified that "a company incorporated in India and a body corporate incorporated by or under the laws of a country outside India, which is also referred to as foreign company under Companies Act, are separate persons under CGST Act, and thus are separate legal entities. Accordingly, these two separate persons would not be considered as "merely establishments of a distinct person in accordance with Explanation 1 in section 8". Supplies between such companies, therefore, would qualify as 'export of services', subject to fulfilment of other conditions as provided under sub-section (6) of section 2 of IGST Act.

Section 12	Place of supply of services where location of supplier and recipient is in India
Section 13	Place of supply of services where location of supplier or location of recipient is outside India
Section 16	Zero rated supply

The concept of export of services is broadly borrowed from the provisions of the erstwhile service tax law. But it is remarkably dissimilar to the definition of export of goods. It is for this reason that there is need to correctly identify whether supply involving goods are treated (by schedule II) as supply of services. If this 'treatment by fiction' is misunderstood that would lead to misapplication of the definition and claiming benefits that are not available or foregoing benefits that could have been availed.

Under the GST regime, export of service will be treated as 'zero-rated supplies'. Accordingly, while no tax would be payable on such supplies, the exporter will be eligible to claim the corresponding input tax credits. It is relevant to note that the input tax credits would be available to an exporter even if supplies were exempt supplies as long as the eligibility of the input taxes as input tax credits is established.

The exporter may utilise such credits for discharge of other output taxes or alternatively, the exporter may claim a refund of such taxes.

The exporter will be eligible to claim refund under the following situations:

- (a) He may export the services under a letter of undertaking, without payment of IGST and claim refund of unutilized input tax credit; or
- (b) He may export the services upon payment of IGST and claim refund of such tax paid.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- The requirement under the service tax law was that the supplier should be located in the taxable territory i.e., India, excluding Jammu and Kashmir. Under the GST law, the requirement is that the supplier should be located in India (which includes Jammu and Kashmir) as GST has been enacted in the State of J&K also.
- Although overseas establishment of a person who is situated in India is treated as a distinct person for the purposes of levy of integrated tax, as regards export of services, this overseas establishment must demonstrate substance in its activities to qualify as recipient of the export of the services from India and establish itself as more than just a mere establishment of the person.
- Establishments will be treated as establishment of distinct persons under the following situations:

Situation	Location of one establishment	Location of the other establishment
I	India	Outside India
II	State or Union Territory	Outside that State or Union Territory
III	State or Union Territory	Other places of business independently registered in that State or Union Territory

Therefore, where both the establishments are located in a State/ Union Territory under the same GSTIN, the establishments will not be considered as distinct persons.

Amendment made by IGST (Amendment) Act, 2018- Effective from 01.02.2019

In clause (6), in sub-clause (iv), after the words "foreign exchange", the words "or in Indian rupees wherever permitted by the Reserve Bank of India" were inserted. This amendment was made to consider a service to be exported even if the export proceeds are received in Indian rupees, if the same is permitted by RBI. This has been done mainly to include within export of services, services provided to Nepal and Bhutan wherein payment is received in Indian Currency.

(7) "fixed establishment" means a place (other than the registered place of business) which is characterised by a sufficient degree of permanence and suitable structure in terms of human and technical resources to supply services or to receive and use services for its own needs;

Relevant Provisions of the Statute

Section or Rule	Description
Section 2(85)	Definition of Place of Business (CGST)
Section 2(102)	Definition of Services (CGST)

Section 12	Place of supply of services where location of supplier and recipient is in India
Section 13	Place of supply of services where location of supplier or location of recipient is outside India

“Fixed Establishment” refers to a place:

- (a) Having a sufficient degree of permanence
- (b) Having a structure of human and technical resources
- (c) Other than the registered place of business

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Not every temporary or interim location of a project site or transit-warehouse will ipso facto become a fixed establishment of the taxable person.
- The person should undertake supply of services or should receive and use services for own needs.
- Temporary presence of staff in a place by way of a short visit to a place or so does not also make that place a “fixed establishment”.
- Liaison Offices meant to undertake liaison activities cannot render services that are commercial in nature, in the garb of rendering liaison services. For e.g. if a liaison office were to render marketing service to its parent entity outside India, for a customer located in India and the said liaison office staff receive a fee/ commission, then the concept of liaison office stands to test. In such a scenario, the reimbursements received by the liaison office could be subject to tax notwithstanding the fact that the entire transaction can be subjected to valuation as a permanent establishment.

However, before the Tamil Nadu Advance Ruling Authority in the case of M/s Takko Holding GMBH (2018-TIOL-216-AAR-GST) the key issue was whether reimbursement of expenses and salary paid by overseas counterpart to liaison office qualify as supply and thereby necessitates liaison office to obtain GST registration and discharge GST liability. The AAR denied the necessity of obtaining registration as well as payment of GST. The decision was based on the findings that the Applicant was neither a ‘related person’ nor ‘distinct person’ but was acting only as an extension of the German Office. The authorities also noted that the Applicant was only working as an employee of foreign entity and thus cannot be treated as a ‘supplier’ thereof. Experts explain that AAR would have taken into consideration the inherent limitations imposed under FDI guidelines and relevant Master Directions of RBI that ‘liaison office’ is not permitted to undertake any business-like activities even qua its overseas Head Office. Had the applicant been a Branch Office or Project Office, experts explain, that the ruling would have been completely different. Now, consider what would be the treatment of Head Office in one country and its Permanent Establishment (Article 5 of the DTAA) in another country. When a PE is admitted for tax purposes and demonstrated that such PE is transacting at arm’s length with all its AEs (associated enterprises), the same demands harmonious treatment for GST purposes also.

(8) “Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act” means the Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act, 2017;

Section or Rule	Description
Section 2(54)	Definition of Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act

The Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act (for brevity “Compensation Act”) provides for compensation to the States for the loss of revenue arising on account of implementation of GST for a period of 5 years from the said date of implementation. The cess paid on the supply of goods or services will be available as credit for utilization towards payment of said cess on outward supply of goods and services on which such cess is leviable.

(9) “Government” means the Central Government;

It is interesting to note that this definition seems to have very little to explain but in the context of Article 12 of our Constitution, much has been said by Honb’e Supreme Court. Readers may find decisions in University of Madras v. Shantha Bai AIR 1954 Mad 67 (SC) contrasted with Ujjam Bai v. UoI 1962 AIR 1621 (SC) very interesting to understand the scope ‘State’ that would help understand ‘Government’ as the reference is to ‘Sovereign’ until it was finally settled in the Ajay Hasia v. Khalid Mujib Sehravardi & Ors 1981 AIR 487 where the following principles emerged to examine whether the organization is a ‘Government entity’, namely:

- (a) Equity share capital is held by the Government;
- (b) Financial assistance comes entirely from the Government;
- (c) Activities undertaken allows monopoly over the domain or sector;
- (d) Deep and pervasive control rests with the Government;
- (e) Functions of the Government are executed through it as the instrumentality; and
- (f) Functions performed by the Government are vested with it.

If the entity enjoys such relationship, then it will be Government Entity. Also refer to the definition in para 2(zfa) in Notification No. 12/2017-CT(R) dated 28 Jun 2017. There, 90 per cent control is prescribed by way of relaxation to the extent of 10 per cent .

Government Entity would not only vest plenary control and authority with the Government but also its entire ‘liquidation estate’ (as understood in IBC 2016) would belong to the Consolidated Fund. Further, all employees would be servants of the President of India and their salaries and benefits would be a charge on the Consolidated Fund. Experts advise great caution while examining whether IAAI, University, MCI, BCI, ICAI, ICSI, ICMAI, BCCI, etc are Government or not cannot be answered lightly.

Government Authority and Government Entity are entirely different. Sovereign functions vested with Boards and Authorities will be sovereign authorities if the functions are listed in XI and XII Schedules of the Constitution.

(10) "import of goods" with its grammatical variations and cognate expressions, means bringing goods into India from a place outside India;

Relevant Provisions of the Statute

Section or Rule	Description
Section 2(52)	Definition of Goods (CGST)
Section 2(56)	Definition of India (CGST)
Section 7	Inter-State supply
Section 8	Intra-State supply
Section 11	Place of supply of goods imported into or exported from India

Import of goods into India would be treated as supply of goods in the course of inter-State trade/commerce and would be liable to integrated tax under this Act.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- The place of supply of goods in case of imports would be the location of the importer. E.g.: If goods are imported at Mumbai port but the importer is at Delhi, the place of supply shall be Delhi;
- The integrated tax would be levied on the value of goods as determined under the Customs law in addition to the custom duties levied on such imports. In other words, levy of basic customs duty (BCD) will continue and the component of countervailing duty (CVD) and special additional duty (SAD) will be replaced by integrated tax;
- The time at which the customs duties are levied on import of goods would also be the time when integrated tax is levied;
- The importer will be liable to pay integrated tax on a reverse charge basis and the same will have to be discharged by cash only and credit cannot be utilized for discharging such a liability;
- Merchant trading transactions i.e., where the supplier of goods will be resident in one foreign country, the buyer of goods will be resident in another foreign country and the merchant will be resident in India, would primarily not come under the ambit of GST since they do not involve entry of goods into India.

In case of multi-State registration, GSTIN mentioned on the Bill of entry would discharge the IGST on reverse charge on import of goods even if the port is situated in separate State

- (11) “import of services” means the supply of any service, where—
- (i) the supplier of service is located outside India;
 - (ii) the recipient of service is located in India; and
 - (iii) the place of supply of service is in India;

Relevant Provisions of the Statute

Section or Rule	Description
Section 2(56)	Definition of India (CGST)
Section 2(86)	Definition of Place of supply (CGST)
Section 2(93)	Definition of Recipient (CGST)
Section 2(105)	Definition of Supplier (CGST)
Section 2(14)	Definition of Location of the recipient of services (IGST)
Section 2(21)	Definition of Supply (IGST)
Section 7	Inter-State supply (IGST)
Section 16	Zero rated supply

The phrase “import of service” is very broad and covers all such supplies where:

- (a) The supplier is located outside India,
- (b) The recipient is located in India
- (c) Place of supply is in India.

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Supplies, where the supplier and recipient are mere establishments of a person, would also qualify as “import of service”.
- The importer will be liable to pay integrated tax on a reverse charge basis and the same will have to be discharged by cash only and credit cannot be utilized for discharging such a liability
- Import of service made for a consideration alone would be taxable, whether or not in the course of business. Therefore, import of service for personal consumption for a consideration would qualify as ‘supply’ and would be liable to integrated tax. However, the recipient will not be required to obtain a registration for that purpose. However, import of services from related persons or establishments located outside India without consideration also would be liable to integrated tax as per Schedule I of the CGST Act, 2017.

- The threshold limits for registration would not apply and the importer would be required to obtain registration irrespective of his turnover.
- Import of services is included in the definition of 'supply' in section 7(1)(b) of CGST Act. By this provision personal imports even without being in the course or furtherance of business will also attract levy of GST. Refer entry 10(a) to Notification No. 9/2017-Int.(R) dated 28 Jun 2017 where 'other than commerce' is exempted from IGST. However, there is no such exemption in CGST Notification 12/2017-CT(R) dated 28 Jun 2017. Hence, import of services which is an intra-State supply under section 13 of IGST Act would not be exempt from tax except for the threshold exemption under section 22 of CGST Act. An example of a cross-border transaction would be 'intermediary services' under section 13(8) of IGST Act.

(12) "integrated tax" means the integrated goods and services tax levied under this Act;

Section or Rule	Description
Section 2(52)	Definition of Goods (CGST)
Section 2(102)	Definition of Services (CGST)
Section 7	Inter-State supply

It refers to the tax charged under this Act on inter-State supply of goods or services or both (other than supply of alcoholic liquor for human consumption). The rate of tax is capped at 40 per cent . The rates for goods have been notified vide Notification No. 1/2017- Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 28-06-2017 while Notification No. 8/2017- Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 28-06-2017 covers the rates of services notified.

(13) "intermediary" means a broker, an agent or any other person, by whatever name called, who arranges or facilitates the supply of goods or services or both, or securities, between two or more persons, but does not include a person who supplies such goods or services or both or securities on his own account;

Section or Rule	Description
Section 13	Place of supply of services where location of supplier or location of recipient is outside India
Section 14	Special provision for payment of tax by a supplier of online information and database access or retrieval services

The following aspects need to be noted:

- Definition of intermediary uses the words 'agent' and thereby imports the entire jurisprudence from Indian Contract Act. Agency is constituted (i) by appointment (ii) by holding out and ratification and (iii) by implication.
- Use of the words 'broker or agent or any other person' bring up this question whether there is a common genus of which each of the specific words is a specie. And by use of the rule of ejusdem generis rule of interpretation may require that 'any other person' be understood as 'broker' or 'agent'. Guidance for interpretation to be applicable is found in the words 'by whatever name called'. So, the phrase 'or any other person' is appended with 'by whatever name called' such that meaning of who 'this person' will be, indifferent to any name that this person is called by. Hence, it appears that ejusdem generis will be applicable here.
- Further, 'who arranges or facilitates the supply' does not circumscribe the scope of agent to anything less than what section 182 of Indian Contract Act furnishes. So, intermediary is one who operates under 'delegated authority' that is 'detached from consequences'. In other words, the role of intermediary must be determined or defeated by the jurisprudence available in section 182 and the rest of the definition here is intended to be a differentiator.
- Differentiation is required between an agent who oversteps the scope of agency and actually supplies on 'own account'. Such agents by making supplies, either actually or by fiction in para 3 of Schedule I, will be saved from the definition of 'intermediary'. Decision of CESTAT in Go Daddy [2016-TIOL-08-ARA-ST] has been differentiated in AAR and Toshniwal Brothers and this appears to lay down the correct position of law, at least, for the purposes of GST.
- Further, mere use of the word 'agent' does not decide the question of 'intermediary'. Agency must be determined from facts of supply and not usage in trade. Refer C.B.E. & C. Press Release No. 92/2017, dated 23-8-2017 wherein it is recognized that 'advertisement agent' may undertake advertisement intermediary supplies as (i) agent and collect only a fee for services which attracts GST on such fee or (ii) reseller where the gross value attracts GST with benefit of credit on cost incurred to the paper. Experts caution against relying on the 'title' just as the definition itself says 'by whatever name called' and requires attention to the paid to the exact 'role' performed.
- Two supplies are generally involved:
 - Supply between the principal and the third party; and
 - Supply of his own service to his principal – generally for a fee or commission.
- An intermediary cannot alter the nature or value of supply, which he facilitates on behalf of his principal.

- The consideration for an intermediary's supply is separately identifiable from the main supply that he is arranging and is in the nature of fee or commission charged by him.
- The place of supply in relation to intermediary services is the location of the service provider. Care must be taken, in cross-border transactions, not to assume they are inter-State supplies in all instances;

- (14) "location of the recipient of services" means, —
- where a supply is received at a place of business for which the registration has been obtained, the location of such place of business;
 - where a supply is received at a place other than the place of business for which registration has been obtained (a fixed establishment elsewhere), the location of such fixed establishment;
 - where a supply is received at more than one establishment, whether the place of business or fixed establishment, the location of the establishment most directly concerned with the receipt of the supply; and
 - in absence of such places, the location of the usual place of residence of the recipient;

The phrase 'location of the recipient of services' is essential to determine the place of supply of service and can be understood in the following 4 sub-clauses:

- Services received at a place of business where registration is obtained – Location of such place of business;
- Services received at a fixed establishment (i.e., a place of business not registered, but having a sufficient degree of permanence involving human and technical resources) – Location of such fixed establishment;
- Services received at more than one establishment – Location of the establishment most directly concerned with the receipt of the supply;
- Services received at a place other than above – Location of the usual place of residence of the recipient (address where the person is legally registered/ constituted in case of recipients other than individuals).

Note: The definition uses the term "place", and not the phrase "State or Union Territory". Therefore, a view may be taken that the location of the recipient of the service could be determined under the residuary clause (i.e., usual place of residence), merely because it is received in a place of business which is neither registered as an additional place of business, nor a fixed establishment, although the place of receipt is in the same State as another place of business which is registered.

E.g.: Event management services received in the Mangalore unit of M/s. ABC Ltd. M/s. ABC Ltd has its registered office in Mumbai (having a GST registration) and has a branch office in Bangalore (having a GST registration). Mangalore unit is neither an additional place of business nor a fixed establishment. In such a case, location of the recipient of service is the Mumbai office, and not the Bangalore office, although Bangalore and Mangalore are located in the same State.

- (15) “location of the supplier of services” means, —
- (a) where a supply is made from a place of business for which the registration has been obtained, the location of such place of business;
 - (b) where a supply is made from a place other than the place of business for which registration has been obtained (a fixed establishment elsewhere), the location of such fixed establishment;
 - (c) where a supply is made from more than one establishment, whether the place of business or fixed establishment, the location of the establishment most directly concerned with the provision of the supply; and
 - (d) in absence of such places, the location of the usual place of residence of the supplier;

The phrase ‘location of the supplier of services’ is essential to determine the place of supply of service and can be understood in the following 4 sub-clauses:

- (a) Services made from a place of business where registration is obtained – Location of such place of business;
- (b) Services made from a fixed establishment (i.e., a place of business not registered, but having a sufficient degree of permanence involving human and technical resources) – Location of such fixed establishment;
- (c) Services made from more than one establishment – Location of the establishment most directly concerned with the receipt of the supply;
- (d) Other than the above – Location of the usual place of residence of the supplier (address where the person is legally registered/ constituted in case of recipients other than individuals).

Note: The definition uses the term “place”, and not the phrase “State or Union Territory”. Therefore, a view may be taken that the location of the provider of the service could be determined under the residuary clause (i.e., usual place of residence), merely because it is provided from a place of business which is neither registered as an additional place of business, nor a fixed establishment, although the place of provision is in the same State as another place of business which is registered.

Where services are provided from more than one establishment i.e., principal place of business and fixed establishment, the location of the establishment with which the service receiver is directly concerned will be considered for the purpose of determining the location of supply.

Consider if a Chartered Accountant in Kanpur represents client before the Tribunal in Delhi, location of supplier of services would be Kanpur, UP and not Delhi because location of supplier of services is the place of business. And place of business (as per section 2(98) of CGST Act) is the place where business is ordinarily carried on. And place of business is the ‘seat of management of operations’ and not the ‘site of execution of duties’.

(16) “non-taxable online recipient” means any Government, local authority, governmental authority, an individual or any other person not registered and receiving online information and database access or retrieval services in relation to any purpose other than commerce, industry or any other business or profession, located in taxable territory.

Explanation.— For the purposes of this clause, the expression “governmental authority” means an authority or a board or any other body, —

- (i) set up by an Act of Parliament or a State Legislature; or
- (ii) established by any Government, with ninety per cent. or more participation by way of equity or control, to carry out any function entrusted to ²[a Panchayat under article 243G or] a municipality under article 243W of the Constitution;

The phrase “non-taxable online recipient” covers the following persons:

- (a) The Central Government
- (b) Local Authority
- (c) Governmental Authority i.e., an authority established with 90 per cent or more participation by the Government and set-up to undertake functions entrusted to a municipality under Article 243W of the Constitution like:
 - Preparation of plans for economic development,
 - Urban planning,
 - Fire Services,
 - Water supply, etc.

(17) “online information and database access or retrieval services” means services whose delivery is mediated by information technology over the internet or an electronic network and the nature of which renders their supply essentially automated and involving minimal human intervention and impossible to ensure in the absence of information technology and includes electronic services such as, —

- (i) advertising on the internet;
- (ii) providing cloud services;
- (iii) provision of e-books, movie, music, software and other intangibles through telecommunication networks or internet;

² Inserted vide The Integrated Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018 w.e.f 01.02.2019

- (iv) providing data or information, retrievable or otherwise, to any person in electronic form through a computer network;
- (v) online supplies of digital content (movies, television shows, music and the like);
- (vi) digital data storage; and
- (vii) online gaming;

The definition has very wide coverage of activities/ services delivered in the digital economy and is drafted in line with the provisions under the service tax laws to include services like e-downloads of games, movies etc., web-hosting services, online supply of on-demand disc space, distance teaching, etc.

An indicative list of services that would not be covered under online information and database access or retrieval (OIDAR) services are:

- Legal services or financial services advising clients through e-mail
- Educational or professional courses, where the content is delivered by a teacher over the internet or an electronic network (using a remote link)

Following aspects need to be noted:

- Supply of online information and database access or retrieval (OIDAR) services by a person located in a non-taxable territory (outside India) to a non-taxable online recipient, would be liable to tax in the hands of the supplier;
- The supplier would be responsible for collection and remittance of integrated tax to the Government of India;
- The supplier can take a single registration under the simplified registration scheme (yet to be notified by the Government);
- Alternatively, a person located in India representing the supplier can obtain registration and pay the tax on behalf of the supplier. If the supplier does not have a representative/ physical presence in India, he can appoint a person who will be liable to pay the integrated tax on such transactions by providing the details of the State of consumption;
- Business-to-Business (B2B) transactions w.r.t. OIDAR will be taxable in the hands of the recipient itself under reverse charge mechanism.

(18) “output tax”, in relation to a taxable person, means the integrated tax chargeable under this Act on taxable supply of goods or services or both made by him or by his agent but excludes tax payable by him on reverse charge basis;

The output tax i.e., integrated tax chargeable on inter-State taxable supply of goods or services can be summarised as under:

Type of Supply	Reference
Supplies between 2 States (or UT with Legislature)	Sections 7(1) and 7(3) of the IGST Act
Import of goods or services	Sections 7(2) and 7(4) of the IGST Act
Supplies to/ by a SEZ developer or unit	Section 7 (5) (b) of the IGST Act
Supplies made by a person located in India and where the place of supply is outside India	Section 7 (5) (a) of the IGST Act

Following aspects need to be noted:

- While input tax is in relation to a registered person, output tax is in relation to a taxable person. Evidently, the law excludes persons who are not registered under the law from being associated with any input tax. However, where there is a liability due to the Government, the law paves the way to cover those persons who are liable to tax, but who have failed to obtain registration.
- The amount covered under this term is the amount of tax that is 'chargeable', and not the amount that is 'charged'. Therefore, in case a person wrongly charges tax, or charges an excess rate of tax, as compared to the applicable tax rate, such excess would not qualify as output tax.
 - The taxes payable by recipient of supply, on account of making inward supplies of such categories of supply as are notified for the purpose of reverse chargeability of tax, or making inward supplies from unregistered persons, would be out of the scope of 'output tax'.
- The implication of the exclusions mentioned above is that the input tax credit cannot be utilised for making payment of any amount that does not qualify as output tax. Discharge of liability in such cases has to be by way of cash payments (i.e., through the electronic cash ledger, on depositing money by means of cash, cheque, etc.).
- The law makes a specific inclusion in respect of supplies made by an agent on behalf of the supplier, to treat the tax paid on such supplies as output tax in the hands of the supplier.

(19) "Special Economic Zone" shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in clause (za) of section 2 of the Special Economic Zones Act, 2005;

It covers two categories of zones as under:

- (a) Zones which are existing as on 10.02.2006 i.e., the date when SEZ Act was made effective.
- (b) Zones which have been notified under section 3(4) and section 4(1) of the SEZ Act, 2005.

Notifications under section 3(4) are issued when the State Government wants to set up a SEZ and the Notifications under section 4(1) are issued when any other person (except State Government) wants to set-up a SEZ. The notifications issued therein specify the SEZ area.

(20) “Special Economic Zone developer” shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in clause (g) of section 2 of the Special Economic Zones Act, 2005 and includes an Authority as defined in clause (d) and a Co-Developer as defined in clause (f) of section 2 of the said Act;

The term “Special Economic Zone developer” covers the following persons:

- (a) Person/ State Government who/which has been granted a letter of approval by the Central Government
- (b) Special Economic Zone Authority
- (c) Co-developer

Where the State Government/ person wants to set up a SEZ, notifications are required to be issued under section 3(4) and section 4(1) of the SEZ Act, 2005, respectively and after fulfilment of the prescribed conditions and procedures, a letter of approval is granted. Such a person who has been granted a letter of approval is regarded as a developer.

A co-developer is a person who has been granted a letter of approval for providing infrastructure facilities or for carrying out authorized operations in a notified SEZ. The Board of Approval may specify the facility required to be developed by such a co-developer and in such a case, the co-developer will enter into an agreement with the developer for the specified purpose.

Supplies made to SEZ developer/ unit would be regarded as zero-rated supplies.

(21) “supply” shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in section 7 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act;

The concept of ‘supply’ has been discussed in detail in the analysis of ‘Supply’.

(22) “taxable territory” means the territory to which the provisions of this Act apply;

It covers the whole of India including the State of Jammu and Kashmir. However, the State of Jammu and Kashmir has been excluded after Jammu and Kashmir Reorganization Act, 2019 with effect from 31 Oct 2019.

(23) “zero-rated supply” shall have the meaning assigned to it in section 16;

The following taxable supplies of goods and/ or services are considered as ‘zero rated supplies’:

- (a) Export of goods or services or both
- (b) Supply of goods or services or both to a SEZ developer or SEZ unit

Input tax credit can be availed for making zero-rated supplies, even though such zero-rated supplies may be an exempt supply.

A taxable person exporting goods or services would be eligible for refund under the following two options:

- Export under bond/ LUT without payment of integrated tax and claim refund of unutilised input tax credit; or
- Export on payment of integrated tax which can be claimed as refund accordingly.

(24) words and expressions used and not defined in this Act but defined in the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act and the Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act shall have the same meaning as assigned to them in those Acts;

Certain words and expressions like person, supplier, recipient, reverse charge, time of supply, value of supply etc. defined in the CGST/ UTGST/ GST (Compensation to States) laws will have the same meaning for the purpose of IGST law.

(25) any reference in this Act to a law which is not in force in the State of Jammu and Kashmir, shall, in relation to that State be construed as a reference to the corresponding law, if any, in force in that State.

Section or Rule	Description
Section 2(36)	Definition of Council (CGST)
Section 2(80)	Definition of Notification (CGST)
Section 3	Officers under this Act (CGST)
Section 4	Appointment of Officers (CGST)
Section 5	Powers of Officers (CGST)
Section 6	Authorisation of officers of State tax or Union territory tax as proper officer in certain circumstances
Section 20	Application of provisions of Central Goods and Services Tax Act

3.1/4.1 Introduction

Although CGST and IGST are both taxes of the Union, it is required that lawful authority be vested in certain persons to discharge duties for purposes of Integrated Tax.

3.2/4.2 Analysis

It is for this reason that the board has been empowered to appoint Central tax officers to discharge duties under the IGST Act. Note that the power of appointment of officers remains with the Government but confirmation of responsibility to act as integrated tax officers is left with the Board.

Suitable enabling provisions have also been made, whereby officers of State / UT Tax can be authorised to discharge functions under the IGST Act. Such a provision is necessary in order to maintain uniformity in administration of notified supplies or notified category of taxable persons which are exclusively left under the CGST Act to be administered by officers of State / UT Tax. It is appreciable that careful consideration has been given to ensure that there is no duplication of administrative power at the same time sufficient flexibility is enabled to ensure smooth and seamless tax compliance experience for trade and industry in GST regime.

(5) The Government may, on the recommendations of the Council, by notification, specify categories of services, the tax on inter-State supplies of which shall be paid by the electronic commerce operator if such services are supplied through it, and all the provisions of this Act shall apply to such electronic commerce operator as if he is the supplier liable for paying the tax in relation to the supply of such services:

Provided that where an electronic commerce operator does not have a physical presence in the taxable territory, any person representing such electronic commerce operator for any purpose in the taxable territory shall be liable to pay tax:

Provided further that where an electronic commerce operator does not have a physical presence in the taxable territory and also does not have a representative in the said territory, such electronic commerce operator shall appoint a person in the taxable territory for the purpose of paying tax and such person shall be liable to pay tax

5.1 Introduction

The Constitution mandates that no tax shall be levied or collected by a taxing Statute except by authority of law. While no one can be taxed by implication, a person can be subject to tax in terms of the charging section only.

This is the charging provision of the IGST Act. It provides that all inter-State supplies would be liable to IGST at rate recommended by the Council and notified subject to a ceiling rate of 40 per cent . The provisions of this section are comparable to the provisions under section 9 of the CGST Act and section 7 of the UTGST Act.

The levy is on all goods or services or both except alcoholic liquor for human consumption. Further, GST may be levied in supply of petroleum crude, high spirit diesels, motor spirit (petrol), natural gas and aviation turbine fuel with effect from the date notified by the Government on the recommendations of GST Council.

The levy of tax on supply of goods and / or services is in three parts - (i) in the hands of the supplier and (ii) in the hands of the recipient of goods / services under reverse charge mechanism and, (iii) in case of specified services, in the hands of electronic commerce operator.

5.2 Analysis

In terms of section 2(24) of the Act, any words or expressions which are used in this Act, but are not defined should be assigned the meaning as given to such words or expressions in the CGST Act, the UTGST Act, and the GST (Compensation to States) Act.

With specific reference to this section, the following words/ expressions would be relevant-

- Supply
- Inter-State supply
- Goods
- Services
- Taxable person

The meaning to the expression 'inter-State supply' can be understood from section 7 of this Act. However, the meaning of 'supply' and 'taxable person' should be borrowed from the CGST Act. Reference may be made to the CGST Act for an in-depth understanding of such expressions and words.

Levy of tax: Every inter-State supply will be liable to tax, if:

- (i) There is a supply either of goods or services or both, even when a supply involves goods or services or both the law provides that such supply would be classifiable only as goods or services in terms of Schedule II of the Act.
- (ii) The supply is an inter-State supply – viz. ordinarily, the location of the supplier and the place of supply are in different States. (Refer section 7 of the IGST Act to understand the meaning of inter-State supply);
- (iii) The tax shall be payable by a 'taxable person' as explained in section 2(107) read with section 22 and section 24 of the CGST Act.

Imports: Proviso to section 5(1) makes a very important exception in respect of "goods imported into India". Import of goods is defined in section 2(10) in a manner identical with the definition under Customs Act in section 2(23). The important exception made under the proviso is the carve out from the levy under section 5 supplies involving import of goods and place such transactions under Customs Act and not under IGST Act. In other words, goods imported into India will be liable to IGST but not under IGST Act instead under section 3(7) of Customs Tariff Act. vide Taxation Laws (Amendment) Act, 2017 sweeping changes have been brought about in Customs laws in the wake of introduction of GST. Amongst others, one significant change is that, in addition to basic customs duty levied under section 12 of Customs Act - section 3 of Customs Tariff Act - sub-section (7) levies IGST on import of goods. It merits to mention here is that sub-section (9) levies compensation cess wherever applicable when the said goods are imported into India.

Going back to the proviso to sub-section (1), the expression 'the point at which import duties are leviable' is very significant. Examination of the 'point of levy' under Customs Act reveals that goods brought into India are liable to customs duties at the time specified in section 15.

Accordingly, no duties are levied until the bill of entry for home consumption is filed. Imported goods are defined in section 2(25) of Customs Act as:

“imported goods” means any goods brought into India from a place outside India but does not include goods which have been cleared for home consumption ”

Goods that have been cleared for home consumption will cease to be imported goods. Goods which have entered India but not yet cleared for home consumption will not attract the levy of customs duty until bill of entry for home consumption is filed.

Customs Act permits goods that have entered India to be deposited in a bonded warehouse on filing ‘into-bond’ bill of entry without payment of duty. Hence, goods that have entered India will not attract liability to IGST until they reach the point – location or time – when bill of entry for home consumption is ready to be filed. In such cases, IGST is to be levied only when ex-bond bill of entry is filed or until the date specified in section 15 is reached.

Further, goods imported by SEZ also do not attract liability to IGST as the goods are ‘not yet’ liable to be assessed to customs duty. Section 53 of the SEZ Act states that:

53(1). A Special Economic Zone shall, on and from the appointed day, be deemed to be a territory outside the customs territory of India for the purposes of undertaking the authorized operations.

Note the following aspects:

- Goods deposited in warehouse by filing into-bond bill of entry do not attract liability to any customs duty until the date specified in section 15 is reached or ex-bond bill of entry is filed;
- Goods received by EOU attracts liability to customs duty because Notification No. 44/2016-Cus. dated 29th Jul, 2016 has delicensed warehouse facility of EOUs which has also been clarified in detail vide Circular No. 35/2016-Cus. dated 29 Jul, 2016;
- Notification No. 15/2017-Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 30th Jun 17 issued granting exemption from IGST on import of goods by a SEZ and this exemption was immediately rescinded vide Notification No. 18/2017- Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 5th Jul 17 as granting such an exemption would have been out of harmony with the concept that goods have ‘not yet’ reached the ‘point’ when liability to customs duty is attracted;
- Circular No. 35/2017-Cus dated 1st Aug, 2017 regarding high-sea sales states that IGST is applicable but deferred until bill of entry for home consumption is filed; Further, supplies made before the goods are cleared for home consumption has been considered as a Schedule III negative list entry as per the CGST Amendment Act, 2018 w.e.f. 1 Feb 2019.
- ORDER No. CT/2275/18-C3 DATED 26th March 2018 passed by The Authority for Advance Ruling – Kerala clarifies that no tax is applicable on merchanting trade applying the principles laid down in the aforesaid Circular No. 35/2017-Cus dated 1 Aug 2017.

Further, such merchant trade transactions have been covered under Schedule III as per the CGST Amendment Act, 2018.

Merchant trade transactions are those transactions where the trader in one country A, purchases goods from country B and supplies the goods to a second buyer in country C, directly, without goods entering country A. Since, goods never cross the Customs frontier of the country of the trader in case country A is India then, GST law cannot apply when supply takes place 'outside taxable territory' even though said person (trader) is located in India. GST is tax on supply and not on supplier. It will form part of revenue (turnover) of person (legal entity) but as a 'no supply' transaction. Experts have indicated that since it is not 'exempt supply', such transactions will NOT attract credit reversal. To this end, explanation inserted to section 17(3) vide CGST Amendment Act, 2018 may be referred.

- Circular No. 03/01/2018-GST dated 25th May 2018 (superseded Circular No. 46/2017-Cus dated 24th November 2017) stated that in-bond sales will not be liable to IGST until bill of entry for home consumption is filed. This circular 03 was rescinded from 1 Feb 2019 since amendment to CGST Act by introduction of para 8 in Schedule III.

In view of the foregoing, proviso to section 5(1) is of paramount importance which makes way for Customs Tariff Act to take over levy of IGST on imported goods leaving IGST under IGST Act inapplicable to imported goods. And once the Customs Tariff Act applies, it attracts the levy of IGST (CTA) not before the bill of entry for home consumption is due to be filed in accordance with the provisions of Customs Act. Thus, there are two kinds of IGST, namely:

- IGST levied under Customs Tariff Act which we call IGST (CTA); and
- IGST levied under IGST Act which we call IGST (GST).

Generally, there is no overlap between the two but when there is an overlap, one makes way for another. See how this overlap is resolved. Now, it becomes important to clearly identify whether imported goods are 'treated' as supply of services under Schedule II. Now, customs law makes way for these goods after being subject to basic customs duty applicable to import of goods under Customs law to be subject to IGST under GST law when the import is by way of 'lease' arrangement (operating or finance lease). Customs Notification No. 50/2017-Cus. dated 30th Jun 2017 has inserted a few entries (see table below) when IGST (CTA) will not be levied if the goods are liable to IGST (GST) under para 1(b) or 5(f) of Schedule II.

- DTA sales by SEZ will not be liable to GST under forward charge as IGST will be paid when DTA-buyer files bill of entry in terms of Rule 48(1) of SEZ Rules.

Supply: Refer discussion under section 7 of the CGST Act for a detailed understanding of the expression 'supply'. Additionally, the comments relating to 'composite supply' and 'mixed supply' will equally apply for supplies taxable under IGST Act.

Tax shall be payable by whom: The tax shall be payable by a 'taxable person' as defined under section 2(107) read with section 22 and section 24 of the CGST Act. Broadly, a taxable person is one who is registered or who is required to be registered under the GST law. Refer to the discussion under the CGST Act for a thorough understanding of this concept.

Tax payable: Every inter-State supply falling under section 7 of the IGST Act will attract IGST, if it gets covered by section 5. However, all transactions covered within definition of supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce within the meaning of section 7 does not mean that it is always subject to levy of IGST unless it falls in section 5 i.e., charging section.

Tax on import of goods: This Act provides that IGST shall be levied on import of goods in terms of section 3 of the Customs Tariff Act, 1975. It implies that on such importation of goods, IGST will be payable in addition to the basic customs duty (BCD). The proviso to section 5(1) of the IGST Act also clarifies that the value and point at which IGST would be payable will be determined in accordance with section 12 of the Customs Act, 1962.

Summary table for levy of IGST of CTA or GST law are provided below:

Description	Import of Goods		Import of Services
	Treatment in Schedule II	As Goods	As Services
Levy under	Customs Tariff Act	IGST Act
Overlap exemption	N.A	IGST (CTA) exempt if IGST (GST) paid under para 1(b) or 5(f) of sch II *	N.A

* Refer Entries 547A (from 1 Jul 2017 vide section 99 of Finance Act 2018 and 65/2017-Cus. dt 8 Jul 2017) and 557A (from 13 Oct 2017 vide 77/2017-Cus.) and 557B (from 14 Nov 2017 vide 85/2017-Cus.) to 50/2017-Cus. dated 30 Jun 2017 (also refer para 7 of Circular No. 113/32/2019-GST dated 11 Oct 2019).

Rate and value of tax: The rate of tax notified separately, but shall not exceed 40 per cent, and the value of supplies would be as determined under section 15 of the CGST Act.

Applicability in respect of e-commerce operators: Refer discussion under section 9(5) of the CGST Act for an understanding of the applicability of this provision for e-commerce operators.

Reverse charge mechanism: Normally, the supplier of goods and/ or services will be liable to discharge tax on the supplies effected. However, the Central Government is empowered to specify categories of supplies in respect of which the recipient of goods and/ or services will be liable to discharge the tax. Notification No. 4/2017-Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 28-Jun-17 amended vide Notification No. 37/2017-Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 13-Oct-17, 2017, Notification No. 45/2017- Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 14-Nov-17 & 10/2017-Integrated Tax (Rate), dated 28-Jun-17 amended vide Notification No. 34/2017-Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 13-Oct-17 have been issued to notify the goods and services respectively where tax has to be paid by the recipient of supply under reverse charge mechanism.

Where the supplier is located in one State and the place of supply is in another State, the recipient is liable to pay IGST showing the correct place of supply. It may be different from the State in which the recipient is registered. Refer detailed discussion on 'place of supply' to identify and report correct State.

Accordingly, all other provisions of this Act and CGST Act, as applicable, will apply to the recipient of such goods and/ or services, as if the recipient is the person liable to pay tax in relation to supply of such goods and/ or services.

After the amendment in section 5(4) of the IGST Act 2017, the liability of reverse charge on the registered recipient on receiving supplies from unregistered supplier will be applicable only on (a) specified class of registered persons and (b) on specified categories of goods or services or both.

E-commerce: Where any supply of services is effected through e-commerce operator (commonly known as services provided by aggregator), the law provides that the Central / State Government may on the recommendation of the Council specify (notify) that the e-commerce operator will be liable to discharge the tax on such supplies. It is important to note that, in such supplies, the e-commerce operator is neither the actual supplier of service/s nor does he actually receive the services. The actual supplier of services is a third party who provides such service to the customer through e-commerce operator. Instead of levying tax on such actual supplier, the law has imposed levy on e-commerce operator. Therefore, this would be an exception to the imposition of tax as specified in para supra. It is important to note that this exception is carved out only in respect of supply of services through an e-commerce operator and will not be applicable / relevant to supply of any goods through an e-commerce operator.

It is important to recognize the following aspects about e-commerce operations:

- Every online transaction is not e-commerce. It could be a portal providing information online to carry out the transaction or it could be a online tracking of an offline transaction or it could be a service using internet;
- Supplier offering 'online channel' to sell goods or services in addition to offline stores also does not qualify as e-commerce;
- It does not necessarily require a 'website' or 'app' (application on mobile phones) to constitute e-commerce, any 'digital network' like a easy dial phone number is enough; and
- Digital wallets are not e-commerce. In fact, most e-wallet companies do not have RBI approval but work jointly with Payments Banks or (regular) Banks to provide a e-wallet experience where technology comes from the enterprise and the cash-custody is with the banking license holder (see list on RBIs website and find names many popular e-wallets missing <https://www.rbi.org.in/scripts/publicationsview.aspx?id=12043>)

Utmost care is required to come to a conclusion that a given enterprise is an 'e-commerce' enterprise. Notification No. 14/2017-Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 28-Jun-17 amended vide Notification No. 23/2017-Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 22-Aug-17 has been issued to provide that in case of the following categories of services, the tax on inter-State supplies shall be paid by the electronic commerce operator.

- (i) Services by way of transportation of passengers by a radio-taxi, motorcab, maxicab and motorcycle. Vide Notification No. 17/2021-IT (R) dt. 18.11.2021, Notification No. 14/2017-IT (R) dt. 28.06.2017 has been amended to the effect that services by way of transportation of passengers by an omnibus or any other motor vehicle have also been included therein.
- (ii) Services by way of providing accommodation in hotels, inns, guest houses, clubs, campsites or other commercial places meant for residential or lodging purposes, except where the person supplying such service through electronic commerce operator is liable for registration under clause (v) of section 20 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 read with sub-section (1) of section 22 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act.
- (iii) Services by way of house-keeping, such as plumbing, carpentering etc, except where the person supplying such service through electronic commerce operator is liable for registration under clause (v) of section 20 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 read with sub-section (1) of section 22 of the said Central Goods and Services Tax Act.
- (iv) A new clause has been inserted in Notification No. 14/2017-IT (R) dt. 28.06.2017 to include supply of restaurant service other than the services supplied by restaurant, eating joints etc. located at specified premises, within the list of services, the tax on which is payable by the electronic commerce operator. Here, "specified premises" would mean premises providing hotel accommodation service having declared tariff of any unit of accommodation above Rs. 7,500 per unit per day or equivalent.

In cases where the e-commerce operator:

- (a) Does not have a physical presence then the person who represents the e-commerce operator will be liable to pay tax.
- (b) Does not have a physical presence or a representative, then the e-commerce operator is mandatorily required to appoint a person who will be liable to pay tax.

5.3 Comparative review

Under the erstwhile tax laws, central excise duty was on 'manufacture of goods', VAT/ CST is on 'sale of goods' and Service tax is on 'provision of service'. Unlike different incidences under erstwhile law in a GST regime, 'it is supply which is a taxable event'. Further, free supplies would be liable to excise duty, while under the VAT laws, free supplies would require reversal of input tax credit; Unlike different incidences, under the GST law, it is 'supply' which would be the taxable event. Under the erstwhile law, for instance, while stock transfers were liable to Central Excise duty (if they are removed from the factory), it would not be liable to VAT/ CST. However, under the GST law, it would be taxable as a 'supply'.

Under the erstwhile laws, there were multiple transactions which apparently qualified as both 'sale of goods' as well as 'provision of services'. E.g. license of software, providing a right to use a brand name, etc. Unlike this situation, GST clarifies as to whether a transaction would qualify as a 'supply of goods' or as 'supply of services'. A transaction would either qualify as goods or as services, under the GST law. Even in respect of composite contracts, it has been clarified under Schedule II, definitions of composite supply and mixed supply in the CGST law.

The payment of VAT by the purchaser (registered dealer) on purchase of goods from an unregistered dealer and the circumstances where the service tax is payable under the reverse charge mechanism, in respect of say, import of services, sponsorship services etc., are comparable to the 'reverse charge mechanism' prescribed herein. However, under GST law, the Central Government can notify class of goods which are a subject matter of reverse charge.

5.5 FAQs

Q1. Will sale of business as a whole be liable to tax?

Ans. Yes, clause (d) of section 2(17) of the CGST Act provides that supply or acquisition of goods including capital goods and services in connection with commencement or closure of business is also included in the term "business". Therefore, the goods element in the sale of business, would be regarded as 'supply'. However, it may be noted here that sale of undertaking wholly or partly on a going concern basis will be regarded as an exempt supply in terms of the exemption notification.

Q2. Is the reverse charge mechanism applicable only to services?

Ans. No, section 5(3) or 5(4) of the IGST Act and section 9(3) or 9(4) of the CGST Act does not limit reverse charge to services; it applies to goods also. Notification No. 04/ 2017-Central Tax (Rate), dated 28-06-2017 as amended from time to time has been issued to provide the cases where tax has to be paid by recipient of supply of goods under reverse charge mechanism. This includes Cashew nuts, not shelled or peeled, Bidi wrapper leaves (tendu), Tobacco leaves, Silk yarn, supply of lottery, used vehicles, seized and confiscated goods, old and used goods, waste and scrap, raw cotton when supplied by specified suppliers.

Q3. What will be the implications in case of purchase of goods from unregistered dealers?

Ans. Section 5(4) of the IGST Act, 2017 as amended by the IGST (Amendment) Act, 2018 specifies that tax shall be payable under reverse charge by the specified class of registered persons, in respect of supply of specified categories of goods.

Q4. In respect of exchange, will the transaction be taxable as two different supplies or will it be taxable only in the hands of the main supplier?

Ans. Taxable as two different supplies. Exchange from point of view of each party will need to be examined if it attracts the requirements of levy of tax.

Q5. In respect of exchange or barter, if one supply is intra-State and another is inter-State, how will the taxes be applicable?

Ans. There are two separate supplies and taxes as applicable (as inter-State and/ or intra-State respectively) are payable.

Q6. What are examples of 'disposals' as used in supply?

Ans. Sale of old furniture by a garment manufacturer.

Note: Disposal is where the articles are being cleared up and not necessarily as the main object of the business.

Q7. Will a Bank qualify as a taxable person for sale of hypothecated/ pledged goods (auction)?

Ans. Yes, the nature of business as a bank does not affect tax liability. GST is payable if there is any supply of goods or services even by a bank.

Q8. Will an Insurance company be a taxable person for sale of repossessed goods?

Ans. Yes. Although not the principal source of income, sale of repossessed goods is key aspect of insurance business.

Q9. Will a "not for profit entity" be liable to tax on any sales effected by it – e.g.: sale of assets received as donation?

Ans. Yes. NPEs do not distribute profit to promoters but that does not exclude from doing activities that conform to the definition of 'business'.

STATUTORY PROVISIONS6. Power to grant exemption from tax

- (1) Where the Government is satisfied that it is necessary in the public interest so to do, it may, on the recommendations of the Council, by notification, exempt generally, either absolutely or subject to such conditions as may be specified therein, goods or services or both of any specified description from the whole or any part of the tax leviable thereon with effect from such date as may be specified in such notification.
- (2) Where the Government is satisfied that it is necessary in the public interest so to do, it may, on the recommendations of the Council, by special order in each case, under circumstances of an exceptional nature to be stated in such order, exempt from payment of tax any goods or services or both on which tax is leviable.
- (3) The Government may, if it considers necessary or expedient so to do for the purpose of clarifying the scope or applicability of any notification issued under sub-section (1) or order issued under sub-section (2), insert an Explanation in such notification or order, as the case may be, by notification at any time within one year of issue of the notification under sub-section (1) or order under sub-section (2), and every such Explanation shall have effect as if it had always been the part of the first such notification or order, as the case may be.

Explanation.— For the purposes of this section, where an exemption in respect of any goods or services or both from the whole or part of the tax leviable thereon has been granted absolutely, the registered person supplying such goods or services or both shall not collect the tax, in excess of the effective rate, on such supply of goods or services or both.

6.1 Introduction

This provision states that the Central Government may grant exemptions for inter-State supply of certain goods and/ or services. Reference may also be made to section 11 of the CGST Act and section 8 of the UTGST Act for a better understanding.

6.2 Analysis

The Central Government will be empowered to grant exemptions from payment of IGST on inter-State supplies, subject to the following conditions:

- (i) Exemption should be in public interest
- (ii) By way of issue of notification
- (iii) On the recommendation from the GST Council
- (iv) Absolute/ conditional exemption may be for any goods and/ or services
- (v) Exemption by way of special order (and not notification) may be granted by citing the circumstances which are of exceptional nature

With specific reference to the fourth condition indicated above, it is important to note that the exemption would only be in respect of goods and/ or services, and not specifically for classes of persons.

E.g.: An absolute exemption could be granted in respect of supply of fertiliser. A conditional exemption could be supply of fertiliser subject to the condition that no input tax credit has been claimed in respect of inputs and capital goods.

Exemption by way of special order is where the exemption is issued for a specific purpose. E.g. Exemption to imports made for a defence project during the times of emergency.

The mandatory nature of absolute exemptions has been litigated in the past and where tax is paid even though exemption is available, credit becomes admissible. For this reason, absolute exemptions have been made compulsory. As such, credit denial also becomes absolute. No plea of equity or revenue neutrality becomes admissible.

There is generally not much doubt about exemptions – whether absolute or conditional – because the condition associated may be examined at one-time or continuously to be satisfied. Conditional exemptions abate if the associated condition is not complied. Care should be taken not to mistake conditional exemption with absolute exemption having specific applicability.

In terms of sub-section (2), the Government may issue a special order on a case-to-case basis. The circumstances of exceptional nature would also have to be specified in the special order. While this provision is welcome, industry is apprehensive that this could be used without necessary superintendence.

To provide more clarity to the exemption notification or the special order, it is provided that the Government may issue an “Explanation” at any time within a period of one year from the date of issue of notification or special order. The effect of this “Explanation” would be retrospective, viz., from the effective date of the relevant notification or special order.

The law mandates that when the exemption is absolute (i.e., if whole or part of tax leviable is exempt) the registered person cannot collect taxes in excess of the effective rate.

Exemption under section 11 of the CGST/ SGST Act equally applicable

Any exemption notification or special order issued under section 11 of the CGST Law will apply equally for inter-State supplies, viz., any supply of goods or services or both which are exempt under CGST Law will be exempt even under the IGST Law

Effective date of the notification or special order

The effective date of the notification or the special order would be the date which is mentioned in the notification or special order. However, if no date is mentioned therein, it would come into force on the date of its issue by the Central Government for publication in the Official Gazette. It follows that such notification/ order shall be made available on the official website of the department of the Central Government.

7.1 Introduction

Having examined levy and the scope and coverage of supply, the next aspect to determine is the nature of supply so as to identify the right kind of tax applicable in a given case. It is important to note that nature of supply is not a question of fact but the result of application of the law to the fact, which provides us the answer. Concluding the answer about the nature of tax is of paramount importance not only for the selection of the right kind of tax but also to recognise the departure of GST from the well understood principles under the erstwhile law.

Nature of supply does not refer to 'place of supply'. The next Chapter deals with place of supply but before getting into place of supply it is important to understand the nature of supply. There are very specific principles laid down that need to be identified from the facts in each transaction in order to determine the nature of supply that is involved. This section provides as to when the supplies of goods and/or services shall be treated as Supply in the course of inter-State trade/commerce.

Section 7(1) and 7(2) of IGST Act, primarily covers two kinds of supplies – Supply of goods within India and supply of goods imported into India respectively and sections 7(3) and 7(4) of IGST Act, covers two kinds of supplies – supply of services within India and import of services into India respectively. Certain supplies of goods or services are treated as supplies in the course of inter-State trade or commerce as defined in section 7(5) of the IGST Act.

7.2 Analysis

Inter-State supply of goods

At the outset one may need to bear in mind the treatment extended to the subject matter of supply, that is, whether the supply is of goods or services or both or supply involving goods but treated as supply of services in terms of the fiction specified in Schedule II of CGST Act, 2017. In respect of goods (treated as goods), if the location of the supplier and the place of supply are in two different States or UT or either, then the supply will be in the course of inter-State trade or commerce (amongst others).

We need to pause here and examine the two terms that have been used, namely:

- (a) Location of supplier – Unlike in the case of services, location of supplier of goods is a term that is not defined in the law. This is not an oversight of the draftsmen but a deliberate intention of the lawmakers to leave it to the facts of each case to determine the 'location of supplier of goods'. For example, if a company incorporated in Delhi were to place a purchase order on a manufacturer in Maharashtra to produce certain articles and sell it on ex-works basis with instructions to retain it until further instructions. This would be a case where the manufacturer in Maharashtra would like to charge IGST because the purchase order is from a customer in Delhi. In this supply, the location of supplier is Maharashtra and place of supply is also Maharashtra. Therefore, the manufacturer is required to charge CGST/ SGST because this supply does not involve any movement and due to the instructions (or lapse of time) delivery is complete in Maharashtra itself. Now, if instructions are subsequently issued to dispatch the goods to a warehouse in Madhya Pradesh, the supply by the manufacturer having been completed long before these dispatch instructions are received, there is a new supply emerging from Maharashtra to Madhya Pradesh but the supplier in this instance will be the company in Delhi and not by the manufacturer-supplier in Maharashtra. One supplier can effect supply only once of the given goods. In this new supply, the location of supplier can either be Delhi – registered place of business – or Maharashtra – the physical point where the goods are situated. The location of the registered place of business (Delhi) cannot guide the decision regarding the nature of supply but will be guided by their location ‘under the control’ of the supplier (Company in Delhi). The point where goods are situated better represents the location of supplier. The location of supplier is therefore the physical point where the goods are situated under the control of the person wherever incorporated or registered, ready to be supplied. This interpretation augurs well with the concept of casual taxable person. The company in Delhi that collects delivery of the goods in Maharashtra and supplies them from Maharashtra to Madhya Pradesh must be regarded as casual taxable person in Maharashtra liable to pay IGST on this supply.

If, however, the delivery by the manufacturer is not completed ex-works but retained to be delivered to Madhya Pradesh at the instruction of the customer in Delhi, then it would be a case of supply from Maharashtra to Delhi and a further supply from Delhi to Madhya Pradesh, regardless of how the goods move. Generally, we can identify the examples where the location of supplier of goods is more accurately determined by the physical point where the goods are located (under the control of the person wherever incorporated or registered), and ready to be supplied.

However, there may be a few exceptions to the rule stated above:

- a) In case of in-transit sales, the principle of the location of supplier as the place where the goods are held in the control of the supplier may not be possible to be determined. In such cases, the place where goods were held before being dispatched, should be taken. The place where the goods are actually present cannot be taken.

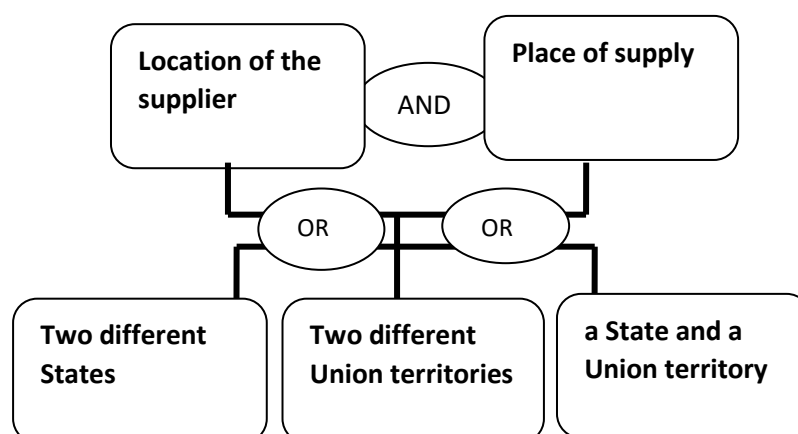

E.g., A person in West Bengal is instructing his supplier in Delhi to supply the goods directly to his customer in Maharashtra while the goods are in transit. For the second leg of the transaction i.e., the supply between the person in West Bengal and the one in Maharashtra, the location of goods may not be determinable. In such a case, the location of supplier for this leg of the transaction will be considered as West Bengal even though the goods never reach West Bengal.

- b) As per Circular no. 10/10/2017-GST dated 18th October 2017, clarification was given in a case where the suppliers are registered in a State but have to visit other States other than their State of registration and need to carry the goods for approval. In such case, if the goods are approved the invoice is issued at the time of supply. It was clarified that all such supplies, where the supplier carries goods from one State to another and supplies them in a different State, will be inter-State supplies and attract integrated tax in terms of section 5 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017. In such case also, the location of supplier is the place where the supplier is registered and not the place where the goods are actually present when they are approved. Even though this is in contradiction with the concept of Casual Taxable person which requires the supplier to register in the State where he is carrying the goods, this clarification was provided for the ease of trade and industry.

- (b) Place of supply – It appears to be a phrase that is easily understandable but due to the presence of Chapter V (i.e., place of supply of goods or services or both) in this Act demands that the common sense understanding be disregarded but the meaning ascribed to the phrase 'place of supply' from sections 10 to 14 of this Act be applied. 'Place of supply' is a phrase of legal significance whose meaning is to be determined by examining the respective sections in Chapter V and brought to bear while determining nature of supply. For example, manufacture in Maharashtra and supply to a company in Delhi on Ex-Works basis, its place of supply has to be the location of completion of delivery. And in respect of the new supply from Maharashtra to Madhya Pradesh, the place of supply is where the movement terminates for delivery – Madhya Pradesh.

It is therefore important to identify the location of supplier of goods and not based on a statutory definition but by inquiring into the facts of a transaction of supply and comparing this with the place of supply appointed by the statute in Chapter V. Now, if these two are situated in different States or UTs or either, then the nature of supply is declared by section 7 to be in the course of inter-State trade or commerce.

This provision is subject to the provisions of section 10 because any interpretation or application of this section 7 cannot be in derogation of the place of supply dictated by section 10. Section 7 can be correctly interpreted only by identifying the location of supplier of goods based on the physical point where the goods are situated and comparing that with the answer from referring to section 10 regarding place of supply of goods.

With regard to supply of goods that are imported into the territory of India, by legislative override it is declared that if the goods crossed the customs frontiers of India, the supply will always be in the course of inter-State trade or commerce. Reference may be made to the definition of import of goods [section 2(10)] which adverts to the physical movement of goods into India from a place outside India by the active efforts on the part of any person (who may be situated in India or outside India).

The use of the word 'bringing' in section 2(10) excludes naturally and involuntarily occurring phenomena causing the relocation of goods into India from a place outside India. There may be any number of supplies taking place between persons who are incorporated outside India and persons who are incorporated and even registered in India – they will all be transactions of supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce – till such time the goods cross the customs frontiers of India.

Import of goods

We need to pause here again and examine two kinds of transactions – those that commence outside the territory of India and are concluded also outside territory of India and those that commence outside India but conclude by entering the territory of India. For example, company in Germany supplies goods from Germany to another company in Sri Lanka – this is not a supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce because it commences and concludes outside the territory of India. It would be so, even if the goods were supplied by the company in Germany from Germany to a customer incorporated in India if the goods are not 'brought' into India but sold in high seas to yet another company in Singapore. In order for every supply to come within the operation of sub-section 2 to section 7 it requires that the resultant effect of the supply must cause the goods to enter the territory of India. This Act does not enjoy extra-territorial jurisdiction and is limited to imposing tax if the goods are imported into the territory of India. In this regard Customs circular issued by the CBEC and an Advance Ruling by the Kerala Authority for Advance Ruling (AAR) is relevant, which is discussed in detail in Section 11. After the CGST (Amendment) Act 2019 as effective from 1st February 2019, goods sold before the same is cleared for customs clearance i.e., high sea sales, sale of goods when they are in the bonded warehouses before customs clearance etc. will not be treated as a supply under Schedule III read with section 7(2) of the CGST Act 2017.

Further, if goods have been brought into India but have not left the customs frontiers of India, that is, the limits of a customs area, any supplies that are taking place after being brought into India until they cross the customs frontiers of India even though the place of entry into India and the place that comprises the customs frontier may be in the same State will continue to be supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce.

For example, goods have been imported from France by a company incorporated and registered in Nasik which have landed at Mumbai port but during their clearance the goods are supplied by the Nasik company to a company in Pune; this supply continues to be in the course of inter-State trade or commerce. Even though the supplier is in Nasik and the recipient is in Pune, since the goods have not yet crossed the customs frontiers of India at the time of supply, this supply comes within the operation of sub-section (2) of section 7. A test that can be applied to determine whether the supply has been concluded before the goods crossed the customs frontiers of India or not crossed the customs frontiers of India is – who has filed a bill of entry in respect of the goods imported as required under the Customs Act. Transactions taking place before filing of bill of entry are termed as “high sea sale” transactions under common trade practice where the original importer sells the goods to a third person before the goods are entered for customs clearance. This supply is covered within the definition of inter-State supply. Provisions of sub-section (12) of section 3 of Customs Tariff Act, 1975 in as much as in respect of imported goods, provides that all duties, taxes, cess’ etc. shall be collected at the time of importation i.e., when the import declarations are filed before the customs authorities for the customs clearance purposes. High sea sale transactions, though regarded as supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce, are not subject to levy of IGST as the supply takes place before filing of bill of entry and IGST in case of importation of goods can be levied at the time of filing of bill of entry. Hence, IGST on high sea sale(s) transactions of imported goods, whether one or multiple, shall be levied and collected only at the time of importation i.e. when the import declarations are filed before the Customs authorities for the customs clearance purposes for the first time. Further, value addition accruing in each such high sea sale shall form part of the value on which IGST is collected at the time of clearance. The importer (last buyer in the chain) would be required to furnish the entire chain of documents, such as original Invoice, high-seas-sales-contract, details of service charges/ commission paid etc, to establish a link between the first contracted price of the goods and the last transaction. In the above example, supply by Nasik company to the recipient of Pune is high sea sale transaction and is not subject to levy of IGST. When the Pune recipient files bill of entry, IGST has to be paid on the assessable value which shall include the margin charged by Nasik supplier also. In fact, after the CGST (Amendment) Act 2018, all high seas transactions and merchant trading transactions will be covered by Schedule III i.e., activities which are neither supply of goods nor supply of services w.e.f. 01/02/2019

Inter-State supply of services

Continuing with inter-State supply, but in respect of services, it is firstly important to recollect that this provision will apply not only in respect of supply of services but also in respect of transactions involving goods which are treated as supply of services by the fiction in Schedule II of the CGST Act, 2017. The discussion regarding location of supplier of goods and place of supply of goods will be applicable in the context of services but only to a limited extent for the reason that location of supplier of services has been defined in this Act.

Where the location of supplier of services and the place of supply of services are in two different States or UTs or either, such a supply of services shall be in the course of inter-State trade or commerce. It is interesting to note that inter-State trade is not simply called ‘intra-State trade’ but is prefixed with ‘in the course of’. This prefix is not without reason, because such prefix is missing in relation to intra-State supply. The significance of ‘in the course of’ is well explained in the decision of State of Bihar vs Telco Ltd. 27 STC 127 at page. 148 where the Hon’ble Supreme Court has held that it signifies a series of activities that are all inter-related in an unbroken chain of events so intimately linked to each other that all of them are bound together ‘in the course of’ such an inter-State trade transaction.

Location of supplier of services is defined to mean ‘place of business from where supply is made and duly registered for the purpose’. It also includes other places ‘from where’ supplies are made being a fixed establishment – a place with sufficient degree of permanence and suitable structure to supply services. And lastly, the usual place of residence of the service provider. It is interesting to note that the location of supplier of services has nothing to do with the business premises ‘wherefrom’ supply is made.

Special category of inter-State supplies

The following categories of supplies of goods or services or both, are treated as being in the course of inter-State trade or commerce:

(a) When the supplier is located in India and the place of supply is outside India

Here, it is extremely important to note that usage of the 'supplier is located' is not to be equated with 'location of supplier'. From the previous discussion, it is learnt that location of supplier of goods is – physical point where the goods are situated under the control of the person wherever incorporated or registered, ready to be supplied. But the deliberate departure in usage of the same set of words is almost misleading. "Supplier is located in India" does not refer to location of supplier. Instead, it is a simple question of fact as to where the supplier is located. Note, that the 'supplier' is none other than the 'one who supplies' and not his agent or representative or any other person. The question that arises is – what is the GST impact in case the supplier is located outside India and the place of supply is outside India? The Act applies to supplies within the taxable territory and when both – supplier as well as place of supply – being located outside India, the Act does not enjoy any jurisdiction to impose tax even if the recipient is located in India. The destination of consumption being decided by the place of supply provisions and not location of the recipient

Section 2(105)- Supplier in relation to any goods or services or both, shall mean the person supplying the said goods or services or both and shall include an agent acting as such on behalf of such supplier in relation to the goods or services or both

(b) Where the supply is 'to' or 'by' an SEZ developer or unit

Here, it is important to note that supply to SEZ (developer or unit) is treated as inter-State supply. Supply 'by' SEZ (developer or unit) will also be treated as inter-State supply. Further, the implication of this provision is also that supply by SEZ's inter se from one SEZ unit (or developer) to another SEZ unit (or developer) will also be treated as a supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce.

Let us take a few examples to illustrate the implications from this provision:

- Taxable person (non-SEZ) located in Jaipur supplying goods to a SEZ unit located in Jodhpur is a supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce.
- SEZ unit in Kolkata supplying services to another SEZ unit in Kolkata is a supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce.
- Lease of premises by SEZ developer in Chennai to SEZ unit in that same zone in Chennai will be a supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce.
- Supply by SEZ unit in Kochi to a non-SEZ in Kochi will be a supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce.
- Disposal of scrap by a SEZ developer in Mumbai to a scrap dealer in Mumbai (outside the zone) is a supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce.
- Export of goods by a SEZ unit to a customer in Italy is a supply in the course of inter-State trade or commerce.

(c) Any supply not being an intra-State supply

Here, it is to be considered that any supply that falls outside the scope of intra-State supply will not escape GST, but would be an inter-State supply by virtue of this residual provision in the Act.

STATUTORY PROVISIONS8. Intra-State Supply

- (1) Subject to the provisions of section 10, supply of goods where the location of the supplier and the place of supply of goods are in the same State or same Union territory shall be treated as intra-State supply:

Provided that the following supply of goods shall not be treated as intra-State supply, namely: –

- (i) supply of goods to or by a Special Economic Zone developer or a Special Economic Zone unit;
 - (ii) goods imported into the territory of India till they cross the customs frontiers of India; or
 - (iii) supplies made to a tourist referred to in section 15.
- (2) Subject to the provisions of section 12, supply of services where the location of the supplier and the place of supply of services are in the same State or same Union territory shall be treated as intra-State supply:

Provided that the intra-State supply of services shall not include supply of services to or by a Special Economic Zone developer or a Special Economic Zone unit.

Explanation 1 —For the purposes of this Act, where a person has, —

- (i) an establishment in India and any other establishment outside India;
- (ii) an establishment in a State or Union territory and any other establishment outside that State or Union territory; or
- (iii) an establishment in a State or Union territory and any other establishment ~~being a business vertical~~ registered within that State or Union territory, then such establishments shall be treated as establishments of distinct persons.

Explanation 2 —A person carrying on a business through a branch or an agency or a representational office in any territory shall be treated as having an establishment in that territory.

8.1 Introduction

With the background discussion on inter-State supplies, it would be appropriate to contrast this understanding with a discussion on intra-State supplies.

8.2 Analysis

Intra-State supply of goods

In relation to goods, section 8 of the IGST Act provides that where the 'location of the supplier' and the 'place of supply' are in the same State or same UT, such a supply will be treated as an intra-State supply. Reference may be had with respect to the discussion on location of supplier of goods in the context of section 7 of the IGST Act which may be relied upon for the purpose of this discussion. This provision too, is made subject to the provisions of section 10, that is, regarding the place of supply, and the conclusion reached by applying the said provisions is required to be read into this section for the purpose of determination of transactions of intra-State in nature. The two factors – 'location of supplier' and 'place of supply', – must at the conclusion of a supply, be in the same State or UT. And when it is so, the supply would be an intra-State supply of goods.

For example, a company having its regular registration in Uttar Pradesh has taken a casual registration in Odisha. It has purchased certain goods in Odisha and supplying the same to the customer also in Odisha under two separate transactions of supply; both of them will be intra-State supplies.

Therefore, it is important to bear in mind that the place of incorporation of the supplier in any transaction relating to goods is not relevant as the location of the supplier which has been explained earlier as – physical point where the goods are situated under the control of the distinct person, wherever incorporated or registered, ready to be supplied. Not only this, three cases have been discussed in the above Chapter wherein the location of supplier of goods may not be the location of supplier (i.e., in-transit sales, sales on approval or return basis wherein the goods are carried from one State to another and sales from the port directly without bringing the same to the registered place of business of the importer). For discussion on this, the discussion under para 7.2 above may be referred.

Further, three exceptions have been carved out in this provision to state that a few supplies are to be treated as inter-State even if the supplier and recipient are in the same state:

- (1) supply 'to' or 'by' a SEZ developer or unit;
- (2) supply involving goods imported into India but not beyond the customs frontiers;
- (3) supply to outbound tourist in terms of section 15 of the IGST Act.

These three exceptions make it abundantly clear that they have been treated to be inter-State supplies, expressly stated under section 7. This proviso excludes any opportunity to question the probable intra-State nature of the said supply. As discussed in the various examples, even though the movement of goods may be within the same State, due to the deeming fiction imposed in section 7 – these supplies are treated as supplies in the course of inter-State trade or commerce – and cannot be disturbed by section 8. The express exclusion is evidence of a suspect inclusion – with this proviso, there is no question of the intra-State nature of the supplies listed.

Note that the supplies are not three specific supplies but three classes of supplies. Examples of supply to or by a SEZ developer or unit has already been discussed in detail earlier which may be referred. Supply involving goods imported into India has also been discussed and the same may be referred. For examples, regarding supplies to tourists, refer discussion under section 15.

Intra-State supply of services

With regard to supply of service, if the twin factors – location of supplier of services' and 'place of supply of services' – are in the same State or UT, then such supply will be treated as intra-State supply. Location of supplier of services has been defined in the Act to mean 'place of business from where supply is made and duly registered for the purpose'. It also includes other places and reference may be had to the discussion in respect of inter-State supply of services for the implications of this definition.

To provide some additional illustration, consider audit services being provided by a Chartered Accountant located in Delhi to a company in Delhi. For the purpose of the audit, the Chartered Accountant visits the company's factory located in Noida. Here, although the Chartered Accountant is physically moving to Noida, he is not supplying the audit services from Noida. Here, the transaction will be an intra-State supply from Delhi to Delhi. Refer to the more detailed discussion under Section 12.

Further, here too we find caution exercised in expressly excluding supply of services 'to' or 'by' SEZ developer or unit from the scope of intra-State supply of services. The two explanations provided are significant as the concept of distinct persons in sections 25(4) and 25(5) of the CGST Act is further clarified in stating that the following will also be distinct persons, namely:

- establishment in India and an establishment outside India;
- establishment in a State or UT and an establishment outside that State or UT;

Section 2(15) -location of supplier of services means –

- (a) where a supply is made from a place of business for which the registration has been obtained, the location of such place of business;*
- (b) where a supply is made from a place other than the place of business for which registration has been obtained (a fixed establishment elsewhere), the location of such fixed establishment;*
- (c) where a supply is made from more than one establishment, whether the place of business or fixed establishment, the location of the establishment most directly concerned with the provision of the supply; and*
- (d) in the absence of such places, the location of the usual place of residence of the supplier;*

- establishment in a State or UT and any other establishment (registered separately) in the same State or UT.

Note that the term 'establishment' may be interpreted as being similar to 'fixed establishment' which is defined in this Act in identical manner with the definition in section 2(50) of CGST Act. It refers to it being 'a place with sufficient degree of permanence and suitable structure to supply services or to receive and use the services'.

Under section 2(7), 'fixed establishment' means a place (other than the registered place of business) which is characterised by a sufficient degree of permanence and suitable structure in terms of human and technical resources to supply services or to receive and use services for its own needs;

8.3 Comparative Review

There is no such proposition in the erstwhile laws as the concept of supply is unique to our tax system and considered as a 'taxable event' for the first time in indirect tax regime. The provisions of section 7 and 8 have to be read alongside sections 10 and 12 and whenever a conflict arises between the said provisions, section 7, or as the case may be, section 8 has to make way for section 10/ 12, which is signified by the usage of the words "subject to the provisions of sections 10/ 12".

However, broadly this can be compared with the provisions of CST Act, 1956 which provides for determining when a sale will be an inter-State sale or when a sale in outside the State.

8.4 Issues and concerns

1. By virtue of section 7(5) of the IGST Act, all supplies made by or to SEZ units or developers are treated as inter-State supplies. So to say, a small tea vendor (kinara shop) supplying evening beverages to an SEZ unit, or an inward supply of office stationery from a small stationery supplier, by an SEZ unit, will be regarded as inter-State supplies. In this regard, it is important to note that the GST Law mandates registration, regardless of the turnover, where a supplier is engaged in effecting inter-State taxable supplies. Although the inclusion of such transactions was, perhaps, not the intent of the legislature, it is noted that there is no relaxation provided in this regard, in respect of mandatory registration in respect of supply of goods.

2. Evidently, the law provides for the definition of the phrase 'location of the supplier of services' and turns a blind eye to the phrase 'location of the supplier of goods'. Accordingly, the debate arises as to what constitutes the location of the supplier, in respect of goods. Drawing inference from section 22(1) of the CGST Act, every supplier shall be liable to be registered in the State or UT from where he effects taxable supplies, subject to crossing the aggregate turnover threshold limits. This means that, while a supplier may be registered in one State, and stocks his goods in another State for any reason, shall be required to take a registration in the second State as well, when he effects a supply of such goods from the State. Merely because the supplier has not obtained a registration in the second State does not alter the fact that the supply is in fact, effected from a State other than the State in which he has obtained registration. Therefore, the location of the supplier is regarded as the location of the goods at the time of removal of such goods for supply.

9. Supplies in Territorial Waters

Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, —

- (a) where the location of the supplier is in the territorial waters, the location of such supplier; or
- (b) where the place of supply is in the territorial waters, the place of supply, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be in the coastal State or Union territory where the nearest point of the appropriate baseline is located.

9.1 Introduction

GST being a destination-based consumption tax (discussed in greater detail in section 10), the supply may at times take place in the territorial waters of India, including cases where a supplier is required to travel into the territorial waters in order to supply goods or services. While the nature of supply in these cases may be inter-State supplies (in terms of section 7(5)(c) of the IGST Act – residuary clause), by virtue of this section, the law provides a deeming fiction to reinstate the steps to be applied in sections 7 and 8 by artificially specifying the location as the 'location of supplier' and the location of 'place of supply'. For this reason, clear provisions are laid down as to where on the land mass of India, the actual location will be linked to. Note that the statute uses the expression 'deemed to be' which would supply an artificial meaning. Also, this provision does not seek to violate the exclusive jurisdiction of the Union on matters of territorial waters but merely establishes a link to the land mass of India to overcome judicial intervention or assumptions by industry.

9.2 Analysis

The provision identifies two facts that have been discussed at length in the context of sections 7 and 8, namely:

- Location of supplier of goods or services or both
- Place of supply of goods or services or both

By applying the provisions of sections 10 and 12, if it is established that the 'place of supply' or 'the location of the supplier' is found to be in the territorial waters and not on the land mass, an ambiguity could arise as to where the supplier is required to be registered, or to which State the tax on the supply should be apportioned to. To address these situations, the statute lays down, vide this deeming fiction, that such locations – ‘supplier’ or ‘place of supply’ – will be the most proximate State or UT.

For example, consider a case where a ship is moored off the coast of Kochi (Kerala) needs a replacement of a crucial part, and such replacement is carried out along with the supply of the part by a Company located in Karnataka for the shipping company from United Kingdom. In this case, the place of supply of the part, being the location of the ship (as determined in terms of section 10) will create doubt about the applicability of GST. By virtue of the provisions of section 9, it is clear that both the location of the supplier and the place of supply will not be the territorial waters but would be Kochi itself. With this doubt having been resolved, it would be an inter-State taxable supply effected by the Company in Karnataka albeit to the UK Company, while the State tax would be apportioned to the Kerala Government.

The non-obstante clause at the beginning of this section is important to overcome any alternative interpretations that may be attempted by reading other provisions of the Act.

9.3 Comparative Review

Under the erstwhile tax laws, central excise duty was on ‘manufacture of goods’, VAT/ CST was on ‘sale of goods’ and service tax was on ‘provision of service’. Unlike different incidences, under the GST law, it is ‘supply’ which would be the taxable event. Under the erstwhile law, for instance while stock transfers are liable to central excise duty (if they are removed from the factory), it would not be liable to VAT/ CST. However, under the GST law, it would be taxable as a ‘supply’. Further, free supplies would be liable to excise duty, while under the VAT laws, free supplies would require reversal of input tax credit; under the GST law, the treatment would be similar to the erstwhile VAT laws, where the supplies were made without any consideration (monetary/ otherwise).

Under the erstwhile laws, there were multiple transactions which apparently qualified as both ‘sale of goods’ as well as ‘provision of services’. E.g.: license of software, providing a right to use a brand name, etc. Unlike this situation, GST clarifies as to whether a transaction would qualify as a ‘supply of goods’ or as ‘supply of services’. A transaction would either qualify as goods or as services, under the GST law. Even in respect of composite contracts, it has been clarified under the GST law (Schedule II of the Act, concept of composite supply and mixed supply).

The payment of VAT in the hands of the purchaser (registered dealer) on purchase of goods from an unregistered dealer and the circumstances where the service tax is payable under the reverse charge mechanism in respect of say, import of services, sponsorship services etc. are comparable to the ‘reverse charge mechanism’ prescribed herein. However, the concept of partial reverse charge/ joint charge has not been continued under the GST regime, viz., every supply will be liable to forward charge/ reverse charge, wholly. Further, the concept of reverse charge only existed in relation to services under Service tax as Central Excise did not provide for payment of duty under reverse charge on goods. However, the VAT laws of most States did provide for payment of tax under reverse charge on purchases effected from unregistered dealers in specified circumstances. The GST law, however, permits the supply of both, goods as well as services, to be subjected to reverse charge.

9.4 Issues and concerns

1. While it is clear that the location on the landmass that is most proximate to the location in the territorial waters will be the deemed location of the supplier / place of supply, as the case may be, it may be noted that the GST Law does not prescribe the methodology for determining the distance between the location in the territorial waters and the landmass. Therefore, the basis adopted for determining the nautical distance computed to determine the territorial waters is to be adopted to determine the distance.
2. There could be an exceptional case wherein the location in the territorial waters (being the location of the supplier / place of supply) is equally proximate from two different States / UTs. Such a scenario has not been addressed in this section and can only be dealt with as and when it is brought to light.

IGST	Section 13	Place of supply of services where location of supplier or location of recipient is outside India

10.1 Introduction

Place of supply is important to determine the kind of tax that is to be charged. When the location of supplier and the place of supply are in two different States, then it will be an inter-State supply and IGST would be chargeable. And when they are in the same State, then it will be an intra-State supply and CGST/ SGST would be chargeable. 'Place of supply' is not a phrase of common understanding, it is a legal term and as in the cases of all legal terms, their common understanding must not be applied but the meaning assigned to them in the law must be followed. Place of supply, similar to time of supply, is that which the legislature has appointed.

Place of supply determines the State or Union Territory to which the SGST portion of the revenue accrues.

The importance of place of supply (POS) is underlined based on the questions as under:

1. Whether one has to charge IGST or CGST+SGST/UTGST?
2. Whether the recipient of goods or services would be able to claim ITC?
3. Whether there is any liability on services received from outside India (import of services)?
4. Whether the supply is export of services and zero rated?
5. Which State would be receiving the revenue from tax charged on any taxable supply?

GST is understood as a 'destination-based consumption tax' but there is no provision that declares this fact. This missing declaration is more than adequately supplied by the principle being embodied in the provisions of 'place of supply'. It is here that we find that the destination principle of GST is captured in most of the cases. However, in certain cases, they have deviated from the destination-based principles by declaring place of supply as 'a state other than the destination state'.

10.2 Analysis

(a) Place of Supply – Supplies within India

Place of supply of goods, where the supplier and the recipient are both located within India, will be determined in accordance with section 10 of the IGST Act. The phrase 'location of supplier of goods' has not been defined in the IGST Act and this is deliberate due to the reason that location of the supplier of goods can be easily tracked, whereas location of the supplier of services has been defined under section 2(15) of the IGST Act. Two very important phrases are relevant here, namely:

- Location of supplier – the word 'location' in this phrase refers to the site or premises (geographical point) where the supplier is situated with the goods in his control ready to be supplied or in other words, it is the physical point where the goods are situated under the control of the person wherever incorporated or registered, ready to be supplied. The concept of the location of supplier and its exceptions have been discussed in 'Chapter 4 – Determination of Nature of supply'.
- Place of supply of goods – this is a legal phrase which the section decides to be the site or premises (geographical point) as its 'place of supply'.

Place of supply in each case is discussed below:

- (a) Where 'supply involves movement': The place of supply will be the place where the goods are located at the time at which the movement terminates for delivery to the recipient.
- ✓ The location of the goods is a question of fact to be ascertained by observing the journey that the goods supplied make from their origin from supplier and terminating with recipient.
 - ✓ This movement, however, can be by the supplier or by the recipient after having disclosed the destination of their movement or journey.
 - ✓ Movement 'terminates for delivery' requires a brief understanding about the manner of completing the delivery. It is easy to determine in a contract for supply where it records this 'choice' of the recipient regarding the mode and time of delivery. The supplier is always duty-bound to deliver in exactly the same way 'manner and timing' which the recipient dictates. In fact, the supplier continues to be obligated until delivery is completed in the way it is stated by the recipient. In other words, delivery is not complete if there is any deviation in either the manner or the timing as compared to that dictated by the recipient. When the delivery is to the satisfaction of the recipient, then the supplier is released from his obligation. Therefore, the additional question of fact to be determined is the mode and time of delivery dictated by the recipient and whether the same has been complied with to the satisfaction of the recipient.

* Readers shall refer the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Indian Oil Corporation vs UOI & others (1981) 1 SCR673. The Hon'ble Supreme Court decided in a case when one State in India (Uttar Pradesh) levied State sales tax and another State (Bihar) levied central sales tax on the same transaction of sale. Hence, the tax payable in the above column may differ based on circumstances, movement of goods, delivery etc. and hence the above answer shall not be taken as final.

(b) Where goods are delivered by the supplier to the recipient but at the instruction of a third person: Here, the place of supply will be the principal place of business of such third person and not of the actual recipient.

- ✓ It is important to identify the two supplies involved – by supplier to third person and by third person to the recipient. This provision deals only with the first limb of supply, that is, supply by supplier to third person .
- ✓ The question that arises is – the locus or authority of the third person to issue instructions to the supplier regarding its delivery. Even though the definition in section 2(93) refers to the recipient as the ‘payer of the consideration’, in this provision, recipient is the one who actually collects the goods. And the third person is the one who enjoys privity with the supplier to be able to direct him to deliver the goods. This is a case of constructive delivery to the third person and therefore, the third person turns out to be the recipient in this case.

Now, the place of supply will not be dependent on whether the movement of goods is from one State to another (if the supplier and recipient are in two different States) but as declared by the section to be dependent on the principal place of business of such third person (i.e., the person providing instructions to the supplier where the delivery should take place).

(c) Where the supply does not involve movement of goods: Here, the place of supply will be the location of the goods at the time of its delivery to the recipient.

- ✓ It is not a case where there is difficulty in movement of the goods, but a case where the supply contemplates that the goods ought not to move and when their delivery to the recipient will stand concluded.
- ✓ For example, a generator that is bolted to the concrete floor in the basement of a building purchased by the tenant and being left behind at the time of terminating the tenancy, the supply of the generator by the tenant to the landlord for an agreed price is a case of 'supply that does not involve movement of the goods'. In such cases, the place of supply will be where the generator stands bolted to the concrete floor and without requiring any movement. The landlord (recipient) confirms satisfactory completion of delivery.

Another example would be a case where the job worker develops a mould for the production of goods for the principal and retains the mould in his place itself for production of goods. The mould developed by the job worker is sold to the principal but the same is retained by the job worker without causing the movement of mould from job worker's premises to the principal's premises. In this case, the place of supply would be job worker's premises.

- ✓ This provision comes into operation only when its applicability is established based on the facts involved in the supply, that is, they do not involve movement.

- (d) Where the goods are assembled or installed at site: The place of supply will be the location of such installation or assembly.
- ✓ It is important to note that assembly or installation as referred to in this clause is not a 'works contract', which has been classified by law as a supply of services (in Paragraph 6(a) of Schedule II to the CGST Act, 2017) –note that the concept of works contract would arise only in respect of services, for which the place of supply is determined under section 12 and section 13 of the IGST Act, 2017.
 - ✓ The supply addressed in this provision refers to only a supply of goods, being a composite supply of goods along with some services, or a mixed supply treated as a supply of goods in terms of sections 2(30), 2(74) and 8 of the CGST Act. In other words, supply from the place of their origin to the site 'for' assembly or installation is subsumed within this provision and merged with the supply to the recipient by virtue of such assembly or installation.

- ✓ This provision appoints the place of supply based on the final act of assembly or installation. There is no requirement to vivisection the entire composite supply of goods (not being works contracts) that is a supply-cum-installation into a supply-plus-installation. If such vivisection were to be done, then in every instance of supply-cum-installation, the supplier will become a 'casual taxable person' in the State where the assembly or installation is required. In other words, when the goods are located in a State (under the control of the supplier which is not registered in that State) and then makes an outward supply directly from where the goods are located, that location becomes the 'place of business' (being the place of storage of goods) of the supplier, making him a casual taxable person in that State. Since, such vivisection is not required to be done, the condition of casual taxable person would not get attracted. It would remain a composite supply of goods from the location of the supplier.

- (e) Where goods are supplied on-board a conveyance: The place of supply will be the location at which the goods are taken on-board.
- ✓ Such transactions also cover two supplies – first being the supply of goods 'to' the operator of the conveyance, and second being the supply of such goods as goods or as services, 'by' the operator to the passenger (or any other person), during the journey 'in' the conveyance.
 - ✓ The place of supply covered under this clause is in respect of the second limb, and particularly for the supply of goods by the operator of the conveyance during its journey to the passengers. The supply of goods being food or beverages on board a conveyance would be outside the scope of this clause, given that such supply is treated as a composite supply of services in terms of Paragraph 6(b) of Schedule II to the CGST Act, 2017. Notification No. 13/ 2018-Central Tax (Rate), dated 26-July-2018 states that supply of food in train/ station platform would be taxable @5% pari materia with restaurant services. However, clarity is awaited as to whether the place of supply of such services supplied by IRCTC is to be considered as restaurant services [section 10(4)] or goods supplied on board [section 10(1) (e)]. However, supply of goods like sale of merchandise etc. would be covered under this clause.

- ✓ The term 'conveyance' includes vessel, aircraft, train or motor vehicle as defined under section 2(34) of the CGST Act.
- ✓ The place of supply in respect of first limb of supply will continue to be determined by other provisions of this Chapter and only the second limb of supply 'on-board the conveyance', being a supply of goods, will be determined by this clause.

- (f) Residuary provision: Where none of the foregoing provisions are applicable to determine the place of supply in case of a supply of goods, the Central Government may prescribe rules regarding the manner of its determination. Before taking recourse to this residuary provision, it must be demonstrated that the supply is one which cannot be covered by any of the clauses (a) to (e) of section 10(1).

10.3 Issues and concerns

Consider a case of delivery ex-factory. In such a case, a question may arise as to whether the supply involves movement of goods. However, considering that clause (a) specifies that the movement may be by the supplier or the recipient or any other person, it can be inferred that even a supply with an ex-factory delivery would be considered to be a supply involving movement of goods. The law does not provide the meaning of the phrase “terminates for delivery”. Delivery may be physical, constructive, implied or in any other form. A plain reading of this clause suggests that the delivery is completed ex-factory, and accordingly, ex-factory supplies would always be intra-State supplies (unless the supplier or recipient is an SEZ).

However, on making thorough study of the law, i.e., section 10(1)(a); section 2(2) which defines “address of delivery” as the address of the recipient of goods or services or both indicated on the tax invoice issued by a registered person for delivery of such goods or services or both; section 2(3) defines “address on record” as the address of the recipient as available in the records of the supplier; section 2(93) defines “recipient” of supply of goods or services or both; and section 2(96) defines “removal” in relation to goods, suggest that in case of ex-factory sale or counter-sale, the delivery of goods done by the supplier or taken by the recipient would terminate at the registered place or address on record mentioned in the tax invoice. As such, it can be inferred that if the delivery of goods is taken ex-factory or on counter sale by the recipient such supply would be chargeable to tax based on the address mentioned in the tax invoice.

An alternative view is possible – it may be noted that the delivery for the purpose of the contract law and delivery indicated by this clause may be different. For the purpose of the GST law, a supply is effected on removal of goods for delivery, whereas for contract law, the supply may be understood (in terms of an agreement) to be completed only on acceptance of such goods by the recipient. Similarly, while the risks and rewards pertaining to the goods being supplied may pass at the factory gate, the movement for delivery of such goods may stand terminated only at the premises of the recipient, considering that the movement is undertaken by the recipient for delivery at his own premises. The phrase ‘Where the movement terminates for delivery to the recipient’ should be read very strictly and it only refers to the destination at which the movement finally terminates.

Over-the-counter sales are also confused with supply not involving movement. Whether the movement is over long distances or short distance from one end of the counter-top to other end, since the enjoyment of the goods supplied is on ‘as is where is’, this is also a supply that involve movement. Such sales will come within section 10(1)(a) and be subject to CGST-SGST unless they are effected under section 10(1)(b) when, they will be eligible to levy of IGST where customers from outside the State come and make OTC purchases.

11.1 AnalysisPlace of Supply – Supplies outside India

Place of supply of goods where the goods are imported into or exported from India will be determined in accordance with section 11 of the IGST Act. Export of goods is defined in section 2(5) of the IGST Act and import of goods is defined in section 2(10) of the IGST Act. With these definitions, which are with reference to the movement of goods and not the location of the supplier or recipient, in this case, the place of supply will be:

Section 2(5) “export of goods” with its grammatical variations and cognate expressions, means taking goods out of India to a place outside India.

Section 2(10) “import of goods” with its grammatical variations and cognate expressions, means bringing goods into India from a place outside India.

- (a) In the case of import of goods, the location of the importer and
- (b) In the case of export of goods, the location outside India where the goods are exported.

While payment in convertible foreign exchange is for services including transactions involving goods treated as services, the same is not a criterion for determining whether a supply of goods is an export of goods or import of goods. Transactions of merchanting trade – where the goods are procured from one country and are directly dispatched without their entering into India, will not be a supply in the ‘taxable territory’ of India. Such transactions will be included for a financial effect in the books of accounts, without invoking the levy provisions under the GST laws. Another form of international supply commonly known as high sea sales (known as ‘HSS’) is also a transaction that transpires outside the taxable territory and accordingly, does not attract the incidence of GST. Re-import of export goods will however, be liable to GST. It is interesting to note that ‘location of supplier or recipient’ are not relevant in this section.

'HSS' of imported goods is a term used to denote a transaction whereby the original importer sells the goods to a third person before the goods are entered for customs clearance. Since all transactions entered within the territory of India for sale and purchase of goods is taxable under GST, there were doubts on the levy of GST on 'HSS', more so, when such 'HSS' were categorised as inter-State supplies. Accordingly, the Government clarified the position of levy of GST on 'HSS' vide Circular No. 33/ 2017-Cus dated 01.08.2017 – that IGST on 'HSS' transactions of imported goods, whether one or multiple, shall be levied and collected only at the time of importation i.e. when the import declarations are filed before the Customs authorities for the customs clearance purposes for the first time. In other words, the buyer of 'HSS' shall be disposing with IGST on such imports and as part of Customs. Further, value addition accruing in each such 'HSS' shall form part of the value on which IGST is collected at the time of clearance i.e., buyer shall pay IGST on the final purchase value as per last high sea transaction envisaging all margins earned by all persons who made 'HSS' of such goods.

The law makers prudently redressed such provision in law and suitably brought in an amendment through insertions in Clause 7 and 8 in Schedule III to consider such activities to be neither supply of goods nor supply of services.

The following Circulars are relevant to note:

Circular No. 46/ 2017-Cus, dated 24.11.2017 regarding in-bond sales makes it explicitly clear that IGST is not applicable until bill of entry for home consumption is filed.

Circular No. 3/ 1/ 2018-IGST, dated 25.05.2018 regarding applicability of integrated goods and services tax (integrated tax) on goods supplied while being deposited in a customs bonded warehouse – wherein it is clarified that integrated tax shall be levied and collected at the time of final clearance of the warehoused goods for home consumption i.e., at the time of filing the ex-bond bill of entry and the value addition accruing at each stage of supply shall form part of the value on which the integrated tax would be payable at the time of clearance of the warehoused goods for home consumption.

CGST (Amendment) Act, 2018 dated 29.08.2018 (effective from 01.02.2019) Schedule III to CGST Act, 2017 to insert following entries, namely-

- Supply of goods from a place in the non-taxable territory to another place in the non-taxable territory without such goods entering into India;
- Supply of warehoused goods to any person before clearance for home consumption;
- Supply of goods by the consignee to any other person, by endorsement of documents of title to the goods, after the goods have been dispatched from the port of origin located outside India but before clearance for home consumption.

Therefore, these transactions will neither be treated as supply of goods nor supply of services.

Note that imports will be liable to IGST in addition to basic customs duty and exports will be zero-rated with benefit of refund of attributable input tax credit, or refund of tax paid on such exports. Refer The Taxation Laws (Amendment) Act, 2017 for the necessary amendments made to Customs Tariff Act, 1975 and Central Excise Act, 1944 to enable imposition of BCD+IGST on import of goods liable to tax. Refer detailed discussion under section 5 of IGST Act on these implications.

2	China	China	Kashmir	Haryana	Haryana
3	Sri Lanka	Sri Lanka	Kerala	Kerala	Kerala
4	Karnataka	Iran	Dubai	Karnataka	Not an import since the goods is not brought into India.

Section 11(b): Export of goods

Case	Location of supplier	Location of goods	Goods supplied to	Location of recipient	Place of supply
1	Assam	Assam	Thailand	Assam	Thailand
2	Tamil Nadu	Kashmir	China	Texas	China
3	Sri Lanka	Kerala	Sri Lanka	Sri Lanka	Sri Lanka
4	Maharashtra	Dubai	Iran	Iran	Not an export since the goods is not moving from India.

Another aspect to be carefully considered here is 'bill to-ship to' arrangements involving cross-border trade. It is not important as the supply is 'billed to' a person outside India but the supply is 'shipped to' a person outside India. In fact, it is not at all relevant where the billing is done 'to' for the transaction to come within the operation of section 11. Reference may be made to the discussion under section 16 regarding 'supply by way of export' which qualifies for zero-rated benefit. It is sufficient to mention here that in the export – goods shipped to a place outside India – would qualify as an export eligible for zero rated benefit for the second leg of transaction. Exports, therefore, are always determined based on their 'ship to' location being a place outside India. Similarly, import of goods also are determined based on the 'ship to' location being the place within India with a journey or originating outside India. However, with the proviso to section 5(1) imposing GST - not under the IGST Act but under the Customs Tariff Act, as soon as the goods supplied qualify as import of goods under section 11, they attract the incidence of additional customs duty equivalent to IGST. It is important to note the similarity in the definition of import of goods and export of goods and the dissimilarity in the treatment of GST in these cases.

Extract of the IGST Rules, 2017

3. The proportion of value attributable to different States or Union territories, in the case of supply of advertisement services to the Central Government, a State Government, a statutory body or a local authority, under sub-section (14) of section 12 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017, in the absence of any contract between the supplier of service and recipient of services, shall be determined in the following manner namely:—

- (a) In the case of newspapers and publications, the amount payable for publishing an advertisement in all the editions of a newspaper or publication, which are published in a State or Union territory, as the case may be, is the value of advertisement service attributable to the dissemination in such State or Union territory.

Illustration: ABC is a government agency which deals with the all the advertisement and publicity of the Government. It has various wings dealing with various types of publicity. In furtherance thereof, it issues release orders to various agencies and entities. These agencies and entities thereafter provide the service and then issue invoices to ABC indicating the amount to be paid by them. ABC issues a release order to a newspaper for an advertisement on 'Beti bachao beti padhao', to be published in the newspaper DEF (whose head office is in Delhi) for the editions of Delhi, Pune, Mumbai, Lucknow and Jaipur. The release order will have details of the newspaper like the periodicity, language, size of the advertisement and the amount to be paid to such a newspaper. The place of supply of this service shall be in the Union territory of Delhi, and the States of Maharashtra, Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan. The amounts payable to the Pune and Mumbai editions would constitute the proportion of value for the State of Maharashtra which is attributable to the dissemination in Maharashtra. Likewise the amount payable to the Delhi, Lucknow and Jaipur editions would constitute the proportion of value attributable to the dissemination in the Union territory of Delhi and States of Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan respectively. DEF should issue separate State wise and Union territory wise invoices based on the editions.

- (b) in the case of printed material like pamphlets, leaflets, diaries, calendars, T shirts etc, the amount payable for the distribution of a specific number of such material in a particular State or Union territory is the value of advertisement service attributable to the dissemination in such State or Union territory, as the case may be.

Illustration: As a part of the campaign 'Swachh Bharat', ABC has engaged a company GH for printing of one lakh pamphlets (at a total cost of one lakh rupees) to be distributed in the States of Haryana, Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan. In such a case, ABC should ascertain the breakup of the pamphlets to be distributed in each of the three States i.e., Haryana, Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan, from the Ministry or department concerned at the time of giving the print order. Let us assume that this breakup is twenty thousand, fifty thousand and thirty thousand respectively. This breakup should be indicated in the print order. The place of supply of this service is in Haryana, Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan. The ratio of this breakup i.e., 2:5:3 will form the basis of value attributable to the dissemination in each of the three States. Separate invoices will have to be issued State wise by GH to ABC indicating the value pertaining to that State i.e., twenty thousand rupees-Haryana, fifty thousand rupees-Uttar Pradesh and thirty thousand rupees-Rajasthan.

- (c) (i) in the case of hoardings other than those on trains, the amount payable for the hoardings located in each State or Union territory, as the case may be, is the value of advertisement service attributable to the dissemination in each such State or Union territory, as the case may be.

Illustration: ABC as part of the campaign 'Saakshar Bharat' has engaged a firm IJ for putting up hoardings near the Airports in the four metros i.e., Delhi, Mumbai, Chennai and Kolkata. The release order issued by ABC to IJ will have the city wise, location wise breakup of the amount payable for such hoardings. The place of supply of this service is in the Union territory of Delhi and the States of Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu and West Bengal. In such a case, the amount actually paid to IJ for the hoardings in each of the four metros will constitute the value attributable to the dissemination in the Union territory of Delhi and the States of Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu and West Bengal respectively. Separate invoices will have to be issued State wise and Union territory wise by IJ to ABC indicating the value pertaining to that State or Union territory.

(ii) in the case of advertisements placed on trains, the breakup, calculated on the basis of the ratio of the length of the railway track in each State for that train, of the amount payable for such advertisements is the value of advertisement service attributable to the dissemination in such State or Union territory, as the case may be.

Illustration: ABC places an order on KL for advertisements to be placed on a train with regard to the "Janani Suraksha Yojana". The length of a track in a State will vary from train to train. Thus, for advertisements to be placed on the Hazrat Nizamuddin Vasco Da Gama Goa Express which runs through Delhi, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Karnataka and Goa, KL may ascertain the total length of the track from Hazrat Nizamuddin to Vasco Da Gama as well as the length of the track in each of these States and Union territory from the website www.indianrail.gov.in. The place of supply of this service is in the Union territory of Delhi and States of Haryana, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Karnataka and Goa. The value of the supply in each of these States and Union territory attributable to the dissemination in these States will be in the ratio of the length of the track in each of these States and Union territory. If this ratio works out to say 0.5:0.5: 2:2 :3:3:1 , and the amount to be paid to KL is one lakh twenty thousand rupees, then KL will have to calculate the State wise and Union territory wise breakup of the value of the service, which will be in the ratio of the length of the track in each State and Union territory. In the given example the State wise and Union territory wise breakup works out to Delhi (five thousand rupees), Haryana (five thousand rupees), Uttar Pradesh (twenty thousand rupees), Madhya Pradesh (twenty thousand rupees), Maharashtra (thirty thousand rupees), Karnataka (thirty thousand rupees) and Goa (ten thousand rupees). Separate invoices will have to be issued State wise and Union territory wise by KL to ABC indicating the value pertaining to that State or Union territory.

- (d) (i) in the case of advertisements on the back of utility bills of oil and gas companies etc., the amount payable for the advertisements on bills pertaining to consumers having billing addresses in such States or Union territory as the case may be, is the value of advertisement service attributable to dissemination in such State or Union territory.

(ii) in the case of advertisements on railway tickets, the breakup, calculated on the basis of the ratio of the number of Railway Stations in each State or Union territory, when applied to the amount payable for such advertisements, shall constitute the value of advertisement service attributable to the dissemination in such State or Union territory, as the case may be.

Illustration: ABC has issued a release order to MN for display of advertisements relating to the "Ujjwala" scheme on the railway tickets that are sold from all the Stations in the States of Madhya Pradesh and Chattisgarh. The place of supply of this service is in Madhya Pradesh and Chattisgarh. The value of advertisement service attributable to these two States will be in the ratio of the number of railway stations in each State as ascertained from the Railways or from the website www.indianrail.gov.in. Let us assume that this ratio is 713:251 and the total bill is rupees nine thousand six hundred and forty. The breakup of the amount between Madhya Pradesh and Chattisgarh in this ratio of 713:251 works out to seven thousand one hundred and thirty rupees and two thousand five hundred and ten rupees respectively. Separate invoices will have to be issued State wise by MN to ABC indicating the value pertaining to that State.

(e) in the case of advertisements over radio stations the amount payable to such radio station, which by virtue of its name is part of a State or Union territory, as the case may be, is the value of advertisement service attributable to dissemination in such State or Union territory, as the case may be.

Illustration: For an advertisement on 'Pradhan Mantri Ujjwala Yojana', to be broadcasted on a FM radio station OP, for the radio stations of OP Kolkata, OP Bhubaneswar, OP Patna, OP Ranchi and OP Delhi, the release order issued by ABC will show the breakup of the amount which is to be paid to each of these radio stations. The place of supply of this service is in West Bengal, Odisha, Bihar, Jharkhand and Delhi. The place of supply of OP Delhi is in Delhi even though the studio may be physically located in another State. Separate invoices will have to be issued State wise and Union territory wise by MN to ABC based on the value pertaining to each State or Union territory.

(f) in the case of advertisement on television channels, the amount attributable to the value of advertisement service disseminated in a State shall be calculated on the basis of the viewership of such channel in such State, which in turn, shall be calculated in the following manner, namely:—

(i) the channel viewership figures for that channel for a State or Union territory shall be taken from the figures published in this regard by the Broadcast Audience Research Council;

(ii) the figures published for the last week of a given quarter shall be used for calculating viewership for the succeeding quarter and at the beginning, the figures for the quarter 1st July, 2017 to 30th September, 2017 shall be used for the succeeding quarter 1st October, 2017 to 31st December, 2017;

- (iii) where such channel viewership figures relate to a region comprising of more than one State or Union territory, the viewership figures for a State or Union territory of that region, shall be calculated by applying the ratio of the populations of that State or Union territory, as determined in the latest Census, to such viewership figures;
- (iv) the ratio of the viewership figures for each State or Union territory as so calculated, when applied to the amount payable for that service, shall represent the portion of the value attributable to the dissemination in that State or Union territory.

Illustration: ABC issues a release order with QR channel for telecasting an advertisement relating to the “Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Vikas Yojana” in the month of November, 2017. In the first phase, this will be telecasted in the Union territory of Delhi, States of Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Bihar and Jharkhand. The place of supply of this service is in Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Bihar and Jharkhand. In order to calculate the value of supply attributable to Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Bihar and Jharkhand, QR has to proceed as under—

- I. QR will ascertain the viewership figures for their channel in the last week of September, 2017 from the Broadcast Audience Research Council. Let us assume it is one lakh for Delhi and two lakhs for the region comprising of Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand and one lakh for the region comprising of Bihar and Jharkhand;
- II. since the Broadcast Audience Research Council clubs Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand into one region and Bihar and Jharkhand into another region, QR will ascertain the population figures for Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Bihar and Jharkhand from the latest census;
- III. by applying the ratio of the populations of Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand, as so ascertained, to the Broadcast Audience Research Council viewership figures for their channel for this region, the viewership figures for Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand and consequently the ratio of these viewership figures can be calculated. Let us assume that the ratio of the populations of Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand works out to 9: 1. When this ratio is applied to the viewership figures of two lakhs for this region, the viewership figures for Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand work out to one lakh eighty thousand and twenty thousand respectively;
- IV. in a similar manner the breakup of the viewership figures for Bihar and Jharkhand can be calculated. Let us assume that the ratio of populations is 4:1 and when this is applied to the viewership figure of one lakh for this region, the viewership figure for Bihar and Jharkhand works out to eighty thousand and twenty thousand respectively;
- V. the viewership figure for each State works out to Delhi (one lakh), Uttar Pradesh (one lakh eighty thousand), Uttarakhand (twenty thousand), Bihar (eighty thousand) and Jharkhand (twenty thousand). The ratio is thus 10:18:2:8:2 or 5:9:1:4:1 (simplification).

VI. this ratio has to be applied when indicating the breakup of the amount pertaining to each State. Thus, if the total amount payable to QR by ABC is twenty lakh rupees, the State wise breakup is five lakh rupees (Delhi), nine lakh rupees (Uttar Pradesh) one lakh rupees (Uttarakhand), four lakh rupees (Bihar) and one lakh rupees (Jharkhand). Separate invoices will have to be issued State wise and Union territory wise by QR to ABC indicating the value pertaining to that State or Union territory.

- (g) in the case of advertisements at cinema halls the amount payable to a cinema hall or screens in a multiplex, in a State or Union territory, as the case may be, is the value of advertisement service attributable to dissemination in such State or Union territory, as the case may be.

Illustration: ABC commissions ST for an advertisement on 'Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana' to be displayed in the cinema halls in Chennai and Hyderabad. The place of supply of this service is in the States of Tamil Nadu and Telangana. The amount actually paid to the cinema hall or screens in a multiplex, in Tamil Nadu and Telangana as the case may be, is the value of advertisement service in Tamil Nadu and Telangana respectively. Separate invoices will have to be issued State wise and Union territory wise by ST to ABC indicating the value pertaining to that State.

- (h) in the case of advertisements over internet, the service shall be deemed to have been provided all over India and the amount attributable to the value of advertisement service disseminated in a State or Union territory shall be calculated on the basis of the internet subscribers in such State or Union territory, which in turn, shall be calculated in the following manner, namely: —
- (i) the internet subscriber figures for a State shall be taken from the figures published in this regard by the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India;
 - (ii) the figures published for the last quarter of a given financial year shall be used for calculating the number of internet subscribers for the succeeding financial year and at the beginning, the figures for the last quarter of financial year 2016-2017 shall be used for the succeeding financial year 2017-2018;
 - (iii) where such internet subscriber figures relate to a region comprising of more than one State or Union territory, the subscriber figures for a State or Union territory of that region, shall be calculated by applying the ratio of the populations of that State or Union territory, as determined in the latest census, to such subscriber figures;
 - (iv) the ratio of the subscriber figures for each State or Union territory as so calculated, when applied to the amount payable for this service, shall represent the portion of the value attributable to the dissemination in that State or Union territory.

Illustration: ABC issues a release order to WX for a campaign over internet regarding linking Aadhaar with one's bank account and mobile number. WX runs this campaign over certain websites. In order to ascertain the State wise breakup of the value of this service which is to be reflected in the invoice issued by WX to ABC, WX has to first refer to the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India figures for quarter ending March, 2017, as indicated on their website www.trai.gov.in. These figures show the service area wise internet subscribers. There are twenty two service areas. Some relate to individual States some to two or more States and some to part of one State and another complete State. Some of these areas are metropolitan areas. In order to calculate the State wise breakup, first the State wise breakup of the number of internet subscribers is arrived at. (In case figures of internet subscribers of one or more States are clubbed, the subscribers in each State is to be arrived at by applying the ratio of the respective populations of these States as per the latest census.). Once the actual number of subscribers for each State has been determined, the second step for WX involves calculating the State wise ratio of internet subscribers. Let us assume that this works out to 8: 1 : 2... and so on for Andhra Pradesh, Arunachal Pradesh, Assam..... and so on. The third step for WX will be to apply these ratios to the total amount payable to WX so as to arrive at the value attributable to each State. Separate invoices will have to be issued State wise and Union territory wise by WX to ABC indicating the value pertaining to that State or Union territory.

- (i) in the case of advertisements through short messaging service the amount attributable to the value of advertisement service disseminated in a State or Union territory shall be calculated on the basis of the telecommunication (herein after referred to as telecom) subscribers in such State or Union territory, which in turn, shall be calculated in the following manner, namely:-
- (a) the number of telecom subscribers in a telecom circle shall be ascertained from the figures published by the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India on its website www.trai.gov.in;
 - (b) the figures published for a given quarter, shall be used for calculating subscribers for the succeeding quarter and at the beginning, the figures for the quarter 1st July, 2017 to 30th September, 2017 shall be used for the succeeding quarter 1st October, 2017 to 31st December, 2017;
 - (c) where such figures relate to a telecom circle comprising of more than one State, or Union territory, the subscriber figures for that State or Union territory shall be calculated by applying the ratio of the populations of that State or Union territory, as determined in the latest census, to such subscriber figures.

Illustration-1: In the case of the telecom circle of Assam, the amount attributed to the telecom circle of Assam is the value of advertisement service in Assam.

Illustration-2: The telecom circle of North East covers the States of Arunachal Pradesh, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, Manipur and Tripura. The ratio of populations of each of these States in the latest census will have to be determined and this ratio applied to the total number of subscribers for this telecom circle so as to arrive at the State wise figures of telecom subscribers. Separate invoices will have to be issued State wise by the service provider to ABC indicating the value pertaining to that State.

Illustration-3: ABC commissions UV to send short messaging service to voters asking them to exercise their franchise in elections to be held in Maharashtra and Goa. The place of supply of this service is in Maharashtra and Goa. The telecom circle of Maharashtra consists of the area of the State of Maharashtra (excluding the areas covered by Mumbai which forms another circle) and the State of Goa. When calculating the number of subscribers pertaining to Maharashtra and Goa, UV has to—

- I. obtain the subscriber figures for Maharashtra circle and Mumbai circle and add them to obtain a combined figure of subscribers;
- II. obtain the figures of the population of Maharashtra and Goa from the latest census and derive the ratio of these two populations;
- III. this ratio will then have to be applied to the combined figure of subscribers so as to arrive at the separate figures of subscribers pertaining to Maharashtra and Goa;
- IV. the ratio of these subscribers when applied to the amount payable for the short messaging service in Maharashtra circle and Mumbai circle, will give breakup of the amount pertaining to Maharashtra and Goa. Separate invoices will have to be issued State wise by UV to ABC indicating the value pertaining to that State.

Illustration-4: The telecom circle of Andhra Pradesh consists of the areas of the States of Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Yanam, an area of the Union territory of Puducherry. The subscribers attributable to Telangana and Yanam will have to be excluded when calculating the subscribers pertaining to Andhra Pradesh.

- (d) the ratio of the subscriber figures for each State or Union territory as so calculated, when applied to the amount payable for that service, shall represent the portion of the value attributable to the dissemination in that State or Union territory.

4. The supply of services attributable to different States or Union territories, under sub section (3) of section 12 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (hereinafter in these rules referred to as the said Act), in the case of-

- (a) services directly in relation to immovable property, including services provided by architects, interior decorators, surveyors, engineers and other related experts or estate agents, any service provided by way of grant of rights to use immovable property or for carrying out or co-ordination of construction work; or
- (b) lodging accommodation by a hotel, inn, guest house, homestay, club or campsite, by whatever name called, and including a houseboat or any other vessel; or

- (c) accommodation in any immovable property for organising any marriage or reception or matters related thereto, official, social, cultural, religious or business function including services provided in relation to such function at such property; or
- (d) any services ancillary to the services referred to in clauses (a), (b) and (c), where such immovable property or boat or vessel is located in more than one State or Union territory, shall be taken as being in each of the respective States or Union territories, and in the absence of any contract or agreement between the supplier of service and recipient of services for separately collecting or determining the value of the services in each such State or Union territory, as the case may be, shall be determined in the following manner namely:-
- (i) in case of services provided by way of lodging accommodation by a hotel, inn, guest house, club or campsite, by whatever name called (except cases where such property is a single property located in two or more contiguous States or Union territories or both) and services ancillary to such services, the supply of services shall be treated as made in each of the respective States or Union territories, in proportion to the number of nights stayed in such property;
- (ii) in case of all other services in relation to immovable property including services by way of accommodation in any immovable property for organising any marriage or reception etc., and in cases of supply of accommodation by a hotel, inn, guest house, club or campsite, by whatever name called where such property is a single property located in two or more contiguous States or Union territories or both, and services ancillary to such services, the supply of services shall be treated as made in each of the respective States or Union territories, in proportion to the area of the immovable property lying in each State or Union territory;
- (iii) in case of services provided by way of lodging accommodation by a house boat or any other vessel and services ancillary to such services, the supply of services shall be treated as made in each of the respective States or Union territories, in proportion to the time spent by the boat or vessel in each such State or Union territory, which shall be determined on the basis of a declaration made to the effect by the service provider.

Illustration 1: A hotel chain X charges a consolidated sum of Rs.30,000/- for stay in its two establishments in Delhi and Agra, where the stay in Delhi is for 2 nights and the stay in Agra is for 1 night. The place of supply in this case is both in the Union territory of Delhi and in the State of Uttar Pradesh and the service shall be deemed to have been provided in the Union territory of Delhi and in the State of Uttar Pradesh in the ratio 2:1 respectively. The value of services provided will thus be apportioned as Rs.20,000/- in the Union territory of Delhi and Rs.10,000/- in the State of Uttar Pradesh.

Illustration 2: There is a piece of land of area 20,000 square feet which is partly in State S1 say 12,000 square feet and partly in State S2, say 8000 square feet. Site preparation work has been entrusted to T. The ratio of land in the two states works out to 12:8 or 3:2 (simplified).

The place of supply is in both S1 and S2. The service shall be deemed to have been provided in the ratio of 12:8 or 3:2 (simplified) in the States S1 and S2 respectively. The value of the service shall be accordingly apportioned between the States.

Illustration 3: A company C provides the service of 24 hours accommodation in a houseboat, which is situated both in Kerala and Karnataka inasmuch as the guests board the house boat in Kerala and stay there for 22 hours but it also moves into Karnataka for 2 hours (as declared by the service provider). The place of supply of this service is in the States of Kerala and Karnataka. The service shall be deemed to have been provided in the ratio of 22:2 or 11:1 (simplified) in the states of Kerala and Karnataka, respectively. The value of the service shall be accordingly apportioned between the States.

5. The supply of services attributable to different States or Union territories, under sub-section (7) of section 12 of the said Act, in the case of-

- (a) services provided by way of organisation of a cultural, artistic, sporting, scientific, educational or entertainment event, including supply of services in relation to a conference, fair exhibition, celebration or similar events; or
- (b) services ancillary to the organisation of any such events or assigning of sponsorship to such events, where the services are supplied to a person other than a registered person, the event is held in India in more than one State or Union territory and a consolidated amount is charged for supply of such services, shall be taken as being in each of the respective States or Union territories, and in the absence of any contract or agreement between the supplier of service and recipient of services for separately collecting or determining the value of the services in each such State or Union territory, as the case may be, shall be determined by application of the generally accepted accounting principles.

Illustration: An event management company E has to organise some promotional events in States S1 and S2 for a recipient R. 3 events are to be organised in S1 and 2 in S2. They charge a consolidated amount of Rs.10,00,000 from R. The place of supply of this service is in both the States S1 and S2. Say the proportion arrived at by the application of generally accepted accounting principles is 3:2. The service shall be deemed to have been provided in the ratio 3:2 in S1 and S2 respectively. The value of services provided will thus be apportioned as Rs. 6,00,000/- in S1 and Rs. 4,00,000/- in S2.

6. The supply of services attributable to different States or Union territories, under sub section (11) of section 12 of the said Act, in the case of supply of services relating to a leased circuit where the leased circuit is installed in more than one State or Union territory and a consolidated amount is charged for supply of such services, shall be taken as being in each of the respective States or Union territories, and in the absence of any contract or agreement between the supplier of service and recipient of services for separately collecting or determining the value of the services in each such State or Union territory, as the case maybe, shall be determined in the following manner, namely:-

- (a) The number of points in a circuit shall be determined in the following manner:

- (i) in the case of a circuit between two points or places, the starting point or place of the circuit and the end point or place of the circuit will invariably constitute two points;
- (ii) any intermediate point or place in the circuit will also constitute a point provided that the benefit of the leased circuit is also available at that intermediate point;
- (b) the supply of services shall be treated as made in each of the respective States or Union territories, in proportion to the number of points lying in the State or Union territory.

Illustration 1: A company T installs a leased circuit between the Delhi and Mumbai offices of a company C. The starting point of this circuit is in Delhi and the end point of the circuit is in Mumbai. Hence one point of this circuit is in Delhi and another in Maharashtra. The place of supply of this service is in the Union territory of Delhi and the State of Maharashtra. The service shall be deemed to have been provided in the ratio of 1:1 in the Union territory of Delhi and the State of Maharashtra, respectively.

Illustration 2: A company T installs a leased circuit between the Chennai, Bengaluru and Mysuru offices of a company C. The starting point of this circuit is in Chennai and the end point of the circuit is in Mysuru. The circuit also connects Bengaluru. Hence one point of this circuit is in Tamil Nadu and two points in Karnataka. The place of supply of this service is in the States of Tamil Nadu and Karnataka. The service shall be deemed to have been provided in the ratio of 1:2 in the States of Tamil Nadu and Karnataka, respectively.

Illustration 3: A company T installs a leased circuit between the Kolkata, Patna and Guwahati offices of a company C. There are 3 points in this circuit in Kolkata, Patna and Guwahati. One point each of this circuit is, therefore, in West Bengal, Bihar and Assam. The place of supply of this service is in the States of West Bengal, Bihar and Assam. The service shall be deemed to have been provided in the ratio of 1:1:1 in the States of West Bengal, Bihar and Assam, respectively.

12.1 Important Definitions

(a) Location of recipient of services:

Section 2(14) of the IGST Act, 2017 defines “location of the recipient of services” as:

- (a) where a supply is received at a place of business for which the registration has been obtained, the location of such place of business;
- (b) where a supply is received at a place other than the place of business for which registration has been obtained (a fixed establishment elsewhere), the location of such fixed establishment;
- (c) where a supply is received at more than one establishment, whether the place of business or fixed establishment, the location of the establishment most directly concerned with the receipt of the supply; and
- (d) in absence of such places, the location of the usual place of residence of the recipient.

(b) Location of the supplier of services:

Section 2(15) of the IGST Act, 2017 defines “location of the supplier of services” as:

- (a) where a supply is made from a place of business for which the registration has been obtained, the location of such place of business;
- (b) where a supply is made from a place other than the place of business for which registration has been obtained (a fixed establishment elsewhere), the location of such fixed establishment;
- (c) where a supply is made from more than one establishment, whether the place of business or fixed establishment, the location of the establishment most directly concerned with the provision of the supply; and

- (d) in absence of such places, the location of the usual place of residence of the supplier;

12.2 Analysis

Place of Supply – Supplies within India

Place of supply (known as POS) of services where both the supplier and recipient are located within India will be determined in accordance with section 12 of the IGST Act.

- (i) The general provision to determine the place of supply in respect of supply of services will be as follows:
- Services supplied to a recipient who is registered, the POS will be the location of such person;
 - Services supplied to a recipient who is not registered, the POS will be the address on record of such person and where such address is not available, it will be the location of the supplier.

There could be a scenario where multiple POS in the same invoice to a particular customer because of supply of distinct goods and goods, or services and services, or goods and services may get covered. In such a case, the supplier has to issue separate invoices where each invoice will have only one POS. This method is also supported by the fact that Form GSTR-1 (details of outward supply) does not allow one to key in two different POS for the same invoice.

It is crucial to note that under the erstwhile service tax regime, the scheme of centralised registration was available, by virtue of which, the location of the recipient was always construed to be the registered address in the statutory records. However, under the GST law, a separate registration is required to be obtained in every State/ UT from where a person effects taxable supplies. Accordingly, due caution must be exercised to provide for what is to be the location of the recipient, where the place of supply is determined to be the location of the registered person, under this clause, or any other clauses of section 12/ 13 of the IGST Act.

(ii) Specific provisions regarding place of supply that will apply in priority over the aforesaid general provision are as follows:

- (a) For services directly in relation to immovable property, the POS will be the location of such property. The expression 'in relation to' encompasses a wide range of services that have a proximate nexus with the immovable property. The provision lists these services – architects, interior decorators, surveyors, engineers and other related experts or estate agents, grant of rights to use immovable property or carrying out/ coordination of construction work. As can be seen, this list is not exhaustive and therefore 'in relation to' test will continue to be applicable to identify the services that will have the location of the property as its place of supply.

Also, the location of the supplier or recipient is irrelevant in such cases. Further, there are other services that have proximity to immovable property that are 'by way of' accommodation. Such services too have, as their place of supply, the location of such property. Such property may be a hotel, inn, guest house, homestay, club or campsite including houseboat. The use of such property may be accommodation or for organizing a function such as marriage. The end-use will not alter the applicability of this provision but the proximity of the property vis-à-vis the services. Services that are ancillary to such services would also be covered by this provision.

Circular No. 48/ 22/ 2018-GST, dated 14.06.2018 in the context of services of short-term accommodation, conferencing, banqueting etc. provided to a Special Economic Zone (SEZ) developer or a SEZ unit, has clarified that such service shall be treated as inter-State supply.

Further, goods required in construction activity received as stock before being assigned to any particular site will not be determined by this provision but by the general provisions. For example, steel purchased in bulk and sent to a central warehouse for being deployed in any specific site.

Rule 4 of IGST Rules provides that where immovable property or boat or vessel is located in more than one State in the absence of any contract or agreement, the value shall be determined in the following manner-

- a) in case of services provided by way of lodging accommodation by a hotel, inn, guest house, club or campsite, by whatever name called (except cases where such property is a single property located in two or more contiguous States/ UT) and services ancillary to such services, the supply of services shall be treated as made in each of the respective States/ UT, in proportion to the number of nights stayed in such property;
 - b) in case of all other services in relation to immovable property including services by way of accommodation in any immovable property for organising any marriage or reception etc., and in cases of supply of accommodation by a hotel, inn, guest house, club or campsite, by whatever name called where such property is a single property located in two or more contiguous States/ UT, and services ancillary to such services, the supply of services shall be treated as made in each of the respective States/ UT, in proportion to the area of the immovable property lying in each State/ UT;
 - c) in case of services provided by way of lodging accommodation by a house boat or any other vessel and services ancillary to such services, the supply of services shall be treated as made in each of the respective States/ UT, in proportion to the time spent by the boat or vessel in each such State/ UT, which shall be determined on the basis of a declaration made to the effect by the service provider.
- (b) In respect of services of restaurant and catering, personal grooming, fitness, beauty treatment, health service including cosmetic and plastic surgery, the POS will be the location where these services are actually performed. The services listed in this provision do not carry a common thread so as to allow expanding this list. At the same time, each of these services themselves are a broad description of various specific services that may be performed under that umbrella. Services must be examined very carefully to fall within the scope of this provision. It may be noted that only performance-based services which require physical presence can be considered within this clause.

It is important to understand that POS would not help one in determining the State in which registration is required to be obtained, and it only determines the State in which the supply is consumed, so as to determine the nature of tax applicable on the supply. The registration requirement should be determined on the basis of Chapter VI of CGST Act.

- (c) services of training and performance appraisal supplied to a registered person, the POS will be the location of the recipient. When the recipient is not registered, the place of supply will be the location where services are actually rendered.

Recipient here being the 'person liable to pay the consideration' is not to be misconstrued to be the 'trainee' or 'person appraised'. E.g.: In case of a corporate training organized by a training institute in Mumbai for a registered corporate client in Bangalore, the consideration is paid by the corporate through the individual participants who would be required to pay a certain delegate fee. Hence, the POS has to be determined on the basis of location of the recipient being the corporate entity and not based on the place where the services are actually performed.

Had the services been provided to unregistered individual participants, the place of supply would have been Mumbai i.e., where the services are actually performed.

POS would be Mumbai as that is the place where service is performed

- (d) Services of admission to a venue, the POS will be the location of the venue. The event that is organized may be cultural, artistic, sporting, scientific, education, entertainment or an amusement park including ancillary services. Services referred to here are only 'admission' and not for organizing the event at the venue. Therefore, event management services would not be covered here but in clause (e) below.

POS would be Jaipur as that is the place where event is actually held.

- (e) services of organizing an event including ancillary services supplied to a registered person, the POS will be the location of the recipient. When the recipient is not registered, the place of supply will be the location of the venue itself.

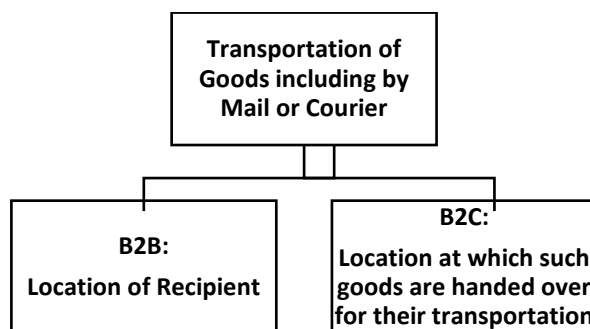

The event that is organized may be cultural, artistic, sporting, scientific, education or entertainment. Services referred to here are 'by way of' organizing the event at the venue. Where the event is organized in a ground or field being an immovable property, the service of securing the location has, as its place of supply, determined by the foregoing provision but the rest of the services of organizing the event will fall within this provision.

Rule 5 of IGST Rules provides that where services of organizing the event are supplied to unregistered person and the event is held in India in more than one State/ UT, the value of service in such State/ UT shall be determined by application of generally accepted accounting principles.

On a comparison of this provision with the previous provision, the striking difference is that in case of B2B transaction for admission to an event, the POS would be the location of the event whereas services of organizing the event is based on the location of the recipient in case of B2B supplies (i.e., where the recipient is a registered person).

- (f) Services of transportation of goods supplied to a registered person will be the location of the recipient being a registered person. When the recipient is not registered, the place of supply will be the location where goods are handed over for such transportation. Transportation of goods may be by any mode including mail or courier.

However, vide IGST (Amendment) Act, 2018, dated 29-Aug-2018 (yet to be notified), a proviso was inserted to provide that where the transportation of goods is to a place outside India, the place of supply will be the place of destination of goods. It is to be noted that this is not to be regarded as 'export of services' because the other conditions provided as per the said definition are not satisfied (recipient is within India). This amendment may emerge as a significant area of litigation in situations where the input tax credit is availed by the recipient even though the place of supply is outside India. Recipients who have chosen not to avail such input tax credit may be looking at an increasing cost of GST on their input services of such transportation.

- (g) Services of transportation of passenger, the POS will be the location of the registered recipient (including where an employee of a registered person travels for business). When the recipient is not a registered person, the place of supply will be the location of embarkation. Note that a return journey is regarded as a separate journey (even in case of bookings of round-trips).

Where the point of embarkation is unknown (in cases where the right to passage is given for future use) then the place of supply will be determined under the general clause (i.e., section 12(2) of the IGST Act). This is particularly relevant in case of travel passes enabling multi point travel at the option of the user,

- (h) Services supplied on-board a conveyance, the POS will be the first scheduled point of departure of such conveyance. Irrespective of whether the supplies are B2B or B2C, the POS is determined based on the first scheduled point of departure. Note that by this logic, it is possible that the place of supply is determined to be a place in the route through which it passed/ crossed even before the passenger availing the service embarks the conveyance. The registered recipient receiving any services on board through its employees/ directors would lose the ITC on the said transaction in case the location of the registered recipient and the first schedule point of departure are in two different States.
- (i) Telecommunication services are provided in various forms and the place of supply will depend on the mode of providing the services. Where the services involve an in situ device installed to enable the service, the place of supply will be the location where such device is installed. This device may be a dish antenna, telephone line, etc. Where the services involve portable device, the place of supply will be the billing address if the same is on post-paid basis. Where it is on pre-paid basis, the place of supply will be the location of any intermediary who facilitates the supply or location where payment is received. Where none of the situations provide an appropriate location, then the place of supply will be the address-on-record of the recipient. If address is not available, then the location of supplier will be the place of supply.

Rule 6 of IGST Rules provides that where the leased circuit is installed in more than one State/ UT and a consolidated amount is charged for supply of such services, the value of services in each such State/ UT shall be determined in proportion to the number of points lying in the State/ UT. The number of points in a circuit shall be determined in the following manner:

- (i) in the case of a circuit between two points or places, the starting point or place of the circuit and the end point or place of the circuit will invariably constitute two points;
 - (ii) any intermediate point or place in the circuit will also constitute a point provided that the benefit of the leased circuit is also available at that intermediate point.
- (j) banking and financial services including stock broking services, the POS will be the location of the address-on-record of the recipient. And if address is not available, then the location of supplier will be the place of supply. The services referred in this provision are not services 'by' a banking or financial institution but services 'of' banking and financial services. As such, the service is to be examined and not the service provider. Classification of services to identify the applicability of this provision is an important exercise that is to be undertaken.
- (k) For insurance services supplied to a registered person, the POS will be the location of the recipient. When the recipient is not registered, the place of supply will be the address of location of the recipient of service on record of the supplier of services. In no case, the address of the recipient would not be present on record with the recipient.
- (l) In respect of Advertisement services involving 'dissemination' of the material supplied to the Government or a statutory body, the POS will be the location of such dissemination. Where it is identifiable to a specific State, then that would be the place of supply and where it is disseminated over a number of States, then a rule of proportion or any other reasonable basis is to be applied.

The proportion of value of advertisement services provided to Government, statutory body or local authority shall be determined in the manner laid down in rule 3 of IGST Rules, 2017, as follows-

1. Advertisements in newspapers and publications: The amount payable for publishing in all the editions of a newspaper published in a State/ UT shall be the value of advertisement service attributable to such dissemination in each such State/ UT.
2. Printed material like pamphlets, leaflets, diaries, t-shirts and the like: Amount payable for the distribution of specified number of such printed material in a State/ UT shall be the value of service attributable to such dissemination in each such State/ UT.
3. Advertisement on hoardings (other than those on trains): The amount payable for the hoardings located in a State/ UT shall be the value of service attributable to such dissemination in each such State/ UT.
4. Advertisements on trains: Value of advertisement service attributable to each State/ UT shall be calculated in proportion to the length of the railway track in each State/ UT for that train.
5. Advertisements on the back of utility bills: Value of advertisement service attributable to each State/ UT shall be the amount payable for the advertisement on the bills pertaining to consumers having billing addresses in such State/ UT.
6. Advertisements on railway tickets: Value of advertisement service attributable to each State/ UT shall be calculated in proportion to the number of railway stations in such State/ UT.
7. Advertisements on radio stations: Value of advertisement services attributable to each State/ UT shall be the amount payable towards the broadcast made in a State/ UT.
8. Advertisements on television channels: Value of advertisement services attributable to each State/ UT in a month shall be calculated proportionately on the basis of number of channel viewership figures published by Broadcast Audience Research Council for the last week of the immediately preceding quarter. Where the channel viewership figures relate to a region comprising of more than one State/ UT, viewership figures for a State/ UT shall be calculated by applying the ratio of populations in those States/ UTs as per the last census.
9. Advertisements in cinema halls: Amount payable to cinema halls in a State/ UT, shall be the value of advertisement services attributable to each State/ UT.
10. Advertisements over the internet: Value of advertisement services attributable to each State/ UT in a month shall be calculated proportionately on the basis of a number of internet subscriber figures published by TRAI for the last quarter of the immediately preceding financial year. Where the internet subscriber figures relate to a region comprising of more than one State/ UT, subscriber figures for a State/ UT shall be calculated by applying the ratio of populations in those States/ UTs as per the last census.

11. Advertisements through SMS: Value of advertisement services attributable to each State/UT in a month shall be calculated proportionately on the basis of number of telecom subscriber figures published by TRAI for the immediately preceding quarter. Where the telecom subscriber figures relate to a telecom circle comprising of more than one State/ UT, the subscriber figures for a State/ UT shall be calculated by applying the ratio of population in those States/ UTs as per the last census.
- (m) Considering that place of supply has been so specifically covered in the various provisions discussed above, it is to be borne and recollected that identifying the place of supply is for purposes of determining whether it is an inter-State supply or an intra-State supply. After much resistance to let go of the experience from erstwhile tax laws, it would dawn upon each of us to eschew seeking registration in every State where their services constitute a place of supply, but rather rely upon this section to open the doors to choose to effect inter-State supplies from one (or few) State only instead of multi-State registration that may be necessitated under erstwhile tax laws. Another important aspect especially when a recipient is a registered person which comes out on analysis of section 12 is that wherever the POS is based on location of the recipient, the ITC is intact and wherever the POS is not based on location of the recipient but based on some other criterion as discussed above, then there is high probability of losing out on ITC in the hands of a registered person. Eg., Immovable property related services, admission to an event, services on board an aircraft etc.

Place of supply of services where either the supplier or recipient is located outside India will be determined in accordance with section 13 of the IGST Act. In other words, this provision applies for the determination of export of services as well as for import of services.

International supplies involving services are not verifiable similar to goods. GST, in certain cases, treats supplies involving goods as 'supply of services'. In such cases too, this provision will apply for determination of their export and import. Given the definition of export of services and import of services and on comparing them to goods, it will be evident that there is really no comparison. Matters such as location of supplier, location of recipient, currency of compensation, etc., assume importance in relation to services including goods that are treated as supply of services. In this background, we may analyze place of supply of services where either one – supplier or recipient – is located outside India.

Then the place of supply determined by application of this provision may be carried into the definition to determine whether the international supply meets the requirements to be regarded as 'export of services' or 'import of services'. This may be somewhat unnatural but that is the correct approach because location of recipient outside India and payment in foreign currency are tests that the GST law does not appreciate. In this time and age of forex surplus, when there are two enterprises and both are located within India, transacting in foreign currency is not impermissible.

Place of supply of international supplies of services is as follows:

- (i) The general provision for determining the place of supply (POS) is that the POS will be the location of the recipient of the services; whereas, it will be the location of the supplier of services if the location of the recipient cannot be known without employing any extraordinary means. 'Recipient' is defined as the 'person liable to pay consideration' in section 2(93) of the CGST Act.
- (ii) It is important to note that this section only determines the POS. Merely because the POS is determined under this clause, the supply cannot be regarded as an export of service or an import of service.

Section 2(6) "export of services" means the supply of any service when

- (i) the supplier of service is located in India;
- (ii) the recipient of service is located outside India;
- (iii) the place of supply of service is outside India;
- (iv) the payment for such service has been received by the supplier of service in convertible foreign exchange; and
- (v) the supplier of service and recipient of service are not merely establishments of a distinct person in accordance with explanation 1 of section 8;

Section 2(11) "import of service" means the supply of any service, where

- (i) the supplier of service is located outside India;
- (ii) the recipient of service is located in India; and
- (iii) the place of supply of service is in India;

(iii) Specific provisions regarding place of supply that will apply in priority over the general provision will be as follows:

- (a) POS of services that are 'in respect of' goods made available 'by' recipient 'to' supplier or persons representing supplier for performance of those services will be the location where the services are actually performed. It is worthwhile to note here that the goods must be made available only by the recipient and not his representative but whereas person to whom it is made available could be supplier or his representative. It is also noteworthy that the services to which this provision is to apply are not expressly listed here but left to the application of 'made available for performance' test to determine its applicability. For services that are supplied by remotely accessing the goods, the place of supply will be the location of the goods.

However, the said provisions will not apply in the case of services supplied in respect of goods which are temporarily imported into India for repairs or for any other treatment or process and are exported after such repairs or treatment or process without being put to any use in India, other than that which is required for such repairs or treatment or process. This amendment was made vide IGST (Amendment) Act, 2018, dated 29-Aug-2018 (effective 01.02.2019)

In cases, where services are supplied at multiple locations, including a location in the taxable territory, POS will be the location in the taxable territory. Further, rule of proportion is to be applied in case the services are carried out in different States.

Rule 7 of IGST Rules provides that the value of services in each such State/ UT shall be determined in the following manner, namely:

- (i) in the case of services supplied on the same goods, by equally dividing the value of the service in each of the States and Union Territories where the service is performed;
- (ii) in the case of services supplied on different goods, by taking the ratio of the invoice value of goods in each of the States and Union Territories, on which service is performed, as the ratio of the value of the service performed in each State or Union Territory;
- (iii) in the case of services supplied to individuals, by applying the generally accepted accounting principles.
- (b) Similar to the provisions of section 12(3), the POS in case of services 'directly in relation to' immovable property will be the location of such property. The expression 'in relation to' encompasses a wide range of services that have a proximate nexus with the immovable property. Such property may be a hotel, inn, guest house, homestay, club or campsite excluding houseboat. The end-use will not alter the applicability of this provision but the proximity of the property vis-à-vis the services. In cases where services are supplied at multiple locations, including a location in the taxable territory, POS will be the location in the taxable territory. The rule of proportion is to be applied in case the services are carried out in different States. Rule 8 of IGST Rules provides that the value of services in each such State/ UT shall be determined by applying the provisions of rule 4 of IGST Rules, mutatis mutandis.

Services required in construction activity which are received before being assigned to any particular site will not be determined by this provision but by the general provision. For example, lease of construction equipment sent to a central warehouse before being deployed to any specific site.

- (c) In respect of services of admission to a venue, the POS will be the location of the venue. The event that is organized may be cultural, artistic, sporting, scientific, education or entertainment or a celebration, conference, fair, exhibition or similar events including ancillary services. Services referred to here are admission or organizing the event at the venue. In cases where services are supplied at multiple locations, including a location in the taxable territory, POS will be the location in the taxable territory. Further, rule of proportion is to be applied in case the services are carried out in different States. Rule 9 of IGST Rules provides that the value of services in each such State/ UT shall be determined by applying the provisions of rule 5 of IGST Rules, mutatis mutandis.
- (d) Services in the following three cases deviates from the 'destination' principle and appoints the POS to be the location of the supplier:
- Services by a banking company or a financial institution or NBFC – reference to services 'by' indicate that this specific provision will encompass all activities by such a service provider performed in their capacity as such.
 - Intermediary services – defined in section 2(13) provide for a broad set of activities. It is important to examine whether the role of an intermediary is limited in any manner to marketing (proliferation of information to potential customers), pre-sale (submitting quotations) and post-sale (assisting in delivery, installation and after-sales support).

Intermediary services have been defined to mean a broker, an agent or any other person, by whatever name called, who arranges or facilitates the supply of goods or services or both, or securities, between two or more persons, but does not include a person who supplies such goods or services or both or securities on his own account;

If any outbound services fall within the definition of intermediary, the place of supply being the location of supplier, CGST / SGST is required to be charged. In case of any inbound services from outside India, the supply would not be taxable at all in India if it falls within intermediary. In this regard Circular No.159/15/2021 dt. 20th September 2021 clarified the scope of intermediary services. Further, in the case of Dharmendra M Jani Bombay (HC), the final decision of Chief Justice is awaited after both the Honourable Judges of the Bench expressed contradictory views.

- Hiring of transport for a period upto one month – all services attendant to securing such limited duration. This excludes aircraft and vessel other than yacht.
- (e) POS of services of transportation of goods will be the destination of the goods, as opposed to the location where they are handed over for transportation as in case of supplies to unregistered persons in section 12(8). Transportation of goods may be by any mode, but not mail or courier. Eg., A transporter registered in Kolkata may provide transportation service in respect of goods owned by a person in Nepal for delivery to another person in Assam. In such a case, although the service is supplied to a person located outside India, the supply will be a taxable supply and will not be considered to be an export of service.
- (f) POS of services of transportation of passenger will be the location where the passenger embarks on the conveyance for a continuous journey.
- (g) POS of services supplied on-board a conveyance, will be the first scheduled point of departure. Services are to be supplied during the journey and substantially consumed on-board. Any deviation from this condition will result in it getting classified under the general rule.
- (h) POS of services of OIDAR (online information and database access or retrieval) services will be location of recipient. Refer the detailed discussion under section 14 on OIDAR services. Further, such recipient will be deemed to be situated in a taxable territory if any two of the following conditions are fulfilled:
 - Address of recipient is in taxable territory;
 - Card of recipient that is used to pay for the services is issued in taxable territory;
 - Billing address is in taxable territory;
 - Internet protocol address in taxable territory;
 - Bank account of recipient used to make payment is in the taxable territory;
 - Country code of SIM card used by recipient is of taxable territory;
 - Fixed land line used by recipient is in taxable territory.
- (iv) Where there is any occasion for double taxation or non-taxation, the Central Government is empowered to notify the place of supply with respect to service of any specific description, wherein the place of supply will be the place of effective use and enjoyment of a service.

- (v) Remarkably, Circular 113 issued to specify POS in respect of ESDM services where these services are clarified not to be location-based services. And this circular only provides interpretation that should always be applicable to save the incidence of tax;

	Notf No.	Service	Place of Supply
1	04/2019- Integrated Tax	Supply of research and development services related to pharmaceutical sector by a person located in taxable territory to a person located in the non-taxable territory	The place of supply of services shall be the location of the recipient of services subject to fulfillment of certain conditions
2	02/2020- Integrated Tax	Supply of maintenance, repair or overhaul service in respect of aircrafts, aircraft engines and other aircraft components or parts supplied to a person for use in the course or furtherance of business.	The place of supply of services shall be the location of the recipient of service.
3	03/2021- Integrated Tax	Supply of maintenance, repair or overhaul service in respect of ships and other vessels, their engines and other components or parts supplied to a person for use in the course or furtherance of business	The place of supply of services shall be the location of the recipient of service

- (vi) Even more remarkable is that Government has issued a notification under section 13(13) to specify POS in respect of clinical trials. Experts are apprehensive that this notification will not have retrospective effect and any exports reported in respect of clinical trials may be questioned now. A summary of the notifications is tabulated as under:

STATUTORY PROVISIONS

14. Special provision for payment of tax by a supplier of online information and database access and retrieval services

- (1) On supply of online information and database access or retrieval services by any person located in a non-taxable territory and received by a non-taxable online recipient, the supplier of services located in a non-taxable territory shall be the person liable for paying integrated tax on such supply of services:

Provided that in the case of supply of online information and database access or retrieval services by any person located in a non-taxable territory and received by a non-taxable online recipient, an intermediary located in the non-taxable territory, who arranges or facilitates the supply of such services, shall be deemed to be the recipient of such services from the supplier of services in non-taxable territory and supplying such services to the non-taxable online recipient except when such intermediary satisfies the following conditions, namely:—

- (a) the invoice or customer's bill or receipt issued or made available by such intermediary taking part in the supply clearly identifies the service in question and its supplier in non-taxable territory;*
 - (b) the intermediary involved in the supply does not authorize the charge to the customer or take part in its charge which is that the intermediary neither collects or processes payment in any manner nor is responsible for the payment between the non-taxable online recipient and the supplier of such services;*
 - (c) the intermediary involved in the supply does not authorize delivery; and*
 - (d) the general terms and conditions of the supply are not set by the intermediary involved in the supply but by the supplier of services.*
- (2) The supplier of online information and database access or retrieval services referred to in sub-section (1) shall, for payment of integrated tax, take a single registration under the simplified registration scheme to be notified by the Government:*

Provided that any person located in the taxable territory representing such supplier for any purpose in the taxable territory shall get registered and pay integrated tax on behalf of the supplier:

Provided further that if such supplier does not have a physical presence or does not have a representative for any purpose in the taxable territory, he may appoint a person in the taxable territory for the purpose of paying integrated tax and such person shall be liable for payment of such tax.

CGST	Rule 64	Form and manner of submission of return by persons providing OIDAR services

14.1 Introduction

This is a new transaction that is brought within the tax net only from 1st December 2016 under service tax. The experience was more than encouraging as the amount of tax that has been collected from OIDAR is in a class of its own as regards taxable person and place of supply. Everything discussed until now must be given a go-bye to understand OIDAR more clearly.

14.2 Analysis

Online Information and database access or retrieval (OIDAR) is defined in a specific manner and may be simplified as follows:

2-step definition	Services (and not goods) supplied
	Delivered over continuous internet connectivity
2-step clarification	Involves minimal human intervention
	Impossible to ensure in absence of information technology

Six illustrations in the definition and some explanation about inclusions and exclusions:

Illustration	Includes	Excludes
Online advertising E.g. Google ad	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Banner ads, pop-up ads, sponsored ads, etc. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Preparation of content for online display like production, distribution and services of intermediaries Advertisement in newspaper, on posters and on television
Cloud services E.g., Amazon Web services	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Webhosting Data warehousing 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Software license issued by delivery of key number to remotely download via FTP
E-books, movies, music, software and other intangibles E.g., Gaana.com and Netflix	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Access to content permitted only 'online' even if stored in cache on user-end device but not allowing 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Downloadable e-books, movies, music, etc. which are available for offline viewing without any

	(official) permanent download	mandatory e-check of the user credentials <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Content provided through dedicated user-end device for use of content • Supply of physical books, newsletter, newspaper or journals • Booking services or tickets to entertainment events, hotel accommodation or car hire • Educational or professional courses, where the content is delivered by a teacher over the internet or electronic network
Online data or information E.g. LinkedIn, Taxindiaonline.com	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Paid websites that provide information • Free sites with valuable information – if not treated as 'supply', ITC will not be available but if treated as 'supply, output tax will apply on like-kind-and-quality or cost-plus basis 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Net banking where banking information is accessed online but merely incidental to offline banking transactions • Electronic commerce • Non-commerce and information portals • C2C portals
Online supply of digital content E.g. Setmax online, YouTube	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • TV programs and movies supplied over the internet like monitored by issuing user login / password 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Auditors report sent to client via email. It is merely a form in which the offline services are communicated. Services of auditor is not the email of report issued but the opinion expressed about the financial position of the auditee • Online order processing in respect of offline supply of goods

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Services of lawyers and financial consultants who advise clients through email
Data storage E.g. Amazon cloud	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Webservers – shared or dedicated, with/ without support, etc. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lease of server with redundancy
Online gaming E.g. Zapak.com	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Live-gaming • Collaborative gaming 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Computer/ mobile games to be used after downloading to user-end device

Thus, every transaction done over the internet is not e-commerce, everything delivered online is not OIDAR. The acid-test is to see 'always on' status of internet connectivity for the continuous supply of the underlying service. Mere use of internet for delivery of services that can otherwise be provided offline through some media like CD, pen-drive, etc. all though less-securely will not be OIDAR. The use of file-transfer-protocol (FTP) for delivery of software or music or games is only to ensure integrity in the delivery of these high-volume files and the use of internet for FTP does not become OIDAR.

The following table depicts the ingredients prescribed in this section:

Supplier	Supplier of services in non-taxable territory
Recipient	B2C (non-taxable online recipient – NTOR)	Intermediary@ (deemed to be recipient and re-supplying to NTOR)	B2B# (all others)
Tax Payer	Overseas supplier	Intermediary	Recipient
Tax Payment	Forward charge (through representative)	Forward charge (through Intermediary)	Reverse charge (by B2B recipient)

@ issues invoice, authorizes charge for services, responsible to collect payment, authorizes delivery and controls terms and conditions of supply. Else, not an intermediary liable to pay

B2B may be registered taxable person for any output supply

Note: Non-taxable online recipient means any Government, local authority, governmental authority, an individual or any other person not registered and receiving online information and database access or retrieval services in relation to any purpose other than commerce, industry or any other business or profession, located in taxable territory.

For the purposes of the definition of 'non-taxable online recipient, "governmental authority" means an authority or a board or any other body:

- (i) set up by an Act of Parliament or a State legislature; or
- (ii) established by Government, with 90 per cent or more participation by way of equity or control, to carry out any function entrusted to a municipality under Article 243W of the Constitution.

14.3 Comparative Review

In the erstwhile service tax regime, a similar provision was inserted with effect from 01.12.2016.

14.4 Issues and concerns

1. The place of supply provisions, in certain cases, is determined to be a place outside the State in which the registered person has obtained registration – such as POS in case of services in relation to immovable property, admission to an event (including educational events), services on board a conveyance (say letting out a laptop on hire during the journey), banking services (where a single bank account is used for various GST registrations across States). In all such cases, the registered person is restricted from availing input tax credits even where the services have been availed in the course or furtherance of business.
2. Section 13(12) provides a deeming fiction whereby the location of the recipient of the OIDAR services is appointed to be in the taxable territory if any two of seven conditions are satisfied. For instance, say the debit card through which payment is made has been issued in Delhi [Condition in clause (b)], and the IP address is in Bangalore [Condition in clause (f)], there is no mechanism in place to appoint a single place of supply for the transaction. This could lead to issue regarding the apportionment of tax revenue between States.
3. A supply of OIDAR services by a supplier located in a non-taxable territory to a non-taxable online recipient in India is specifically excluded from a supply on which the recipient is required to discharge taxes on RCM basis. Accordingly, non-taxable online recipients are not required to obtain registration. The recipients being non-taxable persons, may not be in possession of any documents including the invoices issued by the suppliers, since they are not mandated under any law to keep/ maintain such documents. This would make it extremely difficult for the revenue authorities to identify suppliers of OIDAR services located in a non-taxable territory, and even where identified, to track such suppliers.

Chapter 6

Refund of Integrated Tax to International Tourist

STATUTORY PROVISIONS

15. Refund of integrated tax paid on supply of goods to tourist leaving India

The integrated tax paid by tourist leaving India on any supply of goods taken out of India by him shall be refunded in such manner and subject to such conditions and safeguards as may be prescribed.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, the term “tourist” means a person not normally resident in India, who enters India for a stay of not more than six months for legitimate non-immigrant purposes.

15.1 Introduction

Outbound passengers leaving India accompanied by GST-paid goods received during their stay in India would result in India exporting its taxes and this is sought to be overcome.

15.2 Analysis

All outbound passengers carrying goods on which IGST has been paid are entitled to claim refund at the port-of-exit. It is likely that the verification will be simple and refund will be online. It is interesting to note that only 'integrated tax' is eligible for this refund. Also, as per proviso to section 8(1), all supplies to such an outbound tourist will always be treated as inter-State supply. The challenge to supplies-to-tourist's is to identify an outbound tourist and charge IGST instead of CGST/SGST of the State where the goods are delivered. Note that the person seeking such refund must be a 'tourist' – who has entered India for genuine non-immigrant purposes. 'Purpose' of visit to India is key factor to be examined. Nationality, residency for tax purposes, etc. are irrelevant considerations. The provision of this section has not been made applicable as of now. Detailed inclusions and exclusions can be expected in due course but few illustrations may be considered.

“tourist” means a person not normally resident in India, who enters India for a stay of not more than six months for legitimate non-immigrant 'Tourist' will exclude:

- Persons resident in India (not limited to Indian passport holders) who are exiting India for any purpose whether for short duration or long duration or uncertain duration.
- Deputation of Indian resident to overseas diplomatic postings.
- Children born in India to foreign nationals during their stay in India.

Tourist will include the following:

- Crew of an international conveyance entering and exiting India within short duration even though not for purposes of tourism in India
- Foreign diplomatic visitors on official duty in India
- Foreign sports persons visiting India for participating in tournaments or training purposes
- Foreign journalist and camera crew visiting India in connection with their profession
- Foreign artists, musicians and actors visiting India to perform in shows or content production

Note: Provisions of this section are yet to be notified by the Government

Zero Rated Supply

STATUTORY PROVISIONS

16. Zero Rated Supply

- (1) “Zero rated supply” means any of the following supplies of goods or services or both, namely: —

- (2) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (5) of section 17 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, credit of input tax may be availed for making zero-rated supplies, notwithstanding that such supply may be an exempt supply.
- (3) ~~[A registered person making zero rated supply shall be eligible to claim refund under either of the following options, namely:—~~
- ~~(a) he may supply goods or services or both under bond or Letter of Undertaking, subject to such conditions, safeguards and procedure as may be prescribed, without payment of integrated tax and claim refund of unutilized input tax credit;~~
 - ~~or~~
 - ~~(b) he may supply goods or services or both, subject to such conditions, safeguards and procedures as may be prescribed, on payment of integrated tax and claim refund of such tax paid on goods or services or both supplied, in accordance with the provisions of section 54 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act or the rules made thereunder.~~

A registered person making zero rated supply shall be eligible to claim refund of unutilised input tax credit on supply of goods or services or both, without payment of integrated tax, under bond or Letter of Undertaking, in accordance with the provisions of section 54 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act or the rules made thereunder, subject to such conditions, safeguards and procedure as may be prescribed.

Provided that the registered person making zero rated supply of goods shall, in case of non-realisation of sale proceeds, be liable to deposit the refund so received under this sub-section along with the applicable interest under section 50 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act within thirty days after the expiry of the time limit prescribed under the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 for receipt of foreign exchange remittances, in such manner as may be prescribed.

⁷ Amended vide Finance Act, 2021 to be notified later.

- (4) The Government may, on the recommendation of the Council, and subject to such conditions, safeguards and procedures, by notification, specify–
- (i) a class of persons who may make zero rated supply on payment of integrated tax and claim refund of the tax so paid

Section 2(20)	Definition of Special Economic Zone Developer (IGST)
Section 2(23)	Definition of Zero Rate Supply (IGST)
Section 7	Inter-State supply

16.1 Introduction

Exports have been the area of focus in all policy initiatives of the Government for more than 30 years. Now with the Make in India initiative, exports continue to enjoy this special treatment because exports should not be burdened with domestic taxes. On the other hand, GST demands that the input-output chain not be broken and exemptions have a tendency to break this chain. Zero-rated supply is the method by which the Government has approached to address all these important considerations.

16.2 Analysis

Zero-rated supply does not mean that the goods and services have a tariff rate of zero per cent but the recipient to whom the supply is made is entitled to pay zero per cent GST to the supplier. In other words, as it has been well discussed in section 17(2) of the CGST Act that input tax credit will not be available in respect of supplies that have a ‘zero per cent’ rate of tax. However, this disqualification does not apply to zero-rated supplies covered by this section. It is interesting to note that section 7(5) (and even proviso to section 8(1)) declares that supplies ‘to’ or ‘by’ SEZ developer or unit will be treated as an inter-State supply. So, when two SEZ units or one SEZ developer and another SEZ unit supply goods or services to each other (among themselves within the zone) and the zone being located within the same State or UT, such supplies will always be inter-State supplies. But it is important to note that this – being treated as inter-State supplies always – by itself does not mean that non-SEZ sales by SEZ unit will be liable to IGST in all cases. Table below shows supplies involving suppliers in the zone that is covered by the provisions of section 7(5) and proviso to section 8(1):

⁸ Amended vide Finance Act, 2021 to be notified later.

Supply 'by'	Supply 'to'
SEZ unit	Outside India
SEZ unit	Another SEZ unit
SEZ developer	SEZ unit
Non-SEZ unit	SEZ unit
SEZ unit	Non-SEZ unit
Non-SEZ unit	SEZ developer
SEZ developer	Non-SEZ unit

Note: Physical locations within the political boundaries of a State are irrelevant

The intention of the Government not to burden exports with tax, could be achieved either by not charging tax on the exports of goods/services and claim the refund of input tax credits of taxes paid on inward supplies or by allowing the refund of tax charged on the exports made. Both these alternatives have been enabled in this section. Zero-rated supplies may be undertaken in either of the following ways:

Taxable person to avail input tax credit used in making outward supply of goods or service or both and make zero-rated supply-
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Without any payment of IGST on such outward supply by executing LUT (Letter of Undertaking) or bond (dispensed off vide notification 37/2017-Central tax) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Make payment of IGST on the outward supply by debiting 'electronic credit ledger' but without collecting this tax from the recipient
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Claim refund of input tax credit used in the outward supply 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> After completing the outward supply, claim refund of the IGST so debited (unjust enrichment having been duly satisfied)
Subject to fulfilment of all associated conditions and safeguards that may be prescribed in either case

- Physical exports are well understood due to the vast experience from Customs Act. Physical exports, as discussed under section 11, are not determined or defined by realization of foreign exchange (unlike export of services). SEZ is defined in section 2(20) to have the meaning contained in section 2(g) of SEZ Act, 2005. Supply of goods by SEZ to non-SEZ area is governed by Customs Act in terms of rule 47 in Chapter V of SEZ

Rules, 2006. Accordingly, although the supply is 'treated as inter-State supply of goods' in terms of section 7(5), no tax is to be charged by the SEZ supplier; instead, the non-SEZ recipient is to pay IGST at the time of assessment of the bill of entry filed for such goods in terms of Customs Tariff Act, 1975 duly amended by the Taxation Laws (Amendment) Act, 2017 wherein section 3 of the Customs Tariff Act, 1975 has been substantially altered to enable imposition of additional customs duties only on goods not subsumed into GST and for the imposition of IGST on goods subsumed into GST by sub-sections (7), (8) and (9). However, with respect to supply of services by SEZ to non-SEZ area, though not prohibited, is not expressly dealt with by Chapter V of SEZ Rules as to the taxes/ duties applicable. To draw the relevant inference, one should observe the definition of 'India' as per section 2(56) of CGST Act. It has been defined to mean territory of India as referred to in Article 1 of the Constitution. SEZ units are also covered within the above definition of 'India'. As the CGST and IGST Acts extend to the whole of India, it could be said to be applicable to SEZ unit also thereby making SEZ unit as falling within the definition of taxable territory. If this view is taken, it may simply be an inter-State supply of services liable to payment of IGST on forward charge basis by the SEZ unit because there is no reference in IGST to borrow the operation of section 53 from SEZ Act. Reverse charge Notification No. 10/2017- Integrated Tax (Rate) dated 28-Jun-17 covers any services supplied by any person who is located in a non-taxable territory to any person located in the taxable territory under reverse charge mechanism. SEZ unit may be said to be falling within definition of taxable territory and liable to tax under forward charge.

Accordingly, certain examples have been discussed below:

These provisions of zero-rated supplies are introduced in the statute on the basis of the prevalent central excise and service tax laws. It is widely believed that introduction of this provision will alleviate the difficulty of a supplier who exempts goods or services or both in terms of export competitiveness. This provision also specifically expresses that taxes are not exported. Care must be exercised that while paying taxes, such taxes are not collected from the recipient of goods or services or both. This would result in unjust enrichment.

The following illustrations may be considered:

All refunds are subject to the 'due process' prescribed in section 54 of CGST Act read with Chapter X of CGST Rules including verification of unjust enrichment. Care must be taken not to include the refundable amount in the price charged to overseas customer. This may be checked by looking into:

- If the refundable amount is expensed directly or carried forward as a current asset
- If overseas customer is given credit in any subsequent invoice to the extent of refund
- If the reversal of refundable amount from the credit ledger is charged to P&L or not

Also, all invoices to have a declaration as to –

- Export of goods or services on payment of IGST;
- Export of goods or services without payment of IGST;
- Supplies to a SEZ developer or unit on payment of IGST; or
- Supplies to a SEZ developer or unit without payment of IGST.

Further, all supplies to SEZ developer or unit being zero-rated does not mean that the entire company can enjoy this form of ab initio exemption. For example, Company incorporated in Delhi may have established a SEZ unit in Jaipur. All goods and services supplied to SEZ in Jaipur will enjoy the ab initio exemption but the goods and services supplied to Delhi will be liable to tax. Now, if the incorporated address of the Company were also in Jaipur and inside the zone, the Company must be cautious to differentiate the supplies that are not related to the authorized operations in the zone but related to the other affairs of the Company and instruct the suppliers to charge applicable GST on such non-SEZ supplies. Complete use of this zero-rated exemption will invite recovery action against the SEZ developer or unit. The supplier who supplied as a zero-rated supply is not responsible for this misuse because the SEZ developer or unit would have issued the GSTIN of the zone. Further, in case GST is paid on the non-zone operations of the Company and these costs are included in the export billing, there may be some aspects to be taken care of in case post-export refund of this GST paid is claimed. All supplies to SEZ developer or unit alone are treated as inter-State supply but the supply to the Company relating to non-SEZ activities will continue to be inter-State or intra-State supply as the case may be. With all information available online through GSTN, misuse is not difficult to detect.. Care must be taken to diligently use the provisions of zero-rated supply.

With regard to 'bill to-ship to' transactions, it is important to mention that though the supply may be 'billed to' person located outside India (for exports) or inside zone (for SEZ supplies), where the supplies are 'shipped to' must be clearly identified in order to qualify for the benefit under this section. It is not that 'exports' are zero rated but 'supply by way of export' are zero rated. There is a lot of difference between these two expressions. With the difference between these two expressions having been discussed in the context of sections 11, it is sufficient to mention here that 'supply by way of export' is a subset of 'exports'. And in order to claim benefit of zero rating under this section, it is important to examine 'export' to meet the requirements of 'supply by way of export'. In other words, both the 'bill to' and 'ship to' locations must be to the destination – outside India (for exports) or inside zone (for SEZ supplies) – in order to qualify for zero rating benefit. This principle applies equally to supply of goods as well as supply of services for exports.

The above view is best explained through an illustration. Say, a contractor is awarded civil works by a zone-developer and this contractor buys cement from a trader with instructions to deliver the cement directly at site (zone). Now, the supply of cement by trader is 'ship to: zone' but 'bill to: contractor'. Question that arises is, can the cement trader claim zero-rating benefit? The answer is 'no' because the 'bill to' and 'ship to' locations must both be in the zone to satisfy the requirements of section 16 of the IGST Act and rule 89 of the CGST Rules.

Even if the goods or service which are either exported or supplied to SEZ unit developer are exempted goods or services, input tax credit is still available for making such zero-rated supplies. The requirement to reverse ITC in relation to exempted supplies is not warranted if it is zero rated. This can also be inferred from section 16(2) of the IGST Act 2017 which states that the input tax credit is eligible notwithstanding that such supply is exempted.

16.3 Procedure for zero-rated supply of goods or services

16.3.1. Export of goods or services without payment of Integrated Tax

The exporter of goods is eligible to export goods or services without payment of IGST by complying with the following procedure

(Note: Same procedures have to be followed by SEZ in respect of export of goods without payment of tax.)

A. Furnishing of Letter of undertaking:

- i. Notification No. 37/2017 dated 4.10.2017 of Central Tax provides for the conditions and safeguards for export of goods or services without payment of IGST which supersedes Notification No.16/2017 dated 4.7.2017 of Central tax
- ii. Conditions and safeguards for issuing letter of undertaking: All registered persons who intend to supply goods or services for export without payment of integrated tax shall be eligible to furnish a letter of undertaking in place of a bond except those who have been prosecuted for any offence under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (12 of 2017) or the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (13 of 2017) or any of the existing laws in force in a case where the amount of tax evaded exceeds two hundred and fifty lakh rupees;

- iii. As per Circular No.40/14/2018 GST dated April 6, 2018, the registered person is required to fill and submit Form GST RFD-11 on the common portal. An LUT is deemed to be accepted as soon as an acknowledgement for the same, bearing application reference number (ARN) is generated online. It is further clarified in the aforesaid Circular that no document needs to be physically submitted to the Jurisdictional office for acceptance of LUT.
- iv. Letter of undertaking would be executed by the working partner, the Managing Director or the Company Secretary or the proprietor or by a person duly authorised by such working partner or Board of Directors of such company or proprietor.
- vi. Existing LUT would be valid for the whole of the financial year in which it is tendered. Therefore, every registered person should apply for fresh LUT at the start of each financial year i.e., 1st of April.
- vii. Where the registered person fails to pay the tax due along with interest, as specified under sub-rule (1) of rule 96A of Central Goods and Services Tax Rules, 2017, within the period mentioned in clause (a) or clause (b) of the said sub-rule, the facility of export without payment of integrated tax will be deemed to have been withdrawn and when the amount mentioned in the said sub-rule is paid, the facility of export without payment of integrated tax shall be restored.
- viii. Where a supplier wishes to effect zero-rated supplies without payment of IGST, the supplier is required to furnish the LUT in Form GST RFD – 11. In terms of section 16, the LUT should be filed before effecting the zero-rated supplies in order to claim an exemption from payment of taxes. Rule 96A of the CGST / SGST Rules, 2017 provides that LUT should be furnished prior to effecting export of goods / services. It is inferred that if the LUT is not furnished prior to effecting zero rated supplies, the supplier cannot claim exemption on zero rated supplies. In this regard, the Board has issued Circular No. 37/11/2018 – GST dated 15.03.2018 wherein it is clarified that substantial benefits of zero rated supplies should not be denied if it is established that the goods or services have been exported in terms of the relevant provisions.

B. Furnishing of RFD-11

- i. Rule 96A of CGST Rules provides that any registered person availing option to export goods or services without payment of IGST has to furnish a letter of undertaking prior to commencement of export in Form RFD-11. Format of RFD-11 is provided in CGST Rules 2017.
- ii. Circular 26/2017 (Customs) dated 01-07-2017 provides that procedure prescribed under rule 96A needs to be followed for export of goods or services w.e.f. 01-07-2017.

- iii. Condition to comply:
 - a. In case of goods: Goods to be exported within 3 months from date of issue of invoice
 - b. In case of services: Payment to be received in convertible foreign exchange within 1 year from date of invoice
- iv. Bond or LUT has to be furnished along Form GST RFD-11 binding himself that tax along with interest @18% would be liable to paid by him;
 - a. In case of goods: within 15 days after completion of 3 months on failure to export such goods.
 - b. In case of services: within 15 days of completion of 1 year if such payment is not received in accordance with point (iv).

C. Tax Invoice:

- i. Exporters would be required to raise tax invoice with prescribed particulars mentioning "Supply meant for export under bond or letter of undertaking without payment of integrated tax".
- ii. No tax needs to be charged on the invoice in this case.
- iii. Tax invoice may be in addition to other export documents provided to customer.

D. Sealing (in case of goods):

Till mandatory self-sealing is operationalized, sealing of containers shall be done under the supervision of the central excise officer having jurisdiction over the place of business where the sealing is required to be done.

E. Shipping Bill (in case of goods):

- i. Shipping Bill format has been revised by customs to capture GST related details.
- ii. Shipping bill to be prepared in Form SB-I.
- iii. In case of export of duty free goods shipping bills has to be prepared in Form SB-II.
- iv. Four copies of the Shipping bill needs to be issued (original, drawback purpose, Department purpose and export promotion)

F. Refunds

Refund of taxes in respect of accumulated input tax credit has to be claimed by following the procedure prescribed by section 54 of CGST Act read with Chapter X of CGST Rules, 2017.

- Time limit: 2 years from the relevant date

- Details of bank realization certificate (BRC) or foreign inward remittance certificate (FIRC) needs to be provided along with details of export invoice while filing Form GST RFD-01

16.3.2. Export of goods or services with payment of Integrated Tax

The procedure to be followed under this option is as follows:

(Note: Same procedures have to be followed by SEZ in respect to export of goods with payment of tax.)

A. Commercial Invoice: Exporter can issue 2 sets of invoices to have a smooth flow of transactions with his foreign customers.

- i. Commercial invoice can be issued (along with tax invoice) without showing tax amount.
- ii. Points to keep in mind while following practice of issuing commercial invoice along with tax invoice:
 - Total value of both the invoices should be equal.
 - Every commercial invoice should have a corresponding tax invoice.

B. Tax Invoice:

- i. Exporters would be required to raise tax invoice with prescribed particulars mentioning "Supply meant for export on payment of integrated tax".
- ii. Applicable IGST needs to be disclosed on the invoice in this case.
- iii. Tax invoice would be in addition to other export documents provided to customer.

C. Sealing/ Shipping Bill: same as referred above in 16.3.1.

D. Refunds:

- a. In case of goods: Rule 96 of CGST Rules provides for the mechanism for refund of tax in case of export of goods with payment of tax.
 - i. Shipping bill filed with custom would be considered as application for refund of integrated tax paid on export of goods.
 - ii. Refund application shall be valid only when:

 - iii. GST and Customs portal would be inter-linked in which Customs portal would electronically confirm to GST portal about the movement of goods outside India.
 - iv. Upon receipt of the information regarding the furnishing of a valid return Form GSTR-3B, as the case may be from the common portal, the system designated by the Customs shall process the claim for refund and an amount equal to the integrated tax paid in respect of each shipping bill or bill of export shall be electronically credited to the bank account of the applicant mentioned in his registration particulars and as intimated to the Customs authorities.

- v. Withholding of refund: Refund can be withheld upon receipt of request from Jurisdictional Commissioner or where customs provisions are violated.
- vi. The exporter would not be eligible for refund in case of notified goods where refund of integrated tax is provided to Government of Bhutan.
- b. In case of services: Refund of taxes in respect of tax paid has to be claimed by following the procedure prescribed by section 54 of CGST Act read with Chapter X of CGST Rules.
 - Time limit: 2 years from the relevant date
 - Method of filing: Form GST RFD-01A on online portal of GST in format provided in CGST Rules 2017. Further, the requisite documents need to be physically submitted with the relevant Jurisdictional Officer for processing of the claim.
 - Provisional refund: 90% of refund claim to be sanctioned within 7 days subject to certain conditions. Balance 10% within 60 days on verification of documents by proper officer.
 - Details of bank realization certificate (BRC) or foreign inward remittance Certificate (FIRC) needs to be provided along with details of export invoice while filing Form GST RFD-01.

16.4 Procedure for supplies to SEZ unit/ SEZ developer

Same procedure as set out in para 16.3 can be followed in following cases:

- (a) Supply to SEZ without payment of integrated tax
- (b) Supply to SEZ with payment of integrated tax.

(Note: Same will be followed in cases the above supplies are made by an SEZ unit or SEZ developer)

16.5 Issues and concerns

1. In terms of section 16 of the IGST Act, 2017 in case of supplies to SEZ developer or SEZ unit / exports in terms of section 2(5) or 2(6) of the IGST Act, the supplier can either effect supplies on payment of tax, which can subsequently be claimed as a refund. Alternatively, the supplier may effect the supplies without payment of tax under a bond or LUT and is entitled to claim refund of the input tax credit used in effecting such supplies. In this regard, attention is drawn to the fact that the supplier would be disentitled from claiming refund of IGST paid on such supplies effected on payment of IGST (without LUT), if the supplier recovers the amount of tax from the recipients.
2. The time of supply provisions require that tax is remitted on receipt of advances, in respect of supply of services. Consider a case where a supplier of services has received an advance from a recipient located outside India, in respect of services to be exported. In this regard, it is important to understand whether the LUT should be obtained prior to receipt of advance payment for supply of services, or if it would be sufficient for the registered person to obtain the same before effecting the supply. Rule 96A of the CGST / SGST Rules, 2017 specifies that LUT should be furnished prior to export of services. In terms of rule 96A, the LUT in Form GST RFD – 11 should be furnished to undertake to remit the applicable taxes along with interest if the consideration in convertible foreign exchange is not received within one year from the date of issue of invoice. Accordingly, it can be discerned that LUT is not required to be furnished where the consideration in convertible foreign exchange is received in advance. Further, attention is drawn to Circular No. 37/11/2018 – GST dated 15.03.2018 wherein it is clarified that the substantial benefits of zero-rating supplies should not be denied if it is established that the goods or services have been exported in terms of the relevant provisions.

3. Any variation in foreign currency subsequent to the date of time of supply in case of imports and export transaction would not be relevant in the determination of value of taxable supply under section 15. The age old CBEC Circular on "Whether rebate-sanctioning authority may re-determine the amount of rebate in certain cases — Instructions regarding" dated 3.2.2000 also highlights this fact. The C.B.E. & C. has then clarified in Circular No. 510/06/2000-Cx, dated 3-2-2000 that the rebate sanctioning authority is not required to reassess the value for the export and the value assessed by the range officer on ARE-1 at the time of export has to be accepted. Further, this duty is also not affected by the less realization of export proceeds owing to exchange rate fluctuation and the duty and value has to be on the date, time and place of removal and the exchange rate on that date alone would be applicable. In other words any exchange gain or loss will remain outside the purview of GST law.

16.6 Comparative Review

The concept of zero-rated supplies was there under the VAT laws with credit benefit and refund. As far as central excise law is concerned there is a rebate mechanism in place. That apart the accumulated unutilised credit is available as refund to the exporters of services/ goods under rule 5 of the CENVAT Credit Rules, 2004.

17.1 Introduction

GST is a destination-based consumption tax. This principle is evident in the “place of supply provisions”. Therefore, GST is to be paid to the State where the destination or consumption takes place. And registration of each taxpayer in every destination-State is impossible to comply or administer. It is for this reason that IGST is applicable on supplies whose destination is outside the home-State. Therefore, IGST is not actually a tax but an equitable tax revenue transfer mechanism from the State of origin of supply to the State of its destination where revenue rightly belongs. With IGST having been collected as if it were a tax, it now needs to be transferred to the destination-State. This is provided by section 17 and discussed below.

17.2 Analysis

Inter-State Supply (to)	IGST Paid (on)	Quantum of IGST	Transfer (to)
Unregistered recipient	IGST paid on inter-State supplies IGST paid on import of goods or services	Equivalent Central tax applicable on the said intra-State supplies	Union
Composition taxable person
Registered taxable person not eligible to input tax credit		Balance amount of IGST	State, its respective share of inward supplies@
Registered taxable person eligible to input tax credit but does not avail it within period specified	Union, share of inward supplies to UTs@

@ If this amount cannot be reliably allocated, then the rule-of-proportion – total supplies of that State/UT compared to total inter-State supplies during the financial year.

Note the following further aspects:

- The above formula applies to interest, penalty and compounding amount collected in respect of inter-State supplies
- Any apportioned IGST is found to be refundable, then the same will be recouped from the subsequent transfers
- Time and manner of transfer to States/UTs will be prescribed
- Now that the government is providing an option for transfer of balance from electronic cash ledger under one head to the other, it also requires the physical transfer of funds between the governments also. Where CGST is transferred to SGST by any person in the electronic cash ledger, the State Government should compensate the Central Government for the deficit transferred.

STATUTORY PROVISIONS18. Transfer of input tax credit

- (1) On utilization of credit of integrated tax availed under this Act for payment of, —
- (a) central tax in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (5) of section 49 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, the amount collected as integrated tax shall stand reduced by an amount equal to the credit so utilized and the Central Government shall transfer an amount equal to the amount so reduced from the integrated tax account to the central tax account in such manner and within such time as may be prescribed;
 - (b) Union Territory tax in accordance with the provisions of section 9 of the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act, the amount collected as integrated tax shall stand reduced by an amount equal to the credit so utilized and the Central Government shall transfer an amount equal to the amount so reduced from the integrated tax account to the Union territory tax account in such manner and within such time as may be prescribed;
 - (c) State tax in accordance with the provisions of the respective State Goods and Services Tax Act, the amount collected as integrated tax shall stand reduced by an amount equal to the credit so utilized and shall be apportioned to the appropriate State Government and the Central Government shall transfer the amount so apportioned to the account of the appropriate State Government in such manner and within such time as may be prescribed.

Explanation —For the purposes of this Chapter, “appropriate State” in relation to a taxable person, means the State or Union territory where he is registered or is liable to be registered under the provisions of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act.

18.1 Introduction

After apportionment of IGST paid, it leaves credit of IGST availed to be accounted for on its utilization. This section addresses the apportionment on utilization of IGST credit.

STATUTORY PROVISIONS19. Tax wrongfully collected and paid to Central Government or State Government

- (1) A registered person who has paid integrated tax on a supply considered by him to be an inter-State supply, but which is subsequently held to be an intra-State supply, shall be granted refund of the amount of integrated tax so paid in such manner and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed.
- (2) A registered person who has paid central tax and State tax or Union territory tax, as the case may be, on a transaction considered by him to be an intra-State supply, but which is subsequently held to be an inter-State supply, shall not be required to pay any interest on the amount of integrated tax payable.

19.1 Introduction

Payment of tax based on erroneous determination of 'nature of supply' is not permitted to be adjusted because of the above appropriation of payments. The remedy lies in refund.

19.2 Analysis

The taxable person who has paid tax in error is entitled to refund by first restoring the discharge of the correct tax due so that the incorrect tax paid reflects on the Common Portal as 'paid in excess'. Then

- IGST paid in error will be refunded subject to conditions prescribed
- IGST payable due to payment of CGST/SGST/UTGST is exempt from payment of interest on IGST due

Provisions of section 54 of CGST Act have not been extended to this refund although the conditions to be prescribed would not be too far from the requirements in section 54.

The Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Union Territories (for brevity, 'UT') were earlier empowered to levy sales tax / VAT on the sale of goods, whereas the Central Government was empowered to levy excise duty and service tax on manufacture of goods and supply of services, respectively. This led to a multiplicity of indirect taxes.

The difficulties faced in the erstwhile indirect tax system were:

- (i) Rising hidden costs in trade and industry due to multiplicity of taxes at the Central and Union Territory levels
- (ii) Lack of uniformity of tax rates and tax structure, compliance procedures across Union Territories
- (iii) Cascading effect of taxes
- (iv) Non-availability of cross-utilization of credits i.e., utilization of excise duty and service tax credits against taxes levied by Union Territories and vice-versa.
- (v) Credit of taxes levied by one Union Territory or State cannot be set off against taxes levied by other Union Territories or States.

Under the GST regime, Union Territory tax along with related GST legislations replaced the erstwhile taxes while empowering the Central Government to levy Union Territory tax on the supply of goods or services or both taking place within a Union Territory not having a Legislature. The UTGST legislation:

- (i) Provides for levy of tax on all intra-State supplies of goods or services or both, except alcoholic liquor for human consumption, at the rates recommended by the GST Council.
- (ii) Empowers the Central Government to grant exemptions on the recommendation of the GST Council.
- (iii) Enables apportionment of tax and settlement of funds on account of transfer of input tax credit between the Central Government, State Governments and Union Territories.
- (iv) Provide for assistance by officers of Police, Railways, Customs, and those engaged in the collection of land revenue, including village officers, officers of Central tax and State tax to proper officers in the implementation of the Legislation.
- (v) Empowers recovery of tax, interest or penalty payable by a person and remaining unpaid.
- (vi) Empowers establishing an Authority for Advance Ruling to enable the taxpayers to seek binding clarifications on taxation matters.

- (vii) Provides for elaborate transitional provisions for smooth transition of taxpayers to GST regime.
- (viii) Allows application of certain provisions of the CGST Act, 2017 to the extent relevant for the purposes of the UTGST Act.
- (ix) Empower the Commissioner to issue orders, instructions or directions to the UT tax officers.

Preliminary

1. Short title, extent and commencement
2. Definitions

Statutory provision

1. Short title, extent and commencement

- (1) This Act may be called the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017.
- (2) It extends to the Union territories of Andaman and Nicobar Islands, Lakshadweep, ¹[Dadra and Nagar Haveli and Daman and Diu, Ladakh], Chandigarh and other territory.
- (3) It shall come into force on such date as the Central may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint:

Provided that different dates may be appointed for different provisions of this Act and any reference in any such provision to the commencement of this Act shall be construed as a reference to the coming into force of that provision.

Title:

All Acts enacted by the Parliament since the introduction of the Indian Short Titles Act, 1897 carry a long and a short title. The long title, set out at the head of a statute, gives a fair description of the general purpose of the Act and broadly covers the scope of the Act.

The short title, serves simply as an ease of reference and is considered a statutory nickname to obviate the necessity of referring to the Act under its full and descriptive title. Its object is identification, and not description, of the purpose of the Act.

Extent:

Part I of the Constitution of India states: "India, that is Bharat, shall be a Union of States". It provides that the territory of India shall comprise of the States and the Union Territories specified in the First Schedule of the Constitution of India. The First Schedule provides for twenty-eight (28) States and eight (3 with Legislatures + 5 without Legislatures =8) Union Territories.

Part VI of the Constitution of India provides that for every State, there shall be a Legislature, while Part VIII provides that every Union Territory shall be administered by the President through an 'Administrator' appointed by him. However, the Union Territories of Delhi, Puducherry and Jammu & Kashmir have Legislatures with powers and functions as required for their administration.

India is a summation of three categories of territories namely – (i) States (28); (ii) Union Territories with Legislature (3); and (iii) Union Territories without Legislature (5).

'State' under the GST law is defined to include a Union Territory with Legislature. Though Delhi, Puducherry and Jammu & Kashmir are Union Territories, they have a Legislature of their own. Accordingly, for the purpose of GST Laws, the Union Territories of Delhi, Puducherry and Jammu & Kashmir will be regarded as a State and will be governed by the respective SGST laws passed by them, instead of the UTGST law which is passed by the Central Government.

Jammu and Kashmir, Ladakh GST

The Jammu and Kashmir Reorganization Act was passed by the Parliament, with effect from 31.10.2019. Jammu and Kashmir and Ladakh are granted separate Union Territory Status. As far as GST is concerned, the Jammu and Kashmir Goods & Service Act is applicable to Jammu & Kashmir and UTGST Act is applicable to Ladakh.

Commencement:

The UTGST Act came into operation on the date appointed by the Central Government by means of a notification in the Official Gazette (i.e., 1st July 2017). A provision has been made to notify different dates for the commencement of different provisions of the Act.

Statutory provisions

2. Definitions

In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires–

(1) "appointed day" means the date on which the provisions of this Act shall come into force.

The provisions of the UTGST Act have been implemented with effect from 1st July 2017 with powers vested to notify different dates as effective date of commencement of different provisions of the Act.

(2) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Union Territory tax appointed under section 3;

Every Union Territory is administered by the President through an Administrator appointed by him. The Administrator, in turn, is empowered to appoint Commissioners and other officers for carrying out the purposes of the Act who will be deemed to be 'Proper Officers' for administering the Act.

The officers appointed under the erstwhile Central and UT laws will continue to function as officers under the UTGST Act as well.

(3) “designated authority” means such authority as may be notified by the Commissioner;

Currently, the term does not find a reference in the Act and will be notified by the Commissioner..

(4) “exempt supply” means supply of any goods or services or both which attracts nil rate of tax or which may be exempt from tax under section 8, or under section 6 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, and includes non-taxable supply;

The meaning of exempt supply is similar to the meaning assigned to it under the CGST law with the exception that supplies that are partly exempt from tax under this Act will also be considered as ‘exempt supply’. On the contrary, partially exempted supplies under the CGST law would not be considered as ‘exempt supplies’ under the CGST law. The word “wholly” found in section 2(47) of the CGST Act is missing in section 2(4) under the UTGST Act in the definition of exempt supply.

Exempt supplies comprise the following three types of supplies:

- (a) supplies taxable at a ‘nil’ rate of tax;
- (b) supplies that are wholly or partially exempt from UTGST or IGST, by way of a notification; and
- (c) supplies that are not taxable under the Act (petrol, high speed diesel, alcoholic liquor for human consumption etc.)

The following aspects need to be noted:

- (a) Zero-rated supplies such as exports would not be treated as supplies taxable at ‘NIL’ rate of tax
- (b) Input tax credit attributable to exempt supplies will not be available for utilisation/ set-off.

(5) “existing law” means any law, notification, order, rule or regulation relating to levy and collection of duty or tax on goods or services or both passed or made before the commencement of this Act by Parliament or any Authority or person having the power to make such law, notification, order, rule or regulation;

This covers all the erstwhile Central and State laws (along with the relevant notifications, orders, and regulations), relating to levy of tax on goods or services like Service Tax law, Central Excise law, State VAT laws, etc. Therefore, laws that do not levy tax or duty on goods or services, such as the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, would not be covered here.

(6) “Government” means the Administrator or any authority or officer authorized to act as Administrator by the Central Government;

Every Union Territory is administered by the President through an ‘Administrator’ appointed by him. Even a Governor of a State can be appointed as the Administrator of an adjoining UT. Such an Administrator will be regarded as ‘Government’ for the purposes of the UTGST law.

(7) “output tax” in relation to a taxable person, means the Union territory tax chargeable under this Act on taxable supply of goods or services or both made by him or by his agent but excludes tax payable by him on reverse charge basis;

The output tax chargeable on taxable supply of goods or services can be summarised as under:

Type of Supply	Output tax	Reference
Supplies within a UT without Legislature	UTGST + CGST (intra-State supply)	Section 8(1) and 8(2) of the IGST Act
Supplies between two UTs without Legislature	IGST (inter-State supply)	Section 7(1) and 7(3) of the IGST Act
Supplies between a UT without Legislature and a State (including UT with Legislature)	IGST (inter-State supply)	Section 7(1) and 7(3) of the IGST Act

The following aspects need to be noted:

- (a) While input tax is in relation to a registered person, output tax is in relation to a taxable person. Evidently, the law excludes persons who are not registered under the Statute from being associated with any input tax. However, where there is a liability due to the Government, the law paves the way to cover those persons who are liable to tax, but who have failed to obtain registration.
- (b) The amount covered under this term is the tax ‘chargeable’ under law and not what is ‘charged’. Therefore, some experts believe that in case a person wrongly charges an amount as tax, or charges an excess rate of tax as against the applicable tax rate, such excess would not qualify as output tax.
- (c) Some experts are of the view that taxes payable on reverse charge basis would also be out of the scope of ‘output tax’. Since credit of input tax can only be used to pay output tax, the above will have to be discharged by way of cash only (i.e., through the electronic cash ledger, on depositing money by means of cash, cheque, etc.).
- (d) The law makes a specific inclusion in respect of supplies made by an agent on behalf of the supplier, to treat the UT tax payable on such supplies as output tax in the hands of the supplier.

(8) “Union Territory” means the territory of, —

- (i) the Andaman and Nicobar Islands;
- (ii) Lakshadweep;
- (iii) Dadra and Nagar Haveli and Daman and Diu;

- (iv) Ladakh;
- (v) Chandigarh; or
- (vi) other territory.

Explanation. —For the purposes of this Act, each of the territories specified in sub-clauses (i) to (vi) shall be considered to be a separate Union Territory;

Analysis

‘State’ is defined under the CGST Act to include a Union Territory with Legislature. Delhi, Puducherry and Jammu & Kashmir, being UTs with Legislature, will be regarded as ‘States’ for GST and will be governed by their respective SGST laws, instead of the UTGST law.

By definition, the expression ‘other territory’ is inclusive of all territories that do not form part of any State (including the UTs of Delhi, Puducherry and Jammu & Kashmir), and excludes the five UTs without Legislature listed under clauses (i) to (v) of the definition.

All territories that fall into the ambit of ‘other territory’ would also form part of the meaning of the term ‘Union Territory’. The purpose of this inclusion is to ensure that any Indian territory that remains unclaimed by all the States and Union Territories can be brought into the scope of GST. Although there is no specific indication that the extent of the term should be limited to the territory of India, locations outside India cannot be said to fall into the scope of ‘other territory’ defined above, as it would defeat the purpose of law.

(9) “Union territory tax” means the tax levied under this Act;

It refers to the tax charged under this Act on intra-State supply of goods or services or both, in addition to the tax levied under the CGST law. The rate of UT tax is capped at 20 per cent and will be notified by the Central Government based on the recommendation of the GST Council.

(10) words and expressions used and not defined in this Act but defined in the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, the State Goods and Services Tax Act, and the Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act, shall have the same meaning as assigned to them in those Acts.

Certain words and expressions like ‘person’, ‘supplier’, ‘recipient’, “intra-state supply”, “reverse charge”, ‘cess’, “place of supply” etc. defined in the CGST/ SGST/ IGST laws will have the same meaning for the UTGST law.

Provided that the officers appointed under the existing law shall be deemed to be the officers appointed under the provisions of this Act.

- (4) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, an Appellate Authority shall not exercise the powers and discharge the duties conferred or imposed on any other officer of Union Territory tax.

6. Authorisation of officers of Central Tax as proper officer in certain circumstances

- (2) Subject to the conditions specified in the notification issued under sub-section (1), —
- (a) where any proper officer issues an order under this Act, he shall also issue an order under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, as authorised by the said Act under intimation to the jurisdictional officer of Central tax;
- (b) where a proper officer under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act has initiated any proceedings on a subject matter, no proceedings shall be initiated by the proper officer under this Act on the same subject matter.
- (3) Any proceedings for rectification, appeal and revision, wherever applicable, of any order passed by an officer appointed under this Act, shall not lie before an officer appointed under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act.

Introduction

A Union Territory without a legislature enjoys the laws passed by Parliament. The UTGST Act is enacted by the Parliament but its administration is left with the Administrator of the Union Territory.

Analysis

Without being bound by the rigours and specificity of executive officers under the CGST Act, the UTGST Act empowers the Administrator to issue a notification appointing one or more Commissioners and such other class of officers as required.

The Administrator is also empowered to authorise an officer to appoint officers of UT tax lower in rank than the Assistant Commissioner as required. Commissioners appointed by the Administrator are empowered to impose conditions and limitations necessary in the discharge of functions by the officers of UT Tax. A superior officer is permitted to discharge the functions and exercise the authority conferred on a subordinate officer. Interestingly, we do not find such flexibility in the CGST Act and the IGST Act. Not only does this Act prescribed the assumption of power by a superior officer but also permits delegation of vested powers to be exercised by any other officer of UT Tax. Appellate Authorities under this Act are denied the flexibility of such appropriation or delegation of power vested in them.

Continuing with efficiency in tax administration, without causing any prejudice to the UT Tax Act, officers under the CGST Act are authorised to be officers under this Act. This is permitted only upon the recommendation of the Council and subject to the conditions that may be imposed by the Administrator.

Where the officers under this Act initiate any proceedings, the said officers shall proceed to pass orders not only in respect of UT tax but also in respect of Central tax. Where such conjoined proceedings are underway, the said officers are expected to intimate officers of Central tax. Similarly, where proceedings are initiated by officers in respect of Central tax, the underlying transaction or the taxable base being the same, such officers under the CGST Act, are required to pass orders addressing demands in respect of UT tax arising from the common underlying transactions. Whichever officer initiates any proceedings will determine the law and forum for exercising lawful jurisdiction in respect of rectification, appeal and revision.

Statutory provisions

- 7. Levy and collection

² Substituted vide The Union Territory Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Act, 2018 read with Notification No. 1/2019 - Union Territory Tax, dt. 29.01.2019 - w.e.f. 01.02.2019

Provided that where an electronic commerce operator does not have a physical presence in the taxable territory, any person representing such electronic commerce operator for any purpose in the taxable territory shall be liable to pay tax.

Provided further that where an electronic commerce operator does not have a physical presence in the taxable territory and, he does not have a representative in the said territory, such electronic commerce operator shall appoint a person in the taxable territory for paying tax and such person shall be liable to pay tax.

7.1. Introduction

- a) The Constitution mandates that no tax shall be levied or collected by a taxing statute except by authority of law. While no one can be taxed by implication, a person can be subjected to tax only in terms of the charging section of a statute .
- b) Section 7 is the charging provision of the UTGST Act. It provides that all intra-State supplies would be liable to UTGST subject to a ceiling rate of 20 per cent . The levy is on all goods or services or both except on the supply of alcoholic liquor for human consumption. Besides, GST may be levied on the supply of petroleum crude, high speed diesel, motor spirit (petrol), natural gas and aviation turbine fuel with effect from such date as may be notified by the Central Government after recommendation of the Council. It also provides for the value on which tax shall be paid, the maximum rate of tax applicable on such supplies, the manner of collection of tax by the Government and the person who will be liable to pay such tax. This section is comparable to the provisions of section 9 of the CGST Act.
- c) Under the UTGST law, the levy of tax is as follows:
 - (a) In the hands of the supplier - on the supply of goods and / or services (referred to as tax under forward charge mechanism);
 - (b) In the hands of the recipient - on receipt of goods and / or services (referred to as tax under reverse charge mechanism)
 - (c) In the hands of electronic commerce operator - on services supplied by the suppliers through such electronic commerce operator
- d) Normally, the supplier of goods or services or both are liable to discharge tax on the supplies effected. . However, in specific cases (as may be notified), the onus of payment of tax is shifted to the recipient of goods and/or services.

Section 7(3) of the UTGST Act, empowers the Central Government to specify categories of supplies in respect of which the recipient of goods or services or both will be liable to discharge the tax.

Accordingly, all other provisions of this Act and CGST Act, as applicable, will apply to the recipient of such goods or services or both, as if the recipient is the supplier of such goods or services or both – viz., for the limited purpose of such transactions, the recipient would be deemed to be the ‘supplier’.

Further, section 7(4) of the UTGST Act provides that when specified category of goods and/ services are supplied by a supplier, who is un-registered person to a receiver, who falls under specified class of registered persons, the liability to pay tax on such supplies will be on recipient under reverse charge basis. Thus, specified class of registered person would be required to pay GST on all supplies received by it from un-registered persons. Reverse charge mechanism is not applicable to recipient of goods/services, who are registered but do not fall under the specified class of registered persons, receiving such goods/services from an un-registered person..

- e) Additionally, where any supply of services is effected through e-commerce operators, the law provides that the Central Government may, on the recommendations of the Council notify the categories of services the tax on intra-State supplies of which shall be paid by the e-commerce operator. However where the e-commerce operator:
- (a) does not have a physical presence then the person who represents the e-commerce operator will be liable to pay tax;
 - (b) does not have a physical presence or a representative, then the e-commerce operator is mandatorily required to appoint a person who will be liable to pay tax.

All the provisions of the UTGST Act shall apply to such electronic commerce operator as if he is the supplier liable for paying the tax in relation to the supply of such services.

- f) In so far as e-commerce operators are concerned, care must be exercised to determine the nature of business of such operators. Essentially, there are four models of e-commerce business:
- (a) Market-place – the question of supply by the e-commerce operator does not arise. For this reason, they are liable for TCS under section 52.
 - (b) Fulfilment centre – here States have been contesting that this model is one involving 'buy-sell' and accordingly liable to GST. The test here is to establish the fact that the supply is by supplier directly to the end customer and not 'through' the e-commerce operator.
 - (c) Hybrid (of the above two) – although not widely prevalent, this is a case where both buy-sell as well as market-place models are employed. It is important for such business to clearly establish which side of the fence they would prefer to fall on so that the respective incidence of tax follows.
 - (d) Agency – this is employed by few businesses involving supply of industrial inputs. The modus operandi is that the principal logs in to the portal and routes the supplies to the end customer. The agreements are so framed that the e-commerce operator becomes responsible for the delivery and collection of payment. This renders the e-commerce operator to constitute an agency. Such arrangements need to be vetted to ensure the inference of agency that emerges; if it is not so desired, then the same may be redrafted suitably. Schedule I of the CGST Act states that transactions between principal and agent are deemed to be a supply and liable to tax. This consequence may be borne in mind even by e-commerce businesses.

7.2 Analysis

The discussion on levy under section 9 of the CGST Act made in this book may be referred for a detailed analysis

Levy of tax: Every intra-State supply will be liable to tax, if:

- (a) Supply involves goods or services or both viz., wholly goods or wholly services or both viz.,

Even where a supply involves both, goods and services, the law provides that such supplies would be classifiable as either a wholly goods or wholly services. Reference may be made to Schedule II of the CGST Act which provides for this classification.

- (b) Supply is an intra-State supply – viz., ordinarily, the location of the supplier and the place of supply is in same Union Territory. (Refer section 8 of the IGST Act to understand the meaning of “intra-State supply”);

- (c) Tax shall be payable by a ‘taxable person’ as explained in the definition section 2(107) and explained in sections 22 and 24 of CGST Act.

Tax shall be payable by a ‘taxable person’: The tax shall be payable by a ‘taxable person’ i.e., person/ separate establishments of persons registered or liable to be registered under section 22 and 24 of the CGST Act.

Rate and value of tax: The rate of tax will be as specified in the notification that would be issued in this regard, subject to a maximum of 20 per cent. The rates would be determined based on the recommendation of the Council and the rate of tax so notified will apply on the value of supplies as determined under Section 15 of the CGST Act.

Supply:

Refer discussion under Chapter III of the CGST Act for a detailed understanding of the expression ‘supply’. Additionally, the provisions relating to ‘composite supply’, ‘mixed supply’ and ‘reverse charge’ will equally apply for supplies taxable under UTGST Act.

7.3 Comparative review

Under the erstwhile tax laws, central excise duty was on ‘manufacture of goods’, VAT/CST is on ‘sale of goods’ and service tax is on ‘provision of service’. Unlike different incidences, under the GST law, it is ‘supply’ which is the taxable event. Under the earlier law, e.g.: while stock transfers were liable to central excise (if they were removed from the factory), it was not be liable to VAT / CST. However, under the GST law, it would be taxable as a supply. Further, free supplies were liable to excise duty, while under the GST laws, free supplies require reversal of input tax credit.

Under the erstwhile law, there were multiple transactions which apparently qualified as both 'sale of goods' as well as 'provision of services'. e.g., license of software, providing a right to use a brand name, etc. Unlike this position, GST clarifies as to whether a transaction would qualify as a 'supply of goods' or as 'supply of services'. A transaction would either qualify as goods or as services, under the GST law. Even in respect of composite contracts, it has been clarified under Schedule II, definition of composite supply and mixed supply in the CGST law.

The payment of VAT by the purchaser (registered dealer) on purchase of goods from an unregistered dealer and the circumstances where the service tax was payable under the reverse charge mechanism in respect of say, import of services, sponsorship services etc. are comparable to 'reverse charge mechanism' prescribed herein. Further, under the pre-GST regime the concept of reverse charge only existed in relation to services. However, GST law permits the supply of goods also to be subjected to reverse charge.

Statutory provisions

8. Power to grant exemption from tax

- (1) Where the Central Government is satisfied that it is necessary in the public interest so to do, it may, on the recommendations of the Council, by notification, exempt generally either absolutely or subject to such conditions as may be specified therein, goods or services or both of any specified description from the whole or any part of the tax leviable thereon with effect from such date as may be specified in such notification.
- (2) Where the Central Government is satisfied that it is necessary in the public interest so to do, it may, on the recommendations of the Council, by special order in each case, under circumstances of an exceptional nature to be stated in such order, exempt from payment of tax any goods or services or both on which tax is leviable.
- (3) The Central Government may, if it considers necessary or expedient so to do for the purpose of clarifying the scope or applicability of any notification issued under sub-section (1) or order issued under sub-section (2), insert an explanation in such notification or order, as the case may be, by notification at any time within one year of issue of the notification under sub-section (1) or order under sub-section (2), and every such explanation shall have effect as if it had always been the part of the first such notification or order, as the case may be.
- (4) Any notification issued by the Central Government under sub-section (1) of section 11 or order issued under sub-section (2) of the said section of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act shall be deemed to be a notification or an order issued under this Act.

Explanation - For the purposes of this section, where an exemption in respect of any goods or services or both from the whole or part of the tax leviable thereon has been granted absolutely, the registered person supplying such goods or services or both shall not collect the tax, more than the effective rate, on such supply of goods or services or both

8.1 Introduction

This section states that the Central Government may grant exemptions for intra-State supply of goods and / or services within a Union Territory. Reference may also be made to section 11 of the CGST Act and section 6 of the IGST Act for a detailed analysis.

8.2 Analysis

The Central Government will be empowered to grant exemptions from payment of UTGST on intra-State supplies within the Union Territory, subject to the following conditions:

- (i) Exemption should be in public interest
- (ii) By way of issue of notification
- (iii) On the recommendation from the Council
- (iv) Absolute / conditional exemption may be for any goods and / or services
- (v) Exemption by way of special order (and not notification) may be granted by citing the circumstances which are of exceptional nature.
 - With specific reference to the fourth condition indicated above, it is important to note that the exemption would only be in respect of goods and / or services, and not specifically for class of persons.
 - It is to be noted that in cases where goods and/or services are exempt absolutely, no input tax credit can be claimed.
 - Mandatory nature of absolute exemptions has been litigated in the past and where tax is paid even though exemption is available, credit becomes admissible. For this reason, even inadvertence in not availing such absolute exemptions are made inexcusable. As such, credit denial also becomes absolute. No plea of equity or revenue neutrality would be admissible.
 - There is generally not much doubt about exemptions – whether absolute or conditional – because the condition associated may be examined at one-time or continuously to be satisfied. Conditional exemptions abate if the associated condition is not complied with. Care should be taken not to mistake conditional exemption with absolute exemption having specific applicability.
 - There is a view that in case of conditional exemptions, it could operate as an optional exemption such that the taxable person may pay higher rate of tax (so that there would be no requirement for input tax credit reversals). However, an absolute exemption is required to be followed mandatorily. The other view is that exemptions would not be optional and would be mandatory and the associated conditions are also mandatorily to be satisfied.
 - In terms of sub-section (2) of section 8 of the UTGST Act, the Government may issue a special order on a case-to-case basis. The circumstances of exceptional nature would also have to be specified in the special order. While this provision is welcome, trade and industry are apprehensive that this could be used without necessary supervision..
 - To provide more clarity to the exemption notification or the special order, it is provided that the Government may issue an “Explanation” at any time within a period of one year from the date of notification or special order. The effect of this “Explanation” would be retrospective, viz., from the effective date of the relevant notification or special order.

- The law makes it clear that when the exemption is absolute (i.e., if the whole or part of tax leviable is exempt) the registered person cannot collect taxes more than the effective rate.

Exemption under section 11 of the CGST/SGST Act equally applicable

Any exemption notification or special order issued under section 11 of the CGST Act will apply equally for intra-UT supplies, viz., any supply of goods or services or both which are exempt under CGST Law will be exempt even under the UTGST Law.

Effective date of the notification or special order

The effective date of the notification or the special order would be date which is so mentioned in the notification or special order. However, if no date is mentioned therein, it would come into force on the date of its issue by the Central Government for publication in the Official Gazette. It follows that such notification/ order shall be made available on the official website of the Department of the Central Government.

8.3 Comparative review

The provisions relating to exemption are broadly like the exemption provisions under the erstwhile indirect tax regime. There are no significant differences.

The scope and applicability of the notifications issued in respect of old and used motor vehicles (MV), can be better understood by a comparative analysis as summarised below:

- Refund of Cess upon Export

The exporter will be eligible to claim refund of cess paid under the Act on export of goods on similar lines as refund of IGST paid on exports. Further, the cess will not be charged on goods exported by an exporter under bond / LUT and refund of input tax credit of cess relating to goods exported will be available on similar lines as refund of input taxes in relation to zero-rated supplies.

As per Notification No.3/2019 – Compensation Cess (Rate) dated 30.09.2019 for tobacco and manufactured tobacco substitutes, no refund of unutilised input tax credit of compensation cess shall be allowed, where the credit has been accumulated on account of rate of compensation cess on inputs being higher than the rate of compensation cess on the output supplies of such goods (other than nil rated or fully exempt supplies). Therefore, in case of inverted duty structure no refund is allowed.

- The revenue collected would always be reckoned as 'net of refunds'.
- The transition period will be the period of 5 years from the date when the respective SGST Act came into effect.

- III. Input tax credit and returns

- Input tax credit on inward supplies liable to cess can be utilized only for payment of cess on outward supplies liable to cess under the Act.
- A taxable person effecting supplies chargeable to cess is required to file returns along with the returns prescribed under the CGST Act.

NOTES ON STATE GST LAWS & RULES

In the scheme of overall implementation of GST, the Parliament enacted Central GST Act, Integrated GST Act, Union Territory GST Act (which is a single law enacted by the Parliament in respect of all the 5 Union Territories without legislature) Ladakh will also be included along with Union territories without legislature and when it comes to State GST Acts, each of the State legislatures are to enact their respective State GST enactments and frame Rules thereunder.

As discussed in this background material in detail, on intra-state supply of goods or services, two levies would stand attracted, i.e., Central GST and State GST in case of States and Union Territories with legislature (Delhi, Puducherry and Jammu and Kashmir); Central GST and Union Territory GST in case of Union Territories (5 Union Territories). When the same transaction attracts two taxes, both the enactments should operate simultaneously, in the absence of which compliance with law arises. In that direction, the GST Council had provided to all the States, a version of State GST law for enactment in the respective States. It is needless to say that all the States have more or less followed the CGST Act to enact their State level GST laws. In respect of certain goods which still attract Value Added Taxes / Central Sales tax in respect of a transaction of sale, some States have still retained certain powers through the “repeal and savings provision” in the State Level GST enactments.

The GST law shall have two components: one levied by the Centre (referred to as Central GST or CGST), and the other levied by the States (referred to as State GST or SGST). Rates for Central GST and State GST would be approved appropriately, reflecting revenue considerations and acceptability.

The CGST and the SGST would be applicable to all transactions for intra state supply of goods and services made for a consideration except the exempted goods and services.

Cross utilization of ITC both in case of Inputs and capital goods between the CGST and the SGST would not be permitted except in the case of inter-State supply of goods and services (i.e., IGST).

The Centre and the States would have concurrent jurisdiction for the entire value chain and for all taxpayers on the basis of thresholds for goods and services prescribed for the States and the Centre.

All the States have passed their respective State GST Act whether through an ordinance or through the respective legislatures. On a perusal of the same it can be seen that almost all the provisions are identical with the provisions of Central GST Act with suitable modifications as to State GST.

In this background material:

The rules are considered and discussed at appropriate places / sections / chapters. These rules are issued under the delegated legislation by the Central Government in so far as the CGST, IGST and UTGST laws are concerned whereas it is issued by the respective State Government when it comes to SGST law.

Special Category States under GST include:

1. Manipur
3. Mizoram
4. Nagaland
5. Tripura

With the effect of Finance Act 2018, from 1st February 2018, the states of Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Himachal Pradesh, Meghalaya, Sikkim and Uttarakhand shall no more be included in the expression "special category state".

Aggregate Turnover Limit for Registration as per CGST Act:

Section 22 of the CGST Act provides that every supplier shall be liable to be registered under this Act, in the State or Union territory, other than special category States, from where he makes a taxable supply of goods or services or both, if his aggregate turnover [refer 2(6) of the CGST Act] in a financial year exceeds twenty lakh rupees:

Provided that where such person makes taxable supplies of goods or services or both from any of the special category States, he shall be liable to be registered if his aggregate turnover in a financial year exceeds ten lakh rupees.

W.e.f 01.4.2019, if any person, who is engaged in exclusive supply of goods and whose aggregate turnover in the financial year does not exceed forty lakh rupees is exempt from obtaining registration. In case of special category states, the limit in such case is twenty lakh rupees.

One can proceed based on assumption that in the normal course the State GST Laws would be pari materia with the CGST Laws / Rules framed thereunder.

Exemption Notification applicability to State:

It is important to note that section 11 of each State GST law provides that every exemption notification issued by Central Government will automatically get apply to SGST Law. However, if any exemption notification issued by a State with due approval of GST Council, the same may not apply to CGST Act.
